Sunday. Dec. 2. 1917.

My dearest Mother.

I am getting along fine.
I just returned this afternoon through the country in a limousine, as I went down to Base hospital to get a tooth worked on. But of course one dentist was ill and the other was out of town so I only got fixed up temporarily.

It is the tooth that I had gold crown put on when last at home. I saw many american nurses and they sure did look good. It was a much better
looking town than the one here where we are located.

We are kept so very busy that we have very little of other parts of the world. Our instructor is still away and that makes it harder on me. I am hoping that he will return to-morrow.

From now on the course will be more of the practical work. I sure will be glad when it is all over. I hear that we will then have five more weeks some-where else.

Please excuse this short note but I wanted you to hear from me every Sunday and once during the week at least.

With much love,

your devoted son
Boyer.
