University of Mississippi

eGrove

Clippings

James W. Silver Collection

4-30-1964

Through Hazel Eyes (2)

Hazel Brannon Smith

Follow this and additional works at: https://egrove.olemiss.edu/jws_clip

Recommended Citation

Smith, Hazel Brannon, "Through Hazel Eyes (2)" (1964). Clippings. 255. https://egrove.olemiss.edu/jws_clip/255

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the James W. Silver Collection at eGrove. It has been accepted for inclusion in Clippings by an authorized administrator of eGrove. For more information, please contact egrove@olemiss.edu.

This should be a red letter weekend for people of Jackson.

The truly impressive pro-

V

e

C

1.

S

i-

le

11

te

n-

bst

er

ne

he

he

gs

ve or ut

nd

he

00

ter

te e-

he

h-

ıy,

ur

id ho

n't

mus

ng

he

to in-

ırne

th

w

The truly impressive program planned for the Mississippi Arts Festival provides something of interest to everyone.

We hope all of our readers will find time to take in as many of the activities as possible.

Whether you enjoy music, painting, drama, flowers, photography, movies, nature—there is something special for you. Many of the event are free, yours for the taking. Others have a nominal charge.

Treat yourself and the entire family to this weekend of informal fun and fellowship—and at the same time broaden your horizons.

There may be some hope for budding journalists down at the University of Southern Mississippi at Hattiesburg, after all.

Several weeks ago an edition of the school newspaper, "The Student Printz" appeared with a story about Johnny Frazier's unsuccessful attempt to enroll there. He is a Negro.

According to reports, that particular edition of The Student Printz was quickly withdrawn and then re-appeared, the second time without the story about Frazier. Since everybody in Mississippi knew of the enrollment incident, it was puzzling to figure out what was happening on Dr. W. D. McCain's campus.

We had intended writing something about it the week it happened—possibly citing it as an example of academic freedom for students — but got involved with something freedom for students — but got involved with something else and never got to it.

Now this week comes a UPI report that a new mimeographed publication, the "Southern Underground", has appeared at Southern. It protested the censorship of The Student Printz and promises to "tell the truth" to students and the state about "what is going on within the Univer-

The Southern Underground said the censorship of the college newspaper was "merely more evidence of control and the leftwing elements that are placed in our colleges today." It said "this control is intended to eliminate the possibilities of the student developing an opinstudent developing an opinion of his own."

Whether the writer meant leftwing, or rightwing, we do not know. But if he is old enough to go to college he should know by now that Mississippians are not supposed to think for themselves—without consulting a higher authority.

er authority.

When adults in Mississippi can't think for themselves what makes this young squirt think students should be allowed to?

Oh, well, the Southern Underground will be something to amuse the students, any way, and give the Legislature indigestion.