HOW TO USE THIS VOLUME

Scope of the Volume . . .

This volume, which is a reprint of the looseleaf edition, brings together for continuing reference a set of nonauthoritative audit tools and illustrations prepared by the staff of the Technical Information Division of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

How This Volume Is Arranged . . .

The contents of this volume are arranged as follows:

- Introduction
- Compilation and Review
- Engagement Planning and Administration
- Internal Control Structure
- Audit Approach and Programs
- Working Papers
- Correspondence, Confirmations & Representations
- Review and Report Processing
- Accountants' Reports
- Quality Control Forms and Aids

How to Use This Volume . . .

The arrangement of material is indicated in the general table of contents at the front of the volume. There is a detailed table of contents covering the material within each major division.

The major divisions are subdivided into sections, each with its own section number. Each paragraph within a section is decimally numbered. For example, AAM section 7100.01 refers to the first paragraph of section 7100, Control of Confirmations and Correspondence. Section and paragraph numbers located on each page are provided as corner references at the bottom of each page.

The AICPA Professional Standards is referenced by the use of the following abbreviations: AU (Auditing), AR (Accounting and Review Services), ET (Code of Conduct), BL (Bylaws), and QC (Quality Control).

The FASB Accounting Standards Current Text is referenced in a similar manner by the use of the abbreviation AC before the section and paragraph numbers. The Current Text contains an abridged version of the currently effective financial and reporting standards, as amended.

Quotations of accounting standards in this volume are derived from the original pronouncements and may have been editorially changed in the Current Text.

The Appendixes provide cross references from pronouncements of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Financial Accounting Standards Board to sections in the text.

INTRODUCTION

This manual has not been approved, disapproved, or otherwise acted upon by any senior technical committees of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants or the Financial Accounting Standards Board and has no official or authoritative status.

.01 This manual has been prepared by the staff of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and issued as a nonauthoritative kit of practice aids. The materials included in it are designed to serve as working tools and illustrations for timesaving purposes. They are not intended as a substitute for the professional judgments which must be applied by practitioners in any engagement. The manual, where practicable, offers choices and alternatives rather than particular positions. The manual is not a substitute for the authoritative technical literature and users are urged to refer directly to applicable authoritative pronouncements for the text of technical standards.

.02 Some sections of the manual include quotations from Statements on Auditing Standards and other authoritative pronouncements. Those quotations are intended only to illustrate certain matters, not to serve as a substitute for careful study of the relevant pronouncements. References are made throughout the manual to the original authoritative pronouncements and to their section numbers in AICPA Professional Standards and the FASB Accounting Standards Current Text to help users locate those authoritative pronouncements.

.03 The authors hope that the manual will be helpful to local firms and practitioners in the conduct of their audit and accounting practice. However, no generalized material, such as that included in this manual, can be a substitute for development and implementation by a firm of a system of quality control which is appropriately comprehensive and suitably designed in relation to the firm's organizational structure, its policies, and the nature of its practice.

.04 The manual is in looseleaf format in anticipation of updating and expansion. Changes are expected to arise from three main sources:

- (1) Comments and suggestions from practitioners. Since this manual is a product of AICPA staff, not of a committee of practitioners, it is particularly important that practitioners advise the staff on any suggestions for material that could be improved or added.
- (2) Issuance of new official pronouncements.
- (3) Other additions to or deletions from the manual as a result of continued staff study.

Comments and suggestions should be addressed to:

Introduction

.01 Statements on Standards for Accounting and Review Services (SSARS) are issued by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) Accounting and Review Services Committee (ARSC), the senior technical committee of the AICPA designated by its Council to issue pronouncements in connection with unaudited financial statements and other unaudited financial information of nonpublic entities. A nonpublic entity is defined as any entity other than (a) one whose securities trade in a public market either on a stock exchange or over the counter, (b) one that files with a regulatory agency in preparation for the sale of any class of its securities in a public market, or (c) any entity controlled by an entity covered by (a) or (b).

.02 As of June 1988, ARSC had issued six Statements on Standards for Accounting and Review Services. They are

- SSARS 1 Compilation and Review of Financial Statements [AR section 100] (12/78)
- SSARS 2 Reporting on Comparative Financial Statements [AR section 200] (10/79)
- SSARS 3 Compilation Reports on Financial Statements Included in Certain Prescribed Forms [AR section 300] (12/81)
- SSARS 4 Communications Between Predecessor and Successor Accountants [AR section 400] (12/81)
- SSARS 5 Reporting on Compiled Financial Statements [AR section 500] (7/82)
- SSARS 6 Reporting on Personal Financial Statements Included in Written Personal Financial Plans [AR section 600] (9/86)

.03 SSARS 1 (AR section 100) defines a compilation of financial statements and a review of financial statements and is effective for compilations and reviews of financial statements for periods ending on or after July 1, 1979. A compilation of financial statements is defined as presenting in the form of financial statements information that is the representation of management without expressing any assurance on the statements. A review of financial statements involves performing inquiry and analytical procedures to provide the accountant with a reasonable basis for expressing limited assurance that there are no material modifications to the financial statements necessary for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.04 SSARS 1, paragraph 4 (AR section 100.04), defines a financial statement as:

A presentation of financial data, including accompanying notes, derived from accounting records and intended to communicate an entity's economic resources or obligations at a point in time, or the changes therein for a period of time, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles or a comprehensive basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles. Financial forecasts, projections and similar presentations, and financial presentations included in tax returns are not financial statements for purposes of this statement. The following presentations are examples of financial statements:

- Balance sheet
- Statement of income
- Statement of retained earnings
- Statement of cash flows

- Statement of changes in owners' equity
- Statement of assets and liabilities (with or without owners' equity accounts)
- Statement of revenues and expenses
- Summary of operations
- Statement of operations by product lines
- Statement of cash receipts and disbursements

.05 SSARS 2 (AR section 200) establishes the standards for reporting on comparative financial statements of a nonpublic entity when the statements of one or more periods have been compiled or reviewed under SSARS 1 (AR section 100). SSARS 2 is effective for reports on comparative financial statements for periods ending on or after July 1, 1979.

.06 SSARS 3 (AR section 300) amends SSARS 1 and 2 (AR sections 100 and 200) to provide an alternative form of compilation report when a prescribed form calls for a departure from generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). SSARS 3, paragraph 2 (AR section 300.02), defines a prescribed form as any preprinted form designed or adopted by the body to which it is intended to be submitted (e.g., banks, governmental bodies, etc.). Since this statement contains no effective date, it became effective upon issuance.

.07 SSARS 3 (AR section 300) does not prohibit the accountant from issuing a SSARS 1 (AR Section 100) compilation report which identifies GAAP departures in accordance with SSARS 1, paragraphs 39 through 41 (AR section 100.39—41). A SSARS 3 report is specifically designed to provide an alternative form of reporting when a prescribed form calls for a GAAP departure.

.08 SSARS 4 (AR section 400) provides guidance to a successor accountant who decides to communicate with the predecessor accountant. SSARS 4 does not require a successor accountant to communicate with a predecessor. Further, it deleted a footnote in SSARS 2 (AR section 200) suggesting that a successor accountant may wish to consult Statement on Auditing Standards No. 7, Communications Between Predecessor and Successor Auditors (AU section 315), in determining what communications would be appropriate. SSARS 4 was issued with no effective date, therefore, it became effective upon issuance.

.09 SSARS 5 (AR section 500) amends the reporting standard of SSARS 1 (AR section 100) by requiring that for all compilation engagements the accountant's report indicates that a compilation has been performed in accordance with standards established by the AICPA. The first sentence of the standard compilation report was also amended to reflect the amended reporting standard. SSARS 5 is effective for compilations of financial statements for periods ending on or after December 31, 1982.

.10 SSARS 6 (AR section 600) provides an exemption from SSARS 1 (AR section 100) for personal financial statements included in personal financial plans. SSARS 6 was issued with no effective date, therefore, it became effective upon issuance.

.11 Under SSARS 6 (AR section 600), an accountant may submit a written personal financial plan containing unaudited personal financial statements to a client without issuing a report under SSARS 1 (AR section 100), as amended, when—

- a. The accountant establishes an understanding with the client that the financial statements (i) will be used solely to assist the client and the client's advisors to develop the client's personal financial goals and objectives and (ii) will not be used to obtain credit or for any purpose other than developing the aforementioned goals and objectives.

- b. Nothing comes to the accountant's attention during the engagement that would cause him or her to believe that the financial statements will be used to obtain credit or for any purposes other than developing the client's financial goals and objectives.

.12 An accountant following the exemption under SSARS 6 (AR section 600) should issue a written report stating that the unaudited financial statements—

- a. Are designed solely to help develop the financial plan.
- b. May be incomplete or contain departures from GAAP and should not be used to obtain credit or for any purpose other than developing the plan.
- c. Have not been audited, reviewed, or compiled.

.13 Illustrative reports to be issued under the provisions of SSARS 1 through 6 can be found in AAM sections 10,400 and 10,500.

AAM Section 2200

Engagement Planning and Administration

.01 It is important to remember that when engaged to provide compilation or review services, the accountant must comply with both Rules 201 and 202 of the AICPA's Code of Professional Conduct, General Standards and Compliance With Standards, respectively (ET sections 201.01 and 202.01). Rule 201 requires that an AICPA member comply with the following standards and any interpretations thereof by bodies designated by its Council:

- A. Professional Competence. Undertake only those professional services that the member or the member's firm can reasonably expect to be completed with professional competence.
- B. Due Professional Care. Exercise due professional care in the performance of professional services.
- C. Planning and Supervision. Adequately plan and supervise the performance of professional services.
- D. Sufficient Relevant Data. Obtain sufficient relevant data to afford a reasonable basis for conclusions or recommendations in relation to any professional services performed.

.02 Rule 202 requires that an AICPA member who performs auditing, review, compilation, management advisory, tax or other professional services comply with standards promulgated by bodies designated by Council.

.03 Prior to accepting an engagement to perform a compilation or review for a prospective client, the accountant should consider if he or she wishes to be associated with the client. Factors such as the ability of the accountant to adequately serve the client, the fee arrangement, client integrity, etc., need to be considered. It is often useful to complete a "Client Acceptance Form" to assist in determining whether or not to accept a client. An illustrative client acceptance form can be found in AAM section 2200.22.

Understanding the Engagement

.04 SSARS 1, paragraph 8 (AR section 100.08), states that the accountant should establish an understanding with the entity regarding the services to be performed. This understanding should include a description of the nature and limitations of the services to be performed, and a description of the report the accountant expects to render. The understanding should also include an explanation that the engagement cannot be relied upon to disclose errors, irregularities, or illegal acts but should also indicate that if any such matters come to the accountant's attention, the entity will be notified. It is preferable that the understanding be in writing.

.05 It is a requirement of SSARS 1 (AR section 100) that an accountant have a knowledge of the entity's business when performing a compilation or review of its financial statements. The accountant should also possess a level of knowledge of the accounting principles and practices in the industry in which the entity operates. Many accountants find it helpful to complete a "Client Information Form" for their workpapers to document their understanding of the client. An illustrative form can be found in AAM section 2200.23.

Engagement Letters

.06 An engagement letter provides a means of formalizing the understanding between the accountant and the client concerning the services to be rendered. An engagement letter may serve to help reduce or eliminate client misunderstanding and potential legal liability. Illustrative engagement letters for compilation and review engagements can be found in AAM section 2200.24 and .25, respectively.

.07 An engagement letter may cover various services to be rendered. For example, an accountant who performs monthly compilations and a year-end review for a given client, may issue only one engagement letter for that client detailing all services to be performed.

Change in Engagement Level of Service

.08 An accountant who has been engaged to perform audit services with respect to financial statements may be requested by his or her client to change the level of service to be performed. SSARS 1, paragraphs 44 through 49 (AR section 100.44—.49), addresses changing the level of service to a lower level. A request to change the engagement to a review or a compilation may result from a change in circumstances affecting the entity's need for an audit, a misunderstanding of the nature of an audit or the alternative compilation and review services originally available, or a restriction on the scope of the audit, whether imposed by the client or caused by the circumstances.

.09 SSARS 1, paragraph 45 (AR section 100.45), states that before an accountant who was engaged to perform an audit agrees to change the engagement to a compilation or review, at least the following factors should be considered:

- a. The reason given for the client's request, particularly the implications of a restriction on the scope of the audit.
- b. The additional audit effort required to complete the audit.
- c. The estimated additional cost to complete the audit.

.10 A change in circumstances affecting the entity's need for an audit and a misunderstanding of the nature of an audit or the alternative compilation and review services originally available would normally be viewed as a reasonable basis for requesting a change in the level of service.

.11 The accountant should consider the implications of a restriction on the scope of the audit and should evaluate the possibility that information affected by the scope restriction may be incorrect, incomplete, or otherwise unsatisfactory. SSARS 1, paragraph 47 (AR section 100.47), describes the following two circumstances as ordinarily precluding the accountant from lowering his or her level of service from an audit to a compilation or review:

1. The accountant has been prohibited by the client from corresponding with the entity's legal counsel.
2. Management (owners) has refused to sign a client representation letter.

.12 SSARS 1, paragraph 48 (AR section 100.48), states that in all circumstances, if the auditing procedures are virtually complete or the cost to complete such procedures is relatively insignificant, the accountant should consider the propriety of accepting a change in the engagement.

.13 If the accountant agrees to lower the engagement from an audit to a compilation or review, he or she should issue an appropriate compilation or review report. The report should not make reference to the original engagement, any auditing procedures that may have been performed, or any scope limitations that resulted in the changed engagement.

.14 Other situations involving changes in the level of service include changing the level of service from a review to a compilation and also a step-down from full disclosure to omission of substantially all disclosures.

.15 Regarding a change from a review to a compilation, SSARS 1, paragraph 36 (AR section 100.36), indicates that the accountant should consider the same matters as those discussed in AAM section 2200.09 and .10 above.

.16 Interpretation 1 of SSARS 1, "Omission of Disclosures in Reviewed Financial Statements" (AR section 9100.01—.02), prohibits an accountant from issuing a review report of financial statements which omit substantially all disclosures. For a compilation engagement, it is generally acceptable for an accountant to lower the engagement to financial statements that omit substantially all disclosures from a full disclosure compilation when it can be justified that the change in the engagement was not undertaken with the intent to mislead.

.17 The issue of changing the level of an engagement to a higher level of service is not specifically addressed in SSARS 1 (AR section 100). It is generally agreed that a change to a higher level of service is acceptable. In such circumstances, the accountant should be certain that it is possible to comply with the applicable standards for the revised level of service. It is also wise to revise his understanding with the client of the changed engagement, preferably by amending the engagement letter.

Predecessor and Successor Accountant

.18 SSARS 4 (AR section 400) provides guidance to a successor accountant who decides to communicate with a predecessor accountant. Unlike an audit engagement, there is no requirement that the successor accountant communicate with the predecessor accountant in a compilation or review engagement. However, in accordance with SSARS 4, paragraph 3 (AR section 400.03), under the following circumstances the accountant may decide to do so:

- a. Information about the prospective client and its management and principals is limited or appears to require special attention.
- b. The change in accountants takes place substantially after the end of the accounting period for which financial statements are to be compiled or reviewed.
- c. There have been frequent changes in accountants.

.19 According to SSARS 4, paragraph 4 (AR section 400.04), when the successor accountant decides to communicate with the predecessor, he or she should request the client to (1) permit him or her to make inquiries of the predecessor and (2) authorize the predecessor to fully respond to those inquiries.

.20 The inquiries of the successor accountant will normally include questions concerning (1) information that might bear on the integrity of management (owners), (2) disagreements with management (owners) about accounting principles or the necessity of performing certain procedures, (3) the cooperation of management in providing additional or revised information, when necessary, and (4) the predecessor's understanding of the reasons for the change of accountants.

.21 The predecessor accountant is expected to respond both promptly and fully to requests of the type cited in the aforementioned paragraph. Valid business reasons (e.g., unpaid fees) may preclude the predecessor from responding to the inquiries of the successor. The predecessor may also decide, due to unusual circumstances such as impending litigation, not to respond fully to the successor. In such an instance, the predecessor should indicate that the response is limited and the successor should consider both the reasons for and implications of such a response in deciding whether to undertake the engagement.

.22 Client Acceptance Form

INSTRUCTIONS: This form should be completed for each prospective client before accepting an engagement.

Client Name:

Address:

Telephone Number:

Form of Legal Entity:
(partnership, corporation, etc.)

What type of business is the client in?

List management and officers of the client:

How did we become aware of this potential client?

Are the client's accounting services now being performed by another accounting firm? If yes, what is the name of the firm and the client's reason for changing accounting firms?

Have we contacted the client's previous accounting firm? If yes, list their comments. If not, explain why.

Does the client owe fees to the previous accountants?

Did we have prior knowledge of the client? If not, list the names of references checked and any comments.

What services would our firm be expected to perform? What would the timing of these services be?

Estimate the net fees and describe the billing arrangements.

Is there any reason to doubt the client's management or officers' representations or integrity? If yes, describe.

Are we aware of any independence problems between this client and our staff? If yes, describe.

Does our firm have the necessary expertise and staff to perform the engagement properly?

.24 Illustrative Engagement Letter for a Compilation

SWIFT, MARCH & COMPANY

Certified Public Accountants

[Date]

Mr. Tom Jones, President
ZYXWV Freight Corporation
648 Crystal Lane
Noplace, Anystate 00000

Dear Mr. Jones:

This letter is to confirm our understanding of the terms and objectives of our engagement and the nature and limitations of the services we will provide.

We will perform the following services:

1. We will compile, from information you provide, the annual and interim balance sheets and related statements of income, retained earnings and cash flows of ZYXWV Freight Corporation for the year 19XX. We will not audit or review such financial statements. Our report on the annual financial statements of ZYXWV Freight Corporation is presently expected to read as follows:

We have compiled the accompanying balance sheet of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19XX, and the related statements of income, retained earnings and cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

A compilation is limited to presenting in the form of financial statements information that is the representation of management (owners). We have not audited or reviewed the accompanying financial statements and, accordingly, do not express an opinion or any other form of assurance on them.

Our report on your interim financial statements, which statements will omit substantially all disclosures, will include an additional paragraph that will read as follows:

Management has elected to omit substantially all of the disclosures required by generally accepted accounting principles. If the omitted disclosures were included in the financial statements, they might influence the user's conclusions about the company's financial position, results of operations, and cash flows. Accordingly, these financial statements are not designed for those who are not informed about such matters.

If, for any reason, we are unable to complete the compilation of your financial statements, we will not issue a report on such statements as a result of this engagement.

2. We will assist your bookkeeper in adjusting the books of account so that he will be able to prepare a working trial balance from which financial statements can be compiled. Your bookkeeper will provide us with a detailed trial balance and any supporting schedules we require.
3. We will also prepare the federal and state [identify states] income tax returns for ZYXWV Freight Corporation for the fiscal year ended December 31, 19XX.

Our engagement cannot be relied upon to disclose errors and irregularities, including fraud or defalcations, that may exist. However, we will inform you of irregularities that come to our attention, unless they are inconsequential.

Our fees for these services....

We shall be pleased to discuss this letter with you at any time.

If the foregoing is in accordance with your understanding, please sign the copy of this letter in the space provided and return it to us.*

Sincerely yours,

Swift, March & Company

Acknowledged:

.25 Illustrative Engagement Letter for a Review

SWIFT, MARCH & COMPANY

Certified Public Accountants

[Date]

Mr. Tom Jones, President
ZYXWV Freight Company
648 Crystal Lane
Nowhere, Anystate 00000

Dear Mr. Jones:

This letter is to confirm our understanding of the terms and objectives of our engagement and the nature and limitations of the services we will provide.

We will perform the following services:

1. We will review the balance sheet of ZYXWV Freight Company as of [date], and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. We will not perform an audit of such financial statements taken as a whole, and accordingly, we do not express an opinion on them. A review does not contemplate obtaining an understanding of the internal control structure or assessing control risk, tests of accounting records and responses to inquiries by obtaining corroborating evidential matter, and certain other procedures ordinarily performed during an audit. Thus, a review does not provide assurance that we will become aware of all significant matters that would be disclosed in an audit. Our engagement cannot be relied upon to disclose errors, irregularities, or illegal acts, including fraud or defalcations, that may exist. However, we will inform you of any such matters that come to our attention, unless they are inconsequential.

Our report is presently expected to read as follows:

We have reviewed the accompanying balance sheet of ZYXWV Freight Company as of [date], and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. All information included in these financial statements is the representation of the management of ZYXWV Freight Company.

A review consists principally of inquiries of company personnel and analytical procedures applied to financial data. It is substantially less in scope than an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly we do not express such an opinion.

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying financial statements in order for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

If, for any reason, we are unable to complete our review of your financial statements, we will not issue a report on such statements as a result of this engagement.

2. We will provide your chief accountant with such consultation on accounting matters as he may be required in adjusting and closing the books of account and in drafting financial statements for our review. Your chief accountant also will provide us with a detailed trial balance and any supporting schedules we require.

3. We will also prepare the federal and state [identify states] income tax returns for ZYXWV Freight Company for the fiscal year ended [date].

Our fees for these services....

We shall be pleased to discuss this letter with you at any time.

If the foregoing is in accordance with your understanding, please sign the copy of this letter in the space provided and return it to us.*

Sincerely yours,

AAM Section 2300

Working Papers

Compilation Engagements

.01 SSARS 1 (AR section 100) does not address workpaper documentation for a compilation engagement. However, many accountants prefer compilation workpapers that include all necessary documentation to verify that compilation procedures were performed. In determining what workpapers the accountant will need, he or she should consider any peer review requirements that the firm will need to meet. AAM section 11,000 offers a discussion on compliance with the AICPA's quality control standards.

Compilation Procedures

.02 The following items are generally documented in a CPA's compilation workpapers:

- Documentation of the accountant's knowledge of the client's business and the accounting principles and practices of the industry in which the entity operates
- Documentation of the understanding with the client concerning the services to be rendered, usually in the form of an engagement letter
- Documentation that the accountant has read the compiled financial statements
- Support for a change in the level of service performed, if necessary
- Working trial balance
- Reasons for omitting substantially all disclosures
- Documentation of discussions of unusual items

.03 In addition, if the CPA prepares the financial statements as well as compiles them, he or she should also include in the workpapers the following:

- Support for information in the notes to the financial statements
- Copies of preliminary client records (e.g., working trial balance and adjustments) required to arrive at final compiled financial statements

Compilation Checklists

.04 Procedural checklists can serve as means of documenting in the workpapers that all the necessary procedures have been performed. When completing a procedural checklist, the accountant should refer to the specific workpaper documenting completion of the checklist step. An illustrative procedural checklist for a compilation can be found in AAM section 2300.14.

Review Engagements

.05 As noted in AAM section 2100, a review of financial statements involves performing inquiry and analytical procedures. SSARS 1, paragraph 30 (AR section 100.30), discusses workpaper documentation for review engagements. SSARS 1 (AR section 100) does not specify the form or content of the working papers in connection with a review engagement, but paragraph 30 does state that the working papers should describe the following:

- a. The matters covered in the accountant's inquiry and analytical procedures

- b. Unusual matters that the accountant considered during the performance of the review, including their disposition

Review Procedures—Inquiry

.06 SSARS 1, paragraph 27 (AR section 100.27), states that the accountant's inquiries should generally consist of the following:

- a. Inquiries concerning the entity's accounting principles and practices and the methods followed in applying them.
- b. Inquiries concerning the entity's procedures for recording, classifying, and summarizing transactions, and accumulating information for disclosure in the financial statements.
- c. Inquiries concerning actions taken at meetings of stockholders, board of directors, committees of the board of directors, or comparable meetings that may affect the financial statements.
- d. Inquiries of persons having responsibility for financial and accounting matters concerning (1) whether the financial statements have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied, (2) changes in the entity's business activities or accounting principles and practices, (3) matters as to which questions have arisen in the course of applying the foregoing procedures, and (4) events subsequent to the date of the financial statements that would have a material effect on the financial statements.

.07 SSARS 1, Appendix A (AR section 100.52), contains illustrative inquiries in connection with a review engagement. These illustrative inquiries appear in AAM section 2300.15. These inquiries do not necessarily apply to all engagements, nor are they meant to be all-inclusive.

Review Procedures—Analytical

.08 SSARS 1, paragraph 27c (AR section 100.27c), states that analytical procedures consist of the following:

1. Comparison of the financial statements with statements for a comparable prior period(s)
2. Comparison of the financial statements with anticipated results, if available
3. Study of the relationship of the elements of the financial statements that would be expected to conform to a predictable pattern based on the entity's experience

.09 Three common forms of analytical procedures are ratio analysis, trend analysis, and tests for reasonableness of data. Once the accountant performs his analytical procedures, he or she must evaluate the results, usually against past historical results or industry averages. Illustrative analytical procedures workpapers can be found in AAM section 2300.16 and .17.

.10 SSARS 1, paragraph 27 (AR section 100.27), also suggests that the following review procedures be performed:

- a. Reading the financial statements to consider, on the basis of information coming to the accountant's attention, whether the financial statements appear to conform with generally accepted accounting principles
- b. Obtaining reports from other accountants, if any, who have been engaged to audit or review the financial statements of significant components of the reporting entity, its subsidiaries, and other investees

.11 The following items are usually included in the workpapers for a review engagement:

- Documentation of the accountant's knowledge of the client's business and the accounting principles and practices of the industry in which it operates
- An engagement letter
- Support for a change in the level of service, if any
- Documentation of all inquiries and respective responses
- Documentation of all analytical procedures
- A representation letter
- Documentation of discussions of unusual matters
- Copies of reports of other accountants who have performed services with respect to a subsidiary or other significant investee

Representation Letters

.12 SSARS 1, paragraph 31 (AR section 100.31), states that the accountant may wish to obtain a representation letter from the owner, manager, or chief executive officer. Many accountants believe that the "may" is not as optional as it sounds and that representation letters should be obtained for all review engagements, as is the case in audit engagements. An illustrative representation letter for a review engagement can be found in AAM section 2300.18.

Review Checklists

.13 In the same way that procedural checklists are suggested for compilation engagements, it is wise to prepare such a checklist for a review engagement. An illustrative procedural checklist for a review engagement can be found in AAM section 2300.19.

.14 Short-Form Checklist for a Compilation Engagement

	AR Ref.*	Initials
1. Obtain an engagement letter.	.08	_____
2. Acquire the necessary knowledge of client's industry accounting principles and practices.	.10	_____
3. Acquire a general understanding of the client's business transactions, the form of the accounting records, the stated qualifications of the accounting personnel, the accounting basis used, and the form and content of the financial statements. (It is not necessary to make inquiries or perform other procedures unless the information supplied is questionable.)	.11-12	_____
4. Read the financial statements and determine if they are appropriate in form and free from obvious material error.	.13	_____
5. Consider whether all disclosures required by generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) or an acceptable comprehensive basis of accounting are provided. If they are not, go to step 6. If they are, go to step 7.	.19	_____
6. If substantially all disclosures required by GAAP or an other comprehensive basis of accounting are omitted, indicate this in a separate paragraph in your report; if a comprehensive basis of accounting other than GAAP is used, disclose this basis either in the financial statements or in your report. If the statement of cash flows is also omitted in GAAP statements, modify the scope paragraph and disclosure deficiency paragraph accordingly. If most, but not all, disclosures are omitted, notes to the financial statements should be labeled "Selected Information—Substantially All Disclosures Required by Generally Accepted Accounting Principles Are Not Included."	.19-21	_____
7. Consider whether the financial statements contain measurement departures from GAAP or other comprehensive basis of accounting. If they do, go to step 8. If they do not, go to step 9.	.39	_____
8. Get client to revise the financial statements. Failing that, consider modifying your report by adding a separate paragraph or paragraphs. If the impact of the departure has been determined by management or is known by you, disclose the dollar effects in your report. (However, uncertainties and inconsistencies are not measurement departures if they are properly disclosed. See step 5.) Withdraw from the engagement if the GAAP departures are designed to mislead statement users.	.39-40	_____
9. Determine whether the firm is independent. If the firm is not, go to step 10. If the firm is, go to step 11.	.22	_____
10. If the firm is not independent, add a separate paragraph to your report: "I am (we are) not independent with respect to XYZ Company."	.22	_____
11. If the financial statements are accompanied by information presented for supplementary analysis purposes, include such other data in the compilation report.	.43	_____
12. Mark each page of the financial statements, including any supplemental data, "See accompanying notes and accountant's report."	.16	_____
13. Date your report using the date the compilation was completed.	.15	_____
14. Issue the financial statements and related compilation report.	.14	_____
15. If subsequent to the date of the report, facts that would possibly cause the financial statements to be misleading are discovered (and were in existence at the report date), consult SAS No. 1, section 561 (AU section 561), Interpretation No. 4 of SSARS No. 1 (AR section 9100.13—.15), and your attorney.	.42	_____

.18 Review of Financial Statements—Illustrative Representation Letter

(Date of Accountant's Report)

(To the Accountant)

In connection with your review of the (identification of financial statements) of (name of client) as of (date) and for the (period of review) for the purpose of expressing limited assurance that there are no material modifications that should be made to the statements in order for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, we confirm, to the best of our knowledge and belief, the following representations made to you during your review.

1. The financial statements referred to above present the financial position, results of operations, and cash flows of (name of client) in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. In that connection, we specifically confirm that—
 - a. The company's accounting principles, and the practices and methods followed in applying them, are as disclosed in the financial statements.
 - b. There have been no changes during the (period reviewed) in the company's accounting principles and practices.
 - c. We have no plans or intentions that may materially affect the carrying value or classification of assets and liabilities.
 - d. There are no material transactions that have not been properly reflected in the financial statements.
 - e. There are no material losses (such as from obsolete inventory or purchase or sales commitments) that have not been properly accrued or disclosed in the financial statements.
 - f. There are no violations or possible violations of laws or regulations whose effects should be considered for disclosure in the financial statements or as a basis for recording a loss contingency, and there are no other material liabilities or gain or loss contingencies that are required to be accrued or disclosed.
 - g. The company has satisfactory title to all owned assets, and there are no liens or encumbrances on such assets nor has any asset been pledged.
 - h. There are no related party transactions or related amounts receivable or payable that have not been properly disclosed in the financial statements.
 - i. We have complied with all aspects of contractual agreements that would have a material effect on the financial statements in the event of noncompliance.
 - j. No events have occurred subsequent to the balance sheet date that would require adjustment to, or disclosure in, the financial statements.

2. We have advised you of all actions taken at meetings of stockholders, board of directors, and committees of the board of directors (or other similar bodies, as applicable) that may affect the financial statements.
3. We have responded fully to all inquiries made to us by you during your review.

AAM Section 2400

Form and Content of Financial Statements

Statements Prepared

.01 The basic financial statements for a company that presents its financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) are:

- Balance Sheet
- Income Statement
- Statement of Cash Flows (either direct or indirect method)
- Statement of Changes in Stockholders' Equity

Examples of financial statement presentations can be found in the AICPA Disclosure Checklist Series.

.02 The description of accounting policies and the notes to the financial statements are considered part of the basic financial statements.

.03 Each financial statement presented should include the name of the company, the applicable statement title, and the date or time period covered. SSARS 1, paragraph 16 (AR section 100.16), states that each page of financial statements compiled by the accountant should contain a reference such as "See Accountant's Compilation Report." Each page of reviewed financial statements should refer to the accountant's review report, as required by SSARS 1, paragraph 34 (AR section 100.34).

.04 When the financial statements are either compiled or reviewed, some accountants prefer to follow the statement title with the word "unaudited." SSARS 1 (AR section 100) does not require use of the word "unaudited" when associated with compiled or reviewed statements nor does it prohibit its use.

Comparative Financial Statements

.05 There is no requirement to prepare comparative financial statements. However, Accounting Research Bulletin (ARB) No. 43, Restatement and Revision of Accounting Research Bulletins, chapter 2, paragraph 1, states that comparative statements in annual and other reports enhance the usefulness of such reports. ARB No. 43 also states that footnotes of the prior year should be repeated, or referred to, to the extent that they continue to be of significance.

.06 When comparative financial statements are presented, the accountant should issue an appropriate report for each period presented in accordance with SSARS 2 (AR section 200). Comparative financial statements may contain statements for which the level of service provided in each period is different. Many times the level of service is indicated in the statement title as follows:

ABC COMPANY
BALANCE SHEETS
As of December 31, 19X2 (Reviewed) and 19X1 (Compiled)

.07 Illustrative reports on comparative financial statements can be found in AAM sections 10,400.12—.17 and 10,500.07—.12.

Notes to Financial Statements

.08 The notes to the financial statements, as a part of the basic statements, are the responsibility of management. The accountant should explain the statements and the footnotes to the client so that the client understands the statements in sufficient depth to take full responsibility for them. The practitioner who assists the client in preparing the financial statements or who totally prepares them must be careful in the wording of the notes. The accountant should avoid wording the notes in such a way as would imply that they are the responsibility of the accountant. For example, words such as "we," "our," and "the client," should be avoided. When referring to the client, some accountants prefer to use the terms "the Company" or "Management."

.09 All of the disclosures required by GAAP should be made either on the face of the financial statements or in the notes thereto. In a compilation engagement, the client may elect to omit substantially all disclosures; a more detailed discussion of this appears in AAM section 2500. For a list of required disclosures, the accountant and the client may wish to review the applicable AICPA disclosure checklists.

Supplementary Information

.10 The accountant's report on supplementary information is discussed in SSARS 1, paragraph 43 (AR section 100.43), which states that when the basic financial statements are accompanied by information presented for supplementary analysis purposes, the accountant should clearly indicate the degree of responsibility he is taking regarding the other information. The supplementary information is generally separated from the basic financial statements and many accountants believe it should be presented after the basic statements.

.11 When the accountant compiles both the basic financial statements and the other data presented for supplementary analysis purposes only, his or her compilation report should include the supplementary information.

.12 When the accountant has reviewed the basic financial statements, he may indicate the degree of responsibility he is taking with respect to the other information by an explanation in his review report or in a separate report on the other data, that the review has been made for the purpose of expressing limited assurance that there are no material modifications that should be made to the financial statements for them to be in conformity with GAAP, and either—

- a. The other data accompanying the financial statements are presented for supplementary analysis purposes only and have been subjected to the inquiry and analytical procedures applied in the review of the financial statements, and the accountant did not become aware of any material modifications that should be made to such data, or
- b. The other data accompanying the financial statements are presented for supplementary analysis purposes and have not been subjected to the inquiry and analytical procedures applied in the review of the financial statements, but were compiled from information that is the representation of management, without audit or review, and the accountant does not express an opinion or any other form of assurance on such data.

.13 Illustrative accountants' reports on supplementary information accompanying compiled and reviewed financial statements can be found in AAM sections 10,400.18 and 10,500.13—.14, respectively.

Subsequent Discovery of Facts

.14 Subsequent to the report date for compiled or reviewed financial statements the accountant may become aware of facts that may have existed at the report date which might have caused the accountant to believe that information supplied by the client was incorrect, incomplete, or otherwise unsatisfactory. SSARS 1, paragraph 42 (AR section 100.42), states that, in those circumstances, the accountant may wish to consider the guidance in SAS No. 1, section 561, Subsequent Discovery of Facts Existing at the Date of the Auditor's Report (AU section 561), in determining the proper course of action.

.15 Interpretation 4 of SSARS 1, "Discovery of Information After the Date of the Accountant's Report" (AR section 9100.13—.15), discusses two factors the accountant might consider when determining the appropriate course of action regarding the subsequent discovery. The two factors discussed are (1) the reliability of the information and (2) the existence of persons known to be relying on or likely to rely on the financial statements. If the accountant determines that the information is reliable and there are persons known to be relying on or likely to rely on the information, the accountant would ordinarily conclude that those individuals should be notified in an appropriate manner.

.16 Both SSARS 1, paragraph 42 (AR section 100.42) and Interpretation 4 (AR section 9100.13—.15) indicate that because of the legal implications involved in actions contemplated under SAS No. 1, section 561 (AU section 561), and Interpretation 4 discussed in paragraphs .14 and .15, the accountant should consider consulting an attorney.

Accountants' Reports

.01 The users of financial statements should be able to easily identify the degree of responsibility that an accountant is taking with respect to a specific set of financial statements. The usual method of conveying the amount of responsibility taken is the written accountant's report. Therefore, whenever an accountant reviews or compiles financial statements, he should issue a report prepared in accordance with the statements on standards for accounting and review services.

.02 According to SSARS 1, paragraph 6 (AR section 100.06), an accountant should not consent to the use of his name in a document or written communication containing unaudited financial statements unless

- a. he has compiled or reviewed the financial statements and his report accompanies them, or
- b. the financial statements are accompanied by an indication that the accountant has not compiled or reviewed the financial statements and that he assumes no responsibility for them.

.03 If an accountant becomes aware that his name has been improperly used in a client-prepared document containing unaudited financial statements, he should advise his client that use of his name is inappropriate. The accountant should consider what other courses of action need to be taken, including consulting with his or her attorney.

.04 An accountant should not submit unaudited financial statements to his client or third parties unless, as a minimum service, he has compiled the financial statements in accordance with statements on standards for accounting and review services.

.05 If the accountant has performed more than one service, he should issue the report which is appropriate for the highest level of service performed. For example, if an accountant performs both a compilation and an audit of financial statements, the appropriate report to issue would be the audit report.

Compilation Report

.06 SSARS 1, paragraph 14 (AR section 100.14), states that financial statements compiled by an accountant should be accompanied by a report that states—

- a. A compilation has been performed in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.
- b. A compilation is limited to presenting in the form of financial statements information that is the representation of management.
- c. The financial statements have not been audited or reviewed and, accordingly, the accountant does not express an opinion or any other form of assurance on them.

Any other procedures performed by the accountant either before or during the compilation engagement should not be described in the accountant's report. An example of the accountant's standard compilation report can be found in AAM section 10,400.01.

.07 Each page of the financial statements compiled by the accountant should include a reference to the accountant's report, such as, "See Accountant's Compilation Report."

.08 The date of the completion of the compilation should be used as the date of the accountant's report.

.09 An accountant may be asked to issue a compilation report on only one financial statement and not on the other related financial statements, for example, reporting on the balance sheet, but not on the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows. SSARS 1 (AR section 100) does not prohibit the accountant from performing such a service.

.10 If an accountant is not independent, he may still issue a compilation report, provided that he has followed the appropriate authoritative literature during his engagement. The accountant should disclose his lack of independence; however, the reason should not be described. The following statement should be included as the last paragraph of his report:

I am (we are) not independent with respect to XYZ Company.

Review Report

.11 SSARS 1, paragraph 32 (AR section 100.32), states that financial statements reviewed by an accountant should be accompanied by a report which states—

- a. A review has been performed in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.
- b. All information included in the financial statements is the representation of management of the entity.
- c. A review consists principally of inquiries of company personnel and analytical procedures applied to financial data.
- d. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole and, accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- e. The accountant is not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the financial statements in order for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP), other than those modifications, if any, indicated in his report.

Any other procedures performed by the accountant either before or during the review engagement should not be described in the accountant's report. An example of the accountant's standard review report can be found in AAM section 10,500.01.

.12 Each page of the financial statements reviewed by the accountant should include a reference to the accountant's report, such as, "See Accountant's Review Report."

.13 The date of the completion of the accountant's inquiry and analytical procedures should be used as the date of the accountant's report:

.14 If an accountant is unable to perform the necessary inquiry and analytical procedures to achieve the limited assurance which is contemplated by a review, then his review is incomplete. Therefore, he would not have an adequate basis for issuing a review report. If this is the case, then the accountant should consider whether in this situation the incomplete review also precludes him from issuing a compilation report on the financial statements. A change in the level of service is discussed in AAM section 2200.07 through .16.

.15 An accountant may be asked to issue a review report on only one financial statement and not on the other related financial statements, for example, reporting on the balance sheet, but not on the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows. According to SSARS 1, paragraph 37 (AR section 100.37), the accountant may do so as long as the scope of his analytical procedures has not been limited.

.16 SSARS 1, paragraph 38 (AR section 100.38), precludes the accountant from issuing a review report for an entity with respect to which the accountant is not independent.

Modifications to Standard Report

Omission of Substantially All Disclosures

.17 SSARS 1, paragraphs 19 through 21 (AR section 100.19—.21), discuss reporting on financial statements that omit substantially all disclosures. An accountant may compile financial statements that omit substantially all disclosures required by GAAP, provided that this omission is clearly indicated in his report, and is not, to the accountant's knowledge, undertaken with the intention to mislead the user of the financial statements. Examples of the appropriate reports under these circumstances can be found in AAM section 10,400.02—.03.

.18 If the entity wants to include disclosures about only a few matters in the form of notes to the financial statements, then that information should be clearly labeled as selected information, i.e., "Selected Information—Substantially All Disclosures Required by Generally Accepted Accounting Principles Are Not Included."

.19 If the financial statements are compiled in accordance with a comprehensive basis of accounting other than GAAP and disclosure is not made of the basis used, then the basis should be disclosed in the accountant's report.

Omission of Statement of Cash Flows

.20 FASB Statement No. 95, Statement of Cash Flows, paragraph 3, requires that a business enterprise that provides a set of financial statements that reports both financial position and results of operations should include a statement of cash flows for each period for which results of operations are reported. Therefore, omitting this statement is a departure from GAAP. A GAAP departure must be disclosed in a separate paragraph of the accountant's report. If the statement of cash flows is omitted, then the following paragraph should be added to the accountant's compilation or review report:

A statement of cash flows for the year ended December 31, 19XX, has not been presented. Generally accepted accounting principles require that such a statement be presented when financial statements purport to present financial position and results of operation.

The first paragraph of the report should also be modified accordingly. Examples of the full accountant's reports, both compilation and review, can be found in AAM sections 10,400.03 and 10,500.04, respectively.

GAAP Departures

.21 An accountant who is engaged to compile or review financial statements may become aware of a GAAP departure which is material to the financial statements taken as a whole. The accountant should ask management to revise the financial statements. If management refuses to revise the financial statements, then the accountant should consider whether modification of his standard report is sufficient to disclose the departure.

.22 SSARS 1, paragraph 40 (AR section 100.40), states that if the accountant decides that modification of the standard report is appropriate, then the departure should be disclosed in a separate paragraph of his report. This disclosure should include the effects of the departure on the financial statements if management has determined these effects, or as part of the procedures performed the accountant has been able to determine the effects himself. The accountant is not required to determine the effects if management has not done so and this is clearly stated in his report. Examples of both compilation and review reports can be found in AAM sections 10,400.05—.06 and 10,500.02—.04, respectively.

.23 If the accountant believes that modification of the standard compilation or review report is not sufficient to indicate the deficiencies of the financial statements taken as a whole, then according to SSARS 1, paragraph 41 (AR section 100.41), the accountant should withdraw from the engagement and provide no further services with respect to that set of financial statements. The accountant may also want to contact his attorney.

Scope Limitations

.24 According to SSARS 1, paragraph 36 (AR section 100.36), if an accountant is unable to perform the necessary inquiry and analytical procedures to achieve the limited assurance which is contemplated by a review, then his review is incomplete. Therefore, he would not have an adequate basis for issuing a review report. If this is the case, then the accountant should consider whether in this situation the incomplete review also precludes him from issuing a compilation report on the financial statements.

.25 The decision to issue a compilation report under these circumstances is a matter of professional judgment. Interpretation No. 14 of SSARS 1, "Reporting on Financial Statements When the Scope of the Accountant's Procedures Has Been Restricted" (AR section 9100.50—.53), offers guidance on making this judgment.

.26 Interpretation No. 14 (AR section 9100.50—.53) says that the accountant should consider whether the client has refused to provide additional information or make requested revisions, or the client is unable to provide such information because of circumstances beyond his control. If a client refuses to furnish this additional information, then according to SSARS 1, paragraph 12 (AR section 100.12), the accountant should withdraw from the engagement.

.27 If the client is unable to provide the information because of circumstances beyond his control, the accountant should consider the reasons for the limitation. Before deciding to issue a compilation report he should also consider the impact of the limitation on the usefulness of the financial statements. If the accountant decides to issue a compilation report under these circumstances, he should consider adding an explanatory paragraph that describes the nature of the limitation.

Uncertainties

.28 Interpretation No. 11 of SSARS 1, "Reporting on Uncertainties" (AR section 9100.33—.40), offers guidance on the accountant's reporting obligations when there is an uncertainty in the financial statements. Disclosure guidelines for uncertainties can be found in FASB Statement No. 5, Accounting for Contingencies (AC C59), and FASB Statement No. 47, Disclosure of Long-Term Obligations (AC C32).

.29 The accounting literature does not provide any guidance concerning the necessary disclosures for an uncertainty caused by doubts about an entity's ability to continue as a going concern. This guidance is found in SAS No. 59, The Auditor's Consideration of an Entity's Ability to Continue as a Going Concern, paragraphs 10 and 11 (AU section 341.10—.11).

.30 If the accountant believes that the disclosure of an uncertainty in the financial statements is inadequate, then he should look to the guidance on reporting on GAAP departures, AAM section 2500.21—.23, for the necessary modifications to his report. If the accountant believes that the disclosure of an uncertainty in the financial statements is adequate, then according to SSARS 1, paragraph 40, footnote 14 (AR section 100.40), there is no need to modify the accountant's standard report, either compilation or review.

.31 Although it is not required, an accountant may wish to add an explanatory paragraph to his compilation or review report to emphasize the existence of an uncertainty. An example of an explanatory paragraph follows:

As discussed in Note X, certain conditions indicate that the Company may be unable to continue as a going concern. The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments to the financial statements that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

Examples of full compilation and review reports for this situation can be found in AAM sections 10,400.21 and 10,500.15, respectively.

AAM Section 2600

Special Areas

Prescribed Forms

.01 SSARS 3 (AR section 300) allows an accountant to issue a compilation report on a prescribed form which calls for a departure from GAAP by using a measurement principle different from GAAP or by not requiring the disclosures required by GAAP. A prescribed form is defined in SSARS 3, paragraph 2 (AR section 300.02), as “any standard preprinted form designed or adopted by a body to which it is to be submitted, for example, forms used by industry trade associations, credit agencies, banks, and governmental and regulatory bodies other than those concerned with the sale or trading of securities.”

.02 Generally, it is assumed that the information required by a prescribed form meets the needs of the body that required the form to be completed, and, therefore, it is not necessary for that body to be advised of departures from GAAP that are required by the form. An example of the compilation report to be issued when the unaudited financial statements of a nonpublic entity are included in a prescribed form that calls for departures from GAAP can be found in AAM section 10,400.19.

.03 If, during the compilation engagement, the accountant becomes aware of a departure from GAAP not required by the prescribed form, he should follow the guidance discussed in AAM section 2500.21 through .23 on GAAP departures. If the accountant finds that there is a departure from the requirements of the prescribed form, he should consider the departure the same as he would a departure from GAAP in determining the effects on his report. An example of a compilation report for a departure from GAAP which was not called for by the prescribed form can be found in AAM section 10,400.20.

.04 SSARS 3, paragraph 5 (AR section 300.05), states that if the accountant is asked to sign a preprinted form which does not conform with the guidance found in SSARS 3 (AR section 300) or SSARS 1 (AR section 100), he should not sign the form. He should add the appropriate report to the prescribed form.

Specified Elements

.05 SSARS 1 (AR section 100) provides guidance on the compilation and review of financial statements. Some accountants are asked to issue review reports on separate presentations of specified elements, accounts or items of financial statements or to report on agreed-upon procedures. Since this type of presentation is not a financial statement, guidance for this type of engagement is not found in the statements on standards for accounting and review services. This type of presentation should be reported on in accordance with SAS No. 14, Special Reports (AU section 621), and SAS No. 35, Special Reports—Applying Agreed-Upon Procedures to Specified Elements, Accounts, or Items of a Financial Statement (AU section 622).

ENGAGEMENT PLANNING AND ADMINISTRATION

Sections 3165, 3170, and 3175 include illustrative audit assignment control forms, engagement letters, and an illustrative planning checklist that can be used by an accountant in the planning phase of an audit engagement.

Various formats of audit assignment controls, engagement letters, and planning checklists are in use; nevertheless, inclusion of the formats in this section in no way means that they are preferable. Readers are urged to refer directly to authoritative pronouncements when appropriate.

Illustrative formats of audit assignment controls, engagement letters, and planning checklists are often helpful in developing a consistent style within a firm. However, no set of illustrative formats can cover all the situations that are likely to be encountered in practice because the circumstances of engagements vary widely.

Readers should consider other sources of illustrative presentations, such as those in authoritative pronouncements and AICPA audit and accounting guides.

Planning the Engagement

.01 The planning phase is an important part of every engagement. During this phase, the partner and the staff review the client's business and the industry in which the client operates, then develop an overall strategy for the expected conduct and scope of the engagement.

.02 The need for planning is highlighted in Rule 201, General Standards (ET section 201.01), AICPA Code of Professional Conduct, which states: "A member shall adequately plan and supervise an engagement."

.03 The first standard of fieldwork of generally accepted auditing standards states: "The work is to be adequately planned and assistants, if any, are to be properly supervised." Statement on Auditing Standards (SAS) No. 22, Planning and Supervision (AU section 311), provides authoritative interpretive guidance on the first standard of fieldwork.

.04 Proper planning also enhances the productivity of engagement personnel and should result in a more profitable engagement.

.05 The planning memo and the planning checklist are two commonly used planning documents. The style and complexity of these documents will depend on engagement needs and firm preference. The same memo or checklist may be referred to in the review process to ensure that the items highlighted in the planning phase are given adequate attention during the engagement.

.06 The steps in audit planning are as follows:

- a. Understand the scope of services and the nature of reports expected to be rendered.
- b. Decide whether or not to accept the engagement.
- c. Assign personnel to the engagement and prepare a preliminary time budget.
- d. Assess independence of firm and audit team.
- e. Understand the entity's business and the industry in which it operates.
- f. Assess the auditability of the entity by—
 1. Gaining an adequate understanding of the internal control structure.
 2. Evaluating management integrity.
- g. Establish an agreement with the client, preferably with an engagement letter.
- h. Assess control risks.
- i. Make a preliminary judgment about materiality levels for audit purposes.
- j. Estimate the level of audit risk and consider its interactive components.
- k. Consider how components of audit risk relate to one another for each cycle or major account.
- l. Consider cost-effectiveness of different audit strategies.
- m. Write the audit program and finalize a time budget.

Understanding the Assignment

.01 The auditor should (a) meet with the client to understand the type, scope, and timing of the engagement; (b) understand if reports on compliance, internal control structure, or segments of the entity are required; (c) understand the client's expectations, both stated and implied; and (d) review the expectations of both the owners and managers.

.02 A sample checklist documenting the procedures listed in this section is located in AAM section 3165.

AAM Section 3110

Assigning Personnel to the Engagement

General Comments

.01 Engagement planning should include procedures for assigning personnel to the engagement. The procedures established should provide the firm with reasonable assurance that work will be performed by persons having the degree of technical training and proficiency required in the circumstances. Generally, the more able and experienced the personnel assigned to a particular engagement, the less need for direct supervision.

.02 Some procedures regarding assignment of personnel to the engagement are discussed in this section. The specific procedures adopted by a firm would not necessarily include all the procedures or be limited to those discussed. Overall firm requirements for assigning personnel to engagements are addressed in the Quality Control Policies and Procedures for CPA Firms, "Establishing Quality Control Policies and Procedures," (QC section 90), paragraphs .11—.12. (See AAM section 11,600.03—.06 for examples of quality control forms which can be helpful in assigning personnel to engagements.)

Engagement Planning Procedures

.03 A time budget for the engagement should generally be prepared to determine manpower requirements and to schedule field work. The engagement partner should approve the time budget prior to the beginning of field work. A time budget should have columns for budgeted time (in hours) for preliminary and final field work. Time budget forms differ depending upon firm preference and needs. Some firms use separate forms for the time budget report and the job progress report or analysis (see AAM section 3170.01 for "Audit Time Budget—Sample A"), whereas others combine these reports into one form (see AAM section 3170.02 for "Audit Time Budget—Sample B").

.04 Other alternatives include longer, more detailed sets of forms. These forms combine the features of a time budget, a source document for staff scheduling, and a job progress report that compares each assigned person's actual daily hours against the budget. Some firms use a shorter, less detailed form for jobs of less than a pre-determined number of staff hours (for example, one hundred hours; see AAM section 3170.03 for "Audit Time Analysis—Short Form") and a longer form for jobs requiring more time (see AAM section 3170.04 for "Audit Time Analysis—Long Form"). Some firms use a weekly (or daily) progress report (see AAM section 3170.05, for example). This report, submitted by the accountant in charge, shows the time actually spent in relation to the estimate, the estimated additional time required, and the estimated variance from the original estimate.

.05 When the combined time budget and progress report form (sample B) is used, it must be kept current as the assignment progresses. This form is carried in the working papers file and is filled in daily by the accountant in charge, for all persons applying time on the engagement. This procedure is vital to identify and control time as it is applied so that it can be compared to the budgeted time for that phase of the engagement.

.06 The following factors should be considered in achieving a balance of engagement manpower requirements, personnel skills, individual development, and utilization:

- a. Engagement size and complexity
- b. Personnel availability
- c. Special expertise
- d. Timing of the work to be performed
- e. Continuity and periodic rotation of personnel

f. Opportunities for on-the-job training

.07 The scheduling and staffing of the engagement should be approved by the partner with final responsibility for the engagement so that the partner can consider the qualifications, experience, and training of personnel to be assigned. The experience and training of the engagement personnel should be considered in relation to the complexity or other requirements of the engagement and the extent of supervision to be provided.

.08 It is recommended that all procedures discussed in this section be documented in the accountant's work papers. A sample checklist documenting the procedures listed in this section is located in AAM section 3165.

AAM Section 3115

Independence

General Comments

.01 Engagement planning should include procedures to provide the firm with reasonable assurance that persons at all organizational levels maintain independence to the extent required by the AICPA Code of Professional Conduct. Interpretation 101-1 of rule 101 of the rules of conduct (ET section 101.02), contains examples of instances wherein a firm's independence will be considered to be impaired.

.02 The procedures employed at the engagement level should be designed to ascertain whether the firm and its partners and employees have complied with all applicable independence rules, with emphasis on those related to financial interest, performance of accounting services for the client, and unpaid fees. Overall firm requirements for independence are addressed in the Quality Control Policies and Procedures for CPA Firms, "Establishing Quality Control Policies and Procedures," (QC section 90), paragraphs .09—.10. (See AAM section 11,600.01—.02 for independence checklists for employees and other auditors.)

.03 Some procedures regarding independence which a firm may employ in the planning phase of an engagement are discussed in this section. The specific procedures adopted by a firm would not necessarily include all these procedures or be limited to those discussed.

Engagement Planning Procedures

.04 Annual independence questionnaires should be reviewed for all engagement personnel by the engagement partner to assure that those individuals assigned to the engagement are independent.

.05 Accounts receivable from the client should be reviewed to ascertain whether any outstanding amounts take on some of the characteristics of loans and may, therefore, impair the firm's independence.

.06 According to SAS No. 1, section 543, Part of the Examination Made by Other Independent Auditors (AU section 543), the firm, when acting as principal auditor, should obtain confirmation of the independence of another firm engaged to perform segments of the audit. Written confirmation enables the principal auditor to document his assessment of the other auditor's independence in his audit work papers.

.07 In situations in which the accountant is not independent, the type of opinion to be issued should be discussed in the planning stage. A disclaimer of opinion should be issued as discussed in SAS No. 26, Association With Financial Statements, paragraphs 8—10 (AU section 504.08—.10), or the engagement should be turned into a compilation.

.08 It is recommended that all procedures discussed in this section be documented in the auditor's work papers. A sample checklist documenting the procedures listed in this section is located in AAM section 3165.

AAM Section 3120

Knowledge of the Entity's Business

.01 The accountant should obtain a level of knowledge of the entity's business that will enable the accountant to plan and perform the audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. That level of knowledge should enable the accountant to obtain an understanding of the events, and may have a significant effect on the financial statements. The level of knowledge customarily possessed by management relating to managing the entity's business is substantially greater than that which is obtained by the accountant in performing the audit. Knowledge of the entity's business helps the accountant in—

- a. Identifying areas that may need special consideration.
- b. Assessing conditions under which accounting data are produced, processed, reviewed, and accumulated within the operation.
- c. Evaluating the reasonableness of estimates, such as valuation of inventories, depreciation, allowances for doubtful accounts, and percentage-of-completion of long-term contracts.
- d. Evaluating the reasonableness of management representations.
- e. Making judgments about the appropriateness of the accounting principles applied and the adequacy of disclosures.¹

Engagement Planning Procedures

.02 The accountant should obtain a knowledge of matters that relate to the nature of the entity's business, its organization, and its operating characteristics. Such matters include, for example, the type of business, types of products and services, capital structure, related parties, locations and production, distribution, and compensation methods. The accountant should also consider matters affecting the industry in which the entity operates—such as economic conditions, government regulations, and changes in technology—as they relate to his audit. Other matters, such as accounting practices common to the industry, competitive conditions, and, if available, financial trends and ratios, should also be considered by the accountant.

.03 Knowledge of an entity's business is obtained through performing analytical procedures, prior experience with the entity or its industry, and inquiry of the entity's personnel. Working papers from prior years may contain useful information about the nature of the business, organizational structure, operating characteristics, and transactions that may require special consideration. Other sources an accountant may consult include AICPA audit and accounting guides, industry publications, financial statements of other entities in the industry, textbooks, periodicals, and individuals knowledgeable about the industry.

.04 The accountant should give thought to whether specialized skills are needed to consider the effect of computer processing on the audit, to understand the nature of internal control structure policies and procedures, or to design and perform audit procedures. If specialized skills are needed, the accountant should seek assistance from a professional who may be either on or outside the accountant's staff. If the use of such a professional is planned, the accountant should have sufficient computer-related knowledge to communicate the objectives of the other professional's work, to evaluate whether the specified procedures will meet the accountant's objectives, and to evaluate the results of the procedures applied as they relate to the nature, timing, and extent of other planned audit procedures. The accountant's responsibilities for using such a professional are equivalent to those for using assistants.²

.05 The accountant should consider the methods the entity uses to process accounting information in planning the audit because such methods influence the design of the accounting system and the nature of control procedures. The extent to which computer processing is used in significant accounting applications, as well as the complexity of that processing, may also influence the nature, timing, and extent of audit procedures. Accordingly, when evaluating the effect of an entity's computer processing on an audit of financial statements, the accountant should consider matters such as—

- a. The extent to which the computer is used in each significant accounting application.
- b. The complexity of the entity's computer operations, including the use of an outside service center.³
- c. The organizational structure of the computer processing activities.
- d. The availability of data. Documents that are used to enter information into the computer for processing certain computer fields, and other evidential matter that may be required by the accountant, may exist only for a short period or only in computer-readable form. In some computer systems, input documents may not exist at all because information is entered directly into the system. An entity's data retention policies may require the accountant to request retention of some information for the review or to perform audit procedures at a time when the information is available.
- e. The use of computer-assisted audit techniques to increase the efficiency of performing audit procedures.⁴ Using computer-assisted audit techniques may also provide the accountant with an opportunity to apply certain procedures to an entire population of accounts or transactions. In addition, in some accounting systems, it may be difficult or impossible for the auditor to analyze certain data or test specific control procedures without computer assistance.

In addition, certain information generated by the computer for management's internal purposes may be useful in performing substantive tests (particularly analytical procedures).⁵

.06 It is recommended that all procedures discussed in this section be documented in the accountant's work papers. A sample checklist for documenting the procedures listed in this section is located in AAM section 3165.

² Since the use of a specialist who is effectively functioning as a member of the audit team is not covered by SAS No. 11, Using the Work of a Specialist (AU section 336), a computer audit specialist requires the same supervision and review as any assistant.

³ See SAS No. 44, Special-Purpose Reports on Internal Accounting Control at Service Organizations (AU section 324), and the related AICPA Audit and Accounting Guide, Audits of Service-Center-Produced Records, for guidance concerning the use of a service center for computer processing of significant accounting applications.

⁵ SAS No. 56, Analytical Procedures (AU section 329), describes the usefulness of and guidance pertaining to such procedures.

AAM Section 3125

Assessing Auditability

.01 The third standard of fieldwork requires that the auditor obtain sufficient competent evidential matter to afford a reasonable basis for the expression of an opinion on whether an entity's financial statements are fairly presented in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.¹ The determination of whether the auditor is able to obtain sufficient competent evidential matter to issue an opinion on the financial statements is an issue of auditability. Many factors can influence the auditability of financial statements. There are two primary considerations, however, in evaluating whether the financial statements of a small business are, in fact, auditable: (1) the adequacy of accounting records and (2) management integrity.

Adequate Accounting Records

.02 To provide sufficient competent evidential matter, an entity's accounting system should be designed to identify the types of transactions executed so that the transactions can be recorded in the appropriate amounts in the correct accounting period. Accounting records should include the following information:

- a. Type of transaction. Transactions should be described in sufficient detail to permit appropriate classification in the financial statements. Generally, accounting records need only indicate broad classes of transactions such as sales or payroll. In some circumstances, however, a more detailed description may be necessary, such as when payroll costs are to be allocated between inventory and expense. Identification of the type of transaction may be either explicit (for example, by using preprinted forms that describe the type of transactions, such as sales invoices) or implicit (for example, by using cash register tapes as a record of cash sales).
- b. Size of transaction. Transactions should be described in a manner that permits the recording of monetary value in the financial statements. Although accounting records generally include the dollar amount of transactions or the quantities involved and related unit prices, an indication of quantities only may be sufficient if the monetary value of transactions can be determined by reference to data such as price lists, wage rates, or contracts.
- c. Period of time. Accounting records should include the period in which the transactions occurred to permit the recording of transactions in the appropriate accounting period.

.03 The form of accounting records maintained by the client and the detail in which they are prepared varies because of a number of factors, such as the nature of the client's business, its size, and its organizational structure. For a small business to be auditable, there should exist adequate accounting records to identify the types of transactions executed and to record them at the appropriate amount in the correct accounting period.

.04 Many small businesses do not have elaborate accounting systems. Likewise, most small businesses have neither adequate segregation of duties nor a sophisticated internal control structure. Neither a formalized and complex accounting system nor a sophisticated control structure is required for a small business to be auditable.

SAS No. 55 Requirements

.05 The auditor should obtain a sufficient understanding of each of the three elements (control environment, accounting system, and control procedures) of the entity's internal control structure to plan the audit of the entity's financial statements. The understanding should include knowledge about the design of relevant policies, procedures, and records and whether they have been placed in operation by the entity. In planning the audit, such knowledge should be used to:

¹ Throughout this section, references to audit opinions regarding generally accepted accounting principles also include other comprehensive bases of accounting.

- a. Identify types of potential misstatements.
- b. Consider factors that affect the risk of material misstatement.
- c. Design substantive tests.

.06 Whether an internal control structure policy or procedure has been placed in operation is different from its operating effectiveness. In obtaining knowledge about whether policies and procedures have been placed in operation, the auditor determines that the entity is using them. Operating effectiveness, on the other hand, is concerned with how the policy, procedure, or record was applied, the consistency with which it was applied, and by whom. The auditor is not required to obtain knowledge about operating effectiveness as part of the understanding of the internal control structure used in planning the audit.

.07 The auditor's understanding of the internal control structure may sometimes raise doubts about the auditability of an entity's financial statements. Concerns about the integrity of the entity's management may be so serious as to cause the auditor to conclude that the risk of management misrepresentation in the financial statements is such that an audit cannot be conducted. Concerns about the nature and extent of an entity's records may cause the auditor to conclude that it is unlikely that sufficient competent evidential matter will be available to support an opinion on the financial statements.

Understanding the Internal Control Structure

.08 In making a judgment about the understanding of the internal control structure necessary to plan the audit, the auditor considers the knowledge obtained from other sources about the types of misstatements that could occur, the risk that such misstatements may occur, and the factors that influence the design of substantive tests. Other sources of such knowledge include previous audits and the understanding of the industry in which the entity operates. The auditor also considers his assessment of inherent risk, his judgment about materiality, and the complexity and sophistication of the entity's operations and systems as discussed in AAM section 3140.

Understanding of Control Environment

.09 The auditor should obtain sufficient knowledge of the control environment to understand management's attitude, awareness, and actions concerning the control environment. The auditor should concentrate on the substance of management's policies, procedures, and related actions rather than their form because management may establish appropriate policies and procedures but not act on them. The auditor must be knowledgeable about the entity's organizational structure. Although there are obviously limits on the formality of organization in a small business, some segregation of duties and designation of authority and responsibility generally can be accomplished. In addition, someone is responsible for engaging the auditor, responding to audit results, and exercising financial reporting oversight. How employees are told what is expected of them, how they are delegated authority and responsibility, and how their performances are monitored and evaluated also affect control consciousness in an entity. In addition, the planning and reporting system used, such as budgeting and forecasting, and personnel management practices are indications of attitudes and actions about internal control. Auditors should know how management has acted on these matters.

Understanding of Accounting System

- .10 The auditor should obtain sufficient knowledge of the accounting system to understand:
- a. The classes of transactions in the entity's operations that are significant to the financial statements.
 - b. How those transactions are initiated.

- c. The accounting records, supporting documents, machine-readable information, and specific accounts in the financial statements involved in the processing and reporting of transactions.
- d. The accounting processing involved from the initiation of a transaction to its inclusion in the financial statements, including how the computer is used to process data.
- e. The financial reporting process used to prepare the entity's financial statements, including significant accounting estimates and disclosures.

Understanding of Control Procedures

.11 Generally, control procedures pertain to the proper authorization of transactions, segregation of duties, design and use of adequate documents and records, safeguards over assets and records and independent checks on performance, such as reconciliations, comparing documents, and management review of reports. Because some control procedures are integrated in specific components of the control environment and accounting system, as the auditor obtains an understanding of the control environment and accounting system, he is also likely to obtain knowledge about some control procedures. For example, in obtaining an understanding of the documents, records, and processing steps in the accounting system that pertain to cash, the auditor is likely to become aware of whether bank accounts are reconciled. The auditor should consider the knowledge about the presence or absence of control procedures obtained from the understanding of the control environment and accounting system in determining whether it is necessary to devote additional attention to obtaining an understanding of control procedures to plan the audit. Ordinarily, audit planning does not require an understanding of the control procedures related to each account balance, transaction class, and disclosure component in the financial statements or to every assertion relevant to those components.

Procedures to Obtain Understanding

.12 In obtaining an understanding of the internal control structure policies and procedures that are relevant to audit planning, the auditor should perform procedures to provide sufficient knowledge of the design of the relevant policies, procedures, and records pertaining to each of the three internal control structure elements and whether they have been placed in operation. This knowledge is ordinarily obtained through previous experience with the entity and procedures such as inquiries of appropriate management, supervisory, and staff personnel; inspection of entity documents and records; and observation of entity activities and operations. The nature and extent of the procedures performed generally vary from entity to entity and are influenced by the size and complexity of the entity, the auditor's previous experience with the entity, the nature of the particular policy or procedure, and the nature of the entity's documentation of specific policies and procedures. The auditor's assessments of inherent risk and judgments about materiality for various account balances and transaction classes also affect the nature and extent of the procedures performed to obtain the understanding. For example, the auditor may conclude that planning the audit of the prepaid insurance account does not require specific procedures to be included in obtaining the understanding of the internal control structure.

