

University of Mississippi

eGrove

Correspondence: Anti-integration

James Meredith Collection

10-8-1962

A White Yankee to Mr. Meredith (8 October 1962)

Author Unknown

Follow this and additional works at: https://egrove.olemiss.edu/mercorr_anti

Recommended Citation

Unknown, Author, "A White Yankee to Mr. Meredith (8 October 1962)" (1962). Correspondence: Anti-integration. 18.

https://egrove.olemiss.edu/mercorr_anti/18

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the James Meredith Collection at eGrove. It has been accepted for inclusion in Correspondence: Anti-integration by an authorized administrator of eGrove. For more information, please contact egrove@olemiss.edu.

Mr. Meredith -

I want you to know I am not a person who usually writes letters, but after reading and viewing on t.v. your stoic attitude and dignified conduct, and hearing of your being followed and cheered by students, ("I see - Blood on your hands") if the others ~~who~~ who are encouraging you to proceed this thing hasn't, pointed out, I would like to remind you, they could say also, that our Great President Lincoln, had Blood on his hands too, and for the same reason. I want you to know that, you, like Christ, must walk this road alone, no one can do any of it for you, but your courage.

is prayed for - of course you are afraid, that only human, but you do it any how - that takes a man of stature, few people will ever equal. words are not easy to compose to describe my deep respect ~~for~~^{for} you, this letter is meant to convey to you, that all over the country you are prayed for, you are not walking that road alone, for God is with you. and the prayer of many many people, surround you 24 hours a day.

God Bless you, and your Brave Wife, and may your son grow up to be just like you.

Sincerely
A white Yankee.

AFTER 5 DAYS RETURN TO

UNITED STATES POSTAGE

4

SEATTLE WORLD'S FAIR 1962

at Meridith
The University, Oxford
Mississippi

COPYRIGHT ©