Interviewees: Abe Young

Audio Log created by William Harris

00:00-04:56

- Introduction, Young recounts the people he has played with and the instruments he played, the fife and drum tradition in his area, and its influence on the Blues there. Young believes that the fife and drum bands played in a more African than European style.
- Young thinks he is 77.

04:57-10:31

- Young does not consider himself entirely religious.
- Questions about his reasons for playing in fife and drum bands and about community picnics. Questions about playing with R.L. Boyce and Othar Turner.
- Believes he plays the Blues, but that it is different from other types, says he no longer plays drums.
