Mother's day
May 12th 1918.

My dearest Mother,

I wrote you, my mother's letter yesterday so I am sending
only a note to-day.

Mother, for the next few days I will not have much chance
to write so do not expect many letters from me. But I did not want you to worry so I am writing to tell you.

I feel fine this morning and hope
to be at home
with you to speak
next Mother's day.

Mother, you are my best friend
and I love you more each day. I forgot to tell you
that one day last week I saw Kelly

and Monk for the first time since we left our last big camp.
I took dinner with Kelly. Monk is in D. Battery and Kelly is attached to Hdqrs. Co. of this Regiment.
I believe they will pick Kelly as an instructor next time.
He has not been as lucky as Monk and I have. But he is a fine friend and would do anything for me. I haven't seen my good friend Hugh McCrummen in about six weeks but my Capt saw him two days ago and he sent me his best,

He has made many friends in the reg^t.
with his fine dispositi^{on}.

Some time I will send you a picture
showing my mustache.

It is not the best looking one
I ever saw but
all frenchmen wear
them.

Mother, I will close for this time.

Your devoted son
Boyer.