Documentation of Understanding

.13 The auditor should document the understanding of the entity's internal control structure elements obtained to plan the audit. The form and extent of this documentation is influenced by the size and complexity of the entity, as well as the nature of the entity's internal control structure. For example, documentation of the understanding of the internal control structure of a large complex entity may include flowcharts, questionnaires, or decision tables. For a small business, however, documentation in the form of a memorandum may be sufficient. Generally, the more complex the internal control structure and the more extensive the procedures performed, the more extensive the auditor's documentation should be.

Management Integrity

.14 Management integrity is an essential component of an audit engagement; without it, conflicts between management and the auditor are inevitable. As Mautz and Sharaf note, without management integrity

No management responses to questions or representations could be given any credence whatever. It is doubtful whether the statements of employees, who must be under management control, could be accepted as in any way useful. Certainly the records and documents under management control would be regarded as completely unreliable.²

.15 The auditor should recognize the importance of management integrity and its potential impact on the financial statements. If the auditor has reason to doubt management's integrity, careful consideration should be given to the auditor's ability to express an opinion on the entity's financial statements.

.16 The auditor should also assess the risk that management has misstated the financial statements. SAS No. 53, The Auditor's Responsibility to Detect and Report Errors and Irregularities, paragraphs 12 and 16—17 (AU section 316.12 and .16—.17), includes a discussion of management characteristics. AAM section 3145 discusses the assessment of risk of errors and irregularities in audit planning.

.17 Statement of Quality Control Standard No. 1, System of Quality Control for a CPA Firm, paragraph 7h (QC section 10.07h), states:

In Acceptance and Continuance of Clients, "Policies and procedures should be established for deciding whether to accept or continue a client in order to minimize the likelihood of association with a client whose management lacks integrity."

Suggesting that there should be procedures for this purpose does not imply that a firm vouches for the integrity or reliability of a client, nor does it imply that a firm has a duty to anyone but itself with respect to the acceptance, rejection or retention of clients. However, prudence suggests that a firm be selective in determining its professional relationships."

.18 A sample checklist documenting procedures listed in this section is located in AAM section 3165.

AAM Section 3130

Preparing an Engagement Letter

.01 In an engagement letter, the firm and the client indicate their mutual understanding and agree to the nature and terms of the engagement. Engagement letters are a matter of sound business practice rather than a professional requirement. They cover the scope of services rendered and the responsibility the firm assumes. Therefore, they should be prepared with the care exercised in entering into other contracts.¹

.02 Any limitations the client imposes on the scope of the engagement are specifically stated. Every letter covering audit, compilation, and review services should point out the limitations in the accountant's responsibility for the discovery of fraud and other irregularities.

.03 The engagement letter should also describe the terms of billing and payment. If unusual or extraordinary services are to be performed, the engagement letter should completely describe them.

.04 If the auditor has reason to believe the client may publish all or a portion of an audit report, he should advise the client (preferably in the engagement letter) that firm policy is to read printer's proofs of the report and any other accompanying material. This precaution will protect both the client and accountant against condensation of financial statements, omission of footnotes, erroneous layout, and other errors such as misstatement of figures used in a president's letter, other narrative, or statistics.

.05 An engagement letter should be used for every engagement. A letter need not be issued more often than annually. Thus, interim audits or unaudited financial statement preparation can all be provided for in one annual letter. The letter should be sent to the client in duplicate so that a copy may be signed and returned for the accountant's files. Alternatively, the accountant may decide not to request that the client sign and return a copy of the letter. In that case, the letter should be sent to the client with an additional paragraph stating that, unless the client replies to the contrary, the accountant will assume the client agrees to the arrangements described in the letter. In those rare instances when the accountant decides that even this approach is not suitable, an engagement memorandum should be prepared for the file. This should provide all relevant information that would have been included in an engagement letter.

Reasons for Engagement Letters

.06 The advantages of using engagement letters are summarized below.

- Type of engagement. Describe the type of engagement (audit, compilation or review, or other accounting service) to be rendered.
- Avoiding misunderstandings with the client. In today's litigious environment an engagement letter is needed for both old and new clients. To avoid misunderstandings, the engagement letter should describe in detail the services to be rendered, the fee, and other terms and conditions of the engagement. Oral agreements may result in differences of recollection or understanding between the accountant and the client, and become completely valueless on the death of either.
- Avoiding misunderstandings with the staff. The members of the staff working on the engagement must have a complete understanding of what is required of them. A copy of the engagement letter in the working papers provides them an authoritative reference to supplement their oral instructions. This will eliminate confusion and misunderstanding about the type of engagement to be performed, the date and period covered by the financial statements, and the nature of the report expected to be rendered.

¹ Statement on Standards for Accounting and Review Services (SSARS) No. 1, Compilation and Review of Financial Statements, paragraph 8 (AR section 100.08), states: "The accountant should establish an understanding with the entity, preferably in writing, regarding the services to be performed."

- Legal liability. The engagement letter should establish the scope and nature of the accountant's contractual obligation to the client by setting forth, clearly and specifically, the duties the accountant has agreed to perform. Many adverse consequences may result from failure to obtain a written engagement letter.
- Practice management. Generally, the executive (managing) partner reviews an engagement letter before the firm issues it. A timely review may be the vehicle that permits the executive partner to correct or amend the terms of the engagement, review the proposed fee and method of payment, and set up guidelines to minimize possible collection problems.
- Contractual obligation. Engagement letters recognize that a contract is created when the accountant agrees to render services and a client agrees to pay for them. The engagement letter should be clear-cut in delineating the duties and responsibilities of the client and of the firm.
- Other. An engagement letter permits the orderly assessment and review by partners and staff of the services performed and the terms of the engagement. This review facilitates drafting extensions or amendments to current or succeeding years' engagements.

.07 Some firms use one engagement letter to cover several types of services; others use separate engagement letters for each service rendered. In any case, firms should consider keeping separate internal records for time incurred on the separate types of services.

Special Considerations

.08 The following matters should be considered while preparing an engagement letter:

- a. Whether the circumstances preclude an unqualified opinion, as in these examples:
 - The auditor is retained after the beginning of the client's fiscal year, did not observe inventories or confirm receivables at the beginning of the year and was unable to satisfy self through application of alternative procedures.
 - The client imposes restrictions on the scope of the audit. (SAS No. 58, Reports on Audited Financial Statements, paragraph 42 [AU section 508.42]).
 - Significant litigation or other matters exist which may affect the opinion.
- b. Whether fee should be stated as a range, in hourly rates, as standard per diem charges for the engagement, or as a maximum or flat fee
- c. The person or persons to whom reports should be addressed
- d. The number of copies needed of the report and the people to whom they are to be distributed
- e. Deadlines for reports or analyses
- f. Out-of-pocket costs
- g. Additional work not contemplated in the original engagement
- h. The condition of records or circumstances other than those contemplated in the engagement letter (for example, deficient internal control)
- i. A retainer
- j. One-time engagements
- k. Start-up costs when the client changes accountants
- l. Underwriters' requirements in connection with public offerings

- m. Long-time clients who have not previously been requested to approve engagement letters
- n. The part of the work to be done by other accountants

Contents of Engagement Letters

.09 Following are the items ordinarily covered in engagement letters:

- a. The name of the entity (and subsidiaries, if any) and its year end
- b. Statements to be audited, compiled, or reviewed
- c. The scope of services, as detailed as necessary, including limitations imposed by the client
- d. The kind of opinion, disclaimer, or other report to be rendered
- e. A disclaimer of responsibility for detecting fraud
- f. Obligations of the client's staff to prepare schedules and statements (see item 2)
- g. The requirement that the accountant read all printed material in which his report appears
- h. The responsibility for preparation or review of tax returns and subsequent tax examinations
- i. The fee, or the method of determining the fee
- j. The frequency of billing and the client's obligations for payment including a retainer, if applicable
- k. A provision for the client's acceptance signature, and the date
- l. An expression of thanks for being selected as auditors or to perform other services
- m. Before acceptance of a new engagement, an attempt that the successor auditor should make at certain communications with the predecessor auditor, as required in SAS No. 7, Communications Between Predecessor and Successor Auditors, paragraph 4 (AU section 315.04)

.10 The following is a list of instructions to a client's accounting staff. It includes analyses an accountant may expect the staff to prepare for the audit. Either include this list (or part of it) in the engagement letter or refer to it and then submit it as a separate memorandum.

- Balance the general ledger.
- Prepare a reconciliation for each bank account.
- Fill in and sign bank confirmation forms, to be provided by the accountant.
- Prepare a trade accounts receivable aging.
- Prepare accounts receivable confirmation letters, using drafts to be provided by the accountant.
- Prepare a schedule of accounts receivable from officers and employees.
- Prepare a schedule of bad debts written off during the year.
- Prepare a schedule of notes receivable. The notes should be available for inspection.
- Prepare a schedule of transactions with affiliated enterprises.
- Price, extend, and foot the original inventory sheets, and have them available.
- Analyze all transactions affecting marketable securities.
- Prepare an insurance schedule. The policies should be available for inspection.

- Prepare a schedule of property and equipment additions and retirements.
- Prepare a depreciation schedule.
- Prepare a schedule of life insurance for officers.
- Prepare a schedule of accounts payable. The creditor's regular monthly statements for [date] should be retained and made available.
- Prepare a schedule of notes payable.
- The corporate stock book and minutes should be up to date and available for inspection.
- Prepare a schedule of all transactions to partners' capital and drawing accounts.
- A copy of the partnership agreement or corporate charter should be available for inspection.
- Copies of all leases, including equipment rental contracts, should be available for inspection.
- Copies of employment contracts with salesmen or executives should be available for inspection.
- Copies of pension, profit-sharing, deferred compensation, and stock option agreements, and letters of acceptance from the Treasury Department, should be available for inspection.
- Prepare a schedule of repairs in excess of $_____.
- Prepare a schedule of each officer's salary and expense account payments.
- Prepare a schedule of contributions.
- Prepare a schedule of tax expense.
- Prepare a schedule of professional fees.

.11 An engagement letter may optionally include—

- a. A description of a particular audit procedure, if requested by the client or deemed necessary for the protection of the auditor. (The detailed audit program should not be made available to client personnel, orally or otherwise.)
- b. The extent and timing of interim auditing.
- c. The name of the client's personnel to be contacted during engagement.
- d. A study and evaluation of internal control and a report thereon. (This would be a special engagement, not a part of the normal audit routine.)
- e. Interim contact and cooperation with the internal auditor.
- f. A list of services specifically excluded.
- g. Acknowledgement by the client of its responsibility for the financial statements. (Because auditors of smaller, non-public entities often may maintain accounting records, prepare financial statements, and advise management about appropriate accounting principles, such an acknowledgement may be particularly appropriate for such clients.)
- h. A statement that the client will be informed of any reportable conditions in the internal control structure that come to the auditor's attention during the audit of financial statements. (Such a communication, either orally or in writing, is required by SAS No. 60, Communication of Internal Control Structure Related Matters Noted in an Audit [AU section 325].)

.12 Following is a list of common engagement letter deficiencies:

- a. Reference in the letter to audit of the books and records rather than to audit of financial statements
- b. Adverse comments about other firms
- c. Failure to specify in detail the services to be rendered when a maximum fee is quoted
- d. Inclusion of a review of the internal control structure as one of the services when what is really intended is a consideration of the internal control structure as required by auditing standards
- e. Failure to identify accounting or other problems that may have an effect on the opinion
- f. Failure to change, in writing, the terms of the engagement when conditions are found to be different (such as the inability to express an opinion without extensive additional auditing because the internal controls were found deficient)
- g. Failure to include fee basis and payment terms
- h. Failure to identify subsidiaries
- i. Failure to identify specific tax returns to be prepared

Client Approval

.13 It is recommended that the client's written approval of general arrangements for the engagement be secured by the accountant before proceeding with the engagement (especially in new engagements). The addressee of the letter is usually the one asked to approve the engagement. In some situations the accountant may not deem it advisable to send a client an engagement letter that requests his signature. An alternative approach might be to send the client a letter confirming the terms of the engagement, without asking him to sign it, but asking him to reply if he does not agree with the terms.

Addressee of Letter

.14 Ordinarily, the accountant should address the letter to whomever retained the firm. If it is a corporate client's board of directors, the letter should be addressed to the board, its chairperson, or the chief executive, depending on the arrangement. If the accountant is appointed by an audit committee, it is appropriate to address the letter to the committee chairperson. If the engagement was arranged with a corporate official, the letter may be addressed to the official, personally, indicating the official's title, followed by the name of the corporation.

Investigatory Procedures for Individuals

.15 When credit information is requested about individuals who are new clients, the investigative procedures are subject to the Fair Credit Reporting Act of 1971.

.16 An individual should be informed in writing that an investigative consumer report, including information about the individual's character, general reputation, personal characteristics, and mode of living is being made. The individual should also be advised, within three days of the time the report is requested, that he may within a reasonable time, by written request, be furnished disclosure of the nature and scope of the investigation.²

Filing of Engagement Letters

.17 The signed engagement letter (or original of the conforming letter) is a contract and should be filed in the client's permanent file. A copy may also be filed with the current working papers, if desired, because of the possible overlapping of billing and collecting as compared to the term of the actual engagement. This also permits easy access when reference to the previous year's letter is needed to prepare the letter for the following year's engagement.

² For a more complete discussion, see Carlos Martinez, "A Guide to the Fair Credit Reporting Act," The Practical Lawyer, December 1972.

AAM Section 3135

Assessment of Control Risk

General Comments

.01 Upon obtaining an understanding of the elements of the internal control structure as discussed in AAM section 3125, the auditor must assess control risk for financial statement assertions to determine the nature, timing and extent of tests of controls and substantive testing. The risk of material misstatement in financial statement assertions consists of inherent risk, control risk, and detection risk as discussed in AAM section 3140. Assessing control risk is the process of evaluating the effectiveness of an entity's internal control structure policies and procedures in preventing or detecting material misstatements in financial statements. Control risk should be assessed in terms of financial statement assertions.

Consideration of the Internal Control Structure in Assessing Control Risk

.02 After obtaining the understanding of the internal control structure the auditor may assess control risk at the maximum level for some or all assertions because he believes policies and procedures are unlikely to pertain to an assertion, are unlikely to be effective, or because evaluating their effectiveness would be inefficient.

.03 Assessing control risk at below the maximum level involves:

- a. Identifying specific internal control structure policies and procedures relevant to specific assertions that are likely to prevent or detect material misstatements in those assertions.
- b. Performing tests of controls to evaluate the effectiveness of such policies and procedures.

.04 In identifying internal control structure policies and procedures relevant to specific financial statement assertions, the auditor should consider that the policies and procedures can have either a pervasive effect on many assertions or a specific effect on an individual assertion, depending on the nature of the particular internal control structure element involved. The control environment and accounting system often have a pervasive effect on a number of account balance or transaction classes and, therefore, can often affect many assertions.

.05 Conversely, some control procedures often have a specific effect on an individual assertion embodied in a particular account balance or transaction class. For example, the control procedures that an entity established to ensure that its personnel are properly counting and recording the annual physical inventory relate directly to the existence assertion for the inventory account balance.

.06 Internal control structure policies and procedures can either be directly or indirectly related to an assertion. The more indirect the relationship, the less effective that policy or procedure may be in reducing control risk for that assertion.

.07 Procedures directed toward either the effectiveness of the design or operation of an internal control structure policy or procedure are referred to as tests of controls. Tests of controls directed toward the effectiveness of the design of an internal control structure policy or procedure are concerned with whether that policy or procedure is suitably designed to prevent or detect material misstatements in specific financial statement assertions. Tests to obtain such evidential matter ordinarily include procedures such as inquiries of appropriate entity personnel, inspection of documents and reports, and observation of the application of specific internal control structure policies and procedures.

.08 Tests of controls directed toward the operating effectiveness of an internal control structure policy or procedure are concerned with how the policy or procedure was applied, the consistency with which it was applied during the audit period, and by whom it was applied. These tests ordinarily include procedures such as inquiries of appropriate entity personnel, inspection of documents and reports indicating performance of the policy or procedure, observation of the application of the policy or procedure, and reperformance of the application of the policy or procedure by the auditor. In some circumstances, a specific procedure may address the effectiveness of both design and operation. However, a combination of procedures may be necessary to evaluate the effectiveness of the design or operation of an internal control structure policy or procedure.

.09 The conclusion reached as a result of assessing control risk is referred to as the assessed level of control risk. In determining the evidential matter necessary to support a specific assessed level of control risk at below the maximum level, the auditor should consider the characteristics of evidential matter. Generally, however, the lower the assessed level of control risk, the greater the assurance the evidential matter must provide that the internal control structure policies and procedures relevant to an assertion are designed and operating effectively.

.10 The auditor uses the assessed level of control risk (together with the assessed level of inherent risk) to determine the acceptable level of detection risk for financial statement assertions. The auditor uses the acceptable level of detection risk to determine the nature, timing, and extent of the auditing procedures to be used to detect material misstatements in the financial statement assertions. Auditing procedures designed to detect such misstatements are substantive tests.

Documentation of the Assessed Level of Control Risk

.11 In addition to the documentation of the understanding of the internal control structure, the auditor should document the basis for his conclusions about the assessed level of control risk. Conclusions about the assessed level of control risk may differ as they relate to various account balances or classes of transactions. However, for those financial statement assertions where control risk is assessed at the maximum level, the auditor should document his conclusion that control risk is at the maximum level but need not document the basis for that conclusion. For those assertions where the assessed level of control risk is below the maximum level, the auditor should document the basis for this conclusion that the effectiveness of the design and operation of internal control structure policies and procedures supports that assessed level. The nature and extent of the auditor's documentation are influenced by the assessed level of control risk used, the nature of the entity's internal control structure and the nature of the entity's documentation of its internal control structure.

Further Reduction in the Assessed Level of Control Risk

.12 After obtaining the understanding of the internal control structure and assessing control risk, the auditor may desire to seek a further reduction in the assessed level of control risk for certain assertions. In such cases, the auditor considers whether additional evidential matter sufficient to support a further reduction is likely to be available, and whether it would be efficient to perform tests of controls to obtain that evidential matter. The results of the procedures performed to obtain the understanding of the internal control structure, as well as pertinent information from other sources, help the auditor to evaluate those two factors.

.13 In considering efficiency, the auditor recognizes that additional evidential matter that supports a further reduction in the assessed level of control risk for an assertion would result in less audit effort for the substantive tests of that assertion. The auditor weighs the increase in audit effort associated with the additional tests of controls that is necessary to obtain such evidential matter against the resulting decrease in audit effort associated with the reduced substantive tests. When the auditor concludes it is inefficient to obtain additional evidential matter for specific assertions, the auditor uses the assessed level of control risk based on the understanding of the internal control structure in planning the substantive tests for those assertions.

.14 For those assertions for which the auditor performs additional tests of controls, the auditor determines the assessed level of control risk that the results of those tests will support. This assessed level of control risk is used in determining the appropriate detection risk to accept for those assertions and, accordingly, in determining the appropriate detection risk to accept for those assertions and, accordingly, in determining the nature, timing, and extent of substantive tests for such assertions.

Assessing Audit Risk and Materiality

.01 In rendering an unqualified opinion that states “In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly in all material respects . . . in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles . . .,” the auditor is giving implicit recognition to the concepts of audit risk and materiality. The existence of audit risk is implicit in the phrase “in our opinion.” Materiality is explicit in the phrase “presents fairly in all material respects in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.”

Audit Risk

.02 SAS No. 47, Audit Risk and Materiality in Conducting an Audit (AU section 312), defines audit risk as “the risk that the auditor may unknowingly fail to appropriately modify his opinion on financial statements that are materially misstated.” In other words, audit risk is the risk that the auditor will give an unqualified opinion on financial statements that are materially incorrect.

.03 In addition to audit risk, the auditor is also exposed to business risk in every audit engagement. Business risk is the risk that the auditor’s professional practice will suffer loss or injury from litigation or adverse publicity in connection with an audit of financial statements. Business risk is present even though the auditor conducts the audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. For example, the auditor may conduct a proper audit and yet be sued by a disgruntled party without cause. Even though the auditor may win the lawsuit in such circumstances, the auditor’s professional reputation may be damaged. This type of risk differs from audit risk. Business risk cannot be used to reduce audit risk under generally accepted auditing standards.

Risk Components

.04 SAS No. 47, states that audit risk consists of three components:

- a. Inherent risk is the susceptibility of an account balance or class of transactions to error that could be material when aggregated with error in other balances or classes, assuming that there were no related internal accounting controls. The risk of such error is greater for some balances or classes than for others. For example, complex calculations are more susceptible to theft than is an inventory of coal. Accounts consisting of amounts derived from accounting estimates pose greater risks than do accounts consisting of relatively routine, factual data. External factors also influence inherent risk. For example, technological developments might make a particular product obsolete, thereby causing inventory to be more susceptible to overstatement.
- b. Control risk is the risk that error that may occur in an account balance or class of transactions and that could be material, when aggregated with error in other balances or classes, will not be prevented or detected on a timely basis by the internal control structure. Control risk is a function of the effectiveness of the internal control structure. Some control risk will always exist because of the inherent limitations of any internal control structure.
- c. Detection risk is the risk that the auditor’s procedures will lead to the conclusion that error in an account balance or class of transactions that could be material, when aggregated with error in other balances or classes, does not exist, when in fact such error does exist. Detection risk is a function of the effectiveness of auditing procedures and of their application by the auditor. It arises partly from uncertainties that exist when the auditor does not examine 100 percent of an account balance or class of transactions and partly because of other uncertainties that exist, even if 100 percent of the balance or class has been examined. Other uncertainties arise because an auditor might select an inappropriate auditing procedure, misapply an appropriate procedure, or misinterpret audit results. These other uncertainties can be reduced to a negligible level through adequate planning, supervision, and conduct of a firm's audit practice in accordance with appropriate quality control standards.

.05 Inherent risk and control risk differ from detection risk in that they exist independently of the audit of the financial statements. Inherent risk and control risk are functions of the client and its environment, regardless of whether an audit is conducted. Detection risk, on the other hand, relates to the auditor's procedures and can be changed at the auditor's discretion. The assessment of the potential for material misstatements occurs when the auditor considers inherent risk.

.06 The client may establish internal control structure policies and procedures to detect material misstatements and remove them from the accounting system. Ideally, the control structure should detect all material misstatements before they enter the financial statements, but sometimes the control structure may not detect a material misstatement even though it went through the control structure. For example, there may be a weakness or breakdown in the client's structure that allows a misstatement to remain undetected.

.07 Even when a client has effective internal control structure policies and procedures, certain misstatements can bypass the structure because of special circumstances. For example, if a client had an unusual exchange of nonmonetary assets, no internal control structure policies and procedures may have been established to detect a misstatement in this special circumstance.

.08 If the client's internal control structure does not detect and remove misstatements, they will flow through and be included in the financial statements. The auditor's responsibility is to design audit procedures that provide reasonable assurance that material misstatements do not remain in financial statements.

.09 The auditor will never have absolute assurance that no material misstatements exist in the financial statements. From a cost-benefit perspective, an audit providing absolute assurance that no material misstatements exist in the financial statements is impractical. Thus, the auditor designs audit tests to provide reasonable assurance that there are no material misstatements in the financial statements. There is always some risk that (a) material misstatements will exist; (b) they will not be detected by the client's internal control structure; (c) they will not be detected by the auditor; or (d) they will affect the financial statements. The auditor's responsibility is to reduce audit risk to an acceptably low level. Both the tests of details (tests of balances and tests of transactions) and analytical procedures are means by which the auditor detects material misstatements.

Risk Assessment and Planning

.10 In planning the audit engagement, the auditor should assess inherent risk and control risk to determine how much detection risk can be accepted while still restricting audit risk to an acceptably low level. As the auditor's assessment of inherent risk and control risk decreases, the acceptable level of detection risk increases. The auditor should not rely on the assessments of inherent risk and control risk to the exclusion of performing substantive tests. In fact, for a small business with limited segregation of duties, the auditor often assesses inherent risk and control risk at their maximum and relies completely on substantive tests to reduce audit risk to an acceptably low level.

Quantifying Risk

.11 The auditor's assessments of audit risk and its components of inherent risk, control risk, and detection risk are matters of professional judgment. Although the auditor may use quantitative tools such as decision tables and structured aids such as questionnaires to assist in assessing risk components, the ultimate assessment of audit risk is based on professional judgment.

.12 Some auditors confuse audit risk with risk associated with statistical sampling and thus erroneously assume that all audit risk can be quantified. Statistical sampling can be used to quantify the risk of misstatement in determining the extent of audit testing; that is, by using statistical sampling techniques, the auditor can quantify the risk of relying on the results of applying a procedure to a sample, rather than to 100 percent of the items in an account balance or class of transaction. However, quantitative assessment of risk using statistical sampling techniques is only one element of audit risk. As noted previously, audit risk is composed of control risk, detection risk, and inherent risk. Detection risk, which relates to audit procedures, is a function of the nature and timing of audit procedures as well as of the extent of their application.

.13 Generally accepted auditing standards do not require the auditor to quantify risk or to perform any additional analyses of risk. Those standards simply require the auditor to plan the audit so that there is a low level of risk that an unqualified opinion will be expressed when, in fact, the financial statements are materially misstated.

Materiality

.14 SAS No. 47 states that audit risk is “the risk that the auditor may unknowingly fail to appropriately modify his opinion on financial statements that are materially misstated.” As SAS No. 47 observes, audit risk and materiality should be considered together in determining the nature, timing, and extent of auditing procedures and in evaluating the results of those procedures.

.15 Materiality is the criterion used by accountants and auditors to distinguish between unimportant and important matters. Obviously, some misstatements could be included in the financial statements without precluding the auditor from expressing an opinion that the financial statements are fairly presented in all material respects in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. The auditor’s consideration of materiality is a matter of professional judgment and is influenced by a perception of the needs of the users of the financial statements. In determining the materiality of an item, the auditor should consider the nature and amount of the item in relation to the financial statements being audited.

In Planning

.16 In planning the audit, materiality should be viewed as an allowance for likely and potential undetected misstatements. Of course, in planning, the auditor cannot anticipate all the factors that will ultimately influence judgment about materiality in the evaluation of audit findings at the completion of the audit. Thus, materiality in planning may differ from materiality used in evaluating results at the conclusion of the audit. If the materiality amount used in evaluating audit findings is reduced significantly from the amount used in planning, the auditor should reevaluate—on the basis of planning materiality—the sufficiency of the auditing procedures that were performed. For example, an auditor may propose audit adjustments that significantly lower revenues. As a result of these adjustments, the auditor’s assessment of materiality at the conclusion of the audit may be reduced (for example, from $1,000 to $500). In view of the lower threshold of materiality, the auditor should evaluate whether the audit evidence obtained is sufficient.

Quantifying Materiality

.17 Professional standards require auditors to make a preliminary judgment about materiality in the planning stage of an audit (SAS No. 47, paragraph 3 [AU section 312.03]). Although no authoritative body has established specific guidelines for materiality, some auditors believe that there are certain rules of thumb that can be used in making a preliminary assessment of materiality.

.18 Generally, auditors agree that materiality guidelines should be relative rather than absolute. In other words, materiality is usually set as a percentage rather than as an absolute amount. For example, an absolute amount such as $100,000 may be immaterial to a large, multinational corporation but very material to a small, closely held company. To apply percentage guidelines, auditors must determine what base to use. Generally, auditors select a base that is relatively stable and predictable. Bases commonly used include net income before taxes, revenues, and total assets. Because financial statements are interrelated, and also for reasons of efficiency, auditors normally consider materiality in terms of the smallest amount that would be material to the financial statements. Generally, misstatements become material to income before they become material to the balance sheet. As a consequence, net income before taxes is often selected as the base.

.19 In small business audits, auditors sometimes make a number of significant audit adjustments. Thus, income before taxes may vary too much to be useful as a base. When net income before taxes is not used as a base, auditors sometimes use either total revenue or an average of net income for several prior periods.

Example

.20 A common rule of thumb for materiality is 5 to 10 percent of pretax income. Some auditors apply this rule of thumb so that items less than 5 percent of normal pretax income are considered immaterial, whereas items that are more than 10 percent are material. For items between 5 and 10 percent, judgment is applied. For example, when unusual factors exist (perhaps the company is about to be sold for a multiple of audited earnings) auditors would tend to classify items between 5 and 10 percent as material. Others use 1 or 1.5 percent of the larger of total assets or revenues. (See Exhibit 1 for a sample planning materiality worksheet.)

Exhibit 1

	Initials	Date

Reviewed	_____	_____

Client Name
 Planning Materiality Worksheet
 Balance Sheet Date

- | | |
|---|-------|
| 1. Unaudited total assets at balance sheet date | _____ |
| 2. Unaudited total revenues at balance sheet date | _____ |
| 3. Select the larger of 1 or 2 | _____ |
| 4. Select a multiplier if audit risk is normal, or, if better than normal, select .01 | _____ |
| 5. Multiply 3 times 4 | _____ |
| 6. Unaudited pretax income (or equivalent if not a for-profit entity) | _____ |
| 7. Select a multiplier if audit risk is normal, or, if better than normal, select .1 | _____ |
| 8. Multiply 6 times 7 | _____ |
| 9. Evaluate 5 and 8 along with other relevant factors and determine materiality for audit planning purposes | _____ |

.21 Consideration of which base to use should include such factors as income variability and the nature of the client's business and industry. For a nonprofit organization, for example, the auditor would probably use total assets or revenues as a base, since pretax income is not meaningful.

AAM Section 3145

Errors and Irregularities

General Comments

.01 The auditor should assess the risk that errors and irregularities may cause the financial statements to contain a material misstatement. Based on that assessment, the auditor should design the audit to provide reasonable assurance of detecting errors and irregularities that are material to financial statements.

.02 The auditor should exercise:

- a. Due care in planning, performing, and evaluating the results of audit procedures.
- b. The proper degree of professional skepticism to achieve reasonable assurance that material errors or irregularities will be detected.

Consideration of Audit Risk at the Financial Statement Level

.03 An assessment of the risk of material misstatements should be made during planning. The auditor's understanding of the internal control structure should either heighten or mitigate the auditor's concern about the risk of material misstatements.

.04 Factors such as those listed below may be considered:

- a. Management characteristics (e.g., management's attitude toward reporting is unduly aggressive).
- b. Operating and industry characteristics (e.g., profitability of an entity relative to its industry is inadequate or inconsistent).
- c. Engagement characteristics (e.g., significant and unusual related party transactions not in the ordinary course of business are present).

.05 The size, complexity, and ownership characteristics of the entity have a significant influence on the risk factors considered to be important.

.06 The auditor should assess risk of management misrepresentation by reviewing information obtained about risk factors and the internal control structure. Matters such as the following may be considered:

- a. Are there known circumstances that may indicate a management predisposition to distort financial statements, such as frequent disputes about aggressive application of accounting principles that increase earnings?
- b. Are there indications that management has failed to establish policies and procedures that provide reasonable assurance of reliable accounting estimates, such as personnel who develop estimates appearing to lack necessary knowledge and experience?
- c. Are there conditions that indicate lack of control of activities, such as constant crisis conditions in operating or accounting areas?
- d. Are there indications of a lack of control over computer processing, such as a lack of control over access to applications that initiate or control the movement of assets (e.g., a demand-deposit application in a bank)?

- e. Are there indications that management has not developed or communicated adequate policies and procedures for security of data or assets, such as not investigating employees in key positions before hiring?

The Auditor's Response to Risk at the Financial Statement Level

.07 The auditor's overall judgment about the level of risk in an engagement may affect engagement staffing, extent of supervision, overall strategy for expected conduct and scope of audit, and degree of professional skepticism applied.

.08 Ordinarily, higher risk requires more experienced personnel or more extensive supervision by the auditor with final responsibility for the engagement during both the planning and conduct of the engagement.

.09 Higher risk may cause the auditor to expand the extent of procedures applied, apply procedures closer to or as of the balance sheet date, or modify the nature of procedures.

Consideration of Audit Risk at the Balance or Class Level

.10 Examples of factors that may influence the auditor's consideration of risk of material misstatement at balance or class level are:

- a. Complexity and contentiousness of accounting issues affecting balance or class.
- b. Nature, cause, and amount of known and likely misstatements detected in the balance or class in the prior audit.
- c. Susceptibility of related assets to misappropriation.
- d. Extent of judgment involved in determining the total balance or class.

Professional Skepticism

.11 An audit should be planned and performed with an attitude of professional skepticism. The auditor neither assumes that management is dishonest nor assumes unquestioned honesty.

.12 When approaching difficult-to-substantiate assertions, the auditor should recognize the increased importance of factors that bear on management integrity. A presumption of management dishonesty, however, would be contrary to the accumulated experience of auditors. Moreover, if dishonesty were presumed the auditor would potentially need to question the genuineness of all records and documents obtained from the client and would require conclusive rather than persuasive evidence to corroborate all management representations. An audit conducted on these terms would be unreasonably costly and impractical.

Professional Skepticism in Audit Planning

.13 Whenever the auditor has reached a conclusion that there is significant risk of material misstatement, the auditor reacts in one or more ways.

.14 The auditor should consider this assessment in determining the nature, timing or extent of procedures, assigning staff, or requiring appropriate levels of supervision.

.15 The auditor may identify specific transactions involving senior management and confirm the details with appropriate external parties and review in detail all material accounting entries prepared or approved by senior management.

.16 The auditor should consider whether accounting policies are acceptable in circumstances. Increased risk of intentional distortion of the financial statements should cause greater concern about whether accounting principles that are otherwise generally accepted are being used in inappropriate circumstances to create a distortion of earnings.

.17 When evaluation at the financial statement level indicates significant risk, the auditor requires more or different evidence to support material transactions than would be the case in the absence of such risk. For example, the auditor may perform additional procedures to determine that sales are properly recorded, giving consideration to the possibility that the buyer has a right to return the product. Transactions that are both large and unusual, particularly at year-end, should be selected for testing.

.18 A sample checklist documenting procedures listed in this section is located in AAM section 3165.

AAM Section 3150

Illegal Acts

General Comments

.01 The term “illegal acts” refers to violations of laws or governmental regulations. Illegal acts by clients do not include personal misconduct by the entity’s personnel unrelated to their business activities.

.02 Whether an act is illegal is a determination that is normally beyond the auditor’s professional competence. The auditor’s training and experience may provide a basis for recognition that some client acts coming to his attention may be illegal.

Direct and Material Effect Illegal Acts

.03 The auditor considers laws and regulations that are generally recognized by auditors to have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts (except disclosure of contingencies). For example, tax laws affect accruals and the amount recognized as expense in the accounting period; applicable laws and regulations may affect the amount of revenue accrued under government contracts.

.04 The auditor considers such laws or regulations from the perspective of their known relation to audit objectives derived from financial statement assertions rather than from the perspective of legality per se.

.05 The auditor’s responsibility to detect and report misstatement resulting from illegal acts having a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts is the same as that for material errors and irregularities as described in SAS No. 53, The Auditor’s Responsibility to Detect and Report Errors and Irregularities (AU section 316).

Other Illegal Acts

.06 Entities may be affected by many other laws or regulations, including those related to securities trading, occupational safety and health, food and drug administration, environmental protection, equal employment, and price-fixing or other antitrust violations. Generally, these laws and regulations relate more to an entity’s operating aspects than to its financial and accounting aspects and their financial statement effect is indirect.

.07 An auditor ordinarily does not have sufficient basis for recognizing possible violations of such laws and regulations. Their indirect effect is normally the result of the need to disclose a contingent liability because of the allegation or determination of illegality.

Engagement Planning Procedures

.08 The auditor should assess the risks that the entity has not complied with laws and regulations which have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts (except disclosure of contingencies) in the planning phase of the audit.

.09 Matters that may influence the auditor’s assessment include:

- a. Management’s understanding of the requirements of laws and regulations pertinent to audit objectives.
- b. The nature and extent of noncompliance noted in prior audits.
- c. Changes in requirements since the last audit.
- d. Internal control structure elements designed to give management reasonable assurance that the entity complies with those laws and regulations.
- e. The client’s policy relative to the prevention of illegal acts.

.10 Normally, there is no need to include audit procedures specifically designed to detect illegal acts.

.11 A sample checklist documenting the procedures listed in this section is located in AAM section 3165.

AAM Section 3155

Analytical Procedures

General Comments

.01 Understanding financial relationships is essential in planning and evaluating the results of analytical procedures and generally requires knowledge of the client and the industry or industries in which the client operates. An understanding of the purposes of analytical procedures and the limitations of those procedures is also important. Accordingly, the identification of the relationships and types of data used, as well as conclusions reached when recorded amounts are compared to expectations, requires judgment by the auditor.

.02 Analytical procedures are used for the following purposes:

- a. To assist the auditor in planning the nature, timing, and extent of other auditing procedures.
- b. As a substantive test to obtain evidential matter about particular assertions related to account balances or classes of transactions.
- c. As an overall review of the financial information in the final review stage of the audit.

Analytical procedures should be applied to some extent for the purposes referred to in (a) and (c) above for all audits of financial statements made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. In addition, in some cases, analytical procedures can be more effective or efficient than tests of details for achieving particular substantive testing objectives.

.03 Analytical procedures involve comparisons of recorded amounts or ratios developed from recorded amounts, to expectations developed by the auditor. The auditor develops such expectations by identifying and using plausible relationships that are reasonably expected to exist based on the auditor's understanding of the client and of the industry in which the client operates. Following are examples of sources of information for developing expectations:

- a. Financial information for comparable prior period(s) giving consideration to known changes.
- b. Anticipated results—for example, budgets or forecasts including extrapolations from interim or annual data.
- c. Relationships among elements of financial information within the period.
- d. Information regarding the industry in which the client operates—for example, gross margin information.
- e. Relationships of financial information with relevant nonfinancial information.

Engagement Planning Procedures

.04 The purpose of applying analytical procedures in planning the audit is to assist in planning the nature, timing, and extent of auditing procedures that will be used to obtain evidential matter for specific account balances or classes of transactions. To accomplish this, the analytical procedures used in planning the audit should focus on (a) enhancing the auditor's understanding of the clients' business and the transactions and events that have occurred since the last audit date, and (b) identifying areas that may represent specific risks relevant to the audit. Thus, the objective of the procedures is to identify such things as the existence of unusual transactions and events, and amounts, ratios and trends that might indicate matters that have financial statement and audit planning ramifications.

.05 Analytical procedures used in planning the audit generally use data aggregated at a high level. Furthermore, the sophistication, extent and timing of the procedures, which are based on the auditor's judgment, may vary widely depending on the size and complexity of the client. For some entities, the procedures may consist of reviewing changes in account balances from the prior to the current year using the general ledger or the auditor's preliminary or unadjusted working trial balance. In contrast, for other entities, the procedures might involve an extensive analysis of quarterly financial statements. In both cases, the analytical procedures, combined with the auditor's knowledge of the business, serve as a basis for additional inquiries and effective planning.

.06 Although analytical procedures used in planning the audit often use only financial data, sometimes relevant non-financial information is considered as well. For example, number of employees, square footage of selling space, volume of goods produced, and similar information may contribute to accomplishing the purpose of the procedures.

a. AICPA audit and accounting guides?	_____	_____
b. Industry publications?	_____	_____
c. Financial statements of other entities in the industry?	_____	_____
d. Textbooks, periodicals, and individuals knowledgeable about the industry?	_____	_____
5. Have methods the entity uses to process accounting information been considered in planning the audit?	_____	_____
6. Have the following matters been considered in evaluating the effect of the entity's computer processing on the audit of financial statements:

	Done by	Date
a. The extent to which the computer is used in each significant accounting application?	_____	_____
b. The complexity of the entity's computer operations, including the use of an outside service center?	_____	_____
c. The organizational structure of the computer processing activities?	_____	_____
d. The availability of data?	_____	_____
e. The use of computer-assisted audit techniques to increase the efficiency of performing audit procedures?	_____	_____
7. Have engagement personnel considered whether specialized skills are needed to consider the effect of computer processing on the audit?	_____	_____
.05 E. Assessing Auditability
1. Has the adequacy of the accounting records been assessed for the following factors:
a. Are transactions described in sufficient detail to permit appropriate classification in financial statements?	_____	_____
b. Are transactions described in a manner that permits the recording of monetary value in the financial statements?	_____	_____
c. Do accounting records include the period in which the transactions occurred to permit the recording of transactions in the appropriate accounting period?	_____	_____
2. Has an understanding of the design of the relevant policies, procedures, and records, pertaining to the control environment, accounting system, and control procedures of the internal control structure and whether they have been placed in operation been obtained through:
a. Previous experience with the entity?	_____	_____
b. Inquiries of appropriate management, supervisory, and staff personnel?	_____	_____
c. Inspection of entity documents and records?	_____	_____
d. Observation of entity activities and operations?	_____	_____
3. Has the understanding of the entity's internal control structure elements obtained to plan the audit been documented?	_____	_____
4. Have the following procedures been performed regarding the integrity of management:
a. Inquiries of local attorneys, bankers, and other business leaders as to the client's standing in the business community?	_____	_____
b. A check of the client's credit rating?	_____	_____
.06 F. Engagement Letter
1. Have the following items been included in the engagement letter:
a. Name of entity (and subsidiaries, if any) and its year end?	_____	_____
b. Statement(s) to be audited, compiled, or reviewed?	_____	_____
c. Scope of services, as detailed as necessary—including limitations imposed by the client?	_____	_____
d. Type of opinion, disclaimer, or other report to be rendered?	_____	_____
e. Disclaimer of responsibility for detecting fraud (see AAM section 3175)?	_____	_____
f. Obligations of the client's staff to prepare schedule and statements?	_____	_____
g. Requirement that accountant read all printed material in which his report appears?	_____	_____
h. Responsibility for preparation or review of tax returns and subsequent tax examinations?	_____	_____
i. Fee or method of determining fee?	_____	_____

	Done by	Date
j. Frequency of billing and client's obligations for payment, including retainer, if applicable?	_____	_____
k. Provision for client's acceptance signature and date?	_____	_____
l. Expression of thanks for being selected as auditors or to perform other services?	_____	_____
m. That, in new engagements, the client should take the responsibility for getting the cooperation of the prior auditor and the successor auditor to communicate with the predecessor auditor prior to accepting the engagement?	_____	_____
2. Have the following optional items been included in the engagement letter:
a. Description of particular audit procedure, if requested by client or deemed necessary for protection of the auditor (The detailed audit program should not be made available to client personnel, orally or otherwise)?	_____	_____
b. Extent and timing of interim auditing?	_____	_____
c. Name of client's personnel to be contacted during engagement?	_____	_____
d. Study and evaluation of internal control and report thereon (This would be a special engagement, not part of the normal audit routine)?	_____	_____
e. Interim contact and cooperation with internal auditor?	_____	_____
f. List of services specifically excluded?	_____	_____
g. Acknowledgment by the client of its responsibility for the financial statements (Because auditors of smaller, nonpublic entities often may maintain accounting records, prepare financial statements, and advise management about appropriate accounting principles, such an acknowledgment may be particularly appropriate for such clients.)?	_____	_____
h. A statement that the client will be informed of any reportable conditions in the internal control structure that come to the auditor's attention during his audit of financial statements (Such a communication, either orally or in writing, is required by SAS No. 60, Communication of Internal Control Structure Related Matters Noted in an Audit [AU section 325].)?	_____	_____
.07 G. Assessing Audit Risk and Materiality
1. Have inherent and control risk been assessed to determine how much detection risk can be accepted while still restricting audit risk to an acceptably low level?	_____	_____
2. Has a preliminary judgment about the dollar amount of misstatement that would be material to the financial statements been determined?	_____	_____
3. Has that amount been related to tolerable error for specific account balances in planning audit procedures?	_____	_____
.08 H. Assessment of Control Risk
1. If control risk is assessed at the maximum level for some or all financial statement assertions, has that conclusion been documented?	_____	_____
2. Have the following procedures been performed in assessing control risk at below the maximum level for some or all financial statement assertions:
a. Identifying specific internal control structure policies and procedures relevant to specific assertions that are likely to prevent or detect material misstatements in those assertions?	_____	_____
b. Performing tests of controls to evaluate the effectiveness of the design and operation of such policies and procedures?	_____	_____

	Done by	Date
3. If a further reduction in the assessed level of control risk is desired for some financial statement assertions, have additional tests of relevant controls been performed?	_____	_____
4. Has the basis for the conclusion that control risk is assessed at below maximum level for some or all financial statement assertions been documented?	_____	_____
.09 I. Errors and Irregularities
1. Have the following factors been considered in assessing the risk of material misstatement at the financial statement level:
a. Management characteristics (e.g., management's attitude toward financial reporting is unduly aggressive)?	_____	_____
b. Operating and industry characteristics (e.g., profitability of entity relative to its industry is inadequate or inconsistent)?	_____	_____
c. Engagement characteristics (e.g., significant and unusual related party transactions not in the ordinary course of business are present)?	_____	_____
2. Have the following factors been considered in assessing the risks of management misrepresentation at the financial statement level:
a. Are there known circumstances that may indicate a management predisposition to distort financial statements, such as frequent disputes about aggressive application of accounting principles that increase earnings?	_____	_____
b. Are there indications that management has failed to establish policies and procedures that provide reasonable assurance of reliable accounting estimates, such as personnel who develop estimates appearing to lack necessary knowledge and experience?	_____	_____
c. Are there conditions that indicate a lack of control of activities, such as constant crisis conditions in operating or accounting areas?	_____	_____
d. Are there indications of a lack of control over computer processing, such as a lack of controls over access to applications that initiate or control the movement of assets (e.g., a demand-deposit application in a bank)?	_____	_____
e. Are there indications that management has not developed or communicated adequate policies and procedures for security of data or assets, such as not investigating employees in key positions before hiring?	_____	_____
3. Have the following factors been considered in assessing the risk of material misstatement at the balance or class level:
a. Complexity and contentiousness of accounting issues affecting balance or class?	_____	_____
b. Nature, cause, and amount of known and likely misstatements detected in the balance or class in the prior audit?	_____	_____
c. Susceptibility of related assets to misappropriation?	_____	_____
d. Extent of judgment involved in determining the total balance or class?	_____	_____
4. Has the assessment of risk of material misstatement been considered in determining:
a. The nature, timing or extent of audit procedures?	_____	_____
b. Assigning staff?	_____	_____
c. Requiring appropriate levels of supervision?	_____	_____
5. If it is determined that significant risk of material misstatement exists:
a. Have the details of specific transactions involving senior management been identified and confirmed with the appropriate external parties?	_____	_____

		Done by	Date
	b. Have the details of all material accounting entries prepared or approved by senior management been reviewed?	_____	_____
	c. Has it been considered whether accounting policies are acceptable in the circumstances?	_____	_____
.10	J. Illegal Acts
	1. Have the following matters been considered in the assessment of risk that the entity has not complied with laws and regulations that have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts:
	a. The client's policy, if any, relative to the prevention of illegal acts?	_____	_____
	b. Management's understanding of the requirements of laws and regulations pertinent to audit objectives?	_____	_____
	c. The nature and extent of noncompliance noted in prior audits?	_____	_____
	d. Internal control structure elements designed to give management reasonable assurance that the entity complies with those laws and regulations?	_____	_____
.11	K. Analytical Procedures
	1. Have analytical procedures been used which focus on:
	a. Enhancing the auditor's understanding of the client's business and the transactions and events that have accrued since the last audit date?	_____	_____
	b. Identifying areas that may represent specific risks relevant to the audit?	_____	_____
.12	L. Audit Strategies and the Audit Program
	1. Has the proposed audit program been developed for the engagement?	_____	_____
	2. Has the final audit program been approved by the engagement partner?	_____	_____

.02 Audit Engagement Leading to Opinion

SWIFT, MARCH & COMPANY

Certified Public Accountants

[Date]

Mr. Thomas Thorp, President
Anonymous Company, Inc.
Route 32
Nowhere, New York 10000

Dear Mr. Thorp:

This will confirm our understanding of the arrangements for our audit of the financial statements of Anonymous Company, Inc., for the year ending [date].

We will audit the Company's balance sheet at [date], and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended, for the purpose of expressing an opinion on them. The financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statements based on our audit.

We will conduct our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit will provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Our procedures will include tests of documentary evidence supporting the transactions recorded in the accounts, tests of the physical existence of inventories, and direct confirmation of receivables and certain other assets and liabilities by correspondence with selected customers, creditors, legal counsel, and banks. At the conclusion of our audit, we will request certain written representations from you about the financial statements and matters related thereto.

Our audit is subject to the inherent risk that material errors and irregularities, including fraud or defalcations, if they exist, will not be detected. However, we will inform you of irregularities that come to our attention, unless they are inconsequential.

If you intend to publish or otherwise reproduce the financial statements and make reference to our firm, you agree to provide us with printers' proofs or masters for our review and approval before printing. You also agree to provide us with a copy of the final reproduced material for our approval before it is distributed.

We will review the Company's federal and state [identify states] income tax returns for the fiscal year ended [date]. These returns, we understand, will be prepared by the controller.

Further, we will be available during the year to consult with you on the tax effects of any proposed transactions or contemplated changes in business policies.

Our fee for these services will be at our regular per diem rates, plus travel and other out-of-pocket costs. Invoices will be rendered every two weeks and are payable on presentation.

We are pleased to have this opportunity to serve you.

If this letter correctly expresses your understanding, please sign the enclosed copy where indicated and return it to us.

Very truly yours,

.03 Audit Engagement Leading to Opinion (Including Financial Information for Form 10-K)

SWIFT, MARCH & COMPANY

Certified Public Accountants

[Date]

Mr. Frederick Mead, President

Thor Tool Co., Inc.

473 Canyon Road

Noplace, NJ 07000

Dear Mr. Mead:

This letter confirms our arrangements with Thor Tool Co., Inc. for the year ended [date].

We will audit the Corporation's balance sheet as of [date], and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended. The financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statements based on our audit.

We will conduct our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit will provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Our procedures will include tests (by statistical sampling, if feasible) of documentary evidence supporting the transactions recorded in the accounts, tests of the physical existence of inventories, and direct confirmation of receivables and certain other assets and liabilities by correspondence with selected customers, creditors, legal counsel, and banks. At the conclusion of our audit, we will request certain written representations from you about the financial statements and matters related thereto.

Your accounting department personnel will prepare the necessary detailed trial balance and supporting schedules. We will assemble and audit the financial information required for Form 10-K and for the annual report to stockholders. Both must be submitted to us for approval before publication.

Our audit is subject to the inherent risk that material errors and irregularities, including fraud or defalcations, if they exist, will not be detected. However, we will inform you of irregularities that come to our attention, unless they are inconsequential.

If you intend to publish or otherwise reproduce the financial statements and make reference to our firm, you agree to provide us with printers' proofs or masters for our review and approval before printing. You also agree to provide us with a copy of the final reproduced material for our approval before it is distributed.

Fees for these services will be at our standard per diem rates. Invoices, including out-of-pocket expenses, will be submitted every two weeks as the work progresses, and are payable on presentation. We estimate that our fee for this engagement will be between $10,000 and $12,000. Should any situation arise that would materially increase this estimate, we will, of course, advise you.

Please indicate your agreement to these arrangements by signing the attached copy of this letter and returning it to us.

Sincerely,

Mr. James Johnson, Treasurer
Birdie Country Club
64 Eagle Road
Noplace, New York 10000

Dear Mr. Johnson:

As we agreed in our original engagement letter dated [date] we are notifying you that our audit of your [date] financial statements requires additional procedures.

We have found that certain guest checks are held for only three months after they are paid. Thus, a substantial number of guest checks are not available for examination. Fortunately, your internal control structure policies and procedures allows us to use alternative procedures to satisfy ourselves on this part of the audit. However, this will require substantially more time than examining guest checks.

The fee for these additional services will be billed at our standard per diem rates and added to the $X,XXX fee quoted in our previous letter.

The problem has been discussed with your controller, who assured us that in the future all guest checks will be kept for two years.

Please indicate your acceptance of these added terms by signing the copy of this letter and returning it to us. *

.05 Conditions Encountered Which Do Not Permit Expression of Opinion as Anticipated in Original Engagement Letter

SWIFT, MARCH & COMPANY

[Date]

Ms. Helene Brown, President
ZYY, Inc.
1234 West Street
Noplace, New York 10000

Dear Ms. Brown:

Our March 15, 19XX letter described our present engagement as an audit for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the company's [date] financial statements. This letter is to inform you that because of the circumstances described below, we will be required to qualify our opinion on these statements.

As you know, the Internal Revenue Service has proposed total income tax assessments of approximately $180,000 for the three fiscal years ended [date]. Your tax counsel has advised us that although you have a defensible position and will protest the assessments, counsel cannot offer an opinion as to your ultimate liability. No provision for this assessment or any portion of it is included in your [date] financial statements, nor do you feel any is necessary. You agreed, however, that the proposed assessment and its present status will be disclosed in the notes to the financial statements.

Because of the uncertainty as to your ultimate liability, we will be unable to express an unqualified opinion. Our report will state that the financial statements are subject to the effects of such adjustments, if any, as might have been required had the outcome of this income tax matter been known.

You and your tax counsel have advised that you will inform us of any new developments in the proposed assessment before our report is issued so that we may consider their effect on your financial statements and on our report.

Very truly yours,

SWIFT, MARCH & COMPANY

NOTE: The client is not asked to sign this letter. Its purpose is to inform him of the altered circumstances and the effect on the opinion. There is no change in the terms of the engagement. However, it might be desirable to have the client acknowledge receipt of this letter by signing a copy and returning it where—for example—it is a problem client, or when there has been a history of misunderstandings.

.06 SEC Engagement: Initial Registration, Form S-1

SWIFT, MARCH & COMPANY

Certified Public Accountants

[Date]

Mr. John James, President

Odin Company, Inc.

3 Bay Drive

La Mancha, California 99999

Dear Mr. James:

This letter confirms the arrangements for our services for the registration statement Odin Company will file with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

We will audit the consolidated balance sheets of Odin Company, Inc., as at December 31, 19X1 and 19X0, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the three years then ended, which will be included in a Form S-1, * registration statement. The financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statements based on our audit.

We will conduct our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit will provide a reasonable basis for our opinion. We will also audit the financial information necessary for the schedules required by Regulation S-X of the SEC.

We will perform these services as expeditiously as possible. Your accounting personnel will assist us and cooperate in the timely preparation of trial balances, schedules and account analyses, and provide clerical assistance as needed. Mr. John Brown of the law firm of Green & Brown will be liaison with counsel.

If during our audit we find that we are unable to express an unqualified opinion on the financial statements or that we are otherwise unable to comply with the requirements of Form S-1, we will notify you of the problems encountered.

We will also fulfill the portion of the underwriter's agreement directed to the independent accountants, provided the requirements are within the purview of Statement on Auditing Standards No. 49 (Letters for Underwriters), issued by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, and provided the material can properly be reported on by accountants pursuant to that Statement. In this regard, we require that a copy of the tentative underwriting contract be given us as soon as it is available. Should that portion of the underwriting contract that deals with the details of the comfort letter be available before the balance of the underwriting contract is completely drafted, you will arrange for us to receive a copy of it.

Subsequent to issuance of our auditor's report, we will perform certain procedures required by Statement on Auditing Standards No. 37 (Filings Under Federal Securities Statutes), issued by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, regarding execution of consent letters required for certain SEC filings. In connection therewith, all printer's proofs of reports to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission are to be submitted to us for review. This requirement extends to the entire registration statement and all other material which accompanies the financial statements.

* This should be edited to agree with the particular form to be filed.

Our audit is subject to the inherent risk that material errors and irregularities, including fraud or defalcations, if they exist, will not be detected. However, we will inform you of irregularities that come to our attention, unless they are inconsequential.

Our fee for services will be computed at our standard per diem rates, and will be billed to you, together with out-of-pocket costs, every two weeks. Invoices are due and payable on presentation. Before our services begin, you have agreed to pay us a $XX,XXX retainer, which will be applied to the final billing for this engagement.

We appreciate your confidence in our firm by retaining us as your independent certified public accountants.

If this letter correctly expresses your understanding, please sign the enclosed copy where indicated and return it to us, together with your check for $XX,XXX.

Sincerely,

.07 Compilation of Financial Statements and Tax Services

SWIFT, MARCH & COMPANY

Certified Public Accountants

[Date]

Mr. Tom Jones, President
ZYXWV Freight Corporation
648 Crystal Lane
Noplace, Anystate 00000

Dear Mr. Jones:

This letter is to confirm our understanding of the terms and objectives of our engagement and the nature and limitations of the services we will provide.

We will perform the following services:

1. We will compile, from information you provide, the annual and interim balance sheets and related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows of ZYXWV Freight Corporation for the year 19XX. We will not audit or review such financial statements. Our report on the annual financial statements of ZYXWV Freight Corporation is presently expected to read as follows:

We have compiled the accompanying balance sheet of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19XX, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

A compilation is limited to presenting in the form of financial statements information that is the representation of management (owners). We have not audited or reviewed the accompanying financial statements and, accordingly, do not express an opinion or any other form of assurance on them.

Our report on your interim financial statements, which statements will omit substantially all disclosures, will include an additional paragraph that will read as follows:

Management has elected to omit substantially all of the disclosures required by generally accepted accounting principles. If the omitted disclosures were included in the financial statements, they might influence the user's conclusions about the company's financial position, results of operations, and cash flows. Accordingly, these financial statements are not designed for those who are not informed about such matters.

If, for any reason, we are unable to complete the compilation of your financial statements, we will not issue a report on such statements as a result of this engagement.

2. We will assist your bookkeeper in adjusting the books of account so that he will be able to prepare a working trial balance from which financial statements can be compiled. Your bookkeeper will provide us with a detailed trial balance and any supporting schedules we require.
3. We will also prepare the federal and state [identify states] income tax returns for ZYXWV Freight Corporation for the fiscal year ended December 31, 19XX.

.08 Review of Financial Statements and Tax Services

SWIFT, MARCH & COMPANY

Certified Public Accountants

[Date]

Mr. Tom Jones, President
ZYXWV Freight Company
648 Crystal Lane
Nowhere, Anystate 00000

Dear Mr. Jones:

This letter is to confirm our understanding of the terms and objectives of our engagement and the nature and limitations of the services we will provide.

We will perform the following services:

1. We will review the balance sheet of ZYXWV Freight Company as of [date], and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. We will not perform an audit of such financial statements taken as a whole, and, accordingly, we do not express an opinion on them. A review does not contemplate obtaining an understanding of the internal control structure or assessing control risk, tests of accounting records and responses to inquiries by obtaining corroborating evidential matter, and certain other procedures ordinarily performed during an audit. Thus, a review does not provide assurance that we will become aware of all significant matters that would be disclosed in an audit. Our engagement cannot be relied upon to disclose errors, irregularities, or illegal acts, including fraud or defalcations, that may exist. However, we will inform you of any such matters that come to our attention, unless they are inconsequential.

Our report is presently expected to read as follows:

We have reviewed the accompanying balance sheet of ZYXWV Freight Company as of [date], and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. All information included in these financial statements is the representation of the management of ZYXWV Freight Company.

A review consists principally of inquiries of Company personnel and analytical procedures applied to financial data. It is substantially less in scope than an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying financial statements in order for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

If, for any reason, we are unable to complete our review of your financial statements, we will not issue a report on such statements as a result of this engagement.

2. We will provide your chief accountant with such consultation on accounting matters as he may require in adjusting and closing the books of account and in drafting financial statements for our review. Your chief accountant also will provide us with a detailed trial balance and any supporting schedules we require.

3. We will also prepare the federal and state [identify states] income tax returns for ZYXWV Freight Company for the fiscal year ended [date].

Our fees for these services. . .

We shall be pleased to discuss this letter with you at any time.

If the foregoing is in accordance with your understanding, please sign the copy of this letter in the space provided and return it to us.*

Sincerely yours,

.....

.10 Audit of Personal Financial Statements

[Salutation]

This letter is to confirm our understanding of the terms and objectives of our audit and the nature and limitations of the services we will provide.

We will perform the following service(s):

1. We will audit the statement of financial condition of James and Jane Person as of [date], and the related statement of changes in net worth for the [period] then ended, for the purpose of expressing an opinion on them. The financial statements are the responsibility of James and Jane Person. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statements based on our audit. We will conduct our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amount and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by James and Jane Person, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

[Standard Audit Report]

2. We will also [discussion of other services, if any].

Our audit is subject to the inherent risk that material errors and irregularities, including fraud or defalcations, if they exist, will not be detected. However, we will inform you of irregularities that come to our attention, unless they are inconsequential.

Our fees for these services [specify fees or terms].

We shall be pleased to discuss this letter with you at any time.

If the foregoing is in accordance with your understanding, please sign the copy of this letter in the space provided and return it to us.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature of accountant]

.11 Compilation of Personal Financial Statements

[Salutation]

This letter is to confirm our understanding of the terms and objectives of our engagement and the nature and limitations of the services we will provide.

We will perform the following service(s):

1. We will compile, from information you provide, the statement of financial condition of James and Jane Person as of [date], and the related statement of changes in net worth for the [period] then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. We will not audit or review such financial statements. Our report on the financial statements is presently expected to read as follows:

[Standard Compilation Report]

If, for any reason, we are unable to complete our compilation of your financial statements, we will not issue a report on such statements as a result of this engagement.

2. We will also [discussion of other services, if any].

Our engagement cannot be relied upon to disclose errors and irregularities, including fraud or defalcations, that might exist. However, we will inform you of irregularities that come to our attention, unless they are inconsequential.

AAM Section 4100

Introduction

.01 The second standard of field work states, "A sufficient understanding of the internal control structure is to be obtained to plan the audit and to determine the nature, timing and extent of tests to be performed." SAS No. 55, Consideration of the Internal Control Structure in a Financial Statement Audit (AU section 319), indicates that the auditor should have an understanding of the control environment, the accounting system, and control procedures, i.e., the internal control structure. After the auditor obtains this understanding, he may decide to assess control risk at the maximum level. Where the assessed level of control risk is the maximum, only that conclusion need be documented. However the auditor must still document his understanding of the internal control structure.

.02 SAS No. 55 includes discussion of the subdivision of internal control structure into the control environment, the accounting system, and control procedures, and states that, ". . . Dividing the internal control structure into these three elements facilitates discussion of its nature and how the auditor considers it in an audit. The auditor's primary consideration, however, is whether an internal control structure policy or procedure affects financial statement assertions rather than its classification into any particular category." (SAS No. 55, paragraph 8 [AU section 319.08]). Accordingly, the term "internal control structure" is used throughout these sections.

.03 The following Statements on Auditing Standards provide authoritative interpretation of the second standard of field work:

SAS No. 55, Consideration of the Internal Control Structure in a Financial Statement Audit (AU section 319).

SAS No. 60, Communication of Internal Control Structure Related Matters Noted in an Audit (AU section 325).

.04 These sections include comments on practice aids used in obtaining an understanding of the internal control structure and assessing control risk, including illustrative examples of the following:

Internal control structure inquiries—small business.

Specific internal control structure objectives and related questions—medium to large business.

Internal control structure flowcharts—small business.

AAM Section 4200

General Approach

.01 The auditor usually starts obtaining or updating his understanding of the client's internal control structure policies and procedures relevant to the audit of the financial statements at the beginning of field work. This timing is important because the auditor uses this current understanding in determining the nature, timing, and extent of tests of controls and substantive tests to be performed during the audit. During preliminary meetings with the client, before commencing field work, the auditor may make inquiries about the client's internal control structure policies and procedures relevant to the audit or about significant changes therein.

.02 The auditor's understanding of the internal control structure in all audits should include knowledge of each of the three elements: control environment, accounting system, and control procedures. The auditor is required to obtain a sufficient understanding of each of the three elements to plan the audit. The auditor should perform procedures to understand the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation. Generally, the policies and procedures relevant to an audit pertain to the entity's ability to record, process, summarize, and report financial data consistent with the assertions embodied in the financial statements. The auditor is not required to, but may, obtain knowledge about the operating effectiveness of relevant policies and procedures as part of the understanding of internal control structure.

.03 The control environment represents the collective effect of various factors on establishing, enhancing, or mitigating the effectiveness of specific policies and procedures. Such factors include the following:

1. Management's philosophy and operating style.
2. The entity's organizational structure.
3. The functioning of the board of directors and its committees, particularly the audit committee.
4. Methods of assigning authority and responsibility.
5. Management's control methods for monitoring and following up on performance, including internal auditing.
6. Personnel policies and practices.
7. Various external influences that affect an entity's operations and practices.

The control environment reflects the overall attitude, awareness, and actions of the board of directors, management, owners, and others concerning the importance of control and its emphasis in the entity.

.04 The accounting system consists of the methods and records established to identify, assemble, analyze, classify, record, and report an entity's transactions and to maintain accountability for the related assets and liabilities. An effective accounting system gives appropriate consideration to establishing records and methods that will:

1. Identify and record all valid transactions.
2. Describe on a timely basis the transactions in sufficient detail to permit proper classification of transactions for financial reporting.
3. Measure the value of transactions in a manner that permits recording their proper monetary value in the financial statements.

4. Determine the time period in which transactions occurred to permit recording of transactions in the proper accounting period.
5. Present properly the transactions and related disclosures in the financial statements.

.05 Control procedures are those policies and procedures in addition to the control environment and accounting system that management has established to provide reasonable assurance that specific entity objectives will be achieved. Control procedures have various objectives and are applied at various organizational and data processing levels. They may also be integrated into specific components of the control environment and the accounting system. Generally, they may be categorized as procedures that pertain to:

1. Proper authorization of transactions and activities.
2. Segregation of duties that reduce the opportunities to allow any person to be in a position to both perpetrate and conceal errors or irregularities in the normal course of his duties—assigning different people the responsibilities of authorizing transactions, recording transactions, and maintaining custody of assets.
3. Design and use of adequate documents and records to help ensure the proper recording of transactions and events, such as monitoring the use of prenumbered shipping documents.
4. Adequate safeguards over access to and use of assets and records, such as secured facilities and authorization for access to computer programs and data files.
5. Independent checks on performance and proper valuation of recorded amounts, such as clerical checks, reconciliations, comparison of assets with recorded accountability, computer-programmed controls, management review of reports that summarize the detail of account balances (for example, an aged trial balance of accounts receivable), and user review of computer generated reports.

.06 The purpose of obtaining an understanding of the internal control structure is to provide the auditor with adequate knowledge to identify the types of potential misstatements that could occur in account balances or classes of transactions and the related assertions, to consider the factors that affect the risk of material misstatement in such balances or classes, and in turn, to design appropriate tests of controls and substantive tests.

.07 Ordinarily the auditor obtains an understanding by a combination of previous experience with the entity, inquiry, inspection of documents and records, observation, and reference to prior year working papers, client prepared descriptions of the structure, or other appropriate documentation. In determining the nature and extent of procedures to obtain the understanding of each internal control structure element sufficient to plan the audit, the auditor also considers previous experience with the entity, as well as the understanding of the industry in which the entity operates, assessments of inherent risk, judgments about materiality, and the complexity and sophistication of the entity's operations. The auditor must document his understanding of the internal control structure. The extent of the auditor's documentation is directly related to the complexity of the entity's internal control structure. For example, in a large entity with a complex structure, the auditor may use questionnaires and flowcharts to obtain and document the necessary understanding. In a small, owner managed entity with a simple internal control structure, a narrative memorandum may be sufficient documentation.

