Biennial Report of Secretary of State

Office of Secretary of State

Jackson

July 1, 1941

Hon. Paul B. Johnson, Governor of the State of Mississippi, and Members of the Mississippi Legislature :

Gentlemen :

I have the honor to submit for your consideration, and in compliance with law, a report of the Secretary of State's department from July 1, 1939 to June 30, 1941, inclusive.

CORPORATIONS

The grand total of state and foreign capital to qualify in the state for the past three bienniums, is as follows:

July 1, 1935-1937, June 30.....	$1,042,339,343.00
July 1, 1937-1939, June 30.....	767,674,372.00
July 1, 1939-1941, June 30.....	1,064,870,491.00

RECEIPTS

The total receipts of the Secretary of State's department for the past three bienniums has been as follows:

July 1, 1935-1937, June 30.....	$ 84,138.29
July 1, 1937-1939, June 30.....	90,048.76
July 1, 1939-1941, June 30.....	122,847.94

COST OF OPERATING

The cost of operating the Secretary of State's department for the past three bienniums, has been :

July 1, 1935-1937, June 30.....	$ 22,718.00
July 1, 1937-1939, June 30.....	25,649.14
July 1, 1939-1941, June 30.....	29,007.90

CAPITOL BUILDINGS

The new and old Capitols expense appropriation and allocations for the July 1939-July 1941 biennium was $85,291.53. The expenditures for the same period of time July 1939-1941 were $83,298.24.

SECRETARY OF STATE'S DEPARTMENT

The increase in the detail work in the department during the past three bienniums has been at least fifty per cent. The various record books and files in the department have accumulated so that, with the present arrangement of the office, it is no longer possible to keep these records conveniently arranged and easily accessible to the public as they should be, as some of them have to be kept in stock rooms for lack of space to put them in. This can all be remedied by a remodeling of the offices occupied by the Secretary of State's department. When the present offices were first occupied by the Secretary of State, there were not many records. A remodeling of the offices will not only take care of these records and files so that they will be readily accessible to the public, but the clerical routine work of the office can be re-arranged to give greater efficiency. I therefore request that the Legislature appropriate $3,000 for the remodeling of the offices of the Secretary of State.

The Secretary of State's department is the clearing house for all the departments in the New Capitol building. In order to facilitate this work the Secretary of State should have a Utility and Information Clerk. Such a Utility Clerk can be secured for $75.00 per month, and would save much valuable time in the dispatch of inter-office communication that is constant between the Secretary of State's department and various departments, boards and commissions in the two capitol buildings.

CAPITOL BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

The New Capitol has been in use for the past thirty-eight years, and the Old Capitol was remodeled and put in service in 1916, twenty-five years ago. Since that time the number of offices and employees in both buildings has increased 100 per cent or more, and the appropriations for the upkeep of the buildings and grounds have been small and inadequate to keep the buildings and grounds in proper repair. The electric wiring, much of which is exposed in both capitols, should be put in conduits, and overcome a fire hazard that should not exist from this cause. The plumbing is old and requires continuous repairing. New modern plumbing should be installed throughout both buildings. The State does not carry insurance on its buildings.

PUBLIC PRINTING

The appropriation for public printing for the biennium July 1, 1938, to June 30, 1940, was $75,000.00. Of this amount printing expenditures were $74,700.08. In addition to the above appropriation of $75,000.00, it was necessary for the Legislature of 1940 to make a special appropriation of $12,000.00 for publishing the biennial reports of 1939.

The appropriation for public printing during the biennium July 1, 1940 to June 30, 1942 was $75,000.00.

Under the present general conditions and the upswing of prices due to the European war and our preparedness program, for the ensuing biennium the State's printing will cost approximately 10 per cent more, and the appropriation should be increased at least $5,000.00.

As secretary of State Board of Public Contracts the secretary of state places orders for, and after the board allows accounts, issues requisition to the party to whom the obligation is due. There are a number of departments that buy their own needs in printing.

The law requires that a two-year contract be made for state printing. I am of the firm opinion this law should be changed to permit the state board of public contracts to employ a competent person to handle all state printing, call for bids on any particular job, or jobs, of work, or make contract for certain classes of work for such a length of time as they deem in their discretion is to the best interests of the state. The departments that receive appropriations out of which their printing is paid, should be required to purchase their printing needs through state board of public contracts, and pay for same out of the department's appropriation, or receipts, as the law requires. If this policy is adopted by the legislature we believe a substantial saving can be made.

The present policy of handling state printing was adequate 15 years ago, but with the development of the state and the increased business of the state, the present method of handling state printing can not be efficiently and economically handled, as it could be by the change suggested.

ADDITIONAL OFFICE SPACE

During the past few years the increased business of the state departments, boards and commissions, together with co-operating with certain Federal Government activities, has made the question of adequate office space in the two Capitol Buildings a problem for the Capitol Commission to deal with.

The congested condition and general demand for additional office space has required that every opening that could be partitioned off be pressed into service, and the vestibules and entrances have been made into make-shift offices. There are several departments of state government in rented quarters in the city because office space is not available in the Capitol buildings. The rents paid amount to a considerable sum.

My suggestion is that the legislature should build an office building on the north side of the New Capitol site, move every department, board and commission that is in rented quarters into the new building. A building commission should be created for this purpose.

On the Old Insane Hospital site there are a number of brick buildings and a good per cent of the materials in these buildings are usable, and can be used to splendid advantage. A W. P. A. project should be worked out and these materials salvaged, used or sold. This can be done at practically no expense to the State.

The legislature should provide for a commission to handle this property with authority to dispose of it to the best advantage to the state.

BLUE SKY LAWS

The secretary of state's department is charged with administering the Security laws—known as the Blue Sky Laws. The work in this unit of the department has materially increased. We have carried this work on with the staff of the secretary of state's department practically without cost to the state. For the period July 1, 1939 to June 30, 1941 the receipts of this unit of the department were approximately $3,000.00 in fees.

With the commercial oil production being developed in our state the work in the Blue Sky department will continue to increase. To render efficient service in this phase of our department we need an auditor who can take each application, make a close study of it and analyze its minute details. After this is done make his report and recommendation to the Secretary of State.

Since 1928 I have presented to the various sessions of the legislature Security laws, and in most instances, they have been passed by the legislature. Hence, we have a code of Blue Sky Laws that compare favorably with those of other states. Our state is as free of "wildcatters" as it is possible under our present laws, and we have few just complaints of citizens being defrauded by crooks selling worthless securities.

RECOMMENDATIONS

The following recommendations are made for your careful consideration:

The plumbing in both the New and Old Capitols should be repaired, worked over, and put in first class serviceable condition. $1,500.00 should be appropriated for this item.

All electrical equipment in both the New and Old Capitols should be thoroughly gone over, and brought to the standard of the Rating Bureau. $2,000.00 is necessary to do this.

There is no heat control in the New Capitol building. The heat control put in when the building was erected has long ago worn out, and ceased to function, and a heat control is very badly needed, from a standpoint of economy and health of the occupants of the building.

On the Capitol grounds the trees and shrubbery are very valuable. We secured a W. P. A. project for landscaping and beautifying the grounds of the New and Old Capitols, and the grounds and shrubbery are in good condition. However, we need a superintendent of the grounds to keep the grounds of new and old capitols and the mansion in first class condition, and police them against damage by trespassers. A competent man for this service can be secured for a salary of $100.00 per month.

The two capitol buildings are worth several million dollars. Adequate appropriation should be made to keep the two buildings in good condition and repair. Unless this is done, in a few more years repairs of such a major size will have to be made as will run into a considerable sum of money.

A Utility and Information Clerk should be provided for the Secretary of State's department, at $75.00 per month, to handle inter-office communication between the departments of the new and old capitols, and the Secretary of State's department.

There are only three porters at the Old Capitol and the work, on account of the growth of the respective Boards, Commissions and Departments, has increased to such an extent that another porter is absolutely necessary. The salary of a porter is $45 per month.

MISSISSIPPI BLUE BOOK

For the past several bienniums I have been publishing the Secretary of State's biennial report in the form of the Mississippi Blue Book.

The Blue Book is indispensable to colleges, schools, officials, and the commercial interests of the state. Many schools of the state are using the Mississippi Blue Book as a text book.

The demand for the Blue Book in Mississippi, and over the entire nation, has steadily increased, and is greater than the supply.

The contents of the Blue Book has necessarily been curtailed to a very large extent because of lack of funds, and it should contain much more information, data and statistics.

DUTIES OF SECRETARY OF STATE

Secretary of State has charge of Securities (or better known as Blue Sky) Department; Secretary of the State Board of Public Contracts, which requires the looking after reading all proofs and printing of the Laws, Supreme Court Reports, printing for all departments, and shipping, etc.; Secretary of Capitol Commission; Secretary State Board of Election Commissioners; Custodian of Capitol Buildings and Grounds; Custodian of Governor's Mansion; Custodian of Great Seal of the State; Custodian of official bonds of State Officers; Custodian of Enrolled Bills of each Legislative Session; Member State Board of Education; has charge of all Election Returns; has charge of all corporation records, foreign and domestic, also railroad and municipal charters; issues all Notarial Commissions; issues all Senatorial, Congressional, State, State District, County and County District, and Municipal Commissions; handles all annual reports of Sheriffs, Chancery and Circuit Clerks; signs and attests all land patents; State-wide Notary Public; Registrar of State, State District, County and County District Officers; Recorder of all Cattle Brands; handles all registrations of trade marks, labels, etc; Attests all official acts of the Governor.

The routine clerical work of the department of the Secretary of State is voluminous and second to none of the major State Departments.

Yours very truly,

Adoption of Mississippi State Flag

THE committee to design a flag and State Seal was appointed by legislative action February 7, 1894, and the same provided that the report of the committee should become the official flag. The committee recommended for the flag "one with width two-thirds of its length; with a union square, in width two-thirds of the width of the flag; the ground of the union to be red and a broad blue saltier thereon, broadened with white and emblazoned with thirteen (13) mullets or five-pointed stars, corresponding with the number of original states of the Union; the field to be divided into three bars of equal width, the upper one blue, the center one white, and the lower one extending the whole length of the flag, red—the national colors: the staff surmounted with a spear-head and a battle-ax below; the flag to be fringed with gold, and the staff gilded with gold."

MOTHER MISSISSIPPI

Girdled 'round with grandeur,
Crowned with singing stars,
Rainbowed with a future,
Not a shadow mars.

Mother Mississippi,
Proud and peerless state,
Here's a tribute to you,
Good and true and great.

May your sons and daughters,
Till the end of time,
Wreathe your brow with laurels,
Frame your name in rhyme.

Love and serve and shield you,
Keep you good and great.
Mother Mississippi,
Proud and peerless state.

—David E. Guyton.

Blue Mountain, Miss.

Pledge to the State Flag

To the State Flag of Mississippi we pledge allegiance, as a sign of loyalty to our State and to our Country, the United States of America—one power indissoluble, with liberty and justice for all.

Citizens Creed

I believe in the State of Mississippi as one of the Sovereign States of a Sovereign Nation, the United States of America, founded and perpetuated upon the principles of Democracy, which insure for all, freedom, equal rights, justice and humanity.

I believe it to be my duty to labor for it, to defend it against all foes and to direct and devote my physical, mental and spiritual powers in serving it, in upholding its Constitution and in obeying its laws.

—ROWLAND.

PROPER TREATMENT OF FLAG

(Section 930, Mississippi Code of 1930)

930. Flags—desecration of the nation and state prohibited.—Any person who, in any manner, for exhibition or display, shall, place or cause to be placed any word, figure, mark, picture, design, drawing, or any advertisement of any nature, upon any flag, standard, color or ensign of the United States or state flag of the State of Mississippi, or ensign or confederate flag, or shall expose or cause to be exposed to public view any such flag, standard, color or ensign, upon which shall be attached, appended, affixed or annexed any work, figure, mark, picture, design or drawing, or any advertisement of any nature, or who shall expose to public view, manufacture, sell, expose for sale, give away or have in possession for sale or to give away, or for use for any purpose, any article or substance, being an article of merchandise, or a receptacle of merchandise, or article or things for carrying or transporting merchandise upon which, shall have been printed, painted, attached or otherwise placed, a representation of any such flag, standard, color or ensign, to advertise, call attention to, decorate, mark or distinguish the article or substance, on which so placed, or who shall publicly mutilate, deface, defile or defy, trample upon or cast contempt, either by word or act, upon any such flag, standard, color or ensign, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than thirty days, or both, in the discretion of the court; and shall also forfeit a penalty, in the discretion of the court, of not more than fifty dollars for each such offense, to be recovered with costs in a civil action or suit, in any court having jurisdiction, and such action or suit may be brought by and in the name of any citizen of this state, and such penalty when collected, less the reasonable cost and expense of action or suit, shall be paid into the treasury of this state; and two or more penalties may be sued for and recovered in the same action or suit. The words "flag," "standard," "color," or "ensign," as used in this section, shall include any flag, standard, color, ensign or any picture or representation of either thereof, made of any substance, or represented on any substance, and of any size, evidently purporting to be, either of said flag, standard, color or ensign of the United States of America or a picture or a representation of either thereof, upon which shall be shown the colors, and stars, and the stripes, in any number of either thereof, or by which the person seeing the same, without deliberation, may believe the same to represent the flag, colors, standard or ensign of the United States of America or of the state of Mississippi or Confederate flag.

JACKSON—SEAT OF STATE GOVERNMENT

(Made Permanent by Section 101, Constitution of 1890)

February 20, 1819.—Two sections of land donated to the State "for a seat of government."

COURTESIES ACKNOWLEDGED

The Secretary of State and his department are indebted to the Department of Archives and History for the use of the National and State Flags; and to the State Highway Magazine, Game and Fish Commission, Forestry Commission, and Jackson Chamber of Commerce and others for the use of illustrations in the compilation of this edition of the Mississippi Blue Book. These courtesies are duly appreciated.

MISSISSIPPI'S CHAIN OF TITLE

NATIVE DOMINION

When the territory which now composes the State of Mississippi was first explored by white men, they found it owned and occupied by the following tribes of Indians: Choctaws, Chickasaws, Natchez, Biloxis, Pascagoulas, Yazoo, Tunicas and Chocchumas, with the Choctaws in the central and southern portions and the Chickasaws in the northern part the most numerous and powerful. The Natchez tribe lived along the Mississippi river, in the counties of Adams, Claiborne, Jefferson and Wilkinson.

The Biloxis and Pascagoulas occupied the Gulf Coast section, and the Tunicas and Yazoo occupied the country along the Yazoo river. The Chocchumas lived in the eastern part of the State.

SPANISH DOMINION

1512-1699.

By right of discovery and exploration what is now Mississippi remained under the dominion of Spain from 1512 to 1699. Thus for that period Mississippi was governed by the following Kings of Spain:

Ferdinand V., Charles I., Philip II., Philip III., Philip IV., and Charles II.

FRENCH DOMINION

1699-1763

In 1699 Mississippi became a possession of France by actual settlement and was called Louisiana. Biloxi, settled that year by d'Iberville, became the seat of government. For twelve years the Louisiana settlements were under the control of the Governors of New France (Canada), to-wit: Louis Hector de Callierves and Philip de Rigault, Marquis de Vaudreuil.

