INTRODUCTORY NOTE

THIS is the sixth supplement to the Accountants' Index. Each supplement is complete in itself as to the years it covers and it is not necessary to own all the earlier volumes in order to make use of the latest one.

It indexes practically all books, articles, pamphlets, and government publications relating to accounting which have appeared in the period from January 1, 1940, to December 31, 1943, inclusive.

To find an item on any subject the reader should look for the subject or the author as in an encyclopaedia. Names of authors, subjects and titles are arranged in a single alphabet with information as to publisher, place of publication, date, and number of pages. The addresses of publishers and periodicals will be found in the directory at the end of the volume.

This supplement will be of particular value to practitioners, business organizations and students who have to deal with complex problems of accounting, cost accounting, auditing and taxes under wartime conditions.

Members and associates of the American Institute of Accountants may borrow books, pamphlets and magazine articles. A non-member also may do so if he presents a written request from a member or an associate.