.08 After documenting his understanding of the internal control structure, the auditor assesses control risk for financial statement assertions. Control risk is the risk that a material misstatement that could occur in an assertion will not be prevented or timely detected by the internal control structure. The auditor assesses control risk by evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of the policies and procedures in the control environment, accounting system, and control procedures established to prevent or timely detect misstatements, i.e., by performing tests of controls. The conclusion derived from assessing control risk is called the "assessed level of control risk." The level may vary from maximum to minimum and may be stated in either quantitative (e.g., on a "scale" or percentages) or qualitative (high, moderate, or low). The assessed level of control risk is determined by two factors:

1. The presence of (or lack of) internal control structure policies and procedures that are relevant to a financial statement assertion and
2. The extent to which the design and operation of those policies or procedures are effective in preventing or timely detecting misstatements in the assertion.

.09 At this point, the auditor may decide to assess control risk at maximum for some or all assertions because policies or procedures are not relevant to the assertions or they are unlikely to be effective. Even when potentially effective policies and procedures exist, the auditor may decide that testing their effectiveness would be inefficient, i.e. the increase in audit effort for tests of controls may outweigh the decrease in audit effort from reduced substantive testing. In such circumstances, the auditor would decide to assess control risk for these assertions at maximum level. Control risk would also be assessed at maximum when the auditor obtains evidence that policies and procedures relevant to an assertion aren't designed or operating effectively.

.10 When control risk is assessed below the maximum level, the auditor should identify internal control structure policies or procedures relevant to the assertion and perform tests of controls. Tests of controls include procedures such as inquiry, observation, and reperforming procedures by the auditor. The resulting evidence is used to assess whether control risk for the assertion is below the maximum level. The auditor considers two potential sources of evidence about the effectiveness of the design and operation of internal control structure policies and procedures:

1. The understanding of the internal control structure and
2. Any planned tests of controls performed concurrently with obtaining the understanding.

The understanding of the internal control structure may provide evidence to support an assessment of control risk at below the maximum level because certain procedures performed to obtain the understanding may provide evidence about the effectiveness of design or operation for some policies or procedures even though they weren't specifically planned to do so. This evidence may be sufficient to support an assessed level of control risk below the maximum level. It is important to note that the procedures performed in obtaining the understanding must provide sufficient evidence to evaluate the effectiveness of both the design and operation of internal control structure policies or procedures. An assessment of control risk below maximum cannot be supported unless such sufficient evidence is provided. After assessing control risk using evidence provided by the understanding of the internal control structure and planned tests of controls, the auditor may believe that a further reduction in control risk for some assertions could be supported by obtaining additional evidence. The auditor would perform additional tests of controls if doing so would increase audit efficiency.

.11 When the assessed level of control risk is below maximum, the auditor should document the basis for the assessed level of control risk. This documentation generally includes tests of controls applied to internal control structure policies or procedures. When control risk is assessed at the maximum, only the conclusion itself needs to be documented.

.12 The process of obtaining an understanding of the internal control structure and assessing the level of control risk provides the auditor with a basis for determining the nature, timing, and extent of substantive tests necessary to complete the audit. This may also be an appropriate time to communicate reportable conditions and other internal control structure related matters to the audit committee (or its equivalent).

Aids Used in Obtaining an Understanding of Internal Control Structure and Assessing Control Risk

.13 The auditor may document his understanding of the internal control structure in the form of answers to a questionnaire, narrative memoranda, flowcharts, decision tables, a combination of these forms or any other form that suits the auditor's needs or preferences. Some auditors have preferences for a particular form such as flowcharts and require the form as a matter of firm policy.

.14 Auditors may find aids such as questionnaires, checklists, instructions or similar generalized materials to be useful tools in assessing control risk. These aids generally present questions or statements about internal control structure objectives and specific policies or procedures. These aids also generally include caveats that the auditor must use professional judgment in applying them in actual circumstances (including recognition of when to modify their content and when to prepare or obtain supplementary material).

.15 Some auditors design the aid to serve as a working paper when properly annotated. This type of aid is generally in checklist or questionnaire form. Others design the aid as a reference document with explicit instructions that it is intended for reference purposes and not to be annotated for use as a working paper document. Auditors who incorporate checklists or questionnaires into their working papers believe that they provide efficiency and evidence that certain predetermined matters were considered. Auditors who use reference type aids rather than aids designed to be annotated and retained in the working papers are concerned that standardized checklists may be prepared by rote. Both approaches require that the auditor use professional judgment in the circumstances. Both approaches also require that the auditor remain alert to any matters that may not be covered in the checklists or reference material.

Special Considerations for Public Companies

.16 Auditors of public companies should be aware of the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act of 1977 which, among other things, requires public companies to "... devise and maintain a system of internal accounting controls. . . ." In 1979, the SEC had proposed rules which would have required inclusion of a statement of management on internal accounting control in annual reports on Form 10-K and in annual reports to security holders and that such a statement be examined and reported on by an independent public accountant. In 1980, the SEC withdrew this proposal and decided to allow existing voluntary and private-sector initiatives for public reporting on internal accounting control (by both registrants and accountants) to continue to develop. The SEC stated its intention to monitor closely the results of such developments and revisit the issue in the spring of 1982. The AICPA Auditing Standards Board has issued SAS No. 30, Reporting on Internal Accounting Control (AU section 642), which describes the procedures an independent accountant should apply concerning various types of engagements to report on an entity's system of internal accounting control, and also describes the different forms of accountant's report to be issued in connection with such engagements. The AICPA Auditing Standards Board has also issued SAS No. 60, Communication of Internal Control Structure Related Matters Noted in an Audit (AU section 325), which provides guidance in identifying and reporting conditions that relate to an entity's internal control structure observed during an audit of financial statements.

Organization of Checklists, Questionnaires, and Other Generalized Aids

.17 Checklist questionnaires and other generalized aids on internal control structure elements typically present numerous questions, statements, or a combination of both, about specific internal control structure, policies and procedures. Auditors differ in how they structure their materials on internal control structure. Some auditors group their material into balance sheet and related income statement classifications to ease cross-reference with sections of their working papers on substantive tests. Other auditors organize their material into broad transaction cycles. For example, purchases and accounts payable, payrolls, accrued expenses, and cash disbursements may be grouped as an expenditures cycle. This approach transcends the differences in how companies are organized and helps to get an overview of all the effects of transactions across various functional lines within a company. Other auditors organize their material by functions within a company. Examples are requisitioning, purchasing, receiving, invoice processing, accounts payable recording, and payment functions which may be grouped as purchases and payables. This approach follows the established organizational lines in a company and aids in determining who is responsible for performance of prescribed internal control structure procedures. These approaches are conceptual notions and may be applied to large or small organizations. The decision to organize internal control structure material on the statement classification approach, cycle approach, business function approach, or any other suitable approach rests with the individual auditor or firm. Following are some further illustrations of these grouping approaches:

- Related Balance Sheet and Income Statement Classifications: (1) general; (2) cash receipts, disbursements, and balances; (3) accounts receivable and sales; (4) inventory and cost of sales; (5) property, plant and equipment, and related depreciation; (6) investments; (7) accounts payable and purchases; (8) payroll; (9) debt; and (10) equity capital.
- Transaction Cycles: (1) revenue (customer acceptance, credit, shipping, sales, cash receipts, receivables, allowances for doubtful accounts, sales warranties, etc.); (2) expenditures (purchases, payrolls, cash disbursements, accounts payable, accrued expenses, etc.); (3) production or conversion (inventory, cost of sales, property and related depreciation, etc.); (4) financing (investments, debt, leases, equity capital); and (5) financial reporting.¹
- Groupings of Business Functions: (1) financial reporting (controllershship, general accounting); (2) EDP; (3) financial management (cash receipts and disbursements, cash balances and investments, debt, leases, and equity capital); (4) sales and credit (order entry, credit, shipping, billing, receivables and collections); (5) inventory and production costs (production planning and operations, cost accounting, inventory recordkeeping, and inventory custody); (6) productive assets (planning and authorization for capital assets, accounting for property and related depreciation, maintenance, and asset custody); (7) purchases and payables (purchasing, receiving, invoice processing, and disbursements); and (8) employee compensation and benefits (personnel, employee supervision, payroll preparation and recording, and disbursements).

Formats of Checklists and Questionnaires

.18 Checklist questions are usually worded so a "yes" answer indicates that the client uses a particular policy or procedure. "No" answers serve as signals that the client's internal control structure may have a potential reportable condition unless the client has other policies or procedures that accomplish the same objectives as would the absent procedure. "No" answers pose an especially important documentation problem because they require consideration of the following:

- Should the absent procedure be dismissed as not applicable because it is not relevant in the client's circumstances?
- Does the client have other policies or procedures that accomplish the objective of the absent procedure so that the answer does not indicate a potential reportable condition?
- Does the deficiency require modification of the audit program for substantive tests or are the tests adequate despite the deficiency?
- Is the deficiency a reportable condition requiring communication in accordance with SAS No. 60 (AU section 325)?
- How should other deficiencies be communicated to the client?

Because of these considerations, the formats of questionnaires usually call for information in addition to simply checking yes and no answers. Some questionnaires provide an additional column for "not applicable" and a wide column for additional comment on conclusions about other compensating policies and procedures and the needs for program modifications and/or written communication to the client.

.19 Some questionnaire formats provide additional columns for information such as the following:

- Name of client's employee or group of employees who perform the procedure.
- Specific cross-reference to flowcharts and/or narratives included in the auditor's working papers.

¹ The financial reporting cycle would include general accounting and preparation of such reports as financial statements, tax returns, and reports to regulatory bodies. For nonpublic companies which work closely with their auditors in preparing such reports, review of internal control structure for the financial reporting cycle may be a moot point.

- Specific cross-reference to working papers on tests of controls.
- Specific cross-reference to compensating policies and procedures for absent items; compensating policies and procedures may be represented by other checklist items or noted in complementary memoranda or procedures not anticipated in the questionnaire.
- Specific cross-reference to memoranda on internal control structure deficiencies and their effect on the audit program and development of management letter comments.

.20 Some questionnaires provide for the auditor to initial and date each item. Others provide entry of the date and auditor's signature after each group of questions for a particular transaction cycle or functional grouping. Some questionnaires also include blank formats with preprinted captions on which the auditor may prepare annotations about specific internal control structure deficiencies, conclusions about findings, and proposed amendments (if any) to the audit program. These preprinted captions for example, may include the following:

- Explanation of a specific deficiency or new strength (generally cross-referenced to a specific item in the body of the checklist).
 - Cross-reference to a specific compensating internal control structure policy or procedure, if any.
 - Whether amendment of the audit program is needed concerning:
 - (a) Further restriction of audit procedures.
 - (b) Extension of audit procedures.
 - (c) Modification of the extent or timing of audit procedures.

Internal Control Structure Considerations in a Minicomputer Environment

.010 The use of minicomputers to process accounting applications has become increasingly common in entities of all sizes. In a minicomputer environment, as elsewhere, the auditor studies the internal control structure, which includes both the EDP and non-EDP features of the minicomputer system. In 1981, AICPA published "Audit and Control Considerations in a Minicomputer or Small Business Computer Environment" as part of its Computer Services Guidelines. That document discusses, among other things, audit and planning considerations, substantive audit techniques, and computer-assisted audit techniques in a minicomputer environment. It may be helpful to auditors who wish to acquire more knowledge about the effect of the use of a minicomputer on the audit plan.

.020 "Audit and Control Considerations in a Minicomputer or Small Business Computer Environment" includes a table that lists the risks and relevant control policies and procedures associated with characteristics frequently found in a minicomputer environment. That table is reproduced below as an aid to auditors assessing control risk in a minicomputer environment.

.030 Lack of Segregation of Functions Between the EDP Department and Users

(Personnel in the user department initiate and authorize source documents, enter data into the system, operate the computer, and use the output reports.)

Risks

Perpetration and concealment of errors or irregularities.

Unauthorized changes to master files.

Inaccurate and incomplete processing of data.

Processing errors.

Incomplete or erroneous data.

Uncorrected errors.

Lost, added, or altered data.

Relevant Control Policies and Procedures

Maintenance of transaction logs and batch controls by user department.

Independent review of processing logs, transaction logs, and batch control information.

Management supervision.

Passwords to control access to files and libraries.

Required vacations and rotation of duties.

Reconciliation of record counts or hash totals.

Use of application programs to make changes in master files.

Independent reconciliation of transaction totals recorded in batch control logs with input and output totals.

Comparison of system manufacturer's utility program with authorized application version.

.040 Location of the Computer

(The computer is located in the same area as the user department.)

Risks

Improper use or manipulation of data files.

Unauthorized use or modification of computer programs.

Improper use of computer resources.

Relevant Control Policies and Procedures

Menus and procedures to control processing access.

Management review of usage reports (history logs).

Periodic comparison of usage reports with processing schedule.

Physical control over data entry devices.

.050 Lack of Segregation of Functions Within the EDP Department

(There is no segregation between programmers and operators.)

Risks

Unauthorized access to information and programs.

Perpetration and concealment of errors or irregularities.

Errors caused by improper use or manipulation of data files or unauthorized or incorrect use of computer program.

Application programs that do not meet management's objectives.

Relevant Control Policies and Procedures

Use of a compiler to convert the source code into object code.

Comparison of library directories with manual records.

Comparison of program in use with an authorized version.

Use of interpretive language programs.

Passwords to control access to libraries and files.

Software controls to limit system access capabilities according to employee function.

Test libraries.

Management review of usage reports (history logs).

Systems of transaction logs, batch controls, processing logs and run-to-run controls.

.060 Limited Knowledge of EDP

(Supervisor responsible for data processing has limited knowledge of EDP.)

Risks

Failure of systems to meet management objectives or operate according to management specifications.

Lack of adequate application controls.

Inadequate testing and review of systems.

Relevant Control Policies and Procedures

Operations documentation.

Program documentation.

Systems documentation.

Use of third party to review new and modified programs and systems.

.070 Utility Programs

(Utility programs are used extensively to enter and to change data.)

Risks

Unauthorized access and changes to data.

Undetected errors in file manipulation.

Lack of adequate application controls.

Processing of unauthorized transactions and omitting of authorized transactions.

Perpetration and concealment of errors or irregularities.

Relevant Control Policies and Procedures

Use of passwords to control access to data files.

Use of application programs to update files.

Independent control over transaction and master file changes, such as item count, control total, and hash totals.

Limited access to utilities.

Removal of utilities from system when practical to do so.

.080 Diskettes

(Diskettes are used extensively for file storage.)

Risks

Processing of the wrong file.

Inability to detect errors in file changes.

Inability to highlight operator errors.

Relevant Control Policies and Procedures

Control over access to diskettes.

Storage of data in format not readable by key entry devices.

Use of manual logs to control diskette library.

.090 Terminals

(Terminals are used for transaction data entry, inquiry, and other interactive functions.)

Risks

Unauthorized input.

Erroneous or fraudulent data.

Errors caused by improper use or manipulation of data files or computer programs.

Erroneous or incomplete data.

Relevant Control Policies and Procedures

Use of software that will allow only certain terminals to be used for specific functions.

Use of physical controls to limit access to data files.

Use of passwords to control access to data files.

Encryption of data and programs.

On-line computer edit procedures.

Record counts, batch controls, run-to-run controls, verification.

Error handling control procedure and error logs.

Use of menus and procedures.

.100 Software Packages

(Purchased software packages are used extensively rather than internally developed application software.)

Risks

Failure of systems to meet management and user objectives.

Lack of adequate applicator controls.

Inadequate testing of systems.

Relevant Control Policies and Procedures

Use of third party to review and evaluate proposed software packages.

.110 Documentation

(Available system program, operator, and user documentation may be limited or nonexistent.)

Risks

Undetected errors during processing and system maintenance.

Relevant Control Policies and Procedures

User-based controls.

Illustrative Internal Control Structure Questions—Small Business

.010 The following is a list of illustrative internal control structure questions an auditor might raise concerning a small manufacturing operation owned by one person who also serves as the general manager and has only a few employees involved in the accounting function. These illustrative questions assume that accounting services will be performed by the CPA in compiling financial statements. These illustrative questions are numbered merely for organization purposes; the numbers are in no way intended to infer completeness or a preferred sequence. This list will require modification for other types of entities. Because this list is merely illustrative, some auditors may find it not extensive enough, while others may find it too detailed. Others may prefer a different organization or sequence for the inquiries. A firm that believes the questionnaire approach is appropriate for its practice should develop its own internal control structure questionnaires based on its own needs and preferences. In any event, users of checklists and questionnaires should recognize that important matters in a particular set of circumstances may not be covered in a standard checklist.

I. Control Environment

1. Does the owner reasonably understand the form and content of the financial statements and such required reports as tax returns?
2. Does the owner use operating budgets and cash projections? If so,
 - a. Do the budgets and projections lend themselves to effective comparison with actual results?
 - b. Are material variances reviewed and explained?
3. Are monthly comparative financial reports prepared which are sufficiently informative to highlight abnormalities?
4. Is there adequate control including a reporting schedule and assigned responsibility for preparation of required financial statements and government regulatory reports?
5. Are the personal funds of the owner including his personal income and expenses completely segregated from the business?
6. Is the bookkeeper required to take annual vacations and does someone else perform the bookkeeping duties during that time?
7. Are there adequate safekeeping facilities for custody of the accounting records such as fireproof storage areas and restricted access cabinets?
8. Is there adequate fidelity bond coverage of employees who handle cash, securities, other valuable assets and accounting records?
9. Is the adequacy of insurance coverage periodically reviewed?
10. Is there a suitable records retention plan?
11. Is the owner satisfied that all employees are competent and honest?

II. Accounting System and Control Procedures.030 A. General

1. Is a complete and current chart of accounts used?
2. Is a double entry bookkeeping system in use which includes a general ledger, source journals, and suitable subsidiary records?
3. Do the records provide for efficient accumulation of entries and avoidance of unnecessary duplicate work?
4. Are standard journal entries used to the extent practicable?
5. Are journal entries understood and authorized by the owner?
6. Are the source journals posted promptly and the general ledger and subsidiary ledgers kept current and balanced monthly?

.040 B. Identified Significant Classes of Transactions

1. Revenue Cycle (Revenue, Receivables, and Cash Receipts)?
2. Expenditures Cycle (Purchases, Payables, Payrolls, Cash Disbursements)?
3. Production or Conversion Cycle (Inventories, Cost of Sales, Property, Plant, and Equipment)?
4. Financing Cycle (Notes Receivable, Investments, Notes Payable, Debt, Other Long-Term Obligations, and Owner's Equity)?

III. Revenue Cycle (Revenue, Receivables & Cash Receipts).050 A. Understanding—Revenues and Accounts Receivable

1. How are sales transactions initiated?
2. What document or record is used to evidence initiation?
3. What are the responsibilities of personnel involved with initiating sales?
4. How are sales transactions recorded?
5. How often are sales journal entries prepared?
6. How are collections received?
7. What document or record is used to evidence collections?
8. What are the responsibilities of personnel involved with collections?
9. How often are bank deposits made?
10. How are credits to customers' accounts initiated?
11. What documents are used to evidence credits?
12. What are the responsibilities of personnel involved with initiating credits?

.060 B. Control Procedures—Revenues and Accounts Receivable

1. Is credit approved by the owner or a designated credit manager?

* The accounting system and control procedure elements are combined because they are highly interrelated and often inseparable. Generally, the auditor has a greater responsibility to understand the accounting system than to understand specific control procedures.

2. Are credit files maintained on a current basis for significant customers?
3. Are commission rates set or approved by the owner?
4. Are sales orders or work orders approved by the owner or a responsible employee for:
 - a. Price?
 - b. Terms of sale, including delivery dates?
 - c. Credit?
 - d. Account balance limits?
5. Are all sales orders (or work orders) recorded on pre-numbered forms and are all numbers accounted for?
6. Are shipping documents:
 - a. Prepared for all shipments?
 - b. Pre-numbered and all numbers accounted for?
 - c. Based on approved sales orders and matched with sales invoices?
 - d. Processed promptly?
7. Are all sales invoices:
 - a. Pre-numbered and all numbers accounted for?
 - b. Compared to shipping documents?
 - c. Checked for price and terms?
 - d. Checked for clerical accuracy?
 - e. Recorded promptly?
8. Are all credit memos pre-numbered and all:
 - a. Numbers accounted for?
 - b. Approved?
 - c. Recorded promptly?
9. Is there a proper cut-off of sales at month end?
10. Are monthly statements of account for all trade receivable balances:
 - a. Reviewed by the owner before mailing?
 - b. Mailed by the owner or a responsible employee other than the bookkeeper?
11. Is the accounts receivable subsidiary ledger balanced monthly to the general ledger control account?
12. Is an aging schedule or schedule of past due customers' accounts prepared monthly?
13. Does the owner or credit manager review monthly listings of past due customer accounts and investigate delinquent accounts and unusual items?
14. Are write-offs and other adjustments to customers' accounts authorized by the owner?

.070 C. Control Procedures—Cash Receipts

1. Does the owner or a responsible employee other than the bookkeeper or person who maintains accounts receivable detail:
 - a. Open the mail and prelist all cash receipts before turning them over to the bookkeeper?
 - b. Stamp all checks with the restrictive endorsement "for deposit only" before turning them over to the bookkeeper?
 - c. Subsequently compare the daily prelisting of cash receipts with:
 - (i) The cash receipts journal?
 - (ii) The duplicate deposit slip?
2. Are cash receipts deposited intact on a daily basis?
3. Are cash receipts posted promptly to the accounts receivable subsidiary records?
4. Are discounts taken checked for conformity with an authorized policy?
5. Are cash sales controlled by cash registers or pre-numbered cash receipt forms?
6. If cash registers are used, does a responsible employee other than the cash register operator (cashier)—
 - a. Have custody at all times of the key to the cash register tape compartment?
 - b. Take periodic readings of the register and compare such with the cashier's record of cash receipts?

IV. Expenditures Cycle.080 A. Understanding—Purchasing, Receiving, and Payables

1. How are purchase transactions initiated?
2. What document or record is used to evidence the initiation of purchases?
3. What are the responsibilities of personnel involved with initiating purchases?
4. How are purchase transactions recorded?
5. What document or record is used to evidence the receipt of purchased goods?

.090 B. Control Procedures—Purchasing

1. Does the owner or a designated person other than the bookkeeper do the purchasing?
2. Are all purchases over a predetermined dollar amount approved by the owner?
3. Are purchases of services, property and equipment, investments and other non-routine items approved by the owner?
4. Are all purchases based on purchase orders which present descriptions, quantities, and prices which are approved before issuance?
5. Are all purchase order forms pre-numbered and is custody of unissued forms adequate to prevent their misuse?
6. Are issued purchase orders listed in detail showing order numbers, vendors' names, quantities, and prices to control their issuance and disposition? (This may be in the form of a register, log, or file of copies of issued purchase order forms.)

7. Are open purchase orders periodically reviewed for delivery period so that past due orders may be brought to the owner's attention?

.100 C. Control Procedures—Receiving

1. Are all materials inspected for condition and independently counted, measured or weighed when received?
2. Are receiving reports used and prepared promptly? (Note: copies of purchase orders with the quantities blanked out may serve this purpose.)
3. Are receiving reports subjected to the following:
 - a. Pre-numbering and accounting for the sequence of all numbers? (This may be coordinated with accounting for all purchase orders—see items 5 and 6 in AAM section 4300.090.)
 - b. Promptly provided (by copies) to those who perform the purchasing and accounting (accounts payable) functions?
 - c. Controlled so that the liability may be determined for materials received but not yet invoiced?

.110 D. Control Procedures—Accounts Payable

1. Are vendor's invoices:
 - a. Matched with applicable purchase orders?
 - b. Matched with applicable receiving reports?
 - c. Reviewed for correctness of:
 - (i) Quantities received?
 - (ii) Prices charged?
 - (iii) Clerical accuracy (extensions & footings)?
 - (iv) Account distribution?
2. Are all available discounts taken?
3. Is there written evidence that invoices have been properly processed (for example, a block stamp, attachment of a voucher form, annotations) before payment?
4. Are duplicate invoices conspicuously stamped or destroyed as a precaution against duplicate payment?
5. Are approved debit memos used to notify vendors of goods returned to them and other adjustments of their accounts?
6. Are there procedures which provide that direct shipments to customers, if any, are properly billed to them?
7. Does the owner verify that the trial balance of accounts payable agrees with the general ledger control account?
8. Does the owner verify that other key accounts agree with the subsidiary records?
9. Are vendors' statements reconciled with accounts payable detail?
10. Are vendors' statements checked by the owner periodically for overdue items?
11. Are expense accounts:

- a. Submitted promptly?
- b. Adequately supported?
- c. Approved before payment?

.120 E. Understanding—Payrolls

1. How is time worked by employees accounted for?
2. What document or record is used to evidence hours worked?
3. What are the responsibilities of personnel involved in the computation of payroll?
4. How are payroll transactions recorded?

.130 F. Control Procedures—Payrolls

1. Are all employees hired by the owner?
 2. Are individual personnel files maintained?
 3. Is access to the personnel files limited to the owner or a designee who is independent of the payroll or cash functions?
 4. Are wages, salaries, commission, and piece rates approved by the owner?
 5. Are proper authorizations obtained for all payroll deductions?
 6. Is gross pay determined using authorized rates and:
 - a. Adequate time records for employees paid by the hour?
 - b. Piece work records for employees whose wages are based on production?
 - c. Are piece rate records reconciled with production records or are counts spot checked?
 - d. Salesmen's commission records reconciled with sales records?
 7. If employees punch time clocks, are the clocks located so they may be watched by someone with authority?
 8. Are time records for hourly employees approved by a foreman or supervisor?
 9. Would the owner be aware of the absence of any employee?
 10. Is the clerical accuracy of the payroll checked?
 11. Are payroll registers reviewed by the owner?
 12. Is an imprest bank account used for payroll, and does the owner compare deposits to the account with the payroll register?
 13. Does the owner approve, sign, and distribute payroll checks?
 14. If employees are paid in cash, does the owner compare the cash requisition to the net payroll?
 15. Does the owner maintain control over unclaimed payroll checks?
- .140 G. Understanding—Cash Disbursements
1. How are cash disbursements initiated?
 2. What document or record is used to evidence cash disbursements?

3. What are the responsibilities of personnel involved in disbursing cash?
4. How are cash disbursements recorded?

.150 H. Control Procedures—Cash Disbursements

1. Are all disbursements except from petty cash made by check?
2. Are checks pre-numbered and all numbers accounted for?
3. Are all checks recorded when issued?
4. Are all unused checks safeguarded (i. e., is access limited to the owner)?
5. Is a mechanical check protector used to inscribe amounts as a precaution against alteration?
6. Are all voided checks retained and mutilated?
7. Are all checks signed by the owner?
8. If a signature plate is used, is it under sole control of the owner?
9. Are supporting documents (processed invoices, receiving reports, purchase orders, etc.) presented with the checks and reviewed by the owner before he signs the checks?
10. Are supporting documents for checks properly cancelled to avoid duplicate payment?
11. Are checks payable to cash prohibited?
12. Are signed checks mailed by someone independent of the accounts payable function?
13. Are bank statements and paid checks:
 - a. Received directly by the owner?
 - b. Reviewed by the owner before they are given to the bookkeeper?
14. Are bank reconciliations prepared:
 - a. Monthly for all accounts?
 - b. By someone other than the cashier or persons authorized to sign checks or use a signature plate if they are other than the owner?
15. Are bank reconciliations reviewed and adjustments of the cash accounts approved by the owner?
16. Are all disbursements from petty cash funds supported by approved vouchers which are prepared in ink and cancelled to prevent reuse?
17. Is there a predetermined maximum dollar limit on the amounts of individual petty cash disbursements?
18. Are petty cash funds on an imprest basis and:
 - a. Kept in a safe place?
 - b. Reasonable in amount so that the fund ordinarily requires reimbursement at least monthly?
 - c. Controlled by one person?
 - d. Periodically counted by someone other than the custodian?

V. Production or Conversion Cycle.160 A. Understanding—Inventories and Cost of Sales

1. What types of documents or records are kept to control inventory items?
2. What are the responsibilities of personnel involved with inventory record keeping?

.170 B. Control Procedures—Physical Inventories

1. Are physical counts made of all classes of inventory at least once a year?
2. Are physical inventory procedures supervised by the owner or a responsible employee?
3. Do written inventory procedures exist and, if so, are they determined or approved by the owner?
4. Do the inventory procedures adequately address the following matters:
 - a. Location and orderly physical arrangement of inventories?
 - b. Identification and description of the inventories by persons familiar with it?
 - c. Segregation and proper identification of goods that are not property of the client, such as customers' goods and goods held on consignment?
 - d. Method of determining quantities such as weight, count or measure?
 - e. Identification of stock counted to determine all items are counted and to preclude duplicate counting?
 - f. Cutoff of receipts and deliveries?
 - g. Control of physical inventory records, such as pre-numbering of all count sheets, count tickets, and accounting for all numbered records issued and used?
 - h. Identification of slow moving, obsolete, and damaged items?
5. Are inventories under physical control of a designated storekeeper who is responsible for quantities and who is also not the bookkeeper?
6. Are there reasonable safeguards against theft or pilferage such as fences or locked areas?
7. Are the inventories adequately insured?

.180 C. Control Procedures—Perpetual Inventory Records

1. Are perpetual inventory records maintained and, if so,—
 - a. Are the perpetual records controlled by general ledger accounts and adjusted to periodic physical inventories at least once a year?
 - b. Are the perpetual records kept by someone other than the person(s) who has custody of the physical stock?
 - c. Are differences between physical counts and perpetual records investigated?
 - d. Are adjustments to the perpetual records approved by the owner?

.190 D. Control Procedures—Costs

1. Do the accounting records provide for properly classified accumulation of the costs of raw materials, direct labor, and overhead (including indirect labor)?

2. Do the accounting records accumulate quantities or units of finished products sold and units of raw materials used in production in sufficient detail and with proper cut-off to provide for adequate determination of cost of goods sold and cost of inventories?
3. Does the client's production process lend itself to accumulation of costs by job order or units processed, and if so, is an appropriate cost accounting system used?
4. Is the cost accounting system tied in with or reconciled to the general ledger?
5. Are production cost budgets and production reports prepared periodically?
 - a. Do the budgets lend themselves to comparison with actual costs?
 - b. Are differences between budget and actual costs investigated and explained?
 - c. Are production cost budgets and comparisons with actual costs reviewed by the owner?

.200 E. Control Procedures—Receipts, Usage, and Shipments

1. Do receiving personnel verify the quantity and quality of materials purchased and prepare formal receiving reports?
2. Are signed requisitions required for release of all materials from the storeroom and, if so, are the requisitions pre-numbered and all numbers accounted for?
3. Are all shipments of finished goods based on approved shipping advices?
4. Are shipping and receiving areas separate from inventory storage areas?

.210 F. Understanding—Property, Plant, and Equipment

1. What types of documents or records are kept to control fixed assets?
2. What are the responsibilities of personnel involved with fixed asset record keeping?

.220 G. Control Procedures—Property, Plant, and Equipment

1. Are all additions authorized by the owner?
2. Does the owner understand and approve the estimated lives and methods of depreciation for depreciable property?
3. Does the owner authorize all retirements?
4. Are there detailed records of property, plant, and equipment which—
 - a. Identify specific assets including their costs and acquisition dates?
 - b. Show related depreciation?
 - c. Are balanced periodically (at least annually) with the general ledger control accounts?
5. Are there adequate detailed records for leased property under capital leases?
6. Are periodic physical inventories or inspections made of property, plant, and equipment?
7. Are depreciable lives periodically reviewed for adequacy in relation to unanticipated use or obsolescence based on actual experience?

VI. Financing Cycle

.230 A. Understanding—Notes Receivable and Investments

1. What types of records or documents are kept for notes receivable and investments?
2. What are the responsibilities of personnel involved with keeping records for notes receivable and investments?

.240 B. Control Procedures—Notes Receivable and Investments

1. Does the owner authorize all notes receivable?
2. Are all investment purchases and sales authorized by the owner?
3. Is a detailed record of notes and investments maintained including related income?
 - a. Is the record kept current?
 - b. Is the record reconciled to the general ledger control accounts?
4. Are investments registered in the name of the company?
5. Does owner have sole access to notes and investment certificates?
6. Are investments kept in a safe place?
7. Are investments counted or confirmed periodically?

.250 C. Understanding—Notes Payable, Debt, and Other Term Obligations

1. What types of records or documents are kept for notes payable, debt, and other term obligations?
2. What are the responsibilities of personnel involved with keeping records for notes payable, debt, and other term obligations?

.260 D. Control Procedures—Notes Payable, Debt, and Other Term Obligations

1. Does the owner negotiate all borrowings?
2. Does the owner understand the terms, conditions and finance cost (interest) of all debt and lease obligations of a financing nature?
3. Are detailed, up-to-date records maintained of notes payable, long-term debt, and other term obligations such as leases?
4. Are the company files adequate regarding copies of outstanding notes, bonds, mortgages, and leases?
5. Are paid bonds and notes effectively cancelled and retained in the company?

.270 E. Control Procedures—Owner's Equity

1. If doing business as a corporation:
 - a. Are the owner's records safeguarded and in order regarding the certificate or articles of incorporation, bylaws, unissued stock certificates (if any), and relevant correspondence with legal counsel?
 - b. Does the general ledger include appropriate capital accounts?
 - c. Are minute books maintained and properly safeguarded?
2. If doing business as a sole proprietorship, does the general ledger include appropriate capital accounts?

AAM Section 4400

Illustrative Specific Internal Control Structure Objectives and Related Questions—Medium to Large Business

.010 This section lists specific internal control structure objectives and related questions that an auditor might raise concerning a medium to large business with enough employees to be able to achieve a reasonable segregation of duties. These illustrative objectives and related questions are organized into control environment, accounting system, and four broad transaction classes which are further divided into various subheadings. This is to provide some additional illustration of the concepts discussed in AAM section 4200.17 on organization of checklist questionnaires and other generalized aids.

.020 As discussed in AAM section 4200.13—.15, auditors develop various generalized materials as aids for documenting the internal control structure and assessing control risk. Many of these aids consist of questions or statements about particular policies or procedures but do not include specific internal control structure objectives. Some materials, however, include statements of specific internal control structure objectives in addition to the traditional questions or statements on policies and procedures. The number and degree of detail of the sets of objectives included in these materials vary. For example, they range in number from about 40 to over 100. These variations depend on the needs and preferences of the auditors who developed the materials.

.030 The illustrative material in this section includes 62 specific internal control structure objectives accompanied by related questions concerned with how the objectives may be accomplished. In a number of instances the questions require a comment rather than a simple yes or no answer; these instances should be self-evident. Because some policies and procedures may accomplish more than one objective, there are instances when a group of questions is associated with two or more objectives. Likewise, there is some repetition among the various groups of questions associated with different specific objectives. Some of the questions are of a general nature and are accompanied by examples of more specific policies and procedures.

.040 A firm should develop or adopt guidance material which is appropriate for its own needs and preferences. In any event, users of this illustrative material or other such material must use professional judgment and be alert for important matters in a particular set of circumstances which may not be covered in the illustrative material. For example, some companies may have developed additional specific internal control structure objectives to meet special circumstances. Also, some of the specific internal control structure objectives included in generalized material may not be applicable to some companies because of the absence of certain types of transactions.

I. Control Environment

.050 A. Management Philosophy and Operating Style

Questions—Policies and Procedures

1. Does management have clear objectives in terms of budget, profit, and other financial and operating goals?
2. Are such policies:
 - a. Clearly written?
 - b. Actively communicated throughout the entity?

- c. Actively monitored?
3. Does management adequately consider the potential effects of taking large or unusual business risks prior to doing so?
4. Are business risks adequately monitored?

.060 B. Organizational Structure*Objective*

- Definitions of responsibilities and authority assigned to specific individuals permit identification of whether persons are acting within the scope of their authority.

Questions—Policies and Procedures

1. Is the organization of the entity clearly defined in terms of lines of authority and responsibility?
2. Does the entity have a current organization chart and related materials such as job descriptions and lists of particular individuals which clearly identify:
 - a. The responsibilities and authority assigned to senior management personnel?
 - b. Individuals specifically authorized to initiate and execute transactions?
 - c. Individuals with specific responsibility for custody of various classifications of assets?
 - d. Individuals with specific responsibility for financial control functions?
3. Are policies and procedures for authorization of transactions established at an adequately high level?
4. Are such policies and procedures adequately adhered to?

.070 C. Audit Committee*Questions—Policies and Procedures*

1. Does the board of directors have an audit committee?
2. Does the audit committee take an active role in overseeing the entity's accounting and financial reporting policies and practices?
3. Is this evidenced by:
 - a. Regularly held meetings?
 - b. The appointment of members with adequate qualifications?
4. Does the audit committee:
 - a. Adequately assist the board of directors in meeting its fiduciary responsibilities?
 - b. Adequately assist the board in maintaining a direct line of communication with the entity's internal and external auditors?

.080 D. Methods of Assigning Authority and Responsibility*Questions—Policies and Procedures*

1. Does the entity have a written code of conduct and conflict of interest requirements?
2. Are the code and requirements actively enforced?

3. Are authority and responsibility to deal with organizational goals and objectives, operating functions, and regulatory requirements adequately delegated?
4. Are employees given job descriptions which delineate specific duties, reporting relationships, and constraints?
5. Has the entity developed computer systems documentation which indicates the procedures for authorizing transactions and approving systems changes?

.090 E. Management Control Methods

Questions—Policies and Procedures

1. Are there regular meetings of the board of directors (or comparable bodies) to set policies and objectives, review the entity's performance and take appropriate action, and are minutes of such meetings prepared and signed on a timely basis?
2. Has the entity established planning and reporting systems that set forth management's plans and the results of actual performance?
3. Do the planning and reporting systems in place:
 - a. Adequately identify variances from planned performance?
 - b. Adequately communicate variances to the appropriate management level?
4. Does the appropriate level of management:
 - a. Adequately investigate variances?
 - b. Take appropriate and timely corrective action?
5. Does the entity have established policies for developing and modifying accounting systems and control procedures?

.100 F. Internal Audit Function

Questions—Policies and Procedures

1. Does the entity have an internal audit function?
2. If an internal audit function is present:
 - a. Are the internal auditors independent of the activities they audit?
 - b. Is the internal audit function adequately staffed in terms of the number of employees, and their training and experience?
 - c. Do the internal auditors document the internal control structure and perform tests of controls?
 - d. Do they perform substantive tests of the details of transactions and account balances?
 - e. Do they document the planning and execution of their work by such means as audit programs and working papers?
 - f. Do they render written reports on their findings and conclusions?
 - g. Are their reports submitted to the board of directors or to a committee thereof?
3. Does management take adequate and timely actions to correct conditions reported by the internal audit function?

4. Does the internal audit function follow up on corrective actions taken by management?

.110 G. Personnel Policies and Procedures

Questions—Policies and Procedures

1. Does the entity:
 - a. Adequately plan for staff needs?
 - b. Employ sound hiring practices, including background investigations, where appropriate?
2. Are employees adequately trained to meet their job responsibilities?
3. Does the entity systematically evaluate the performance of employees?
4. Is good performance appropriately rewarded?
5. Does the entity timely dismiss employees for critical violations of control policies?
6. Are employees in positions of trust:
 - a. Bonded?
 - b. Required to take mandatory vacations?

II. Accounting System

.120 A. General Accounting

Objectives

- Accounting policies and procedures, including selection among alternative accounting principles, are determined in accordance with management's authorization.
- Access to the accounting and financial records is limited to minimize opportunities for errors and irregularities and to provide reasonable protection from physical hazards.
- Accounting entries are initiated and approved in accordance with management's authorization.
- All accounting entries are appropriately accumulated, classified, and summarized in the accounts.

Questions—Policies and Procedures

1. Does the entity have adequate written statements and explanations of its accounting policies and procedures?

(Written accounting policies and procedures may include such matters as:

- (i) Chart of accounts accompanied by explanations of the items to be included in the various accounts.
- (ii) Identification and description of the principal accounting records, recurring standard entries, and requirements for supporting documentation. For example, this may include information about the general ledger and journal, and the subsidiary transaction registers, accounts, and detail records for each of the various significant classes of transactions.
- (iii) Expression of the assignment of responsibilities and delegation of authority including identification of the individuals or positions that have authority to approve various types of recurring and non-recurring entries.

(iv) Explanations of documentation and approval requirements for various types of recurring and non-recurring transactions and journal entries. Documentation requirements, for example, would include the basis and supporting computations required for adjustments and write-offs.

(v) Instructions for determining an adequate cutoff and closing of accounts for each reporting period.)

2. Is responsibility assigned for initiation and approval of revisions in the accounting policies and procedures?
3. Are the entity's accounting policies and procedures adequately communicated to appropriate personnel (for example, by distribution of written instructions and manuals to persons who need them)?
4. Does the principal accounting officer of the entity have adequate authority over accounting employees and principal accounting records at all locations?

(Accounting employees of an operating division or subsidiary may report to the operating manager in charge of the division or subsidiary. In these situations it is especially important that those responsible for accounting and reporting at the divisional or subsidiary level be fully advised of the accounting and reporting policies they are expected to follow.)

5. Is maintenance of the general ledger performed by persons whose duties do not include:
 - a. Direct access to assets such as handling cash receipts, custody of marketable securities, receiving of purchased goods, and shipping of finished product?
 - b. Performance of functions which provide indirect access to assets such as signing checks, approving invoices, approving purchase orders, authorizing production, extending credit, and approving sales orders?
 - c. Maintenance of subsidiary ledgers and records?
6. Is access to the general ledger and related records restricted to those who are assigned general ledger responsibilities?
7. Are there adequate facilities for custody of the general ledger and related records?

(Examples of such facilities include fire-resistant locked cabinets, vaults, physical barriers, separate rooms, limited access to work areas, alarms, and other detection devices.)

8. Is appropriate insurance coverage maintained in accordance with management's authorization?

(Such insurance may include loss of records coverage and fidelity bonding of employees in positions of trust.)
9. Are all journal entries reviewed and approved by designated individuals at appropriate levels in the organization?

(The levels at which journal entries are reviewed and approved will usually vary depending on whether the entries are recurring or non-recurring, routine or unusual, accumulations of routine expected transactions or adjustments of balances requiring estimates and judgments.)

10. Are all journal entries adequately explained and supported?

(Explanation and support for an entry should be sufficient to enable the person responsible for its review and approval to reasonably perform this function.)
11. Are the individuals designated to review and approve journal entries independent of initiation of the entries they are authorized to approve?

12. Do all journal entries include indication of approval in accordance with management's general or specific authorization?
13. Are all accounting entries subject to the controls over completeness of processing?
(Examples of controls over completeness of processing include pre-numbering of journal vouchers and accounting for all numbers used, accumulation of control totals of dollar amounts debited and credited, and standard identification numbers for recurring standard accounting entries.)
14. Do all journal entries include adequate identification of the accounts in which they are to be recorded?
15. Are there adequate detailed records to support entries regarding:
 - a. Amortization of prepaid expenses, deferred charges, and intangible assets?
 - b. Revenue recognition of deferred income?
 - c. Liability accruals and provisions relating to such matters as product warranties?
 - d. Provisions and liabilities for income taxes and other taxes?
 - e. Liability accruals and provisions for such long-term agreements as pension plans and deferred compensation arrangements?
16. Are adequate accounts and records maintained so that adjustments and write-offs made to account balances do not impair accountability for actual amounts?
(Examples are use of contra (allowance) accounts to accumulate valuation adjustments of asset balances, and use of memorandum accounts to control bad debts which have been written off.)

.130 B. Preparation of Financial Statements

Objectives

- The general ledger and related records permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles or any other criteria applicable to such statements and reports.
- Individuals at appropriate levels in the organization consider sufficient, reliable information in making the estimates and judgments required for preparation of financial statements including related disclosures and other externally reported financial information.
- Financial statements including related disclosures are prepared and released in accordance with management's authorization.

Questions—Policies and Procedures

1. Are the general ledger accounts arranged in orderly groupings which are conducive to efficient statement preparation?
2. Are financial reports of consolidated divisions, subsidiaries and affiliates prepared in prescribed formats which are conducive to efficient combination and consolidation?
3. Are there adequate instructions and procedures for statement preparation?

(Instructions and procedures, for example, may include the following:

- (i) Written financial statement closing schedule with assignment of specific preparation and review responsibilities.

- (ii) Standard forms and accompanying instructions that identify for such entities as branches, divisions, and subsidiaries the data they are to report (for example, consistent groupings and identification of intercompany amounts).
 - (iii) Accumulation of information on intercompany transactions.
 - (iv) Accumulation of information for disclosure in notes to financial statements.)
4. Are there adequate detailed records and procedures (for preparation and review) for—
 - a. Entries to develop consolidated financial statements such as eliminations and recording of goodwill and/or minority interest?
 - b. Reclassification entries?
 5. Are policies and procedures adequate for informing appropriate levels of management on a timely basis of—
 - a. Significant, unusual, or nonrecurring transactions or events and considerations concerning their accounting recognition?
 - b. Requirements of existing and new accounting rules, and of the rules and regulations of appropriate regulatory bodies?
 6. Are estimates of net realizable value of assets and related adjustments to provide valuation allowances, and/or to write down asset balances, reviewed and approved by designated individuals at appropriate levels in the organization who are independent of the persons originating such estimates and adjustments?
 7. Are procedures adequate for the review and comparison of financial statement working papers to source data and a comparison of elimination, and reclassification entries to those made in prior periods?
 8. Are financial statements subjected to overall review, including comparisons with the prior period and budgeted amounts, by appropriate levels of management before the statements are approved for issuance?

.140 C. Identified Significant Classes of Transactions

1. Revenue Cycle (Revenue, Receivables, and Cash Receipts)?
2. Expenditures Cycle (Purchases, Accounts Payable, Payroll, and Cash Disbursements)?
3. Production (Conversion) Cycle (Production Costs, Inventories, Property, and Equipment)?
4. Financing Cycle (Investments, Borrowings, Equity, Cash Collections, and Disbursements)?

III. Revenue Cycle

A. Revenue and Receivables

.150 Sales Orders

Objectives

- The types of goods and services to be provided, the manner in which they will be provided, and the customers to which they will be provided are in accordance with management's authorization.
- The prices and other terms of sale of goods and services are established in accordance with management's authorization.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Do policies and procedures for acceptance and approval of sales orders appear clearly defined and adequately communicated for:
 - a. Standard goods and services?
 - b. Nonstandard goods and services?
 - c. Unusual delivery arrangements?
 - d. Export sales?
 - e. Sales to related parties?
2. Is responsibility clearly assigned for approval of sales orders (customer acceptance, credit clearance, and other terms of sale) before shipment or performance?
3. Are sales orders approved in accordance with management's general or specific authorization before shipment or other performance concerning:
 - a. Customer?
 - b. Description and quantities?
 - c. Price?
 - d. Other terms of sale (for example, discounts, warranties, time commitments)?
 - e. Credit (account balance limits)?

(In some instances, these matters may be recorded in computer stored master files. In these instances, consideration should be given to controls over the integrity and timely updating of the files.)

4. Are all approved sales orders recorded on appropriate forms (shipping orders, work orders, etc.) which include indication of proper approval and are subject to:
 - a. Pre-numbering?
 - b. Accounting for all forms used?
 - c. Recording in detail?

(For example, listing in a register or log, or retention of copies of all sales orders issued in a file.)

- d. Timely communication to persons who perform the shipping or service function?
5. Are there appropriate procedures for approval of "No charge" services and services performed under a warranty?
6. Are unfilled sales commitments periodically reviewed?
7. Is current information on prices, and policies on such matters as discounts, sales taxes, freight, service, warranties and returned goods clearly communicated to sales and billing personnel?

(For example, such information may be communicated through approved sales catalogs, sales manuals or authorized price lists.)

8. Is there timely communication of salesmen's commission rates to persons performing the sales and accounting functions?

(For example, approved commission schedules.)

.160 Credit

Objective

- Credit terms and limits are established in accordance with management's authorization.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Do policies on acceptance of credit risk appear clearly defined and adequately communicated?
2. Is the credit of prospective customers investigated before it is extended to them?
3. Is there periodic review of credit limits?
4. Are persons who perform the credit function independent of sales, billing, collection, and accounting functions?
5. Do persons who perform the credit function receive timely information about past due accounts?
6. Is there timely communication of credit limits and changes of credit limits to persons responsible for approving sales orders?

.170 Shipments

Objectives

- Goods delivered and services provided are based on orders which have been approved in accordance with management's authorization.
- Deliveries of goods and rendering of services result in preparation of accurate and timely billings.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are goods shipped or services rendered based on documented sales or work orders which include indication of approval in accordance with management's authorization?
2. Are shipping documents prepared for all shipments?
3. Are shipping documents subjected to:
 - a. Pre-numbering?
 - b. Accounting for all shipping documents issued?
 - c. Recording in detail? (For example, listing in a register or log, or retention of copies of all shipping documents issued in a file.)
 - d. Timely communication to persons who physically perform the shipping function?
 - e. Timely communication to persons who perform the billing function?
 - f. Timely communication to persons who perform the inventory control function?(In some systems, copies of the sales order may serve as shipping documents.)
4. Do shipping documents provide indication of:
 - a. Adequate cross-reference to the applicable properly approved sales order?
 - b. Customer identity?

- c. Location to which shipment is made?
 - d. Description and quantities of goods shipped?
 - e. Date of shipment?
 - f. Means of shipment (carrier, etc.)?
 - g. Indication of receipt?
5. Are persons who perform the shipping function independent of the sales, billing, cash and accounting functions?
 6. Is access to finished goods and merchandise restricted so that withdrawals of inventory are based only on properly approved sales orders?
 7. Are quantities of goods shipped verified, for example, by double counting or comparison with independent counts by common carriers?
 8. Are shipping and performance documents reviewed and compared with billings on a timely basis to determine that all goods shipped or services rendered are billed and accounted for?

.180 Billings and Records

Objectives

- Sales and such related transactions as commissions and sales taxes are based on deliveries of goods or rendering of services and recorded at the correct amounts and in the appropriate period and are properly classified in the accounts.
- Sales related deductions and adjustments are made in accordance with management's authorization.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are sales invoices prepared for all shipments of goods or services rendered (including purchases which are shipped directly to customers)?

(In some situations, it is practical to have posting of sales orders include simultaneous preparation of such related forms as shipping orders, billings, and if applicable, salesmen's commission advices.)
2. Are billing and invoice preparation functions performed by persons who are independent of the selling (soliciting and receiving orders from customers), credit, and cash functions?
3. Are all sales invoices:
 - a. Pre-numbered?
 - b. Accounted for to determine all invoices are recorded?
 - c. Matched with properly approved sales orders?
 - d. Matched with shipping documents?
 - e. Traced to authorized current source information on prices and terms (for example, price lists, schedules, catalogues, or computer stored master files)?
 - f. Checked for clerical accuracy by recomputation of extensions and footings?
 - g. Recorded promptly?
4. Are sales invoices listed in detail?

(For example, the listing may be a sales journal, file of invoice copies, or computer prepared transaction file.)

5. Are there suitable chart of accounts, standard journal entries, control accounts and subsidiary records for recording, classifying and summarizing revenues, receivables, collections and such related items as commissions, and provision of allowances for doubtful accounts and product warranties?
6. Is there a proper cutoff of sales and sales adjustments at month end?

(For example, adjustments for shipments not invoiced to customers, sales invoices not recorded, and sales returns or credit adjustments not recorded.)
7. Are all credit memos (for example, adjustments, allowances and returns):
 - a. Pre-numbered and all numbers accounted for?
 - b. Matched when applicable with receiving reports for returns?
 - c. Approved by a responsible employee other than the person initiating preparation of the credit memo?
 - d. Recorded promptly?
8. Are commissions based on rates which are in accordance with management's general or specific authorization?
9. Is the accounts receivable subsidiary ledger reconciled monthly to the general ledger control account?
10. Are monthly statements and specific billings sent for trade receivables:
 - a. Reviewed by a responsible employee who is independent of the accounts receivable and cash functions?
 - b. Mailed by a responsible employee who is independent of the accounts receivable and cash functions?
11. Is an aging schedule or schedule of past due accounts prepared monthly by someone independent of the billing and cash receipts functions?
12. Does the credit manager review monthly aging schedules or listings of past due customer accounts and investigate delinquent accounts and unusual items on a timely basis?
13. Is there documentation of review and analysis of accounts receivable balances to determine valuation allowances (for doubtful accounts) and any specific balances to be written-off?
14. Are valuation allowances and write-offs approved by a responsible employee?
15. Are written-off accounts receivable subject to memorandum control and follow-up by an employee independent of the cash receipts function?
16. Are written-off accounts receivable turned over to lawyers or collection agencies?

B. Cash Receipts¹.190 Processing CollectionsObjectives*

- Access to cash receipts and cash receipts records, accounts receivable records, and billing and shipping records is controlled to prevent or detect, on a timely basis, the taking of unrecorded cash receipts or the abstraction of recorded cash receipts.
- Detail transaction and account balance records are reconciled, at reasonable intervals, with applicable control accounts and bank statements for timely detection and correction of errors.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Is the mail opened by a person(s) whose duties do not involve any shipping, billing, accounts receivable detail, general ledger, invoice processing, payroll and cash disbursement functions?
2. Does the person(s) who opens the mail:
 - a. Place restrictive endorsements on all checks as received so they are for deposit only to the bank accounts of the company?
 - b. List or otherwise obtain control (for example, by photocopying) over all remittances and prepare totals at least daily?
 - c. Forward all remittances to the person who prepares and makes the daily bank deposit?
 - d. Forward the total of remittances to persons independent of physical handling of remittances and accounts receivable detail functions for subsequent comparison with the authenticated duplicate deposit slip and control over postings to subsidiary records?

(In lock box arrangements, customers would mail their remittances to a post office box controlled by the company's bank which would have responsibility for functions 2a-2d.)
3. Are receipts of currency controlled by cash registers and/or pre-numbered cash receipt forms?
 - a. If cash registers are used, is a copy of the tape given to the customer as a receipt, and:
 - (1) Is the key to the cash register tape compartment in the custody at all times of a responsible employee other than the cash register operator(s)?
 - (2) Are readings of the register periodically taken and compared with the cashier's records of receipts by a responsible employee other than the cash register operators?
 - b. If pre-numbered receipts are used for currency collections:
 - (1) Is a copy given to the payor as a receipt?
 - (2) Are all pre-numbered receipts accounted for by a person(s) other than the person(s) handling cash received and balanced with the daily cash received?
 - c. If cash collections are for payments on account, is adequate information given for accurate posting to accounts receivable detail?

¹ The illustrative internal control structure objectives and related questions for the cash receipts sections of the revenue cycle (AAM section 4400.190—200) are duplicated in AAM section 4400.500—510 because some accountants may prefer to consider them as part of a financing (treasury) cycle.

- d. If significant cash sales are made (as in a retail store) are spot checks made to determine that cashiers are following prescribed procedures?
4. Are currency receipts forwarded daily to the person who prepares the daily bank deposit?
 5. Is a summary listing of daily currency receipts forwarded to a person(s) independent of physical handling of remittances and accounts receivable detail functions?
 6. Do areas involving physical handling of cash appear reasonably safeguarded?
(For example, protective windows, vaults, cashier cages, etc.)
 7. Are each day's receipts (by mail and over the counter) except for post-dated items deposited intact daily?
 8. Are post-dated items segregated on daily detail listings of remittances to aid in control of total items received?
 9. Are all employees who handle receipts adequately bonded?
 10. Are banks instructed not to cash checks and other instruments (for example, drafts, money orders, etc.) drawn to the order of the company?
 11. Does company policy prohibit the cashing of any accommodation checks (for example, personal and payroll checks) out of collections?
 12. Are local bank accounts used for branch office collections subject to withdrawal only by the home office?
 13. Are banks instructed to deliver charged back deposit items (such as checks returned because of insufficient funds) directly to an employee independent of physical handling of cash receipts and posting of accounts receivable detail?
 14. Are bank chargebacks received directly from the bank and investigated by a person independent of:
 - a. Physical handling of collections?
 - b. Posting accounts receivable subsidiary detail?
 15. Are entries to the cash receipts journal compared with:
 - a. Duplicate deposit slips authenticated by the bank?
 - b. Deposits per the bank statements?
 - c. Listings prepared (initial control) when mail is opened?
 16. Are the comparisons described in item 15 above made by a person(s) whose duties do not include cash receipts and accounts receivable functions?

.200 Recording Collections

Objective

- All cash receipts are recorded at the correct amounts in the period in which received, and are properly classified and summarized.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Is information captured from remittances (by mail and over the counter) adequate for accurate posting of credits to individual accounts receivable subsidiary records or to classifications concerning such other sources as investment income, rents, sales of property or scrap, and proceeds of financing?

(This information, for example, may be included on the listing prepared when the mail is opened, remittance advices which accompany customers' checks, detachable stubs from billings, photocopies of checks, copies of pre-numbered receipts issued for currency collections, etc.)

2. Are details of daily collections balanced with the total credits to be distributed to appropriate general ledger accounts and to the total collections for the day before posting to the subsidiary records?
3. Do postings of the general ledger control accounts and subsidiary records include the date on which the remittance was received?
4. Are postings to the general ledger control accounts made by a person(s) independent of:
 - a. Physical handling of collections?
 - b. Posting accounts receivable subsidiary detail?
5. Are details of collections posted to subsidiary accounts receivable records by a person(s) independent of:
 - a. General ledger functions?
 - b. Physical handling of collections?
 - c. Receipt and investigation of bank chargebacks?

IV. Expenditures Cycle

A. Purchases and Accounts Payable

.210 Purchases

Objectives

- The types of goods, other assets, and services to be obtained, the manner in which they are obtained, the vendors from which they are obtained, the quantities to be obtained and the prices and other terms are initiated and executed in accordance with management's general or specific authorization.
- Adjustments to vendor accounts and account distributions are made in accordance with management's general or specific authorization.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are all purchases based on requisitions which have been approved in accordance with management's authorization?

(For example, management's authorization may be general in that requisitions for certain types of purchases may be based on automatic reorder points which were previously approved. Management's authorization may be specific in that only specific employees may be authorized to approve requisitions for certain types of purchases.)
2. Are purchases made in accordance with management's prescribed guidelines for vendor acceptability?

(For example, guidelines for vendor acceptability may be based on such considerations as past performance, reputation, and credit standing; ability to meet delivery, quality, and service specifications; price competitiveness; legal restrictions; and policies on related party transactions. Lists of approved vendors may be developed based on such acceptability guidelines. Competitive bids may be required for items over predetermined dollar amounts from a list of several designated major vendors.)
3. Are written purchase orders used for all commitments and do those orders include the vendor description, quantity, quality, price, terms, and delivery requirements for the goods or services ordered?

4. Are all purchase orders, before issuance, approved by specific individuals or classes of individuals designated by management?
5. Are all purchase orders pre-numbered?
6. Are all purchase orders routinely accounted for?
7. Are all purchase orders listed in detail?
(Examples include a register, log, computer tabulation, or file of copies of issued order forms.)
8. Is there a record of open purchase commitments?
(Examples include periodic routine listings of open items prepared from a register, a file of open order copies, a computer master file of open orders.)
9. Is the purchasing function independent of receiving, shipping, invoice processing, and cash functions?
10. Is custody of unissued purchase order forms adequate to prevent their misuse?
11. Are open purchase orders periodically reviewed and investigated?

.220 Receiving

Objectives

- All goods, other assets and services received are accurately accounted for on a timely basis.
- Only authorized goods, other assets, and services are accepted and/or paid for.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are all goods received inspected for condition and independently counted, weighed or measured to provide for comparison with the applicable purchase order?
2. Is there evidence that all services received are evaluated for quality and completeness?
3. Are procedures adequate for timely communication concerning shortages or damaged goods?
4. Are receiving reports prepared promptly for all goods received?
(For example, copies of purchase orders with the quantities blanked out may serve this purpose. Receiving reports may also be used to record such matters as receipt of pieces of leased equipment.)
5. Do receiving reports provide for recording of:
 - a. Description, quantity, and acceptability of goods or services received?
 - b. Date on which the goods or services are received?
 - c. Signature of the individual approving the receipt?
6. Are receiving reports subjected to the following:
 - a. Pre-numbering?
 - b. Listing in detail?
(For example, a complete set of file copies in numerical or chronological sequence, a receiving log, etc.)
 - c. Accounting for all receiving reports used?

- d. Distribution of copies for timely matching with purchase orders and vendor's invoices and, if applicable, timely maintenance of perpetual inventory records?
7. Are receiving functions performed by designated employees who are independent of the purchasing, shipping, invoice processing, and cash functions?
8. Is there a separate inspection function?

.230 Invoice Processing

Objectives

- Only authorized goods, other assets and services received are paid for.
- Amounts payable for goods and services received are accurately recorded at the correct amounts in the appropriate period and are classified in the accounts to:
 - (1) Permit preparation of reports and statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles or other criteria.
 - (2) Maintain accountability for costs incurred.
- Access to purchasing, receiving, and accounts payable records is suitably controlled to prevent or detect within a timely period duplicate or improper payments.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are vendors' invoices processed by designated employees who are independent of the purchasing, receiving, shipping, and cash functions?
2. Are all vendors' invoices received directly by the designated employees (accounts payable department) who perform the invoice processing function?
3. Is control established over all invoices received?
(For example, control may be established over invoices received by prompt matching with a pre-numbered internally prepared document such as a purchase order and assignment of that number to the invoice. Another approach may consist of assignment of a voucher number and entry into a register.)
4. Are duplicate invoices conspicuously stamped or destroyed as a precaution against duplicate payment?
5. Are there a suitable chart of accounts and established guidelines for assigning account distributions to processed invoices?
6. Are vendors' invoices, prior to payment, compared in detail to:
 - a. Purchase orders?
 - b. Receiving reports?
 - c. Evidence of direct shipment to customers?
(For example, copy of vendor's shipping document or acknowledgment of receipt by the customer)
 - d. Debit memoranda?
 - e. Evaluation reports on services rendered?
7. Are vendors' invoices, prior to payment, reviewed for correctness of:
 - a. Clerical accuracy (extensions and footings)?

- b. Freight charges?
 - c. Account distribution?
8. Is there documented evidence that invoices have been subjected to prescribed processing routines, assigned specific account distributions and approved before payment?

(Examples include use of a block stamp which has been initialed or signed, attachment of a completed voucher form, attachment of copies of the purchase order and receiving report, and routine annotations on the invoice.)
 9. Are all available discounts taken?
 10. Are processed invoices and supporting documents approved by designated employees before payment?
 11. Are there procedures for periodic review and investigation of unprocessed invoices, unmatched purchase orders, and unmatched receiving reports which provide for appropriate follow-up and appropriate financial statement accruals?
 12. Are approved debit memos used to notify vendors of goods returned and other adjustments of their accounts?
 13. Are processed invoices listed in detail to facilitate timely determination of accounts payable and related account distribution of filled purchase commitments?

(For example, entries in a voucher register and periodic preparation of unpaid voucher listings, computer prepared listings of transaction detail and master files for vendor accounts, files of unpaid processed invoices, etc.)
 14. Are accumulation of processed invoices and follow-up of unmatched purchase orders and receiving reports adequate to result in a proper cutoff for financial reporting purposes?
 15. Is accounts payable detail periodically reconciled with the control accounts at reasonable intervals?
 16. Are vendors' statements reviewed for overdue items and reconciled with accounts payable detail?
 17. Is there independent follow-up of such matters as overdue items on vendors' statements, payment requests, and complaints?
 18. Are employee expense accounts
 - a. Prepared in accordance with criteria set by management?
 - b. Submitted promptly?
 - c. Adequately supported?
 - d. Approved before payment?

B. Payroll.240 Authorization of Wages, Salaries, Withholdings, and Deductions ObjectivesObjectives*

- Employees are hired and retained only at rates, benefits and perquisites determined in accordance with management's (board of directors, if appropriate) general or specific authorization.
- Payroll withholdings and deductions are based on evidence of appropriate authorization.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are all new hires, rates of pay and changes thereto, changes in position, and separations based on written authorizations in accordance with management's criteria?

(Management's criteria, for example, may include—

- (i) support for such authorizations by written personnel requisitions which have been initiated and approved at designated levels of management,
 - (ii) conformity of pay rates with previously approved wage and salary schedules, and
 - (iii) appropriate investigation of the job candidate's background.)
2. Are methods for determining premium pay rates for such matters as overtime, night shift work, and production in excess of certain quotas based on written authorization in accordance with management's criteria?

(Such written authorization may, for example, consist of a schedule based on a labor agreement and/or management policy statements.)
 3. Are all employee benefits and perquisites granted in accordance with management's authorization?

(Employee benefits may be generally authorized as, for example, under a pension plan applicable to a number of employees or specifically authorized as in a deferred compensation agreement with a particular individual authorized by the board of directors.)
 4. Are appropriate written authorizations obtained from employees for all payroll deductions and withholding exemptions?
 5. Are personnel files maintained on individual employees which include appropriate written authorizations for rates of pay, payroll deductions, and withholding exemptions?
 6. Are the following reported promptly to employees who perform the payroll processing function:
 - a. Wage and salary rates resulting from new hires, rate changes, changes in position, and separations?
 - b. Changes in authorized deductions and withholding exemptions?

.250 Preparation and Recording*Objectives*

- Compensation is made only to company employees at authorized rates and for services rendered (hours worked, piecework, commissions on sales, etc.) in accordance with management's authorization.
- Gross pay, withholdings, deductions, and net pay are correctly computed based on authorized rates and services rendered and properly authorized withholding exemptions and deductions.
- Payroll costs and related liabilities are correctly accumulated, classified, and summarized in the accounts in the appropriate period.
- Comparisons are made of personnel, payroll, and work records at reasonable intervals for timely detection and correction of errors.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Do employees who perform the payroll processing function receive timely notification of:
 - a. Wage and salary rates resulting from new hires, rate changes, changes in position, and separations?

- b. Changes in authorized deductions and withholding exemptions?
2. Is gross pay determined using authorized rates and:
 - a. Time or attendance records for employees paid by the hour or by salary?
 - b. Piecework records for employees whose wages are based on production?
 - c. Adequate detail records of sales for commission salesmen?
3. Is there a suitable chart of accounts and established guidelines for determining account distributions for wages and salaries and controlling liabilities for payroll deductions and taxes withheld?
4. Do records of individual employee time, piecework, and/or commissions on sales—
 - a. Permit computation of gross pay in accordance with management's criteria?
 - b. Include adequate information for distribution of payroll costs or reconciliation with payroll costs charged to particular cost centers in accordance with management's criteria?
 - c. Receive written approval of applicable supervisors or foremen before submission to persons who prepare the payroll?

