Dear Dr. Silver:

For the Encyclopedia Britannica Press, I am editing a collection of American speeches in this century under the title, at present, THIS IS OUR COUNTRY. Today in the Herald Tribune I read about the speech you gave recently in Asheville, N. C., that seems to have aroused controversy. From the newspaper report, it sounds very much like a speech I would like to include in my anthology. If a copy should be available, I would appreciate the favor of being sent one. If you have no copies on hand, was it reprinted anywhere or by anyone to whom I might write and get the text ?

With many thanks for your courtesy, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Peter Briggs
