Dear Dr. Howerton:

It was nice to talk to you yesterday and to hear again your pleasantly soft voice and remember more concretely you and Ole Miss.

I enjoyed those years at Ole Miss and know that I grew in knowledge and more importantly in how I look at things while I was there, and to you and to Dr. Silver, more than to ~~any~~ other men, I'm indebted for the fuller development of those qualities of mind and spirit which I strive hardest to give effect to and which I hold most dear. I thank you and I thank him as, I know, do hundreds of other students for all that you've meant to us.

Sincerely,

Chesley Morris