(Management criteria for determination of gross pay may include such additional considerations as formulas for overtime premium, shift differential premiums and incentive bonuses. In some situations, records of employee time or production may involve charges to several job order or departmental cost centers. Management criteria may also include additional approvals of time or production increments which result in pay over and above certain base amounts.)
5. Are total production hours used for determination of gross pay reconciled with production statistics used for cost accounting purposes?
6. Are piece rate records reconciled with production records, or are counts spot checked?
7. Salesmen's commission records reconciled with recorded sales?
8. Are clerical operations in the preparation of payrolls verified by reperformance or reconciliation with independent controls (such as predetermined totals for gross pay and/or net pay) over source data?
9. Is a reconciliation prepared of:
 - a. Payroll cost distributions to gross pay?
 - b. Net pay, deductions and withholding to gross pay?
10. Are comparisons made at reasonable intervals of pay rates per the payroll with rates per the written authorizations in the personnel files by responsible persons whose duties are independent of the personnel, payroll processing, disbursement, and general ledger functions?
11. Are such data as hours worked, piecework, and commission sales used to determine gross pay compared at reasonable intervals with applicable production and sales records by responsible persons whose duties are independent of personnel, timekeeping, payroll processing, disbursement, and general ledger functions?
12. Are the results of comparisons made per items 10 and 11 above reviewed by a responsible official and appropriate action taken?

.260 Disbursements (Payroll) ²*Objective*

- Net pay and related withholdings and deductions are remitted to the appropriate employees and entities respectively, when due.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are payrolls approved in writing by responsible employees before issuance of payroll checks or distribution of cash for net pay?
2. Is net pay distributed by persons who are independent of personnel, payroll preparation, time-keeping, and check preparation functions?
3. For payrolls paid by check, are checks drawn on a separate imprest account, and are deposits equal to the amount of net pay?
4. For payrolls paid in cash:
 - a. Are adequate security precautions taken?
 - b. Does the cash requisition equal the amount of net pay to be distributed as cash?
 - c. Is distribution made by persons independent of payroll preparation functions?
 - d. Are receipts obtained from employees?
5. Is responsibility for custody and follow-up of unclaimed wages assigned to a responsible person independent of personnel, payroll processing, and cash disbursements functions?
6. Are procedures adequate to result in timely and accurate preparation and filing of payroll tax returns and payment of accumulated withholdings and related accrued taxes?

(Examples of procedures include use of a tax calendar or tickler file, instructions and tables for tax return preparation, use of competent tax information services, and appropriate account classifications and subsidiary records to accumulate required information.)

7. Are procedures adequate to result in timely and accurate remittance of accumulated payroll deductions for fringe benefits?

(Examples include timely availability of information on benefit plans and amendments, use of a payment calendar or tickler file, appropriate account classifications and subsidiary records to accumulate required information.)

.270 Segregation of Functions and Physical Safeguards*Objectives*

- Functions are assigned so that no single individual is in a position to both perpetrate and conceal errors or irregularities in the normal course of his duties.
- Access to personnel and payroll records is limited to minimize opportunities for errors and irregularities.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Is there adequate separation of duties among employees who perform the following functions:

² See AAM section 4400.280—.300 (or 4400.520—.540) for additional objectives and questions on cash disbursements.

- a. Written authorization of new hires, pay rates and changes thereto, benefits, changes in position, and separations?
 - b. Maintenance of personnel records?
 - c. Timekeeping and accumulation of piecework and/or commission information?
 - d. Preparation of payrolls?
 - e. Approval of payrolls?
 - f. Cash disbursements?
 - g. General ledger?
2. Do the personnel and payroll records appear reasonably safeguarded?
(Examples include locked file cabinets, work areas with limited access.)

C. Cash Disbursements³

.280 Assignment of Functions

Objective

- Functions are assigned so that no single individual is in a position to both perpetrate and conceal errors or irregularities in the normal course of his duties.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Is the cash disbursements function performed by persons who are independent of the following functions:
 - a. Purchasing?
 - b. Receiving?
 - c. Invoice processing?
 - d. Payroll preparation and approval?
 - e. Shipping?
 - f. Accounts receivable?
 - g. Cash receipts?
 - h. General ledger?
2. Is there adequate separation of duties within the cash disbursement function among persons who perform the following:
 - a. Control access to unissued checks?
 - b. Prepare checks?
 - c. Sign checks and inspect support?
 - d. Mail checks?

³ The illustrative internal control objectives and questions for the cash disbursements sections of the expenditures cycle (AAM section 4400.280—.300) are duplicated in AAM section 4400.520—.540 because some accountants may prefer to consider them as part of a financing (treasury) cycle.

- e. Maintain custody of petty cash?
- f. Maintain the cash disbursement journal?
- g. Reconcile the bank accounts?

.290 Processing Disbursements

Objectives

- Disbursements are made only for expenditures incurred in accordance with management's authorization.
- Adjustments to cash accounts are made only in accordance with management's authorization.
- Disbursements are recorded at correct amounts in the appropriate period and are properly classified in the accounts.
- Access to cash and cash disbursements records is restricted to minimize opportunities for irregular or erroneous disbursements.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are all bank accounts authorized by the board of directors?
2. Are all check signers authorized by the board of directors?
3. Are banks promptly notified of any changes in authorized check signers?
4. Are banks instructed not to cash checks and other instruments (for example, drafts, money orders, etc.) drawn to the order of the company?
5. Are all bank accounts and cash funds subjected to general ledger control?
6. Are all disbursements and bank transfers based on vouchers and check requests which have been approved by responsible employees designated by management?
7. Are all disbursements except from petty cash made by check?
8. Are properly approved supporting documents (processed invoices, purchase orders, receiving reports, etc.) presented with the checks and reviewed by the check signer(s) before signing the checks?
9. Is a mechanical check protector used to inscribe amounts on checks as a precaution against alteration?
10. Are supporting documents for checks properly cancelled to avoid duplicate payment?
11. Are signed checks independently mailed directly after signing without being returned to persons involved in the invoice processing and check preparation functions?
12. Is access to unissued checks limited to designated responsible employees who are independent of the check signing function, including operation of mechanical check signing machines?
13. Are checks pre-numbered and all numbers accounted for?
14. Are all voided checks retained and mutilated?
15. Are all checks promptly recorded when issued and listed in detail (cash disbursements journal, check register, etc.)?
16. Are details of individual disbursements balanced with the totals to be posted to appropriate general ledger account distributions and to total disbursements to be posted to the general ledger control accounts for cash?

17. Is there a written policy which prohibits:
- Drawing checks payable to cash or bearer?
 - Signing or countersigning of blank checks?
18. If dual signatures are required:
- Are the two signers independent of one another?
 - Does each signer determine that the disbursement is supported by approved documentation?
19. If a check signing machine is used:
- Are checks approved before mechanical signing by designated responsible employees who are subject to the same segregation of duties as if they were authorized check signers?

(Use of a check signing machine allows an entity to delegate authority for approving checks to a greater number of persons than those registered with the bank as authorized signers. However, approval procedures should be sufficient to assure the official whose name is on the signature plate that all mechanically signed checks would have met his approval if he had reviewed and manually signed them himself.)
 - Are the keys, signature plate, and operation of the signing machine under control at all times of the official whose signature is on the plate?
 - Are the employees who have custody of the keys, plate, and operate the check signing machine independent of voucher and check preparation functions and denied access to blank checks?
 - Are the checks issued to the machine operator(s) counted in advance and reconciled with the totals of the counting device on the check signing machine by someone other than the machine operator?

(Control may be strengthened by having a locked compartment on the machine which receives the signed checks and can be opened only by someone independent of the machine operator.)
20. Are cash funds on an imprest basis and:
- Kept in a safe place?
 - Reasonable in amount?
 - Controlled by one custodian who is independent of invoice processing, check signing, general accounting, and cash receipts functions?
 - Periodically counted by someone other than the custodian?
21. Are all disbursements from cash funds:
- Supported by vouchers which are prepared in ink?
 - Approved in accordance with management's authorization?
 - Cancelled to prevent reuse?
 - Subject to a predetermined maximum dollar limit for any individual disbursement?
22. Are reimbursements of cash funds:
- Subject to the same review and approval as processed invoices?

(See AAM section 4400.230 on invoice processing)

- b. Remitted by checks drawn payable to the order of the custodian of the cash fund?

.300 Bank Reconciliations

Objective

- Comparison of detail records, control accounts, and bank statements are made at reasonable intervals for detection and appropriate disposition of errors or irregularities.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are the bank accounts reconciled monthly by an employee(s) who is independent of invoice processing, cash disbursements, cash receipts, petty cash, and general ledger functions?
2. Are bank statements, related paid checks, debit and credit memos received directly from the bank by the employee(s) performing the reconciliations?
3. Does the bank reconciliation procedure include:
 - a. Reconciliation of the balance per bank to balance per the general ledger control account and subsidiary detail records?
 - b. Comparison in detail of deposits per the bank statement with deposits per cash receipts detail records?
 - c. Comparisons in detail of disbursements per bank with the cash disbursements journal (check register) as to date drawn, payee, and amount?
 - d. Comparison of payees with endorsements?
 - e. Follow up of reconciling items and initiation of entries to record such transactions as checks returned for insufficient funds and bank charges?
4. Are old outstanding checks investigated and subjected to proper disposition (in compliance with applicable escheat laws if present)?

V. Production (Conversion) Cycle

A. Production Costs and Inventories

.310 Authorization of Production Activities, Planned Inventory Levels, and Service Capabilities

Objective

- All production activity (including planned inventory levels and service capabilities) and accounting therefor is determined in accordance with management's general or specific authorization.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are the types and quantities of goods to be manufactured and/or services to be provided determined in accordance with management's authorization?

(Some examples of how management may record and communicate its authorization include approval of:

- (i) Production goals and schedules based on accompanying sales forecasts.
- (ii) Overall production and inventory control plans.
- (iii) Establishment of a production control function.
- (iv) Definitions and policy statements on services to be provided.)

2. Are the methods and materials to be used determined in accordance with management's authorization?
(Some examples of how management may evidence its authorization include approval of:
 - (i) Product engineering plans and specifications.
 - (ii) Acquisitions and use of property and equipment.
 - (iii) Procedural instructions for services to be provided.)
3. Are planned inventory levels or service capabilities to be maintained determined in accordance with management's authorization?
(Some examples of how management may evidence its authorization include approval of:
 - (i) Budgeted inventory levels.
 - (ii) Policies on whether to produce for specific customer orders, for stock, or a combination of both.
 - (iii) Predetermined reorder points.
 - (iv) Policies on identification and disposition of excess or obsolete inventory.
 - (v) Planned personnel rosters of individuals with specific knowledge, experience, and skills relating to services to be provided.)
4. Is the scheduling of goods to be produced and/or services to be provided determined in accordance with management's authorization?
(Some examples of how management may evidence its authorization include approval of:
 - (i) Production schedules and forecasts.
 - (ii) Forecasts of time requirements.
 - (iii) Policies and procedures for budgeting individual job or project orders.)
5. Are all adjustments to inventory and cost of sales made in accordance with management's authorization?
6. Are all dispositions of obsolete or excess inventory or scrap made in accordance with management's authorization?

.320 Recording Resources Used in Production and Completed Results

Objective

- Resources obtained and used in the production process and completed results are accurately recorded on a timely basis.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are receiving reports prepared which include adequate information for posting detailed inventory records and allow for summarization into a source for posting inventory control accounts?
(See AAM section 4400.220, Expenditures Cycle—Receiving, for further illustrative questions on receiving reports.)
2. Are all releases from storage of raw materials, supplies, and purchased parts inventory based on approved requisition documents which:

- a. Include adequate information to be used as a reliable and consistent source for posting detailed inventory records?
(For example, descriptions, quantities and inventory cost.)
- b. Allow for summarization into a source for maintaining inventory control accounts?
- c. Provide a means (such as prenumbering or batching) of accounting for all requisitions issued?
3. Is authority to approve inventory requisitions assigned to responsible employees whose duties do not include the following:
 - a. Physical custody of raw materials, supplies, and purchased parts inventories?
 - b. Maintenance of detailed inventory records?
 - c. Maintenance of inventory control accounts?
4. Is labor effort (time, cost or both) reported promptly and recorded in sufficient detail to be identified with applicable classifications such as job orders or allocation to units in process, and to provide for:
 - a. Accumulation into reliable and consistent sources for maintaining detail production control and cost accounting records?
 - b. Summarization into a source for posting inventory control accounts?
 - c. Reconciliation with payroll costs charged to the production process?
 - d. A means (such as pre-numbering or batching) of accounting for all labor reports issued?
(See AAM section 4400.240—.270, Expenditures Cycle—Payrolls, for further illustrative questions on payroll.)
5. Are transfers of completed units from production to custody of finished goods inventory based on approved completion reports which authorize such transfer and:
 - a. Include adequate information to be used for reliable and consistent maintenance of detailed finished goods inventory and reconciliation with applicable materials and labor put into the production process?
 - b. Allow for summarization into a reliable and consistent source for maintaining general ledger control accounts?
 - c. Provide a means (such as pre-numbering or batching) of accounting for all completion reports issued?
6. Do completion reports include indication of approval by designated individuals in accordance with management's criteria?
(Such criteria may concern completion of prescribed production steps and conformity with prescribed quality standards.)
7. Are there adequate procedures for reporting defective units and scrap resulting from the production process?
8. Are perpetual inventory records maintained of both quantities and dollar amounts for:
 - a. Raw materials?
 - b. Supplies?

- c. Work in process?
 - d. Finished goods?
 - e. Scrap?
 - f. Inventory held by outside parties?
(For example, bonded warehouses, consignees, subcontractors, suppliers.)
 - g. Inventory held for outside parties?
(For example, goods billed but not yet shipped, goods held on consignment, materials being processed as a subcontractor, etc.)
9. Are the perpetual records of inventory detail:
- a. Controlled by general ledger accounts?
 - b. Based on documentation of inventory movement and adjustments which has been approved in accordance with management's authorization?
 - c. Adjusted to periodic physical inventories taken annually or on a cycle basis at least once a year?
 - d. Reconciled with the inventory control accounts at reasonable intervals?
 - e. Kept by persons whose duties do not include the following:
 - (1) Custody of the physical stock
 - (2) Maintenance of the general ledger control accounts
 - (3) Authority to requisition withdrawals or other movement of inventory.
10. Is documentation of inventory movement accounted for to determine complete and adequate recording thereof?
11. Are there adequate procedures for identifying and reporting excess, slow-moving, and obsolete inventories?
12. Do the duties of the persons engaged in production, inventory planning, and inventory custody exclude the following functions:
- a. Maintenance of detail inventory records?
 - b. Cost accounting?
 - c. General accounting?

.330 Recording Transfers to Customers and Other Inventory Dispositions

Objective

- Transfer of finished production to customers and other dispositions such as sales of scrap are accurately recorded on a timely basis.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are releases of finished goods inventory for delivery to customers based on shipping documents which have been approved in accordance with management's authorization?

(See AAM section 4400.170, Revenue Cycle—Shipments, for further illustrative questions on shipping documents.)

2. Are releases of excess, obsolete, defective or scrap inventory for disposition based on documented instructions which have been approved in accordance with management's authorization?
3. Is authority to approve instructions for the release of inventory assigned to responsible employees whose duties do not include the following:
 - a. Physical custody and handling of inventories including preparation of goods for shipment?
 - b. Maintenance of detailed inventory records?
 - c. Maintenance of general ledger control accounts?
4. Do shipping documents and release documents for such other dispositions as sales of scrap—
 - a. Include adequate information for recording reductions in the detailed inventory records, charges to cost of sales, and cross-reference or connection with source documents used to recognize revenue and the related receivable?

(If practicable, the same document may serve as the source for recognition of revenue and the related receivable and of cost of sales and the related reduction of inventory.)
 - b. Allow for summarization into a source for maintaining the inventory control accounts?
 - c. Provide a means (such as pre-numbering or batching) of accounting for all shipping documents and other release documents issued?

.340 Accumulation and Classification of Production and Inventory Costs and Costs of Sales

Objective

- Inventory, production costs, and costs of sales are accumulated and classified in the accounts to—
 - (1) permit preparation of statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles or any other criteria applicable to such statements.
 - (2) maintain accountability for costs incurred.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Do the chart of accounts and standard journal entries provide adequate general ledger control accounts and subsidiary detail for the following:
 - a. Accumulation and classification of costs of materials, direct labor, and overhead (including indirect labor)?
 - b. Accumulation of information such as the following in sufficient detail and with proper cutoff to provide for adequate determination of inventory costs and cost of goods sold:
 - (1) Quantities of raw materials and supplies used in production?
 - (2) Labor hours and/or machine hours expended?
 - (3) Quantities or units of product produced?
 - (4) Quantities or units of product transferred to customers?

(Accounts and records vary extensively among companies because of such variables as industry, company size, and nature of the production or service process. Examples of techniques to consider in addressing a company's needs include:

- (i) Identification and allocation of costs directly to units or jobs produced and to overhead; application of overhead to units or jobs using a burden rate and a factor such as direct labor hours incurred or units produced.
 - (ii) Use of a job order or process cost system or combination of both, or an allocation of costs incurred to units produced based on units sold and the units in the physical inventories as of the closing and opening of a period.
 - (iii) Identification of costs incurred with departments or cost centers responsible for incurring the particular costs.
 - (iv) Use of departmental or cost center burden rates to apply overhead to production.
 - (v) Use of a standard cost system with investigation of variances.
 - (vi) Account classifications which provide for preparation of reports and statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles and, if appropriate, such other criteria as direct costing practices selected by management for internal purposes and statutory accounting practices required by regulatory bodies.)
2. If a cost accounting system is used, is it reconciled at reasonable intervals with the general ledger?
 3. If perpetual records are maintained, are they reconciled at reasonable intervals with the:
 - a. General ledger?
 - b. Cost accounting system?
 4. Are requisitions for materials, supplies, finished goods, and physical transfers of inventory subjected to the following:
 - a. Review to determine that requisitions are completed and approved in accordance with management's authorization?
 - b. Accounting for all requisitions used?
(For example, by accounting for all numbers pre-assigned to particular types of requisition forms.)
 - c. Summarization of requisitions at reasonable intervals for consistent and timely maintenance of control accounts?
 - d. Accurate and timely recording in the subsidiary detail records?
 5. Are reports of direct and indirect labor effort (for example: job tickets, time cards, etc.) subjected to the following:
 - a. Review to determine that the reports are completed and approved in accordance with criteria authorized by management?
 - b. Accounting for all reports issued?
(For example, by accounting for all numbers pre-assigned to particular types of reporting forms.)
 - c. Reconciliation with account distribution of payroll for consistent and timely maintenance of the control accounts?

- d. Accurate and timely recording in the subsidiary detail records?
6. Are the detailed inventory records and control accounts adjusted for reports of excess, slow-moving, and obsolete inventories in accordance with management's general or specific authorization?
7. Are burden rates and amounts of overhead applied to production compared at reasonable intervals with actual overhead costs incurred and updated in accordance with management's authorization?
8. For standard cost systems:
 - a. Are standard rates and volume compared at reasonable intervals with actual costs and activity and revised accordingly for changes in underlying conditions?

(For example, comparison of raw material costs with vendors' invoices, standard labor rates with actual rates, standard materials usage and machine hours with product engineering changes, standard labor hours with time studies, etc.)
 - b. Are significant variances investigated and the resulting explanation brought to management's attention on a timely basis?
9. Do the duties of persons who maintain the detailed inventory and cost accounting records exclude the following functions:
 - a. Physical custody and handling of inventories?
 - b. Maintenance of the general ledger control accounts?
10. Is access to the detailed inventory records and control accounts limited to persons responsible for their maintenance, oversight, and internal audit?
11. Are the inventory detail records and control accounts adjusted to physical counts at least annually?

.350 Inventory Safeguarding

Objectives

- Inventory is protected from unauthorized use or removal.
- Access to inventory, property, cost, and production records is limited to designated individuals in accordance with management authority so that unauthorized dispositions may be prevented or detected within a timely period.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Do physical safeguards of inventory appear reasonably adequate in relation to the materiality of the inventory and its susceptibility to theft?

(Examples include:

- Fenced areas,
- Restricted-access storerooms or vaults,
- Guards,
- Detection and scanning devices (for example, alarms, television cameras),
- Inspection of personnel,
- Independent storeroom clerks,
- Maximum visibility by supervisors and security personnel of work and storage areas.)

2. Does inventory appear reasonably protected from physical deterioration?
(Examples include:
 - Shelters and buildings,
 - Maintenance of environment at appropriate temperature and humidity,
 - Containers and storage facilities.)
3. Are persons responsible for custody of inventory independent of inventory recording, cost accounting, and general accounting functions?
4. Is insurance coverage of the inventory maintained and reviewed in accordance with management's authorization?

.360 Physical Counts of Inventory

Objective

- Recorded balances of inventory are substantiated and evaluated at reasonable intervals by comparison with and evaluation of actual quantities on hand. (For example, physical counts and review for excess, slow-moving, and obsolete stock.)

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Is inventory subjected to physical count at least annually?
2. If the complete physical count is made at other than the fiscal year end are the controls over physical movement (receipts, internal transfers, and shipments) of inventory, accuracy of recording cutoffs and segregation of duties satisfactory for such timing?
3. If counts are made on a cycle basis rather than as complete counts, are all of the following conditions present for classes of inventory subjected to cycle counts?
 - a. Complete and accurate perpetual records which are maintained on a timely basis?
 - b. The nature of the inventory items allows for practicable comparison with perpetual records?
 - c. Adequate control over physical movement of inventories (receipts, internal transfers, and shipments) and accurate recording of cutoffs to provide timely and accurate source data for maintaining the perpetual records and clear identification of classes or groups of items to be counted?
 - d. Sufficient segregation of duties so that errors of omission or commission are prevented or detected promptly?
4. Do detailed written inventory procedures and instructions exist which have been approved in accordance with management's authorization before issuance and use?
5. Do the inventory procedures adequately address the following matters:
 - a. Location and orderly physical arrangement of inventories?
 - b. Identification and description of the inventories by persons familiar with it?
 - c. Segregation and proper identification of goods that are not property of the client, such as customers' goods and goods held on consignment?
 - d. Method of determining quantities such as weight, count or measure?

- e. Recording of items on count sheets or tickets including complete descriptions, identifying codes (serial numbers, model numbers), as well as quantities counted?
 - f. Special considerations for work in process such as identifying stage of completion?
 - g. Identification of stock counted to determine whether all items are counted and to preclude duplicate counting?
 - h. Cutoff of receipts, internal transfers, and shipments?
 - i. Control of physical inventory records, such as pre-numbering of all count sheets, count tickets, and accounting for all numbered records issued and used?
 - j. Identification of slow-moving, obsolete, and damaged items?
 - k. Substantiation of inventories held by others?
 - l. Pricing, extension, and summarization of the physical counts?
 - m. Investigation and disposition of differences between physical counts and detailed inventory records?
6. Are physical count procedures supervised by a responsible official whose duties do not include physical custody of inventories and performance of purchasing, receiving, and shipping functions?
 7. Are inventory instructions adequately communicated to and understood by persons who perform the physical counts?
 8. Are physical counts performed by persons whose duties do not include the following:
 - a. Physical custody of inventories?
 - b. Detailed inventory record keeping (maintaining perpetual records)?
 - c. Maintenance of inventory control account(s)?
 9. Is inventory movement adequately controlled during the count so that items are not missed or double-counted because of:
 - a. Receiving activity?
 - b. Internal inventory movement?
 - c. Shipping activity?
 10. Are controls over purchases and receiving activity sufficient to result in recording of liabilities for any items included in inventory which have not been paid for?
 11. Are controls over sales and shipping activity sufficient to result in exclusion from the physical inventory of any items which have been sold and billed but not yet shipped?
 12. Are inventory counts subject to adequate verification such as recounts by persons other than those who made the initial counts or spot checks by others, such as internal auditors?
 13. Are pricing, extension, and summarization of the physical counts performed by persons whose duties do not include the following:
 - a. Physical custody of inventories?
 - b. Detailed inventory record keeping?
 - c. Maintenance of the inventory control accounts?

14. Are pricing, extension, and summarization of the physical counts subject to adequate verification such as reperformance by persons other than those who initially performed the tasks on a complete or test basis?
15. Are differences between physical counts and detailed inventory records investigated in accordance with management's authorization before the records are adjusted?
16. Is there documentation of review and analysis of the physical inventory to:
 - a. Conform with the lower of cost or market principle,
 - b. Identify items which are excessive, slow-moving, defective or obsolete,
 - c. Determine the need for adjustments or valuation allowances?
17. Are adjustments of the inventory detail records and control accounts given prior approval in accordance with management's authorization?
18. Are dispositions of obsolete or excess inventories and scrap made in accordance with criteria authorized by management?

B. Property and Equipment

.370 Initiation and Execution of Property and Equipment Transactions

Objective

- Additions and related accumulation of depreciation or amortization, retirements, and dispositions of property and equipment (owned and leased) are made in accordance with management's authorization.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Is advance approval in accordance with management's criteria required for all property and equipment transactions?

(For significant additions (purchases or leases) approval authority may be kept at such levels as the board of directors. In some closely held entities, authority for such approval may be reserved by the stockholders or partners. Some entities, however, may have a framework of policies and procedures within which general authority for property and equipment transactions within certain dollar limits may be delegated to management levels below the board of directors. It is desirable that such policies be clearly expressed and documented.)

2. Are requests for additions, transfers, major maintenance and repair, retirement and disposition of property and equipment—

- a. Initiated by designated individuals in accordance with management's authorization?

(These individuals generally are responsible employees or officials in the department which would use the asset.)

- b. Formally documented, including an adequate description of the proposal, its reasons, and the estimated amount of the transaction?

(Some entities may use standardized forms to document requests for property and equipment transactions including signatures of employees who initiated and approved the request.)

- c. Reviewed for key considerations in accordance with management's criteria?

(Key considerations may include such issues as:

- (i) Whether to make or buy the asset.

- (ii) Selection of vendors, prices, and terms including consideration of soliciting competitive bids.
 - (iii) Selection among financing alternatives such as use of internally generated funds, entering debt or lease agreements, and issuing preferred or common stock.
 - (iv) Accounting matters, such as whether the transaction should be capitalized or expensed, classification of leases, determination of estimated useful life, salvage value, and methods of depreciation or amortization.)
- d. Approval at a higher level than the department or official who initiated the request?
3. Are authorizations to execute property and equipment transactions adequately documented?
(Following are some examples of such documentation:
- (i) Decisions recorded in meetings of the board of directors or finance committee accompanied by relevant detailed proposals and cost-benefit analyses which may be part of the minutes by reference.
 - (ii) Work order forms approved by designated individuals in accordance with clearly stated management criteria.
 - (iii) Contracts and agreements signed by individuals in accordance with appropriately documented designation by the board of directors.)
4. Are procedures adequate for determining that components and services for property and equipment are received or performed?
(Examples include status or completion reports prepared by architects and engineers and approved in accordance with management's authorization; or transactions processed through the company's normal purchasing procedures. See AAM section 4400.210—.230, Expenditures Cycle—Purchases and Accounts Payable, for additional illustrative inquiries on purchase orders, receiving reports and vendors' invoices.)
5. Are procedures adequate for determining that all dispositions of property and equipment have been executed and proceeds, if any, received in accordance with management's authorization?

.380 Recording Property and Equipment and Related Depreciation and Amortization

Objective

- Transactions involving property and equipment and related depreciation and/or amortization are accurately recorded, accumulated, and classified in detail and in control accounts to—
 - (1) permit preparation of statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles or other criteria applicable to such statements, and
 - (2) maintain accountability for assets.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are detailed records maintained for the classes of property and equipment (owned and leased) which present:
- a. Description of specific assets, their location, and if applicable, such specific identification as serial or other control numbers?
 - b. Cost, acquisition date, and date placed in service (if different from acquisition date)?
 - c. Depreciable or amortizable life and method of depreciation or amortization?
 - (1) For financial reporting purposes?

- (2) For tax purposes if different from financial reporting?
- d. Estimated salvage value and amount subject to depreciation or amortization?
- e. Amount of related accumulated depreciation or amortization?
2. Are general ledger control accounts maintained for the appropriate classes of owned and leased property and equipment and related depreciation and amortization?
3. Are responsibilities for maintaining the detailed property records segregated from those of—
 - a. Maintaining the general ledger control accounts?
 - b. Custody of property and equipment?
4. Do persons who maintain the detail records and control accounts receive timely and adequate information about—
 - a. Additions, transfers, retirement from service, and dispositions of property and equipment?
 - b. Depreciable (or amortizable) lives and methods of depreciation or amortization as prescribed in accordance with management's authorization?
5. Are the detailed property and equipment records reconciled at reasonable intervals with the control accounts and differences, if any, investigated and resolved in accordance with management's authorization?
6. Are depreciable and amortizable lives reviewed at reasonable intervals for adequacy in relation to use or obsolescence based on actual experience?

.390 Safeguarding Property and Equipment

Objective

- Property and equipment is reasonably safeguarded from loss.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Is property and equipment insured in accordance with management's authorization based on appraisals made at reasonable intervals?
2. Are items of property and equipment (owned and leased) subject to reasonably adequate physical protection techniques?

(Examples of such techniques include fire alarms and extinguishers, fences, security guards, burglar alarms, limited access, and requisitioning procedures for use of portable equipment, etc.)
3. Is responsibility for physical custody of property and equipment assigned to employees whose duties are independent of:
 - a. Maintaining detailed property records?
 - b. General ledger functions?
4. Are items of property and equipment (owned and leased) physically inspected at reasonable intervals and compared with the detailed property records?

(This may be done in coordination with appraisals made to determine insurable values.)

5. Are documents of title and property rights, such as deeds and leases, in the custody of a responsible employee whose duties do not include maintenance of the detailed property records or physical custody of the assets?
6. Are documents of title and property rights compared with the detailed property records at reasonable intervals by persons whose duties do not include the following:
 - a. Custody of such documents?
 - b. Maintenance of the detailed property and equipment records?

VI. Financing (Treasury) Cycle

A. Investments

.400 Authorization of Investment Transactions

Objective

- The nature and terms of investment transactions (marketable securities, notes receivable, and long-term debt or equity investments) are made in accordance with management's authorization.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are investment transactions initiated and approved in accordance with management authorization?
(If investments are infrequent and significant, management may deal with each purchase or sale on a case by case basis with approval exercised by the board of directors or a finance committee. If investment transactions are relatively frequent, management may establish standard policies and procedures for initiation and approval of investment transactions.)
2. Are investment transactions approved before execution by responsible officials other than those who proposed the transactions?
(For example, a transaction may be proposed by the chief executive officer and executed after authorization and approval by the board of directors. Another example would be purchases of treasury bills by the chief financial officer pursuant to authorization by the board of directors.)
3. Are investment transactions initiated and approved by persons whose duties do not include:
 - a. Accounting for investment transactions?
 - b. Custody of investment securities?
4. Are initiation and approval of investment transactions adequately documented?
5. Are brokers advices and other evidence of execution of transactions promptly compared with documented authorizations and differences brought to the timely attention of management?

.410 Recording and Classifying Investment Transactions

Objective

- Investment transactions, including accrual and collection of related income, are recorded at the correct amounts in the accounting periods in which they were executed or earned, and properly classified in the accounts.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are adequate general ledger control accounts maintained for various investment classifications and related income?

2. Are adequate detailed investment records maintained currently including control of related income?
3. Are procedures adequate to determine that investment income (interest, dividends) is properly accrued and promptly collected?

(Examples of these procedures include comparison of interest accrued with terms of the securities or loan agreements and interest income received, or comparison of dividend income with published dividend records or reports by the investee.)

4. Are the detailed investment records reconciled with the general ledger control accounts, including related income, by persons whose duties do not include:
 - a. Maintenance of the detailed investment records?
 - b. Maintenance of the general ledger?
 - c. Physical custody of the investment securities?
5. Are investments and related collateral reviewed and appraised or valued at market at reasonable intervals for comparison with cost valuations and—
 - a. Reporting of the findings to management?
 - b. Determination of need for any valuation allowances?

.420 Physical Safeguards and Custodial Accountability

Objective

- Documents evidencing ownership of investments and related collateral, and other investment records are subjected to reasonably adequate physical safeguards and effective custodial accountability procedures.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are investment securities and related collateral subject to reasonably adequate physical safeguards?

(Examples include use of safe deposit boxes and/or vaults which require two individuals to gain access; custodial accounts with banks and trust companies, and accounts with brokers.)
2. Are investment securities, except for bearer securities, registered in the name of the company or nominees designated in accordance with management's authorization?
3. If an independent custodian is used, has the custodian been approved by the board of directors?
4. Is custody of investment securities held by the company assigned to designated bonded employees whose duties do not include:
 - a. Maintenance of detailed investment records?
 - b. Maintenance of general ledger control accounts?
 - c. Cash receipts and disbursement functions?
5. Is authority to withdraw investment securities from custody limited to written authorization and joint signatures of responsible officials whose duties do not include:
 - a. Custody of investment securities?
 - b. Maintenance of detailed investment records?
6. Are investment securities examined at reasonable intervals and compared with detailed investment records by responsible persons whose duties do not include:

- a. Custody of the investment securities?
- b. Maintenance of the detailed investment records?
- c. Maintenance of the general ledger control accounts?
- d. Cash functions?

B. Borrowing (Debt and Leases)

.430 Authorization of Debt and Other Borrowing Arrangements

Objective

- All debt and other borrowing arrangements (such as leases) are initiated and executed in accordance with management's authorization.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are debt and other borrowing arrangements initiated and approved in accordance with management authorization?
2. Are authorizations for specific debt and other borrowings recorded?

(Authorizations may be recorded, for example, as decisions in the minutes of board of directors' meetings, finance committee meetings, or partners' meetings.)

3. Do the authorizations specify:
 - a. The officials authorized to negotiate debt and leases?
 - b. The maximum commitments such officials can make?
 - c. Property which may be pledged to collateralize debt?
 - d. Covenants which may be made to obtain the loan or lease?

(Some entities may require that all loan and other borrowing agreements be reviewed by legal counsel before signing.)

4. Are the signatures of two authorized officials required to execute debt instruments or leases?
5. Do procedures appear adequate for initiating proposed debt and lease transactions?

(In some entities, debt and lease transactions may be infrequent and of such significance that management participates directly in the proposal and approval process on a case by case basis using specialized assistance where appropriate. In other entities, there may be regular procedures concerning matters such as:

- (i) Study of alternatives such as debt, lease or equity financing.
- (ii) Review of corporate charter, bylaws, and covenants of existing debt and lease agreements and obtaining appropriate advice from legal counsel.
- (iii) Review of financial forecasts, tax and financial reporting considerations and obtaining appropriate professional advice.)

6. If an agent (generally a bank or trust company) is used for the interest disbursing and redemption functions, have the agent and arrangements been authorized by the board of directors?

.440 Recording and Classifying Debt and Other Borrowings*Objective*

- Transactions and obligations concerning debt and other borrowing arrangements are promptly and accurately recorded and classified in detail records and control accounts to—
 - (a) permit preparation of financial statements including required disclosures in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles or other criteria applicable to such statements, and
 - (b) provide timely and accurate information as a basis for conforming with payment obligations and other covenants in the applicable agreements.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are detailed, timely records maintained of such debt and other borrowings as notes payable, long-term debt, and capitalized leases that include such information as:

- a. Date of inception?
 - b. Type of obligation?
 - c. Face amount?
 - d. Interest rate?
 - e. Maturity?
 - f. Timing and amount of payments?
 - g. Proceeds initially received?
 - h. Payments of principal?
 - i. Outstanding principal balance?
 - j. Accrued interest expense?
 - k. Payments of interest?
 - l. Outstanding balance of accrued interest payable?
 - m. Premium or discount at inception?
 - n. Amortization of premium or discount?
 - o. Balance of unamortized premium or discount?
 - p. Summarized information or collateral and/or restrictive covenants connected with the obligation (such as minimum current ratios and/or debt to equity ratios; restrictions on paying dividends, purchasing property and equipment, and/or entering lease agreements?)
2. Does the chart of accounts provide adequate control accounts for principal amounts and related interest expenses of debt and other borrowings?
 3. Are the detailed records maintained by responsible person(s) whose duties do not include:
 - a. Maintenance of the general ledger control accounts?
 - b. Physical custody of agreements connected with borrowings and unissued debt instruments?
 - c. Cash functions?
 4. Do persons who maintain the detail records and control accounts receive timely and adequate information about debt and other borrowing obligations (for example, copies or abstracts of the debt and lease agreements)?
 5. Are detailed records reconciled with the control accounts at reasonable intervals by persons whose duties do not include:
 - a. Maintenance of the detailed records on debt and other borrowings?
 - b. Custody of agreements connected with borrowings and unissued debt instruments?
 6. Are adequate reports developed from the detailed records and actual debt and lease agreements which provide timely and accurate information as a basis for:
 - a. Payments of principal and interest in conformity with the agreements?

- b. Monitoring compliance with terms and covenants in the agreements?

(See AAM section 4400.280, Expenditure Cycle, for illustrative objectives and questions on cash disbursements.)

7. Are detailed records compared with debt and lease agreements at reasonable intervals by responsible persons whose duties do not include:
- a. Maintenance of the detailed records?
 - b. Custody of the debt and lease agreements?
 - c. Maintenance of the general ledger control accounts?
 - d. Cash functions?
8. If independent agents are retained for the interest paying and redemption functions, are the agents' reports promptly reconciled with the control accounts and subsidiary records?

.450 Safeguarding Records, Documents, and Unissued Debt Instruments

Objective

- Access to records, documents, and instruments concerning debt and other borrowing arrangements is permitted only in accordance with management's authorization.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Does a responsible individual maintain adequate files of copies of notes payable, long-term debt, mortgage agreements, and leases?
2. Are unissued debt instruments such as notes and bonds adequately safeguarded and in the custody of a responsible employee whose duties do not include—
 - a. Maintenance of detailed records on borrowings and other term obligations?
 - b. Maintenance of general ledger control accounts?
 - c. Cash functions?
3. Are unissued debt instruments subject to pre-assigned numerical control and are all such instruments accounted for at reasonable intervals?
4. Are paid bonds and notes effectively cancelled to preclude their further use?

C. Equity Capital

.460 Authorization of Equity Capital Transactions

Objective

- Equity capital transactions are—
 - (a) appropriately authorized and approved in conformity with the entity's governing document (corporate charter, partnership agreement, etc.)
 - (b) initiated and executed in accordance with management's authorization.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are capital transactions (issuance, reacquisition, and redemption of stock, dividends, granting of options, rights, conversion privileges, etc.) authorized and approved in conformity with the entity's governing document?

(The entity's governing document (corporate charter, partnership agreement, etc.) may clearly specify the groups or designated officials who have authority concerning the initiation and approval of specific types of capital transactions.)

2. Are authorizations and approvals for specific capital transactions appropriately recorded?

(For example, if the corporate charter provides that capital transactions be initiated by the board of directors subject to approval of the stockholders, such authorizations and approvals would be recorded in the respective minutes of board of directors' meetings and stockholders' meetings.)

3. Are two officials specifically authorized by the board of directors required to sign and countersign stock certificates?
4. Are all stock certificates prepared and approved before issuance in accordance with management's authorization?

(Prescribed procedures would include, for example, compliance with tax and other statutory requirements before signing and issuing certificates. For transfers and retirements of certificates, prescribed procedures would include cancellation and disposition of the certificates received.)

5. If a registrar, transfer agent and/or dividend paying agent is retained, have they been authorized by the board of directors?

.470 Recording and Classifying Equity Capital Transactions*Objective*

- Transactions and obligations concerning equity capital are promptly and accurately recorded and classified in detailed records and control accounts.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Does the general ledger include appropriate control accounts for equity capital?
2. Are appropriate control records maintained for each class of stock on such information as number of shares authorized, issued and outstanding, and number of shares subject to options, warrants, and conversion privileges?
3. Are timely detailed records maintained on the specific stock certificates issued and outstanding for each class of capital stock and the identity of holders of record and number of shares for each certificate?

(In a closely held corporation with a limited number of shareholders and outstanding certificates, properly completed stubs in capital stock certificate books may serve this purpose. Retired certificates would normally be cancelled and reattached to the related stubs. Other situations may require a data base that permits timely rendering of listings of each certificate by number and/or of each shareholder and number of shares held.)

4. Are detailed stock certificate records reconciled at reasonable intervals with the control records and the general ledger?

(If the corporation retains independent agents for the registrar and transfer functions, for example, the agents' periodic reports would be promptly reconciled with the general ledger.)

5. Are reconciliations of detailed records with the control records and general ledger performed by persons whose duties do not include:
 - a. Custody of unissued stock certificates?
 - b. Maintenance of the detailed records?
 - c. Cash functions?

.480 Physical Safeguards and Custodial Procedures

Objectives

- Access to records, agreements, and such negotiable documents as stock certificates concerning equity capital is permitted only in accordance with management's authorization.
- Records, agreements, and negotiable documents are subjected to reasonably adequate physical safeguards and custodial procedures.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are unissued stock certificates, reacquired certificates and detailed stockholder records subject to reasonable physical safeguards?
(Examples include fire-resistant files, vaults, and use of safe deposit boxes.)
2. Are stock certificates subject to controls such as pre-numbering which provides that all certificates (unissued, issued, and retired) may be accounted for?
3. Are unissued and retired stock certificates examined and all certificate numbers accounted for at reasonable intervals by a person(s) whose duties do not include:
 - a. Physical custody of unissued stock certificates?
 - b. Maintenance of stockholder detail records?
 - c. Cash functions?
 - d. General ledger functions?
4. Are retired stock certificates—
 - a. Examined for proper endorsement and effectively cancelled by a person(s) whose duties do not include maintenance of the detailed stockholder records?
 - b. Matched and recorded promptly in the detailed records of certificates (reattached to related stubs in the certificate book)?
5. Are treasury stock certificates registered in the name of the company and recorded to be readily distinguished from other outstanding shares?

.490 Dividends Disbursements

Objective

- Dividends are disbursed accurately and in conformity with decisions of the board of directors.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are dividends declared recorded in the minutes of the board of directors meetings regarding class of stock, amount per share, total amount, record date, and payment date?

2. Do procedures result in an accurate cutoff and accurate listing of stockholders as of the record date?
3. Are dividend checks prepared based on appropriate stockholder listings and subjected to the following:
 - a. Approval and signature in accordance with management's authorization.
 - b. Mailing by a person(s) whose duties do not include maintenance of detailed records of stockholders, custody of unissued and retired stock certificates, and check preparation functions?
4. Are total dividends disbursed reconciled to total outstanding shares as of the record date?

D. Cash ⁴

.500 Processing Collections

Objectives

- Access to cash receipts and cash receipts records, accounts receivable records, and billing and shipping records is controlled to prevent or detect, on a timely basis, the taking of unrecorded cash receipts or the abstraction of recorded cash receipts.
- Detail transaction and account balance records are reconciled, at reasonable intervals, with applicable control accounts and bank statements for timely detection and corrections of errors.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Is the mail opened by a person(s) whose duties do not involve any shipping, billing, accounts receivable detail, general ledger, invoice processing, payroll, and cash disbursement functions?
2. Does the person(s) who opens the mail:
 - a. Place restrictive endorsements on all checks when received so they are for deposit only to the bank accounts of the company?
 - b. List or otherwise obtain control (for example, by photocopying) over all remittances and prepare totals at least daily?
 - c. Forward all remittances to the person who prepares and makes the daily bank deposit?
 - d. Forward the total of remittances to persons, who are independent of physical handling of remittances and accounts receivable detail functions, for subsequent comparison with the authenticated duplicate deposit slip and with control total over postings to subsidiary records?

(In lock box arrangements, customers would mail their remittances to a post office box controlled by the company's bank which would have responsibility for functions 2a-2d.)
3. Are receipts of currency controlled by cash registers and/or pre-numbered cash receipt forms?
 - a. If cash registers are used, is a copy of the tape given to the customer as a receipt, and:
 - (1) Is the key to the cash register tape compartment in the custody at all times of a responsible employee other than the cash register operator(s)?
 - (2) Are readings of the register periodically taken and compared with the cashier's records of receipts by a responsible employee other than the cash register operator(s)?
 - b. If pre-numbered receipts are used for currency collections:

⁴ The illustrative internal control structure objectives and related questions for these cash sections are the same as those for the cash receipts sections of the revenue cycle (AAM section 4400.190—.200) and cash disbursements sections of the expenditures cycle (AAM section 4400.280—.300). They are duplicated here in AAM section 4400.500—.540 because some accountants may prefer to consider them as part of a financing (treasury) cycle.

- (1) Is a copy given to the payor as a receipt?
 - (2) Are all prenumbered receipts accounted for by a person(s) other than the person(s) handling cash received and balanced with the daily cash received?
 - c. If cash collections are for payments on account, is adequate information given for accurate posting to accounts receivable detail?
 - d. If significant cash sales are made (as in a retail store) are spot checks made to determine that cashiers are following prescribed procedures?
4. Are currency receipts forwarded daily to the person who prepares the daily bank deposit?
 5. Is a summary listing of daily currency receipts forwarded to a person(s) independent of physical handling of remittances and accounts receivable detail functions?
 6. Do areas involving physical handling of cash appear reasonably safeguarded?
(For example, protective windows, vaults, cashier cages, etc.)
 7. Are each day's receipts (by mail, and over the counter) except for postdated items deposited intact daily?
 8. Are postdated items segregated on daily detail listings of remittances to aid in control of total items received?
 9. Are all employees who handle receipts adequately bonded?
 10. Are banks instructed not to cash checks and other instruments (for example, drafts, money orders, etc.) drawn to the order of the company?
 11. Does company policy prohibit the cashing of any accommodation checks (for example, personal and payroll checks) out of collections?
 12. Are local bank accounts used for branch office collections subject to withdrawal only by the home office?
 13. Are banks instructed to deliver charged back deposit items (such as checks returned because of insufficient funds) directly to an employee independent of physical handling of cash receipts and posting of accounts receivable detail?
 14. Are bank chargebacks received directly from the bank and investigated by a person independent of:
 - a. Physical handling of collections?
 - b. Posting accounts receivable subsidiary detail?
 15. Are entries to the cash receipts journal compared with:
 - a. Duplicate deposit slips authenticated by the bank?
 - b. Deposits per the bank statements?
 - c. Listings prepared (initial control) when mail is opened?
 16. Are the comparisons described in item 15 above made by a person(s) whose duties do not include cash receipts and accounts receivable functions?

.510 Recording Collections

Objective

- All cash receipts are recorded at the correct amounts in the period in which received, and are properly classified and summarized.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Is information captured from remittances (by mail and over the counter) adequate for accurate posting of credits to individual accounts receivable subsidiary records or to classifications concerning such other sources as investment income, rents, sales of property or scrap, and proceeds of financing?

(This information, for example, may be included on the listing prepared when the mail is opened, remittance advices which accompany customers' checks, detachable stubs from billings, photocopies of checks, copies of pre-numbered receipts issued for currency collections, etc.)

2. Are details of daily collections balanced with the total credits to be distributed to appropriate general ledger accounts and to the total collections for the day before posting to the subsidiary records?
3. Do postings of the general ledger control accounts and subsidiary records include the date on which the remittance was received?
4. Are postings to the general ledger control accounts made by a person(s) independent of:
 - a. Physical handling of collections?
 - b. Posting accounts receivable subsidiary detail?
5. Are details of collections posted to subsidiary accounts receivable records by a person(s) independent of:
 - a. General ledger functions?
 - b. Physical handling of collections?
 - c. Receipt and investigation of bank chargebacks?

.520 Assignment of Disbursement Functions*Objective*

- Functions are assigned so that no single individual is in a position to both perpetrate and conceal errors or irregularities in the normal course of his duties.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Is the cash disbursements function performed by persons who are independent of the following functions:
 - a. Purchasing?
 - b. Receiving?
 - c. Invoice processing?
 - d. Payroll preparation and approval?
 - e. Shipping?
 - f. Accounts receivable?
 - g. Cash receipts?
 - h. General ledger?
2. Is there adequate separation of duties within the cash disbursement function among persons who perform the following:
 - a. Control access to unissued checks?

- b. Prepare checks?
- c. Sign checks and inspect support?
- d. Mail checks?
- e. Maintain custody of petty cash?
- f. Maintain the cash disbursement journal?
- g. Reconcile the bank accounts?

.530 Processing Disbursements

Objectives

- Disbursements are made only for expenditures incurred in accordance with management's authorization.
- Adjustments to cash accounts are made only in accordance with management's authorization.
- Disbursements are recorded at correct amounts in the appropriate period and are properly classified in the accounts.
- Access to cash and cash disbursements records is restricted to minimize opportunities for irregular or erroneous disbursements.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are all bank accounts authorized by the board of directors?
2. Are all check signers authorized by the board of directors?
3. Are banks promptly notified of any changes in authorized check signers?
4. Are banks instructed not to cash checks and other instruments (for example, drafts, money orders, etc.) drawn to the order of the company?
5. Are all bank accounts and cash funds subjected to general ledger control?
6. Are all disbursements and bank transfers based on vouchers and check requests which have been approved by responsible employees designated by management?
7. Are all disbursements except from petty cash made by check?
8. Are properly approved supporting documents (processed invoices, purchase orders, receiving reports, etc.) presented with the checks and reviewed by the check signer(s) before signing the checks?
9. Is a mechanical check protector used to inscribe amounts on checks as a precaution against alteration?
10. Are supporting documents for checks properly cancelled to avoid duplicate payment?
11. Are signed checks independently mailed directly after signing without being returned to persons involved in the invoice processing and check preparation functions?
12. Is access to unissued checks limited to designated responsible employees who are independent of the check signing function, including operation of mechanical check signing machines?
13. Are checks pre-numbered and all numbers accounted for?
14. Are all voided checks retained and mutilated?

15. Are all checks promptly recorded when issued and listed in detail (cash disbursements journal, check register, etc.)?
16. Are details of individual disbursements balanced with the totals to be posted to appropriate general ledger account distributions and to total disbursements to be posted to the general ledger control accounts for cash?
17. Is there a written policy which prohibits:
 - a. Drawing checks payable to cash or bearer?
 - b. Signing or countersigning of blank checks?
18. If dual signatures are required:
 - a. Are the two signers independent of one another?
 - b. Does each signer determine that the disbursement is supported by approved documentation?
19. If a check signing machine is used:
 - a. Are checks approved before mechanical signing by designated responsible employees who are subject to the same segregation of duties as if they were authorized check signers?

(Use of a check signing machine allows an entity to delegate authority for approving checks to a greater number of persons than those registered with the bank as authorized signers. However, approval procedures should be sufficient to assure the official whose name is on the signature plate that all mechanically signed checks would have met his approval if he had reviewed and manually signed them himself.)
 - b. Are the keys, signature plate, and operation of the signing machine under control at all times of the official whose signature is on the plate?
 - c. Are the employees who have custody of the keys, plate, and operate the check signing machine independent of voucher and check preparation functions and denied access to blank checks?
 - d. Are the checks issued to the machine operator(s) counted in advance and reconciled with the totals of the counting device on the check signing machine by someone other than the machine operator?

(Control may be strengthened by having a locked compartment on the machine which receives the signed checks and can be opened only by someone independent of the machine operator.)
20. Are cash funds on an imprest basis and:
 - a. Kept in a safe place?
 - b. Reasonable in amount?
 - c. Controlled by one custodian who is independent of invoice processing, check signing, general accounting, and cash receipts functions?
 - d. Periodically counted by someone other than the custodian?
21. Are all disbursements from cash funds:
 - a. Supported by vouchers which are prepared in ink?
 - b. Approved in accordance with management's authorization?
 - c. Cancelled to prevent reuse?

- d. Subject to a predetermined maximum dollar limit for any individual disbursement?
22. Are reimbursements of cash funds:
- a. Subject to the same review and approval as processed invoices?
(See AAM section 4400.230 on invoice processing)
 - b. Remitted by checks drawn payable to the order of the custodian of the cash fund?

.540 Bank Reconciliations

Objective

- Comparison of detail records, control accounts, and bank statements are made at reasonable intervals for detection and appropriate disposition of errors or irregularities.

Questions—Control Policies and Procedures

1. Are the bank accounts reconciled monthly by an employee(s) who is independent of invoice processing, cash disbursements, cash receipts, petty cash, and general ledger functions?
 2. Are bank statements, related paid checks, debit and credit memos received directly from the bank by the employee(s) performing the reconciliations?
 3. Does the bank reconciliation procedure include:
 - a. Reconciliation of the balance per bank to balance per the general ledger control account and subsidiary detail records?
 - b. Comparison in detail of deposits per the bank statement with deposits per cash receipts detail records?
 - c. Comparisons in detail of disbursements per bank with the cash disbursements journal (check register) as to date drawn, payee, and amount?
 - d. Comparison of payees with endorsements?
 - e. Follow up of reconciling items and initiation of entries to record such transactions as checks returned for insufficient funds and bank charges?
 4. Are old outstanding checks investigated and subjected to proper disposition (in compliance with applicable escheat laws if present)?

AAM Section 4500

Flowcharts

.01 A flowchart is a diagram which uses symbols to portray the flow of transactions and the various steps applied in that process.

.02 Use of flowcharts is widespread among persons involved in computerized information processing. Some auditors also use flowcharts as their preferred method of documenting their understandings of their clients' internal control structure. Some firms, as an internal policy, urge their staff auditors to use flowcharting. Other firms require use of flowcharting on audits of clients over a given level of size or complexity.

.03 The decision to use flowcharts rests with the individual firm or auditor. Proponents of flowcharting believe the auditor can more easily read and analyze a flowchart than a narrative description of a structure, especially when reviewing understandings which are developed by assistants. They also believe the discipline needed to prepare flowcharts encourages staff to obtain a clearer, more accurate understanding of the structure being documented, particularly the control points in the structure. Those with reservations about flowcharting are concerned that the potential benefits of flowcharting are not enough to justify the time and effort needed to prepare them. They also are concerned that staff may get lost in excessive detail or stray into extraneous areas. A decision to use flowcharts, therefore, implies a concurrent decision to develop adequate instructional material.

Types of Flowcharts

.04 Some users of flowcharts classify them into the following three types:

- Systems flowchart—provides a broad overview of a system.
- Program flowchart—concerned with the minute steps of a system, generally a computer program. Some users also describe computer program flowcharts as block diagrams.
- Internal control structure flowchart—portrays the interaction of departments and/or individuals involved in the plan of organization and the procedures and records concerned with the safeguarding of assets and the reliability of financial records.

Some data processing people who tend to confront complex situations develop sets of charts in several layers with each layer oriented towards a different level of users; this is termed a hierarchical approach.

Degree of Detail

.05 The question of how much detail an auditor should include in a flowchart is a difficult one. And the answer is elusive; it varies with the professional judgment of the auditor who has final responsibility for the engagement. A related difficult matter is how to help assistants avoid the pitfalls of including excess and/or extraneous detail in their flowcharts and the accompanying run-up of time. In deciding on an appropriate policy, the auditor should recognize that his working papers, taken as a whole, should be adequate to document his understanding of the client's internal control structure and help support his assessments of control risk.

Flowcharting Illustration—Small Business

.06 Use of flowcharts need not be limited to recording an understanding of complex information processing systems. An illustration is included below to show how an auditor might use flowcharts to record an understanding of purchases, receipt of stock, and cash disbursements for purchases for Kilroy Wholesale Grocery. John Kilroy owns and operates the business with two employees. One employee serves as both the stock clerk and truck driver. The other employee is the bookkeeper.

.07 A symbol legend is also included to explain the five different symbols used in the illustrative flowcharts. In practice, an auditor would probably use a standard set of flowchart symbols which would eliminate the need for preparing flowchart symbol legends for each set of working papers. The symbols used in the illustrative flowcharts are from the set of standard flowcharting symbols developed by the American National Standards Institute, Inc. (ANSI) which is sponsored by the Business Equipment Manufacturers Association.¹ Some accounting firms have developed or adopted other sets of symbols to meet their individual needs.

.08 The following illustrative transaction processing flowcharts of Kilroy Wholesale Grocery are presented as:

- Purchases and Receipts of Stock (paragraphs .11—.12)
- Cash Disbursements for Purchases (paragraphs .13—.14)

.09 There are also various approaches to the layout of flowcharts. For example, the illustrations present the functions of more than one person (or department) on each sheet. An alternate approach would be to limit a page or set of pages to the functions of a single department or individual. In addition, the illustrative flowcharts present vertical flow lines that start at the top of the page. An alternate approach would be to present horizontal flow lines that start at the left side of the page. These alternate approaches depend on the preferences of the individual firm or the auditor who has final responsibility for the engagement.

Note: Some auditors also complete an internal control structure checklist questionnaire or other memoranda which include their comments on weaknesses in internal control structure, proposed modifications of the program for substantive tests, and other proposed comments to the client.

Illustrative Internal Control Structure Questions—State and Local Governmental Units

.010 The following is a list of illustrative internal control structure questions an auditor might raise concerning a state or local governmental unit. The extent of internal control structure policies and procedures that an organization should establish is a judgment that must be made by the management of the entity. The judgment is affected by circumstances, such as the size of the organization and the number of personnel available, and by conclusions about the relationship of costs and benefits. These illustrative questions are numbered merely for organization purposes. The numbers are in no way intended to infer completeness or a preferred sequence. A firm that believes the questionnaire approach is appropriate for its practice should develop its own internal control structure questionnaires based on its own needs and preferences. In any event, users of checklists and questionnaires should recognize that important matters in a particular set of circumstances may not be covered in a standard checklist.

II. Accounting System

.050 A. General

- | | | | |
|---|-------|-------|-------|
| 1. Does the entity have adequate written statements and explanations of its accounting policies and procedures? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
|---|-------|-------|-------|

(Written accounting policies and procedures may include such matters as:

- (i) Chart of accounts accompanied by explanations of the items to be included in the various accounts.
- (ii) Identification and description of the principal accounting records, recurring standard entries, and requirements for supporting documentation. For example, this may include information about the general ledger, source journals, subsidiary ledgers, and detail records for each significant class of transactions.
- (iii) Expression of the assignment of responsibilities and delegation of authority including identification of the individuals or positions that have authority to approve various types of recurring and non-recurring entries.
- (iv) Explanations of documentation and approval requirements for various types of recurring and non-recurring transactions and journal entries. Documentation requirements, for example, would include the basis and supporting computations required for adjustments and write-offs.
- (v) Instructions for determining an adequate cutoff and closing of accounts for each reporting period.)

| 2. Are accounting policy and procedure manuals updated as necessary? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
| 3. Are manuals distributed to appropriate personnel? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
| 4. Do procedures exist to ensure that only authorized persons can alter or establish a new accounting principle, policy, or procedure to be used by the entity? | _____ | _____ | _____ |

	Yes	No	N/A
5. Does the principal accounting officer of the entity have adequate authority over accounting employees and principal accounting records at all locations?	_____	_____	_____
6. Are the principal accounting, treasury, and custody functions segregated?	_____	_____	_____
7. Are the responsibilities for maintaining the general ledger segregated from those for maintaining subsidiary ledgers?	_____	_____	_____
8. Are the responsibilities for maintaining the general ledger and custody of assets segregated?	_____	_____	_____
9. Is access to the general ledger and related records restricted to those who are assigned general ledger responsibilities?	_____	_____	_____
10. Are there adequate facilities for custody of the general ledger and related records? (Examples of such facilities include fire-resistant locked cabinets, vaults, physical barriers, separate rooms, limited access to work areas, alarms, and other detection devices.)	_____	_____	_____
11. Is appropriate insurance coverage maintained in amounts required by statutes or entity policy? (Such insurance may include loss of records coverage and fidelity bonding of employees in positions of trust.)	_____	_____	_____
12. Are the preparation and approval functions for journal entries segregated?	_____	_____	_____
13. Are all journal entries reviewed and approved by designated individuals at appropriate levels in the entity? (The levels at which journal entries are reviewed and approved will usually vary depending on whether the entries are recurring, or non-recurring, routine or unusual, accumulations of routine transactions, or adjustments of balances requiring estimates and judgments.)	_____	_____	_____
14. Are all journal entries adequately explained and supported? (Explanation and support for an entry should be sufficient to enable the person responsible for its review and approval to reasonably perform this function.)	_____	_____	_____
15. Do all journal entries include approval in accordance with management's general or specific authorization?	_____	_____	_____
16. Are all journal entries subject to controls over completeness of processing? (Examples of controls over completeness of processing include pre-numbering of journal vouchers and accounting for all numbers used, accumulation of control totals of dollar amounts debited and credited, and standard identification numbers for recurring entries.)	_____	_____	_____
17. Do all journal entries include adequate identification of the accounts in which they are to be recorded?	_____	_____	_____

.060 B. Electronic Data Processing

Segregation of Duties

1. Is the EDP department independent from the accounting and operating departments for which it processes data?	_____	_____	_____
2. Does appropriate segregation of duties exist within the data processing function for (a) systems development (design and programming), (b) technical support (maintenance of systems software), and (c) operations?	_____	_____	_____
3. In smaller and minicomputer installations with limited opportunities for segregation of duties, do procedures exist for user departments to—
● Utilize batch or other input controls?	_____	_____	_____
● Control master file changes?	_____	_____	_____
● Balance master files between processing cycles?	_____	_____	_____

	Yes	No	N/A
4. Do the personnel policies of the EDP function include such procedures as reference checks, security statements, rotation of duties, and terminated employee security measures that enhance segregation of duties and otherwise improve controls?	_____	_____	_____
Procedural Controls
User Controls
5. Do controls exist over preparation and approval of input transactions outside the EDP department and is the department prohibited from initiating transactions?	_____	_____	_____
6. Does the user exercise control procedures over input to ensure that all approved input is processed correctly through the system and only once?	_____	_____	_____
7. Do controls exist over entry of data in on-line systems to restrict access to terminals and data entry to authorized employees?	_____	_____	_____
8. Do on-line systems controls exist that prevent documents from being keyed into the system more than once and that permit tracing from computer output to data source and vice versa?	_____	_____	_____
9. Do controls exist over changes to master files, such as requiring preparation of specific forms indicating data to be changed, approval by a supervisor in the user department, and verifying against a printout of changes?	_____	_____	_____
10. Do user controls exist over rejected transactions through the use of a computerized suspense file of rejected transactions or an auxiliary manual system?	_____	_____	_____
11. Does user department management reconcile output totals to input totals for all data submitted, reconcile the overall file balances, and review outputs for reasonableness?	_____	_____	_____
Application Controls
12. Do procedures exist within the data processing control function that provide that data is properly controlled between the user and the EDP department?	_____	_____	_____
13. Do controls exist over data entry, for example, that include adequate supervision, up-to-date instructions, key verification of important fields, and self-checking digits?	_____	_____	_____
14. Do program controls exist over entry of data into on-line systems?	_____	_____	_____
15. Is input data edited and validated?	_____	_____	_____
16. Do data processing controls exist over rejected transactions?	_____	_____	_____
17. Do controls exist for balancing transactions and master files?	_____	_____	_____
18. Do procedures exist within the data processing control function concerning review and distribution of output?	_____	_____	_____
General Controls
19. Do controls exist over changes to system software?	_____	_____	_____
20. Do controls exist over use and retention of tape and disk files, including provisions for retention of adequate records to provide backup capabilities?	_____	_____	_____
21. Do controls exist that limit access to data processing equipment, tapes, disks, system documentation, and application program documentation to authorized employees?	_____	_____	_____
22. Is a job accounting system (or console logs) used to ensure that scheduled programs are processed and proper procedures followed and that supervisory personnel know that only required programs have been processed?	_____	_____	_____
23. Are EDP department employees supervised for all shifts?	_____	_____	_____
24. Are procedures to be followed by computer operators documented?	_____	_____	_____
25. Is the data processing system documented such that the organization could continue to operate if important data processing employees leave?	_____	_____	_____

	Yes	No	N/A
26. Do procedures exist to protect against a loss of important files, programs, or equipment?	_____	_____	_____
27. Are equipment, programs, and data files covered by insurance?	_____	_____	_____
28. Are there user-approved written specifications for new systems and modifications to existing application systems?	_____	_____	_____
29. Are there written procedures to test and implement new systems and modifications to existing application systems?	_____	_____	_____

.070 C. Financial Reporting

Segregation of Duties

1. Is the final review and approval of financial reports segregated from the responsibility for preparation of the reports?	_____	_____	_____
---	-------	-------	-------

Procedural Controls

General Ledger

2. Is there a formal plan of organization for the unit of government under which reporting responsibilities are clearly defined and reasonably aligned?	_____	_____	_____
3. Is the principal accounting officer over accounting records and accounting employees supervised at all locations?	_____	_____	_____
4. Is there general ledger control over all assets and transactions of all departments of the organization?	_____	_____	_____

Closing

5. Are procedures and policies for closing the accounts for a reporting period sufficient to ensure that accounts are closed, adjusted, and reviewed on a timely basis?	_____	_____	_____
6. Do procedures exist to ensure that all accounting systems have included all transactions applicable to the reporting period?	_____	_____	_____
7. Are valuation reserves or other account balances based on estimates reviewed and approved?	_____	_____	_____
8. Are all journal entries reviewed, approved, and supported by adequate descriptions or documentation?	_____	_____	_____
9. Do controls exist that ensure that only authorized individuals can initiate entries?	_____	_____	_____

Combining

10. Do procedures exist to ensure the orderly and effective accumulation of financial data?	_____	_____	_____
11. Do procedures exist for the orderly processing of financial data received from departments and other accounting units?	_____	_____	_____
12. Do procedures exist to permit the recording and review of special entries generated in the combining process?	_____	_____	_____

Preparation, Review and Approval

13. Do procedures exist to ensure that financial reports are supported by either underlying account records or other documentation?	_____	_____	_____
14. Do procedures exist providing reasonable assurances that all data required to be included in legal as well as public reports are properly disclosed?	_____	_____	_____
15. Do procedures exist to ensure that financial reports are prepared on a consistent basis?	_____	_____	_____
16. Are financial reports reviewed and approved at appropriate levels of management and, if appropriate, by the legislature before public release?	_____	_____	_____

- | | Yes | No | N/A |
|---|-------|-------|-------|
| 17. Are there procedures to ensure that all requirements for filing of financial reports are met (for example, senior levels of government, bondholders, and the public)? | _____ | _____ | _____ |

.080 D. Identified Significant Account Balances and Transaction Classes

- | | | | |

| 3. Revenues and Receivables? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
| 4. Capital Assets? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
| 5. Procurement and Payables? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
| 6. Employee Compensation? | _____ | _____ | _____ |

III. Cash

.090 A. Segregation of Duties

- | | | | |
|--|-------|-------|-------|
| 1. Are responsibilities for collection and deposit preparation functions segregated from those for recording cash receipts and general ledger entries? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
| 2. Are responsibilities for cash receipts functions segregated from those for cash disbursements? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
| 3. Are responsibilities for disbursement preparation and disbursement approval functions segregated from those for recording or entering cash disbursements information on the general ledger? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
| 4. Are responsibilities for the disbursement approval function segregated from those for the disbursement, voucher preparation, and purchasing functions? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
| 5. Are responsibilities for entries in the cash receipt and disbursement records segregated from those for general ledger entries? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
| 6. Are responsibilities for preparing and approving bank account reconciliations segregated from those for other cash receipt or disbursement functions? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
| 7. If EDP is used, is the principle of segregation of duties within processing activities maintained? | _____ | _____ | _____ |

.100 B. Procedural Controls

Collections

- | | | | |
|--|-------|-------|-------|
| 8. Are all receipts deposited on a timely basis (preferably daily)? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
| 9. Do controls exist over the collection, timely deposit, and recording of collections in the accounting records in each collection location? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
| 10. Is the general accounting department notified on a timely basis of cash receipts from separate collection locations? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
| 11. Are daily reported receipts compared on a test basis to bank statements to verify timeliness of deposits? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
| 12. Is a restrictive endorsement placed on each incoming check upon receipt? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
| 13. Are "not sufficient funds" checks delivered to someone independent of processing and recording of cash receipts? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
| 14. Do procedures exist for follow-up of "not sufficient funds" checks? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
| 15. Do controls exist to ensure that checks are returned promptly for deposit if checks received are forwarded to be used as posting media to taxpayers' or customers' accounts? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
| 16. Are receipts controlled by cash register, pre-numbered receipts, or other equivalent means if payments are made in person (over the counter)? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
| 17. Are receipts accounted for and balanced to collections on a daily basis? | _____ | _____ | _____ |
| 18. Do facilities exist for protecting undeposited cash receipts? | _____ | _____ | _____ |

	Yes	No	N/A
Disbursements
19. Does control exist over warrant or check-signing machines as to signature plates and usage?	_____	_____	_____
20. Are procedures provided for immediate notification to banks when warrant or check signers leave the unit or are otherwise no longer authorized to sign?	_____	_____	_____
21. Are invoices and supporting documents furnished to the signer prior to signing the warrant or check?	_____	_____	_____
22. Are reasonable limits set on amounts that can be paid by facsimile signatures?	_____	_____	_____
23. Are two signatures required on warrants or checks over a stated amount?	_____	_____	_____
24. Are signature plates maintained in the custody of the person whose facsimile signature is on the plate when not in use?	_____	_____	_____
25. Are signature plates under the signer's control when in use?	_____	_____	_____
26. Is the recording machine read by the signer or an appropriate designee to ascertain that all checks or warrants signed are properly accounted for by comparison to document control totals?	_____	_____	_____
27. Are signed warrants or checks delivered directly to the mailroom making them unaccessible to persons who requested, prepared, or recorded them?	_____	_____	_____
28. Is the drawing of warrants or checks to cash or bearer prohibited?	_____	_____	_____
Custody
29. Are controls maintained over the supply of unused and voided warrants or checks?	_____	_____	_____
30. Are bank accounts properly authorized?	_____	_____	_____
31. Are depositories periodically reviewed and formally reauthorized?	_____	_____	_____
32. Do controls and physical safeguards exist surrounding working (petty cash) funds?	_____	_____	_____
33. Is adequate fidelity insurance maintained?	_____	_____	_____
34. Are separate bank accounts maintained for each fund, or if not, is there adequate fund control over pooled cash?	_____	_____	_____
Detail Accounting
35. Do procedures exist to ensure that collections and disbursements are recorded accurately and promptly?	_____	_____	_____
36. Do procedures exist for authorizing and recording interbank and interfund transfers and for providing for proper accounting for those transactions?	_____	_____	_____
General Ledger
37. Does general ledger control exist over all bank accounts?	_____	_____	_____
38. Are bank statements and paid warrants or checks delivered in unopened envelopes directly to the employee preparing the reconciliation?	_____	_____	_____
39. Do procedures exist for steps essential to an effective reconciliation, particularly—
● Comparison of warrants or checks in appropriate detail with disbursement records?	_____	_____	_____
● Examination of signature and endorsements, at least on a test basis?	_____	_____	_____
● Accounting for numerical sequence of warrants or checks used?	_____	_____	_____
● Comparison of book balances used in reconciliations with general ledger accounts?	_____	_____	_____
● Comparison of deposit amounts and dates with cash receipt entries?	_____	_____	_____

	Yes	No	N/A
	_____	_____	_____
● Footing of cash books?
40. Are all reconciliations and investigations of unusual reconciling items reviewed and approved by an official who is not responsible for receipts and disbursements, including recording evidence of the review and approval by signing the reconciliation?
41. Are checks outstanding for a considerable time periodically reviewed for propriety?