In 1711 Louisiana became an independent government, with the seat of government at Mobile. The following Governors, responsible directly to the Crown, ruled the country.

Pierre LeMoynes d'Iberville, governor general. Antoine LeMoynes Sauvolle, Jean Baptiste Lemoyne Bienville, Antoine de la Mothe Cadillac, M. De l'Epiany, Jean Baptiste LeMoynes Bienville, M. Perier, Jean Baptiste LeMoynes Bienville, Marquis de Raudreuil and Louis Billouart de Kerlerec.

ENGLISH DOMINION

1763-1781

By the treaty of Paris, February 10, 1763. (England, Spain and France), England gained much territory within the present limits of Mississippi, then styled the Province of West Florida, and for eighteen years the following Royal Governors ruled: George Johnstone, 1763, four years; Montfort Browne, John Eliot, and Elias Durford at intervals, 1767-1770; Peter Chester, 1770, eleven years.

SPANISH DOMINION

1781-1795

On May 9, 1781, the English Province of West Florida again became Spanish property by conquest. The following military and civil governors ruled the Natchez District for fourteen years; Francis Callell, Esterban Miro, Frances Bauligny, Manuel Gayosa de Lemos, Stephen Minor, Philippe Trevino, Pedro Piernas, Carlos de Grand Pre and Joseph Vidal. The seat of government under Spanish rule was at Natchez.

AMERICAN DOMINION

By the treaty of San Lorenzo, October 27, 1795, the Natchez District became a part of the United States, and the Mississippi Territory was formed by Act of Congress April 7, 1798. Mississippi was admitted as a State December 10, 1817.

THE STATE MOTTO

The State motto of Mississippi, Virtute et Armis, meaning by valor and arms, was suggested by the Honorable James Rhea Preston of Virginia, who was at the time Superintendent of Education in the State of Mississippi.

THE GREAT SEAL OF MISSISSIPPI

The present State seal has been in use since Mississippi became a state in 1817, and is described as follows: "The seal and arms of Mississippi are simply an American eagle with outspread wings, occupying the entire surface of a silver circular field. In the right talon of the eagle is a bundle of four arrows, and the left talon holds an olive branch fruited. Around the outer circle of the seal is the legend, 'THE GREAT SEAL OF THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI,' in Roman capitals; a silver six-pointed star in the base. The diameter of the seal is two inches."

ADOPTION OF MISSISSIPPI STATE FLAG

The committee to design a flag and State Seal was appointed by legislative action February 7, 1894, and the same provided that the report of the committee should become the official flag. The committee recommended for the flag "one with width two-thirds of its length; with a union square, in width two-thirds of the width of the flag; the ground of the union to be red and a broad blue saltier thereon, bordered with white and emblazoned with thirteen (13) mullets or five-pointed stars, corresponding with the number of original states of the Union; the field to be divided into three bars of equal width, the upper one blue, the center one white, and the lower one extending the whole length of the flag, red—the national colors; the staff surmounted with a spear-head and a battle-ax below; the flag to be fringed with gold, and the staff gilded with gold."

THE STATE FLOWER

Sudnor and Bennett say that "the school children of the State selected the state flower, and no one else was permitted to vote. The election was held in November, 1900, and the children sent in 23,278 votes. The magnolia received 12,745 votes, the cotton blossom 4,171 and the cape jasmine 2,484. There were a few votes for other flowers. The magnolia won and has been since our state flower."

STATE TREE

In 1935 the Director of Forestry started a movement by which to select a State Tree for Mississippi, same to be selected by nomination and election by the school children of the State. Four nominations were made, to-wit: the magnolia, oak, pine, and dogwood, and when the vote was taken, the magnolia received by far the largest majority over all. Hence, the Magnolia was adopted as the "Mississippi State Tree." On April 1, 1938, the Mississippi Legislature officially designated the Magnolia as the State Tree, Chapter 365, Laws of 1938, Regular Session.

THE BIRD SELECTED TO BECOME THE STATE AVIAN EMBLEM

In 1929 the Mississippi Federation of Women's Clubs conducted a State bird campaign which resulted in the selection of the mocking bird as the State avian emblem.

STATE SONG

The State Song, adopted as such by the Department of Archives and History several years ago and first published in the Mississippi Official and Statistical Register of 1917, is entitled "Mississippi," and the words, by Mrs. Dunbar Rowland, Jackson, are reproduced below. This beautiful poem was set to music by Walter H. Aiken, of Cincinnati.

MISSISSIPPI

(Words by Mrs. Dunbar Rowland)

There is a beautiful country,
 Where southern waters flow,
 'Tis where the white Magnolia
 And yellow jasmine blow.

And there a loyal people,
 Work with glad heart and will;
 To the faiths of their fathers,
 They cling through good or ill.

Chorus:

Mississippi! Land of a true and valiant race,
 Where hope's heavenly light is seen on every face;
 Fair land, whose story glows with deeds of heroes brave,
 Dear land that hateful tyrant shall ne'er enslave.

A goodly land, whose prospects,
 Shine not for men in vain,
 And freedom's star is glowing,
 To never, never wane.

For her pure hearths and temples,
 My heart shall ever yearn,
 To her green hills and valleys,
 My feet shall ever turn.

CHAPTER 147. H. C. R. A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, the Senate concurring, That the following verses be adopted as "The State Ode" for the State of Mississippi:

MISSISSIPPI

For thy grand and varied hills,
 For thy clear and rippling rills,
 For thy wide and fertile vales,
 For thy coves, and glens, and dales—
 I love thee, Mississippi.

With thy mists, and clouds, and storms,
 With thy winds, and rains, and calms,
 With thy snow, and hail, and sleet,
 With thy sunshine and thy heat—
 I love thee, Mississippi.

Where thy forests stand serene,
 Where thy prairies roll between,
 Where thy rich plantations lie,
 Where thy sedge fields never die—
 I love thee, Mississippi.

Brave thy men, thy women fair,
 Boys and girls beyond compare,
 Proud thy record, years gone by,
 Bright thy prospects, drawing nigh—
 I love thee, Mississippi.

Place where first I saw the light,
 Place where boyhood made its fight,
 Place where love and hope grew strong,
 Place where home and friends belong—
 I love thee, Mississippi.

Here, my heart, thy vigils keep;
 Here, my dead, in quiet sleep;
 Here, my life, ebb thou away;
 Here, my bones, turn back to clay—
 I love thee, Mississippi.

Adopted by House March 1, 1902.

Adopted by Senate March 4, 1902.

THE MEANING OF MISSISSIPPI

(Mississippi Department Archives and History)

The derivation and meaning of Mississippi have been variously given. Peter Pitchlynn, who had an extensive knowledge of Indian languages, in a letter to the Columbus Whig, in 1861, traced the derivation of the word to the Choctaw, mish sha sippukrie, which he translated "beyond age," and this translation is in conflict with the translation "father of waters," which is generally accepted. Du Pratz sought to explain the name Mechasipi as a contraction of Meact Chassipi, meaning "the ancient father of waters." It appears, however, that the southern Indians did not give the river such a name when the earliest explorers reached the coast. The name given by the gulf coast Indians was written by the French as Malabouchia.

Meechee Seepee, or something sounding like that, was the name given the river by the Indians of the northwest, visited by La Salle and Marquette. The mechee or "Missi" is the same in meaning as the Micco of the Creeks and other Muscogees, meaning great as an adjective, and chief as a noun. The Michi of Michigan is the same word, and possibly the Massa of Massachusetts has a like derivation. Mississippi means great water or great river. It would be more accurately spelled Mississippi, the French orthography, or Misيسي, the Spanish form, both pronounced Meeseesepee, which is probably close in sound to the Indian spoken words.

The river was known to the Spaniards in the fifteen and seventeenth centuries chiefly under the name of the Rio del Espiritu Santo, or the river of the Holy Ghost. It was also called by them the Rio Grande del Florida, the Rio del Espiritu Santo, or simply the Rio Grande.

By the French it was given the title of La Palisade, on account of the numerous cotton-wood trees found on the bar and passes at the mouth. After its exploration by La Salle, it was called the Colbert, in honor of the great minister of Louis XIV. Subsequent to the founding of the French colony by D'Iberville in 1699, at Fort Maurepas, it was named the St. Louis, for the King. But these names all yielded in time to the ancient Indian name.

Mississippi Capitals and Statehouses

A brief history of Mississippi's capitals and statehouses, or capitols, might prove interesting to many citizens of this state, and more especially to the younger citizens and youth of the commonwealth.

The territory later occupied by the State of Mississippi was created as a territorial form of government under the name of the Mississippi Territory by an Act of Congress, April 7, 1798, with Winthrop Sargent as the first territorial governor.

The seat of government of a state or territory is usually defined as the place at which the legislature or general assembly convenes, and unless fixed by the constitution, might be moved by legislative authority. The first legislature of the new Territory of Mississippi met at Natchez on September 22, 1800. On February 1, 1802, the seat of territorial government was moved from Natchez and established permanently at Washington, a few miles east of Natchez.

On March 1, 1817, Congress passed an Act to enable the people of the Mississippi Territory to form a Constitution and a State government, and for the admission of such State into the Union. This first Constitutional Convention met in the Methodist Church at Washington on July 7, 1817, with forty-seven delegates present, representing fourteen counties. This Methodist church was the first brick church erected in what was then known as the southwest territory, and has long since come to be remembered as "The Old Brick Church," a half-tone reproduction of which appears in this copy and former issues of the Mississippi Blue Book.

On August 15, 1817, after thirty-eight days of deliberation, the Convention adopted the first Constitution of the proposed new State of Mississippi. David Holmes and Duncan Stewart were elected the first Governor and Lieutenant Governor, respectively. They were elected on August 16th of the same year.

The first legislature met in the city of Natchez, but on account of the prevalence of yellow fever in that city at the time, Governor Holmes issued his proclamation for the legislature to meet in the town of Washington on the First Monday of October, 1817. Thos. Barnes was the first Speaker and Peter A. Van Dorn, the first Clerk.

Another session of the legislature was held in the town of Washington, also because of the prevalence of yellow fever at Natchez but the sessions, in the main between 1817 and 1822 were held at Natchez. In the meantime, sentiment had crystallized in favor of establishing a permanent seat of government at or near the center of the then new State, and on November 28, 1821, an Act was passed designating Col. Thos. Hinds, William Lattimore and Peter Van Dorn as a Commission to view out and locate a permanent seat of Government, the Federal Government having ceded to Mississippi two Sections of land on which to build a town to be the State Capital. Later the Commission was authorized to purchase two additional half-Sections, adjoining the grant of the two Sections by the Federal Government.

The town was laid off and named Jackson, in honor of Major-General Andrew Jackson. The first state-house was erected on the northeast corner at the crossing of Capitol and President streets, where the Baptist Book Store is today, and was a small brick structure. The legislature, which had convened at the temporary capital at Columbia in January, 1822, was moved to Jackson a few weeks later. This first capitol here was the first public building erected in the new capital city, and served the state's needs for some fourteen or fifteen years.

However, in 1833, a new capitol was planned, and the legislature passed an Act on February 26th that year, providing for the erection of a Capitol and an Executive Mansion. The sum of $95,000.00 was appropriated for the capitol and $10,000.00 for the mansion, and work was soon begun. Further appropriations were made for these buildings in 1838, and the work pushed to completion. In 1839, the legislature met in the new building, although it was not completed until later. This building is now known as the "Old Capitol" and stands at the head of Capitol street, on State street.

This building served the State exclusively, for the housing of state departments until 1903, and much of the Commonwealth's most interesting history was created within its portals, and during the period of its active and exclusive occupancy. Chief among the most important and earlier events of history, was the incorporation of the University of Mississippi in 1844; the call of the War Department and the organization of the 1st Regiment of Mississippi Volunteers for service in the Mexican War under Jefferson Davis; in 1853 Davis was appointed Secretary of War by President Pierce; the schools for the blind and the deaf were established in 1848 and 1854, respectively, and also provision made for the establishment of the hospital for insane in the latter named year; a State convention passed the ordinance of secession by a vote of eighty-four to fourteen; and then came the Confederate War.

During the War between the States, there were brief intervals when it became necessary to move the seat of government, and from May, 1863, to May 6, 1865, the seat of government was moved several times. When General Sherman first occupied Jackson with his army of Union troops, the seat of government was moved to Enterprise, Clarke County; thence later to Meridian, back to Jackson and back to Meridian; thence to Columbus, Lowndes County, thence to Macon, and back to Jackson.

Toward the close of the nineteenth century, the capitol on State street was found to be inadequate to house all departments of state and accommodate their growing needs, and it was decided to erect another new capitol—a still larger state-house, and the site of the Mississippi penitentiary was selected for a location. This new building, erected within the period from 1900 to 1903, is what has since been known as "Mississippi's new million dollar capitol."

Governor A. H. Longino, at that time the chief executive, prepared the bill authorizing the erection of this building, and was later made Chairman of the Building Commission. With him on this Commission were: Monroe McClurg, attorney general; R. H. Thompson; W. G. Stovall; R. A. Dean; L. T. Fitzhugh, Jr., secretary. Bernard R. Green, Washington, D. C., was added to act in an advisory capacity to the State Commissioners. The cost of the building, including steam heating power plant, furniture, electric and gas light fixtures, architect's fees and other expenses, amounting to $1,093,641.00, and was built without any bond issue or extra levy, notwithstanding the legislature authorized a bond issue, if necessary.

The contractors were Wells Brothers Company of Chicago, and the architect was Theodore C. Link of St. Louis, who was assisted by his son, Karl E. Link. The contractors agreed to complete the building in thirty-one months, and work was actually commenced in March, 1901, and completed in July, 1903—well within contract time. It would require too much space here to fully describe the magnificence of this building, its marvelous architecture, the perfection of design and appointment, and the general imposing appearance of this handsome building, which all during the years it has served the State has been the object of admiration of visitors from every state, and in some instances from other nations.

Soon after its completion in 1903, the several departments of State moved their offices from the old capitol on State street to the new building, and the old building was entirely vacated and for the most part the doors were thrown open and the building allowed to deteriorate. From time to time during its vacancy movements were inaugurated by various patriotic organizations, led by Mrs. Dunbar Rowland, to preserve the building and to use it for historical purposes.

By the year 1916, however, the need for additional office room, and room for the preservation of records, in the new capitol had so developed that the legislature of 1916 appropriated $125,000.00, to be raised by the sale of state bonds, for the purpose of repairing the old capitol and placing it in a condition for re-occupancy. The Capitol Commission was charged with supervising this work, and the use of convict labor, and brick furnished by the penitentiary was provided for.

Accordingly, the old building, seventy-seven years old at that time, was again brought into use and a number of state departments have since been housed there, to-wit: the Department of Education, Insurance Department, Agriculture and Commerce, Board of Health, Banking Department, etc.

The first work of repair since 1916, and the first work of repair of any consequence on the new capitol since its erection thirty-odd years ago, was accomplished during the years of 1934-35, when the interior of both the old and new capitols were generally repaired and redecorated under the supervision and direction of Walker Wood, Secretary of State, for the Capitol Commission, and in co-operation with ERA administration, with a small appropriation by the legislature of 1934. Another outstanding and much needed improvement connected with this work, was the construction of hard-surfaced driveways at both capitols.

