Report of Secretary of State

Jackson, Miss., November 15, 1915.

To the Legislature of Mississippi:

I have the honor to submit herewith, for your consideration, my report as Secretary of State, covering the period from July 1, 1913, to June 30, 1915, inclusive, with supplemental data of later date, compiled from the election returns.

This report will be found to contain the usual amount of official statistical matter of interest to the general public, taken from the records of my office. It contains a complete roster of all state, county and beat officers who go into office January, 1916, the various boards and bodies connected with the educational and charitable institutions and other public work; the municipal officers reported under the Code chapter; the judges, chancellors, district and county prosecutors, election commissioners, notaries public, etc. It contains also tables of the primary elections held in August, 1915, and the general election of November, 1914 and 1915, the latter compiled from the duplicate returns furnished me by the county election boards. A complete list of all charters and charter amendments granted since my last report is included as heretofore.

I wish to call attention to, and to emphasize the urgent necessity for making immediate provision to relieve the congested conditions in the Capitol building. Under present conditions, there is not sufficient room in the building to accommodate all of the departments of the State government.

For some years the State Board of Health has been compelled to rent quarters out in the city for its offices and laboratory, and is paying a considerable sum per month, which might be saved to the State.

The State Banking Department, created by the last legislature, has no office room of its own in the Capitol, and has been temporarily quartered in the office of Secretary of the Senate. It is rapidly accumulating records of the greatest importance, and should be adequately provided for.

The State Geological Department has no office provided in the building, and has been compelled to occupy committee rooms on the fourth floor.

The State Factory Inspector has no office and has been quartered in one of the committee rooms on the third floor.

The Railroad Commission and the Adjutant General are occupying rooms belonging to legislative committees.

The Lieutenant-Governor gave up his offices to accommodate the pressing needs of the Attorney General's Department.

As soon as the constitutional amendments providing for three new supreme court judges are inserted into the constitution they will be appointed and there is no room in the building to care for them. The rooms the present judges are occupying are too small to accommodate three additional judges.

In the matter of storage room, we are even more handicapped. The yearly growth of business and accumulation of records makes it imperative to have additional storage room. There is scarcely a department that is adequately supplied with storage facilities. The basement floor is already so congested and overcrowded that we have been compelled to cut off space in the corridors and in the entrance way on the north side, to make store rooms. In addition, the rotunda space and often the main corridors, are choked and blocked with supplies for the agricultural department in an unsightly and most uncomfortable manner, for want of other space in which to store them.

I make no suggestions as to how this matter can be remedied, several suggestions have been offered, some good and some bad. I think the legislature should appoint a competent committee to take the matter up and go into it from all angles, calling for suggestions from heads of departments and from architects. I see no way to obtain permanent relief and proper quarters for some of the departments, unless more space is provided than is now available inside the capitol building.

Another matter, which may not be conceded to be strictly within the provisions of my department, has, nevertheless, been forced upon my official attention in such way that I feel it my duty to refer to it. I have received, during the past two years, numerous applications, both from within and without the State, for charters for companies to engage in live stock raising, horticultural industries, planting of pecan and orange groves, etc., and to colonize cut-over timber lands. As the Agricultural Land Holding Act of 1912 is now construed, corporations cannot be formed under the Mississippi law for any of these purposes. If some modifications of the law could be made to authorize the formation of such corporations, I feel sure that it would not only add materially to the capital of the State, but would greatly advance the work of diversification and development now so happily under way.

NO. 8.

A Concurrent Resolution proposing an amendment to Section 33 of the Constitution of Mississippi, providing for initiative and referendum.

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Senate of the State of Mississippi, two-thirds of the members of each House concurring therein, that Section 33 of the State Constitution be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 33. The legislative authority of the State shall be vested in a Legislature which shall consist of a Senate and a House of Representatives, but the people reserve to themselves the power to propose legislative measures, laws, resolutions and amendments to the Constitution, and to enact or reject the same at the polls independent of the Legislature; and also reserve the power, at their own option, to approve or reject at the polls any act, item, section or any part of any act or measure passed by the Legislature.

1. The first power reserved by the people is the initiative, and not more than seven thousand five hundred (7,500) qualified electors shall be required to propose any measure by initiative petition, and every such petition shall include the full text of the measure so proposed. Initiative petitions shall be filed with the Secretary of State not less than three months before the election at which they are to be voted upon.

2. The second power reserved by the people is the referendum, and it may be ordered either by a petition signed by the required number of qualified voters or by the Legislature, as other bills are enacted. Not more than six thousand (6,000) qualified voters may be required to sign and make valid referendum petition. The filing of a referendum petition against any one or more items, sections, or parts of any measure shall not delay the remainder from becoming operative. Referendum petitions against measures passed by the Legislature shall be filed with the Secretary of State not later than ninety (90) days after the final adjournment of the Legislature at which such measures were passed, except when adjournment shall be taken temporarily for a longer period than ninety (90) days, in which case such petition shall be filed not later than ninety (90) days after such temporary adjournment. All measures referred to a vote of the people by referendum petitions shall remain in abeyance until such vote is taken.

3. If it shall be necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety, then a measure shall become effective without delay, such necessity shall be stated in one section and if upon a yea and nay vote, three-fourths of those voting in each House shall vote in favor of the measure going into immediate operation, such measure shall become operative at once. It shall be necessary to state in such section the facts constituting such emergency. Provided, that an emergency shall not be declared on any franchise or special privilege or act creating any vested right or interest, or alienating any property of the State. If a referendum petition is filed against such emergency measure, such measure shall be a law until it is voted upon by the people, and if it is then rejected by a majority of the voters voting thereon, it shall be thereby repealed.