IV. Investments

.110 A. Segregation of Duties

1. Are responsibilities for initiating, evaluating, and approving transactions segregated from those for detail accounting, general ledger, and other related functions?
2. Are responsibilities for initiating transactions segregated from those for final approvals that commit government resources?
3. Are responsibilities for monitoring investment market values and performance segregated from those for investment acquisition?
4. Are responsibilities for maintaining detail accounting records segregated from those for general ledger entries?
5. Are custodial responsibilities for securities or other documents evidencing ownership or other rights assigned to an official who has no accounting duties?
6. If EDP is used, is the principle of segregation of duties within processing activities maintained?

.120 B. Procedural Controls

Approval

7. If applicable, are procedures adequate to ensure that only investments that are permitted by law are acquired?
8. Are investment policy guidelines formally established and periodically reviewed?
9. Is the investment program integrated with the cash management program and expenditure requirements?
10. Have authority and responsibility been established for investment opportunity evaluation and purchase?
11. Is the performance of the investment portfolio periodically evaluated by persons independent of investment portfolio management activities?
12. Are procedures formally established governing the level and nature of approvals required to purchase or sell an investment?
13. Are competitive bids sought for certificate of deposit purchases?

Custody

14. Do adequate physical safeguards and custodial procedures exist over—
● Negotiable and nonnegotiable securities owned?
● Legal documents or agreements evidencing ownership or other rights?
15. Are dual signatures or authorizations required to obtain release of securities from safekeeping or to obtain access to the government unit's safe deposit box?
16. Are persons with access to securities authorized by the legislative body?
17. Are all securities registered in the name of the government unit?
18. Are securities periodically inspected or confirmed from safekeeping agents?
19. Are individuals with access to securities bonded?

Yes No N/A

Detail Accounting

- 20. Are detail accounting records maintained for investments? _____
- 21. Do procedures exist to ensure that transactions arising from investments are properly processed, including income and amortization entries? _____
- 22. Do controls exist to ensure that investment earnings are credited to the fund from which resources were provided for the investment? _____
- 23. Are periodic comparisons made between income received and the amount specified by the terms of the security or publicly available investment information? _____
- 24. Do controls exist to ensure that transactions are recorded on a timely basis? _____

General Ledger

- 25. Do procedures exist for reconciling the detail accounting records with the general ledger control? _____
- 26. Is the nature of investments included in general ledger balances periodically reviewed? _____

V. Revenues and Receivables

.130 A. Segregation of Duties

- 1. Are the responsibilities for billing property taxes and services segregated from collection and accounting? _____
- 2. Are the responsibilities for maintaining detail accounts receivable records segregated from collections and general ledger posting? _____
- 3. Are the collection, control, and deposit of funds activities segregated from the accounting records maintenance function? _____
- 4. Are property tax assessment rolls maintained by individuals not engaged in any accounting or collection function? _____
- 5. Are responsibilities for entries in the cash receipts records segregated from those for general ledger entries? _____
- 6. If EDP is used, is the principle of segregation of duties within processing activities maintained? _____

.140 B. Procedural Controls

Data and File Maintenance

Property taxes

- 7. Do controls exist to ensure that additions, deletions, transfers, and abatements are properly and timely reflected in property tax records? _____
- 8. Do procedures exist to make property assessments in accordance with the law or legislative intent with prompt adjustment of records? _____

Sales, income, and other taxes

- 9. Are filed returns cross-referenced against a data base of previous taxpayers? _____
- 10. Are records organized and integrated in such a fashion that probable taxpayers are identified as a result of reporting of other governmental activities such as licensing? _____

License fees and permits

- 11. If annual payments are involved, do procedures exist to ensure that previous years' records are properly updated for new registrants and withdrawals? _____

	Yes	No	N/A
12. Are updated records used as the basis for billing persons subject to payment?	_____	_____	_____
Fines, forfeitures, and court fees
13. Are court and other records of payments due maintained and used as a basis for collections?	_____	_____	_____
14. Do procedures exist surrounding the control, issuance, and disposition of traffic violations to ensure that amounts due are assessed and collected?	_____	_____	_____
Enterprise and other service revenues
15. Are controls maintained that provide assurances that customer data base and, where appropriate, usage records are accurately maintained to ensure that amounts due are billed?	_____	_____	_____
Billing/Remittance Verification
Property taxes
16. Do controls exist within the billing system to ensure that eligible property owners are billed?	_____	_____	_____
17. Do controls exist to ensure that tax assessments are being properly applied against tax rates and special charges are being considered in the preparation of billing amounts?	_____	_____	_____
18. Do controls exist to ensure that tax exemptions are within the law and properly approved?	_____	_____	_____
Sales, income, and other taxes
19. Are returns reviewed for mathematical accuracy?	_____	_____	_____
20. Are current year's taxpayers' returns correlated with prior year's returns and are differences reviewed and accounted for?	_____	_____	_____
21. Are claims for refunds reviewed and approved separately?	_____	_____	_____
22. Are audits of returns filed to provide reasonable assurance that taxable income is properly reported?	_____	_____	_____
License fees and permits

AAM Section 4700

The Auditor's Assessment of Control Risk

.01 Most of the auditor's work in forming an opinion on financial statements consists of obtaining and evaluating evidential matter concerning the assertions in such financial statements. SAS No. 31, Evidential Matter, (AU section 326), presents assertions as representations by management that are embodied in financial statement components. In obtaining evidential matter in support of financial statement assertions, the auditor develops specific audit objectives in light of those assertions. There is not necessarily a one to one relationship between audit objectives and audit procedures.

.02 Assertions are classified in SAS No. 31, according to the following broad categories:

- Existence or Occurrence. Reported assets and liabilities actually exist at the balance sheet date, and transactions reported in the income statement actually occurred during the period covered.
- Completeness. All transactions and accounts that should be included in the financial statements are included, and there are no undisclosed assets, liabilities or transactions.
- Rights and Obligations. The entity owns and has clear title to assets and liabilities are the obligations of the entity.
- Valuation or Allocation. The assets and liabilities are valued properly and the revenues and expenses are measured properly.
- Presentation and Disclosure. The assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses are properly classified, described, and disclosed in the financial statements.

.03 SAS No. 55, Consideration of the Internal Control Structure in a Financial Statement Audit (AU section 319), states that the auditor should assess control risk in terms of assertions for material components of the financial statements. Many practitioners may consider audit objectives that relate to the assertions when assessing control risk. SAS No. 55 does not preclude or require any specific approach as long as control risk is ultimately assessed at the assertion level. For example, an approach of identifying internal control structure policies and procedures and relating those to significant audit objectives for account balances or transaction classes would be appropriate. Practice aids for documenting the assessed level of control risk using this approach are illustrated in AAM section 4700.05—4700.09.

.04 The following workpapers for documenting control risk assessments would be prepared only for assertions with an assessed level of control risk below maximum. Based on the results of tests of controls, the auditor determines whether the initial assessment of control risk is appropriate. During planned tests of controls, the auditor may obtain additional evidence and perform additional tests of controls. The results of such tests may support a further reduction in the assessed level of control risk. Conversely, planned tests of controls may indicate that control policies and procedures are ineffective in design or operation. Such results may lead the auditor to assess control risk at maximum for the assertions affected.

The material included in these sections on audit approach and programs is presented for illustrative purposes only. The comments, illustrative audit objectives and illustrative audit procedures are neither all-inclusive nor are they prescribed minimums. The illustrative audit procedures are numbered merely to organize the materials; those numbers are not intended to imply completeness or a prescribed sequence. The nature, extent and timing of the auditing procedures to be applied on a particular engagement are a matter of professional judgment to be determined by the auditor based on the specific facts and circumstances.

This manual is a nonauthoritative kit of practice aids. Accordingly, these sections include minimal explanation and discussion of authoritative pronouncements. Users of this manual are urged to refer directly to applicable authoritative pronouncements when appropriate. Users should also note that this manual does not deal with specialized industry problems; reference should be made to applicable AICPA Audit and Accounting Guides.

AAM Section 5100

Designing the Audit Program

.01 The objective of an audit is to express an opinion on whether financial statements present fairly in all material respects, an entity's financial position, results of operations, and cash flows in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. This conclusion may be expressed only when the auditor has formed such an opinion on the basis of an audit performed in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. The procedures that the auditor plans to use to gather evidence are outlined in an audit program.

.02 Since the audit program describes the evidence-gathering steps to be used in the audit, it should be carefully designed. Designing an audit program involves three major considerations:

- (1) Deciding what procedures to apply—the nature of audit tests
- (2) Deciding when to apply the procedures—the timing of audit tests
- (3) Deciding which items to apply the procedures to—the extent of audit tests

.03 Flowchart 1 presents an overview of the structure of the audit process. To design an audit program that is efficient and effective, the auditor should—

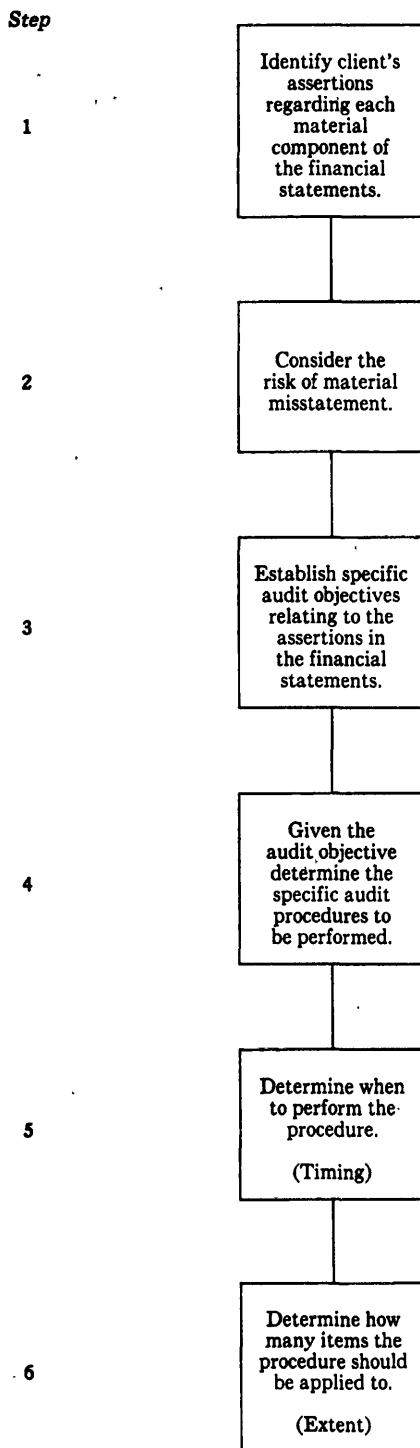

- (1) Identify the client's assertions regarding each material component of the financial statements.
- (2) Consider the risk of material misstatement.
- (3) Establish specific audit objectives relating to the assertions in the financial statements.
- (4) Determine the audit procedures to be performed to accomplish the audit objectives.
- (5) Determine when to perform the audit procedures.
- (6) Determine which of many items to apply audit procedures to.

.04 The six steps illustrated in flowchart 1 result in a determination of the nature, timing, and extent of audit tests.

Financial Statement Assertions

.05 According to SAS No. 31, Evidential Matter (AU section 326), the independent auditor's work in forming an opinion on financial statements consists of obtaining and evaluating evidential matter concerning the assertions in such financial statements. These assertions are embodied in the account balance, transaction class, and disclosure components of financial statements and are classified according to the following broad categories:

Flowchart 1
Audit Logic Process

- (1) Existence or Occurrence. Reported assets and liabilities actually exist at the balance sheet date, and transactions reported in the income statement actually occurred during the period covered.
- (2) Completeness. All transactions and accounts that should be included in the financial statements are included, or there are no undisclosed assets, liabilities, or transactions.
- (3) Rights and Obligations. The company owns and has clear title to assets and liabilities are obligations of the company.
- (4) Valuation or Allocation. The assets and liabilities are valued properly, and the revenues and expenses are measured properly.
- (5) Presentation and Disclosure. The assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses are properly classified, described, and disclosed in the financial statements.

Developing Audit Objectives

.06 A misrepresentation of any of the five financial statement assertions could cause a material misstatement in the financial statements. The auditor should consider the risk of material misstatement for each assertion in the financial statements, and then obtain evidence to support the financial statement assertions to reduce the risk of material misstatement to an acceptably low level. To determine what type of evidence to obtain, the auditor develops specific audit objectives related to each assertion.

.07 In determining audit objectives, the auditor should evaluate each of the five assertions as they relate to the specific account balance or class of transactions being examined. For example, if the auditor is attempting to gather evidence on the assertion of existence of inventory, the auditor's objective would be to gather evidence that inventory included in the balance sheet physically existed at the date of the balance sheet.

Relationship of Assertions and Objectives for Inventory

Figure 1

Financial Statement Assertion	Illustrative Audit Objectives
Existence or occurrence	—Inventories included in the balance sheet physically exist.
Completeness	—Inventory quantities include all products, materials, and supplies on hand. —Inventory quantities include all products, materials, and supplies owned by the client that are in transit or stored at outside locations.
Right and obligations	—Inventory listings are accurately compiled and the totals are properly included in the inventory accounts.
Valuation or allocation	—The entity has legal title or similar rights of ownership to the inventory. —Inventories are properly stated at cost (except when market is lower).
Presentation and disclosure	—Inventories are properly classified in the balance sheet as current assets.

An example of the relationship between financial statement assertions and audit objectives for inventory is shown in figure 1.

Audit Tests

.08 After the auditor has determined the audit objectives, the method of achieving the objectives should be selected. Although these methods are referred to by various names such as audit procedures, audit techniques, and audit tests, they represent the evidence-gathering methods auditors use. The basic requirement for determining audit procedures, according to SAS No. 31, paragraph 12 (AU section 326.13), is that:

The procedures adopted should be adequate to achieve the audit objectives developed by the auditor, and the evidential matter obtained should be sufficient for the auditor to form conclusions concerning the validity of the individual assertions embodied in the components of financial statements.

.09 Some audit procedures can satisfy a combination of audit objectives for a given account balance or class of transactions. For example, the auditor's observation of a physical inventory count can provide evidence that inventories physically exist and that inventory quantities include all products, materials, and supplies on hand.

.10 Audit tests or procedures can be classified or categorized in a variety of ways. The most common classifications are by purpose of the test or by type of test.

Purpose of the Test

.11 According to SAS No. 55, Consideration of the Internal Control Structure in a Financial Statement Audit (AU section 319), the purpose of performing audit tests are:

- a. To evaluate whether an internal control structure policy or procedure is operating effectively. These tests are referred to as tests of controls.
- b. To detect material misstatements in financial statement assertions. These tests are referred to as substantive tests.

.12 The substantive test that the auditor performs consists of tests of details of transactions and balances and analytical procedures. In assessing control risk, the auditor also may use tests of details of transactions as tests of controls. The objective of tests of details of transactions performed as substantive tests is to detect material misstatements in the financial statements. The objective of tests of details of transactions as tests of controls is to evaluate whether an internal control structure policy or procedure operated effectively. Although these objectives are different, both may be accomplished concurrently through performance of a test of details on the same transaction.

.13 If the control risk is assessed at less than the maximum level, the auditor should obtain sufficient evidential matter to support that assessed level. The evidential matter that is sufficient to support a specific assessed level of control risk is a matter of auditor judgment. The type of evidential matter obtained all bear on the degree of assurance provided. Since the auditor's substantive testing is affected by the quality of the internal control structure policies and procedures, the auditor is concerned with whether the controls established are designed and operating effectively. The role of tests of controls is to justify this assertion.

.14 The most effective and efficient audit strategy for a small business engagement generally is to assess the control risk at the maximum level (the greatest probability that a material misstatement that could occur in an assertion will not be prevented or detected on a timely basis by an entity's internal control structure). In this case, the auditor will use the knowledge obtained from the understanding of the internal control structure and the assessed level of control risk in designing substantive tests for financial statement assertions.

Type of Test

.15 Auditors perform four types of tests:

- (1) Analytical procedures
- (2) Inquiry and observation
- (3) Tests of transactions
- (4) Tests of balances

The relationship of audit tests by purpose to audit tests by type is shown in figure 2.

Analytical Procedures

.16 Analytical procedures are used for the following purposes:

- a. To assist the auditor in planning the nature, timing, and extent of other auditing procedures.
- b. As a substantive test to obtain evidential matter about particular assertions related to account balances or classes of transactions.
- c. As an overall review of the financial information in the final review stage of the audit.

.17 Analytical procedures involve comparisons of recorded amounts, or ratios developed from recorded amounts, to expectations developed by the auditor. Analytical procedures are discussed in SAS No. 56, Analytical Procedures (AU section 329).

Inquiry and Observation

.18 Testing of internal control structure policies and procedures that leave no audit trail of documentary evidence is usually tested by inquiry and observation. Auditors make inquiries of different individuals and conduct observation tests to determine who performs a particular activity or how or when the activity is done. For example, the auditor may ask different individuals about who posts to the receivables ledger, the auditor may observe who prepares the bank reconciliation, or the auditor may observe when cash is deposited in the bank.

.19 Inquiry and observation can also be used as substantive tests. For example, an audit procedure such as observation of a physical asset to determine that it exists is a substantive test relating to the existence assertion. Likewise, inquiries regarding subsequent events would be a substantive test because they provide evidence regarding the adequacy of disclosures in the financial statements.

Matrix of Audit Tests by Purpose and Type

Figure 2

		Purpose of Test
		Substantive Test	Test of Controls
Type of Test	Analytical Procedures	Yes Example A	No
	Inquiry and Observation	Yes Example H	Yes Examples B, C
	Tests of Transactions	Yes Example D	Yes Examples E, F
	Tests of Balances	Yes Examples G, H	No

Examples:

A—Comparison of this year's expenses with last year's expenses

B—Observation by auditor that cash is deposited daily by a specific clerk

C—Inquiry by auditor about who deposits cash and how often

D—Examination of invoices to support additions (specific transactions) to fixed assets account during year

E—Examine sales invoices to see if initials of credit manager are there to indicate a credit file and credit approval (Inspection Test)

F—Vouch from sales invoices to credit files to see if customer has a credit file and has been approved for credit (Reperformance Test)

G—Confirmation of year-end balances in accounts receivable

H—Observation of the existence of a building

Tests of Transactions

.20 Tests of transactions consist of the examination of the documents and accounting records involved in the processing of specific transactions. Such procedures can accomplish both testing of controls and substantive testing and are sometimes used concurrently.

.21 Tests of controls are accomplished when the auditor examines transaction documentation to determine if the internal control structure policies and procedures have been applied as prescribed. Tests of transactions as tests of controls can be classified as either inspection tests or reperformance tests. If the auditor examines documentation, the tests of controls are classified as an inspection test. Alternatively, if the auditor repeats an internal control structure policy and procedure performed by the client, the tests of controls are classified as reperformance tests. For example, an internal control structure policy and procedure may require employees to match vendors' invoices with purchase orders and receiving reports and then initial the invoices to indicate that the procedure was performed. If the auditor tests the control by examining invoices for initials, the test is an inspection test. If the auditor tests the control by comparing vendors' invoices with purchase orders and receiving reports, the test is a reperformance test. Regardless of whether the auditor tests by inspection or reperformance, the test of control is a test of transactions.

.22 The substantive objective of tests of transactions is accomplished when the auditor examines transaction documentation to determine if dollar errors exist in a balance. For example, if the auditor examines documentation supporting individual charges (debits) to an equipment account to determine that the account balance is fairly stated, the test is classified as a substantive test of transactions.

Tests of Balances

.23 Tests of balances consist of examination of evidential matter directly supporting the ending balance in an account. Tests of balances are substantive tests designed to identify misstatements by a direct test of the ending balance rather than by testing the transactions that make up that balance.

.24 Substantive tests of transactions and tests of balances are interrelated in that each class of transactions affects a related account balance. Since financial statement amounts are the accumulation of transactions, an auditor may test the transactions that enter the account (that is, the debits and credits), the account balance itself (that is, the ending balance), or both.

Linking Audit Procedures to Objectives

.25 To design an audit program, the auditor should select audit procedures that achieve specific audit objectives developed from the five broad assertions for each material account balance in the financial statements.

.26 In selecting audit procedures to achieve the audit objectives developed, an auditor considers the following, according to SAS No. 31:

- (1) The risk of material misstatement of the financial statements including the assessed levels of control risk.
- (2) The expected efficiency and effectiveness of possible audit procedures.
- (3) The nature and materiality of the items being tested.

- (4) The kinds and competence of available evidential matter.
- (5) The nature of the audit objective to be achieved.

The Completeness Assertion

.27 SAS No. 31, paragraph 5 (AU section 326.05), discusses the completeness assertion:

Assertions about completeness deal with whether all transactions and accounts that should be presented in the financial statements are so included. For example, management asserts that all purchases of goods and services are recorded and are included in the financial statements. Similarly, management asserts that notes payable in the balance sheet include all such obligations of the entity.

.28 Substantive tests that provide assurance regarding the completeness assertion are those that provide evidence about whether all transactions have been captured by the client's accounting system and are included in the financial statements.

.29 Gathering evidence about whether all transactions have been recorded is one of the most difficult audit objectives to achieve. Evidence of completeness can be even more difficult to obtain when a client does not have a good internal control structure or has only an informal record-keeping system. Because these two characteristics often apply to small business, satisfying the completeness objective can be difficult for the auditor in a small business engagement.

.30 Completeness relates to whether all items have been included in the financial statements. The completeness assertion is violated if a transaction or account is omitted from the financial statements. If a transaction is merely recorded in the wrong account, there is no violation of the completeness assertion since the transaction is still recorded in the financial statements. In such a situation, the accounts are not incorrect because of a completeness error; rather, they are incorrect because of a classification error. A classification error is a violation of the presentation and disclosure assertion.

.31 For many accounts, the completeness assertion is the most difficult to test. The difficulty arises because the auditor must gather evidence about potential unrecorded items. Sources of audit evidence regarding unrecorded items often are not readily available.

Lack of Evidence

.32 To give an unqualified opinion, the auditor must gather sufficient, competent evidential matter to reduce the level of audit risk to an appropriately low level. SAS No. 31, paragraph 22 (AU section 326.23), provides the following guidance when the auditor is unable to gather sufficient evidence to be satisfied regarding the completeness assertion:

To the extent the auditor remains in substantial doubt about an assertion of material significance, he must refrain from forming an opinion until he has obtained sufficient competent evidential matter to remove such substantial doubt or he must express a qualified opinion or a disclaimer of opinion.

.33 SAS No. 53, The Auditor's Responsibility to Detect and Report Errors and Irregularities, paragraph 8 (AU section 316.08), states:

The auditor should exercise (a) due care in planning, performing and evaluating the results of audit procedures, and (b) the proper degree of professional skepticism to achieve reasonable assurance that material errors or irregularities will be detected. Since the auditor's opinion on the financial statements is based on the concept of reasonable assurance, the auditor is not an insurer and his report does not constitute a guarantee.

.34 SAS No. 31, requires the auditor to obtain evidence concerning inclusion in the financial statements of all types of transactions that the auditor has reason to believe has occurred based on the auditor's knowledge of the client and the industry in which it operates. The excerpt from SAS No. 53 (AU section 316), refers to transactions which the auditor has reason to believe have occurred. Utilizing professional skepticism while performing the audit, this would require the auditor to question transactions which are peculiar to the particular client or industry as well as questioning the lack of specific types of transactions.

.35 The results of a research study on audit problems encountered in small business engagements (Auditing Research Monograph No. 5) indicates that many practitioners sometimes accept client representations as sufficient audit evidence when completeness of recorded transactions cannot be substantiated.¹ Client representations are part of the evidential matter the auditor gathers, but they should not be used as a substitute for the performance of those procedures considered necessary to form an opinion on the financial statements. An auditor cannot rely on client representations alone as sufficient audit evidence to substantiate the completeness of account balances and classes of transactions. When an auditor is unable to form an opinion, even though representations from the client have been received, there is a limitation on the scope of the audit that precludes the auditor from issuing an unqualified opinion (SAS No. 19, Client Representations, paragraph 12 [AU section 333.12]).

Internal Control Structure Policies and Procedures for Completeness

.36 Internal control structure policies and procedures for completeness include policies and procedures that are designed (1) to count or otherwise identify transactions executed by the entity and (2) to provide reasonable assurance that all transactions have been accurately recorded by the accounting system. For example, completeness controls over purchases can include reconciliation of all pre-numbered receiving reports (which would be required for all goods received) to recorded purchases and investigation of receiving reports that are missing, not recorded, or not otherwise accounted for. Many auditors prefer to rely on controls when gathering evidence of completeness since extensive substantive tests for completeness may be more difficult to design than those for other SAS No. 31 assertions.

.37 If the auditor desires to assess control risk at less than the maximum level, tests of controls should be performed to determine that the controls are working as prescribed to make that control risk assessment. Once the control risk is assessed at less than maximum, the auditor may restrict substantive procedures designed to obtain evidential matter regarding the completeness assertion. Taken alone, the assessed level of control risk, ordinarily, is not sufficiently low to eliminate the need to perform any substantive tests. In addition, small businesses often lack segregation of duties, which usually prevents the auditor from assessing control risk at a low level. As a result, it is necessary to perform substantive tests of the completeness assertion.

Substantive Tests

.38 Many substantive tests are of limited usefulness in detecting errors of omission because they are usually applied to recorded amounts. Unrecorded transactions are not included in the account balances or classes of transactions to which the auditor applies substantive tests.

.39 Of all the financial statement assertions, only completeness involves consideration of whether there are material amounts that are not included in the account balance or class of transactions being tested. Therefore, substantive tests of the completeness assertion differ somewhat from substantive tests of other financial statement assertions. The difference is highlighted by the following excerpt from SAS No. 31, paragraph 11 (AU section 326.11):

In designing substantive tests to achieve an objective related to the assertion of existence or occurrence, the auditor selects from items contained in a financial statement amount and searches for relevant evidential matter. On the other hand, in designing procedures to achieve an objective related to the assertion of completeness, the auditor selects from evidential matter indicating that an item should be included in the relevant financial statement amount and investigates whether that item is so included.

.40 Substantive tests can be designed to provide evidential matter to support a conclusion that specific account balances are not misstated by amounts that would cause the financial statements, taken as a whole, to be materially misstated because of unrecorded transactions.

.41 Important sources of evidential matter for completeness include source documents, such as order logs, shipping and receiving documents, and checks. One common test of completeness involves tracing amounts from source documents to amounts recorded in the accounting records. For example, the auditor may vouch selected cash disbursements after the end of the audit period to test the completeness of amounts recorded as accounts payable at the balance sheet date. Other substantive procedures that provide evidence concerning the completeness of financial statement account balances include the following:

- (1) Sales-and-purchases cutoff procedures that include tracing shipping and receiving documents processed after the audit period to accounting records for the proper period.
 - (2) Analytical procedures in which the auditor investigates relationships among data that indicate a financial statement account or balance may be understated. For example, the auditor may obtain evidence that all interest-bearing debt is recorded by examining the relationship between recorded interest expense and the average balance of interest-bearing debt outstanding for the period. Disproportionate relationships based on the auditor's knowledge of interest rates should be investigated. Other examples include: a comparison of investment income to average investments for the period to test whether income earned on investments is recorded; the relationship of average pay times number of employees to payroll expense to substantiate that salaries are recorded; and the relationship of membership fee revenue to the number of members of an organization.
 - (3) Confirmations of balances or transactions designed to identify unrecorded amounts, such as accounts payable confirmations that request the creditor to specify the amount of the client's obligation.
 - (4) Tests of bank reconciliations, including examination of checks clearing the bank after the audit period to identify cash disbursements processed but not recorded or inappropriately recorded in the subsequent period.
 - (5) Reading the minutes of the meetings (of the) board of directors and stockholders and tracing transactions authorized in the minutes to amounts recorded in the accounting records.
 - (6) Overall reconciliations using financial and nonfinancial data, such as "proofs" of cash and sales.

Timing of Audit Tests

.01 During the planning stage of the audit, the auditor should consider when to apply audit tests. In a small business engagement, the auditor typically assesses control risk at the maximum level and does not perform tests of controls. As a result, the question of when to perform audit tests in small business engagements frequently applies only to substantive testing.

.02 The determination of whether substantive tests can or should be applied prior to year-end is usually based on practical considerations. In making that determination, the auditor evaluates the benefits of performing a substantive test prior to year-end against the potential costs of performing such interim work.

.03 For example, the auditor considers whether the benefits of easing pressures caused by a tight year-end reporting deadline outweigh the cost of gathering additional audit evidence necessitated by the use of a less effective test at an interim date.

.04 Substantive tests can be divided into two categories: those that can generally be applied at an interim date and those that may be efficient at an interim date only if certain conditions are met.

Substantive Tests That Can Generally Be Applied at an Interim Date

.05 Some substantive tests can generally be performed through any date prior to year-end and still be efficient and effective tests. Substantive tests that fall into this category are tests that apply to data readily available prior to year-end. Such tests include:

- (1) Substantive tests of transactions to support balance sheet accounts (for example, supporting the details of additions and retirements to a fixed asset account)
- (2) Substantive tests of transactions to support income statement accounts (for example, reviewing all charges over a certain dollar amount to the repairs-and-maintenance account)
- (3) Analytical procedures that include calculations on an interim basis (for example, comparing actual and budgeted expenses for each month)

.06 In each of these tests, the auditor reviews information that is already available at an interim date. Even if these tests were done at year-end, the same information would be needed and the same procedure performed. Thus, these tests generally can be efficient when performed at an interim date.

.07 For example, auditors frequently support those balance sheet accounts with low activity, such as fixed assets, by analyzing the transactions within the account during the year. Consequently, for property, plant, and equipment the auditor can audit the account by analyzing material additions and retirements rather than by testing the ending balance. To support additions the auditor may vouch material additions to invoices. Vouching such invoices may be performed before year-end without reducing the efficiency or effectiveness of the test. At year-end, the auditor still may have to vouch invoices from the interim date to year-end. However, these invoices would have to be vouched regardless of whether the interim work was performed.

Conditional Substantive Tests

.08 Other substantive tests may be efficient when applied prior to year-end only if certain conditions are met. Generally, such substantive tests should only be applied prior to year-end if substantive tests for the remaining period from the interim date to year-end can be restricted.

.09 SAS No. 45, Omnibus Statement on Auditing Standards, describes several factors that should be considered before applying substantive tests to details of balance sheet accounts at interim dates. Those factors relate to the ability to control the additional risk of not detecting errors that may exist at the balance-sheet date when the balance is tested at an interim date. Factors described include:

- (1) Whether the effectiveness of the tests will be impaired because of the auditor's assessment of the control risk
- (2) Whether rapidly changing business conditions or circumstances might predispose management to misstate the financial statements between an interim date and year-end
- (3) Whether the year-end balances of the particular balance sheet accounts are reasonably predictable with respect to amount, relative significance, and composition

.10 In many small business engagements, the cost of bringing the additional risk to an acceptably low level is too great. SAS No. 45 notes that "applying substantive tests . . . at an interim date may not be cost-effective if substantive tests to cover the remaining period cannot be restricted due to the assessment of control risk." In the case of a small business with limited segregation of duties, these substantive tests are generally not performed at an interim date because to do so would be inefficient. For example, in a small business engagement, the auditor generally audits cash, accounts receivable, inventory, and accounts payable at year-end.

AAM Section 5300

Extent of Testing

.01 Once an auditor decides what audit procedures to apply (the nature of the tests) and when to apply them (the timing of the tests), a decision must be made about how many items to apply the procedures to—that is, the extent of testing.

Authoritative Standards

.02 SAS No. 39, Audit Sampling (AU section 350), addresses a variety of issues relating to the auditor's use of sampling in an audit engagement. However, SAS No. 39 does not always apply when the auditor is examining less than 100 percent of a population. There has been some confusion in practice over when SAS No. 39 applies.

When SAS No. 39 Applies

.03 Audit sampling is only one of many tools used by auditors to obtain sufficient, competent evidential matter to support an opinion on financial statements. SAS No. 39 discusses design, selection, and evaluation considerations to be applied by the auditor when using audit sampling. As a general rule, audit sampling can be used—

- (1) In tests of controls in the internal control structure to evaluate operating effectiveness from prescribed internal control structure policies and procedures.
- (2) In substantive tests of details of account balances and classes of transactions.
- (3) In dual-purpose tests that assess control risk and testing whether the monetary amount of a transaction is correct.

.04 The portion of SAS No. 39 pertaining to tests of control applies when sampling techniques are used to assess control risk. The portion pertaining to substantive tests apply when sampling techniques are used to test details of transactions or balances.

.05 SAS No. 39 defines audit sampling as "the application of an audit procedure to less than 100 percent of the items within an account balance or class of transactions for the purpose of evaluating some characteristic of the balance or class." The key to understanding that definition is the intent of the auditor in applying the audit procedure. As noted in SAS No. 39, footnote 1, the auditor may examine less than 100 percent of the items in an account balance or in a class of transactions for reasons other than evaluating a characteristic of the balance or class. For example, the auditor would not be performing audit sampling in the following two situations:

- (1) Tracing several sales transactions through a client's accounting system to gain an understanding of the manner in which transactions are processed. SAS No. 39 would not apply because the auditor's intent is to gain an understanding of the processing of these transactions by the accounting system, not to evaluate a characteristic of all sales transactions processed by the accounting system.
- (2) Examining several large sales invoices that constitute a significant portion of the account balance and leaving the remaining portion of the balance untested or testing the remaining items by other means, such as the application of analytical procedures. Again, SAS No. 39 does not apply because the auditor is treating the account balance as two populations. For the large sales invoices, the auditor is not sampling since the population (all large sales invoices) is being examined. For the small sales invoices, the auditor is not sampling either because there is no examination of the items or because analytical procedures are performed.

.06 In determining whether SAS No. 39 is applicable to circumstances in which an auditor examines less than 100 percent of the items making up an account balance or class of transactions, the auditor should consider the purpose of the test. If the auditor intends to project the test results to the entire account balance or class of transactions for the purpose of evaluating a characteristic of the balance or class, the guidance in SAS No. 39 should be followed. For example, if the auditor intends to examine selected sales invoices to draw a conclusion about whether sales are overstated, audit sampling as described in SAS No. 39 should be applied because the auditor intends to draw a conclusion about all sales. On the other hand, if the auditor selects several large sales invoices for certain audit tests and then applies analytical procedures to the remaining invoices, the auditor is not sampling according to SAS No. 39—the examination of the large items is not intended to lead the auditor to a conclusion about the other items. In that case, any conclusion about whether sales are overstated would be based on the combined results of the test of large sales invoices, inquiry and observations, analytical procedures, and other auditing procedures performed related to overstatement of sales.

.07 The auditor should remember that the way in which the population is defined can determine whether the requirements of SAS No. 39 apply. The auditor might choose to divide a single reporting line on the financial statements into several populations. For example, accounts receivable might be divided into wholesale receivables, retail receivables, and employee receivables. Each of these populations can be tested using a different audit strategy—some using audit sampling and others not. The sampling concepts in SAS No. 39 apply only to populations for which audit sampling is used. Use of audit sampling on one population does not mandate its use on remaining populations.

Authoritative Guidance About the Application of Audit Sampling to Substantive Tests Provided by SAS No. 39

.08 There has been confusion in the accounting profession regarding what requirements are imposed by SAS No. 39. SAS No. 39 added the following seven specific provisions to professional standards.

- (1) The concept that some items exist for which, in the auditor's judgment, acceptance of some sampling risk is not justified, and that these should be examined 100 percent (paragraph 21 [AU section 350.21]). This simply reminds the auditor that some of the items encountered in an examination of financial statements may be so significant individually or may have such a high likelihood of being in error or misstated that all such items should be examined.
- (2) The suggestion that the efficiency of a sample may be improved by separating items subject to sampling into relatively homogeneous groups based on some characteristic (paragraph 22 [AU section 350.22]). This indicates that audit efficiency can sometimes be improved by, for example, stratifying or segregating the items constituting a balance or class of transactions into groups based on individual dollar value or some other characteristic.
- (3) A requirement that the auditor consider tolerable misstatement in planning audit sampling applications in the examination of account balances and classes of transactions (paragraph 18 [AU section 350.18]). This asks the auditor to consider, in the early stages of an audit, how much misstatement the auditor will be able to tolerate for each balance and class of transactions that is sampled, in combination with misstatements in other accounts, and still render an unqualified opinion on the financial statements. SAS No. 39 asks the auditor to consider tolerable misstatement and to recognize that it is one of the factors influencing sample size. There is no requirement to document or quantify tolerable misstatement.
- (4) A requirement that the auditor select a sample that can be expected to be representative of the population (paragraph 24 [AU section 350.24]). Simply put, this means that each item in the population being sampled should have a chance of being selected, not necessarily an equal chance of being selected. This does not mean that the auditor is required to use a random or probability sample.
- (5) A requirement that the auditor consider selected sample items to which the auditor is unable to apply planned audit procedures to determine their effect on the evaluation of the sample (paragraph 25 [AU section 350.25)). For example, sometimes the auditor may not be able to apply planned audit procedures to selected sample items because supporting documentation may be missing. If the auditor's evaluation of the sample results would not be altered by considering those unexamined items to be in error, it is not necessary to examine the items. However, if considering those unexamined items to be misstated would lead to a conclusion that the balance or class is materially in error, the auditor should consider alternative procedures that would provide sufficient evidence to form a conclusion.

- (6) A requirement that the auditor project the misstatement results of the sample to the items from which the sample was selected (paragraph 26 [AU section 350.26]). Since the sample is expected to be representative of the population from which it was selected, misstatements found are also expected to be representative of the population. This merely asks the auditor to measure the likely misstatement in the population from which the sample was drawn and to consider it in reaching conclusions.
- (7) A requirement that the auditor consider, in the aggregate, projected misstatement results for all audit sampling applications and all known misstatements from nonsampling applications when evaluating whether the financial statements taken as a whole may be materially misstated (paragraph 30 [AU section 350.30]).

Documentation Requirements in SAS No. 39

.09 SAS No. 39 contains no new or specific documentation requirements. However, the documentation standards set forth in the Statements on Auditing Standards dealing with documentation apply to audit sampling applications just as they apply to other auditing applications. For example, SAS No. 22, Planning and Supervision (AU section 311), states that the auditor should prepare a written audit program and SAS No. 41, Working Papers (AU section 339), requires the auditor to prepare working papers recording the work that the auditor has done and the conclusions that the auditor has reached concerning significant matters. Thus, with regard to audit sampling applications, the audit program might document such items as the objectives of the sampling application and the audit procedures related to those objectives. Documentation might also include the definition of the population and the sampling unit, including: (1) how the auditor considered completeness of the population, (2) the definition of misstatement, (3) the method of sample selection, (4) a list of misstatements identified in the sample, (5) an evaluation of the result of the sampling application, and (6) conclusions reached by the auditor.

Determining Extent of Testing in a Small Business Without Sampling

.10 Small businesses have certain characteristics that may influence the auditor's decision to use audit sampling. Because of the limited segregation of duties common in small businesses, auditors frequently choose to assess control risk at the maximum level, so generally the auditor of a small business will not have to consider tests of controls, including sampling of documentary evidence, to determine if controls are working as prescribed.

.11 For substantive testing, small businesses frequently have small populations of accounting data in both account balances and classes of transactions. Consequently, sampling may not be as useful since there may not be large populations of data.

.12 As noted previously, SAS No. 39, paragraph 1 (AU section 350.01), defines audit sampling: "The application of an audit procedure to less than 100 percent of the items within an account balance or class of transactions for the purpose of evaluating some characteristic of the balance or class." This definition allows some alternative approaches to sampling to determine the extent of testing in a small business engagement. These alternatives, by not using audit sampling and thus eliminating the requirements of SAS No. 39, may provide a more effective and efficient audit approach for a small business engagement.

.13 These alternative approaches include:

- (1) Procedures applied to 100 percent of a certain group (strata) of transactions or balances.

- (2) Testing unusual items without applying procedures to the remainder of the population.
- (3) Other tests that involve application of procedures to less than 100 percent of the items in the population without drawing a conclusion about the entire account or class of transactions.

.14 As previously noted, the auditor should decide what audit procedures to perform to meet the established audit objectives. Once this decision is made, the auditor needs to determine the extent of testing.

.15 An effective and efficient approach to determining the extent of testing in a small business engagement is shown in flowchart 1. This approach involves four important steps.

Identification of Individual Items to Be Examined

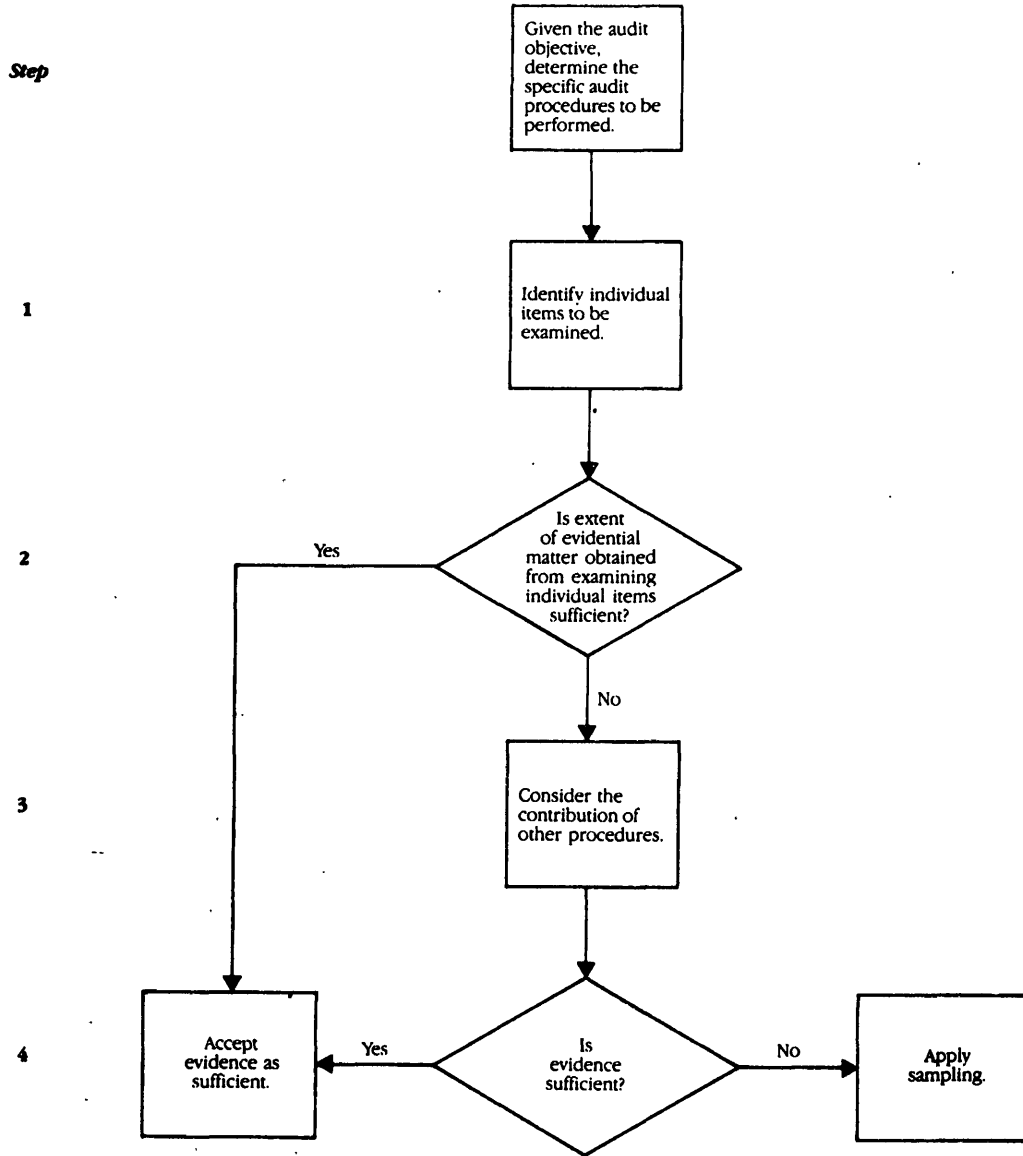

.16 An auditor should apply professional judgment in determining which individual items in an account balance or class of transactions need to be examined. In evaluating individual items, the auditor should consider factors such as size of the item, whether the item is unusual, prior experience with the client, and whether the item involves a related party.

.17 For example, consider the following information for accounts receivable of a small business.

Number of Accounts	Balances	Total Accounts
4	$100,000 or more	$ 625,000
7	$25,000-99,999	375,000
62	$1-24,999	300,000
73		$1,300,000

In this case, if the eleven largest accounts are confirmed by the auditor, most of the accounts receivable balance is supported ($1,000,000 out of $1,300,000, or 77 percent). Also, the auditor may decide to confirm the receivables that have unusual characteristics (for example, receivables with either large credit balances or those that are very delinquent).

Flowchart 1
An Audit Sampling Approach for a Small Business

Is Extent of Evidential Matter Obtained Sufficient?

.18 Some factors which have been identified in SAS 39 in evaluating the sufficiency of evidential matter obtained in tests of details for a particular account balance or class of transactions are:

- (1) The individual importance of the items examined. If the items examined, account for a high percentage of the total population, then the auditor may be reasonably assured that there is an acceptably low risk of an undetected misstatement.
- (2) The nature and cause of misstatements. If during the course of the audit, misstatements are discovered, those misstatements should be evaluated to determine if they are due to differences in principle or in application, are errors or irregularities or are due to misunderstanding of instructions or carelessness.
- (3) Possible relationship of the misstatement to other phases of the audit. If it is determined that the misstatement is an irregularity this would require a broader consideration of the possible implications than would the discovery of an error.
- (4) The characteristics of the sample to the population. The auditor may obtain some knowledge of the types of items in the population if the characteristics in the sample are similar in nature and the same internal control structure policies and procedures are followed for processing the transactions.

.19 If an auditor has examined a substantial number of individual amounts and found no evidence of problems from the other procedures performed—and the remaining population totals less than an amount that would be material to the financial statements—there is often no need to sample the remaining population. Otherwise, the auditor should extend tests to the remaining population unless an alternative approach can be justified.

Consider Contribution of Other Procedures

.20 The auditor should also consider whether other evidence obtained contributes to conclusions regarding the account balance or class of transactions. The auditor often considers the contribution of other procedures at the same time the extent of evidential matter obtained from examining individual items is considered.

.21 The auditor may use a combination of analytical procedures and substantive tests of details to support an opinion on the financial statements. A small business audit does not typically include assessing control risk at less than the maximum level, so the auditor would rely primarily on analytical procedures and other substantive tests of details. In deciding whether other audit procedures make a contribution, the auditor should consider whether they support the audit objectives in the area, whether they indicate potential problems, and whether the evidence is consistent with the previous evidence obtained.

.22 In considering the contribution of other procedures, the auditor should use professional judgment in determining whether an unqualified opinion can be given without performing additional tests in the form of audit sampling.

Evaluation of Sufficiency of Evidence

.23 There are three factors that the auditor may consider in evaluating the sufficiency of audit evidence obtained from examining individual items and contributed by other procedures, and in determining whether the remaining items in the population should be tested.

.24 First, the auditor should consider whether the dollar amount of the remaining population is equal to or greater than an amount that would be material to the financial statements. If the remaining population is less than material, the auditor may decide that no additional testing by sampling is necessary. Second, the auditor should consider the degree of risk involved (that is, how susceptible the account is to misstatement, and whether there have been problems with this area in prior audits). Third, the auditor should consider the sufficiency of all the audit evidence obtained so far (the extent of evidential matter obtained by testing individual items along with the contribution of other procedures).

Planning the Extent of Testing Using Audit Sampling for Substantive Tests

.25 If the auditor decides to use audit sampling, the question becomes whether to sample statistically or nonstatistically. Regardless of the approach used, the auditor should—

- (1) Use a selection method expected to be representative.
- (2) Select a sample size that is adequate, giving consideration to materiality, audit risk, and population characteristics.
- (3) Project misstatement based on sample results.

Selection of a Representative Sample

.26 SAS No. 39 merely requires that the sample be selected in such a way that it is expected to be representative of the population. There is no requirement in SAS No. 39 that random-sampling selection methods be used. Representative sampling methods used by auditors include haphazard sampling, systematic sampling, and random sampling.

.27 Haphazard sampling consists of selecting sampling units without any conscious bias—that is, without any special reason for including or omitting items from the sample. Haphazard sampling does not imply that units can be selected in a careless manner. Rather, a haphazard sample is selected in a manner that can be expected to be representative of the population. For example, if the physical representation of the population is a file cabinet drawer of vouchers, a haphazard sample of all vouchers processed for a year might include any of the vouchers that the auditor pulls from the drawer, regardless of each voucher's size, shape, location, or physical features. The auditor using haphazard selection should avoid distorting the sample by selecting, for example, only unusual or physically small items or by omitting items such as the first or last items in the population.

.28 In selecting a haphazard sample, the auditor may select the sample either with each item having an approximately equal chance of selection (neutral selection) or with the larger dollar-value items being emphasized (value-oriented selection). Both methods are appropriate haphazard-sample selection techniques meeting the requirement of SAS No. 39 that the sample be selected so that it is expected to be representative. In the case of neutral selection, the sample is expected to be representative of the items in the population. In the case of value-oriented selection, the sample is expected to be representative of the dollars in the population. Value-oriented selection using haphazard sampling is a general approximation of sample selection using probability-proportional-to-size sampling (dollar-unit sampling).

.29 Systematic sampling consists of determining a uniform interval and selecting throughout the population one item at each of the uniform intervals from the starting point.

.30 Random-number sampling entails matching random numbers generated by a computer or selected from a random-number table with, for example, document numbers.

.31 Another method that has been used in practice is block sampling. Block sampling consists of selecting groups of sequential items (for example, all vouchers processed on several selected dates). Using block samples is usually inefficient because, for a block sample to be adequate to lead to an audit conclusion, a relatively large number of blocks should be selected. In general, auditors should avoid using block sampling; however, if an auditor decides to use block sampling, special care should be exercised to control sampling risk in designing the sample.

.32 The AICPA Audit and Accounting Guide, Audit Sampling, contains a thorough description of these methods as well as other guidance on statistical and nonstatistical sampling methods.

Determining Sample Size

.33 There is no rule-of-thumb appropriate for the determination of a sample size in all applications. SAS No. 39 imposes no requirement to use quantitative aids, as sample size tables, to determine sample size—nor does SAS No. 39 impose a rule regarding minimum sample size. As before the issuance of SAS No. 39, professional judgment is the key. Auditors often use benchmarks or starting points, such as sample sizes used in prior years or in similar circumstances in other audit engagements, in determining what sample size is appropriate for a given sampling application. If the auditor uses a benchmark, the factors listed in SAS No. 39, paragraph 23 (AU section 350.23), that influence the auditor's judgment in determining sample size for substantive tests should be considered. Those factors include (1) tolerable misstatement, (2) the allowable risk of incorrect acceptance, and (3) the characteristics of the population (for example, the variability of the amounts of items in the population and the expected error in the population). An analysis of the factors that influence sample size for substantive testing is shown in figure 1.

.34 Individual firms or auditors often prefer to set their own rules regarding a benchmark or starting point for determining sample size. SAS No. 39 does not require such policies. It merely alerts the auditor to factors to be considered.

Projection of Error Based on Sample Results

.35 SAS No. 39 requires the auditor to project the results of the sample to the items in the population from which the sample was selected. There are several methods that satisfy the requirement of SAS No. 39 to project the sample error to the population. Two such methods are presented in the AICPA Audit and Accounting Guide, Audit Sampling.

(1) Using ratio of population dollars to sample dollars

$$\text{Amount of sample misstatement} \times \frac{\text{Population dollars}}{\text{Sample dollars}} = \text{Projected population misstatement}$$

If the auditor has identified $1,000 of sample misstatements, sample dollars are $10,000, and population dollars are $100,000, the projected misstatement would be calculated as:

$$$1,000 \times \frac{$100,000}{$10,000} = $10,000 \text{ Projected population misstatement}$$

(2) Using ratio of population items to sample items (rather than dollars)

If the auditor has identified $1,000 of sample misstatements in examining 100 items out of 1,000 items in the population, the calculation in the example would be as follows:

$$$1,000 \times \frac{1,000}{100} = $10,000 \text{ Projected population misstatement}$$

Table 1
Factors Influencing Sample Sizes for a Substantive Test of Details in Sample Planning

Factor	Conditions leading to		Related factor for
	Smaller sample size	Larger sample size	substantive sample planning
a. Assessment of inherent risk.	Low assessed level of inherent risk.	High assessed level of inherent risk.	Allowable risk of incorrect acceptance.
b. Assessment of control risk.	Low assessed level of control risk.	High assessed level of control risk.	Allowable risk of incorrect acceptance.
c. Assessment of risk for other substantive tests related to the same assertion (including analytical procedures and other relevant substantive tests).	Low assessment of risk associated with other relevant substantive tests.	High assessment of risk associated with other relevant substantive tests.	Allowable risk of incorrect acceptance.
d. Measure of tolerable misstatement for a specific account.	Larger measure of tolerable misstatement.	Smaller measure of tolerable misstatement.	Tolerable misstatement.
e. Expected size and frequency of misstatements.	Smaller misstatements or lower frequency.	Larger misstatements or higher frequency.	Assessment of population characteristics.
f. Number of items in the population.	Virtually no effect on sample size unless population is very small.

.36 These two methods produce the same result if the fraction represented by the proportion of population items to sample items is the same as the fraction represented by the proportion of population dollars to sample dollars. In practice, however, those fractions are usually not the same and the two methods do not usually produce the same result. If there is a significant difference in the two ratios, the auditor should consider whether there is reason to expect a relationship between misstatements and the size of the item. If the misstatement relates to the size of the item, the auditor should use the first method. If misstatements are relatively constant for all items, the auditor should select the second method. For example, assume the auditor is examining accounts receivable and notes that some receivables are incorrect. If the observed misstatements are unrelated to the size of the receivable, then the auditor should use the second method (Population Items to Sample Items). Alternatively, if the observed misstatements vary in size depending on the size of the receivable (that is, larger receivables have larger misstatements), the auditor should use the first method (Population Dollars to Sample Dollars).

.37 The auditor should calculate projected misstatement for each individual group or strata sampled. The projected misstatement for such groups should then be added to the actual misstatement found in the items that were examined 100 percent. The total is the projected misstatement for the account or class of transactions.

Statistical and Nonstatistical Sampling

.38 SAS No. 39 does not require that the auditor use either nonstatistical or statistical sampling. SAS No. 39 allows the auditor to use either method based on the auditor's professional judgment, factoring in the relative costs and benefits of each of the approaches.

.39 The Audit and Accounting Guide, Audit Sampling, demonstrates both statistical and nonstatistical sampling approaches to compliance and substantive testing.

Illustrative Audit Program for Corporations

.010 Some audit procedures (for example, tracing the bank balance per the bank reconciliation to the confirmation received from the bank) lend themselves to routine language. To draft this type of routine language for each engagement is time consuming. As a result, some auditors maintain lists of illustrative audit objectives and audit procedures as sources of routine language to save time when developing audit programs for specific engagements. Other auditors may refer to copies of programs from previous or similar engagements for the same purpose. In either case, the source of routine language is a mere manuscript aid subject to the auditor's professional judgment. The auditor's professional judgment must be applied in deciding whether the program includes all of the procedures required in the particular circumstances. The manuscript aid serves solely as a timesaver. Users of manuscript aids must remain alert to needs such as the following:

- Developing steps for required procedures which are not covered by the manuscript aid.
- Excluding extraneous and unnecessary procedures which are covered by the manuscript aid.
- Editing or modifying the manuscript to suit the needs and preferences of the auditor in the circumstances.

.020 Following is a list of illustrative audit objectives and procedures which are numbered merely to organize the materials; the numbers are not intended to imply completeness or a prescribed sequence. This list is merely illustrative. Some auditors may find the items too wordy, others may find them too terse, and still others may prefer a different set of items organized in a different manner. Users of this material must use professional judgment and be alert for the important matters in a particular set of circumstances which may not be covered in the illustrative material.

.021 The illustrative audit program contemplates assessing control risk at less than the maximum level. If the auditor assesses control risk at the maximum level and does not restrict substantive tests, it may be necessary to extend such tests to compensate for assessing control risk at less than the maximum level. See AAM section 3165 for an illustrative audit planning checklist. This program can also be found in the Audit Program Generator (APG). APG is a computerized tool, published by the AICPA, which assists auditors in the preparation and tailoring of audit programs.

.040 II. Internal Control Structure Policies and Procedures

Financial Statement Assertions:

- 1. Existence or occurrence.
- 2. Completeness.
- 3. Rights and obligations.
- 4. Valuation or allocation.
- 5. Presentation and disclosure.

Procedures:

A. Revenues, Receivables, and Receipts—Audit Objectives

- 1. Obtain a sufficient understanding of the design of the relevant policies and procedures that relate to the revenues and receivables account balances and transactions and whether they have been placed in operation. (This will include sales, sales return, sales discounts, etc.)

B. Revenues, Receivables, and Receipts—Assessment of Risk

- 1. Document the understanding of internal control structure (the form and extent of documentation is influenced by the size, complexity, and nature of the internal control structure). (Review AAM section 4000 for sample internal control structure questionnaires.)
- 2. Assess the level of control risk.
 - a. If the control risk is assessed at the maximum level, document this assessment (the basis for the assessment need not be documented) and go to step E. If the control risk is assessed at this level, the auditor will have to expand substantive tests to compensate for this level of control risk. Some examples of substantive tests which may be affected are shown in 3 below.
 - b. If control risk is assessed at less than the maximum level, document the basis for this conclusion and obtain sufficient evidential matter to support this assessed level of control risk. Some examples of evidential matter which can be used to support this assessed level are shown in section C, below—Tests of Controls.
- 3. Based on the assessed level of control risk the timing and extent of substantive tests may be affected in, for example, the following aspects:
 - a. Extent and method of selection of accounts for confirmation.
 - b. Use of positive or negative forms of confirmation request, or a combination of both.
 - c. Timing of confirmation procedures.
 - d. Type of information needed on the confirmation request to facilitate responses.
 - e. Anticipated scope of alternative procedures as to significant accounts which do not respond to confirmation requests.
 - f. Nature and extent of tests to substantiate sales cut-off.
 - g. Nature and extent of tests to substantiate deferral and realization of revenue in such situations as unearned subscription income or unearned finance charges on installment receivables.
 - h. Approach to reviewing and evaluating adequacy of the allowance provided for doubtful accounts (review of allowances for specific accounts, comparison of experience relating to write-offs with sales and receivables, and the client's past and present credit policies and practices, etc.).

C. Revenues, Receivables, and Receipts—Tests of Controls
(Note: Tests of controls directed toward the operating effectiveness of an internal control structure policy or procedure are concerned with how the policy or procedure was applied, the consistency with which it was applied and by whom it was applied. The examples that follow assume that the client has policies and procedures in place which can be either inspected, observed or reperformed.)
1. Obtain the sales journal and for a selected period(s):
a. Trace totals from the sales journal to the general ledger control accounts for revenues, receivables, and such other accounts as salesmen's commissions, provisions, and allowances for product warranties, etc.	_____	_____	_____
b. Trace selected individual items from the sales journal to such other subsidiary records as the salesmen's commissions detail, and entries to charge cost.	_____	_____	_____
c. Reconcile the sales journal to the entries to charge cost of sales and credit inventory.	_____	_____	_____
d. Test the arithmetic accuracy of the footings and crossfootings of the journals.	_____	_____	_____
2. Obtain the cash receipts journal and perform the following on a test basis for a selected period(s):
a. Trace totals to the general ledger for both the cash account and applicable account distributions such as accounts receivable, cash sales, investment income, and additions to notes payable (re: proceeds).	_____	_____	_____
b. Test the arithmetic accuracy of the footings and crossfootings of the cash receipts journal; reconcile total receipts to total deposits per the bank statement.	_____	_____	_____
3. Select . . . entries from the sales journal made at various times throughout the year, obtain the supporting documents, and perform the following tests:
a. Compare the sales invoices with the entries in the sales journal for invoice date, invoice number, identity of customer, dollar amount, and any related items such as sales tax, salesmen's commissions, etc.	_____	_____	_____
b. Trace the sales invoice to the accounts receivable subsidiary (customers) ledger and to evidence of subsequent payment (remittance advice and cash receipts records).	_____	_____	_____
c. If the client charges cost of sales and credits inventory as items are sold, trace detail per the sales invoice to subsidiary records for cost of sales and inventory.	_____	_____	_____
d. Compare the sales invoice for customer identity, description of product, price, quantities, and amounts, to the applicable sales order, and customer's purchase order or job contract. Note evidence of approval of prices and credit as prescribed by management.	_____	_____	_____
e. Compare customer identity, description of product, and quantities per the sales invoice to the documents evidencing shipment; test computations of related freight and insurance charges. Ascertain whether sales are recorded in the proper months.	_____	_____	_____
f. Trace prices, discount, and payment terms to such sources as price lists, job quotations, and job contracts.	_____	_____	_____
g. Test arithmetic accuracy of extensions, footings, and computation of discounts. Note evidence of performance of a clerical check by client staff, where applicable.	_____	_____	_____
4. Review the numerical sequence file of shipping orders for a selected period and account for missing numbers.	_____	_____	_____
5. Select . . . shipping orders prepared at various times during the year.
a. Obtain related sales invoices and trace them to the sales journal.	_____	_____	_____
b. Note whether billings are timely for shipments made.	_____	_____	_____
6. Select . . . credit memorandums issued at various times during the year.	_____	_____	_____

	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
a. Ascertain whether credits were authorized in accordance with prescribed procedures.
b. Review available supporting documentation.
c. Trace the memorandums to the sales journal or other appropriate journal and to the accounts receivable subsidiary ledger.
d. If the credit is granted for return of goods, inspect evidence of return and ascertain whether accounting for the returned goods is consistent with reported condition of the returned goods.
7. From the cash receipts journal, select . . . cash receipts entered during the year; obtain the supporting remittance advices and perform the following:
a. Compare the remittance advices with applicable entries per the cash receipts journal and trace to deposits per the bank statement(s). Ascertain the promptness of the deposit and recording of the entries.	_____	_____	_____
b. Trace detail posting of cash receipts to the accounts receivable, notes receivable, or other appropriate subsidiary ledgers. Ascertain whether cash receipts and related credits to accounts receivable are recorded consistently in the proper period.	_____	_____	_____
D. Revenue, Receivables, and Receipts—Evaluation of Tests of Controls
1. Evaluate whether the assessed level of risk was appropriate based on the results of the tests of control and:
a. Document matters considered and conclusions reached in making the control risk assessment in accordance with firm policy (completion of questionnaires, checklists, preparation of required memoranda, etc.).	_____	_____	_____
b. Based on the control risk assessment, make necessary modifications to applicable sections of the program for substantive tests.	_____	_____	_____
c. Identify and note reportable conditions in internal control structure to be brought to the client's attention (SAS No. 60 [AU section 325]).	_____	_____	_____
d. Identify and note other internal control structure matters to be brought to the client's attention.	_____	_____	_____
E. Purchases, Accounts Payable, and Disbursements—Audit Objectives
1. Obtain a sufficient understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures which relate to classification of costs or expenses and charges to accounts such as property and equipment and prepaid expenses and whether they have been placed in operation.	_____	_____	_____
F. Purchases, Accounts Payable, and Disbursements—Assessment of Risk
1. Document the understanding of the internal control structure (the form and extent of documentation is influenced by the size and complexity and nature of the internal control structure). (Review AAM section 4000 for sample internal control structure questionnaires.)	_____	_____	_____
2. Assess the level of control risk.
a. If the assessment of control risk is at the maximum level, document this assessment (the basis for the assessment need not be documented) and go to step I. If the control risk is assessed at this level, the auditor will have to expand substantive tests to compensate for this level of control risk. Some examples of substantive tests which may be affected are shown in 3 below.
b. If control risk is assessed at less than the maximum level, document the basis for this conclusion and obtain sufficient evidential matter to support this assessed level of control risk. Some examples of evidential matter which can be used to support this assessed level are shown in section G below—Tests of Controls.	_____	_____	_____
3. Based on the assessed level of control risk the timing and extent of substantive tests may be affected in, for example, the following aspects:

	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
a. Extent of analytical procedures and tests of details of transactions and balances regarding classification of costs or expenses and charges to accounts such as property and equipment and prepaid expenses.
b. Extent of testing of details of transactions and balances to substantiate recorded payables and search for unrecorded liabilities as of the balance sheet date.
c. Need for and extent of confirmation of payables from vendors.
d. The number of days following the balance sheet date for which cut-off bank statements should be obtained.
e. The extent to which (if any) tests of cash balances can be performed at interim dates.
f. The extent to which testing of outstanding checks, deposits in transit, and other reconciling items can be restricted.
g. The number of days before and after the balance sheet date which should be used for the testing of bank transfers.
h. Whether all bank transfers during the selected period or only those over a selected dollar amount should be tested.
i. Whether petty cash funds should be counted or confirmed with the custodian as of the balance sheet date.
j. Whether petty cash funds should be counted on a surprise basis.
k. The need for coordination of cash counts with inspection of marketable securities and other investments.