And now, concluding this brief sketch of Mississippi's capitols and state houses, it might be well to state that only since the adoption of the Constitution of 1890 has the seat of government or capital been definitely and permanently located or fixed at a particular place. Section 101 of the Constitution of 1890 reads:

“The seat of government of the state shall be at the city of Jackson, and shall not be removed or re-located without assent of a majority of the electors of the state.”

DESCRIPTION

Mississippi's new capitol is, architecturally speaking, the most important and the most prominent public building in the South. It far surpasses in beauty, if not in size, all the capitol buildings in the Southern States. It is erected on the site formerly occupied by the State Penitentiary, a rectangle about 750 feet square, on an eminence overlooking the country for a considerable distance, and is in full view of the trains over the Illinois Central tracks. The main facade is to the south, the main entrance centering with Congress Street.

The length of the building is 402 feet from east to west; the width through the center pavilion is 225 feet, and the central dome rises 180 feet above the grade established at the main entrance.

The style adopted is a pure renaissance classic of a dignity and elegance of proportion which fittingly express the power, honor and stability of the State. It is designed on the order of pavilions connected by wings with a view to giving architectural prominence and expression to its fundamental purpose of accommodating the Legislative, Executive and Judicial branches of the Government in a very simple, straightforward and direct manner. The pavilions are provided with porticos and arcades to give graceful shades and deep shadows. The entire building is fireproof in its construction and thoroughly modern in its equipment and sanitary condition. The exterior walls of the building are of Bedford Lime Stone, and the base course of Georgia Granite.

To many visitors entering the portals of this magnificent structure, the interior will be a veritable revelation. The main vestibule is built entirely of Blue Vermont Marble on a base of Black Belgian. The main rotunda is of Italian Marble with trimmings of jet black marble from New York State, and friezes and columns of Scagliola, leading the eye to the elaborately decorated dome. This dome is supported at four points on massive piers with rich marble niches designed as receptacles for statuary, developing into massive free columns in the second story to the frieze line of the dome. The two legislative halls will alone well repay a visit to this building. They are located in the two extreme points of the second story, and are built up of marble and scagliola, both with rich domed ceilings of oxidized copper, stucco and stained glass.

GOVERNOR'S OFFICES

The Governor's offices and rooms are located in the center pavilion, on the second floor, just south of Rotunda, and midway between the Legislative Halls.

In connection with the Legislative Halls there are offices on the north and south sides of the room for the Speaker, Visitor's Room, Cloak and Toilet Rooms.

MARBLE WORK

The Different Marbles Used in the Building and Where to Find Them.

GENUINE MARBLE

- Blue Vermont—Walls and ceilings of vestibules to Main South and North Entrances.
- Belgian Black—Dado (Wainscoting) in House of Representatives and Door Facings and Base in first and second story Main Corridors.
- Georgia Verd Antique—Entrances to the two Legislative Chambers, and Dado in second story Main Corridors and Supreme Court Room.
- Georgia White—Cloak Rooms to two Legislative Halls.
- Georgia Creole—Slabs in the eight Bronze Drinking Fountains.
- Numidian (African)—Mantel Facings and Base Course in Governor's Reception Room.

Alps Greer (Switzerland)—Dado in Lobby to State Library.

Tennessee Gray—Dado in Hall of Fame.

Tennessee Pink—Walls of Lobby to House of Representatives.

Tennessee Knoxville—Base and Trims in Lobby to House of Representatives.

ART MARBLE (Scagliola)

Pavanazzo—Eight large Columns in Main Rotunda, Walls in Supreme Court Room, and Wall Panels in Senate Chamber.

Sienna—Walls in House of Representatives.

Breccia Violet—Large Columns and Pilaster in Senate Chamber.

Numidian—Dado and Columns in Governor's Reception Room.

Rose Claire—Wall Panels in Second Story Main Corridors, and Dado in office occupied by Accounting Division of Auditor's office.

Champagne—Stiles or Frames to Rose Claire Wall Panels in the Senate.

St. Baum—Stiles or Frames to Pavanazzo Wall Panels in the Senate.

Egyptian—Dado and Dado Caps in Senate Chamber.

Verd Antique—Small Columns in Second Story Rotunda and Pilasters in Second Story Main Corridors.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Actual work on the building was begun in March, 1901, and completed in July, 1903.

The cost of the building when completed, including the grading of the grounds, the pavements and additional granite steps, was $1,093,641.00.

There are 4,750 incandescent electric lights in the building, 750 of which are placed in the central dome and rotunda.

The most expensive marble in the building is to be found in the Governor's Reception Room—the Numidian marble.

There is $101,000.00 worth of genuine marble in the building, and $36,000.00 worth of Scagliola.

The Eagle surmounting the dome is made of copper, and has a heavy coating of pure gold leaf. The width of the bird from tip to tip of its wings is fifteen feet, height—eight feet, and cost $1,500.00.

The Bedford Limestone cost $212,000.00.

Only four kinds of wood are used in the building—Maple, Oak, Walnut and Mahogany.

The electric and gas light fixtures in the building cost $15,000.00.

Marble Mosaic floors will be found in the Legislative Halls, the Governor's Reception Room, the State Library, Supreme Court Room, and all Corridors and Lobbies.

MISSISSIPPI FACTS

BOUNDARIES OF THE STATE

Article 2, Constitution of 1890

Section 3. The limits and boundaries of the state of Mississippi are as follows, to-wit: Beginning on the Mississippi river (meaning thereby the center of said river or thread of the stream) where the southern boundary line of the state of Tennessee strikes the same, as run by B. A. Ludlow, D. W. Connelly, and W. Petrie, commissioners appointed for that purpose on the part of the state of Mississippi, A. D. 1837, and J. D. Graham and Austin Miller, commissioners appointed for that purpose on the part of the state of Tennessee; thence east along the said boundary line in the State of Tennessee to a point on the west bank of the Tennessee river, six four-pole chains south of and above the mouth of Yellow creek; thence up the said river to the mouth of Bear creek; thence by a direct line to what was formerly the northwest corner of the county of Washington, Alabama; thence on a direct line to a point ten miles east of the Pascagoula river on the Gulf of Mexico; thence westwardly, including all the islands within six leagues of the shore, to the most eastern junction of the Pearl river with Lake Borgne; thence up said Pearl river to the thirty-first degree of north latitude; thence west along said degree of latitude to the middle or thread of the stream of the Mississippi river; thence up the middle of the Mississippi river, or thread of the stream, to the place of beginning including all islands lying east of the thread of the stream of said river, and also including all lands which were at any time heretofore a part of the state.

Section 4. The legislature shall have power to consent to the acquisition of additional territory by the state, and to make the same a part thereof; and the legislature may settle disputed boundaries between this state and its coterminous states whenever such disputes arise.

Government.—Mississippi, settled in 1716, was organized as a territory in 1798 and admitted into the union on December 10, 1817. In 1804 and in 1812 its boundaries were extended, but in March, 1817, a part was taken to form the new territory of Alabama, leaving the boundaries substantially as at present. The Legislature consists of a Senate and a House of Representatives, both elected for 4 years. The Capital is Jackson; there are 82 counties.

Qualified as electors are all United States citizens who have resided in the State two years and in the election district for one year (clergymen for six months) next before the election, have paid the legal taxes, and have been registered. The applicant for registration must be able to read the State Constitution or show that he understands it when it is read to him.

The state is represented in Congress by 2 Senators and 7 Representatives.

MISSISSIPPI

(The World Almanac and Book of Facts)

Mississippi, one of the States of the East South Central group, is bounded on the north by Tennessee, on the east by Alabama, on the south by Louisiana and the Gulf of Mexico, and on the west by Louisiana and Arkansas; the Mississippi river is the western boundary line. It is hilly but not rugged, and in general slopes downward to the great river and the Gulf shore. The climate and production are sub-tropical.

Agriculture is the chief interest. Cotton is the chief crop, Mississippi ranking second in cotton production. Other crops are pecans, sweet potatoes, corn, rice, wheat, oats, sugar cane, peanuts and every character of fruit grown in its zone.

Mineral deposits in Mississippi include hydrated limestone, coal, gypsum and rich clay.

The broad level acres of the Yazoo-Mississippi Delta are the world's premier cotton country. Planted in April, the cotton is cultivated through May and June and "laid by" in August. Picking begins in September, and in bumper crop years, continues into January. At Scott is the world's largest cotton plantation, 35,000 acres in one unit.

Following the harvests come the town and county fairs. The Delta Staple Cotton Festival in Clarksdale is patterned after by exhibits and street shows in nearly every county. The money from crop sales bulges the pockets of the farmers, white and black. A month of carnival reaches a climax in the huge Mississippi Free State Fair in Jackson in October.

Transport is supplied by the rail lines and by the Mississippi river, on which traffic, lessening in the recent era of rapid rail development, is growing again to great relative importance.

The old plantation life prevails as unchanged as in any Southern State, with spacious mansion houses and large estates, the homes of the old-time aristocracy of the age of the Southern cavalier..

Parchman, Mississippi's state penal farm, has been called by the Library of Congress the best source of Negro folk music in the nation. Mound Bayou is a half-century old, exclusively-Negro community founded by Isaiah Montgomery, former slave of Jefferson Davis.

There are 20 universities and colleges in the State, the most noted being the University of Mississippi, Oxford; Mississippi State College, Starkville; and Mississippi State College for Women, Columbus.

The battlefield in Vicksburg was established as a national military park in 1899 to commemorate the campaign, siege, and defense of Vicksburg, one of the turning points of the war, and to preserve the ground where took place the battles and operations connected with the siege. There the Confederates made their last stand for control of the lower Mississippi river, the highway to the sea for the Union States of the Middle West. There, on the high bluffs commanding a bend in the stream, the Confederate batteries prevented the passage of Federal vessels and made impossible cooperation between Federal troops above and below the city.

Throughout 1862 Federal naval and military expeditions against Vicksburg failed. At the beginning of 1863 an army under General Grant descended the river to the Louisiana shore near Vicksburg, and assisted by a strong fleet under Admiral Porter strove for 3 months to cross the river and attack the city from the rear.

Failing in these efforts, Grant finally marched his army southward, crossed the river 30 miles below Vicksburg, and early in May 1863, established a position on the Mississippi side. From there he marched rapidly northeast and, in a series of five pitched battles, defeated and separated the armies of Joseph E. Johnston and Pemberton. On May 18 the latter was driven within the defenses of Vicksburg, to which Grant then laid siege. The siege was pushed for 47 days. Two Federal assaults were repulsed by the defenders, whose system of earthworks encircling the city proved impregnable to direct attack. The Federal army then resorted to regular siege operations, subjecting the Confederate forts to an almost continuous bombardment. The city was also shelled by the fleet in the river, the inhabitants taking refuge in caves and cellars when the firing became intense. The expected relief from Johnston's army failed to materialize and at length, weakened by sickness and lack of food, the Confederates were compelled to surrender. On July 4 Grant's army entered Vicksburg.

General Grant said later in his memoirs, when Vicksburg fell "the fate of the Confederacy was sealed."

Vicksburg National Military Park is noted among the world's battlefields for its distinctive topography and for the extensive remains of trenches and earthworks which render the military operations in the locality readily comprehensible. Today the visitor can traverse the remains of the Confederate works, and see, marching up the steep slopes before him, rows of markers indicating the positions attained by the Federal forces in their assaults and engineering operations. To an unusual degree the battlefield preserves and illustrates the heroic events which occurred there.

STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

A Progressive State Government

There are few, if any, states of the union, that can boast of a more progressive or enlightened system of government than that which prevails today in Mississippi.

As was true of many other states, Mississippi was found to be very much "in the red" in the early years of the depression. The state's indebtedness had gone into the millions, the treasury almost void of funds, and state warrants being heavily discounted when cashed at all, and there was no demand for Mississippi state bonds.

In 1932 a new state administration and a new legislature found the foregoing conditions existing, and determined on a policy of balancing the state budget and "paying as you go." New sources of revenue were provided by the passage of a state-wide sales tax of two per cent, a tobacco sales tax and an amusement tax, and a revision of the privilege tax code. With a careful and painstaking trimming of operating expenses here and there, and the anticipation of adequate revenues from all sources provided the budget was balanced, the state's outstanding indebtedness was provided for, confidence and credit was restored, state's bonds found a ready sale, at attractive premiums and a low rate of interest.

For nine years past, or since the beginning of 1932, Mississippi has not only been financially able to "pay as she goes," but she has paid off state bonds as they have matured, with regular interest payments, and has also been able to call and pay off bonds before maturity, and to sell refunding bonds at attractively lower interest rates and thus save hundreds of thousands of dollars of interest. Today, Mississippi's credit is A-1, and her bonds, when offered, are sought at the lowest possible interest rates.

During all the years of the depression, the legislature kept busy along other lines, besides those of balancing the budget. In fact, for some years prior to the depression, many state laws—heritages of an age of distrust—were revamped from time to time.

For example, as early as 1926, it was realized very forcibly that Mississippi's corporation laws lacked much of being adequate to meet the demands of capital within the borders of the state that desired to organize, or capital without the state that wanted to qualify for business in Mississippi by filing copies of their charters of incorporation with the Secretary of State. But later, in this article, we will have more to say about this particular question of corporation laws. Suffice to say here, the corporation laws of Mississippi have been revamped, rewritten and amended during the past ten years to such an extent, that it is very easy and practicable to effect an incorporation today and secure the protection that corporation laws in Mississippi afford.

Back to the early days of the depression: The legislature of 1932—the body that balanced the budget and enacted and installed the sales tax laws that saved the State—kept busy along other lines of progression. An agricultural credit corporation law was enacted, and other cooperative agricultural association laws were provided. A state budget commission was created, to help enforce the budget law; exemption laws for new enterprises and farm products were passed, together with a general revamping of the privilege tax laws; a state game and fish department was created and provided for to conserve the wild life of the state; an oil and gas board, providing for a state oil and gas supervisor, was created by legislative act, natural gas having been found in 1930 in what is known as the Jackson area, and oil was discovered in the state in 1939.

In the legislature of 1934 this program of progress was continued, and the result was that more cooperative agricultural laws were enacted, the bank supervision law was overhauled, educational laws were amended, the state penal system was reorganized, and a homestead and live stock exemption law was passed. In the extraordinary session of 1935, a social security law providing for emergency relief and old age assistance was passed.

In 1936, the regular session of the legislature amended the game and fish laws, reorganized the control of the eleemosynary institutions, created a motor vehicle commission with authority to handle the collection of gasoline taxes, passed a forty-two million dollar highway paving program, revamped the land commission laws, established an unemployment commission.

In 1938 the Department of Public Safety was created and the State Highway Patrol was set up.

In 1940 the state legislature passed the free text book law which provide free school books to all children in the elementary grades. The State Board of Development was also established in 1940.

And thus, Mississippi is marching on. New industries are coming into the state at a very satisfactory rate, and the rate will continue and increase as a result of favorable laws enacted.

We referred to the improved corporation laws earlier in this article, and stated that the legislature of 1926 amended the corporation laws very advantageously. Still, it required practically thirty days to make application for and have a charter of incorporation approved and get ready to start business, and this necessary delay, was an incentive to many prospective organizations to hie themselves away to other states of quicker service, secure their charters and then file them here, at twice the cost.

