I have pleasure in presenting this report on the committee's activities for the year ended August 1986. The development of a comprehensive bibliography of historical research methodology sources continues on schedule.

Committee members have provided their reference lists and together with the Chairman's source listing, in excess of 2,500 publications have been identified. Subsequently, committee members have also provided selected annotated bibliographies in the fields of history of law, historical methodology in foreign languages, cliometrics, general historiography, philosophy of history, and economic and business history.

A taxonomy of 13 major classifications has been developed and all publications have been classified accordingly. The taxonomy is as follows:

- Business and Economic History
- Interpretation (includes interpretation, explanation, causation and judgement)
- Quantitative Methods (includes cliometrics, "new history", statistics, counterfactual history)
- Evidence and Sources
- Foreign Language
- General Historiography (includes historical method, general methodology issues, historiography and its development)
- Legal History
- Philosophy of History (speculative and critical approaches)
- Social Dimensions (includes history and social sciences, social and oral history, history and sociology, cultural and behavioral dimensions)

Notable Historians (includes their contributions and schools of thought)

Griffith University, School of Administration has provided an initial research grant of $3000 to facilitate computer data entry for the bibliography and programming adjustments. A bibliographic software package has been purchased and data entry of the reference list on Apple Macintosh has been almost completed. Some editorial adjustments to style of presentation are still to be made and proof reading is to commence shortly. Access and printout will be available by author family name, taxonomic classification and year of publication. Separate entry of annotated bibliographic items (approximately 250 items) should be accomplished by early 1987.

The hardware being utilized provides high resolution printout including format and print exactly as required. The software is entitled "Professional Bibliographic System" and is produced by Professional Bibliographic Software Co. The Apple Macintosh version has been purchased (IBM version is available) and data transferability to IBM is relatively straightforward. We also plan to transfer the data to a secondary system using Data Base III which will provide improved on-line access (but not the quality formatting and printing available on Macintosh).

Some difficulties have been encountered in identifying a network of "experts" to act as an advisory group to Academy members on various types of... historical research method. This reflects the relative immaturity of methodological training amongst accounting historians. Nevertheless in the short term, the committee members themselves will be available to act in this capacity.

I have recently received with regret, the resignation of our UK committee member, Mr. Michael Mumford. Michael was prevented from continuing due to pressures of work at his institution. It is anticipated that a new UK committee member will be nominated in the near future.

At this point I would like to extend my thanks to my committee members who have worked so hard during the past year. I am confident that we shall have a monograph containing the results of our work ready for issue by the 1988 International Accounting Historians Congress.