G. Purchases, Accounts Payable, and Disbursements—Tests of Control

(Note: Tests of controls directed toward the operating effectiveness of an internal control structure policy of procedure are concerned with how the policy or procedure was applied, the consistency with which it was applied and by whom it was applied. The examples that follow assume that the client has policies and procedures in place which can be either inspected, observed or reperformed.)

1. Obtain the voucher register and for a selected period(s):
a. Trace postings to other subsidiary registers, if used (for example, property tax register).
b. Test the arithmetic accuracy of the footings and crossfootings of the voucher register for a test period(s).
c. Trace totals to the general ledger for both accounts (vouchers) payable and the various account distributions.
2. Select . . . entries from the voucher register for various months throughout the year, obtain supporting documents and perform and following tests:
a. Compare the entry in the voucher register to the vendor's invoice as to date, payee, description, and amount and test the clerical accuracy of the invoice.
b. Determine that the invoice is supported by (i) an approved purchase order or payment request form and, if applicable, a properly executed purchase requisition and (ii) a signed receiving report or other evidence of receipt of services or goods, or otherwise authorized in accordance with prescribed procedures.
c. Determine that the account distribution in the voucher register is reasonable and in agreement with the purchase order.
d. Determine that purchase discounts have been properly recorded.
e. Determine that freight has been billed in conformity with the purchase order.
f. Examine the cancelled check issued to payment of the invoice for date, payee, amount, signature, and endorsement. Trace to cash disbursements journal.
g. Inspect the voucher for evidence of clerical check, approval of payment as prescribed by management, and appropriate cancellation.

	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
3. Review the numerical sequence files of receiving reports and of purchase orders and determine whether missing numbers are accounted for. (Failure by the client to do so increases the risk that unrecorded liabilities may exist.)	_____	_____	_____
4. Obtain the cash disbursements journal and perform the following on a test basis:
a. Trace postings for a selected period(s) to the general ledger for both the cash accounts and applicable account distributions.	_____	_____	_____
b. Trace postings for a selected period(s) to other applicable subsidiary records, if present (for example, voucher or purchase journal, insurance and property tax registers, plant ledger, etc.).	_____	_____	_____
c. For a selected period(s), foot and crossfoot the cash disbursements journal; reconcile total disbursements to the bank statement.	_____	_____	_____
5. Review the numerical sequence of checks issued for a selected period and account for missing numbers as void or included on the list of outstanding checks. Select . . . checks drawn at various times during the year from the disbursements journal and obtain the paid checks and supporting detail for the disbursements:
a. Examine the paid checks and trace identity of signatures to the list of authorized check signers. (Consider requesting confirmations from banks of authorized check signers.)	_____	_____	_____
b. Compare identity of payee to endorsement; review checks for unusual endorsements and schedule those found for further investigation.	_____	_____	_____
c. Compare paid check and supporting detail to the cash disbursements journal for check number, date drawn, payee, amount, and account distribution.	_____	_____	_____
6. Review the client's bank reconciliations; for a selected period(s) perform the following tests of the bank reconciliation(s) and related listings of outstanding checks:
a. Prove the arithmetic accuracy of the bank reconciliation, including the list of outstanding checks.	_____	_____	_____
b. Trace the bank balance to the bank statement and the book balance to the general ledger account.	_____	_____	_____
c. Trace the paid checks accompanying the bank statement to the cash disbursements journal and outstanding check list for the preceding month-end.	_____	_____	_____
d. Trace deposits per the bank statement to the cash receipts journal and deposits in transit per bank reconciliations of the preceding month-end.	_____	_____	_____
e. Trace deposits in transit to the bank statement for the following month; note whether the time interval between the dates per book and bank appear reasonable.	_____	_____	_____
f. Trace outstanding checks to paid checks which accompany the bank statement for the month(s) subsequent to the reconciliation tested; compare paid checks to the cash disbursements journal and inspect signature(s) and endorsements.	_____	_____	_____
g. Trace other reconciling items to supporting documents and check subsequent disposition.	_____	_____	_____
7. Consider preparing a proof of cash for a test period including the tests described in step 7 above and the following:
a. Trace totals per the cash receipts and disbursements journals to the general ledger cash accounts; identify and obtain explanations for significant and unusual cash entries in the general ledger during the test period. Foot the receipts and disbursements journals and prove the arithmetic between the opening and closing general ledger cash balances for the test period.	_____	_____	_____
b. Prove the arithmetic accuracy of the bank statement by footing the deposits and disbursements, adding the opening balance and deducting the closing balance and ascertaining that the resulting differences equal total disbursements.	_____	_____	_____

	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
c. Account for all deposits per books as deposits per bank or deposits in transit. Determine that deposits are made on a timely basis.	_____	_____	_____
d. Review the numerical sequence of checks issued during the period, accounting for them as paid during the period, included on the list of outstanding checks, or void. Determine that void checks have been properly mutilated.	_____	_____	_____
e. Note: The working paper format for step 8 would present reconciliations of total receipts and disbursements per the cash books to the respective total credits and charges per the bank statement(s) in addition to reconciliations of the bank and book balances at the beginning and end of the selected period. This working paper format may be used to reconcile total activity per the cash books and bank statements for various time periods such as a month or several months.	_____	_____	_____
8. Select the paid check(s) to reimburse the petty cash fund(s) from the cash disbursements journal; examine the voucher and paid check for consistency with the disbursement journal and prescribed approval and account distribution, and perform the following tests:
a. Foot supporting evidence by account distribution and trace total to reimbursement voucher.	_____	_____	_____
b. Trace reimbursement voucher to cash disbursements journal and petty cash book.	_____	_____	_____
c. Examine petty cash vouchers for the following:
(1) Prepared in ink	_____	_____	_____
(2) Approved	_____	_____	_____
(3) Cancelled after reimbursement	_____	_____	_____
(4) Dated	_____	_____	_____
(5) Payee	_____	_____	_____
(6) Amount	_____	_____	_____
(7) Signature	_____	_____	_____
(8) Account charged	_____	_____	_____
(9) Numbered consecutively	_____	_____	_____
(10) Reasonableness of amount and business purpose	_____	_____	_____
H. Purchases, Accounts Payable, and Disbursements—Evaluation of Tests of Controls
1. Evaluate whether the assessed level of risk was appropriate based on the results of the tests of control and:
a. Document matters considered and conclusions reached in making the control risk assessment in accordance with firm policy (completion of questionnaires, checklists, preparation of required memoranda, etc.).	_____	_____	_____
b. Based on the control risk assessment, make necessary modifications to applicable sections of the program for substantive tests.	_____	_____	_____
c. Identify and note reportable conditions in internal control structure to be brought to the client's attention (SAS No. 55 [AU section 319]).	_____	_____	_____
d. Identify and note other internal control structure matters to be brought to the client's attention.	_____	_____	_____
I. Payroll—Audit Objectives
1. Obtain a sufficient understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures which relate to the payroll account balances and transactions and whether they have been placed in operation.	_____	_____	_____
J. Payroll—Assessment of Risk

	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
1. Document the understanding of the internal control structure (the form and extent of documentation is influenced by the size and complexity and nature of the internal control structure). (Review AAM section 4000 for sample internal control structure questionnaires.)	_____	_____	_____
2. Assess the level of control risk.
a. If control risk is assessed at the maximum level, document this conclusion (the basis for the conclusion need not be documented). If the control risk is assessed at this level the auditor will have to expand substantive tests to compensate for this level of risk. Some examples of substantive tests which may be affected are shown in 3 below.	_____	_____	_____
b. If control risk is assessed at less than the maximum level, document the basis for this conclusion and obtain sufficient evidential matter to support this assessed level. Some examples of evidential matter which can be used to support this assessed level are shown in Section K—Tests of Controls.
3. Based on the assessed level of control risk the timing and extent of substantive tests may be affected in, for example, the following aspects:
a. The extent to which analytical procedures are applied to payroll costs and expenses and the extent to which fluctuations are investigated.
b. Whether, and to what extent, gross pay is reconciled to individual earnings records.
c. Whether, and to what extent, a payoff is made.
d. The extent to which labor charges to property and equipment and to inventory are tested.
e. The extent to which payroll taxes withheld and accrued are tested.
K. Payroll—Tests of Controls
(Note: Tests of controls directed toward the operating effectiveness of an internal control structure policy or procedure are concerned with how the policy or procedure was applied, the consistency with which it was applied and by whom it was applied. The examples that follow assume that the client had policies or procedures in place which can be either inspected, observed or reperformed.)
1. Obtain the payroll register for a selected period(s):
a. Trace totals per the register through applicable payroll summaries to the paid check used to transfer cash for net pay to the payroll bank account, and to postings in the general ledger (and cost accounting records, if applicable) for wage and salary cost and expense distributions, and liabilities for payroll withheld and deducted.	_____	_____	_____
b. Trace payroll withheld through applicable subsidiary records to the payroll tax returns. Review the payroll tax returns; examine the check remitting withholdings to the governments (federal and state) and trace to the general ledger liability accounts.	_____	_____	_____
c. Determine whether payroll was approved in accordance with prescribed procedures. (For example, approval might be a signature on a payroll summary and request for the deposit of net pay to the payroll bank account; the signature on the check used to transfer money to the payroll bank account; approvals directly on the registers; etc.)	_____	_____	_____
d. Test the arithmetical accuracy of the footings and crossfootings of the payroll register.	_____	_____	_____
2. Select . . . entries from the payroll register made at various times throughout the year, and perform the following procedures:
a. Examine authorization for rate of pay and evidence in support of payment (for example, time records, piece-work production reports or other documentation which has been approved as prescribed by management) and on a test basis recompute gross pay.	_____	_____	_____

	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
b. Examine proper authorizations for payroll withholdings such as signed W-4 forms and on a test basis recompute amounts withheld.	_____	_____	_____
c. Test arithmetical accuracy of net pay based on gross pay less deductions.	_____	_____	_____
d. Examine cancelled checks noting date, check number, name of payee and comparing net pay to the payroll register, signature to list of authorized check signers, and endorsement to the signed W-4 forms.	_____	_____	_____
e. Examine signed receipt for employees paid by cash, compare amount on the receipt with the payroll register and compare signature to the signed W-4 form.	_____	_____	_____
f. Compare the individual payroll entry on the payroll register to the records used to accumulate year-to-date employee compensation for such purposes as preparation of payroll tax returns and W-2 forms.	_____	_____	_____
3. Authorization of rate of pay. (For example, memoranda in the personnel files evidencing approval as prescribed by management, union contracts, approved rate or salary schedules, authorization of officer's salaries per minutes of board of director's meetings.)	_____	_____	_____
4. Evidence in support of payment. For example:
a. Time cards or records, which have been approved as prescribed, for employees paid on an hourly basis and for employees paid for overtime.	_____	_____	_____
b. Production reports, which have been approved as prescribed, for employees paid on a piece-work basis.	_____	_____	_____
c. Sales and commission registers, and evidence that advance drawings for commission salesmen had been approved as prescribed.	_____	_____	_____
5. Evidence in support of payroll withholdings. (For example, signed W-4 forms or other proper authorization.)	_____	_____	_____
6. Evidence of review of payroll for clerical accuracy, reasonableness, and account distribution, as prescribed by management.	_____	_____	_____
7. Evidence of individual payroll records. (For example, the individual payroll entry to the records used to accumulate year to date employee compensation for such purposes as preparation of payroll, tax returns and W-2 forms.)	_____	_____	_____
8. Consider, based on the preliminary evaluation, whether to:
a. Observe the distribution of payroll checks or cash, including control of unclaimed wages.	_____	_____	_____
b. Physically observe selected employees in the performance of their duties.	_____	_____	_____
L. Payroll—Evaluation of Tests of Controls
1. Evaluate whether the assessed level of risk was appropriate based on the results of the tests of control and:
a. Document matters considered and conclusions reached in making the control risk assessment in accordance with firm policy (completion of questionnaires, checklists, preparation of required memoranda, etc.).	_____	_____	_____
b. Based on the control risk assessment, propose necessary modifications to applicable sections of the program for substantive tests.	_____	_____	_____
c. Identify and note reportable conditions in internal control structure to be brought to the client's attention (SAS No. 55 [AU section 319]).	_____	_____	_____
d. Identify and note other internal control structure matters to be brought to the client's attention.	_____	_____	_____
M. Inventories and Cost of Sales—Audit Objectives
1. The auditor must obtain a sufficient understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures which relate to the inventory costs of sales account balances and transactions and whether they have been placed in operation.	_____	_____	_____
N. Inventories and Cost of Sales—Assessment of Risk

	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
1. Document the understanding of the Internal Control Structure (the form and extent of documentation is influenced by the size, complexity, and nature of the internal control structure). Review AAM section 4000 for sample internal control structure questionnaires.)	_____	_____	_____
2. Assess the level of control risk.
a. If control risk is assessed at the maximum level, document this conclusion (the basis for the conclusion need not be documented). If the control risk is assessed at this level the auditor will have to expand substantive tests to compensate for this level of risk. Some examples of the substantive tests which may be affected are shown in 3 below.	_____	_____	_____
b. If control risk is assessed at less than the maximum level, document the basis for this conclusion and obtain sufficient evidential matter to support this assessed level. Some examples of evidential matter which can be used to support this assessed level are shown in section O—Tests of Controls.
3. Based on the assessed level of control risk the timing and extent of substantive test may be affected in, for example, the following aspects:
a. The extent to which physical inventories are observed and/or perpetual records tested.
b. Whether physical inventories are taken at a preliminary date or at the balance sheet date.
c. The extent to which consigned inventories are confirmed.
d. The extent to which inventory prices are tested to supporting documentation.
e. The extent to which analytical procedures are applied to cost of sales and the extent to which fluctuations are investigated.
f. The extent to which cutoffs are tested.
g. The extent to which inventories are tested for obsolete or excess stock.
O. Inventories and Cost of Sales—Tests of Controls
(Note: Tests of controls directed toward the operating effectiveness of an internal control structure policy or procedure are concerned with how the policy or procedure was applied, the consistency with which it was applied and by whom it was applied. The examples that follow assume that the client has policies and procedures in place which can be either inspected, observed or reperformed.)
1. Tour the client's manufacturing or production facilities with a member of the client's organization familiar with production.
2. Select a sample of transactions for additions and deletions of inventory from such sources as receiving reports, requisitions to place materials into production, and shipping documents.
Note the reference or control number, date, description, quantity and dollar amount for each transaction selected. Trace the transactions to the perpetual inventory record and the cost accounting records, if any, used to determine unit or job costs. Perform similar tests selecting the transactions from the perpetual inventory records and/or cost accounting records and trace the transactions to receiving reports, requisitions and shipping documents.
Note: This testing may be coordinated with tests of controls for purchases, payables, and disbursements, and for revenues, receivables, and receipts.
3. Obtain an analysis of overhead costs charged to inventories and over- or under-absorbed overhead. Review the amounts included in the overhead pool for propriety and perform the following:
a. Determine that overhead costs are being charged to inventory in accordance with an appropriate policy (for example, as a percent of direct labor).	_____	_____	_____
b. Identify disposition of variances, if any, between actual overhead costs incurred and overhead costs applied to production and inventory. Determine that variances are reasonable. Determine that no excessive costs for idle plant are being charged to inventory.	_____	_____	_____
4. If a job order cost system is used, obtain the job order ledger (or tabulation), select a period(s), and perform the following:

	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
a. Trace total costs incurred to the voucher register (or cash disbursements journal), the payroll distribution, and support for overhead applied.	_____	_____	_____
b. Test the footings of the job order ledger by refooting the detail for selected subtotals and refooting the subtotals.	_____	_____	_____
c. Select . . . job orders for jobs in process and completed jobs and perform the following:
(1) Examine authorization for the job order.	_____	_____	_____
(2) Trace materials used on a test basis at various times since inception of the job order to such supporting details are requisitions, purchase orders, receiving reports, and processed invoices. (Consider coordination with compliance tests for purchases.)	_____	_____	_____
(3) Trace direct labor costs to account distributions of the payroll registers and on a test basis to individual time reports or time cards. (Consider coordination with tests of controls for payroll.)	_____	_____	_____
(4) Trace application of overhead costs to analyses used to accumulate overhead costs; test computations and review for reasonableness.	_____	_____	_____
(5) Identify the status of the job (work in process, finished goods, or goods shipped) and trace through necessary summarization to the applicable general ledger account. Obtain explanation for any unreasonable time lag between completion and shipping dates for job orders performed for specific customers.	_____	_____	_____
5. For process cost systems, obtain the cost of production reports for each department within the production process for a selected period(s) and:
a. Trace quantities and dollar amounts for units received for selected departments to the quantities and dollar amounts transferred out per the preceding department in the sequence of production.	_____	_____	_____
b. For each selected department, review the computations of total and unit costs for production transferred to the next department; on a test basis recompute unit costs and ascertain that costs for units lost in process are properly reallocated to surviving units.	_____	_____	_____
c. Trace materials costs charged to the selected departments to appropriate journals and on a test basis to individual requisitions.	_____	_____	_____
d. Trace labor costs incurred to account distribution analyses of the payroll registers.	_____	_____	_____
e. Review the allocation of overhead.	_____	_____	_____
P. Inventories and Cost of Sales—Evaluation of Tests of Controls
1. Evaluate whether the assessed level of risk was appropriate based on the results of the tests of controls and:
a. Document matters considered and conclusions reached in making the control risk assessment in accordance with firm policy (completion of questionnaires, checklists, preparation of required memoranda, etc.).	_____	_____	_____
b. Based on the control risk assessment, make necessary modifications to applicable sections of the program for substantive tests.	_____	_____	_____
c. Identify and note reportable conditions in internal control structure to be brought to the client's attention (SAS No. 55 [AU section 319]).	_____	_____	_____
d. Identify and note other internal control structure matters to be brought to the client's attention.	_____	_____	_____

Financial Statement Assertions:
	1. Existence or occurrence.
	2. Completeness.
	3. Rights and obligations.
	4. Valuation or allocation.
	5. Presentation and disclosure.
Objectives:
	A. Existence of cash—to determine that cash exists and is owned by the entity. (Assertions 1 and 3)
	B. Proper cut-off—To determine that cash balances reflect a proper cut-off of cash receipts and disbursements. (Assertions 1, 2 and 4)
	C. Cash complete—To determine that cash balances as presented in the balance sheet properly reflect all cash and cash items on hand, in transit, or on deposit with third parties. (Assertions 1, 2 and 5)
	D. Proper classification—To determine that cash balances are properly classified in the financial statements and any restrictions on the availability of funds are properly disclosed. (Assertions 3 and 5)
NOTE: The letters preceding each of the above audit objectives serve as identification codes. These codes are presented in the objective column when the audit step accomplished the specific objective. If the letter appears in brackets, i.e., [A], [B], etc., the audit procedure only secondarily accomplishes the objective.
Procedures:
A. Cash in Banks—Substantive Test Procedures
A C D	1. Confirm bank balances (using standard bank confirmation forms) as of the balance sheet date for all banks used during the year.	_____	_____	_____
B [C]	2. Arrange to obtain cut-off bank statements and related paid checks directly from the banks for . . . days following the balance sheet date.	_____	_____	_____
C	3. Obtain or prepare a comparative listing of the component bank account(s) and petty cash fund balances as of the closing and opening balance sheet dates for the year (period) being audited:	_____	_____	_____
	a. Refoot the schedule and trace totals to the financial statement assembly sheets.	_____	_____	_____
	b. Trace closing balances to the general ledger and working papers on bank reconciliations and petty cash funds.	_____	_____	_____
	c. Trace opening balances to the working papers for the preceding audit.	_____	_____	_____
	d. For bank accounts opened and closed during the year (period) trace to authorization in the minutes of the board of directors meetings.	_____	_____	_____
A B C [D]	4. Obtain copies of the bank reconciliations as of the balance sheet date and perform the following:
	a. Trace the book balance to the balance per the general ledger control account and to the working lead schedule or trial balance.	_____	_____	_____
	b. Compare the bank balance to the cut-off bank statement and to the bank confirmation.	_____	_____	_____
	c. Test the clerical accuracy of the reconciliation.	_____	_____	_____
	d. Review and explain unusual reconciling items and trace to appropriate subsequent disposition.	_____	_____	_____

Obj.	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
e. Trace deposits in transit to the cut-off bank statement(s) and ascertain whether the time lag is reasonable.	_____	_____	_____
f. Inspect selected paid checks returned with the cut-off bank statement. Examine the cancellation date on the paid checks to identify any checks that were not recorded in the period under audit. Trace checks drawn prior to the end of the period under audit. Trace checks drawn prior to the end of the period under audit to the list of outstanding checks and to the cash disbursements journal as to date, payee, and amount.	_____	_____	_____
g. List and investigate any unusual checks including checks drawn to "bearer" or "cash."	_____	_____	_____
h. List and investigate any outstanding checks of $___ or over, which did not clear the banks within a reasonable period to ascertain that the disbursements are proper.	_____	_____	_____
A B C [D] 5. Obtain or prepare an analysis of cash in savings banks and cash invested in certificates of deposit including identity of the individual banks and accounts or certificates, interest rates, maturities for certificates of deposit, opening and closing balances, activity during the year, and related interest income accrued and collected; perform the following:
a. Trace book balances and related income to the general ledger control account.	_____	_____	_____
b. Test the footings and crossfootings.	_____	_____	_____
c. Obtain confirmations from the bank of balances at the close of the year (or period), related interest rates and methods of computation, and amounts.	_____	_____	_____
d. Examine passbooks and certificates of deposit, comparing them to bank confirmation; be alert for unrecorded passbook transactions or substituted certificates.	_____	_____	_____
e. Recompute (all or on a test basis) amounts of interest earned and trace amounts to the related income accounts.	_____	_____	_____
B C 6. Prepare a bank transfer schedule providing column headings for the following:
a. Name of disbursing bank	_____	_____	_____
b. Check number or other reference	_____	_____	_____
c. Amount	_____	_____	_____
d. Date disbursed per books	_____	_____	_____
e. Date disbursed per bank	_____	_____	_____
f. Name of receiving bank	_____	_____	_____
g. Date deposited per books	_____	_____	_____
h. Date deposited per bank	_____	_____	_____
i. Perform the following:
(1) Review the cash receipts and disbursements journals, bank statements and related paid checks (including the cut-off bank statements) for the last. . . days before the first. . . days after the closing date of the year (period) and list all bank transfers (or each transfer of $___ or over) on the transfer schedule.	_____	_____	_____
(2) Review the schedule to determine that the deposit and disbursement side of each transfer is recorded in the proper period and that any time lag between book and bank entries appears reasonable. Trace incompletd transfers to the schedule of outstanding checks and/or deposits in transit.	_____	_____	_____

Obj.		Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
B	7. If cut-off statements and related paid checks are not independently received by the auditor directly from the bank, obtain the bank statements and related paid checks for the month following the balance sheet date and perform the following:
	a. Inspect bank statements for erasures and prove arithmetic accuracy of the statements (opening balance plus total deposits and other credits, less the closing balance equals total disbursements and other charges).	_____	_____	_____
	b. Examine paid date of each check and debit memo to ascertain it was paid by the bank during the period covered by the bank statements.	_____	_____	_____
	c. Foot the paid checks and debit memos to ascertain that the total agrees with total charges per the bank statements.	_____	_____	_____
	d. Request banks to confirm the balance at the end of the statement period.	_____	_____	_____
A B C D	8. On receiving the banks' responses to standard bank confirmation requests:
	a. Ascertain that all of the inquiries have been answered. If any inquiries have not been answered, telephone or correspond with the bank to obtain the missing information (in writing).	_____	_____	_____
	b. Trace the bank balances to the copies of applicable bank reconciliations included in the working papers; and accumulate the other responses for use in work on liabilities, commitments and contingencies.	_____	_____	_____
	9. Return the cut-off bank statements with related paid checks and other bank memoranda to the client and obtain a receipt.	_____	_____	_____
	B. Cash Funds and Petty Cash—Substantive Test Procedures
A B C D	1. Identify all funds, including locations, custodians, amounts and purpose and decide:
	a. Which funds are to be counted and, if so, whether to count them simultaneously and whether simultaneous control and inspection of other assets, such as negotiable securities, is also necessary.	_____	_____	_____
	b. Timing of counts to be at a preliminary date, the balance sheet date or subsequent to the balance sheet date.	_____	_____	_____
A B C D	2. Count all undeposited cash, petty cash, unclaimed wages, stamps, etc., in the presence of the custodian (A client's representative should be present at all times during the count.) and:
	a. List currency and coins counted by denomination.	_____	_____	_____
	b. List other items such as stamps, checks, and vouchers; examine vouchers as to date, amount, payer, authorization, signature, account charged, and documentation. Identify large or unusual amounts for possible follow-up.	_____	_____	_____
	c. Trace the fund balance per the count to the balance per the general ledger.	_____	_____	_____
	d. List all unusual items such as postdated checks or vouchers prepared in pencil for discussion with a responsible member of the client's staff.	_____	_____	_____
	e. If petty cash reimbursement checks are included in the fund, trace the amounts to cash book entries dated prior to the count.	_____	_____	_____
	f. Have the custodian sign a receipt at the conclusion of the count.	_____	_____	_____
A B C D	3. Consider whether to confirm funds at branch offices and other locations which are not scheduled for a physical count.	_____	_____	_____

Financial Statement Assertions:
1. Existence or occurrence.
2. Completeness.
3. Rights and obligations.
4. Valuation or allocation.
5. Presentation and disclosure.
Objectives:
A. Existence of investment—To determine that the entity owns the investments as at the balance sheet date and has physical evidence of ownership (securities, receipts from responsible custodians, etc.). (Assertions 1, 2 and 3)
B. Proper Valuation—To determine that the market or other fair value of the investments has been determined as objectively as practicable. (Assertion 4)
C. Income recognition—To determine that related income from the investments is properly recorded and received. (Assertions 2, 3 and 4)
D. Restrictions identified—To determine that restrictions, pledges or liens on any of the investments and related liabilities are identified and adequately disclosed in the financial statements. (Assertions 1, 2, 3 and 5)
E. GAAP conformity—To determine that the financial statement presentation and disclosure of investments and related income (classification, amounts such as cost, market, share of equity) is in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied. (Assertion 5)

.070 V. Trade Accounts and Notes Receivable

Financial Statement Assertions:

1. Existence or occurrence.
2. Completeness.
3. Rights and obligations.
4. Valuation or allocation.
5. Presentation and disclosure.

Objectives:

- A. Existence of accounts receivable—To determine that the receivables that exist, are authentic obligations owed to the entity, contain no significant amounts that should be written off, and that allowances for doubtful accounts are adequate and not excessive. (Assertions 1, 3 and 4)
- B. Proper disclosure—To determine that proper disclosure is made of any pledged, discounted or assigned receivables. (Assertions 3 and 5)
- C. Revenue recognition—To determine that interest on accounts and notes receivable has been properly recorded. (Assertions 2, 3 and 4)
- D. GAAP conformity—To determine that presentation and disclosure of receivables is in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied. (Assertion 5) NOTE: The letters preceding each of the above audit objectives serve as identification codes. [A]	4. Obtain or prepare an aged trial balance of trade receivables as of the date selected for confirmation procedures. Note: In some situations, it may not be practicable to obtain an aged trial balance until after the mailing of confirmation requests, especially when confirmation procedures are coordinated with the client's regular billing cycle. In such instances obtain a trial balance (which may be an annotated tape) of trade receivables as of the confirmation date and perform the following:
	a. Crossfoot the totals and refoot the total column and (selected or all) analysis columns.	_____	_____	_____
	b. Trace total to the general ledger control account and, if as of the balance sheet date, to the lead schedule or working trial balance.	_____	_____	_____
	c. On a test basis, trace entries for individual customers on the aging analysis (totals and aging detail) to the individual accounts in the accounts receivable subsidiary ledger and select individual accounts from the subsidiary ledger and trace totals and aging detail to the aged trial balance. Test footings of individual customer accounts in the subsidiary ledger.	_____	_____	_____
[A]	5. Select individual customer accounts for confirmation procedures from the aged trial balance (or trial balance) and arrange for the preparation of confirmation requests to be mailed under the auditor's control and tested as follows:
	a. Trace individual confirmation requests as to balances and addresses to the subsidiary accounts receivable records. Send confirmations (using envelopes with the auditor's return address) and prepare confirmation statistics.	_____	_____	_____
	b. If client requests that any accounts be excluded from the confirmation process, obtain explanations; consider reviewing such records as correspondence files to substantiate the explanation and perform appropriate alternative procedures with respect to the amounts.	_____	_____	_____
	c. Trace confirmation replies to the trial balance and investigate replies with differences.	_____	_____	_____
	(1) Note: The auditor may prepare a control of exceptions such as copies of replies or a list and arrange for the client's staff to investigate the differences and accumulate supporting documentation for the auditor's review.
	d. Obtain new addresses for all confirmations returned by the post office and remail.	_____	_____	_____
	e. Send second requests for all unanswered positive confirmation requests. Consider sending third requests by registered or certified mail, and performing alternative auditing procedures.	_____	_____	_____
	f. Perform alternative auditing procedures for unanswered positive confirmation requests.	_____	_____	_____
	g. Summarize the results of the confirmation procedures.	_____	_____	_____
	h. Subsequent to the confirmation date, consider reviewing the customer's ledger and remittance advices for cash receipts.	_____	_____	_____

	f. Balance at the end of last period	_____	_____	_____
	g. Principal—additions, payments	_____	_____	_____
	h. Interest income—at the end of the preceding period, earned during the current period, received during the current period, and accrued at the end of the current period.	_____	_____	_____
	(1) Foot schedule and trace totals to applicable general ledger accounts.	_____	_____	_____
	(2) Physically inspect all notes in possession of the client.	_____	_____	_____
	(3) Request positive confirmation of the terms and balances of notes with makers (as of the balance sheet date or other date). Investigate any differences.	_____	_____	_____
	(4) Confirm notes out for collection with collection agents.	_____	_____	_____
	(5) Inspect collateral for notes, if any, making sure that items were not included in corresponding asset accounts of the company.	_____	_____	_____
	(6) Recompute interest income, accrued interest and unearned discount; trace interest collections, if any, to the cash receipts journal. Ascertain that computations of interest and recognition of interest income is in conformity with APB Opinion No. 21 [AC section I69].	_____	_____	_____
A B [D]	9. Ascertain whether any accounts or notes have been assigned, pledged or discounted by reference to minutes, review of agreements, confirmation with banks, etc.	_____	_____	_____
A [D]	10. Ascertain whether any accounts or notes receivable are owed by employees or related parties such as officers, directors, shareholders and affiliates, and:
	a. Obtain an understanding of the business purpose for the transactions which resulted in balances.	_____	_____	_____
	b. Ascertain that transactions were properly authorized.	_____	_____	_____
	c. Obtain positive confirmations of the balances (as of the balance sheet date or some other date) except for intercompany accounts with affiliated companies which the firm is concurrently examining.	_____	_____	_____
	d. Determine if any notes repaid prior to the balance sheet date have since been renewed.	_____	_____	_____
ABC [D]	11. Obtain or prepare an analysis of the allowance for doubtful accounts for the period, and:

Obj.	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
a. Review accounts written off during the period and determine that significant write-offs have been properly authorized. Examine supporting documentation, including correspondence with the customer. (Such correspondence may indicate a broader problem.)	_____	_____	_____
b. Review adequacy of the allowance and related provision (SAS No. 57 [AU section 342]):
(1) Review the aged trial balance as of the balance sheet date with the client's credit manager or other responsible individual to identify accounts of a doubtful nature and allowances required; review correspondence files and other relevant data in support of client's representations. Items reviewed should include past due amounts and significant amounts whether or not past due.	_____	_____	_____
(2) Examine credit reports for delinquent and large accounts.	_____	_____	_____
(3) Review confirmation exceptions for indication of amounts in dispute.	_____	_____	_____
(4) Consider whether accounts receivable that have been connected to notes receivable pose any unusual credit risk.	_____	_____	_____
(5) Analyze and review trends for the following relationships (SAS No. 56 [AU section 329]):
(a) Accounts receivable to credit sales.	_____	_____	_____
(b) Allowance for doubtful accounts to accounts receivable (in total and in relation to past due categories per aging analysis).	_____	_____	_____
(c) Sales to returns and allowances.	_____	_____	_____
(d) Expense provisions for doubtful accounts to net credit sales.	_____	_____	_____
(e) Expense provisions for doubtful accounts to write-offs.	_____	_____	_____
(f) Moving average relationship of write-offs to trade receivables.	_____	_____	_____
(g) Average balance per customer.	_____	_____	_____
(h) Ratio of accounts receivable to current assets.	_____	_____	_____
(i) Ratio of notes receivable to accounts receivable.	_____	_____	_____
(j) Ratio of renewed notes to notes receivable.	_____	_____	_____
c. Identify differences, if any, between the book and tax basis for the allowance for doubtful accounts and related expense provision; summarize information required for determining income taxes currently payable and deferred.	_____	_____	_____
d. Review revenue, receivable and cash receipts transactions after the balance sheet date including discounts taken, credits allowed, and write-offs for unusual transactions (especially concerning past due balances and large accounts).	_____	_____	_____

.080 VI. Inventories

Financial Statement Assertions:

1. Existence of occurrence.
2. Completeness.
3. Rights and obligations.
4. Valuation or allocation.
5. Presentation and disclosure.

Objectives:

- A. Inventory exists—To determine that the inventory exists and is the client's property. (Assertions 1 and 3)
- B. Quantity and condition—To determine that the client has taken reasonable care in determining the physical quantities and identifying the condition (normal, slow moving, obsolete) of its inventory. (Assertions 2 and 4)
- C. Clerical accuracy—To determine that the inventories are summarized and priced with clerical accuracy, and the records have been adjusted to the physical inventory. (Assertions 2 and 4)
- D. GAAP conformity—To determine that inventory classifications and carrying amounts are determined and presented in the financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied (for example, assumptions about the cost flow such as FIFO and LIFO, and lower of cost or market considerations). (Assertion 5)
- E. Encumbrances identified—To determine that any encumbrances such as pledges or liens are identified and adequately disclosed in the financial statements. (Assertions 3, 4 and 5)

NOTE: The letters preceding each of the above audit objectives serve as identification codes. These codes are presented in the objective column when the audit step accomplishes the specific objective. If the letter appears in parenthesis, i.e., [A], [B], etc., the audit procedure only secondarily accomplishes the objective.

Procedures:

A. Substantive Test Procedures—General

1. Were the following items considered:
 - a. Results of the test of controls performed as they relate to inventories, production costs, and cost of sales. (A particularly significant issue is whether accounting controls over inventory transactions and balances are of sufficient strength to allow performing the physical count sooner than the balance sheet date.)
 - b. Timely identification of the locations of the physical inventories and their relative materiality by location.
 - c. Timely review of the client's plans and instructions for taking the physical inventory and accumulating, pricing, and summarizing the results. (For example, will prenumbered tags be used and accounted for? Will counts be independently checked? Who is responsible for summarizing the physical inventory?)
 - d. Whether involvement of specialists is required (SAS No. 11 [AU section 336]).
 - e. Need for audit assistants based on timing of counts at various locations, materiality of the amounts involved, and degree of difficulty of the observation.

Obj.	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
f. Whether any inventory is held by third parties such as public warehouses and consignees and, if so, whether to obtain positive confirmation or because of materiality observe its physical count (SAS No. 1, section 331.14-.15, as amended by SAS No. 43, paragraph 3 [AU section 331.14]).	_____	_____	_____
g. Information to be recorded during observation when noting test counts for subsequent tracing to summarization of the physical inventory.	_____	_____	_____
h. Information to be recorded at time of the physical count for subsequent tracing to other records as a cut-off test.	_____	_____	_____
B. Before Observation of the Physical Inventory
Note: Some auditing procedures may serve to accomplish the purpose of both tests of controls and substantive tests. Certain steps that are listed here as illustrative substantive tests are also listed among illustrative tests of control for inventory. They are listed as tests of controls because they may serve to clarify and confirm the auditor's understanding of the internal control structure for inventory and cost of sales.
1. Tour the client's manufacturing or production facilities with a member of the client's organization familiar with production.	_____	_____	_____
AB [D] 2. On a test basis, select transactions for additions and deletions of inventory from such sources as receiving reports, requisitions to place materials into production, and shipping advices. Note the reference or control number, date, description, quantity, and dollar amount for each transaction selected. Trace the transactions to the perpetual inventory record and the cost accounting records, if any, used to determine unit or job costs. Perform similar tests selecting the transactions from the perpetual inventory records and/or cost accounting records and trace the transactions to receiving reports, requisitions, and shipping advices. a. Note: This test may be coordinated with tests of controls for purchases, payables, and disbursements, and for revenues, receivables, and receipts.	_____	_____	_____
D 3. Obtain an analysis of overhead costs charged to inventories and over- and under-absorbed overhead. Review the amounts included in the overhead pool for propriety and perform the following: a. Determine that overhead costs are being charged to inventory in accordance with an appropriate policy (for example, as a percent of direct labor). b. Identify disposition of variances, if any, between actual overhead costs incurred and overhead costs applied to production and inventory. Determine that variances are reasonable. Determine that no excessive costs for idle plant are being charged to inventory.	_____	_____	_____
C D 4. If a job order cost system is used, obtain the job order ledger (or tabulation), select a period(s) and perform the following: a. Trace total costs incurred to the voucher register (or cash disbursements journal), the payroll distribution, and support for overhead applied. b. Test the footings of the job order ledger by refooting the detail for selected subtotals and refooting the subtotals. c. Select . . . job orders for jobs in process and completed jobs and perform the following: (1) Examine authorization for the job order.	_____	_____	_____

Obj.		Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
	(2) Trace materials used on a test basis at various times since inception of the job order to such supporting details as requisitions, purchase orders, receiving reports, and processed invoices. (Consider coordination with tests of controls for purchases.)	_____	_____	_____
	(3) Trace direct labor costs to account distributions of the payroll registers and on a test basis to individual time reports or time cards. (Consider coordination with tests of controls for payroll.)	_____	_____	_____
	(4) Trace application of overhead costs to analyses used to accumulate overhead costs; test computations and review for reasonableness.	_____	_____	_____
	(5) Identify the status of the job (work in process, finished goods, or goods shipped) and trace through necessary summarization to the applicable general ledger account. Obtain explanation for any unreasonable time lag between completion and shipping dates for job orders performed for specific customers.	_____	_____	_____
CD	5. For process cost systems, obtain the cost of production reports for each department within the production process for a selected period(s) and:
	a. Trace quantities and dollar amounts for units received for selected departments to the quantities and dollar amount transferred out per the preceding department in the sequence of production.	_____	_____	_____
	b. For each selected department, review the computations of total and unit costs for production transferred to the next department; on a test basis recompute unit costs; and ascertain that costs for units lost in process are properly reallocated to surviving units.	_____	_____	_____
	c. Trace material costs charged to the selected departments to appropriate journals and on a test basis to individual requisitions.	_____	_____	_____
	d. Trace labor costs incurred to account distribution analyses of the payroll registers.	_____	_____	_____
	e. Review the allocation of overhead.	_____	_____	_____
	C. Observation of the Physical Inventory
	1. Include the following in advance planning:
	a. Review and evaluate the adequacy of the client's instructions for making the physical count.	_____	_____	_____
	b. Consider attending the client's preparatory meetings for the physical count.	_____	_____	_____
	c. If a specialist is to be involved, review and evaluate the professional qualifications and reputation of the specialist; obtain an understanding of the nature of the work to be performed by the specialist.	_____	_____	_____
	d. Determine the nature and timing of confirmation requests needed from custodians of inventory such as public warehouses and consignees.	_____	_____	_____
	e. Review adequacy of audit staffing arrangements.	_____	_____	_____
	2. Tour the premises on arrival and ascertain whether the inventory arrangement is conducive to a satisfactory count; if the arrangement appears obviously unsatisfactory, recommend rearrangement.	_____	_____	_____
A	3. Ascertain that items on hand which are not the property of the client are clearly identified, segregated, and excluded from the count. Note such references as descriptions, quantities, serial numbers, and shipping advice numbers so that in subsequent tests of inventory summarization the auditor may determine whether the items were excluded from the physical count.	_____	_____	_____

Obj.		Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
[A]	4. Visit the shipping and receiving departments and record the control numbers for the last shipping advice and receiving report prepared prior to the physical count for subsequent tracing to accounting department records. Consider recording a few additional shipping advice and receiving report numbers for subsequent tracing.	_____	_____	_____
A B	5. Ascertain that receiving and shipping departments are informed that receipts after and shipments before the inventory cut-off are to be excluded from the count. Ascertain that receiving reports for items not included in the count are prominently marked "after inventory".	_____	_____	_____
B	6. Observe and note client's provision for segregation and/or clear identification of slow-moving, obsolete and/or damaged items; also be alert for such items among regular stock and if present, bring to the client's attention and note for subsequent consideration.	_____	_____	_____
[A] [B]	7. Inspect representative items of inventory and ascertain the source of their identification, description, status (work in process, finished goods, etc.), basis for count or measure (volume, weight, item tally, etc.). Inquire of both production personnel and personnel involved in the count about such items.	_____	_____	_____
[A] [B]	8. Observe and ascertain that the client's inventory instructions and procedures are being followed.	_____	_____	_____
[A] [B]	9. Ascertain that prenumbered inventory tickets on count sheets are properly controlled including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Accounting for all tickets or sheets issued to count personnel. b. Accounting for return of all tickets or sheets issued including those unused and spoiled as well as those used, at completion of the inventory. c. Note series of tickets or count sheet numbers used and those unused or spoiled for subsequent tracing in tests of summarization. 	_____	_____	_____
[A] [B]	10. Observe the count process and make test counts ascertaining that the identifications, descriptions, and quantities are being properly noted on the inventory tickets or count sheets. If inventory count sheets are used, select some items from the floor, make test counts and trace them to the sheets; select some entries from the sheets (include some items of greater dollar value) and trace them to items on the floor.	_____	_____	_____
[C]	11. Prepare a worksheet listing some items (include some items of greater dollar value) test counted, for subsequent tracing into the client's inventory summarization. Include on the worksheet for each item the inventory ticket or count sheet number, location, description, quantity per client, quantity per your test count, and other particulars essential for subsequent tracing to the inventory summarization. Bring test count differences to the client's attention during the count so they may be resolved in a timely manner. If test count differences are not isolated, it may be necessary to request a recount of a particular area or department.	_____	_____	_____
B C	12. Observe that all items of inventory are clearly ticketed or marked when counted to avoid omissions and/or duplications of counts.	_____	_____	_____
B C	13. Observe whether any items are not being counted and obtain an adequate explanation for their omission.	_____	_____	_____
A B	14. Note any movement of inventory during the count; obtain an explanation for the movement and record details from the applicable authorizing documents for consideration in review of the cut off.	_____	_____	_____
	15. Prepare a memorandum on the observation of the physical inventory including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Comment on the physical inventory arrangements. b. Implementation of the client's inventory instructions. 	_____	_____	_____

D. Summarization—Physical Quantities

Obj.		Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
A B C	1. Relate and trace information, noted during observations of the physical, about control numbers for count tickets or count sheets used, to the client's summarization of the physical for reasonable assurance that only tickets or sheets used for the physical are included in the summarization of quantities. (Summarization of quantities may consist of the quantities per the final priced inventory or an intermediate tabulation of count tickets. In some instances the original count sheets may provide for entry of prices, extensions, and summarization of dollar amounts.)	_____	_____	_____
B C	2. Trace test counts noted during the physical to the client's summarization of quantities.	_____	_____	_____
A	3. Trace quantities confirmed by third parties to the summarization of quantities.	_____	_____	_____
B C	4. Depending on the extent of the work in step 2 above and on the internal control structure over inventory summarization, select quantities for particular items from the summarization and trace them to the count tickets or count sheets; select quantities for particular items from the count tickets or sheets and trace them to the summarization of quantities.	_____	_____	_____
A B C	5. If the client uses perpetual inventory records and the perpetuals are to be used to determine the year-end balance, trace items on a test basis to and from the physical inventory summaries; ascertain that the perpetuals were adjusted to the physical.	_____	_____	_____
B C	6. Trace notes made at the observation for slow moving, obsolete, and/or damaged items to the client's summarization of quantities and determine if they are clearly identified as such.	_____	_____	_____
B C	7. Test the cut-off information noted at the observation of the physical inventory as follows: a. Select the last few shipping advices used before the count to the sales register; determine that the shipments were recorded as sales and charges to cost of sales as the dates shipped. b. Select a few shipping advices used after the count to the sales register and determine that the shipments were recorded as sales in the period after the date of the inventory. c. Select the last few receiving reports used before the count and determine that the related liability was recorded prior to or as of the count date.	_____	_____	_____
B C	8. If the client uses a process cost system, trace selected quantities per the physical inventory to the departmental cost of production reports and determine that quantities have been adjusted to the physical inventory as of the date of the physical count.	_____	_____	_____
E. Prices and Summarization—Monetary Units
D	1. Ascertain the methods followed concerning the flow of costs (FIFO, LIFO, moving average, etc.) and compare with working papers of the preceding year to ascertain whether the methods have been consistently applied.	_____	_____	_____
A	2. For purchased materials and supplies included in inventory, trace unit costs to prices per recent (prior to year end) vendors' invoices and/or to prior year inventory if LIFO is used. Note dates per vendors' invoices and be alert for slow moving items. Ordinarily, sufficient invoices should be inspected to cover the quantities on hand.	_____	_____	_____
C D	3. Trace unit costs per the physical inventory of work-in-process and finished goods, on a test basis, to the cost accounting records and perform the following: a. Obtain and review trial balances or tabulations of detailed components of production costs incurred for the year (period) and compare with the equivalent for the preceding year (period).	_____	_____	_____

Obj.	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
(1) Obtain and note explanations for apparent inconsistencies in classification and significant fluctuations in amounts.	_____	_____	_____
(2) Ascertain that the cost classifications accumulated as production costs and absorbed in inventory are in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.	_____	_____	_____
b. Review computations of unit costs and costs credited against inventory and charged to cost of sales; update findings from tests made prior to observation of the physical count, and consider the need for further detail tests.	_____	_____	_____
c. Review activity in the general ledger control accounts for raw materials, supplies, work in process, and finished goods inventories; investigate any significant unusual entries or fluctuations.	_____	_____	_____
d. Review labor and overhead allocations to inventory and cost of sales; compare to actual labor and overhead costs incurred and ascertain that variances appear reasonable in amount and have been properly accounted for.	_____	_____	_____
C 4. Perform the following tests for clerical accuracy of the summarized physical inventory:
a. Recompute extensions of quantities and unit costs on a test basis.	_____	_____	_____
b. Refoot accumulation of dollar subtotals on a test basis.	_____	_____	_____
c. Refoot dollar subtotals to test total dollar amounts per the physical inventory for the major classifications (i.e., raw materials, work in process, finished goods, supplies, etc.).	_____	_____	_____
d. Review the inventory listings for significant quantities and amounts that appear unusual.	_____	_____	_____
e. Ascertain that the general ledger control accounts have been adjusted to include the findings of the physical inventory. (This may consist of tracing the totals per the physical to an analysis which supports journal entries, or an involved trail of tracing through the cost accounting records to the general ledger control accounts.	_____	_____	_____
C 5. Review the pricing, extensions, and summarization of the physical inventory for items identified as slow-moving, damaged, and/or obsolete to ascertain that the items are carried at dollar amounts in conformity with the lower of cost or market principle:
a. Examine documentation for the proceeds of recent scrap or salvage sales.	_____	_____	_____
b. Review client's criteria for considering items as slow-moving or obsolete and evaluate whether criteria appear reasonable and realistic. (For example, are a certain number of months used to determine when an item becomes slow-moving? Are predetermined quantities used to determine that quantities on hand are not in excess of reasonable economic need?)	_____	_____	_____
F. Lower of Cost or Market Considerations
C 1. On a test basis select items of raw materials and supplies inventory including some items with relatively significant carrying amounts (because of high unit costs or large quantities on hand) and:
a. Compare the inventory unit prices with prices per recent (prior to year end) vendors' invoices, vendor quotations, vendor price lists, and published market quotations.	_____	_____	_____
b. Review purchase records and production requisitions for indications of whether items may be on hand in excess quantities, slow moving, or obsolete.	_____	_____	_____

.090 VII. Property and Equipment, and Related Depreciation

Financial Statement Assertions:

1. Existence or occurrence.
2. Completeness.
3. Rights and obligations.
4. Valuation or allocation.
5. Presentation and disclosure.

Objectives:

- A. Property exists—To determine that the property exists and is owed by the entity. (Assertion 1)
- B. Additions appropriate—To determine that additions to property are authentic, recorded at cost, and properly distinguished from maintenance and repairs expense. (Assertions 1, 2 and 3)
- C. Retirements recorded—To determine that retirements of property together with the proceeds from salvage and related cost to remove are properly recognized. (Assertions 1, 2 and 4)
- D. Depreciation appropriate—To determine that a proper amount of depreciation expense is allocated to the period based on the asset cost, estimated life and salvage, and use of acceptable methods consistently applied, and adequately presented in the financial statements. (Assertions 4 and 5)
- E. Recoverable value—To determine that the net carrying value as presented in the financial statements is expected to be recoverable through the ordinary course of business. (Assertion 4)
- F. Encumbrances identified—To determine that any encumbrances and liens are identified and adequately disclosed in the financial statements. (Assertion 5)
- G. Proper classification—To determine that significant amounts of idle property and equipment are properly stated, classified and described. (Assertion 5)
- H. Proper disclosure—To determine that significant amounts of fully depreciated assets are considered for disclosure. (Assertion 5)

NOTE: The letters preceding each of the above audit procedures serve as identification codes. These codes are presented in the objective column when the audit step accomplishes the specific objective. If the letter appears in brackets, i.e. [A], [B], etc., the audit procedure only secondarily accomplishes the objective.

Procedures:

A. Substantive Test Procedures

1. Obtain (or update) an understanding of the client's policies concerning capitalization of assets and related depreciation methods and depreciable lives.
2. Consider a tour of the client's facilities for new staff assigned to the engagement, or for the entire audit team if significant changes have occurred.
3. Consider the extent to which it may be practicable to perform substantive tests prior to the balance sheet date.
4. Obtain or prepare the following schedules:

_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____

[A] [B]
[C] [D]

- a. Summary schedule of property, plant and equipment, and related depreciation (by major asset classification) including the following:

Financial Statement Assertions:

1. Existence or occurrence.
2. Completeness.
3. Rights and obligations.
4. Valuation or allocation.
5. Presentation and disclosure.

Objectives:

- A. Properly recorded—To determine that reported expenses include costs which are properly allocable to the year (period) and are properly matched with revenues. (Assertions 1, 2 and 4)
- B. Proper recognition—To determine that recognition has been given to all costs and expenses (including losses) which should be recognized. (Assertions 1, 2, 3 and 4)
- C. Taxes properly recorded—To determine that all tax temporary differences have been accounted for. (Assertions 2 and 5)
- D. Proper classification—To determine that extraordinary items have been properly classified and disclosed. (Assertions 1 and 5)
- E. GAAP conformity—To determine that the income statement is prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied. (Assertion 5)
- F. Proper classification—To determine that costs and expenses are appropriately classified and described in the statement of income. (Assertion 5)

NOTE: The letters preceding each of the above audit objectives serve as identification codes. These codes are presented in the objective column when the audit step accomplishes the specific objective. If the letter appears in brackets, i.e., [A], [B], etc., the audit procedure only secondarily accomplishes the objective.

Procedures:

A. Substantive Test Procedures

1. Obtain the cash disbursements journal and for a selected period(s):
 - a. Trace totals from the cash disbursements journal to the general ledger control account for accounts payable, cash, and such other accounts as payroll expense, rent expense, insurance expense, interest expense, etc.
 - b. Trace selected individual items from the cash disbursements journal to such other subsidiary records as the payroll journal, and other entries to charge the expense.
 - c. Test the arithmetic accuracy of the footings and crossfooting of the journals.
2. Obtain or prepare comparative analyses showing amounts for the current and preceding years or periods (and budgeted amounts) and the amounts of changes for the following (SAS No. 56 [AU section 329]):
 - a. Agree amounts to the general ledger and the prior period workpapers.
 - b. Obtain explanations for significant or unusual fluctuations in expense account balances from the preceding year (or period) and from budgeted amounts. (Consider results of work done on accrued expense balances for the current and preceding year.) (SAS No. 56 [AU section 329]).

Illustrative Audit Program for State and Local Governmental Units

	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
.010 I. Engagement Planning and Administration
A. Engagement Planning Procedures
1. Determine that a signed engagement letter covering the current engagement is on file. Read letter for any special provisions.	_____	_____	_____
2. Determine that decision to accept engagement (in case of new client) or to retain client has been documented. (See AAM section 11,300.09.)	_____	_____	_____
3. Review those suggested reference materials shown in AAM section 5610 which are relevant to the scope of the engagement.	_____	_____	_____
4. If this is a new client, ascertain that required communications with predecessor auditors, if any, have been made.	_____	_____	_____
5. Ascertain that all applicable independence rules, particularly those related to performance of accounting services, have been complied with.	_____	_____	_____
6. Obtain an initial, overall understanding of the client's operations:
a. Determine type of local government (home rule status, etc.).	_____	_____	_____
b. Review local laws which pertain to the basic plan or organization and related responsibilities of executive, legislative, and administrative personnel.	_____	_____	_____
c. Determine if the local government is required to have a single audit. Contact the entity's cognizant audit agency to determine if the agency has any concerns or special instructions which need to be taken into consideration in planning and conducting the audit.	_____	_____	_____
d. List local government officials and members of governing body by name and title.	_____	_____	_____
e. Determine types of reports that need to be issued.	_____	_____	_____
f. Determine which governmental units are to be included in the financial statements as a possible component unit of the reporting entity.	_____	_____	_____
g. Determine the extent of involvement of other audit firms and inquire about their independence and professional reputation. Clearly define the responsibilities of each audit firm and which firm is the primary auditor.	_____	_____	_____
h. Review prior year's report and financial statements.	_____	_____	_____
i. Review prior year's working papers and permanent file, particularly the following:
(1) Internal control questionnaires, memoranda, and related summary evaluation notes.	_____	_____	_____
(2) Engagement time summary records.	_____	_____	_____
(3) Adjusting and reclassification entries.	_____	_____	_____
(4) Audit partner memoranda regarding consultations on accounting and auditing matters.	_____	_____	_____
(5) Suggestions for next audit.	_____	_____	_____
j. Review most recent management letter.	_____	_____	_____
k. Discuss engagement with firm personnel previously assigned and/or responsible for nonaudit services.	_____	_____	_____

Audit Approach and Programs

	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
1. Review any interim financial statements or reports for current year or, if such statements or reports have not been prepared, scan general ledger (or trial balance), to determine whether amounts and relationships appear reasonable in comparison to prior year.	_____	_____	_____
m. Review client's correspondence file.	_____	_____	_____
n. Obtain copies or abstract minutes of meetings of the governing body and relevant committees.	_____	_____	_____
o. Obtain copy (including all amendments) of client's current budget. (For all funds legally budgeted.)	_____	_____	_____
p. Obtain current property tax calendar.	_____	_____	_____
q. Obtain a list of all related parties.	_____	_____	_____
r. Make appropriate notations regarding matters to be discussed with audit partner, manager and/or in-charge auditor.	_____	_____	_____
7. Discuss the following (and other appropriate) matters with appropriate client personnel (including the audit committee of the governing body, if applicable):
a. Changes in operations, including pending/planned changes.	_____	_____	_____
b. Changes in accounting methods or accounting principles applied.	_____	_____	_____
c. Changes in key personnel (accounting and data processing).	_____	_____	_____
d. Significant accounting or reporting problems.	_____	_____	_____
e. Principal findings of internal auditor, if applicable.	_____	_____	_____
f. Changes in data processing methods or equipment.	_____	_____	_____
g. Significant legal matters and contingencies.	_____	_____	_____
h. Disposition of prior year's management letter points.	_____	_____	_____
i. Extent of client assistance to be provided.	_____	_____	_____
j. Timing of preliminary audit work, inventory observation, confirmation procedures, final audit work, etc.	_____	_____	_____
k. Due dates for delivery of report(s).	_____	_____	_____
l. Closing information to be prepared (check applicable items):
(1) Closing Journal Entries.	_____	_____	_____
(2) Post Closing Trial Balance.	_____	_____	_____
(3) Audit Adjusting Entries.	_____	_____	_____
(4) Reversing Journal Entries.	_____	_____	_____
m. Other matters (prepare list and attach to program).	_____	_____	_____
n. Make appropriate notations regarding matters to be discussed with audit partner, manager and/or in-charge auditor.	_____	_____	_____
8. Identify material accounting estimates which should be made and recorded by the client.	_____	_____	_____
9. If client has internal audit staff, read reports and related correspondence, and consider possible effect of internal audit work and findings on scope of the examination.	_____	_____	_____
10. Contact oversight agency when applicable, to obtain its perspective on key compliance issues.	_____	_____	_____
11. Obtain an understanding of the effect of laws, regulations, and ordinances having a direct and material effect on the financial statements:
a. Obtain from management a list of such laws and regulations and attach to audit program;	_____	_____	_____

	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
b. Assess the accuracy and completeness of the list provided by management by considering knowledge obtained from prior audits, discussions with client staff and legal counsel, the review of agreements, the review of minutes, inquiries of audit oversight organizations and grantors, and the review of available information obtained from (state) societies of CPAs or associations of governments. Document the assessment for inclusion in the working papers.	_____	_____	_____
12. Obtain an understanding of the client's internal control structure, including those aspects relating to compliance with the laws and regulations identified above, to assist in the planning of the determination of the nature, timing, and extent of tests to be performed: a. Complete questionnaires and prepare flowcharts and/or narrative descriptions relating to the client's policies, procedures, and records relevant to audit planning. Consideration should be given to all three elements of the internal control structure to obtain sufficient knowledge of the design of relevant policies, procedures, and records and to determine whether those policies, procedures, and records have been placed in operation. b. Assess control risk for financial statement assertions, including those relating to compliance with laws and regulations that have a direct and material effect on the financial statements. (1) For each assertion for which control risk is assessed at the maximum, record that conclusion in the working papers. (2) For each assertion for which a lowering of control risk below the maximum is deemed both feasible and efficient: (a) Identify the key policies and procedures which will be subjected to audit tests. (b) Conduct audit tests to determine how the policies or procedures were applied, the consistency with which they were applied, and by whom they were applied. Working papers relating to the tests should describe the policy or procedure tested, test objectives, sample selection, test criteria, test results, and conclusions concerning the effectiveness of policies or procedures. (c) Document conclusions in the working papers concerning the assessed level of control risk for the assertion.	_____	_____	_____
13. Perform appropriate analytical procedures and determine effect on the nature, timing, and extent of other audit procedures. For selected account balances and classes of transactions compare recorded amounts to: a. Prior year amounts, adjusted for known changes from the prior year to the current year; b. Current year amounts to budgeted amounts and/or forecasts; c. Other financial/nonfinancial information for which plausible relationships exist; and d. Prepare notes concerning unusual or unexpected transactions, events, amounts, ratios or trends that might have planning ramifications. Also, explain the dispositions made of such matters.	_____	_____	_____
14. Use the understanding obtained of the internal control structure and consider factors influencing audit risk to evaluate the risk of material misstatements arising from errors, irregularities, and/or illegal acts, including the risk of management misrepresentations. Document conclusions in the working papers and their effects on engagement staffing, extent of supervision, and overall strategy for the conduct and scope of audit.	_____	_____	_____
15. Use the information obtained or developed concerning materiality levels, the internal control structure and the related assessments of control risk, the results of analytical procedures, and the evaluation of other factors impacting on audit risk to plan: a. The nature, timing, and extent of substantive tests;	_____	_____	_____

b. Staffing requirements and related levels of supervision;	_____	_____	_____
c. The overall strategy for the conduct and scope of audit; and	_____	_____	_____
d. Revisions to the audit program.	_____	_____	_____
16. Estimate time required to complete audit procedures and prepare appropriate planning documents (engagement time summary, scheduling and staffing summary, etc.).	_____	_____	_____
17. Hold a planning conference among the audit partner, manager, and/or in-charge auditor (and firm specialists, if deemed necessary), and:
a. Discuss information obtained and results of procedures performed to date based on completion of previous steps.	_____	_____	_____
b. Discuss any special audit risks or client conditions (see AAM section 5600.160) deemed to exist.	_____	_____	_____
c. Ascertain that recent accounting/auditing pronouncements affecting the client have been considered.	_____	_____	_____
d. Develop plans to solve known or anticipated accounting/auditing problems.	_____	_____	_____
e. Determine tentative minimum amount for judging materiality of possible past adjustments.	_____	_____	_____
f. Discuss types/general formats of reports to be rendered and planned delivery dates.	_____	_____	_____
g. Discuss possible rotation of certain auditing procedures as well as areas of audit emphasis.	_____	_____	_____
h. Discuss methods to maximize the amount of interim work to be done.	_____	_____	_____
i. Obtain and record audit partner's approval for:
(1) Technique(s) used to document the internal control structure.	_____	_____	_____
(2) Approach used to audit computer generated records.	_____	_____	_____
(3) Use of statistical sampling methods.	_____	_____	_____
(4) Assessment of audit risk and materiality.	_____	_____	_____
(5) Audit programs.	_____	_____	_____
(6) Time budget and staffing of engagement.	_____	_____	_____
(7) Prepare a memorandum summarizing the results of the planning conference, particularly all decisions reached.	_____	_____	_____
18. Prepare listing of schedules/analyses to be prepared by client (and working paper set-ups, if considered necessary) and deliver to client.	_____	_____	_____
B. Engagement Administration and Supervision Procedures
1. Communicate results of planning conference with client and firm personnel to staff persons assigned to the engagement, particularly matters relating to portions of engagement assigned to them.	_____	_____	_____
2. Schedule timing of work to be done on priority basis, assigning top priorities to more significant or problem areas of engagement.	_____	_____	_____
3. Obtain all documents and information required for the permanent file and remove superseded materials for filing in a closed file.	_____	_____	_____
4. Accumulate all points to be included in management letter (or to be communicated verbally to the client).	_____	_____	_____
5. Ascertain that all steps in all audit programs have been considered and/or completed, and that any modifications to the programs resulting from changed conditions have been properly approved.	_____	_____	_____
6. Review financial statements and notes and determine:
a. The adequacy of evidence gathered in response to unusual or unexpected balances identified during audit planning or audit performance;	_____	_____	_____
b. The existence of unusual or unexpected balances or relationships which have not been evaluated; and	_____	_____	_____

	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
c. Whether additional evidential matter is necessary to explain unexpected differences between reported amounts and expected amounts or relationships.	_____	_____	_____
7. Ascertain that working papers include appropriate memoranda regarding consultations with firm specialists, outside consultations and resolution of differences of opinion, if any, among firm personnel regarding accounting/auditing matters.	_____	_____	_____
8. Determining that differences between the accounting records and the evidential matter gathered during the application of audit procedures have been evaluated as to both their quantitative and qualitative effects.	_____	_____	_____
9. In the event that illegal acts were noted, determine that:
a. An understanding of the nature of the acts was obtained;	_____	_____	_____
b. The circumstances in which it occurred were evaluated;	_____	_____	_____
c. The effect of the illegal act on the financial statements was considered; and	_____	_____	_____
d. Such other auditing procedures as indicated necessary in the circumstances were performed.	_____	_____	_____
10. Determine that required communications, proper as to form and content, have been made as necessary to disclose irregularities and/or illegal acts noted during the course of the audit.	_____	_____	_____
11. Determine whether the audit work performed indicates that a substantial doubt exists with regard to the local government's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time. If a substantial doubt exists:
a. Obtain information about management's plans, assess the expected effectiveness of the plans, and gather evidence to evaluate pertinent provisions of those plans and to support audit conclusions concerning the local government's ability or inability to continue as a going concern;	_____	_____	_____
b. Evaluate the adequacy of the related financial statement disclosures; and	_____	_____	_____
c. Consider the effects on the audit report.	_____	_____	_____
12. Determine that the following matters have been communicated to those who have responsibility for oversight of the financial reporting process (for example, the audit committee) and include documentation to that effect in the working papers:
a. Management's responsibility for the internal control structure and the financial statements;	_____	_____	_____
b. Audit conducted in accordance with GAAS or GAGAS provides reasonable, rather than absolute, assurance;	_____	_____	_____
c. Significant accounting policy implementation or change;	_____	_____	_____
d. Significant unusual transactions and the methods used to account for them;	_____	_____	_____
e. Significant accounting policies relating to controversial or emerging areas for which there is no authoritative guidance or consensus;	_____	_____	_____
f. Processes used by management to develop sensitive accounting estimates and the basis for audit conclusions concerning the reasonableness of those estimates;	_____	_____	_____

.060 VI. Inventories
A. Audit Objectives
Provide evidential matter that is sufficient and competent to provide reasonable assurance that:
1. Inventories physically exist, in good condition, unencumbered by pledge or lien;
2. The accounts reflect all inventory held for use in the ordinary course of operations;
3. Estimates of realizable value are carefully and consistently made.
B. Evaluation of Internal Control Structure
1. Review the documentation and conclusions resulting from the steps taken to understand and test the internal control structure policies, procedures, and records relevant to planning the audit of inventories.
2. Consider the understanding obtained of the internal control structure, the assessed level of control risk (together with assessment of inherent risk), and the acceptable level of detection risk to determine the nature, timing, and extent of substantive tests.
3. Revise the audit program, as appropriate, following the consideration of the internal control structure and related audit risks.
C. Analytical Procedures
1. Review the planning procedures applicable to analytical procedures performed on inventory and consider the result of the procedures in determining the nature, timing, and extent of other audit procedures.
2. Revise the audit program, as appropriate, following the consideration of the results of the analytical procedures.
3. If analytical procedures are used for substantive testing purposes, document the basis for the expected relationship, the results of the comparison of the recorded amount to the expectation, and the results of the evaluation of unexpected differences between the recorded amount and the expectation.
D. Other Auditing Procedures
1. Observe the taking of physical inventories and make test counts of various items. Record quantities and description of items selected for test counts.
2. Ascertain that obsolete and damaged stock has been appropriately identified and valued.
3. Ascertain that proper cut-off is effected with respect to purchases and consumption.
4. Trace quantities and descriptions per audit test counts into final inventory sheets.
5. Test clerical accuracy of inventories as to:
a. Unit prices.
b. Extensions.
c. Footings.
d. Totals to summaries.
6. Select several items included in the inventory test counts and verify prices to determine that the inventory has been consistently valued.
7. Compare the dollar amount of inventory by fund to prior periods and investigate any material fluctuations considering the reasonableness of the change in relation to the expected change.
8. Compute and analyze turnover rates for significant inventories.
9. Make appropriate notations regarding matters to be discussed with audit partner, manager, and/or in-charge auditor.