Since the enactment of Chapter 90, Laws of 1928, it is entirely possible that a group of individuals may apply for a Mississippi charter of incorporation, have it approved and recorded, and organize and open for business all within a space of a very few hours.

The corporation laws were made more liberal to commerce and industry in many ways, and ample evidence of this is found in the phenomenal increase in the organization of domestic capital and the admission of foreign corporations to the state, following the 1926, 1928 and later revision of these laws.

Mississippi has ample shipping facilities. The mighty Mississippi river furnishes splendid river facilities, while the deep water harbor at Gulfport and other small harbors along the coast of Mississippi gives the state fine connections with both domestic and foreign points. A net work of railroad and freight bus lines over the state complete a thorough and adequate system of shipping able to care for not only the present, but future needs of the State as she grows and develops.

POPULATION OF MISSISSIPPI IN 1816, JUST PRIOR TO STATEHOOD

From the original rolls, on file in the Department of Archives and History.

A census was taken in 1816, by authority of the general assembly, in connection with the movement for statehood, and is of unusual interest. In the following table it is separated into historical regions:

SIXTEENTH CENSUS OF THE UNITED STATES: 1940

Mississippi

The 1940 Census of Agriculture recorded 291,092 farms for the State of Mississippi, according to a preliminary report released recently by Vergil D. Reed, Acting Director of the Census, Department of Commerce. This figure represents a decrease of 6.9 percent in the number of farms since the Fifteenth Census Report of 1930.

Between 1930 and 1940 Mississippi's urban places continued to grow faster than the rural areas, according to the final figures from the Sixteenth Decennial Census, issued by Director William Lane Austin, of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce.

The final count of the Sixteenth Census showed that on April 1, 1940, Mississippi had a population of 2,183,796, an increase of 173,975 over the 2,009,821 residents reported in the 1930 Census. This change represents an increase of 8.7 percent as compared with 12.2 percent between 1920 and 1930. The population increase in urban areas from 1930 to 1940 was 27.8 percent as compared with 4.8 percent in the rural sections. Urban residents accounted for 19.8 percent of the State's population in 1940, as compared with 16.9 percent in 1930. In 1940, residents of urban areas numbered 432,882, while the rural population amounted to 1,750,914. The Census Bureau considers as urban areas the incorporated places of 2,500 or more. The remaining territory is usually classified as rural.

There were 12 cities of 10,000 or more in Mississippi, no new cities having been added to this group since 1930. All of these cities increased between 1930 and 1940, Greenville having had the most rapid growth (41.1 percent). Thirty-three of the 36 urban places of less than 10,000 inhabitants increased between 1930 and 1940.

Seventy-two of the 82 counties gained population between 1930 and 1940. Rankin County, with an increase of 37.2 percent, had the most extensive growth.

The first census of Mississippi was taken in 1800, returning a population of 8,850. (This number includes 1,250 returned for an area now in Alabama.) The population has shown an increase at every census since that time except that of 1920, passing 500,000 between 1840 and 1850, 1,000,000 between 1870 and 1880, 1,500,000 between 1890 and 1900, and 2,000,000 between 1920 and 1930. The present population represents a density of 46.1 inhabitants per square mile. Mississippi's total land area is 47,420 square miles.

MORTMAIN STATUTES

To the Practicing Lawyers of Mississippi:

At the recent 1940 session of the Legislature of the State of Mississippi amendments to the Constitution were made and adopted in manner as provided by law, which repealed and amended the Mortmain Sections of the Constitution of Mississippi of 1890, to-wit: repealed Section 269 (see Chap. 325, page 579, Laws of Miss. of 1940), and amended Section 270, so as to permit bequests and devises to religious, educational, civil, and charitable organizations (see Chap. 326, page 580, Laws of Miss. of 1940).

The corresponding statutory Mortmain sections of the Code of Mississippi of 1930, to-wit: Sections 3564 and 3565, were repealed and amended,—that is, Section 3564 was repealed, and Section 3565 was amended—to accord with the new constitutional section 270 (see Chap. 318, page 576, Laws of 1940).

Hereinbelow is set forth, by proper legal, corporate name, a list of charitable, religious, and educational institutions to which such bequests and devises may be legally made under said statutory and constitutional provisions and limitations. There may be others not listed that we could not obtain:

DIGEST OF GAME AND FISH LAWS STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

July 1, 1941 — June 30, 1942

Conservation laws are not designed by the state to deprive people of their right to hunt and fish. These regulations are merely rules necessary to the management of our game and fish supply for the benefit of the sportsman.

Every violation of the game laws and regulations is an infringement upon the personal rights of the violator and others.

Cooperate with your state and federal conservation departments and help spread the message of sportsmanship to all who engage in the sports.

S P O R T S M E N !

REMEMBER:—The Farmer Is Your Friend.

Ask permission to hunt on his land—he will usually meet you half way.

Put up his bars and close his gates.

Don't destroy his chickens or cattle, or allow your dog to worry them.

Put out your camp fire before leaving and protect his property and your hunting ground.

Consult your local warden often.

7. Gill nets with a minimum square mesh of 4 inches—September 1 to January 31, each date inclusive.
8. Minnow seines with a maximum square mesh of one quarter inch, not to exceed 25 feet in length and 4 feet wide, or a minnow jar for catching minnows for bait only, provided however, that no minnow seines be used during March and April of any year. All minnow dealers must have license to legally engage in the selling of minnows.
9. Seines and netting in excess of 3,000 feet prohibited.

All fish tackle used by commercial fishermen must be tagged with a metal tag, to be furnished by the Commission at the lowest possible price to the users.

It shall be illegal to take non-game gross fish in any manner other than described above.

Hoop nets must be set at least 100 yards apart and no net shall be set in any stream, channel or drain so as to completely cut off the passage of fish.

It shall be illegal to use any wing, or lead net in any manner in any waters at any time, or to take fish by gig, harpoon, or other means other than listed in foregoing paragraph.

It shall be unlawful to have in possession at any time any buffalo fish under 16 inches in length and any buffalo which measures less than 16 inches in length when caught must be immediately returned to the water.

It shall be unlawful to have in possession at any time any spoonbill cat, measuring under 32 inches in length and any spoonbill cat caught which measures under 32 inches in length must be immediately returned to the water.

All game fish taken by Commercial fishermen by means of this equipment must be immediately returned to the water. Only one seine or one gill net or one trammel net may be used or operated under any one license. A separate license is required for each seine or net of this type to be operated. Trot lines and hoop nets may not be used or operated under the same license. A separate license for each type is required.

These regulations do not apply to the waters of the State that have been or may be closed to commercial fishing.

Eagle Lake in Warren County, Lake Washington, Lake Lee and Lake Ferguson in Washington County, Moon Lake in Coahoma County, Lake Bolivar in Bolivar County and Lake View in De Soto County are now closed to the taking of non-game gross fish by any method other than pole and line.

There is no license required of a person seining for minnows for bait for his own use, provided, however, that a person engaged in the selling of minnows shall be required to have a $5.25 license.

Hand-Grabbing for fish is prohibited at all times.

GAME FISH

Game fish may be taken by licensed fishermen from May 1 to February 28 of the year following, by hook and line with one or more hooks, artificial bait, casting rods and dip nets, provided not more than 25 of any one species may be taken a day and not more than 50 of all kinds in the aggregate. It shall be unlawful to take game fish under 10 inches in length. Crappie may not be taken under 8 inches in length and members of the sun fish family may not be taken under 5 inches in length. Any game fish of the above species must be immediately returned to the water if not of legal length as specified above.

Every person 16 years old or over is required to have a fishing license if fishing with artificial bait in any of the streams, lakes, or ponds, or if fishing from a boat, or dredge, or raft in any lake or pond. A license is not required of a resident fisherman if fishing from the bank with a pole and line or if fishing from boat with pole and line in running streams, provided, however, that any person using artificial bait in any manner whether from boat or from bank is required to have a license. It is further provided, any person found in possession of artificial bait while engaged in fishing or on any of the streams or lakes or ponds, that it shall be prima facie evidence that that person is or has been using this type of bait.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

Violations of conservation laws are punishable by fines of from $10 to $100, or by imprisonment of not more than three months, or both, together with forfeiture of license of convicted violator.

The purchaser is held guilty in the same degree as the seller of game birds, animals and fish, and is subject to arrest and prosecution.

Residents under the age of 16 years are not required to obtain hunting or fishing licenses, but are required to observe all other regulations.

It shall be the duty of the Secretary of each Field Trial Association to apply for a permit, for which no fee is charged, before legally holding a field trial, provided the field trial may be held during closed season, and further provided no quail shall be killed during the field trial, and only blank cartridges be used.

Permit should be obtained for the purpose of raising game birds and game animals for the purpose of holding them as pets before securing such animals or birds.

Dog trainers are required to have a permit and should make application accompanied by a fee of $5.00 for himself and $2.50 for each helper. It is further provided that dog trainers shall not carry a shotgun while working dogs during closed season, and no one shall work dogs on quail from May first to September first inclusive.

It Is Unlawful To:

Procure a license under an assumed name or a false address, or to make any false statement in applying for same.

Lend, transfer, borrow or use the license or license badge of another.

Aid in securing a license for a person not legally entitled to same.

Hunt wild turkeys with dogs or decoys or use grain or any bait in turkey hunting.

GAME ANIMALS

Bear, Deer, Fox, Opossum, Rabbit and Squirrel

It Is Unlawful To:

Hunt game animals at any time without proper hunting license, and then only in open seasons specified by law.

Ship game animals killed on a hunt, except when accompanied by licensee who has taken same.

Engage in interstate transportation of game animals, birds, or fish, except by a non-resident licensee who, during the open season, accompanies said game or attaches to it an affidavit, form of which will be furnished by the Commission (regulations not to apply to rabbits, or skins of opossums which may be shipped during open season).

Hunt between sunset and sunrise any game or fur-bearing animals with gun.

Set fire to woods or fields, except on licensee's own premises, for the purpose of driving game animals from their natural habitat.

Hunt fox, except by chasing with hounds, unless fox are injuring or catching domestic animals.

Hunt on lands of others, except by permission of owners, when said owners have warned against hunting, either in person or by posting.

Hunt and take any game animals when forced out of their natural habitat by fire and high water.

See open season and bag limit on game animals.

FUR-BEARING ANIMALS

Beaver, Muskrat, Otter, Skunk, Weasel, Mink, Raccoon

It Is Unlawful To:

Trap fur-bearing animals at any time without proper trapper's license and then only during open season specified by law.

Sell the pelt of any fur-bearing animals, knowing same to have been illegally taken.

Ship pelts of fur-bearing animals except during open season.

To disturb the traps of another except when authorized to do so by the owner or custodian of said traps.

Trap and take fur-bearing animals forced out of their natural habitat by high water or fire.

Trap on property of others, except by permission, when said owner has warned against trapping, either by posting or in person.

Use explosive or chemicals in taking fur-bearing animals.

Use headlights and/or electrically lighted devices in the taking of fur-bearing animals.

Fail to visit traps daily to remove all animal life caught by such devices.

Set or have more than 35 traps.

Use or possess traps larger than No. 2. Traps must be smooth jawed and must not be set in roads, runways, or paths commonly used by persons or domestic stock.

Use traps for taking fur-bearing animals that do not bear a serially numbered tag, to be selected by the State Game and Fish Commission and furnished the trapper at actual cost. These shall be affixed to the traps and shall remain affixed until its use is discontinued.

To set or arrange any trap or traps upon any State-owned lands in Mississippi until permission is first secured from the State Game and Fish Commission in writing signed by the State Director of Conservation, with a description of the land on which trapping is to be done. Such permit should be kept on the person of such trapper while tending his traps.

For land owners to lease their holdings for fur trapping operations unless they shall send to the State Game and Fish Commission for its records, lists of trappers, or trapping corporations, with names and addresses of those to whom he has so leased trapping lands.

See date of open season.

GAME BIRDS

Geese, Ducks, Rails, Coot, Snipe, Woodcock, Sandpipers, Tattlers, Plovers, Wild Turkey, Introduced Pheasants, Quail and Doves

All migratory waterfowl and dove shooting regulations are made by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Game birds (except turkey and quail) may be taken by the use of shotgun only, not larger than a 10 gauge, fired from the shoulder (Federal Regulations).

Game birds may NOT be taken by means of any automatic loading or hand operated repeating shotgun capable of holding more than three shells, the magazine of which has not been cut off or plugged with a one-piece wooden or metal filler incapable of removal through the loading end thereof, so as to reduce the shell capacity of said gun to not more than three shells at one loading (Federal Regulations).

No person shall have in his possession at any time more than the specified daily bag limit of any certain species of migratory game birds (Federal Regulations).

It Is Unlawful To:

Hunt game birds at any time without proper license and then only in open seasons prescribed by law.

Sell or merchandise in any manner game birds whether taken within the state or coming from without the state.

Ship any game birds, game animals, or game fish except when accompanied by non-resident licensee taking same or by signed affidavit, form of which will be furnished by the Commission.

Ship or transport more game birds, when allowed under provisions to ship or transport same, than is permitted under daily bag limit.

Hunt game birds at night between sunset and sunrise.

Use traps or nets in taking game birds.

Hunt and take game birds forced out of their natural habitat by fire or high water.

Hunt and take game birds on lands of others, except by permission of owner, when said owner has warned against hunting either by posting or in person.

Hunt and take wild birds, other than game birds (regulation not to apply to predatory birds, such as sparrows, hawks, crows, etc.) except for scientific purposes and then only by certificate from the Commission.

Rob or molest, or destroy the nest of any wild bird, game or otherwise (regulation not to apply to nests of predatory birds) except for scientific purposes and then only by certificate from the Commission.

See open season and bag limit on Game Birds.

GAME FISH

It Is Unlawful To:

Take game fish without proper license.

Take game fish except by hook and line with one or more hooks, by use of trot line, troll or dip nets.

Hand-grab game fish at any time.

Sell or merchandise game fish, except when the Commission issues a permit to owners of private ponds to sell under special regulations provided for it.

Use explosive and chemicals in taking game fish.

Take game fish during March or April of any years.

Consult your local warden often, or write State Game and Fish Commission for information.

All seasons subject to change.

SAFETY FIRST — ALWAYS!

Make That Your Motto

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the cardinal rule of gun safety.
2. Carry only empty guns, taken down or with the action open, into your automobile, camp and home.
3. Always be sure that the barrel and action are clear of obstructions.
4. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle even if you stumble.
5. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.
6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot.
7. Never leave your gun unattended unless you unload it first.
8. Never climb a tree or a fence with a loaded gun.
9. Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water.
10. Do not mix gunpowder and alcohol.

Care should be taken by fishermen to prevent tragic accidents. Inspect carefully all boats before using them. Have sufficient life preservers. See that the boat is sturdy and safe and is suitable for the type motor you have, if one is to be used. Shotguns or rifles should not be carried in boats. Do not overload the boat.

