Abstract:	Carolyn Haines was born in Hattiesburg, Mississippi. She earned a B.S. in journalism from the University of Southern Mississippi and an M.A. in English with an emphasis in creative writing from the University of Southern Alabama. Her first novel, Summer of Fear , was published in 1993. She has since published over 20 books, including a series of novels about Southern belle detective Sarah Booth Delaney and a work of nonfiction, My Mother's Witness: The Peggy Morgan Story , about a young white woman caught in a violent world of racism and brutality during the Civil Rights movement and its aftermath. The collection contains nine boxes of Haines's manuscript material, correspondence, and book jacket art. The collection also includes 6 binders of 35mm negatives Ms. Haines took in the 1970's as a photographer for publications including the Mobile Press Register, the Mississippi Press, the Hattiesburg American, and the George County Times.

Biographical Note

Born in Hattiesburg, Mississippi on May 12, 1953, Carolyn Haines graduated from high school in George County. She received a B.S. from the University of Southern Mississippi in Journalism and a M.A. in English with an emphasis in Creative Writing in 1985 from the University of Southern Alabama. Carolyn Haines's first published novel, Summer of Fear, appeared in 1993, followed by Summer of the Redeemers appearing in 1994. Her popular detective series featuring the feisty Southern belle detective Sarah Booth Delaney began in 1999 with the publication of Them Bones; Haines continues to add to the series as of 2011. In 2003, Haines published My Mother's Witness: The Peggy Morgan Story, a non-fiction account of a young white woman caught in a violent world of racism and brutality. Haines has written numerous books under the pseudonym Caroline Burnes.