.080 VIII. Financing (Including Equity Accounts)

A. Audit Objectives

Provide evidential matter that is sufficient and competent to provide reasonable assurance that:

1. All financing commitments, both those connected with recorded financing (assets pledged, covenants, etc.) and those related to prospective or "off-balance-sheet" financing, are identified;
2. All financing commitments are properly authorized and classified;
3. All transactions are recorded in the correct period and amount;
4. The cost of financing is accounted for in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles;
5. All changes in equity accounts are properly recorded;
6. All equity balances are properly reported;
7. If the government is subject to the rebate calculation and refund requirements of the Tax Reform Act of 1986 (TRA):
 - a. The calculation has been made as required by law or regulation (annually on the anniversary date of each bond issue);
 - b. The refund has been made as required (30 days after the end of the fifth rebate year); and
 - c. Liabilities resulting from a failure to comply with rebate and refund requirements have been properly recorded as a loss contingency and/or disclosure has been made in the notes of potential loss of tax-exempt status.

B. Evaluation of Internal Control Structure

1. Review the documentation and conclusions resulting from the steps taken to understand and test the internal control structure policies, procedures, and records relevant to planning the audit of financing. _____
2. Consider the understanding obtained of the internal control structure, the assessed level of control risk (together with assessment of inherent risk), and the acceptable level of detection risk to determine the nature, timing, and extent of substantive tests. _____
3. Revise the audit program, as appropriate, following the consideration of the internal control structure and related audit risks. _____

C. Analytical Procedures

1. Review the planning procedures applicable to analytical procedures performed on financing and consider the result of the procedures in determining the nature, timing, and extent of other audit procedures. _____
2. Revise the audit program, as appropriate, following consideration of the results of the analytical procedures. _____
3. A. Audit Objectives
To provide evidential matter that is sufficient and competent to provide reasonable assurance that:
1. The local government has provided reasonable coverage for risks of loss;
2. Self-insurance programs are properly authorized and in accordance with state and local laws and regulations;
3. Self-insurance program premiums have been properly assessed and recorded in benefiting funds;
4. Claims payable for self-insurance programs have been properly determined and recorded;
5. Claims paid by self-insurance programs conform to self-insurance program requirements; and
6. Note disclosures relative to the local government's insurance programs provide adequate disclosure.
B. Evaluation of Internal Control Structure
1. Review the documentation and conclusions resulting from the steps taken to understand and test the internal control structure policies, procedures, and records relevant to planning the audit of insurance.	_____	_____	_____
2. Consider the understanding obtained of the internal control structure, the assessed level of control risk (together with assessment of inherent risk), and the acceptable level of detection risk to determine the nature, timing, and extent of substantive tests.	_____	_____	_____
3. Revise the audit program, as appropriate, following the consideration of the internal control structure and related risks.	_____	_____	_____
C. Analytical Procedures
1. Review the planning procedures applicable to analytical procedures performed on cash and consider the result of the procedures in determining the nature, timing, and extent of other audit procedures.	_____	_____	_____
2. Revise the audit program, as appropriate, following consideration of the results of the analytical procedures.	_____	_____	_____

.100 X. Pension Trust Funds

A. Audit Objectives

To provide evidential matter that is sufficient and competent to provide reasonable assurance that:

1. The physical evidences of ownership of investments reported in the financial statements (stock certificates, bonds, notes, etc.) are on hand or held in custody or safekeeping by others for account of the client's pension trust funds;
2. Adequate disclosure has been made of the pledging of any investments, and credit risks are properly disclosed as required by GASB Statement No. 3;
3. Investments and the related income are properly valued, allocated, classified, and described in the financial statements;
4. Insurance contracts and accounts established to fund employee benefits are appropriately reported in the financial statements;
5. The amounts received or due the plan have been determined in accordance with plan requirements and recorded and reported in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, including the establishment of an appropriate valuation allowance;
6. Benefit payment amounts conform to plan provisions;
7. Financial statement representations are consistent with actuarial findings.
8. Applicable accounting principles have been consistently applied; and,
9. Required supplementary information has been presented in accordance with guidelines established for its presentation and measurement.

B. Audit Planning

1. Discuss the following with pension plan administrators, trustees, or other appropriate client officials:
 - a. Covered employees, retirees, etc.
 - b. Participating employers.
 - c. Types of plans (defined benefit or defined contribution plan).
 - d. Date of latest actuarial review or update, name and address of actuary, and GASB Statement No. 5 actuarial requirements.
 - e. Names and titles of client contact personnel and their respective responsibilities for the plan or plans.
 - f. Funding of plan (self-insured, insured, or split-funded).
 - g. Custody of investments.
 - h. Responsibility for plan administration and location of accounting records and participant's data.
 - i. The extent that records are automated and whether the local government or an outside EDP service processes plan data.
 - j. Citations of applicable statutes and rules.
 - k. The nature and extent of special reporting requirements, if any, and related audit requirements.
 - l. The extent of involvement, if any, of specialists, consultants, internal auditors, and other independent auditors.
 - m. Basis upon which financial statements are prepared (whether NCGA Statement 1, NCGA Statement 6, FASB Statement No. 34, or other).
 - n. Significant changes in accounting principles, plan provisions, actuarial methods, etc.
 - o. Significant contracts, litigation, or contingencies.

p. If assets are held by a trustee, the nature of the trustee arrangement ("directed trust" or "discretionary trust").	_____	_____	_____
q. The extent to which component unit pension plans exist.	_____	_____	_____
2. Read the pension plan instruments, including amendments, to determine how the plan works, its funding, participating employers and employees, basis for determining benefits, etc.	_____	_____	_____
3. Read state and local statutes and rules authorizing the retirement programs and note all pertinent laws of potential material impact (for example, provisions specifying legal investment types).	_____	_____	_____
4. Read agreements with trustees, investment advisers, and insurance companies.	_____	_____	_____
5. Obtain and review relevant policy and procedure manuals and flowcharts.	_____	_____	_____
6. Read the prior year's annual report and current and prior year filings with regulatory agencies.	_____	_____	_____
7. Obtain from other independent auditors special purpose reports on the internal accounting control structure of service organizations which were responsible for executing, recording, and/or processing financial or finance-related data (for example, trustees with significant responsibility for pension plans or investment administration).	_____	_____	_____
8. Read reports from actuaries, trustees, insurance companies, other independent auditors, and internal auditors.	_____	_____	_____
9. Coordinate audit progress with trustees, actuaries, services centers, employers, other independent auditors, internal auditors, and others, as necessary.	_____	_____	_____
10. Consider integration of pension trust fund audit procedures with those specified for other segments (for example, use of payroll sample item to test participant records).	_____	_____	_____
C. Evaluation of Internal Control Structure
1. Review the documentation and conclusions resulting from the steps taken to understand and test the internal control structure policies, procedures, and records relevant to planning the audit of the pension trust fund and related areas.	_____	_____	_____
2. Consider the understanding obtained of the internal control structure, the assessed level of control risk (together with assessment of inherent risk), and the acceptable level of detection risk to determine the nature, timing, and extent of substantive tests.	_____	_____	_____
3. Revise the audit program, as appropriate, following the consideration of the internal control structure and related audit risks.	_____	_____	_____
D. Analytical Procedures
1. Review the planning procedures applicable to analytical procedures performed on the pension trust funds and related areas and consider the result of the procedures in determining the nature, timing, and extent of other audit procedures.	_____	_____	_____
2. Revise the audit program, as appropriate, following consideration of the results of the analytical procedures.	_____	_____	_____
3. If analytical procedures are used for substantive testing purposes, document the basis for the expected relationship, the results of the comparison of the recorded amount to the expectation, and the results of the evaluation of unexpected differences between the recorded amount and the expectation.	_____	_____	_____
E. Other Auditing Procedures—Investments
1. Obtain an analysis of changes in investments during the period.	_____	_____	_____
2. Obtain evidence (by confirmation or physical count) concerning the existence and ownership of the investments.	_____	_____	_____
3. Obtain information concerning any liens, pledges, or other security interests by reviewing minutes, agreements, and confirmations.	_____	_____	_____
4. For assets held by a trustee, obtain and review information concerning the trustee's responsibility and financial capability.	_____	_____	_____

	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
5. Reconcile amounts confirmed or counted to recorded accountability.	_____	_____	_____
6. Test investment transactions for proper authorization, legality, proper recording as to dates, amounts, quantities, descriptions, and computation and allocation of gains and losses.	_____	_____	_____
7. Determine that income accruing from investments has been properly allocated and recorded.	_____	_____	_____
8. Obtain market values at balance sheet date and investigate significant differences from recorded values to determine if any write-downs are necessary.	_____	_____	_____
9. Review GASB Statement No. 3 disclosures.	_____	_____	_____
10. Perform such procedures as necessary to satisfy audit objectives concerning plan investments administered by trustees. (Note: It may be necessary to perform auditing procedures at the trustee's offices.) The extent of the trustee's responsibility for investment decisions, the physical location of available records, and the extent to which relevant reports of other independent auditors are available.	_____	_____	_____
11. For plan assets held by an insurance company:
a. Read the contracts between the contract holder and the insurance company.	_____	_____	_____
b. Confirm with the insurance company:
(1) Contributions or premium payments.	_____	_____	_____
(2) Interest, dividends, refunds, credits, and changes in value and whether such amounts have been charged or credited during the year on an estimated or actual basis.	_____	_____	_____
(3) The contract value or the fair value of the funds at the plan's year-end and the basis for determining such values.	_____	_____	_____
(4) The amount of insurance company fees and other expenses.	_____	_____	_____
(5) Annuity purchases or benefits paid.	_____	_____	_____
(6) Transfers between funds or accounts.	_____	_____	_____
c. Reconcile the confirmed balances and transactions with amounts recorded and reported by the client.	_____	_____	_____
d. Where it appears that records must be evaluated at the insurance company to satisfy audit objectives, consider requesting special purpose reports from the insurance company's independent auditors or internal auditors.	_____	_____	_____
e. Evaluate compliance with contract terms.	_____	_____	_____
f. Evaluate reasonableness of amounts credited to the contracts.	_____	_____	_____
g. Evaluate the sufficiency of related note disclosures.	_____	_____	_____
F. Other Auditing Procedures—Contributions and Related Receivables
1. Obtain a list of participating employers (for multi-employer plans) and test its completeness by comparing the list to appropriate plan documents, statutory requirements, etc.	_____	_____	_____
2. Obtain a schedule showing contributions received or receivable sorted by employer and compare to the list of participating employers.	_____	_____	_____
3. Test contribution reports for arithmetic accuracy, use of the proper contribution rates, the use of the proper payroll or salary base amount, and proper posting to cash receipt records and bank statements or trustee reports.	_____	_____	_____
4. Test posting from the employer contribution reports to participant records and from participant records to contribution reports.	_____	_____	_____
5. Reconcile contributions received to the plan's cash receipt records and bank statements or trustee records.	_____	_____	_____
6. Confirm directly with contributors amounts contributed and receivable.	_____	_____	_____
7. Review accruals for conformance with generally accepted accounting principles.	_____	_____	_____
8. Evaluate the reasonableness of the plan's allowance for doubtful accounts.	_____	_____	_____

	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
9. Compare contribution rates used to those recommended by the plan's actuary and those required by statute or rule.	_____	_____	_____
10. Consider the results of the auditing procedures applied to participant data and their effect, if any, on the amounts recorded as contributions and contributions receivable.	_____	_____	_____
11. Review note disclosures relative to pension plan contributions and related receivables.	_____	_____	_____
G. Other Auditing Procedures—Benefit Payments and Payables
1. For selected participants or beneficiaries receiving benefit payments:
a. Evaluate file documentation supporting eligibility and authorizing payments.	_____	_____	_____
b. Recompute benefit payment amounts and compare to actual payments.	_____	_____	_____
c. Examine cancelled check as to amount, date, signatures, and endorsements.	_____	_____	_____
d. Verify proper posting to cash disbursement, participant, and general ledger records.	_____	_____	_____
2. For a sample of cancelled benefit payment checks, compare payee, amount, date, signatures, and endorsements to related file documentation authorizing the payment and verify proper posting to cash disbursement, participant, and general ledger records.	_____	_____	_____
3. Evaluate the continued eligibility of participants or beneficiaries to whom payments have been made over an unusually long period of time.	_____	_____	_____
4. Investigate benefit payment checks which have been outstanding for a long period of time.	_____	_____	_____
5. Confirm benefit payments with selected participants or beneficiaries and compare confirmation signatures with related file documentation.	_____	_____	_____
6. Evaluate benefit payment accruals for conformance with generally accepted accounting principles.	_____	_____	_____
H. Other Auditing Procedures—Participants' Data and Plan Objectives
1. By reviewing pertinent sections of the pension plan instrument, statutes, or rules, identify participant data which should be tested because of its use in determining vesting, eligibility and/or benefit amounts (for example, demographic data, payroll data, benefit levels and options, etc.).	_____	_____	_____
2. For selected participants, verify relevant participant file data by comparing it to corroborative employer records (such as payrolls, employee earnings records, personnel files, etc.).	_____	_____	_____
3. For selected employees, trace payroll data to participant file data.	_____	_____	_____
4. Confirm participant file data with participants.	_____	_____	_____
5. Review tests, if any, by the plan administrator of data submitted by employees (for multi-employer plans).	_____	_____	_____
6. Consider obtaining a special report from employer auditors concerning the application of procedures similar to those described above.	_____	_____	_____
7. With regard to actuarial valuations of defined benefit plans:
a. Obtain information concerning the professional qualifications and reputation of the actuarial firm.	_____	_____	_____
b. Obtain an understanding of the actuary's methods and assumptions.	_____	_____	_____
c. Submit an inquiry to the actuary concerning:
(1) Whether the actuarial valuation considers all pertinent provisions of the plan, including any changes to the plan or other events affecting the actuarial calculations.	_____	_____	_____
(2) Relationships between the actuary and the plan or an employer which may impair the actuary's objectivity.	_____	_____	_____
(3) Aggregate and selected individual participant data amounts used in the actuarial valuations.	_____	_____	_____

	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
(4) Whether the actuary has reviewed the relevant portions of the financial statements and agrees with such information as presented.	_____	_____	_____
d. Verify the accuracy and completeness of the participant data used in the actuarial valuations.	_____	_____	_____
8. With respect to defined contribution plans:
a. Verify that allocations of income or loss, investment appreciation or depreciation, administrative expenses, and forfeitures have been made in accordance with plan provisions.	_____	_____	_____
b. Employer contributions have been properly allocated.	_____	_____	_____
c. Employee contributions have been credited to the proper participant account and investment medium.	_____	_____	_____
d. Verify that the sum of individual accounts reconciles with total net assets available for benefits.	_____	_____	_____
I. Review Procedures—Required Supplementary Information
1. With regard to 10-year historical trend information, inquire of management as to the methods used in preparing the information including:
a. Whether it is measured and presented in accordance with the guidelines of GASB.	_____	_____	_____
b. Whether the methods of measurement or presentation have been changed from those of the prior period and the reasons for such changes.	_____	_____	_____
c. Any significant assumptions or interpretations underlying the measurement or presentation.	_____	_____	_____
2. Compare the information for consistency with:
a. Management’s responses to the above inquiries.	_____	_____	_____
b. Audited financial statements.	_____	_____	_____
c. Other knowledge obtained during the examination of the financial statements.	_____	_____	_____
3. Consider whether representations on required supplementary information should be included in the request for the management representation letter.	_____	_____	_____
4. Make additional inquiries if application of the above procedures indicates that the 10-year historical trend information may not be measured or presented in accordance with GASB guidelines.	_____	_____	_____
J. Overall Conclusions
In our opinion, we have obtained sufficient and competent evidential matter to provide reasonable assurance that:
1. The physical evidences of ownership of investments reported in the financial statements (stock certificates, bonds, notes, etc.) are on hand or held in custody or safekeeping by others for account of the client’s pension trust funds;	_____	_____	_____
2. Investments and the related income are properly valued, allocated, classified and described in the financial statements;	_____	_____	_____
3. Adequate disclosure has been made of the pledging of any investments and credit risks are properly disclosed as required by GASB Statement No. 3;	_____	_____	_____
4. Insurance contracts and accounts established to fund employee benefits are appropriately reported in the financial statements;	_____	_____	_____
5. The amounts received or due the plan have been determined in accordance with plan requirements and recorded and reported in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, including the establishment of an appropriate valuation allowance;	_____	_____	_____
6. Benefit payment amounts conform to plan provisions;	_____	_____	_____
7. Financial statement representations are consistent with actuarial findings;	_____	_____	_____
8. Applicable accounting principles have been consistently applied; and,	_____	_____	_____

.110 XI. Financial Reporting
A. Audit Objectives
To provide evidential matter that is sufficient and competent to provide reasonable assurance that:
1. The financial statements being reported upon are fairly stated in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied, including all required disclosures, or in accordance with another comprehensive basis of accounting; and,
2. Our report on the examination is appropriately worded, and in conformity with generally accepted auditing standards.
B. Evaluation of Internal Control Structure.
1. Review the documentation and conclusions resulting from the steps taken to understand and test the internal control structure policies, procedures, and records relevant to planning the audit of financial reporting.	_____	_____	_____
2. Consider the understanding obtained of the internal control structure, the assessed level of control risk (together with assessment of inherent risk), and the acceptable level of detection risk to determine the nature, timing, and extent of substantive tests.	_____	_____	_____
3. Revise the audit program, as appropriate, following the consideration of the internal control structure and related audit risks.	_____	_____	_____
C. Analytical Procedures
1. Review the planning procedures applicable to analytical procedures performed on the financial statements and consider the result of the procedures in determining the nature, timing, and extent of other audit procedures.	_____	_____	_____
2. Revise the audit program, as appropriate, following consideration of the results of the analytical procedures.	_____	_____	_____
3. If analytical procedures are used for substantive testing purposes, document the basis for the expected relationship, the results of the comparison of the recorded amount to the expectation, and the results of the evaluation of unexpected differences between the recorded amount and the expectation.	_____	_____	_____
D. Other Auditing Procedures
1. Obtain, or prepare a trial balance of general ledger accounts for the working papers, trace balances to general ledger and foot the trial balance.	_____	_____	_____
2. Review client's year-end adjusting journal entries for unusual items.	_____	_____	_____
3. Post all adjusting and reclassification journal entries that have properly been approved by firm and client personnel to the working papers, and give a copy of appropriate entries to the client for posting to the books.	_____	_____	_____
4. Prepare a summary of past adjustments which reflects the net effect of such adjustments on individual fund assets, liabilities, equity, revenue, and expenditures. Determine if the overall effect on each fund type is material and state conclusion in summary. Consider the need for additional audit adjustments.	_____	_____	_____
5. Extend trial balances and compare to amounts reported in the financial statements.	_____	_____	_____
6. Obtain confirmation letters from the client's attorneys.	_____	_____	_____
a. Ascertain that replies received are complete and that all contingencies mentioned are considered for possible disclosure in the financial statements.	_____	_____	_____
b. Obtain opinion as to compliance of the budget adoption and approval process.	_____	_____	_____
7. Obtain signed minutes representation letter and ascertain that we have received and reviewed all minutes listed in the letter.	_____	_____	_____
8. Obtain signed management representation letter. Include appropriate reference to budget adoption.	_____	_____	_____

.140 XIV Federal Financial Assistance (Single Audit)
A. Audit Objectives
[Note: If an entity receives Federal financial assistance and is not required to comply with the Single Audit Act of 1984 (e.g., the assistance is less than $25,000), the auditor shall determine that the financial statements are not materially misstated.]
1. The objectives of auditing procedures for Federal financial assistance are to provide evidential matter that is sufficient and competent to provide reasonable assurance that:
a. The financial statements of the entity are presented in conformity with GAAP.
b. The local government's internal control structure provides reasonable assurance that it is managing Federal and state financial assistance programs in compliance with applicable laws and regulations; and
c. The local government has complied with laws and regulations that have a material effect upon the financial statements and upon each major Federal and state financial assistance program.
B. Audit Planning
1. Review applicable laws, regulations, and other references governing performance of the single audit of Federal financial assistance (see AAM section 5610).	_____	_____	_____
2. Obtain a copy of the local government's single audit report from the preceding year. Make note of Federal programs, reportable conditions relating to the internal control structure, and any compliance findings. Obtain copy of client's corrective action plan. Determine if any state programs are to be included in the audit scope.	_____	_____	_____
3. Review and discuss with responsible local government officials the procedures used to administer Federal programs.	_____	_____	_____
4. Obtain a schedule of Federal financial assistance, reconcile the schedule to the general accounting records, and:
a. Determine that the schedule includes all types of Federal assistance as defined by OMB Circular A-128, paragraph 5b.	_____	_____	_____
b. Determine that the schedule reports Federal "programs," not individual grants. Federal programs are defined in the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance .	_____	_____	_____
c. Determine the entity for Single Audit purposes.	_____	_____	_____
d. Contact the cognizant agency and receive input on important areas.	_____	_____	_____
e. Determine that the schedule shows at a minimum:
(1) The program title and the CFDA number for each program, unless the program is not included in the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance . Those programs not included in the Catalog should be shown as other Federal assistance;	_____	_____	_____
(2) Total expenditures for each Federal program by grantor, department, or agency; and,	_____	_____	_____
(3) Total Federal financial assistance expenditures.	_____	_____	_____
5. Rank the federal programs in descending order by expenditure amount, determine the major program threshold, and identify the major Federal financial assistance programs.	_____	_____	_____
6. For testing internal controls, if expenditures for all major programs do not exceed 50 percent of total Federal financial assistance program expenditures, or if the local government has no major Federal financial assistance programs, select the largest nonmajor programs until at least 50 percent of total Federal financial assistance expenditures are included.	_____	_____	_____

	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
7. Review samples selected during tests of the internal control structure and the examination of the general purpose financial statements and identify nonmajor program transactions included therein.	_____	_____	_____
8. Prepare a working paper showing the Federal programs to be subjected to further auditing procedures and indicate the nature of the procedures to be applied to each program. Such procedures may include:
a. "Preliminary review" of the internal control structure (required for all Federal programs: however, see PCIE Position Statement No. 3 that provides for the rotation of nonmajor programs on a 3-year basis for purposes of the preliminary review of the internal control structure).	_____	_____	_____
b. Internal control structure evaluation (required for all major programs and nonmajor programs selected pursuant to the "50 percent rule").	_____	_____	_____
c. Program compliance review (required for all major programs to determine compliance with laws and regulations material in effect to the respective program).	_____	_____	_____
d. Transaction compliance review (required for nonmajor program transaction selected for testing as a result of the audit of the general purpose financial statements).	_____	_____	_____
9. Obtain a copy of grant agreements for those Federal and state programs selected for testing from the permanent file. Review the documents for unusual provisions, budgets, or other items of significance. Also, locate other sources of compliance information, for example the OMB Compliance Supplement for Single Audits of State and Local Governments , specific program regulations, the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance , etc.	_____	_____	_____
10. While testing internal controls, obtain an understanding of the possible effects on each major program (and the largest nonmajor programs if the 50% rule must be applied) of applicable program laws, rules, and regulations. Document this understanding by listing those laws, rules, and regulations which may have a material effect on the allowability of program expenditures in the event of substantial noncompliance. These laws, rules, and regulations shall be considered during the evaluations of administrative controls, tests of transactions, and other procedures deemed necessary (e.g., tests of compliance with matching requirements).	_____	_____	_____
11. Determine if the local government has an indirect cost allocation plan.	_____	_____	_____
12. Determine the extent to which grantor funds have been disbursed to subrecipients.	_____	_____	_____
13. Discuss with client the format desired for the Single Audit Report (included in the CAFR, separate Single Audit Report, etc.).	_____	_____	_____
C. Internal Control Evaluation
1. Identify the significant categories of internal accounting and administrative controls.	_____	_____	_____
2. For major and nonmajor programs perform a review sufficient to obtain a basic understanding of the control environment and the flow of transactions. (Note: For purposes of the "preliminary review" of controls, PCIE Position Statement No. 3 provides for the rotation of nonmajor programs on a 3-year cycle, with approval.)	_____	_____	_____
3. For major programs (and selected nonmajor programs selected pursuant to the "50% rule"), perform an evaluation of the internal control structure as a part of the examination of the client's financial statements and as a part of the review of the controls used in administering Federal assistance programs. (Note: the following steps are applicable for the evaluation of internal controls (accounting) as a part of the examination of the general purpose financial statements and for the evaluation of internal controls (accounting and administrative) used in the administration of Federal assistance programs).	_____	_____	_____

	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
a. Obtain an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation for the control environment, accounting system, and control procedures. This includes, but is not limited to, a review of the client's procedures for Federal assistance regarding:
(1) Budgeting;	_____	_____	_____
(2) Expenditure preaudit and approval;	_____	_____	_____
(3) Segregation of duties;	_____	_____	_____
(4) Adequate safeguarding of access to and use of assets;	_____	_____	_____
(5) Processing of subgrants of Federal funds;	_____	_____	_____
(6) The requesting of reimbursement or advance of Federal funds; and,	_____	_____	_____
(7) The need to evaluate the employee's understanding of the requirements that they administer.	_____	_____	_____
b. Document the understanding of the internal control structure obtained. The review of internal controls should include administrative controls as well as accounting controls. Administrative controls include the following general and specific categories:
General Requirements:
(1) Political activity;	_____	_____	_____
(2) Davis-Bacon Act;	_____	_____	_____
(3) Civil rights;	_____	_____	_____
(4) Cash management;	_____	_____	_____
(5) Relocation assistance and real property acquisition; and,	_____	_____	_____
(6) Federal financial reports.	_____	_____	_____
Specific Requirements
(1) Types of services;	_____	_____	_____
(2) Eligibility;	_____	_____	_____
(3) Matching, level of effort;	_____	_____	_____
(4) Reporting;	_____	_____	_____
(5) Cost allocation;	_____	_____	_____
(6) Special requirements, if any;	_____	_____	_____
(7) Monitoring subrecipients.	_____	_____	_____
c. Perform tests of controls, assess the audit risk, and revise audit programs as appropriate. Document the basis for conclusions.	_____	_____	_____
D. Compliance Procedures
1. For selected grants determine that grant receipts were properly recorded, classified, and that requests were according to grant conditions.	_____	_____	_____
a. Review receipts issued shortly before and shortly after year-end to determine that all cash collected has been recorded in the proper period.	_____	_____	_____
2. For each major Federal and state program, select a sample of expenditures charged and determine whether:
a. Expenditures appeared reasonable and necessary for the program;	_____	_____	_____
b. Expenditures were for allowable charges under the terms of the program and were adequately documented;	_____	_____	_____
c. Expenditures were properly authorized and recorded as to program, account, amount, and period;	_____	_____	_____
d. Records document that those who received services or benefits were eligible to receive them.	_____	_____	_____
e. Expenditures were in accordance with the provisions of OMB Compliance Supplement for Single Audits of State and Local Governments applicable to the particular transaction;	_____	_____	_____

	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
f. Expenditures were in accordance with the provisions of OMB Circular A-87 applicable to the particular transaction;	_____	_____	_____
g. Expenditures were in accordance with the provisions of OMB Circular A-102 and the "Common Rule" to the extent applicable to the grantor and the particular transaction; and,	_____	_____	_____
h. Expenditures were in accordance with applicable State laws and program requirements.	_____	_____	_____
3. For each major Federal and state program and selected nonmajor Federal programs, as applicable, perform general (see supplemental audit program on general requirements) and specific compliance tests. List programs and attach separate work programs based on the Compliance Supplement for Single Audits of State and Local Governments or other sources (grants agreements, etc.):
a. _____	_____	_____	_____
b. _____	_____	_____	_____
c. _____	_____	_____	_____
d. _____	_____	_____	_____
4. Determine that nonmajor program transactions tested as part of examination of the general purpose financial statements comply with the laws and regulations applicable to each of the respective transactions. This includes the following:
a. Expenditures appeared reasonable and necessary for the program;	_____	_____	_____
b. Expenditures were for allowable charges under the terms of the program and were adequately documented;	_____	_____	_____
c. Expenditures were properly authorized and recorded as to account, amount, and period.	_____	_____	_____
d. Records document that those who received services or benefits were eligible to receive them; and,	_____	_____	_____
e. Amounts were determined according to Circular A-87 and Circular A-102.	_____	_____	_____
E. Test of Subrecipient Compliance
If the local government does not have any subrecipients (receiving at least $25,000) of Federal programs, check here _____ and omit the balance of this section.
1. Determine all subrecipients receiving at least $25,000.	_____	_____	_____
2. Review the local government's controls established to monitor that the subrecipient spent the Federal funds in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. (OMB Circulars A-87, A-102, and A-128)	_____	_____	_____
3. Determine that the local government monitored the subrecipient audit reports (the subrecipient must meet the audit requirements of A-110 or A-128) and has taken any corrective measures required.	_____	_____	_____
F. Test of Indirect Cost Allocation Plan
If the local government does not have an indirect cost plan, check here _____ and omit the balance of this section.
1. Determine that the local government's indirect cost plan contains the following: basis for establishment of an indirect cost rate, list of costs to be allocated and method used for allocation.	_____	_____	_____
2. Review reasonableness of indirect cost allocations by reference to approved plans and to prior period amounts and the budget.	_____	_____	_____
3. If indirect costs are charged to Federal programs, test the costs to determine that they were accumulated in conformity with the indirect cost allocation plan.	_____	_____	_____
4. Determine that the indirect costs included in the pool were not charged directly to other projects.	_____	_____	_____
5. Determine that the indirect cost rate used is the same as the rate in the local government's cost allocation plan.	_____	_____	_____

	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
6. Examine rate determination workpapers for inclusion of indirect costs.	_____	_____	_____
7. Examine cost reimbursement requests for indirect cost inclusion.	_____	_____	_____
8. Compare overhead allocation by department or agency to prior year and current budget.	_____	_____	_____
9. For other procedures to be performed, as appropriate, see ASL GU 22.31 and OMB Questions and Answers to OMB Circular A-128.	_____	_____	_____
10. Determine that statistical data included in the bases are current and reasonable.	_____	_____	_____
11. Determine that allocated costs were included within the period under audit.	_____	_____	_____
G. Property
1. For selected property items acquired with grant funds, review the property records to determine that the records include a description of the property, a serial number or other identification number, the source of the property, who holds title, acquisition date, cost, location, use and condition of the property, percentage of Federal participation, and disposition data.	_____	_____	_____
2. Determine that title to the property has been properly recorded in the government's name.	_____	_____	_____
3. Determine that a physical inventory of property is taken and reconciled to the property records at least once every two years.	_____	_____	_____
4. For property dispositions, review supporting documentation to ascertain the conditions of disposition and determine that any required settlements have been made with the awarding agency.	_____	_____	_____
H. Reporting on Federal and State Financial Assistance
1. Determine that we have requested confirmation letters from the client's attorneys which included references to the Single Audit. Ascertain that replies are complete and that all contingencies are mentioned, as well as any issues of noncompliance with Federal regulations, are considered for possible disclosure in the Single Audit Report.	_____	_____	_____
2. Determine that the signed management representation letter(s) contained references regarding Single Audit representations.	_____	_____	_____
3. If the local government requests that the Report on Federal and State Financial Assistance be included with their annual financial statements, prepare the Independent Auditor's Report on such financial statements and determine that it is appropriately worded and dated.	_____	_____	_____
4. If the client requests a separate Report on Federal and State (if applicable) Financial Assistance, prepare the Independent Auditor's Report on the schedule of Federal and State financial assistance.	_____	_____	_____
5. Prepare the schedule of findings and questioned costs. (See AAM section 5600.180.)	_____	_____	_____
6. Prepare the Independent Auditor's Report on the internal control structure based on an evaluation made as part of the examination of the general purpose financial statements.	_____	_____	_____
7. Prepare the Independent Auditor's Report on internal accounting and administrative controls required by the Single Audit Act.	_____	_____	_____
8. Prepare the Independent Auditor's Report on compliance with laws and regulations that may have a material effect on the general purpose financial statements.	_____	_____	_____
9. Prepare the Independent Auditor's Report on compliance required by the Single Audit Act.	_____	_____	_____
10. Review the Single Audit Report draft with appropriate local government officials.	_____	_____	_____
I. Overall Conclusion
In our opinion, we have obtained sufficient and competent evidential matter to provide reasonable assurance that:

	Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
1. The local government has complied with laws and regulations that may have a material effect upon the financial statements;
2. That the local government's internal control structure provides reasonable assurance that the local government is managing its Federal programs according to the applicable laws and regulations;
3. That the local government has complied with laws and regulations that may have a material effect upon each major Federal and state program, according to generally accepted auditing standards, the provisions of Government Auditing Standards , promulgated by the U.S. General Accounting Office, as they pertain to financial audits, the Single Audit Act of 1984 (Pub. Law No. 95-502) the provisions of the Office of Management and Budget's Circular No. A-128, Audits of State and Local Governments , and the Compliance Supplement for Single Audits of State and Local Governments . .150 XV. Financial Assistance Supplemental NOTE: Completion of this audit program is required only when the local government has major programs as defined under the Single Audit Act.

A. Test of General Compliance Requirements

1. Political Activity

Compliance Requirement—Federal funds cannot be used for partisan political activity of any kind by any person or organization involved in the administration of federally-assisted programs. (Hatch Act (5 U.S.C. 1501-1508) and Intergovernmental Personnel Act of 1970 as amended by Title 42 U.S.C., Section 4728).

Auditing Procedures

- a. Review the Government's system for monitoring whether FFA is used for political activity and evaluate for adequacy.
- b. Test the expenditures and related records for indications of lobbying activities, publications, or other materials intended for influencing legislation or similar type costs.
- c. Test the personnel and payroll records, and identify persons whose responsibilities or activities include political activity.
- d. Test whether the above costs, if any exist, are charged directly or indirectly, to federally-assisted programs.

2. Davis-Bacon Act

Compliance Requirement—When required by the Federal grant program legislation, all laborers and mechanics employed by contractors or subcontractors to work on construction projects financed by Federal assistance must be paid wages not less than those established for the locality of the project by the Secretary of Labor. (46 Stat 1494, Mar. 3, 1931, Chap. 411, 40 U.S.C. 276A-276A-5)

Auditing Procedures

- a. Identify the programs involving construction activities.
- b. Review selected construction contracts and subcontracts and determine whether they contain provisions requiring the payment of "prevailing" wages.
- c. Review the Government's system for monitoring applicable contractors and subcontractors with respect to payment of prevailing wages and evaluate for adequacy.
- d. Review the monitoring system for contracts for selected programs and determine whether there is adherence to prescribed procedures.
- e. For Governments who have not developed a system, or whose system is not operating effectively:
 - (1) Obtain the "local" DOL wage determination from the recipient, the architect/engineer (A/E) managing the project, or DOL.
 - (2) Obtain payroll lists from contractors and review wages paid.
 - (3) Determine whether wages paid conform to the prevailing wages.

3. Civil Rights

Compliance Requirement—No person shall, on the grounds of race, color, national origin, age, or handicap, be excluded from participation in or be subjected to discrimination in any program or activity funded, in whole or in part, by Federal funds. Discrimination on the basis of sex or religion is also prohibited in some Federal programs. (age—42 U.S.C. 6101 et seq.; Race—42 U.S.C. 2000d; Handicap—29 U.S.C. 784.)

a. Determine whether the governmental unit has announced a formal policy of nondiscrimination.	_____	_____	_____
b. For recipients employing 15 or more persons, ascertain whether a person has been designated to oversee civil rights compliance.	_____	_____	_____
c. Ascertain from the grant agreement(s) whether any of the programs contain prohibitions against discrimination on the basis of sex or religion.	_____	_____	_____
d. Ascertain the number of complaints filed with Federal, state or local agencies responsible for ensuring nondiscrimination in government programs during the fiscal year; the status of unresolved complaints or completed investigations.	_____	_____	_____
e. Ascertain whether any of the programs contain prohibitions against discrimination in employment; for those programs (1) review the annual report filed with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), if any and (2) ascertain the number of complaints and investigations, and the actions taken on resolved complaints or completed investigations.
(1) Review the annual report, if any, filed with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC).
(2) Ascertain the number of complaints and investigations, and the actions taken on resolved complaints or completed investigations.
f. Determine whether facilities financed by Federal funds that are required to be located in a nondiscriminatory manner are so located.	_____	_____	_____
g. Obtain representation and/or attorney letters to determine if any civil rights suits have been adjudicated or are pending.	_____	_____	_____
4. Cash Management
Compliance Requirement —Grantee financial management systems shall include procedures to minimize the time elapsed between the transfer of funds from the U.S. Treasury and disbursement of funds by the Grantee.
Advances made by primary recipients to secondary recipients shall conform substantially to the same standards of timing and amount as apply to advances by Federal agencies to primary recipient organizations.
(OMB Circular A-102; Intergovernmental Cooperation Act of 1968, P.L. 90-577 (sec. 403), as amended by P.L. 96-470, Title I, Section 10-1(b)).
Auditing Procedures
a. Review the Government's cash forecasting process and evaluate for adequacy.	_____	_____	_____
b. Review the Government's system for requesting Federal funds and evaluate whether it is adequate to keep Federal cash disbursements limited to the Government's immediate needs.	_____	_____	_____
c. For selected grant programs, determine dates and amounts for selected advances, drawdowns, and other receipts of Federal funds and compare to the dates the funds were disbursed or checks were presented to the banks for payment.	_____	_____	_____
d. For the same programs, evaluate the size of the balances in relation to the program's needs.	_____	_____	_____
e. Review the Government's system for monitoring advances and payment requests by secondary recipients. Evaluate whether the system is sufficient to limit payments to amounts needed to meet immediate cash requirements.	_____	_____	_____
f. Review selected cash reports submitted by subrecipients and determine if the reports show large amounts of excess cash. If they do, ascertain why.	_____	_____	_____
5. Relocation Assistance and Real Property Acquisition
Compliance Requirements
Federal aid programs may require the acquisition of property by a public agency and subsequent displacement of households and businesses.

Done By	Date	W/P Ref.
------------	------	-------------

Grant recipients acquiring property in the administration of Federal aid must carry out certain actions systematically, e.g., have property appraised in presence of owner, review appraisals, set price and negotiate settlements. Similarly, when displacement (relocations) are involved, the recipient must, for example, provide assistance systematically in locating replacement housing, assure that it meets acceptable standards and maintain records on all acquisitions and displacements (Uniform Relocation Assistance and Real Property Acquisition Policies Act of 1970 (URA) (P.L. 91-646).

Auditing Procedures

- a. Ascertain whether the recipient is administering a Federal or federally-assisted program that involves the acquisition of property or the displacement of households or businesses by a public agency. _____
- b. Review the organization's system for compliance with relocation assistance and real property acquisition requirements and evaluate for adequacy. _____
- c. Review the monitoring system for relocation and acquisition activity for selected programs and determine whether there is adherence to the prescribed procedures. _____

6. Federal Financial Reports

Compliance Requirement—Most Federal programs require the periodic submission of financial reports that fall within one or more of the following three categories. The specific requirement for each grant program is presented in the Reporting Requirements (III-D) section for that program. The suggested audit procedures are provided below to facilitate the requirements for the auditor under OMB Circular A-128, OMB Circular A-102, "Grants and Cooperative Agreements with State and Local Governments"; and Treasury Circular 1075, "Withdrawal of Cash from the Treasury for Advances under Federal Grant and Other Programs":

- a. OMB Circular A-102 and the "Common Rule," list four required financial reports that apply to most of the programs described in this document.
 - (1) Financial Status Report (SF 269 or SF 269a)—Reports status of funds for all non-construction programs.
 - (2) Request for Advance or Reimbursement (SF 270)—Request funds for non-construction programs when advance letter of credit or predetermined advance payments are not used.
 - (3) Outlay Report and Request for Reimbursement for Construction Programs (SF 271)—Requests for reimbursements and reports status of funds for construction programs.
 - (4) Report of Federal Cash Transaction (SF 272)—Reports cash transactions and balances for Grantees receiving cash by letter of credit or treasury checks.
- b. Treasury Circular 1075 list two alternative cash management reports, one of which applies to each program financed through letters-of-credit:
 - (1) Request for Payment on Letter of Credit and Status of Funds Report (SF 183)
 - (2) Payment Voucher on Letter of Credit (TFS 5041).
- c. Certain Federal agencies have received OMB approval to adapt the above reports or require other financial reports to meet their particular program needs.

Auditing Procedures

- (1) Review the procedures for preparing the Federal financial reports and evaluate for adequacy. _____
- (2) Sample Federal financial reports for each material program and review for completeness and timeliness of submission. _____
- (3) Trace data to the supporting documentation, i.e., worksheets, ledgers, etc. _____

.160 XVI. Appendix A—Auditing and Reporting Concerns

During an audit engagement, the auditor should be aware that often there are signals that may indicate a potential audit or reporting problem. Some signals or indicators may suggest the need to modify audit procedures.

Listed below are examples of indicators the auditor may encounter in an audit of a governmental unit. It should be noted that the existence of a particular indicator does not necessarily mean there is a problem requiring extended audit procedures. The list, however, should be considered by the auditor in performing analytical procedures and in designing his/her audit procedures.

Items Highlighted Through Review of Financial Ratios or Statistics

- Revenue-based indicators:
 - Decreasing value of taxable property.
 - Increasing ratios of delinquent taxes to total tax levy.
 - Increasing ratios of maximum legal tax rates.
 - Increasing ratios of actual revenue below budgets.
 - Litigation relative to equalization of assessment actions.
- Expenditure-based indicators:
 - Increasing excesses of expenditures over revenues.
 - Increasing incidence of actual expenditures in excess of budgets.
 - Continuing increases in amount of unfunded vested benefits of pension programs.
- Cash management indicators:
 - Increasing amounts of aggregate short-term investments.
 - Increasing amounts of unpaid current obligations.
 - Decreasing income from short-term investments (that are not a result of falling interest rates).
- Debt Indicators:
 - Increasing ratio of bond indebtedness to total property value.
 - Increasing need to borrow to meet debt service requirements.
 - Increasing use of long-term debt to fund current expenditures.
 - Increasing amount of short-term borrowing remaining unpaid at the end of the fiscal year.

Nonfinancial Indicators

- Client Personnel:
 - Rapid turnover.
 - Management changes.
 - Weak financial personnel.
 - Unfilled positions due to budget limitations.

- Internal auditors performing “special tasks” rather than auditing.
- Client relationships with auditors:
 - Accounting and reporting disputes.
- Weaknesses in accounting information system.
 - Lack of internal controls.
 - Poor cutoffs.
 - Reports not issued on a timely basis.
 - Inability to reconcile detailed records to general ledger balances.
 - Large number of exceptions in transactions or confirmations.
 - Client’s inability to prepare meaningful analyses of activity.
 - Lack of timely or no budget status reports.
- External Considerations (e.g., economy, industry):
 - Large industrial plant closing or moving from community.
 - Environmental legislation or pressures.

.170 XVII. Appendix B—Federal Transaction Test Criteria

The following criteria are those that often are applied during the audit of Federal transactions. Those criteria are presented as examples only. Judgment must be used to determine the test criteria to be applied to a particular Federal program or transaction.

1. Was the expenditure contemplated in the approved budget?
2. Were only costs applicable to the Federal Financial Assistance Program charged?
3. Was the expenditure made in accordance with specific program compliance requirements and other limitations or exclusions in the Federal assistance agreement?
4. Was the classification of direct or indirect charges in accordance with cost allocation plan(s) or grant agreements?
5. Was prior approval obtained from the Federal granting agency, if appropriate?
6. Was there adequate documentation supporting the expenditure, including all authorization signatures, evidence of preaudits, etc?
7. Does the expenditure appear to be necessary and reasonable and "benefit" or assist in the accomplishment of the goals of the Federally assisted program?
8. Was the expenditure properly coded and recorded?
9. Were capital expenditures properly recorded in the property records and identified as required by Federal administrative guidelines, specific program compliance requirements, and Federal assistance agreements?
10. Do assets acquired with the sample Federal expenditure exist and are they being used for the purpose for which they were acquired?
11. Was the expenditure given consistent accounting treatment and applied uniformly and equitably to all benefitting activities/programs, both Federally assisted and otherwise?
12. Was the expenditure net of any applicable credits?
13. Was the expenditure incurred during the authorized grant period or authorized extension thereto?
14. Were the charges incurred in accordance with competitive purchasing procedures, if applicable?
15. If an expenditure was a violation of any Federal regulations or grant agreement terms and the auditee has asserted that such violations were approved by the Federal grantor agency, was such approval documented in writing by the Federal agency?

.180 XVIII. Appendix C—Criteria for Determining Questioned Costs

Criteria established to determine and report questioned costs vary from one Federal agency to another. Many of the criteria are imposed by Congress at the time programs are authorized and funds are provided; however, other criteria are established through Federal agency regulations. Generally, the criteria for determining and reporting questioned costs are as follows:

- Unallowable costs. Certain costs are specifically unallowable under the general and special award conditions or agency instructions. (They include, but are not limited to, pregrant and postgrant costs and costs in excess of the approved grant budget either by category or in total.)
 - Undocumented costs. Costs are charged to the grant for which adequate detailed documentation does not exist, for example, to demonstrate their relationship to the grant or the amounts involved.
 - Unapproved costs. Costs that are not provided for in the approved grant budget, or costs for which the grant or contract provisions or applicable cost principles require the awarding agency's approval, but for which the auditor finds no evidence of approval.
 - Unreasonable costs. Costs incurred that may not reflect the actions that a prudent person would take in the circumstances, or assigning an unreasonably high valuation to in-kind contributions.

WORKING PAPERS

Sample and blank working papers are presented for illustrative purposes only. They are intended as mere conveniences for users of this Manual who may want points of departure when designing their own formats to meet their individual needs. These illustrations are neither all-inclusive nor prescribed minimums. Auditors and accountants are to rely on professional standards and their individual professional judgment in determining the workpapers needed in the circumstances.

AAM Section 6100

Working Papers—General

.01 Working papers serve both as tools to aid the auditor in performing his work, and as written evidence of the work done to support the auditor's report. SAS No. 41, Working Papers (AU section 339), provides authoritative guidance on the functions and nature, general content, and ownership and custody of working papers.

General Discussion

.02 These sections present points of view on the organization and preparation of working papers and include selected illustrations of working papers, primarily analyses and schedules.

.03 Proper planning is important in the design of specific working papers if they are to serve the objective of aiding the auditor in the conduct of his work. For example, a well-planned working paper may be designed to provide information that will be needed later in the preparation of tax returns and other required reports, such as those to regulatory bodies, and may therefore eliminate the need for examining the same documents twice to obtain necessary information. The format and content of the working papers may vary with the individual preferences of auditors and firms. These preferences may be informal common practices or expressed as part of a firm's formal written policies and procedures. A firm should consider the nature of its practice and the services commonly provided to its clients, as well as professional standards in developing its procedures and policies on working papers. Those procedures and policies should permit the flexibility necessary to meet the needs of individual engagements.

[The next page is 6201.]

AAM Section 6200

Basic Elements of Format

.01 Working paper formats generally include at least the following for identification purposes:

- A title or heading comprised of (a) the name of the client, (b) a caption that briefly describes the paper's contents, (c) the nature of the engagement, and (d) the applicable period or closing date covered by the engagement.
- The initials or names of the auditors who performed and reviewed the work presented in the paper and the date the paper was completed.

.02 In instances when one working paper requires more than one page, some auditors present the heading on only the lead page, fasten or staple all the applicable pages together as a unit and number each page, for example, 1 of 5, 2 of 5, and so forth. Many auditors index each working paper in some organized pre-established manner. This provides for ease in cross-referencing to other relevant papers, for more organized indexing and filing, and for a form of control over the working papers. (See AAM section 6400.)

.03 Some auditors purchase standard analysis paper that includes preprinted blocks for the initials or signature of the preparer and reviewer, and the dates on which the paper was prepared and reviewed. Others design their own signature and reference blocks and have them imprinted on all of their analysis paper and lined pads. These signature blocks may include captions such as the following:

- prepared by client and tested by
- prepared by
- date prepared
- date tested
- reviewed by
- date reviewed
- source
- work paper reference
- footed by
- extensions checked by

.04 Some auditors prefer to identify client preparation of schedules and analysis by notations or codes, such as "PBC," for prepared by client, rather than use a detailed signature and reference block.

[The next page is 6301.]

AAM Section 6300

Content of Working Papers

.01 The content of working papers varies with the circumstances and needs of the auditors on individual engagements. Some firms, however, include various general and specific instructions on working paper content in their policies concerning working papers.

General Considerations

.02 The following are some general considerations on working paper content that may be helpful.

- Working papers should be sufficiently intelligible, clear and neat so that another auditor who has had no previous association with the engagement can review the papers and determine the nature and extent of the work done and how the conclusions were reached that support the resulting auditor's report.
- The content of an individual working paper or group of related papers should include identification of the (1) source of the information presented (e. g., fixed assets ledger, cash disbursements journal), (2) the nature and extent of the work done and conclusions reached (by symbols and legend, narrative, or a combination of both), and (3) appropriate cross-references to other working papers.
- Before completion of the engagement, all questions or exceptions in the working papers should be resolved. If for some reason the auditor must leave the assignment without resolving all items, he should provide an open items listing on a separate temporary paper for the in-charge auditor's attention. An unresolved exception or incomplete explanation in the working papers may be construed by some as indication of an inadequate audit.
- Information and comments in the working papers generally represent statements of fact and professional conclusions. Accordingly, language should be clear and free from such vague judgmental adjectives as "good" or "bad." Conclusions should be supported by documented facts, especially if they concern the adequacy of the client's records.
- Working papers should be viewed as an integrated presentation of information. The auditor should cross-reference working papers to call attention to interaccount relationships and to reference a paper to other working papers summarizing or detailing related information.
- The preparer should view the working papers as if he were the in-charge auditor. All inferences and conclusions should be supported in the working papers and no misleading or irrelevant statements should be made.
- It is preferable to have negative figures in working papers indicated by parentheses instead of red figures to preserve their identity if the papers are photocopied or microfilmed.

Timesaving Considerations

.03 There are a number of ways to save time and avoid unnecessary detail in working paper preparation. The following examples may be helpful.

- Whenever possible, have the client's employees prepare schedules and analyses. (This, of course, presupposes that the client has the necessary personnel to prepare the materials.)
- Use of a detailed audit program may eliminate the need for lengthy comments in the working papers on the scope of audit procedures. (However, some believe that such comments are still necessary when a detailed program is used; this is a matter of individual firm judgment.)

- Analyze asset (or liability) accounts and their related expense or income accounts on the same working paper. Examples include property, plant, and equipment, accumulated depreciation and related depreciation expense; notes receivable, accrued interest receivable and interest income; notes payable, accrued or prepaid interest, and interest expense; and accrued taxes and related provisions for tax expense.
- Avoid unnecessary computations. For example, if only the totals are meaningful and can be tested by a single independent computation, check the total and avoid unnecessary checking of details.
- Consider using carryforward analyses for accounts that tend to remain constant each year or vary only in accordance with a constant predetermined formula. Examples may include long-term assets and related depreciation or amortization such as plant, equipment, and intangibles, long-term debt with predetermined payment schedules, and capital stock.
- Consider using adding machine tapes instead of writing separate lists. Enter names or explanations on the tapes, when appropriate.
- Do not manually copy a document when photographic reproduction is feasible.
- If in doubt, use a larger sheet of paper—an unused portion is less of a problem than running out of space.
- Use symbols (tick marks) whenever possible, especially when the same symbol applies to several working papers.

Symbols (Tick Marks)

.04 When using symbols, it should be helpful to consider the following basic concepts:

- Symbols are merely a shorthand means of explaining a work step performed on a particular item of data. Symbols serve as means of conserving time and space and, if properly used, may ease review of the working papers.
- For a working paper to be clear to a reviewer or other reader, each symbol must be clearly explained. The explanation may be located on the same page as the items subjected to the work step, or on a separate legend that is clearly cross-referenced to and from the page that presents the applicable items.
- Symbols should be kept simple, distinctive and clear so they can be quickly written by the preparer and easily identified by a reviewer.

.05 Applying these basic concepts is not that simple. Various auditors have conflicting notions about symbols. For example, on the matter of color, some believe all tick marks should be in color to make it easy to spot them in the working papers. Others believe it is a waste of time to keep “switching pencils” and observe that the color distinction is lost in photocopying. On another matter, some believe a set of standardized symbols can expedite preparation and review. Others believe that a set of standardized symbols is impractical because it lacks flexibility. Because it is generally agreed that symbols are an effective timesaver, it is desirable for firms to establish and communicate a policy on their use to maximize their potential effectiveness.

.06 Commonly used symbols, as noted, should be simple and distinctive, not elaborate hieroglyphics. The most common are variations on a simple checkmark—for example, a checkmark with a slash, a checkmark with a circle at the end, a double checkmark, and any one of these within a circle. This abbreviated listing alone provides eight distinctive tick marks. Symbols may also include circled letters or numbers.

AAM Section 6400

Organization and Filing (Indexing)

.01 Some auditors organize their working papers during the course of an engagement into general categories such as the following:

- Planning and administration.
- Internal control structure understanding and assessment of control risk.
- Substantive test working papers arranged in order of the balance sheet and income statement classifications.
- Trial balances, consolidating working papers, journal entries (adjustments, reclassifications, eliminations for consolidation), and potential entries.
- Draft reports, financial statements, and footnotes.
- Programs, checklists, and questionnaires (some keep these as separate units, others interfile them among working papers by statement classifications).
- General matters such as current minutes, contracts, and articles of incorporation that may apply to future engagements as well as current work.

Under this approach, actual indexing and filing would be deferred until the conclusion of the engagement.

Predetermined Indexing

.02 Other practitioners and firms may use a predetermined indexing approach so that working papers can be indexed while the field work is still in progress. This offers the following advantages:

- Better control over working papers during the performance of field work.
- Constant arrangement of working papers in logical order to aid in review.
- Less time required in assembling and binding them into indexed files.
- Quicker access to specific working papers after they are filed.

.03 Predetermined indexing involves establishing a standard code for each section of the working papers, using letters and numbers, or numbers only. For example—

	Two Possible Alternatives
Working trial balance—assets	B/S-A	T/B-1
Working trial balance—liabilities	B/S-L	T/B-2
Working trial balance—income & expense	P/L	T/B-3
Cash summary schedule	A	10
Receivables summary schedule	B	20
Inventory summary schedule	C	30

.04 Predetermined indexing requires recognition of the need for flexibility to meet unanticipated working paper needs or specialized industry requirements and it requires care to avoid undue complexity. Excessively complex references may obstruct rather than ease working paper preparation, cross-referencing and filing. Accordingly, it is helpful to develop an organizational plan adaptable to each section of the working papers. For example, some accountants classify working papers as lead schedules, primary detail, and secondary detail which might result in the following classification scheme for the above examples for cash:

	Using Letters and Numbers	Using Only Numbers
Lead schedule	(A)	(10)
Primary detail schedules	(A-1) (A-2) etc.	(10-1) (10-2) etc.
Secondary detail schedules	(A-1-1) (A-1-2) (A-1-3) (A-2-1) (A-2-2) (A-2-3)	(10-1-1) (10-1-2) (10-2-1) (10-2-2)

.05 Predetermined (standardized) indexing systems may be printed on separate pages for reference during the performance of field work and insertion in the front of working paper binders or files when the work is completed. Some firms have their uniform indexing systems printed directly on their file or binder covers.

.06 A well-organized indexing system need not be too complex. On a fairly small engagement, the indexing system may be a lead schedule divider tab between each major group of accounts with the name of the account on it (e.g., cash or accounts receivable) with the related workpapers filed behind the lead schedule without being individually indexed. At the completion of the engagement, the pages can be consecutively numbered within each account group (e.g., 1 of 10, 2 of 10, etc.), since there typically are not numerous or complex layers of supporting schedules, extensive cross-referencing can be avoided.

.07 On large engagements, particularly those with detailed charts of accounts, firms may consider it necessary to develop more complex indexing systems. In one such system, standard index number series are assigned as follows:

Current workpaper file	1000—7000
Permanent file	7100—9999

.08 In this system, each index number consists of four digits, with the addition decimals if necessary. Numbers ending with double zero are reserved for lead schedules whose total agrees with a line item on the working trial balance (index 1400). Single zeros are used for specific types of accounts (such as 2010, petty cash funds).

.09 Certain index numbers can be permanently assigned to each major financial statement classification. For instance, index 2000 may be assigned to cash. If various bank accounts exist, the cash schedules are assigned index numbers 2002, 2003, etc. Documentation such as supporting confirmations and lists of outstanding checks would be assigned index numbers commencing with 2001.1, 2001.2, etc. As for the permanent workpaper file, index 9300, for example, may be assigned to internal control structure. Accordingly, flowcharts and related questionnaires would be assigned index numbers in that series.

Current and Permanent Files

.10 Working paper files are generally classified as current files and permanent (continuing) files. Current files contain information that is pertinent to a single engagement. Permanent files include information relevant to several recurring engagements. Some firms have their binder or file covers preprinted as current or permanent accompanied by pertinent portions of their uniform working paper indexes.

.11 A common challenge to many auditors is to keep the permanent file complete and current, and free from outdated or irrelevant materials that belong in an inactive file of superseded materials.

.12 Some auditors who have confronted one too many unwieldy permanent files believe all working papers should be classified as current with certain materials designated as matters of continuing interest to be carried forward each year until they become outdated. Under this approach, a firm may preprint its complete index on one type of file or binder cover and provide space to indicate whether specific contents are continuing or carry-forward in nature.

Index Topics

.13 The following is a list of topics to consider in developing a standard index for working papers. This list is detailed, but is by no means all-inclusive. For example, specialized industries such as life insurance and banking need other specialized topics. Several of the topics may be eliminated, condensed or expanded, depending on the auditor's needs and preferences. Topics that some auditors prefer to include in both the permanent and current files or only in the permanent files are followed by the letter (P).

Planning and administration

- . Time & budget data
- . General correspondence & memos
- . Planning memos—current
- . Planning notes & confirm copies for use in next engagement
- . Engagement letters
- . Schedules & analyses to be prepared by client
- . Minutes
- . Checklist of an administrative nature if required by firm policy

Audit or work program (Note 1)

Matters of continuing concern

- . . Client's industry—background (P)
- . . Description & brief history of client (P)
- . . Data & ratio analysis of client's operations (P)
- . . Client's facilities (P)
- . . Articles of incorporation (P)
- . . Bylaws (P)
- . . Current contracts & agreements (P)
- . . Debt agreements (P)
- . . Leases (P)
- . . Labor contracts (P)
- . . Agreements with officers & key people (P)
- . . Pension plans (P)
- . . Profit-sharing plans (P)
- . . Stock warrants (P)
- . . Stock options (P)
- . . Other agreements (P)
- . . Client's accounting policies & procedures (P)
- . . Carryforward analyses (Note 2)

Internal control structure

- . Internal control structure questionnaire, narratives, flow charts, etc. (Note 3)

- . Initial assessment of control risk memos
- . Tests of controls

Reports, financial statements and footnotes, trial balances, and assembly sheets

- . Reports & financial statements (including letter, if any, on reportable conditions in internal control structure)
- . Consolidating working papers
- . Consolidation eliminating entries
- . Trial balance
- . Adjusting journal entries
- . Reclassification journal entries
- . Recap of possible adjusting entries
- . Assembly sheets supporting footnote disclosures (if the information is not included elsewhere in the working papers)
- . Disclosure checklists (if required by firm policy)
- . Supporting schedules (if required for reports to regulatory bodies or other reports)
- . Tax return information & work sheets (Note 4)

Assets

- . Cash
- . Marketable securities (and related income)
- . Notes receivable (and related interest)
- . Accounts receivable
 - . . Summary and analyses
 - . . Confirmation procedures (Notes 2 and 5)
 - . . Allowance for doubtful accounts & notes (Note 2)
- . Inventories
 - . . Summary and analyses
 - . . Price tests, cost & market
 - . . Obsolescence review
 - . . Observation, test counts & cutoff data
 - . . LIFO determinations
- . Prepaid expenses
- . Other current assets
- . Investments

- . Property, plant & equipment, and accumulated depreciation, depletion & amortization (Note 2)
- . Intangible assets, deferred charges & amortization (Note 2)
- . Other assets
- . Intercompany accounts

Liabilities

- . Notes payable (and related interest)
- . Accounts payable
- . Accrued liabilities other than income taxes
- . Accrued income taxes (current & deferred), related provisions & credits (Note 2)
 - . . Federal
 - . . State & local
- . Other current liabilities
- . Long-term debt (including current maturities and capitalized leases) (Note 2)
- . Other long-term liabilities
- . Deferred income (Note 2)

Commitments and contingencies

- . Attorneys' letters
- . Abstracts of commitments & contingencies noted during review of minutes, contracts & agreements, confirmation responses, etc.
- . Subsequent events review
- . Management representation letter

Equity (capital accounts) (Note 2)

- . Capital stock
- . Additional paid-in capital
- . Treasury stock
- . Retained earnings
- . Partnership capital

Revenue and expenses

- . Operating revenues
- . Cost of sales
- . Selling, general & administrative
- . Other operating expenses
- . Other income

- . Other expense
 - . Extraordinary & unusual items
 - . Secondary schedules
 - . . Maintenance & repairs
 - . . Taxes other than income taxes
 - . . Rents
 - . . Royalties
 - . . Advertising costs
 - . . Legal fees
 - . . Interest expense recap

NOTES TO USER:

1. Alternate practices of filing audit programs include:
 - (a) Putting the program in a binder that is separate and distinct from the current and permanent files.
 - (b) Putting the signed off program in the current file.
 - (c) Keeping a master copy of the program in the permanent file with the signed off copies dispersed among the related working paper segments in the current file.
 2. Certain classifications may lend themselves to carry-forward working papers. Examples include allowances for doubtful accounts, brief summaries of confirmation response statistics, accumulated depreciation and amortization, deferred income taxes and open tax positions, long-term debt, and capital accounts.
 3. Internal control structure questionnaires may be filed as separate binders or as part of current or permanent files.
 4. Some firms and practitioners keep tax return preparation working papers in files that are completely separate from other types of engagement working papers.
 5. For situations involving voluminous confirmation responses or bulk inventory listings, the bulk materials may be filed in separate binders that are cross referenced to the pertinent working papers (for example: accounts receivable, accounts payable, and inventory).

Sample Working Papers

.010 The samples of individual working paper formats included in this section are for illustrative purposes only. Blank working papers are provided as "tools" and in no way represent official positions or pronouncements of the AICPA. These working papers do not represent minimum requirements and do not purport to be all-inclusive. They should be used by or under the supervision of persons having adequate technical training and proficiency in the application of generally accepted accounting principles, generally accepted auditing standards, and Statements on Standards for Accounting and Review Services. Users of these working papers are urged to refer directly to applicable authoritative pronouncements when appropriate.

General Comment

.020 These illustrations are included to help users of the manual save time by using them as points of departure in designing their own formats to meet their individual needs. For example, the analysis formats included among the samples tend to present a single step of activity between balances at the opening and closing dates of a fiscal year. If an auditor decides to do substantive testing prior to a fiscal year end, he may wish to use analysis formats that show activity between balances at the opening date of a fiscal year and a preliminary date during the year, and another step of activity from the preliminary date to the fiscal year end. Also the analysis formats in this section tend to present balance and activity captions as column headings with components shown on the line items as follows:

Description	Opening balance	Expense provision	Disburse- ments	Closing balance
	xxx	xxx	(xxx)	xxx
	xxx	xxx	(xxx)	xxx
	—	xxx	(xxx)	xxx
Totals	xxx	xxx	(xxx)	xxx

An alternate approach would be to present balance and activity captions as line items and use the column headings for components as shown in the following example:

	Totals	Components

Opening balance	xxx	xxx	xxx	—
Expense provision	xxx	xxx	xxx	xxx
Disbursements	(xxx)	(xxx)	(xxx)	(xxx)
Closing balance	xxx	xxx	xxx	xxx

.030 The decision as to appropriate format must be made by the individual auditor after considering all the circumstances of the engagement.

NOTES:

(A) Financial statement assembly sheets generally include the same captions (classifications) as the financial statements. For comparison purposes they also show the final amounts reported for the preceding year. For convenience, some auditors may include additional detail in support of the statement classifications on their assembly sheets.

The amounts for each caption would be supported by comparative lead sheets in each grouping of substantive test working papers. These lead sheets provide a trail to evidence of the work done and show comparatively how specific amounts in the client's accounts are grouped for classification in the financial statements for both the current year and as reported for the preceding year. (However, see the sample "Working Trial Balance" for an alternative approach)

(B) The column "work paper ref." in this illustration may include specific indexing codes used in a predetermined indexing approach.

(C) The final balances for the preceding year (12/31/X4 in this illustration) would be obtained from last year's audit report for the assembly sheets, and from last year's working papers for the supporting comparative lead sheets. The per client balances for the current engagement would be developed from the supporting comparative lead sheets which have been agreed to the client's general ledger.

(D) Adjusting entries would be posted to the comparative lead sheets and grouped. Then the grouped adjustments would be posted from the comparative lead sheets to these assembly sheets. The adjusted balances on the lead sheets as of 12/31/X5 would agree with the client's final account balances after posting of the adjusting entries.

38	Proponents of this schedule believe that taking shortcuts may often lead to
39	excessive preparation time (not being able to reconcile because of omissions,
40	etc.) and review time (unable to cross reference back to sources).

Gross Cash Flows Worksheet—Notes
12/31/X5

Notes:

(A) This working paper is used to illustrate a method of indirectly determining cash received from customers and cash paid to suppliers and employers for use in a statement of cash flows under the direct method.

