TRB&S IN ACTION

Chicago

To help a Chicago Office client evaluate a possible acquisition, Stephen Finney made a quick trip to England in March. While there he had an opportunity to stop at our London offices and meet our partners there, to travel in Northern England and to visit Paris briefly.

Denver

Denver Office again says thank you to John Gale and George English of the San Francisco office who came out to Denver for a month to help at the height of the tax season.

Detroit

Ermenegildo Snozzi of our Paris Of-rice and Robert Gautier of our Geneva Office spent several days in May in Detroit meeting Detroit Office clients.

Kansas City

The Kansas City Office was host to staff members of the Dallas, Houston and St. Louis Offices attending the Group II Training Program the week of May 1. The meetings were held in the Kansas City Office and a group luncheon was held at the Kansas City Club on the final day. Curtis C. Verschoor attended the sessions the first two days. Discussion leaders were Richard Julian, Glen Olson, Ralph Waters, Forest DeHaven, Maurice McGill, Robert Miller and Jerry Jackson.

Los Angeles

Ralph Hunt went east with officers and directors of First Charter Financial Corporation for meetings with financial analysts, investment bankers and major investors. There were two luncheons in New York and luncheons or dinners in Boston, Chicago and San Francisco. The managing partner in each office also attended these meetings, at which outstanding members of the financial community were present.

Management Services

Central Staff

The 12th Annual National Conference and Convention of the American Institute of Industrial Engineers was held May 11-13 at the Sheraton-Cadillac in Detroit. Roger Crane was general chairman with Nicholas Radell as his assistant. Robert G. Stevens spoke on

"Control of Overhead Cost Through an Integrated Management Information System." Other topics covered included Linear Programming, Systems for Management Control, Budgeting Techniques, Labor Negotiations, etc. There were also two all-day Industrial Engineering Symposiums. Ray R. Eppert, president of Burroughs Corporation, spoke on "Storm Signals of the Sixties" at the Thursday luncheon. "Foreign Competition and its Impact on United States Industry" was the subject of a speech given by James Goss, vice president of General Electric Company, at the banquet on Thursday.

New York

The New York Office played host at a Group II Professional Training Program for staff members of the Eastern Seaboard offices during the week of April 24th. Various members of the Executive and New York Offices presented lectures on matters of current interest, and men attending the conference led group discussions. The training session was topped off by a dinner held at the Barbizon Plaza Hotel during which the staff had an opportunity to become better acquainted with some of the partners, managers and supervisors in the New York and Executive Offices.

Philadelphia

The entire staff of the Philadelphia Office attended the annual meeting of the Philadelphia Chapter of the Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants, where Robert M. Trueblood was the principal speaker.
