BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Samuel Hopkins Lambdin was born in 1811 in Pittsburgh, PA. His older brother, James Reid Lambdin, was a noted artist famous for his portraits of presidents. James Reid Lambdin moved to Natchez, MS, in 1830. He stayed at Clifton, the Postlethwaite estate, until May 1831 and made long-lasting friendships with other Natchez artists, including James Tooley, Jr. and sculptor Edwin Lyon. Samuel Hopkins Lambdin moved to Natchez in 1835. He worked as a store clerk and steamboat captain until he became a partner in a plantation supply business, Lambdin and Bennett, in 1837. Lambdin also served as president of the Planters Bank of Mississippi for one year around 1842. He married Jane Bisland that same year. They had six children. Bisland's grandfather, John Bisland, immigrated to North Carolina from Scotland in the eighteenth century and later lived in Jamaica before settling in Natchez as a planter. He acquired significant land holdings, including five plantations in Natchez and Louisiana. His son William Bisland, Jane Bisland's father, was one of the most prominent landowners in the area by 1800. Samuel H. Lambdin served on the board of trustees for Jefferson College in the 1850s. He received a presidential pardon from Andrew Johnson dated 1 September 1865 and was a delegate to the state constitutional convention held in 1865. He later served as a justice of the peace for Adams County.

Document, "Pay Roll for Hands on Lucerna [illegible abbreviation]." April 1865

Scope and Content

Lists name, total time worked, rate on date, amount paid, and half pay of the hands.

Plantation Pass, No. 27. Head-Quarters, District of Natchez, [MS]. 29 April 1865

Scope and Content

Transcription: "Picket Guards Will pass the bearer Landon, Colored Teamster and Plantation Team, for SH Lambdin, Register of Pine Mount Good for the Month of May 1865. By order of Brigadier General W. Davidson, Signed [CE Lanstown]. This pass is accepted by me, with the condition that I will not give any information that might be of use to the enemy, or do any act that might prejudice the interests of the United States."

Document. "Pay Roll of Lucerna [illegible abbreviation]." August 1865

Scope and Content

3pp. Lists name, total time, rate per day, total amount, and half pay.

Copy of letter from President Andrew Johnson to "Maj Genl Carl [Schurz]" 20 August 1865

Scope and Content

Executive Mansion City. Letter discussing citizen militias in the South, specifically in Mississippi. He outlines his object as, "to induce the people to come forward in the defense of the state & Fed Govt. Genl Washington declared that the people or the militia was the army of the Constitution & soon as it is practicable the original [design] of the Govt must be resumed."

Letter from J.F. Hartley, Assistant Secretary, to [S.[H. Lambdin, Esq. [Natchez], Miss. 17 June 1867

Scope and Content

Part of the Lambdin address has been removed from the letter. Written on Treasury Department letterhead. 3pp. Written in response to a letter by Lambdin, "relative to the Marine Hospital dues paid by the Steamboat "Union" at the port of Natchez." Apparently the collector of the dues had made a clerical error and the hospital dues were not paid for the year 1865. Hartley ends the letter by writing, "The payment of Hospital dues by Capt. Renner, on the 25th March last, was fittingly made, inasmuch as they are required to be paid 'on the sale of the vessel,' and you had sold the vessel to him." Therefore the Treasury will not grant Lambdin's request

Unsigned copy of letter to Genl. GW Lee, Pres. Washington & Lee University, Lexington, Virginia from members of the trustees of Jefferson College May 1872

Scope and Content

Natchez, MS. 5pp. Writing to Lee to find a "teacher for the ensuing year" for the College located, "in the village of Washington." They wish to find "a gentleman of handsome literary attainments, of unblemished character, one, if readily to be had, who may have had some experience in teaching and who would combine discipline with dignity, firmness and tenderness in securing the love and respect of his students. And if he knew something of the world, as well as of books, he would be the better enabled to bring the requisite administrative abilities to bear in inspiring confidence & in harmonizing intercourse between teachers, pupils, patrons & trustees and therefore in securing a hold upon the confidence of the community." The letter's authors go on to declare their wish to find a Southerner with these qualities who preferably attended school in Virginia. The letter describes the College- its buildings, history and current student population. They also describe what they see as the nature of the people in the community. They make reference to the reduced wealth of the area and negative views about its current condition during Reconstruction, "Our people, however came out of the war much poorer than what was admitted, or as was apparent to to [sic.] superficial observers, - and since all intensified by the wretched governments State and local following the reconstruction."
