training young men who expect to attend a college or University during the following collegiate year.

The object of this school is, primarily, to fit students for entering the Freshman and Sophomore classes at the University of Mississippi. However, the course will be so arranged as to equip pupils for any institution of like educational standing with the University of Mississippi.

Any student who has never attended a school strictly preparatory for college. will gain a decided advantage in the pursuit of collegiate studies by going to such a school, and the establishment of this school is specifically for the purpose of giving young men this opportunity. A student who contemplates entering college in September, cannot afford to spend the three months just preceding without study; and it is far better if he is enabled to conduct that study under intelligent supervision. A boy who goes to college ill prepared can not do himself justice on his entrance examination, and frequently loses a whole year on account of his failure to thoroughly review during the summer, and entails upon himself an unnecessary waste of time and a useless expenditure of three or four hundred dollars.

It may be that some teachers of public or private schools desire to renew their acquainance with the classics or further investigate the other branches taught in this school. If so, the teachers of the school will be glad to afford them the necessary aid, upon the same terms as the other pupils enjoy.

The teachers in this school, P. H. Saunders and H. A. Shands, are the Fellows in Mathematics and English at the University of Mississippi, and have had for the past two years, charge of the lower classes in these departments in that Institution. The pupils of the Senatobia School will thus have the advantage of taking Mathematics and English under the regular University teachers. Mr. Saunders, besides Mathematics, will teach also Greek; and Mr. Shands, besides English, will teach Latin. Both Mr. Shands and Mr. Saunders have taken the regular University courses in Latin and in Greek.

If found desirable, other branches. such as History, French, Political Economy, Physics, etc., will be taught.

The certificate of the Senatobia School will be accepted at the University of Mississippi in lieu of the regular entrance examinations. Any student who passes the final examination of the summer school will be admitted without question into the corresponding class at the University.

As the teaching force of the school is limited to two, it has been thought best not to allow over thirty students to attend. For this reason parents intending to send their sons to this school will please write before hand to P. H. Saunders or H. A. Shands, University of Mississippi.

TIME.

The school will open on the first Monday in July, and will close on the second Monday in September, making a session of ten weeks in length Nearly all regular schools close before the first of July, and the exercises of the University do not begin until the 29th of September, so no student will be whelly deprived of his summer vacation by attendance on this school. Two weeks will remain to him after the close of the Summer school, and in these he may return home and make his preparations for his longer stay in College.

At the end of the summer term an examination will be held, and any student who makes a satisfactory grade in any branch, on that examination, will be entitled to enter the regular University class in that branch.

CHARGES.

The tuition for the entire term will be $20.00 (twenty dollars)—ten dollars payable in advance, and the remaining ten at the end of the first five weeks.

Good board can be had in good families for from $10.00 to $12.00 per month, which would be about $25.00 or $30.00 for the entire session. The books to be used in preparation for entrance to Freshman class are: "Abbot's How to Parse," "Reed and Kellogg's Higher Lessons in English," "Wentworth's Complete Algebra," "Wentworth and Hill's High School Arithmetic," "Wentworth's New Plane and Solid Geometry;" "Collar and Daniel's First Latin Lessons, Cæsar's Gallic War; Philpot's Hellenika, Goodwin's Greek Grammar.

The books necessary for preparation for the Sophomore class are: Bain's Higher English Grammar, Lounsbury's English Language, Clarke's Rhetoric, Sweet's Anglo-Saxon Primer, Wentworth's Higher Algebra, Wentworth's New Plane and Solid, Geometry, Gildersleeve's Latin Grammar, Cicero. Virgil, Good win's Greek Grammar, Hellenika, Boise and Freeman's Selections from Greek Authors.

LOCATION.

The school will be situated at Senatobia, Miss., a point on the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad, and the county site of Tate county. The health of the town is good, as will be seen by a comparison of its mortality rate with that of the rest of the State.

Senatobia is a place of high moral tone, and students sent there will be carefully looked after in this respect. There are four churches in the town, and each student will be required to attend one of these every Sunday.

RECOMMENDATION.

We, the undersigned members of the Faculty of the University of Mississippi, do fully recommend Messrs. Shands and Saunders for the work outlined in this circular.