OIL AND GAS DEVELOPMENT IN MISSISSIPPI

By

H. M. MORSE

State Oil and Gas Supervisor

(As of June 30, 1941)

The Tinsley Oil Field is the largest oil field in this country not serviced by a pipeline. The oil is shipped entirely by rail service of the Illinois Central, to points outside of the State and to the refinery at Vicksburg which is the only refinery in operation at this time. The minimum shipment per day is 65 cars carrying on the average of 10,000 gallons per car, there are 42 gallons in a barrel.

Seven of the operators have their own gathering systems and loading racks. The names of the operators having their own systems are Hassie Hunt, Southern Pipe Line Company, Allied Pipe Line Company, Jones-O'Brien, Inc., Magnolia Petroleum Company, and Union Producing Company.

The proven acreage in the field is gradually increasing and as yet no definite limits to the field have been determined. The proven and productive acreage is approximately 12,000 acres.

Several dry holes have been drilled, but these wells have affected only a small area and has shown faulting of the producing sands. At the present time there are several outpost wells being drilled, some of which show considerable promise. A number of other locations are being considered which should give some idea as to the size of the field.

This field has produced through June 30, 1941, approximately eight and one-half million barrels of oil. The rate of monthly production at the present time is approximately 900,000 barrels. There are nineteen rigs running in the field, and 204 producing wells as of June 30, 1941.

VAUGHAN-PICKENS OIL FIELD

This field has one producing sand and has produced 407,879 barrels of oil from three wells. Originally there were four wells, but one has ceased production. No wells are drilling in this area. The gravity of this oil is 39.8, proven acreage is 40 acres.

JACKSON GAS FIELD

The Jackson Gas Field is still showing a steady decline, but it has held up better than was expected. There are now 23 producing wells with a total production for the past year of approximately 8 billion cubic feet of gas.

The State of Mississippi Fee Wells which cost $109,349.69 have paid to the State through June 30, 1941, $201,052.38. This shows a profit of $91,702.69 to the State.

OUTLOOK FOR THE YEAR

The British-American Oil Company at the present time is trying hard to prove up an oil field in Sharkey County where they have been drilling and have produced a large quantity of oil but as yet have not definitely established a field. This well has produced a large amount of salt water with the oil, and this they are trying to shut off. They hope to complete this well as a pumper in a short time and then drill other wells near this location.

(NOTE:—Since above was written the above well has been made a pumper and is producing oil).

A well drilled in Montgomery County by the Gulf Refining Company received a considerable amount of interest, and it is thought that additional wells will be drilled in this area. Another well in Grenada County has had favorable comment.

A well being drilled by the Union Producing Company in Alabama approximately 25 miles East of Quitman, Mississippi, shows considerable interest and should this prove a field, activity in eastern Mississippi will become very intensive.

In Lamar County the Freeport Sulphur Company, drilling on the Tatum Salt Dome, has uncovered an overhang (meaning they went back into sedimentary rock after going through the cap rock instead of salt). This is the first time that anything of this nature has been found around the salt domes in this state, and it is a very favorable indication for the accumulation of oil and gas.

A well, known as the W. T. Burton No. 2 L. & N. R. R., located 200 feet South and East of the Northwest corner of Section 17, Township 11 South, Range 5 East, Orleans Parish, Louisiana, was completed through the drill pipe. It was estimated to make 350 barrels of oil per day through a $\frac{3}{8}$ " choke. The working pressure is 1710 pounds per square inch and the oil is a very high grade crude 41.4, amber colored. This well is ten miles from the West boundary of Mississippi on Lake Catherine, and it will stimulate renewed interest in the Mississippi Gulf Coast area.

The California Company along with other associated companies drilled a well on the North shore of Lake Borne about one mile West of the Mississippi line which had a considerable show of gas. This well was known as the Biloxi Marsh Lands No. 1. A considerable amount of this block extended into Mississippi.

Another well of interest will be drilled 2 miles West of the Mississippi line in St. Tammany Parish. The Sun Oil Company which holds large acreage in Hancock County is taking an interest. This block extends into Mississippi.

The activity along the western edge of our State should give the southern part a very much stimulated interest.

The Carter Oil Company is now actively engaged in looking for oil and gas in the northeastern part of the State, namely Monroe and Chickasaw Counties. Anything found in this area will again increase activity in the northern part of the State.

Taking the State as a whole it seems that the future holds much for oil and gas production. No county in Mississippi is condemned. Scientific exploration is being carried out by oil companies in all parts of the State which should soon bring results in the form of production.

TUNG OIL—MISSISSIPPI'S INFANT INDUSTRY WITH A $100,000,000 HORIZON

According to the U. S. Department of Commerce Bulletin No. 133, the success of Tung trees planted as a business venture will be evidenced principally in large scale commercial development in areas best adapted to the growth. The areas in the United States which are best suited to commercial planting are restricted to a narrow strip of land approximately 100 miles wide, or less, and embracing for the most part the Gulf Coast section. Mississippi is looked upon by authorities in this field as containing a large percentage of land suited to the successful culture of Tung trees, because of its low water table and gently rolling terrain which provide both air and water drainage on large areas.

Tung trees will yield in their third year 48 pounds per tree, which would be more than 800 pounds per acre, yielding 72 to 144 pounds of oil. The fourth year, the production would be 1300 to 2000 pounds to the acre, yielding 234 to 360 pounds of oil. The fifth year, the yield would be 2700 to 4000 pounds of raw nuts, or 468 to 720 pounds of oil, and from this time on the production will increase through the eighth year, at which time the trees will bear 80 to 90 pounds to the tree, or 8000 to 9000 pounds to the acre, which would produce 1440 to 1620 pounds of oil. Tung Oil is used in the manufacture of paints and varnishes.

Based on a conservative estimate of yield per acre throughout the proved Tung belt, the following income table per acre is arrived at:

2 year old trees, approximately.....	$ 7.50 per acre
3 year old trees, approximately.....	21.50 per acre
4 year old trees, approximately.....	54.00 per acre
5 year old trees, approximately.....	108.00 per acre
8 year old trees, approximately.....	243.00 per acre

A by product of Tung oil is the press cake or meal which remains after the oil has been extracted from the nut. It is a well-known fact that Tung oil meal has great potentialities. In fact, some chemists have gone so far as to state that its value will exceed that of the oil itself when it is used to its full extent. At the present time, the meal has a definite value as a fertilizer material, approximating that of cottonseed meal.

The following comparison between the temperatures of South Mississippi and those of the Tung producing areas of China shows the remarkable similarity in climate:

	China	South Miss.
Yearly Mean Average.....	65.8	64
Spring Maximum	87	86
Spring Average Minimum.....	43	41.5
Summer Average Maximum.....	101	100.5
Summer Average Minimum.....	68	68

Pictorial
Mississippi

when seen through the lens of the camera.

"THE OLD BRICK CHURCH"—WASHINGTON, MISS.

This Church was erected in 1816, was used as first Statehouse of Mississippi. Mississippi's first Constitution of 1817 was written and adopted here, and the first legislature of the new State was convened here. Aaron Burr's preliminary trial for treason was held under two huge oaks that stood nearby.

FIRST CAPITOL BUILDING

Today but a historic memory, Mississippi's State House, or Capitol, was a small brick building which stood where the Harding Building now stands at the corner of Capitol and President Streets. It was here that Robert J. Walker, a Mississippian who achieved national fame, was elected to the United States Senate. Andrew Jackson spoke in it when a candidate for President of the United States.

OLD CAPITOL BUILDING

Aside from its value as a historic landmark, the Old Capitol possesses intrinsic value as a piece of architecture of harmonious outline and admirable proportions. Built in 1840, it was the scene of stormy debate and fateful decisions during the Civil War and reconstruction periods. The Legislature of 1916 at the instance of the Women's patriotic organizations of the state appropriated money for the restoration of the exterior and the remodeling of the interior as offices to accommodate departments of the state government.

"SPRINGFIELD"

Where General Andrew Jackson was married to his beloved Rachael Robard. "Springfield" is on the Old Natchez Trace.

"THE BRIARS"

It was here that Jefferson Davis, Confederate Chieftain, was married to Varina Banks Howell, the first lady of the Confederacy.

MONUMENT ERECTED AT THE BIRTH PLACE OF THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI ON MAY 14, 1935

The above is a half-tone illustration of the beautiful marble memorial erected, by order of the Legislature of Mississippi, (see Section 1, Chapter 1, Laws of Mississippi, 1934) by the Monument Commission, composed of Sennett Conner, Governor, Chairman; Dr. Dunbar Rowland, Director of the Department of Archives and History, Secretary; and Walker Wood, Secretary of State of Mississippi.

An appropriation of $2,000.00 was provided by the Legislature for this purpose, and after due investigation and consideration of various bids from marble manufacturers throughout the State, the work of manufacturing and erecting this beautiful monument was awarded jointly to the Columbus Marble Company, Columbus, Mississippi, and the A. J. Martin Marble Company of Vicksburg, Mississippi, at and for the sum of $1,800.00.

Being erected according to contract, this monument was dedicated on May 14, 1935, with appropriate ceremonies.

Later the Monument Commission made contract with the A. J. Martin Marble and Granite Works, Jackson, Mississippi, for the proper enclosure of the monument site.

This monument is erected on the site of the "Old Brick Church," an illustration of which appears in this edition of the Mississippi Blue Book. This old church, long since destroyed, was occupied by the First Constitutional Convention of Mississippi, and was used for a meeting place of the First Legislature of Mississippi.

Memorial Building

In 1938 under Act of the Mississippi Legislature, a War Veteran Memorial Commission was created to supervise the construction of the Mississippi War Memorial Building. This beautiful memorial has been erected on the north side of Mississippi's historic old Capitol. The building is of white stone of modernistic design and cost $375,000.00.

LEGAL STATUS AND CLASSIFICATION OF MUNICIPALITIES IN MISSISSIPPI

By Judge William Hemingway
(Deceased)

This information is prepared for use in classwork and for distribution to such as feel an interest in the present status of municipal corporations in Mississippi and to see how far we have gone towards uniformity in municipalities. The term municipal corporations includes cities, towns, and villages.

CONSTITUTION OF 1890

Prior to the Constitution of 1890 no reference was made in any constitution as to the government of municipal corporations or the passage of laws relating to them. All municipalities operated under what we call private corporation laws and were amended according to the laws relating to such private corporations. Attention is directed to the case of Yazoo City v. Lightcap, 33 So. 948 and to the brief filed by Judge J. A. P. Campbell and other attorneys and the opinion by Whitfield, C. J. In order to establish uniformity among municipal corporations, the Constitution of 1890 contains two sections, 80 and 88, which relate to municipal corporations. Section 80 reads: "Provision shall be made by general laws to prevent the abuse by cities, towns, and other municipal corporations of their powers of assessment, taxation, borrowing money, and contracting debts." Section 88 requires: "The legislature shall pass general laws, under which local and private interests shall be provided for and protected, and under which cities and towns may be chartered and their charters amended, and under which corporations may be created, organized, and their acts of incorporation altered; and all such laws shall be subject to repeal or amendment." The private charters then existing in the main contained the same contents but differed as the various localities felt best for their own particular interest.

CODE OF 1892

The legislature, in the provision for the code of 1892 having in mind the desire of the constitutional convention, enacted section 3035 of the code of 1892, which, provides, among other things, "from the date that this chapter becomes operative every municipality in the state shall exercise the powers conferred herein on the class to which it belongs and shall be governed by the provisions thereof."

"But an existing municipality, by resolution of its corporate authorities, entered of record and certified to the Secretary of State within twelve months after this chapter becomes operative may elect not to come under provision hereof." The remainder of that section deals with the procedure. The legislature had enacted what they regarded as a model charter of all Municipalities and it appears as Chapter 93 of the code of 1892 thereby giving a general charter which could be adopted by any municipality. Some availed themselves of that opportunity, others did not. So there came into existence in addition to private chartered municipalities a new class municipality known as code chapter municipalities. The code of 1892 classified the powers of municipal corporations in some sections of general application, and then beginning with section 2926 and concluding with section 2957, enumerates the general powers of municipalities corporations governed by mayor and board of aldermen. Section 2958 gives additional powers of cities and towns but not of villages. This division ends with section 2970. Beginning with section 2971 and concluding with section 2976 additional powers of cities and towns having more than 1,000 inhabitants but not of other towns and villages. The remainder of that chapter deals with general matters such as its officers, meetings, assessment of property, issuance of bonds, and other matters which seem to apply to all municipal corporations.

Prior to the adoption of this code all charters were private, and, according to Judge Campbell, municipalities were incorporated as other corporations. The code of 1892, chapter 25, only provided for private corporations, consequently all municipalities created or incorporated since the code of 1892 must be Code Chapter Municipal Corporations under chapter 93. Those prior to this code which have not accepted it or the commission form of government of the code chapter, still have a private charter.

CODE OF 1930

The code of 1930, now in use, followed the general outline of the code of 1892 except it names the different forms of municipal corporations and provides in section 2623 that "all preceding sections of this chapter shall apply to all municipalities operating under the common statutory charter for municipalities and under chapter 99 Mississippi Code of 1906 and such as may hereafter elect to come under the provisions of the preceding sections of this chapter provided that none of the preceding sections of this chapter shall repeal any provision of private or special charters." It provides in section 2624 all municipalities now operating under chapter 99 Mississippi Code of 1906 shall be designated as having "Code Charters" and all municipalities under succeeding sections are designated as having "Commission form of Government", and all other municipalities shall be designated as having "Private Charters." Provision is made in that section for the adoption of the code chapter. The code of 1930 also makes the same divisions of its content as we find in the code of 1892. In section 2369 municipalities are divided into classes—cities, towns, and villages. Those having 2,000 inhabitants or more are cities. Those having less than 2,000 and not less than 300 inhabitants are towns, and those having less than 300 but not less than 100 are villages. But no municipal corporation shall be created with a population less than 100. We find further classifications where municipalities of 5,000 inhabitants or more may purchase light plants. Under section 2455 municipalities of over 20,000 are given power to sell or lease public utility plants making additional sub-classifications.

CHARTER AMENDMENTS BY MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS

Section 2625 of the code of 1930 provides how charters of municipalities now existing may be amended. There is no provision for amendments by code charter municipalities. That section reads in part: "when a municipality now existing which has not come under the foregoing provision of this chapter, but is governed by another charter, shall desire to amend its charter the same may be done in this way. The mayor and board of aldermen, city council, or municipal authority, by whatever name of municipality, etc., then follows the procedure if it is not inconsistent with the constitution of the United States or the constitution of the state even if it is inconsistent with the provision of this chapter they shall have power to adopt the amendment." This might be made to apply and probably does apply to commission forms of government. Though the commission form of government would seem to have to act under section 2655 of the code of 1930 to abandon that form of government. The powers given by these sections of the code are somewhat in line with what is known as "Home Rule Laws." cf. citation section 2625 O'Flynn v. McInnis, 80 M. 125, 31 So. 584. Adams v. Kuykendall, 83 M. 571, 25 So. 830. Yazoo City v. Lightcap, 82 M. 148, 33 So. 949. Ex parte Dixon, 89 M. 778, 42 So. 233. Love v. Holmes, 91 M. 535, 44 So. 835. Monette v. State, 91 M. 662, 44 So. 989. Sick v. Bay St. Louis, 113 M. 175, 94 So. 272. Williams v. Vicksburg, 116 M. 79, 76 So. 838.

