

1966

Partners-in-charge meeting

Anonymous

Follow this and additional works at: https://egrove.olemiss.edu/dl_tr

 Part of the Accounting Commons, and the Taxation Commons

Recommended Citation

Quarterly, Vol. 12, no. 2 (1966, June), p. 08-09

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Deloitte Collection at eGrove. It has been accepted for inclusion in Touche Ross Publications by an authorized administrator of eGrove. For more information, please contact egrove@olemiss.edu.

Partners-in-Charge Meeting

Kenneth S. Reames, national director-taxes, discussed the firm's role in estate planning.

R. Dixon Wood, Phoenix, stressed a point to Gail N. Brown, Rochester.

Roger G. Froemming, Milwaukee, listens to Gerald E. Gorans, Seattle.

John D. Crouch, Kansas City, conducted a buzz session on office operations.

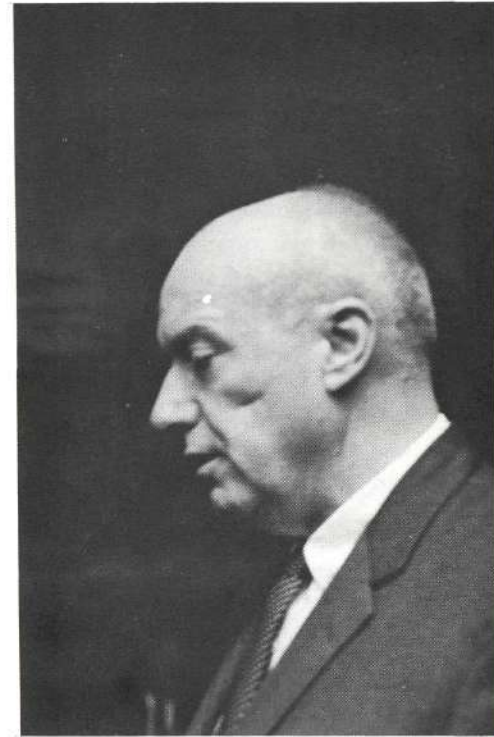

Donald H. Cramer, national director-personnel.

William K. Carson, New York

At their annual meeting TRB&S partners attended presentations on operational auditing and on-the-job training, held buzz sessions on office operations, discussed the firm's accounting, management information and planning control system and worked on action programs for the coming year. The meeting was held April 18-20 in Oakbrook, Illinois.

Karney A. Brasfield, Washington

Coffee break finds E. Palmer Tang, Minneapolis, John J. Malkind, San Diego, and Milton M. Gilmore, San Francisco, in good humor.

Clinton R. Pearson, Memphis, and G. Leslie Laidlaw, Chicago, held a serious discussion with Peter J. Stilling from London.

John S. Crawford, Portland

Benjamin Bernstein, Cincinnati, chats with David W. Muir, Dallas.

Charles A. Blankenburg, Houston, and John F. Keydel, St. Louis, sit back and relax after buzz session.

