Students Learn 'Real Politics' in Washington, D.C., Winter Session

OXFORD, Miss. - Eleven University of Mississippi students spent their winter break learning about the people who work behind the scenes of the American government in Washington, D.C. Lead by Jonathan Klingler, assistant professor of political science, the students of Pol 391: Applied Politics met not with candidates, but with the people who make candidates'

U.S. inflation roller coaster prompts fresh look at long-ignored money supply By Michael S. Derby NEW YORK - The amount of money sloshing around the U.S. economy shrank last year for the first time on record, a development that some economists believe bolsters the case for U.S. inflation pressures continuing to abate. The Federal Reserve's