Amendments will be permitted even though they conflict with the code chapter provided they do not conflict with the constitution. It may be that by such amendments municipal corporations may operate uniformly even as to content.

AMENDMENTS BY THE LEGISLATURE

Municipalities are the creatures of the state of Mississippi and, therefore, the legislature may create, modify or abolish the charter of any municipal corporation. The study of the laws and acts of the legislature of recent years will indicate that the legislative acts relate to all municipalities regardless of class or form. For example, laws of 1926, chapter 273, reads: "the governing body of all towns, cities, and villages is hereby authorized and required to refund erroneously paid privilege taxes or ad valorem taxes paid such towns, city or village." This is a very good act but it ignores all distinctions made in the government as to class or powers. It applies to all municipalities whether under private charter, code chapter, or commission government and no distinction between them is attempted. There are numerous laws of this kind but one will suffice as an illustration. Laws of 1934, chapter 317, gives certain powers to municipalities and defines the term municipality. "The term municipality shall include any incorporated city, town, or village of the state of Mississippi, whether operated under special charter or under the general laws of the state of Mississippi governing municipalities or whether operating under the commission form of government."

Laws of 1936, chapter 258, reads: "any municipality in this state used by the governing authorities, etc." thus amending all charters.

Laws of 1936, chapter 160, reads: "any municipality in the state of Mississippi whether operating under special charter or not may impose a tax on all privileges, etc." This also applies to all charter forms and gives power to code chapter, commission government, and private charters. By using the word municipality, cities, towns, and villages are included. Notwithstanding section 2445 of the code provides that only cities and towns may levy and collect privilege license. It will thus be seen that the legislature in recent amendments has not taken into consideration the classification in the code and their amendments apply regardless of the form of charter or whether it be city, town, or village and being a general law, its language would control as against special acts. Perhaps, many municipalities with private charters are unaware of the fact that their charter has been amended.

COMMISSION FORM OF GOVERNMENT

In 1908, chapter 108, commission form of government was provided for by the legislature. This law is not re-enacted in the code of 1930 but such municipalities have power to continue to exercise all the rights, powers, privileges and immunities granted by that act. In 1912, chapter 220 was enacted which provided for the commission form of government. Thus we have two commission forms of government or two classes and the question is what becomes of the section of the constitution. It was decided that the Act of 1912 was not unconstitutional in the case of Jackson v. State, 102 M. 663, 59 So. 837. Our Supreme Court held in that case that the laws were general as to class, therefore, the act was constitutional. This at once multiplied the different forms of charters. Code of 1930, section 2639, relating to commission government, provides: "except as limited herein, the council shall have, exercise and perform all executive, legislative and judicial power, duties, and obligations exercised or performed by the mayor and board of aldermen or mayor and board of aldermen and councilmen, and all other officers, commissioners, trustees, boards or other body whatever acting for the city at the time of adoption by such city of the commission form of government.

CLASSIFICATION OF CHARTERS

The Code provided for three forms—private charters, code chapter, and commission government charter. There are several additional forms of charter. For example, under section 2639, Jackson retains its code charter powers where not inconsistent with the commission government. Meridian has the same relation with its private charter. Both are classified as commission government but by this we are given two forms of government. Vicksburg adopted the commission form of electing all officers from the city at large and making each one head of a separate department of the municipality thus giving three new forms of government, making a total of six, but it retains its private charter. The laws of 1908 also provides that they shall retain all their powers under the aldermanic system.

Gulfport operating under laws of 1908, commission form of government, with its code chapter is a type of another classification. It is not to be understood that the naming of the municipal corporation by a code is challenged or disregarded, but we do have distinctions. Jackson, Meridian, and Gulfport certainly have different forms of charters though classified as commission form; so it will be seen that in Mississippi with the powers and authority conferred, we have the following with different laws: Code Chapter, Private Charter, and Commission Government. Jackson, commission government of 1912 and code chapter. Meridian, commission government of 1912 and private charter. Gulfport, commission government of 1908 and code chapter. Vicksburg has private charter and election of three commissioners at large and made heads of departments. Thus it gives seven types of municipalities differing as to the contents of their charter.

REVISION OF CHAPTER ON MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS

That a revision or re-arrangement of code chapters is desirable can be seen from the foregoing. Other instances: Code of 1930, section 2409, provides: "an indebtedness shall not be incurred nor warrant be drawn on the treasury to pay any indebtedness to exceed the amount of funds on hand in the treasury at the time except as authorized in the issuance of bonds." Section 5679 reads: "no warrants shall be issued on indebtedness incurred by any county or municipality unless there is sufficient money in the particular fund from which the allowance is made to pay such warrant or indebtedness." This may be a quibble, however, it leaves it open for the municipal authorities under section 2409 to issue warrants as long as there is money in the treasury while the other restricts them as to the amount in the fund. Both passed and were incorporated in the code at the same time. Section 2592, which relates to finance statements, should be published and provides, among other things: "in case of an increase of indebtedness not so authorized the mayor and aldermen shall not succeed themselves or each other." As the constitution provides that qualified electors and no others may hold office. This part of that section has been held void under McCool v. State, 149 M. 82, 115 So. 121. Section 2616 provides that municipal authorities shall not be interested in municipal contract and is made to apply to cities of over 4000 where sales and purchases are made. This section of the Code Chapter provision applies to all cities, towns, or villages. Cities, however, must be created only after they have 2,000 inhabitants. The Supreme Court, in the case of Noxubee County Hardware Co. v. City of Macon, 43 So. 304, asks whether the application of the cities and towns is constitutional. Since the town is under 2,000, however, and the act did then only apply to cities of 4,000, might be construed as another class of municipality. The Supreme Court takes no stand on this.

CONCLUSION

As stated in the beginning, this is simply in the nature of information to the public and as a guide to students taking the course on municipalities in the Law School of the University and to give the status of the charter governing the various municipalities. This survey includes ninety-two municipal corporations with a population of more than 1,000 according to the census of 1930 and all county sites regardless of population.

I am greatly indebted to the office of Secretary of State for valuable information. That office has made a very valuable collection of the dates of all charters with all amendments. This required a great deal of time and patience without any funds to pay for it. It would be well if this information was published.

The only purpose of this article is to give the present status of the laws relating to municipal corporations and to classify the municipalities according to charter. As to the advisability of amendments or changes in charters, no opinion is expressed. But this will also be usable by the municipalities in determining what are their powers and whether they should be amended by enlargements or restrictions of the powers.

MUNICIPALITIES

For the first time we herewith publish a list of the incorporated villages, towns and cities in Mississippi, giving the county in which located, the date of the last incorporation, (Not always the original incorporation), and where incorporation can be found recorded, and the classification of each municipality as to incorporation. There appears to be much confusion among the various municipalities as to the law under which they operate, especially as to the time of holding municipal elections. From the charter classification given in the accompanying tables it will be seen that very few municipalities in Mississippi operate under private charter or commission government. Practically all municipalities, regardless of their last charter date, are governed and operate under the Code Chapter on Municipalities, passed in 1890, and amendments to date, unless the record shows they voted not to come under the provisions of the Code Chapter. Where the word "Code" appears opposite a municipality it means the municipality is operating and governed by the provisions of the Code Chapter on Municipalities and amendments thereto, and not by the provisions of any charter existing prior to the passage of the Code Chapter on Municipalities. Of course, all municipalities chartered since the passage of the Code Chapter on Municipalities in 1890 automatically are Code Chapter municipalities and operate under the provisions thereof.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF MISSISSIPPI,
SUBMITTED IN THE GENERAL ELECTION, NOVEMBER 5, 1940

House Concurrent Resolution No. 29

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION to amend section 211 of the constitution of the state of Mississippi so as to provide that land granted in lieu of sixteenth section lands may be sold.

Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Mississippi, two-thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives agreeing thereto, That the following amendment to the constitution of the state of Mississippi be submitted to the qualified electors of the state for ratification or rejection at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1940, to-wit:

Amend section 211 of the constitution of the state of Mississippi so that it shall read as follows:

Section 211. The legislature shall enact such laws as may be necessary to ascertain the true condition of the title to the sixteenth section lands in this state, or lands granted in lieu thereof, in the Choctaw purchase and shall provide that the sixteenth section lands reserved for the support of township schools shall not be sold, nor shall they be leased for a longer term than ten years for a gross sum; but the legislature may provide for the lease of any of said lands for a term not exceeding twenty-five years for a ground rental, payable annually; and, in case of uncleared lands, may lease them for such short term as may be deemed proper in consideration of the improvement thereof, with right thereafter to lease for a term or to hold on payment of ground rent. Provided, however, that land granted in lieu of sixteenth section lands in this state and situated outside of the county holding or owning same, may be sold and the proceeds from such sale may be invested in a manner to be prescribed by the legislature.

Total Vote of State

For the Amendment.....	117,519
Against the Amendment.....	14,196

Amendment Carried, and will be inserted in the Mississippi Constitution by the Legislature at its Regular 1942 Session.

The American's Creed

Written by William Tyler Page, Clerk of the U. S. House of Representatives, in 1917, and adopted by the House of Representatives on behalf of the American People, April 3, 1918.

“I believe in the United States of America as a Government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign Nation of many sovereign States; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

“I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its Constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag; and to defend it against all enemies.”

HISTORY OF U. S. FLAGS

From the Lincoln Library

The origin of the devise of stars and stripes in the flag of the United States has occasioned much discussion. Several theories have been advanced to account for the alternating red and white stripes. Some writers have derived these from the Dutch flag, which had flown over New Netherlands from 1609 to 1664. Others point out that the so-called Union or Grand Union flag, raised at Cambridge, Mass., by General Washington, January 2, 1776, was in all particulars the flag of the British East India Company. It is said that at a dinner in Philadelphia, December 13, 1775, Benjamin Franklin suggested the use of the greatest design of this flag, which had thirteen alternating red and white stripes, with a union in which appeared the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew on a blue field. The thirteen stripes symbolized the union of the colonies, while the union jack represented their allegiance to Great Britain.

Throughout the Revolution many different Colonial and regimental flags were used, in which red and white stripes, stars, and the blue field appear in various combinations. Contemporary prints show the stripes but no stars until the year 1780. It appears, therefore, that the elements which entered into the final design of the national flag were already in common use in the colonies.

The Stars and Stripes. After the Declaration of Independence, the design of the Grand Union flag was inappropriate. The design of stars and stripes, known as the Betsy Ross flag, was therefore presented to the Congress for consideration. On June 14, 1777, the Continental Congress passed the following resolution: "Resolved, that the flag of the United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white, that the union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation." But this resolution seems to have been generally disregarded for a long time. A communication from General Washington to the war board in May, 1779, contained the statement that "It is not yet settled what is the standard of the United States."

The claim is well established, however, that a flag of this design of stars and stripes, made of pieces of clothing, was hoisted at Fort Stanwix, called Fort Schuyler at the time, near the present city of Rome, N. Y., in August, 1777. The design persisted, both stripes and stars being regarded apparently as representing the thirteen states of the Union.

On January 15, 1794, Congress, in order to adopt the flag to the new number of states, fifteen after the admission of Vermont and Kentucky, enacted "that, from and after May 1, 1795, the flag of the United States be fifteen stripes, alternate red and white and the union be fifteen stars, white in a blue field." In 1818 the number of stripes was reduced to the original number, and Congress ordered that the number of stars should correspond to the number of states, a star to be added on the 4th of July next following the admission of a new state.

Various arrangements of the stars were used until 1896, when Secretary of War Daniel Lamont ordered that they should be placed in six rows. An executive order of President Taft, in 1912, fixed the arrangement of stars as six rows of eight stars each, the stars symbolizing the states in the order of their ratification of the Constitution and their admission to the Union, as follows: Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Georgia, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maryland, South Carolina, New Hampshire, Virginia, New York, North Carolina, Rhode Island, Vermont, Kentucky, Tennessee, Ohio, Louisiana, Indiana, Mississippi, Illinois, Alabama, Maine, Missouri, Arkansas, Michigan, Florida, Texas, Iowa, Wisconsin, California, Minnesota, Oregon, Kansas, West Virginia, Nevada, Nebraska, Colorado, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Washington, Idaho, Wyoming, Utah, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona.

The inspiring name of Old Glory was given to the American flag by Captain William Driver of Salem, Mass., in 1831. The words were his salute to a beautiful new flag presented to his ship when starting on a voyage around the world.

The symbolic meanings of the colors in the flag are suggested in a "remark" which Will Barton, the designer of the seal of the Confederation, attached to the description of his design in 1782: "White signifies purity, innocence; red, hardiness and valor. Blue is the ground of the American uniform, and this color signifies vigilance, perseverance, and justice."

Instruction in the symbolic and historical meanings of the national banner has come to be recognized as part of the work of every American school. The first recorded raising of the flag over a school, now so general a custom, took place on Catamount Hill, Colrain, Mass., in May, 1812. A suitable monument marks the site of the old log schoolhouse. June 14, the anniversary of the Congressional adoption of the Stars and Stripes, is widely observed as Flag Day. In many schools, the following pledge of allegiance, given by teachers and pupils, is a part of the daily program, as well as a part of the Flag Day exercises:

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the republic for which it stands; one nation, indivisible,
with liberty and justice for all."

THE NATIONAL FLAG

The pledge to the Flag;

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States
And to the Republic for which it stands,
One Nation, indivisible,
With liberty and justice for all."

The official flag of the United States bears forty-eight white stars in a blue field, arranged in six rows of eight stars each. Two stars were added in 1912 by the admission of Arizona and New Mexico to the Union. The garrison flag of the army is made of bunting, thirty-six feet fly and twenty feet hoist, thirteen stripes, and in the upper quarter, next to the staff, is the field of "union" or stars, equal to the number of states, on blue field, over one-third length of flag, extending to the lower edge of the fourth red stripe from the top. The storm flag is twenty feet by ten feet, and the recruiting flag nine feet nine inches by four feet four inches. The "American Jack" is the "union" or blue field of the flag. The revenue marine service flag, authorized by act of congress, March 2, 1799, was originally prescribed to "consist of sixteen perpendicular stripes, alternate red and white, the union of the ensign bearing the arms of the United States in dark blue on a white field." The sixteen stripes represented the number of states which had been admitted to the Union at that time and no change has been made since. June 4, the anniversary of the adoption of the flag, is celebrated as flag day in a large part of the Union.

When and How to Use the Flag

The following code of etiquette for the use of the National flag was adopted by the National Americanism Commission of the American Legion, June 14, 1923.

1. The flag should be displayed only from sunrise to sunset, or between such hours as may be designated by proper authority. It should be displayed on National and State holidays and on historic and special occasions. The flag should always be hoisted briskly and lowered slowly and ceremoniously.

2. When carried in a procession with another flag or flags, the flag of the United States should be either on the marching right, i. e., the flag's own right, or when there is a line of other flags the flag of the United States may be in front of the center of that line.

3. When displayed with another flag against a wall from crossed staffs, the flag of the United States should be on the right, the flag's own right, and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag.

4. When a number of flags are grouped and displayed from staffs, the flag of the United States should be in the center or at the highest point of the group.

