7TH WORLD CONGRESS OF ACCOUNTING HISTORIANS

Queen's University, Ontario, Canada
August 11-13, 1996

The World Congress of Accounting Historians is held every four years at varying international locations. The 7th World Congress will be held at Queen's University, Ontario, Canada on August 11-13, 1996. Previous congresses, beginning in Brussels in 1970, held in the United States, England, Italy, Australia, and Japan have provided three days of presentations and discussions and have encouraged the dissemination of research, generated greater interest in accounting history, and fostered a link between various accounting historians around the world.

The program of the congress will feature plenary addresses by Daniel Wren (author of the best selling book, The Evolution of Management Thought), accounting historians Maureen Berry (past president of The Academy of Accounting Historians), and Barbara Merino (Editor, The Accounting Historians Journal and a former president of The Academy), and will include presentations by over sixty academics and practitioners from 18 countries. Topics include historical analysis of financial and managerial accounting practices, audit techniques, tax policies, and the impact of social and economic forces on the profession. The Congress will provide many opportunities for networking including an opening reception and banquet. There will also be exhibits of local and national archives, publishers' displays, and a demonstration of accounting history on the internet. A monograph of selected papers from the Congress published by the CGA-Canada Research Foundation is included as part of your registration fee.

Program details will be mailed to you upon receipt of your registration form. Information also will be posted on the Internet site of this Congress listed under upcoming events at the Queen's School of Business home page: <http://qsilver.queensu.ca/business>. The Congress is co-sponsored by the Academy of Accounting Historians, CGA Canada, Queen's University, and Social Science and Humanities Research Council of Canada.

Reservations for housing should be made separately and rooms will be available at the Holiday Inn Kingston, Howard Johnson Kingston, and Ramada Inn. To register for the Congress, send a cheque payable to Queen's University in the amount of $200 Canadian or $145 US to:
