

1966

Richard V. Julian, A Memorial

John D. Crouch

Follow this and additional works at: https://egrove.olemiss.edu/dl_tr

Part of the Accounting Commons, and the Taxation Commons

Recommended Citation

Quarterly, Vol. 12, no. 3 (1966, September), p. 44

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Deloitte Collection at eGrove. It has been accepted for inclusion in Touche Ross Publications by an authorized administrator of eGrove. For more information, please contact egrove@olemiss.edu.

A Memorial

RICHARD V. JULIAN

The Kansas City office was saddened and stunned by the death of one of its partners, Richard V. Julian, on July 3rd.

Dick was well known to the National Accounting and Auditing staff of the firm, having served as one of its "cold review" partners. He was quite knowledgeable in technical accounting and auditing and a specialist in SEC work. He was active in the Accounting and Auditing Procedures Committee of the Missouri Society of Certified Public Accountants, serving as vice-chairman this past two years and contributed much to the writing of a school audit manual. Dick had also been a member of the firm's Savings and Loan Industry Committee, since its inception, and was responsible for the writing of the Savings and Loan Audit Guide.

Dick joined the audit staff of the St. Louis office in 1948 after his graduation from the Northwestern University School of Commerce. He also attended Carleton College in Northfield, Minnesota. In December 1951 he transferred to the Kansas City office and was admitted as a partner in 1962. A veteran of World War II, he served as a pilot in the Army Air Force.

His pleasing disposition and friendly attitude obtained for him the friendship of the entire staff. We share the loss with his wife, Maxine, and his mother, Mrs. Katherine Eddington.

by John D. Crouch