5. When flags of states or cities or pennants of societies are flown on the same halyard with the flag of the United States, the national flag should always be at the peak. When flown from adjacent staffs the flag of the United States should be hoisted first. No flag or pennant should be placed above or to the right of the flag of the United States.

6. When flags of two or more nations are displayed they should be flown from separate staffs of the same height and the flags should be approximately equal size. (International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above that of another nation in time of peace.)

7. When the flag is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from the window sill, balcony, or front of building the union of the flag should go clear to the head of the staff unless the flag is at half mast.

8. When the flag of the United States is displayed in a manner other than by being flown from a staff it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or out. When displayed either horizontally or vertically against the wall, the union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right, i. e., to the observer's left. When displayed in a window it should be displayed the same way, that is, with the union or blue field to the left of the observer in the street. When festoons, rosettes or drapings of blue, white and red are desired, bunting should be used, but never the flag.

9. When displayed over the middle of the street, as between buildings, the flag of the United States should be suspended vertically, with the union to the north in an east-and-west street or to the east in a north-and-south street.

10. When used on a speaker's platform, the flag should be displayed above and behind the speaker. It should never be used to cover the speaker's desk nor to drape over the front of the platform. If flown from a staff it should be on the speaker's right.

11. When used in unveiling a statute or monument, the flag should not be allowed to fall to the ground but should be carried aloft to wave out, to form a distinctive feature during the remainder of the ceremony.

12. When flown at half mast, the flag is first hoisted to the peak and then lowered to the half mast position, but before lowering the flag for the day it is raised again to the peak. On Memorial Day, May 30, the flag is displayed at half mast from sunrise until noon and at full mast from noon until sunset, for the nation lives and the flag is the symbol of the living nation.

13. When used to cover a casket the flag should be placed so that the union is at the head and over the left shoulder. The flag should not be lowered into the grave nor allowed to touch the ground. The casket should be carried foot first.

14. When the flag is displayed in church it should be from a staff placed on the congregation's right as they face the clergyman. The service flag, the state flag, or other flag should be at left of the congregation. If in the chancel, the flag of the United States should be placed on the clergyman's right as he faces the congregation and other flags on his left.

15. When the flag is in such a condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display it should not be cast aside or used in any way that might be viewed as disrespectful to the national colors, but should be destroyed as a whole privately, preferably by burning or by some other method in harmony with the reverence and respect we owe to the emblem representing our country.

The flag should be flown on the following days: Lincoln's birthday, February 12; Washington's birthday, February 22; Mother's Day, second Sunday in May; Memorial day, May 30; Flag day, June 14; Independence day, July 4; also many local patriotic anniversaries.

Proper Use of Bunting

Bunting of the national colors should be used for covering a speaker's desk, draping over the front of a platform and for decorating in general. Bunting should be arranged with the blue above, the white in the middle and the red below.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

The Capitol at Washington

The capitol is situated in latitude 38° 53' 20.4" north and longitude 77° 00' 35.7" west from Greenwich. It fronts east and stands on a plateau 88 feet above the level of the Potomac, and one and one-fourth miles from the White House. The entire length of the building from north to south is 751 feet 4 inches, and its greatest width from east to west is 350 feet. The entire area covered by the building is 153,112 square feet. The senate wing of the old capitol was built first, then the house, and the two were connected by a wooden passage way. The dome of the original central building was constructed of wood, covered with copper. This was replaced in 1856 by the present remarkable structure of cast iron. It took nine years to build it. The weight of the iron used is 8,909,200 pounds. Crawford's magnificent bronze statue of Freedom, which surmounts the dome, is 19 feet 6 inches in height and weighs 14,985 pounds. The height of the dome above the baseline of the east front is 287 feet 5 inches. The height from the top of the balustrade of the building is 217 feet 11 inches. The greatest diameter at the base is 135 feet 5 inches. The rotunda is 97 feet 6 inches in diameter, and its height from the floor to the top of the canopy is 180 feet 3 inches. The southeast cornerstone of the original building was laid September 18, 1793, by President Washington, with Masonic ceremonies. The north wing was finished in 1800 and the government came from Philadelphia and took possession in October of that year. The interior of both wings was destroyed by fire August 24, 1914. The foundation of the center was laid March 24, 1918. The cornerstone of the extension was laid July 4, 1851, by President Fillmore. The two wings now occupied by the senate and house were added to the capitol to accommodate the senate and house of representatives. The senate chamber is 113 feet 3 inches in length, by 80 feet 3 inches in width, and 36 feet in height. The galleries will accommodate 1,000 persons. The hall of representatives is 139 feet in length by 93 in width, and 36 feet in height. When the house is in session the Stars and Stripes is flung to the breeze over the south wing, and when the senate is sitting the flag flies over the north wing. At night, if congress is sitting, there is a light in the dome. The value of the capitol and grounds is about $53,000,000.

Title and Term of the President

The address of the president is simply "the President of the United States." In the first congress there was a debate over the title and it was proposed by some members that he be addressed as "His Excellency" and by others as "His Highness," but a committee reported that "it is not proper to annex any style or title other than that expressed in the constitution." In the constitutional convention the first report fixed the term of office at seven years without eligibility to reelection. In debate various periods from "during good behavior" to twenty years were favored. The limit to four years was finally adopted in grand committee and ratified by the convention.

The Presidential Succession

The presidential succession is fixed by chapter 4 of the acts of the forty-ninth congress, first session. In case of removal, death, resignation, or inability of both the president and the vice-president, then the secretary of state shall act as president until the inability of the president or vice-president is removed or a president is elected. If there is no secretary of state, then the secretary of the treasury will act; and the remainder of the order of succession is as follows: The secretary of war, attorney general, postmaster general, secretary of the navy, and secretary of the interior. The acting president must, upon taking office, convene congress, if not at the time in session, in extraordinary session, giving 20 days' notice. This act applies only to such cabinet officers as shall have been confirmed by the senate and are eligible under the constitution to the presidency.

Salary of the President

The salary of the president of the United States was the cause of discussion in the first congress, in view of the fact that the constitution declared that the president should receive compensation for his services. Washington had notified his fellow citizens that he desired no salary. The limits suggested in congress ranged from $15,000 to $70,000. The salary was finally placed at $25,000, and this remained the compensation until President Grant's second term (March 3, 1873) when it was increased to $50,000. Chapter 2918 of the laws of the second session of the fifty-ninth congress approved March 4, 1907, appropriated "for traveling expenses of the president of the United States, to be expended at his discretion and accounted for by his certificate solely, $25,000." In the second session of the sixtieth congress the matter of increasing the president's salary was again considered, and it was decided that the president's salary be fixed at $75,000 a year.

Constitution and Government

The Declaration of Independence of the thirteen states of which the American Union then consisted was adopted by congress July 4, 1776. On November 30, 1782, Great Britain acknowledged the independence of the United States, and on September 3, 1783, the treaty of peace was concluded.

The form of government of the United States is based on the Constitution of September 17, 1787, to which ten amendments were added December 15, 1791; an eleventh amendment, January 8, 1798; a twelfth amendment, September 25, 1804; a thirteenth amendment, December 18, 1865 (slavery abolished); a fourteenth amendment, July 28, 1868; a fifteenth amendment, March 30, 1870 (equal rights for white and colored citizens); a sixteenth amendment, February 25, 1913 (income tax authorized); a seventeenth amendment, May 31, 1913; an eighteenth amendment, January 29, 1919 (liquor prohibition amendment); a nineteenth amendment, August 26, 1920 (woman suffrage); a twentieth amendment, February 6, 1933 (advancing the date of the President's and Vice-President's inauguration and abolishing the "lame-duck" session of Congress); and a twenty-first amendment, December 5, 1933 (repealing the eighteenth, or liquor prohibition amendment).

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

Oh say, can you see by the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there.
O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On the shore dimly seen through the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected now shines on the stream.
'Tis the star-spangled banner—O long may it wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

O thus be it e'er when freemen shall stand
Between their lov'd home and the war's desolation!
Blest with vict'ry and peace may the heav'n rescued land
Praise the Pow'r that hath made and preserved us a nation!
Then conquer we must when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto—"In God is our trust."
And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

—Francis Scott Key.

By the Constitution, the government of the nation is composed of three co-ordinate branches, the Executive, the Legislative, and the Judicial. The executive power is vested in a President, who holds his office during the term of four years, and is elected, together with a Vice-President chosen for the same term, in the mode prescribed as follows:—"Each State shall appoint, in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors, equal to the whole number of senators and representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress: but no senator or representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States, shall be appointed an elector." In every State the electors, chosen by the various political parties and pledged to the party's candidates for President and Vice-President, are in turn chosen by direct vote of the citizens on a general ticket, on the system known in France as scrutin de liste. The Constitution provides that "the Congress may determine the time of choosing the electors, and the day on which they shall give their votes, which day shall be the same throughout the United States"; and further, that "no person except a natural-born citizen, or a citizen of the United States at the time of the adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the office of President; neither shall any person be eligible to that office who shall not have attained to the age of thirty-five years, and been fourteen years a resident within the United States."

The presidential election is held every fourth (leap) year on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November; the electors thus chosen meet and give their votes at their respective State capitols on the first Monday after the second Wednesday in December next following their election; and the votes of the electors of all the States are opened and counted in the presence of both Houses of Congress on the sixth day of January. The total electoral vote is 531 (1 each for 96 Senators and 435 Representatives) and a majority—266—is necessary to elect. If the successful candidate for President dies before taking office, the Vice-President-elect becomes President; if no candidate has a majority or if the successful candidate fails to qualify then, by the twentieth amendment, the Vice-President acts as President until a President qualifies. Congress now has large powers covering all contingencies such as those arising from the death or the failure to qualify of either President or Vice-President. The presidential term formerly began at noon on March 4, in the year following leap year, but the twentieth amendment to the Constitution ratified February 6, 1933, advances the date for the inauguration of the President from March 4 to January 20 of the inaugural year. This amendment also installs the newly elected Congress in office on January 3, instead of—as formerly—in the following December. The President's salary is 75,000 dollars per year, plus 25,000 dollars for traveling expenses and official entertainment. The Vice-President's salary is 15,000 dollars, plus a traveling allowance.

The President is commander-in-chief of the army and navy, and of the militia when in the service of the Union. The Vice-President is ex-officio President of the Senate; and in the case of death or resignation of the President, he becomes the President for the remainder of the term.

HENRY AGARD WALLACE, VICE PRESIDENT

(Elected Vice-President of the United States, November 5, 1940.)

Henry Agard Wallace, 52, of Des Moines, Iowa, elected Vice-President on Nov. 5, 1940, succeeding John Nance Gardner, was born Oct. 7, 1888, in Adair County, Iowa, son of Henry C. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture under Presidents Harding and Coolidge, and grandson of Henry Wallace, a farmer and Presbyterian minister. The last-named's father came from the north of Ireland late in the 18th century and settled in Pennsylvania. The new Vice-President and his father and grandfather owned a farm paper.

Graduating at the Iowa State College in 1910, he at once engaged in the experimental as well as practical elements of agriculture, and, in addition to his editorial duties, took up astronomy and sociology. He was called a mystic by some of the New Dealers when he became the Secretary of Agriculture under F. D. Roosevelt in 1933. Soon thereafter he wrote a book, "America Must Choose," in which he said: "Much as we dislike them, the new types of social control we now have in operation are here to stay, and to grow on a world of national scale. We shall have to go on doing all these things we do not want to do * * *"

In 1915 he was the first to devise a corn-hog ratio chart indicating the probable course of the market. "Agricultural Prices," a detailed study of factors causing fluctuation of prices, appeared in 1920.

Although he was sponsor of the two Agricultural Adjustment Acts, the first of which was killed by the U. S. Supreme Court, he was credited by his political intimates with being personally cool to compulsory crop control, but the farmers pushed it through Congress.

Mr. Wallace married, in 1914, Miss Ilo Browne. They have three children—Henry B., Robert B., and Miss Jean B. Wallace. The Vice-President is almost a six-footer, does not drink or smoke, has brown hair, ruddy face, blue eyes, and an ample voice. His vocabulary is stocked with Biblical quotations.

HOW THE PRESIDENT IS ELECTED

When you have made up your mind as to the man and party of your choice . . . your ballot is not cast directly for that candidate on Election Day. Instead you vote for a list of Presidential Electors, varying in number from three in Wyoming and others of the less-populated states to 47 in New York State. Each state has as many Presidential Electors as it is entitled to have Senators and Representatives in the National Congress . . . and as each state must have two Senators and at least one Representative in Congress this automatically establishes the minimum of Electors per state at three. Mississippi has nine.

On the first Monday after the second Wednesday in December following the election, the Presidential Electors meet in their respective states at such place as the State Legislature may designate, and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, "one of whom at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves." On the sixth day of January in Washington, the President of the Senate, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, opens the certificates forwarded by the several states and votes are then counted. The person having the greatest number of votes is proclaimed President, if his votes are a majority of the whole number of Electors.

If no candidate for President received a majority (266 votes), the House of Representatives immediately proceeds to choose a President from among the three with the greatest number of Electoral votes. In such an election, the vote is by states, each state entitled to one vote.

The election of the Vice-President is decided in the same manner, save that in case no candidate for that office receives a majority of the Electoral votes, the Senate chooses a Vice-President from the two candidates who received the highest number of Electoral votes. Each Senator is entitled to one vote in such an election.

The present President's term was automatically shortened by the adoption of the 20th Amendment to the Constitution. In accordance with this Amendment, Inauguration Day is moved forward to January 20th and the next President took oath of office on that day instead of March 4th.

Article II of the Constitution of the United States sets forth the qualifications of the President and certain regulations concerning his office as follows:

"No Person except a natural born Citizen, or a Citizen of the United States, at the time of the Adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the Office of President; neither shall any person be eligible to that Office who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty-five Years, and been fourteen Years a Resident within the United States.

"In Case of the Removal of the President from Office, or of his Death, Resignation, or Inability to discharge the Powers and Duties of the said Office, the same shall devolve on the Vice-President, and the Congress may by Law provide for the Case of Removal, Death, Resignation or Inability, both of the President and Vice-President, declaring what Officer shall then act as President, such Officer shall act accordingly, until the Disability be removed, or a President shall be elected.

"The President shall, at stated Times, receive for his services a Compensation, which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the Period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that Period any other Emolument from the United States, or any of them.

"Before he enter on the Execution of his Office he shall take the following Oath or Affirmation:—'I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the Office of President of the United States, and will to the best of my Ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States'."

HISTORY OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY

The germ of the Democratic Party originated in the Anti-Federalists who opposed the adoption of a Federal Constitution. A moderate party, led by Jefferson and Madison, recognized the need for a stronger central government than the Articles of Confederation afforded but viewed with alarm the centralization tendency manifested by Hamilton and the Federalist Party. To this moderate party was given the name of Republican about 1792.

During the French revolution, extreme sympathizers with the new French Republic formed so-called "democratic clubs." These clubs advocated equalitarianism and extreme liberty for the individual. Though not in complete accord with the Republicans, adherents of these views were forced to act in harmony with them in opposition to Federalist measures and were eventually absorbed by the Republicans which came to be known as the Democratic-Republican Party or simply as the Democratic Party.

