

1961

England

Anonymous

Follow this and additional works at: https://egrove.olemiss.edu/dl_tr

Part of the Accounting Commons, and the Taxation Commons

Recommended Citation

Quarterly, Vol. 07, no. 2 (1961, June), p. 02-05

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Deloitte Collection at eGrove. It has been accepted for inclusion in Touche Ross Publications by an authorized administrator of eGrove. For more information, please contact egrove@olemiss.edu.

Richard Wyld, left, waits as James Remnant dictates letter concerning audit to Mrs. Weedon.

SO INTERNATIONAL HAS THE FIRM BECOME that James Remnant reports, "On April 12, otherwise a normal working day, we had working in our London office E. P. Tremper from Seattle; R. Hess from Germany; D. Stewart from Winnipeg; Mr. Vanden Hende from Belgium, C. DeVries from Holland, N. Harris from South Africa and W. F. Joyce and P. J. Davidson from Australia.

"We enjoyed having these people with us and feel very much part of the International Group."

England

TROBAS—London has offices in this building.

This department provides secretarial and bookkeeping services for various clients, particularly investment trusts.

A meeting in the Board Room to discuss International affairs. From left, Mr. Vanden Hende from Belgium, Mr. Hess from Germany, Mr. George Touche, Messrs. Davidson and Joyce from Australia and Mr. DeVries from the Netherlands. Behind Mr. George Touche is a portrait of Sir George Touche, Bart.

An informal discussion of International auditing practice. From left, Mr. Joyce from Melbourne, Australia; Mr. Ritchie and Mr. Adams of London and Mr. Davidson from Sydney, Australia.

