Dear Lyndon,

I was indeed glad to have the telegram from you and Lady Byrd on my victory on November 7.

The fruits of victory are always sweet if you can share them with your friends, and that is sort of the way I feel about it after all of these years.

At this stage of the game and after these years the associations and friendships seem to be the things you remember most.

Incidentally, if I can kidnap Biglane again, we might drop in some Saturday afternoon and continue the discussion.

Please express my best regards to Lady Byrd.

With best wishes, I am

Your friend,

The Honorable Lyndon Johnson