4. The word "measure" as used herein means any law, bill, resolution, constitutional amendment, or any other legislative measure. All elections on general, local and special measures referred to the people of the State shall be held at the general State or congressional elections, except when the Legislature shall order a special election. Any measure submitted to the people as herein provided shall take effect and become law when approved by a majority of the votes cast thereon, and not otherwise. Such measure shall be in operation on and after the 30th day after the election at which it is approved. The veto power of the Governor shall not extend to measures initiated by or referred to the people. If conflicting measures submitted to the people shall be approved by a majority of the votes severally cast for and against the same, the one having the highest number of affirmative votes shall thereby become law. No measure enacted by a vote of the people shall be amended or repealed by the Legislature except by yea and nay votes, upon roll call of three-fourths of the members of each House voting thereon. Qualified electors only shall be counted upon petitions. Petitions may be circulated and presented in parts, but each part of any petition shall have attached thereto the affidavit of the person circulating the same that all of the signatures thereon were made in the presence of the affiant, and that, to the best of the affiant's knowledge and belief, each signature is genuine, and that the person signing is a qualified elector, and no other affidavit or verification shall be required. The sufficiency of all petitions shall be decided by the Secretary of State. In the event that the sufficiency of the petition is challenged, the question shall be tried at once in term time or in vacation, and such cause shall be a preference cause over all other causes. If the Secretary of State shall decide any petition to be insufficient, he shall, without delay, notify the sponsors of the petition and permit at least thirty (30) days for correction or amendment. In the event of legal proceedings, in any court, to prevent giving effect to any petition, upon any grounds, the burden of proof shall be upon the person or persons attacking the validity of the petition. This section shall not be construed to deprive any member of the Legislature of the right to introduce any bill. The style of all of the bills initiated by petition shall be, "Be it enacted by the people of the State of Mississippi." In submitting the measures the Secretary of State and all other officials shall be guided by the general election laws until additional legislation may be provided therefor, but no legislation shall be enacted tending to impair or hamper the exercise of the rights herein reserved to the people.

Sec. 2. That this amendment be submitted to the qualified electors on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1914, in accordance with the provisions of Section 273 of the State Constitution.

Passed the House of Representatives on the 6th, 9th and 10th of March, 1914.

In explanation of the tabulated vote on Constitutional Amendments, herewith submitted, I call attention to the following statement of facts:

As the returns were being received from the various counties we began to tabulate them, taking the "high" vote, or the "highest vote" shown on the face of the returns, to make up the total vote cast in the State. Later we noted that in two or three instances the County Commissioners had included with their returns a separate certificate, certifying to the "total number of votes cast" in the county. These figures showed us that the total number of votes polled in the counties exceeded the highest vote shown on the returns. There were on the ballots voted nine constitutional amendments, a Judge, a Chancellor, Congressman and frequently one or more county officers, and a proposition for "tick eradication" all to be voted for. The voter voted for all or as few of these as he saw fit. Thus, if 100 men went to the polls and 40 voted only for the amendments and 60 only for Congressman, the Congressman would show on the returns as having received the highest vote, yet there would, in reality, be 40 more votes in the box than he received; nor would there be any way to determine this fact from the face of the returns.

Being aware of the fact that our Supreme Court has held that a Constitutional amendment is not carried at the polls unless it receives a majority of "all the votes cast at the election," whether they are voted for the amendment or some other proposition, I felt that we should ascertain the total vote cast in each county, and I therefore prepared and sent to each county returning board a certo state blank, requesting them to certify back to me the total number of votes polled in the county, as their returns seemed to me to be complete without this. All of the county boards complied with this request and certified in these total votes, excepting the Counties of Bolivar, Carroll, DeSoto, Holmes, Issaquena and Lafayette.

In making up the table of the vote, which follows, it will be noted that I have made up two separate totals—one showing the "high vote" in each county, as taken from the face of the returns, and the other showing the "total vote," or total number of ballots cast, as taken from the supplemental certificates sent in by the county boards. In this latter result I have included the "high vote" only from the six counties which failed to certify their total vote. The first of these totals gives 37,583; the second gives us 40,070.

If we accept the high vote total, all of the amendments have carried; but since this is obviously not the total number of votes cast in the election, can it be arbitrarily accepted in the face of the Supreme Court's decision?

If, on the other hand, we accept the total vote as shown by the certificates, which would meet the decision of the Supreme Court, would we not have to leave out the high vote of the six counties which failed to certify in their totals?

If neither of these results can be accepted, has the election failed for want of a proper return?

I submit the facts as they are for the consideration of the Legislature.

At a meeting of the State Democratic Executive Committee, held in the Senate Chamber, in the City of Jackson, on the 21st day of July, 1915, the following were declared the nominees of the Democratic party for the offices to which they aspired, they having no opposition on that date:

- For Secretary of State—Joseph W. Power.
- For Superintendent Education—W. H. Smith.
- For Attorney General—Ross A. Collins.
- For Commissioner of Agriculture—H. E. Blakeslee.
- For Bank Examiner, First District—E. F. Anderson.
- For Bank Examiner, Third District—S. S. Harris.