In 1798, the fundamental Democratic principles were clearly formulated by Jefferson and Madison in the Kentucky and Virginia Resolutions. The state governments were declared to be the basis of our system and the Federal government had only those powers which were conferred upon it by the Constitution.

The Democratic Party has always advocated the widest extension of suffrage and the highest degree of popular control of the government. It has always been traditionally opposed to a protective tariff and extensive military and naval establishments. In its early days, the Party was opposed to the establishment of the National bank, to internal improvements and to indirect taxation.

In 1896 and again in 1900, political exigencies induced the party to embrace the advocacy of the free coinage of silver. In spite of these discrepancies in party policy, however, there has always been a tendency to return to fundamental party principles after a brief trial of newer issues.

OUR PRESIDENTS

First there was WASHINGTON, stately and tall,
Maker of history, Father of all,
Who, after two terms, first, '89,
And then, '93, stepped out of the line.

Then came JOHN ADAMS whose term was but one.
With the century's death, died the great Washington;
With the new century's birth, from Franklin's town
They moved the seat of the nation down.

Two things stand out until eighteen-0-9,
Eight years when JEFFERSON filled out the line,
The purchase of Louisiana from France
And the cruel death of Hamilton, man of finance.

JAMES MADISON next, and Virginia's third,
During whose two terms America heard
The war-cry of Indians at Tippecanoe
And the guns of the British in eighteen-1-2.

JAME MONROE witnessed the Seminole War
And to five new states flung open the door;
The century's quarter then saw him step down,
But his "Doctrine" lives on with increasing renown.

Then, during JOHN QUINCY ADAMS' four years,
On July the Fourth, '26, there were tears
By the "Bay State" and "Old Dominion" shed
For Adams and Jefferson, their famous dead.

When "Old Hickory" JACKSON from Tennessee
Was shaping for two terms our destiny,
There were famous debates of Webster and Hayne;
And the Seminoles went on the war-path again.

The next President brought the number to eight,
MARTIN VAN BUREN from the "Empire" State.
From the year '37 he labored with zest
For four years to calm the financial unrest.

Then two native Virginians came.
WM. H. HARRISON of Indian fame
Who, after a month's brief service died;
With the rest of his term by TYLER supplied.

JAMES K. POLK added four years more,
While Taylor and Scott in the Mexican War
Were gaining fame and winning wide lands
In guerilla fights on the border sands.

Of four years ZACH TAYLOR had served only one,
 And died when the century's half was done.
 When FILLMORE was in, death saddened the day
 In the loss of two orators, Webster and Clay.

It was FRANKLIN PEARCE from the "Granite" State
 A friend of Hawthorne and college mate,
 Who witnessed the Free State clouds arise,
 And dim for a term the Kansas skies.

Momentous four years, BUCHANAN'S each one:
 The Dred Scott decision, small outbreaks begun,
 The hanging of John Brown after his raid
 And plans for the Southern Confederacy laid.

Came the great LINCOLN in March, '61
 And on April the twelfth, Sumpter fired upon;
 Then four bloody years till the downfall of Lee
 And the end of the gallant Confederacy.

Following "Honest Abe's" death there came
 ANDREW JOHNSON of veto fame,
 Who though impeached, was acquitted by one
 And served till the last term of Lincoln was done.

Like Washington, Jackson and Taylor before
 GRANT had gained prestige out of a war;
 Throughout two terms he was calm and discreet
 Though he much mourned the news of Custer's defeat.

His election disputed at first, R. B. HAYES.
 After winning the argument, soon won the praise
 Of the country at large for his wise, moderate views
 And his sympathy offset by strength to refuse.

When GARFIELD, the "Martyr President," died
 It fell to the hands of ARTHUR to guide
 Till the year '85 the Ship of State
 Through happenings neither grave nor great.

There has been in the White House only one
 Who, serving two terms, when the first was done
 Dropped out of the presidential line,
 As CLEVELAND did in the year eighty-nine.

With HARRISON'S coming came six States more,
 When Oklahoma opened its door:
 The "Mountain," "Coyote," "Evergreen," "Sioux,"
 Idaho and Wyoming, too.

Of clear assertion and action strong,
GROVER CLEVELAND came along
For his second term in ninety-three,
Still gaining in popularity.

Opposition in Cuba and sinking the Maine
Forced McKINLEY to our War with Spain.
Which ceded to us when the war was through,
Porto Rico, Guam, and the Philippines, too.

A soldier and family man of the best,
Who at Panama coupled the East and the West,
ROOSEVELT, taking the reins in 0-1,
Served a term beside that by McKinley begun.

Having ably held the portfolio of War,
TAFT then entered the White House door;
A quiet sea for the Ship of State,
Save Peary's dash and the Titanic's fate.

The Lusitania with its loss of life,
The great World War and his earnest strife
For the League of Nations are one with name of WOODROW WILSON and his war-time fame.

HARDING, on August the fourth passed away,
Serving but twenty-nine months to a day.
And millions there were who could not refrain
From tears as they witnessed his home-coming train.

Then CALVIN COOLIDGE from Green Mountain State,
By his vetoes, alone, proved his wisdom was great;
Calm in excitement,—not swayed by the mass,
His silence will speak as the centuries pass.

Hail! HERBERT HOOVER, the keen engineer,
Who in famine abroad and floods that were near,
Had shown an ability right in the line
With the task he assumed in March, '29.

CHARLES F. BENEDICT.

And now, to FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT belongs the fame
Of ending the depression in Democracy's name;
Restoration of business and a re-employment pact,
Were among the first provisions of his Recovery Act.

—M. W. S.

Reelected for U. S. President three times,
His world prestige still brilliantly shines.
Dimmed not by the awful horrors of war,
Being waged today both near and far.

—L. T.

ORIGIN OF THE NAMES OF THE STATES AND TERRITORIES

- Alabama—Alibama was the Indian name of a tribe in Southern Alabama—a Mushhogeian tribe of the Creek Confederacy. Alibamu is from the Choctaw words alba aya mule, meaning "I open or clear the thicket."
- Alaska—From "Al-ay-es-ka" a native Eskimo or InnuIt word, meaning Great Country.
- Arizona—From "Arizonac" ("Ari" small and "Zonac" spring) so-called by the Papago and Pima Indians, says State Historian Geo. H. Kelly (1927); and adds: "This state was called Arizona by the Spaniards as early as 1736." A simpler derivation is that given by Prof. John C. Van Dyke in "The Desert," page 208—clipped from "Arida-Zona," meaning the "dry belt."
- Arkansas—(Official pronunciation is ar-kan-saw). Algonkin name of the Quapaw Indians.
- California—Bestowed by the Spanish Conquistadores, being the name of an imaginary island, very near an earthly paradise, in "Las Serges de Esplandian," a romance of chivalry written in the first decade of the 16th century.
- Colorado—Spanish, meaning red.
- Columbia, District of—A poetical adoption of the name of Columbus; applied to the territory in 1791 by the Federal Commissioners who laid it out.
- Connecticut—Indian, "Quonectacut," Long River or River of Pines.
- Delaware—Named after Lord De la Warr, of England, Governor of Virginia, who entered the Bay in 1610.
- Florida—Spanish words, "Pascua Florida," Feast of Flowers (Easter Sunday), on which day it is said to have been named, in 1513, by Juan Ponce de Leon.
- Georgia—Named after King George II, of England.
- Hawaii—English spelling of Owhyhee, where Capt. Cook was killed by the natives in 1779.
- Idaho—Indian words, "Edah hoe." Light on the Mountains.
- Illinois—Indian word, by some translated "The River of Men." A form of the word Iliniwek. "Ilini" meant "man," "iw" meant "is," and "ek" was a plural signification.
- Indiana—Named after Indians, State of Indians.
- Iowa—The Ioways, or Alaouez, or Alaouas were a Sioux tribe. The word means "sleepy ones." They called themselves "Pahoja," gray snow.
- Kansas—Name of a tribe of the Sioux, the "People of the South Wind."

- Kentucky—From Wyandot (Iroquoian) name "Ken-tah-ten," meaning to-morrow, or Land of To-morrow.
- Louisiana—Named by the Mississippi River navigator Robert de la Salle, in 1682, after King Louis XIV. of France.
- Maine—From Maine, an ancient province of France, south of Normandy, owned by Queen Henrietta Maria of England, wife of King Charles I.
- Maryland—Named in honor of the foregoing, Queen Henrietta Maria.
- Massachusetts—An Algonquin Indian name from Massadchu-es-et, meaning "great-hill-small-place," indicating a place at or about the big little hills.
- Michigan—The Mishigamaw or Mishawiguma were Indians. The word means "big lake" and was applied to Lake Michigan. "Michi" meant "great," and "gama" meant "water."
- Minnesota—2 Sioux words—"sky-colored water."
- Mississippi—Indian words "Sipu," Algonquin word for river; "Maesi," fish—Fish-River.
- Missouri—The Missouri were Sioux of that name.
- Montana—Spanish for mountains; used now by Peruvians as a name for their Andean districts.
- Nebraska—An Omaha Indian name for the "wide river," Platte.
- Nevada—A Spanish word, meaning "snow clad."
- New Hampshire—Named, in 1629, after the County of New Hampshire, England, by the patentee, Capt. John Mason of the Plymouth Council.
- New Jersey—In 1664 the Duke of York, of England, granted to Lord John Berkeley and Sir George Carteret a patent or deed to the present boundaries to be called Nova Caesaria, or New Jersey. Caesarea, or Caesaria, was the ancient name of the Island of Jersey of which Carteret had been administrator.
- New Mexico—Mexico is a word derived from the Aztec word "mexitli," title of their national war god.
- New York—So called in honor of the Duke of York (1664), who got the patent from his brother, King Charles II. of England, and sent an expedition and took possession of New Netherlands.
- North Carolina—The patent granted by King Charles I. of England on Oct. 30, 1629, to Sir. Robert Heath, his Attorney-General, of the territory between the 31st and 36th parallels of north latitude from the Atlantic Ocean to the South Seas, decreed its name to be "Carolana or Province of Carolana" from the Latin version "Carolus" of his own name. Under the name of Carolina this territory was under a new patent dated March 24, 1662-3, granted by King Charles II. of England, to the Earl of Clarendon, the Duke of Albermarle, Lord Craven, Lord Berkeley, Lord Ashley, Sir. George Carteret, Sir William Berkley, and Sir John Colleton.

North Dakota—"Dakota" means "alliance of friends, and is a Sioux Indian word. "Koda" in Santee dialect and "Kola" in Teton dialect are the root words.

Ohio—Iroquois name, denoting great.

Oklahoma—Choctaw word for "red people."

Oregon—The Oregon State Librarian, Cornelia Marvin, says various origins of the name, have been suggested as follows: Origanum, a wild sage found on the coast; Orejon, or Oregones, a Spanish name for big-eared (Indian) men; Orgon, a river in Chinese Tartary; Oyer-un-gen, Shoshone Indian word for "place of plenty"; Aura agua, Spanish word meaning gently falling waters; Ouragan, a French word for hurricane; Wau-re-gan, an Algonquin word for "beautiful water."

Pennsylvania—Was named in honor of Admiral William Penn, the father of William Penn, the founder of the province, William Penn, the Friend, received a charter in 1681 from Charles II. of Great Britain for land in America that was given the name of "Pennsylvania" (Pen's Woods) by the King. The name "Pensilvania" was used for many years by William Penn and his sons, Thomas and Richard, to designate the province. The grant was made in settlement of a debt of 16,000 pounds which King Charles and the British Government owed Admiral Penn. The charter was granted March 4, 1681, and by an act of the General Assembly of 1927, that day is officially set apart as Pennsylvania Day in the Commonwealth.

Philippines—Spanish, "Isles Filipinas," discovered in 1521 by Magellan, whom the natives killed in a skirmish; named in honor of King Philip II, of Spain by a colonizing expedition from Mexico.

Puerto Rico—From the Spanish "Puerto Rico," Rich Port.

Rhode Island—"Isles of Rhodes" was the name, chosen by the General Court of the colony, in 1644. The name of one of the islands had ben Aquedneck. The name of Providence Plantations then gradually lapsed.

South Carolina—(See North Carolina).

South Dakota—(See North Dakota).

Tennessee—Called, from 1784 to 1788, the State of Franklin, or Frankland. "Tennese" was the Indian name for the chief town of the Cherokees, which was on the Little Tennessee River.

Texas—According to Elizabeth H. West, State Librarian at Austin, "Texas is an Indian word meaning Friends of Allies. So far as I know, it has not an Aztec origin. It applied, originally, in the Indian usage to the Indian tribes about the early Spanish missions around Eastern."

Utah—Named after the Utes, an Indian tribe.

Vermont—From Verd and Mont, two French words meaning Green Mountains. The name is said to have been bestowed by Samuel de Champlain.

Virginia—Named in honor of Elizabeth, daughter of Henry VIII., sometimes called by the courtiers the "Virgin Queen" of England. The name was bestowed by one of the courtiers, Sir. Walter Raleigh, who fitted out the expedition of discovery in 1584.

Washington—Named after George Washington. When the bill creating the Territory of Columbia was introduced in the 32nd Congress, second session, the name was changed in the bill to Washington because of the District of Columbia.

West Virginia—(See Virginia).

Wisconsin—An Indian name which, according to Reuben Gold Thwaites, was originally spelled "Ouisconsin" by the French missionaries and in old French-American documents; also was spelled "Misconsing," "Ouisconching," "Ouisconsing." The Yankee settlers spelled it "Wiskonsan," then "Wiskonsin," but Congress changed it to "Wisconsin."

Wyoming—The word was taken from Wyoming Valley, Pennsylvania, rendered famous from Campbell's poem, "Gertrude of Wyoming." The word means "mountains and valleys alternating."

THE STATUE OF LIBERTY

The Statue of Liberty on Bedloe's Island, New York Harbor, was first proposed, soon after the Franco-German War, by a group of prominent Frenchmen, who commissioned one of their number, Frederic August Bartholdi, sculptor (born 1833, died 1904), to do the work. The U. S. Congress, Feb. 22, 1877, authorized President Hayes to set apart a site on the island, which Bartholdi, on a visit, had suggested. A committee was formed in 1874, to raise funds. In France, 180 cities, 40 general councils, many societies, and thousands of people contributed. In the United States, by the aid of The World, $300,000 was raised for the pedestal. The Statute cost about $700,000, making the total about $1,000,000.

The head of the Statue was completed for the Paris Exposition, in 1878; the forearm had been sent to America and shown at the Centennial Exposition, Philadelphia, in 1876. Thence it was transferred to Madison Square, New York City, where it remained until 1886. On Oct. 24, 1881, the anniversary of the Battle of Yorktown, all the pieces of the framework and base were put in place at Paris, Levi P. Morton, the American Ambassador, driving the first rivet. The Statue was finished in 1883; on July 4, 1884, M. De Lesseps, President of the French Committee, officially presented the Statue to Ambassador Morton; on Aug. 5, 1884, the cornerstone of the pedestal was laid on Bedloe's Island; late in June, 1885, the French vessel Isere, from Rouen, France, landed the Statue at New York in 210 packing cases; the work of putting the parts together was begun in May, 1886, and the Statue was unveiled on Oct. 28, 1886.