(B) This amount would normally include accrued dividends receivable. The amount of accrued dividends would be deducted and reflected at (B-1). For the purpose of simplicity, this illustration assumes that there are no beginning or ending balances in accrued dividends receivable.

(C) This amount would normally include accrued interest payable. The amount of accrued interest would be deducted and reflected at (C-1). For the purpose of simplicity, this illustration assumes that there are no beginning or ending balances in accrued interest receivable.

NOTES:

- (A) In this example, debits and credits are grouped in one column and should foot to zero. This was done merely to save space. An auditor may prefer to use separate columns for debits, credits and effect on income. There are many approaches for accumulating potential entries. For example, see the illustrative working paper for accumulating potential adjustments and re-classifications; it provides for accumulation of the effect of potential entries on the balance sheet as well as the income statement.
- (B) This column provides for identification of the cumulative effect (which may be material) of a series of relatively immaterial items which are biased in one direction.
- (C) For this illustration, the client's effective income tax rate is assumed to be 40%.
- (D) The resulting percent is arbitrarily selected solely for demonstrating arithmetic in this illustration.

NOTES:

This illustration is an alternative to the assembly sheets and lead sheets previously shown. It is a format that may be useful if the client's individual accounts are in a sequence that allows easy grouping into the statement classifications. The form should also offer enough space for symbols and notations of work done, cross references, and a clear identification of the statement groupings. If the client's trial balance is sequenced for easy grouping into statement classifications, pasting a copy of the trial balance onto formats similar to these illustrations may save preparation time.

Proponents of this alternative format believe that preparation of lead sheets requires excessive time and duplicates information on the working trial balance. Proponents of the lead sheet approach argue that benefits such as the following more than justify the preparation time:

- Lead sheets assemble working papers into groups that aid the review process and help staff see detail work in the context of the statements.
- Comparative features of lead sheets aid in performing analytical procedures.
- Lead sheets offer a structure for delegating portions of the work to staff.

NOTES:

- Lead sheets help avoid a cluttered "top summary" and thereby minimize the potential for clerical error.

The choice of format is the auditor's and should be based on his judgment about the most efficient way to structure the working papers for a particular engagement.

NOTES:								6
(A) This sample working paper reconciles the amounts per line items on the return with the reported income statement, and where necessary, directly to the source working papers. All schedule M-1 items should also be explained on this page or an attached set of supporting pages, and referenced to the supporting working papers. In some situations, it may be necessary to prepare this type of schedule in further detail than that of the reported statement of income (or loss).								7
(B) Some auditors believe that this type of reconciliation should be prepared for all tax returns unless they are easily grouped from the trial balance or financial statements.								8

27		(A-6) (A-7-2) (A-7-3) (A-7-4) and (A-7-5).
28		(C) This symbol legend is located behind the reconciliation
29		because the legend is on columns 9-16 of a 16-column

3. The customer was contingently liable as endorser of notes discounted and/or as guarantor at the close of business on that date in the total amount of $ None, as below:

AMOUNT	NAME OF MAKER	DATE OF NOTE	DUE DATE	REMARKS

4. Other direct or contingent liabilities, open letters of credit, and relative collateral, were

(None)

5. Security agreements under the Uniform Commercial Code or any other agreements providing for restrictions, not noted above, were as follows (if officially recorded, indicate date and office in which filed):

(None)

Yours truly, (Bank) Fifth National Bank

Date January 5, 19X6

By J.P. Valid
Authorized Signature Asst. V.P.

Additional copies of this form are available from the American Institute of CPAs, 1211 Avenue of the Americas, New York, N. Y. 10036

Note: The confirmation response should be cross-referenced to all relevant working papers (in this example; to the bank reconciliation [page A-2] and notes payable [N-1]). The circled items should also be cross-referenced to indicate it was noted regarding working papers on commitments and contingencies. The bank should answer all questions. If some are not answered the bank should be called or written so the missing information can be obtained (in writing).

NOTES:

(A) This legend is placed behind the reconciliations because it is on the fold-out portion of a 16-column spread sheet. This approach allows the reviewer to unfold the legend and see the symbols as he reviews each reconciliation working paper.

If the papers are fastened at the top and the pages are double with spread sheets that unfold to the right, the legend can be set up so that it unfolds to the left side or bottom of the page. Then a reviewer may still see the legend as he looks at individual spread sheets.

(B) In this example, no exceptions were noted. However, if any were present, a separate symbol and explanation cross-referencing to an exception listing would also be included in this legend.

(C) In this example, it is assumed that based on the auditor's assessment of control risk for relevant assertions, the following steps were performed at a preliminary date and recorded elsewhere in the working papers:

(i) Preparation of proofs of cash to test total activity per the cash receipts and cash disbursements journal.

(ii) Comparison of entries per the cash disbursements journal to paid checks for date, number, payee, amount, and examination of check for proper signature and comparison of endorsement with identification of payee.

(iii) Accounting for all checks issued during a test month as paid, outstanding or void.

NOTE:

(A) There are various approaches to controlling confirmation procedures. Some auditors may use copies of the confirmation letters to control positive confirmation requests and use a symbol and legend on a schedule, tape or aging analysis to indicate balances selected for confirmation and the type of response received.

24	(A) This analysis is often prepared by clients for internal purposes. If practical, the auditor may save time by using a copy of the client's schedule for working paper purposes.
25	The auditor may need to modify his (her) copy of the client's schedule by adding additional columns or pasting the copy on to a format similar to this illustration.

NOTES (continued)

- (B) Depending on the circumstances (internal control structure, relative number of customer accounts and significance of individual balances) the auditor may include any of the following in the working papers:
 - (i) copy of the complete aging analysis.
 - (ii) detail aging analysis of only those customer accounts with balances over a predetermined dollar amount and summary amounts for aging of accounts with balances equal to and lesser than the predetermined amount.
 - (iii) summary of the aging analysis totals and other schedules and narratives to describe detail testing.

- (C) These columns are used when individual customer balances may be large enough in relation to the total receivables balance for review on a specific account basis to determine the need for allowances.

25	NOTES:
26	(A)	This type of analysis will vary greatly with the circumstances.
27		For example, some clients may use several general ledger accounts
28		for production and inventory while others may have a small number
29		of general ledger controlling accounts that are tied to a detailed
30		cost accounting system. Other obvious variables include the fol-
31		lowing:
32		• Assumptions on the flow of cost (FIFO, LIFO, etc.).
33		• Method of cost accounting (process, job order, direct costing
34		for internal reports and adjustment to absorption costing for
35		external reporting, standard costs, retail method, etc.).
36	(B)	Adjustment may be more complex than a simple difference between
37		the book balances and the priced physical inventory. This may re-
38		quire a separate analysis of adjustments to the inventory per books
39		and/or the physical.

16	NOTES:							16
17								17
18	(A) The design of test count work sheets will depend on the circumstances and may vary extensively from the above which is assumed to involve simple unit counts. Other physical inventories, for							18
19	example, may involve conversion of units to weight, surveys of volume with conversion to tonnage, or special techniques such as engineering surveys of volume, aerial photography, and chemical							19
20	analyses.							20
21								21
22								22
23								23
24	(B) For each item, the location, reference, description and other data must provide sufficient detail for subsequent tracing of the							24
25	auditor's test counts or observations into the client's compilation and summarization of its physical inventory. Accordingly, advance							25
26	planning is extremely important in preparing for observation and							26
27	testing of a client's physical inventory. Provision should be made							27
28	for inclusion in the working papers of such information as number							28

Inventory Price Tests of Work-in-Process and Finished Goods—General Note on Working Papers

.400 The working paper formats for price tests of work-in-process and finished goods inventories will vary with the circumstances of individual engagements. Among the variables are the following:

- The client's particular industry and business.
- Cost accounting method (job order or process cost, use of standard costs, application of overhead costs, retail method).
- Assumptions about flow of costs (FIFO, LIFO, moving average).
- Other cost accounting matters such as allocation of costs to various products included in inventories.

Because of the many complex variables involved, sample working papers on price tests of work-in-process and finished goods inventory are not presented. However, the following possible column headings may be useful in considering working paper formats for price tests of specific items of work-in-process and finished goods inventory:

Part number or product code

Job order number

Description

Department or plant location

Quantity in inventory

Date produced (is it slow-moving or obsolete?)

Material cost

Labor cost

Overhead cost

Total cost

Unit cost

Inventory dollar amount

Status (stage of completion, process code no., etc.)

Recent actual job order cost

Recent process or standard unit cost

Recent actual selling price and gross profit percentage (is it adequate?)

Recent sales volume (is item slow-moving or obsolete?)

Depending on the circumstances, it may be more efficient to use copies of the client's analyses and prepare supplementary schedules rather than develop completely separate analysis formats.

23	to prepare this schedule as a time saver.
24	(B) If the schedule includes insurance costs that are expensed en-

NOTES:

- (A) This analysis may support prepaid expenses included among assets, accrued taxes included among liabilities and tax expenses. The auditor's preference determines whether this analysis is filed among papers on assets, liabilities or expenses. However, the amounts should be cross-referenced with their location in lead sheets that support all relevant statement groupings.
- (B) The column for expenses incurred may include write-offs of prepaid amounts and provisions for amounts incurred but not yet paid. This will depend on the timing of the payment due dates and periods covered for each taxing organization.

26			(A) This illustration is assumed to support a particular
27			category such as machinery and equipment which may in-
28			clude property that qualifies for an investment tax
29			credit. Some auditors may prefer to group all addi-
30			tions on one schedule and use analysis columns to
31			segregate amounts into such classifications as land,
32			buildings, machinery and equipment. Then a separate
33			analysis may be prepared concerning additions which
34			qualify for the investment tax credit.
35			(B) Depending on the circumstances, an auditor may have
36			all additions listed or select a minimum dollar
37			amount and have only those additions over that
38			amount listed.
39			(C) Auditors should carefully consider applicable income
40			tax requirements.

21	NOTES:
22	(A) Many auditors believe this schedule should be prepared by the
23	client and would have a staff auditor prepare this listing
24	only as a last resort. However, some auditors, depending on
25	their understanding of the internal control structure, may
26	believe this type of schedule need not be included in their
27	working papers.
28	(B) This schedule should include indication of where the detail was
29	obtained, for example, "per voucher register." In some instan-
30	ces, it may be a carbon or photocopy of the client's own year end
31	tabulation of trade payables.
32	(C) This type of schedule may include all trade payables as of the 33	balance sheet date or only those over a given amount selected by
34	the auditor.
35	(D) A symbol and explanation may be used to identify amounts sub-
36	jected to examination of supporting evidence and/or confirmation
37	procedures (See section 540.250 in the chapter on audit objec-
38	tives and programs regarding confirmation of accounts payable).

23	and records examined in the search for unrecorded liabilities,
24	for example, cash disbursements book and voucher register for
25	1/2/X6-1/31/X6. The period selected will vary with the circum-
26	stances, for example, effectiveness of client's internal control,
27	billing pattern of client's vendors (do they bill quickly or 28	slowly after delivery of goods or services) and whether other
29	audit procedures such as confirmation of payables are to be used.
30	(B) If amounts selected are subject to a minimum amount(s), this
31	should also be indicated on this working paper, for example,
32	"selected all items of $XXX or over," or "selected all items of
33	$100 for 1/1-1/10, all items of $500 and over for 1/11-1/20 and

15		NOTES:
16		(A) This analysis illustrates how the activity and balances of principal and related interest can be presented on the same working paper. This approach may result in more effective working paper presentation of the analysis and testing performed and expedite review. It may be practical to prepare separate analyses for each broad category of debt such as notes payable, collateralized long term debt, debenture bonds, capitalized leases, etc. (B) The description should include the type of debt, face amount, stated interest rate, payment terms, maturity date, collateral, if any, and original discount or premium, if any. If the description requires too much space, some of it may be continued on attached sheets. (C) In some instances, long term debt may be administered by a trust company or institutional lender and be combined with a restrictive indenture and a predetermined payment schedule for principal and interest. In such instances, a copy of the payment schedule and indenture may serve as carryforward (or permanent file) working papers, and the principal columns on this schedule restricted to the year end balance which would be positively confirmed. The columns for interest and discount or premium and the description would be retained.

20
21	(A)	This type of analysis may be prepared separately for federal
22		income taxes and state and local income taxes or depending on
23		the circumstances, federal and state income taxes may be pre-
24		sented on a single spread analysis.
25	(B)	This illustration assumes that several prior years are still
26		open and provides individual columns as a means for matching cash
27		transactions with related provisions for each open year.
28	(C)	A separate line item for refundable taxes is provided to segre-
29		gate those amounts from taxes payable.
30	(D)	Details of individual payments including date, description and
31		amount should be shown separately because of the compliance im-
32		plications in the timing and amounts of payments.
33	(E)	Generally, development of the current year's provision involves
34		enough detail to require a separate working paper cross-referenced
35		to this type of account analysis.

Notes:
(A) This schedule assumes there are no net operating losses in the current or prior years. Calculation of deferred tax assets is illustrated in section 6500.642.
(B) "Shortcut" techniques such as applying an average tax rate or the company's highest tax rate to net taxable amounts are permitted by FASB Statement No. 96 provided the results do not materially differ from those obtained by strict application of graduated tax rates.
(C) This illustration addresses only federal deferred income taxes. Separate schedules of temporary differences and deferred income taxes for each taxing jurisdiction should be prepared.

29 (A) These examples illustrate the effects of carrybacks and carryforwards of net
30 operating losses and net deductible amounts on the computation of deferred income 31 taxes under various circumstances.
32 ASSUMPTIONS:
33 (1) Additional originating difference of $65000 in depreciation arises in 19X6.
34 (2) Tax rates: 19X4 - 46%, 19X5 - 40%, 19X6 and later - 34%
35 (3) No material difference arises between application of graduated rates versus 36 maximum rates

Revenue and Expense Working Papers—General Note

.690 Working papers on revenue and expense accounts would include comparative lead sheets for each income statement classification. Expenses such as depreciation, insurance, interest, and the provision for doubtful accounts would be cross-referenced to related analyses included among working papers concerning the balance sheet classifications.

The auditor, after considering his evaluation of the internal control structure, may decide that analytical procedures (see SAS No. 56 [AU section 329]) and substantive tests of balance sheet accounts (including related income and expense effects) provide enough evidence to avoid the need for detailed analysis of most individual revenue and expense accounts. Some revenue and expense accounts, however, are ordinarily analyzed and tested because of the following:

- Identification of possible disclosure matters (especially lawyers' billings).
- Information needed for preparation of tax returns and other reports.
- Generalized titles that make accounts subject to misclassifications and errors.

Accounts requiring separate analyses generally are:

Legal expenses and other professional fees

Maintenance and repairs

Travel and entertainment

Officers' salaries and expenses

Taxes, licenses, and fees

Rents and royalties

Contributions

Advertising

For timesaving purposes, the auditor may request the client to prepare analyses of these accounts and to assemble the related vouchers and other supporting documents.

CORRESPONDENCE, CONFIRMATIONS & REPRESENTATIONS

These samples are presented for illustrative purposes only. They are intended as mere conveniences for users of this Manual who may want points of departure when designing their own formats to meet their individual needs. These illustrations are neither all inclusive nor are they prescribed minimums. Auditors and accountants are to rely on professional standards and their individual professional judgment in determining what may be needed in the circumstances.

AAM Section 7100

Control of Confirmations and Correspondence

.01 Generally, clients prepare correspondence and confirmation requests on their own letterheads and submit the signed originals and copies needed to the auditor. The auditor may obtain one or more copies to serve as file copies for the current working papers, second requests and manuscript copies for the next engagement.

.02 The auditor should review the confirmation requests to the extent he considers necessary. For example, the auditor may perform the following for accounts receivable confirmation requests before they are mailed:

- Compare the customer names and addresses to the client's records.
- Compare balances per confirmation requests to the subsidiary ledger.

.03 The requests would then be stuffed in envelopes and submitted to the post office under the auditor's control.

.04 The auditor controls the mailings and receipt of responses so that the confirmation process is independent of the client.

.05 Mailing envelopes have the auditor's office or post office box number as the return address so that undeliverable letters are returned to the auditor and not to the client. For mailings, the auditor may provide the envelopes or affix a label on the client's envelope that covers the client's return address and replaces it with the auditor's address.

.06 Reply envelopes addressed to the auditor are enclosed with the request letter. Reply envelopes generally have prepaid postage to encourage responses. Some auditors also use codes on the reply envelopes so that responses may be sorted by engagement before the mail is opened. This feature may be particularly useful when there are several engagements that involve voluminous mailings.

.07 If the client objects to use of the auditor's name and address, some auditors suggest that a post office box in the client's name be used, with the returns to be opened under the auditor's control for the confirmation process, and that the post office be instructed that after the box is closed subsequent mail be forwarded to the auditor.

AAM Section 7200

Requests for Confirmations and Related Materials

Wording of Confirmation Request Forms

.01 Forms and correspondence used for confirmation requests should state clearly that the client is requesting that a reply be sent to the CPA. Forms and correspondence used for information requests for engagements other than audits should not refer to "an audit." They should also use the term "accountant(s)" rather than "auditors." Suggested wording follows:

Please send the following information to our professional accountants (insert name and address of accountants) who are performing services for the company.

.02 The samples of correspondence in this section include language that refers to auditors and an audit of the client's financial statements on the assumption that an audit is being performed. This language needs to be modified if services other than an audit are being performed.

.03 Request for Bank Cutoff Statements

(Prepared on client's letterhead)

(Date) [Note (A) below]

(Name of Bank)

(Address)

Dear.....:

Please send the following information directly to our auditors (insert name and address of auditors) who are performing their regular audit of our financial statements [Note (B) below] as of the close of business (insert date):

1. The information requested on the enclosed standard bank confirmation inquiry form(s)
2. Statement(s) of our account(s) and the related paid checks for the period from (insert date) to (insert date) inclusive. (Give name and bank account number for each bank account)
3. [Note (C)]

Very truly yours,

(Name of client)

(Signature and title of authorized officer)

NOTES TO USER:

- (A) The request should be sent at least ten days prior to the audit date so the bank will be able to provide the information requested and to render the cutoff statements as requested. If the request does not reach the bank before the cutoff date, the cutoff statement will include transactions recorded after that date.
- (B) It is helpful to include a list of the account names and bank account numbers for each of the clients' accounts to receive timely and complete response.
- (C) The letter may also include requests for:
- A statement of all securities or other items held for the client's account as of the closing date for collection or safekeeping, or as agent or trustee (including titles and bank account numbers).
 - List of authorized check signers for the above accounts. (This may have been previously requested at a preliminary date in connection with the assessment of control risk.)

.05 Request for Confirmation of Petty Cash Fund and Advances to Employees

(Prepared on client's letterhead)

(Date)

(Name)
(Address)

Dear.....:

Our auditors, (insert name and address of auditors) are performing their regular audit of our financial statements. Accordingly, please confirm directly to our auditors the balance of the petty cash fund (or amount of advances) in your possession as of December 31, 19XX which was shown by our records as $.....

Please indicate in the space provided below whether the amount above agrees with your records. If not, please send the auditors any information you have that will help them reconcile the difference.

After signing and dating your reply, please return it directly to the auditors. A stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed for your convenience.

Very truly yours,
(Client's authorized signature)

The foregoing information is in agreement with my records as of December 31, 19XX with the following exceptions (if any):

.06 Securities and Cash in Custodian or Trust Accounts

(Prepared on client's letterhead)

(Date) [Note (A) below]

(Name of custodian or trustee)
(Address)

Dear.....:

Our auditors, (insert name and address of auditors) are performing their regular audit of our financial statements. Accordingly, please send directly to our auditors a list of our securities owned at (insert date) and the amount of principal and income and amount of cash held by you at that date for each of the following accounts [Notes (C) & (D)]:

Name of account	Account No. [Note (B)]
2.
3.

Please also indicate to the auditors whether to your knowledge any of the securities are pledged or otherwise encumbered.

Please mail your reply directly to the auditors. A stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed for your convenience.

Very truly yours,
(Client's authorized signature)

NOTES TO USER:

- (A) The request should be sent so it reaches the trustees or custodians sufficiently in advance of the listing date for them to respond in a practical manner.
- (B) Use the custodian or trustee's account number.
- (C) This letter may be expanded, if necessary, to request cutoff statements of activity (principal and interest) in the accounts.
- (D) Sometimes this request is combined with a request for cutoff bank statements and a standard bank confirmation. However, it may be more practical to send separate letters because a bank's commercial banking and trust departments are usually separate operations.

.07 Securities Held by Brokers

(Prepared on client's letterhead)

(Date) [Note (A) below]

(Broker's Name)

(Address)

Dear.....:

In connection with their regular audit of our financial statements, please send directly to our auditors (insert name and address of auditors), a statement of our account(s) [Note (B)] with you as of (insert date), indicating the following information:

1. Securities held by you for our account.
2. Securities out for transfer to our name.
3. Any amounts payable to or due from us.

Please mail your reply directly to the auditors. A stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed for your convenience.

Very truly yours,

(Client's authorized signature)

NOTES TO USER:

- (A) The request should be sent so it reaches the broker sufficiently in advance of the listing date for the broker to respond in a practical manner.
- (B) It may be helpful to include the account number(s) used by the broker for the client's account(s).

.09 Accounts Receivable—Positive

(Prepared on client's letterhead)

(Date)

(Customer's Name)
(Address)

Dear

In connection with their regular audit of our financial statements, please confirm directly to our auditors (insert name and address of auditors) the amount of your indebtedness to us which according to our records as of (insert date) amounted to $.....

If the amount shown is in agreement with your records at that date, please sign in the place provided below and return this letter directly to our auditors in the enclosed envelope.

If the amount is not in agreement with your records, please note the amount shown in your records and any information which may help reconcile the difference on the back of this letter and send it directly to our auditors in the enclosed envelope.

Remittances should not be sent to the auditors.

Very truly yours,

(Client's authorized signature)

The above stated amount is correct as of (insert date) with the following exceptions (if any):.....
.....

.....
(Signed by)

.....
(Title)

NOTES TO USER:

- The auditor should consider sending confirmation requests at the time of the client's regular monthly billings. Coordination of confirmation procedures with the client's routine preparation and mailing of statements may offer efficiency to both the auditor and client.
- Some auditors use their own standard forms for accounts receivable confirmation requests rather than correspondence prepared by the client. In such instances, it may be advisable for the form to include a prominent notice that "this is not a request for payment."

.10 Accounts Receivable—Negative

(May be a sticker or stamp used on client's statements to customers)

PLEASE CHECK THIS STATEMENT

If this statement is not correct please write promptly (using the enclosed envelope), giving details of any differences, directly to our auditors, who are now conducting an audit of our financial statements.

If you do not write to our auditors, they will consider this statement to be correct.

Remittances should NOT be sent to the auditors.

NOTES TO USER:

- A negative confirmation may also be requested in letter form using similar wording.
- The auditor should consider sending confirmation requests at the time of the client's regular monthly billings. Coordination of confirmation procedures with the client's routine preparation and mailing of statements may offer efficiency to both the auditor and client.

.15 Pension Plan Actuarial Cost Information*

(Prepared on client's letterhead)

(Date)

(Name of Actuary)

(Address)

Dear

Our auditors (insert name and address of auditors) are performing their regular audit of our financial statements as of (insert date) and for the (insert period) then ended. Accordingly, information is needed so we may determine the amounts of pension cost and other information to be disclosed in our financial statements in conformity with APB Opinion No. 8, as amended by FASB Statement No. 36.

In this connection, please provide our auditors with the following information about our Employees' Pension Plan (list the plans where several plans exist and are accounted for separately) as of the date when you last made an actuarial valuation of our Plan(s):

1. Date of your most recent valuation.
2. Actuarial cost method(s) used.
3. Pension cost for the most recent year, specifically:
 - a. Normal cost.
 - b. Past service cost.
 - c. Vested benefit cost (if applicable).
4. Unfunded prior service cost, if any, at most recent valuation date.
5. Prior service cost arising from amendments to the plan, if any, indicating:
 - a. Date amendment established.
 - b. Initial amount at amendment date.
 - c. Unfunded amount at most recent valuation date.
 - d. Period of amortization.
6. Interest rate used in determining costs.
7. Actuarial present value of vested accumulated plan benefits.
8. Actuarial present value of nonvested accumulated plan benefits.
9. Plan's net assets available for benefits (indicate basis of valuation).
10. Assumed rates of return used in determining the actuarial present values of vested and nonvested accumulated plan benefits.

* This illustrative letter for obtaining pension plan cost actuarial information reflects the requirements of Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 8, Accounting for the Cost of Pension Plans. This letter should be followed if the enterprise is following APB Opinion No. 8. If the enterprise is following FASB Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 87, Employers' Accounting for Pensions, then refer to AAM section 7200.16 for an illustrative letter.

11. Net annual actuarial gain or loss for most recent year, if separately calculated. Indicate method of recognizing such gains and losses in present or future actuarial determinations.
12. Basis and extent of recognition, if any, of unrealized appreciation and depreciation of pension fund investments in actuarial determinations.
13. Minimum age or length of service, if any, used to exclude employees from basis for actuarial determinations, and your estimate of the effect of those exclusions on the pension cost calculations.
14. A description of any changes since your previous review or report in the matters covered by Items 2, 4 and 5 (re: period of amortization), 6, 9 (re: basis of valuation), 11 (re: method of recognition), 12 and 13.
15. A description of any changes in actuarial assumptions and/or cost method used, and their approximate total dollar effect on annual pension cost.
16. A statement as to whether your responses to the above items, in your opinion as actuaries for the Plan(s), have been made in accordance with the related provisions of APB Opinion No. 8, as amended by FASB Statement No. 36. If not, describe the specific difference(s).
17. A statement as to whether, in your opinion, the plan conforms to the requirements of ERISA.

A copy of your report covering the above items will suffice. If some of the above items are not covered in the report, please provide supplementary data.

Please mail your reply directly to our auditors. A stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed for your convenience.

Very truly yours,

(Client's authorized signature)

.16 Pension Plan Actuarial Information*

(Prepared on client's letterhead)

(Date)

(Name of Actuary)

(Address)

Dear.....:

In connection with the audit of our financial statements for the period ending (fiscal year end) by our independent auditors (name, address), please furnish them the information described below as it pertains to the XYZ Pension Plan, which is a defined benefit plan. For your convenience in response to those requests, you may supply pertinent sections, properly signed and dated, of your actuarial report, or pension expense report, if they are available and if they contain the requested information.

A. Please provide a brief description of the following:

1. The employee group covered.
2. The benefit provisions of the plan used in the calculation of the net periodic pension cost for the period and of the accumulated benefit obligation and the projected benefit obligation at the end of the period. Please identify any such benefit provisions that had not taken effect in the year. Please also provide the date of the most recent plan amendment included in your calculation. Please identify any participants or benefits excluded from the calculations, such as benefits guaranteed under an insurance or annuity contract.
3. The plan sponsor's funding policy for the plan.
4. Any significant liabilities other than for benefits, such as for legal or accounting fees.
5. The method and the amortization period, if any, used for the following:
 - a. Calculation of a market-related value of plan assets, if different from the fair value.
 - b. Amortization of any transition asset or obligation.
 - c. Amortization of unrecognized prior service cost.
 - d. Amortization of unrecognized net gain or loss.
6. Any substantive commitments for benefits that exceed the benefits defined by the written plan that are included in the calculations.
7. Determination of the value of any insurance or annuity contracts included in the assets.
8. Nature and effect of significant plan amendments and other significant matters affecting comparability of net periodic pension cost, funded status, and other information for the current period with that for the prior period.
9. The following information relating to the employee census data used in calculating the benefit obligations and pension cost:
 - a. The source and nature of the data is _____ and the date as of which the census data was collected is _____.

* This illustrative letter for obtaining pension plan actuarial information has been updated to reflect the requirements of FASB Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 87, Employers' Accounting for Pensions. This letter may be used if the enterprise is following FASB Statement No. 87. If the enterprise is not yet following FASB Statement No. 87 and is still following Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 8, Accounting for the Cost of Pension Plans, then refer to AAM section 7200.15 for an illustrative letter.

b. The following information concerning participants:

Participants	Number of Persons	Compensation (if applicable)
Currently receiving payments	_____	_____
Active with vested benefits	_____	_____
Terminated with deferred vested benefits	_____	_____
Active without vested benefits	_____	_____
Other (describe)	_____	_____

Note: If information is not available for all the above categories, please indicate the categories that have been grouped and describe any group or groups of participants excluded from the above information.

c. Information for the following individuals contained in the census:

Participants' Name or Number	Age or Birth Date	Sex	Salary	Date Hired or Years of Service
---	------------------------------	------------	---------------	---

Note to Auditor: The auditor should select information from employer records to compare with the census data used by the actuary. In addition, the auditor may wish to have the actuary select certain census data from his files to compare with the employer's records.

B. Please provide the following information on the net periodic pension cost for the period ending on _____ :

- 1. Service cost $ _____
 - 2. Interest cost
 - 3. Actual return on assets
 - 4. Other components
 - a. Net asset gain or (loss) during the period deferred for later recognition
 - b. Amortization of net loss or (gain) from earlier periods
 - c. Amortization of unrecognized prior service cost
 - d. Amortization of the remaining unrecognized net obligation or (asset) existing at the date of the initial application of FASB Statement No. 87—transition obligation or (asset)
 - e. Net total of components
- (a + b + c + d) _____

5. Net periodic pension cost:
(1 + 2 - 3 + 4e) $ _____

6. The above measurement of the net periodic pension cost is based on the following assumptions:
- Weighted-average discount rate _____ %
 - Weighted-average rate of compensation increase _____ %
 - Weighted-average expected long-term rate of return on plan assets _____ %

Please describe the basis on which the above rates were selected and whether the basis is consistent with the prior period.
Please briefly describe the other assumptions used in the above measurement.

7. The calculations of the items shown in B1 to B5 are based on the following:

Asset information at _____
 Census data at _____
 Measurement date (must be not more than three months before the end of the last fiscal year) _____

Please describe any adjustments made to project the census data forward to the measurement date or to project the results calculated at an earlier date to those shown in B1 to B5.

C. Please provide the following information on the benefit obligations for disclosure in the financial statements for the period ending _____:

- | | Estimated |
|--|-------------------|
| 1. Pension Benefit Obligation | |
| a. Accumulated benefit obligation | |
| —vested | |
| —non vested | |
| —total | $ _____ |
| b. Additional benefits based on estimated future salary levels | _____ |
| c. Projected benefit obligation (a + b) | _____ |
| 2. Fair Value of Plan Assets | |
| 3. Unfunded Projected Benefit Obligation:
(1c - 2) | |
| 4. Unrecognized Prior Service Cost | |
| 5. Unrecognized Net Loss or (Gain) | |
| 6. Unrecognized Net Transition Liability or (Asset) | |
| 7. Additional Liability | _____ |
| 8. Accrued or (prepaid) pension cost in the company financial statements
(3 - 4 - 5 - 6 + 7) | $ _____
_____ |
| 9. The above amount of the projected benefit obligation is measured based on the following assumptions: | |
| Weighted-average discount rate | _____ % |
| Weighted-average rate of compensation increase | _____ % |
| Please provide a brief description of the other assumptions used in the measurement. | |
| 10. The calculation of the items shown in C1 to C8 is based on the following: | |
| Asset information at | _____ |
| Census data at | _____ |
| Measurement date (must be not more than three months before the current fiscal year end) | _____ |
| Please describe any adjustments made to project the census data forward to the measurement date or to project the results calculated at an earlier date to those shown in C1 to C8. | |
| 11. Please describe any significant events noted subsequent to the current year's measurement date and as of the date of your reply to this request and the effects of those events, such as a large plant closing, which could materially affect the amounts shown in C1 to C8. | |

D. Please provide an analysis for the period showing beginning amounts, additions, reductions, and ending amounts of the:

1. Projected benefit obligation,
2. Unrecognized prior service cost,
3. Unrecognized net loss (gain), and
4. Net transition obligation (asset).

E. Please provide our independent auditors with descriptions and the amounts of gains or losses from settlements, curtailments or termination benefits during the year, such as:

1. Purchases of annuity contracts,
 2. Lump-sum cash payments to plan participants,
 3. Other irrevocable actions that relieved the company or the plan of primary responsibility for a pension obligation, and eliminates significant risks related to the obligation and assets,
 - i. Any events that significantly reduced the expected years of future service of employees,
 - j. Any events that eliminated for a significant number of employees the accrual of defined benefits for some or all of their future service, or
 6. Any special or contractual termination benefits offered to employees.
- F. Was all of the information above determined in accordance with FASB Statements No. 87 and No. 88 (including the FASB's Guides to Implementation of Statements 87 and 88 and the American Academy of Actuaries', "An Actuary's Guide to Compliance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 87") to the best of your knowledge? If not, please describe any differences.
- G. Describe the nature of your relationship, if any, with the plan or the plan sponsor that may impair or appear to impair the objectivity of your work.

Very truly yours,

.18 Actuary of a PERS for Disclosure in Financial Reports Incorporating the PERS' Financial Statements and/or Actuary of a Single-Employer PERS or an Agent Multiple-Employer PERS for Disclosure in the Financial Reports of a Contributing Governmental Employer or Nonemployer Contributor That Does Not Include the PERS in Its Reporting Entity *

(Prepared on PERS or contributing governmental employer or nonemployer contributor letterhead)

(Name of Actuary of PERS)

(Date)

(Address)

Dear _____:

In connection with the audit of our financial statements for the period ending (fiscal year end) by our independent auditors, (name and address of independent auditors), please furnish directly to them the information described below as it relates to the (name of PERS) and the participation therein of employees of the (name of governmental employer). Also, please provide a copy of the most recent actuarial valuation report.

For your convenience in response to these requests, you may supply pertinent sections, properly signed and dated, of your actuarial report, or pension expense report, if they are available and if they contain the requested information.

If any figures presented herein are estimates, please so indicate and briefly describe the estimation technique used.

A. Please provide a brief description of the following:

1. Types of employees covered and current membership with separate identification of the number of (a) retirees and beneficiaries currently receiving benefits, and terminated employees entitled to benefits but not yet receiving them and (b) full vested, partially vested, and nonvested active employees covered by the plan.
2. If agent or cost-sharing multiple-employer PERS, (name of governmental employer) current-year covered payroll.

B. Please provide, for each of the following participants, the indicated information relating to the employee census data used in performing the actuarial valuation(s) described in C1 and E2. Also, please identify the source, nature, and date as of which the census data was collected.

Participant's Name or Number	Age or Birth Date	Sex	Salary	Date Hired or Years of Service
---	------------------------------	------------	---------------	---

(Note to auditor—Select sample participants from records and list them here.)

C. Please indicate, with respect to the actuarial present value of credited projected benefits (hereinafter referred to as the APV of CPB or "pension benefit obligation")

1. Date of the most recent actuarial valuation in which the APV of CPB was calculated and the date of any subsequent actuarial update.

* Disclosures are required pursuant to GASB Codification of Governmental Accounting and Financial Reporting Standards, paragraphs Pe6.130—.132, P20.123—.127, and .131, as of June 15, 1987.

2. Significant actuarial assumptions used to compute the APV of CPB, including rate of return on investment of present and future assets, projected salary increases due to (a) inflation and (b) merit or seniority, and postretirement benefit increases.
 3. Amount of the entire APV of CPB, for the entire PERS, in total and segregated as follows:
 - a. Retirees and beneficiaries currently receiving benefits and terminated employees entitled to benefits but not yet receiving them.
 - b. Current employees:
 - i. Accumulated employee contributions including allocated investment income, if any.
 - ii. Employer-financed vested.
 - iii. Employer-financed nonvested.
 4. If agent multiple-employer PERS, amount of the APV of CPB applicable to (name of governmental employer) participants, in total and segregated as follows:
 - a. Retirees and beneficiaries currently receiving benefits and terminated employees entitled to benefits but not yet receiving them. (If the pension benefit obligation applicable to retirees and beneficiaries currently receiving benefits, and related net assets available for benefits, are transferred to the PERS as a whole, please state that fact and provide here only the APV of CPB applicable to terminated employees entitled to benefits but not yet receiving them, and related net assets available for benefits.)
 - b. Current employees:
 - i. Accumulated employee contributions including allocated investment income, if any.
 - ii. Employer-financed vested.
 - iii. Employer-financed nonvested.
 5. Net assets available for benefits as of the same date as the pension benefit obligation determined in accordance with the method used to value assets for balance sheet purposes; also identify the method used to value assets.
 6. Explanation, including separate dollar effects on the APV of CPB described in C3 and C4, of any current-year changes in (a) actuarial assumptions or (b) benefit provisions.
- D. Please indicate, with respect to plan assets:
1. Market value of the entire net assets available for benefits, for the entire PERS, on the same date as the APV of CPB.
 2. Amortized cost value of the entire net assets available for benefits, for the entire PERS, on the same date as the APV of CPB, with disclosure of the method used to account for exchanges of "swaps" of securities.
 3. If agent or cost-sharing multiple-employer PERS that is included in the employer's reporting entity, market value of net assets available for benefits applicable to (name of governmental employer) participants on the same date as the APV of CPB. (Do not include net assets available for benefits

 Information on amortized cost values and the method used to account for exchanges or "swaps" of securities need be obtained only if the plan is accounted for in accordance with the requirements of National Council on Governmental Accounting Statements Nos. 1, Governmental Accounting and Financial Reporting Principles, or 6, Pension Accounting and Financial Reporting: Public Employee Retirement Systems, and State and Local Government Employers, as permitted by GASB Statement No. 5, Disclosure of Pension Information by Public Employee Retirement Systems and State and Local Governmental Employers, paragraph 4.

applicable to retirees and beneficiaries currently receiving benefits, if the pension benefit obligation applicable to them is transferred to the PERS as a whole.)

4. If agent or cost-sharing multiple-employer PERS that is included in the employer's reporting entity, amortized cost value of net assets available for benefits applicable to (name of governmental employer) participants on the same date as the APV of CPB, with disclosures of the method used to account for exchanges or "swaps" of securities. (Do not include net assets available for benefits applicable to retirees and beneficiaries currently receiving benefits, if the pension benefit obligation applicable to them is transferred to the PERS as a whole.)

E. Please indicate, with respect to contributions required and contributions made:

1. A brief description of funding policy, including the role of actuarially determined contribution requirements in carrying out that policy.
2. Date of the most recent actuarial valuation performed to compute actuarially determined contribution requirements.
3. Actuarial funding method used to compute actuarially determined contribution requirements and the period and method for amortization of any unfunded actuarial accrued liability.
4. That significant actuarial assumptions used to compute actuarially determined contribution requirements are the same as those used to compute the APV or CPB, or explain the differences.
5. Total actuarially determined contribution requirement for the entire PERS, and the amounts intended to (a) cover normal cost and (b) amortize any unfunded actuarial accrued liability, expressed in dollar amounts and as percentages of current-year covered payroll.
6. Total contributions actually made for the entire PERS by (a) contributing governmental employers or nonemployer contributors and (b) employees, expressed in dollar amounts and as percentages of current-year covered payroll.
7. If agent or cost-sharing multiple-employer PERS that is included in employer's reporting entity, actuarially determined contribution requirements applicable to (name of governmental employer) participants and the amounts intended to (a) cover normal cost and (b) amortize any unfunded actuarial accrued liability, expressed both in dollar amounts and as percentages of current-year covered payroll.
8. If agent or cost-sharing multiple-employer PERS that is included in employer's reporting entity, contributions actually made, applicable to (name of governmental employer) participants, by (name of contributing governmental employer or nonemployer contributor) and by (name of governmental employer) employees, expressed both in dollar amounts and as percentages of current-year covered payroll.
9. Explanations, including the separate dollar effects on the actuarially determined contribution requirements described in E5, E6, E7, and E8 of any current-year changes in (a) actuarial assumptions (b) benefit provisions, (c) actuarial funding method, or (d) other significant factors.

F. Please describe any significant events noted, subsequent to the dates described in C1 and E2 and as of the date of your response to this request, that could materially affect (the auditor should indicate the amount considered material) the information described in A to E. Also describe the effects of those events.

 Information on amortized cost values and the method used to account for exchanges or "swaps" of securities need be obtained only if the plan is accounted for in accordance with the requirements of National Council on Governmental Accounting Statements Nos. 1, Governmental Accounting and Financial Reporting Principles, or 6, Pension Accounting and Financial Reporting: Public Employee Retirement Systems, and State and Local Government Employers, as permitted by GASB Statement No. 5, Disclosure of Pension Information by Public Employee Retirement Systems and State and Local Governmental Employers, paragraph 4.

- G. Please indicate that the information you provide has been determined in accordance with the provisions of GASB Statement No. 5, or explain any exceptions.
- H. Please describe the nature of any relationship you have with the (name of PERS) or (name of contributing governmental employer or nonemployer contributor) that may impair, or appear to impair, the independence and objectivity of your work.
- I. Please advise if notification has been received of a decision to partially or fully terminate the plan and explain the effect of the decision.
- J. Please provide any additional information you consider necessary.

*Inquiries to Legal Counsel*¹

.01 Illustrative Inquiry Letter to Legal Counsel²

(Prepared on client's letterhead—See Note A)

Date (See Note B)

(Name of lawyer)

(Address of lawyer)

Dear

In connection with an audit of our financial statements at (balance sheet date) and for the (period) then ended, management of the Company has prepared, and furnished to our auditors (name and address of auditors), a description and evaluation of certain contingencies, including those set forth below involving matters with respect to which you have been engaged and to which you have devoted substantive attention on behalf of the Company in the form of legal consultation or representation. These contingencies are regarded by management of the Company as material for this purpose (management may indicate a materiality limit if an understanding has been reached with the auditor). Your response should include matters that existed at (balance sheet date) and during the period from that date to the date of your response.

Pending or Threatened Litigation

(excluding unasserted claims)

[Ordinarily the information would include the following: (1) the nature of the litigation, (2) the progress of the case to date, (3) how management is responding or intends to respond to the litigation (for example, to contest the case vigorously or to seek an out-of-court settlement), and (4) an evaluation of the likelihood of an unfavorable outcome and an estimate, if one can be made, of the amount or range of potential loss.]

Please furnish to our auditors such explanation, if any, that you consider necessary to supplement the foregoing information, including an explanation of those matters as to which your views may differ from those stated and an identification of the omission of any pending or threatened litigation, claims, and assessments or a statement that the list of such matters is complete.

Unasserted Claims and Assessments

(considered by management to be probable of assertion, and that, if asserted, would have at least a reasonable possibility of an unfavorable outcome)

[Ordinarily management's information would include the following: (1) the nature of the matter, (2) how management intends to respond if the claim is asserted, and (3) an evaluation of the likelihood of an unfavorable outcome and an estimate, if one can be made, of the amount or range of potential loss.]

¹ If a client has not needed to retain legal counsel, the auditor may express an unqualified opinion on the financial statements even though he has not obtained a letter from legal counsel of the Company. In these circumstances, the auditor should obtain written representation from the Company that legal counsel has not been retained for matters concerning business operations that may involve current or prospective litigation (see AICPA Technical Practice Aids, section 8340.10).

² Extracted from the Appendix to Statement on Auditing Standards No. 12, Inquiry of a Client's Lawyer Concerning Litigation, Claims, and Assessments [AU section 337A]. [See Note B.]

Please furnish to our auditors such explanation, if any, that you consider necessary to supplement the foregoing information, including an explanation of those matters as to which your views may differ from those stated.

We understand that whenever, in the course of performing legal services for us with respect to a matter recognized to involve an unasserted possible claim or assessment that may call for financial statement disclosure, if you have formed a professional conclusion that we should disclose or consider disclosure concerning such possible claim or assessment, as a matter of professional responsibility to us, you will so advise us and will consult with us concerning the question of such disclosure and the applicable requirements of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 5. Please specifically confirm to our auditors that our understanding is correct.

Please specifically identify the nature of and reasons for any limitation on your response.

[The auditor may request the client to inquire about additional matters, for example, unpaid or unbilled charges or specified information on certain contractually assumed obligations of the company, such as guarantees of indebtedness of others.]

Very truly yours,

(Authorized signature for client)

NOTES TO USER:

- (A) Auditors should carefully consider the provisions of SAS No. 12 [AU section 337] in drafting this letter.
- (B) Sending of this letter should be timed so that the lawyer's response is dated as close to the auditor's opinion date as practicable. However, the auditor and client should consider early mailing of a draft inquiry as a convenience for the lawyer in preparing a timely response to the formal inquiry letter.

.02 Illustrative Inquiry Letter to Legal Counsel If Management Has Not Provided Details About Pending or Threatened Litigation

(Prepared on client's letterhead—See Note A)

Date (See Note B)

(Name of lawyer)

(Address of lawyer)

Dear

In connection with an audit of our financial statements at (balance sheet date) and for the (period) then ended, please furnish to our auditors (name and address of auditors), the information requested below with respect to which you have been engaged and to which you have devoted substantive attention on behalf of the Company in the form of legal consultation or representation. Your response should include matters that existed at (balance sheet date) and during the period from that date to the date of your response.

Pending or Threatened Litigation

(excluding unasserted claims)

Please prepare a description of all litigation, claims, and assessments (excluding unasserted claims and assessments) involving amounts exceeding (amount) individually or lesser amounts that exceed (amount) in the aggregate. The description of each case should include—

1. The nature of the litigation.
2. The progress of the case to date.
3. How management is responding or intends to respond to the litigation (e.g., to contest the case vigorously or to seek an out-of-court settlement).
4. An evaluation of the likelihood of an unfavorable outcome and an estimate, if one can be made, of the amount or range of potential loss.

Unasserted Claims and Assessments

We understand that whenever, in the course of performing legal services for us with respect to a matter recognized to involve an unasserted possible claim or assessment that may call for financial statement disclosure, you have formed a professional conclusion that we should disclose or consider disclosure concerning such possible claim or assessment, you will so advise us and will consult with us concerning the question of such disclosure and the applicable requirements of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 5, as a matter of professional responsibility to us. Please specifically confirm to our auditors that our understanding is correct.

We have represented to our auditors that you have not advised us of any unasserted claims or assessments that are probable of assertion and must be disclosed in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 5.

Other Matters

1. Please specifically identify the nature of and reasons for any limitation on your response.
2. Please indicate the amount owed to you for services and expenses (billed and unbilled) at (balance sheet date).

Very truly yours,
(Authorized signature for client)

NOTES TO USER:

- (A) Auditors should carefully consider the provisions of SAS No. 12, Inquiry of a Client's Lawyer Concerning Litigation, Claims, and Assessments [AU section 337] in drafting this letter.
- (B) Sending of this letter should be timed so that the lawyer's response is dated as close to the auditor's opinion date as practicable. However, the auditor and client should consider early mailing of a draft inquiry as a convenience for the lawyer in preparing a timely response to the formal inquiry letter.

.03 Improving Inquiry Techniques

If inquiries to legal counsel are not sufficiently detailed or specific, deficiencies in attorneys' responses may result. A conference between the auditor and the attorney may be necessary to clarify the attorney's written response and SAS No. 12, Inquiry of a Client's Lawyer Concerning Litigation, Claims, and Assessments, paragraph 10 [AU section 337.10] provides for such a conference. However, to improve the auditor's ability to receive all of the information necessary to complete his audit, he may wish to consider including the following matters in an inquiry to legal counsel:

- a. A request that the attorney specify the effective date of his response if it is other than the date of his reply.
 - b. A request that the attorney mail his response so that it will be received by a certain date.
 - c. A request that the nature of any litigation specifically identify (i) the proceedings, (ii) the claim(s) asserted, (iii) the amount of monetary damages sought, or if no amounts are indicated in preliminary case filings, a statement to that effect, and (iv) the objectives sought by the plaintiff, if any, other than monetary or other damages, such as performance or discontinued performance of certain actions.
 - d. A request that the attorney avoid such vague phrases as "meritorious defenses," "without substantial merit," and "reasonable chance" in expressing an opinion on the outcome of litigation.
 - e. If an opinion cannot be expressed on the outcome of litigation, a request that the attorney so state together with his reasons for that position.
 - f. A request that the attorney specify to what extent potential damages are covered by insurance. (It may be possible to obtain the opinion of the insurer's counsel regarding the applicability of insurance coverage.)
 - g. A request that the attorney provide a summary of material litigation, claims, and assessments settled during the period.
 - h. A statement that confirmation of the understanding regarding disclosure of unasserted claims and assessments is an integral part of the audit inquiry and that failure to so confirm will require a follow-up contact.
 - i. A statement that the attorney's response will not be quoted or referred to in the financial statements without first consulting with him.

Representation Letters

.01 Illustrative Representation Letter—Audit of Financial Statements

Introductory Comment (Extracted from the Appendix to SAS No. 19, Client Representations [AU section 333A])

The following letter is presented for illustrative purposes only. The written representations to be obtained should be based on the circumstances of the audit and the nature and basis of presentation of the financial statements being audited. The introductory paragraph should specify the financial statements and periods covered by the auditor's report, for example, "balance sheets of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19X1 and 19X0, and the related statements of income and retained earnings and cash flows for the years then ended." Similarly, representations concerning inventories and sales and purchase commitments would not be obtained if such items are not material to the company's financial position and results of operations or if they are not recorded in the financial statements under a comprehensive basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles, for example, financial statements prepared on the cash basis of accounting.

The illustrative letter assumes that there are no matters requiring specific disclosure to the auditor. If such matters exist, they should be indicated by listing them following the representation, by reference to accounting records or financial statements, or by other similar means. For example, if an event subsequent to the date of the balance sheet has been disclosed in the financial statements, item 14 could be modified as follows: "Except as discussed in Note X to the financial statements, no events have occurred. . . ." Similarly, in appropriate circumstances, item 4 could be modified as follows: "We have no plans or intentions that may materially affect the carrying value or classification of assets and liabilities, except that certain marketable securities have been excluded from current assets based on our intention not to dispose of them, which is supported by the minutes of the December 7, 19X1, meeting of the board of directors."

Certain terms are used in the illustrative letter that are defined elsewhere in authoritative literature, for example, irregularities (SAS No. 53, The Auditor's Responsibility to Detect and Report Errors and Irregularities [AU section 316]) and related parties (SFAS 57, Related Party Disclosures, paragraph 24f [AC R36.406]). To avoid misunderstanding concerning the meaning of such terms, the auditor may wish to furnish those definitions to the client and request that the client include the definitions in the written representations.

The illustrative letter assumes that management and the auditor have reached an understanding on the limits of materiality for purposes of the written representations. However, it should be noted that a materiality limit would not apply for certain representations, as explained in SAS No. 19, paragraph 5 [AU section 333.05].

(Date of Auditor's Report)

(To Independent Auditor)

In connection with your audit of the (identification of financial statements) of (name of client) as of (date) and for the (period of audit) for the purpose of expressing an opinion as to whether the (consolidated) financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position, results of operations, and cash flows of (name of client) in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (other comprehensive basis of accounting), we confirm, to the best of our knowledge and belief, the following representations made to you during your audit.

1. We are responsible for the fair presentation in the (consolidated) financial statements of financial position, results of operations, and cash flows in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (other comprehensive basis of accounting).
2. We have made available to you all—
 - a. Financial records and related data.
 - b. Minutes of the meetings of stockholders, directors, and committees of directors, or summaries of actions of recent meetings for which minutes have not yet been prepared.
3. There have been no—
 - a. Irregularities involving management or employees who have significant roles in the internal control structure.
 - b. Irregularities involving other employees that could have a material effect on the financial statements.
 - c. Communications from regulatory agencies concerning noncompliance with, or deficiencies in, financial reporting practices that could have a material effect on the financial statements.
4. We have no plans or intentions that may materially affect the carrying value or classification of assets and liabilities.
5. The following have been properly recorded or disclosed in the financial statements:
 - a. Related party transactions and related amounts receivable or payable, including sales, purchases, loans, transfers, leasing arrangements, and guarantees.
 - b. Capital stock repurchase options or agreements or capital stock reserved for options, warrants, conversions, or other requirements.
 - c. Arrangements with financial institutions involving compensating balances or other arrangements involving restrictions on cash balances and line-of-credit or similar arrangements.
 - d. Agreements to repurchase assets previously sold.
6. There are no—
 - a. Violations or possible violations of laws or regulations whose effects should be considered for disclosure in the financial statements or as a basis for recording a loss contingency.
 - b. Other material liabilities or gain or loss contingencies that are required to be accrued or disclosed by Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 5 [AC section C59].
7. There are no unasserted claims or assessments that our lawyer has advised us are probable of assertion and must be disclosed in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 5 [AC section C59].
8. There are no material transactions that have not been properly recorded in the accounting records underlying the financial statements.
9. Provision, when material, has been made to reduce excess or obsolete inventories to their estimated net realizable value.
10. The company has satisfactory title to all owned assets, and there are no liens or encumbrances on such assets nor has any asset been pledged.
11. Provision has been made for any material loss to be sustained in the fulfillment of, or from inability to fulfill, any sales commitments.

12. Provision has been made for any material loss to be sustained as a result of purchase commitments for inventory quantities in excess of normal requirements or at prices in excess of the prevailing market prices.

13. We have complied with all aspects of contractual agreements that would have a material effect on the financial statements in the event of noncompliance.

14. No events have occurred subsequent to the balance sheet date that would require adjustment to, or disclosure in, the financial statements.

.02 Illustrative Representation Letter—Review of Financial Statements

Introductory Comment

For reviews of financial statements, the following guidance is set forth in Statement on Standards for Accounting and Review Services (SSARS) No. 1, Compilation and Review of Financial Statements, paragraph 31 [AR section 100.31]:

The accountant may wish to obtain a representation letter from the owner, manager, or chief executive officer, and if appropriate, the chief financial officer.

The following comment is set forth in SSARS No. 1, Appendix D [AR section 100.55]:

A review of financial statements consists principally of inquiries of company personnel and analytical procedures applied to financial data. Because a review does not contemplate tests of accounting records and of responses to inquiries by obtaining corroborating evidential matter, among other things, the accountant may consider it advisable to obtain a written representation from his client to confirm the oral representations made to him. The following representation letter is included for illustrative purposes only. The accountant may decide, based on the circumstances of his review engagement, that other matters should be specifically included in the letter and that some of the representations included in the illustrative letter are not necessary.

Illustrative Representation Letter (from SSARS No. 1, Appendix D)

(Prepared on client's letterhead)

(Date of Accountant's Report)

(To the Accountant)

In connection with your review of the (identification of financial statements) of (name of client) as of (date) and for the (period of review) for the purpose of expressing limited assurance that there are no material modifications that should be made to the statements in order for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, we confirm, to the best of our knowledge and belief, the following representations made to you during your review.

1. The financial statements referred to above present the financial position, results of operations, and cash flows of (name of client) in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. In that connection, we specifically confirm that—
 - a. The company's accounting principles, and the practices and methods followed in applying them, are as disclosed in the financial statements.
 - b. There have been no changes during the (period reviewed) in the company's accounting principles and practices.
 - c. We have no plans or intentions that may materially affect the carrying value or classification of assets and liabilities.
 - d. There are no material transactions that have not been properly reflected in the financial statements.
 - e. There are no material losses (such as from obsolete inventory or purchase or sales commitments) that have not been properly accrued or disclosed in the financial statements.

- f. There are no violations or possible violations of laws or regulations whose effects should be considered for disclosure in the financial statements or as a basis for recording a loss contingency, and there are no other material liabilities or gain or loss contingencies that are required to be accrued or disclosed.
 - g. The company has satisfactory title to all owned assets, and there are no liens or encumbrances on such assets nor has any asset been pledged.
 - h. There are no related party transactions or related amounts receivable or payable that have not been properly disclosed in the financial statements.
 - i. We have complied with all aspects of contractual agreements that would have a material effect on the financial statements in the event of noncompliance.
 - j. No events have occurred subsequent to the balance sheet date that would require adjustment to, or disclosure in, the financial statements.
2. We have advised you of all actions taken at meetings of stockholders, board of directors, and committees of the board of directors (or other similar bodies, as applicable) that may affect the financial statements.
3. We have responded fully to all inquiries made to us by you during your review.

.03 Illustrative Representation Letter—Personal Financial Statements

[Date of accountant's report]

[To the accountant]

In connection with your [compilation, review, or audit] of the statement of financial condition and the related statement of changes in net worth of James and Jane Person as of [date] and for the [period] then ended for the purpose of [description], we confirm, to the best of our knowledge and belief, the following representations made to you during your [compilation, review, or audit].

1. We are responsible for the fair presentation in the statements of financial condition and changes in net worth in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. All assets are presented at their estimated current values and all liabilities are presented at their estimated current amounts, which have been determined in accordance with guidelines promulgated by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. (Because of our limited expertise with generally accepted accounting principles, including financial statement disclosure, we have engaged you to advise us in fulfilling that responsibility.)
2. We have made all financial records and related data available to you. We have not knowingly withheld from you any financial records or related data that in our judgment would be relevant to your [compilation, review, or audit].
3. The following have been properly recorded or disclosed in the financial statements:
 - a. Related party transactions and related amounts receivable or payable, including sales, purchases, loans, transfers, leasing arrangements, and guarantees. I understand that related parties include members of my family as well as business entities in which I, or members of my family, have an investment that allows the exercise of control or significant influence.
 - b. Arrangements with financial institutions involving compensating balances or other arrangements involving restrictions on cash balances and line-of-credit or similar arrangements.
 - c. Agreements to repurchase assets previously sold.
4. There are no violations or possible violations of laws or regulations that have come to our attention whose effects are regarded as significant enough to be considered for disclosure in the financial statements or as a basis for recording a loss contingency, and there are no other material liabilities or gain or loss contingencies that are required to be accrued or disclosed.
5. There are no material transactions or balances that have not been properly recorded or disclosed in the financial statements.
6. We have satisfactory title to all owned assets, and there are no liens or encumbrances on such assets nor have any assets been pledged.
7. We have not retained an attorney for matters that may involve current or prospective litigation, and we are not aware of any pending or threatened litigation, claims, or assessments that should be disclosed in the financial statements.
8. We have complied with all aspects of contractual agreements that would have a material effect on the financial statements in the event of noncompliance.
9. No events have occurred subsequent to the date of the statement of financial condition that would require adjustment to, or disclosure in, the financial statements.

10. We have responded fully to all inquiries made to us by you during the engagement.

Introduction

.01 Some of the material presented in this chapter has been taken from the AICPA MAP Handbook.¹ It is presented as an aid to interested parties. The number and complexity of the forms used will vary from firm to firm, engagement to engagement. Their use should be based on the needs of the client, the needs of the firm and the complexity of the engagement.

.02 The various exhibits are presented for guidance only. They are not intended to be a definitive statement of what is required for each engagement, since specific engagements might require a greater or lesser degree of documentation.

Importance of the Supervision and Review

.03 The supervision and review of work are requirements far more vital and demanding than a mere obligation to perform an agreed assignment satisfactorily. These higher requirements stem directly from the fact that CPAs are engaged by clients to perform personal services of a professional character. The accountant must be sure that the service rendered is performed according to the explicit standards of the profession. Performance of various phases of an engagement may be delegated to subordinates, but responsibility for competence cannot be. When tasks are delegated, comprehensive internal supervision and review are essential.

.04 It is obvious that there is a need to review the work on the engagement, since responsibility for its performance rests upon the individual practitioner or the accounting firm issuing the report. The reviewer should check that the performance of duties delegated to subordinates has been accurate and thorough, that the engagement has been completed in accord with the terms governing it, and that significant accounting and auditing questions raised during the audit have been properly resolved.

.05 A review also serves to guard against errors of principle, judgment, and mathematics. Accountants are subject to the ever-present chance of error; guarding against it must always be uppermost in their minds. This gives added importance to the use of certain formal and standard review procedures. See AAM section 9210 for an illustrative partner's engagement review program.

Authoritative Literature

.06 In the most general sense, Rule 201(c) (ET section 201.01(c)) of the AICPA Code of Professional Conduct (which applies to all major areas of accounting practice) requires engagements to be adequately planned and supervised. In the case of audits, the following Statements on Auditing Standards (SAS) provide specific guidance on supervising and reviewing audit engagements:

- a. SAS No. 22, Planning and Supervision (AU section 311), establishes broad requirements for review of the work of assistants.
- b. SAS No. 41, Working Papers (AU section 339), establishes requirements for documenting the supervision of work performed.
- c. SAS No. 56, Analytical Procedures (AU section 329), provides guidance on the use of analytical procedures and requires their use in both the planning and review of audits.

- d. SAS No. 57, Auditing Accounting Estimates (AU section 342), requires the auditor to evaluate the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management in the context of the financial statements taken as a whole. When planning and performing procedures to evaluate accounting estimates, the auditor should consider, with an attitude of professional skepticism, both subjective and objective factors on which estimates are based.
- e. SAS No. 59, The Auditor's Consideration of an Entity's Ability to Continue as a Going Concern (AU section 341), requires the auditor to evaluate whether there is substantial doubt about an entity's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time, not to exceed one year beyond the date of the financial statements being audited.
- f. SAS No. 60, Communication of Internal Control Structure Related Matters Noted in an Audit (AU section 325), requires the auditor to report significant deficiencies in the control environment, accounting system, and control procedures to management and the boards of directors or audit committee.
- g. SAS No. 61, Communication With Audit Committees (AU section 380), requires the auditor to ensure that the following matters have been communicated to those who have responsibility for oversight of the financial reporting process:
 - 1. The level of responsibility the auditor assumed for matters under generally accepted auditing standards.
 - 2. The methods used to account for significant unusual transactions and the effect of significant accounting policies in controversial or emerging areas for which there is a lack of authoritative literature or consensus.
 - 3. The process used by management in formulating accounting estimates and the basis for the auditor's conclusions regarding the reasonableness of those estimates.
 - 4. Adjustments arising from the audit that could have a significant effect on the entity's financial reporting process.
 - 5. The level of responsibility the auditor assumes for other information included in documents containing audited financial statements.
 - 6. Any disagreements with management, whether or not satisfactorily resolved, about matters that could be significant to the entity's financial statements or the auditor's report.
 - 7. The auditor's views of consultations with other accountants about significant auditing and accounting matters.
 - 8. Any major issues that were discussed with management in connection with the initial or recurring retention of the auditor including, among other matters, any discussions regarding the application of accounting principles and auditing standards.
 - 9. Any serious difficulties encountered in dealing with management related to the performance of the audit.

.07 In addition, the Quality Control Standard No. 1, System of Quality Control for a CPA Firm (QC section 10), provides that a CPA firm shall have a system of quality control. One of the elements of a quality control system discussed in this standard is supervision. Supervision as an element of quality control is defined as policies and procedures for the conduct and supervision of work to provide that the firm's work meets its standard of quality.

Review Organization

.08 With respect to review responsibilities, practices are not uniform. Some firms have one partner review all reports issued from the office. In such cases, this partner rarely participates in the field work. Other firms hold each partner responsible for certain engagements and this responsibility, depending upon the size of the firm, can range from field supervision to reviewing and signing the reports.

.09 Some firms can justify a separate review department. While others cannot afford this functional division of duties, neither can they afford to omit any of the review procedures, including some form of final reading of reports before they are typed.

Firm Policy and Procedures Regarding Supervision and Review

.10 The foundation of good supervision is firm policies and procedures on the conduct and supervision of work. Some examples of such policies are:

1. Provide procedures for planning engagements.
2. Provide procedures for maintaining the quality of work performed.
3. Provide procedures for reviewing engagement workpapers and reports.

.11 Audit planning is discussed in AAM section 3000, Engagement Planning and Administration.

.12 Procedures for maintaining the firm's standards of quality work performed may include:

1. Adequate supervision at all organizational levels and provide reporting that monitors the extent of supervision.
2. Reports that highlight audit time budget deviations with explanations and comments on whether the assessment of the control structure needs to be reevaluated.
3. Guidelines on the form and content of working papers.
4. An attitude of professional skepticism when faced with conditions, circumstances or results of analytical procedures that differ from the auditor's expectation.
5. Standardized forms, checklists, and questionnaires that can be tailored, as appropriate, to fit unique client circumstances.
6. Procedures for resolving differences of professional judgment.

.13 Procedures for reviewing engagement working papers and reports may include:

1. Guidelines for performing and documenting working paper review. Guidelines may require that:
 - a. Reviewers have appropriate competence and responsibility.
 - b. Work is complete and in conformity with firm policy.
 - c. Reviews are documented in a uniform manner:
 1. Reviewer must initial key workpapers.
 2. A reviewer's questionnaire must be completed.
 3. A reviewer's memorandum must be completed.
 4. Firm standard review checklists are followed.
2. Guidelines for performing and documenting report review. Guidelines may require that:

- a. Both the evidence of the work performed and conclusions contained in the workpapers support the report.
- b. The report conforms to professional standards and firm policy (SAS No. 58 [AU section 508]).
- c. The report is reviewed by someone with no other responsibility for the engagement.

.14 Once firm policies and procedures are in place, including development of appropriate forms and checklists, supervision can be applied more effectively.

Phases of Supervision and Review

.15 There are different phases in the process of supervision and review. The first phase is the supervision and review of the fieldwork. Supervision includes:

- a. Instruction and training of audit staff.
- b. Providing the audit staff with an efficient and effective approach to the audit.
- c. Keeping informed of significant problems encountered.
- d. Reviewing the work performed.
- e. Reviewing the time spent compared with budget.
- f. Dealing with professional differences of opinion among firm personnel.

.16 In larger engagements, the audit team is generally structured to allow much of the responsibility for detailed supervision of new assistants to be delegated to more experienced staff with sufficient competence. Larger engagements may require more formal procedures to assure that the engagement partner is kept informed on a timely basis of significant auditing and accounting issues that are encountered. The engagement partner needs to assure that the audit plan remains appropriate in light of identified issues.

.17 Another phase of the review process is the overall review stage at the completion of the audit. This phase assesses the conclusions reached and evaluates the overall financial statement presentation.

Supervision and Review of the Fieldwork

.18 The objectives of this phase of supervision and review are to assure that:

1. The audit plan is either being followed or has been appropriately revised.
2. The audit evidence is valid, relevant, sufficient, and appropriately documented.
3. If conditions, circumstances, or results of analytical procedures differ adversely from the auditor's expectation, the auditor has considered the reasons for such differences. The firm's procedures for reassessing the planned audit scope and reassessing control risk should be followed.
4. The audit objectives were attained and conclusions properly formed concerning the validity of the individual assertions tested.
5. Results and conclusions were summarized and documented in a manner to enable the firm to form an opinion on the financial statements and communicate reportable conditions (SAS No. 60 [AU section 325]).

.19 Audit team members should be instructed as to:

1. Their responsibilities:
 - a. To perform their work in accordance with professional standards and firm policy.

- b. To organize their work in an effective and efficient manner.
 - c. To give timely notification to their supervisor of engagement problems both in the results of tests and in difficulties meeting engagement budgets.
 - d. To maintain an attitude of professional skepticism throughout the audit.
2. The objectives of the procedures that they are to perform.
 3. Matters that may affect the nature, extent, and timing of tests that they are to perform:
 - a. Nature of the entity's business.
 - b. Possible accounting and auditing problems.
 - c. Risk that errors and irregularities may cause the financial statements to contain a material misstatement.
 - d. Assessed level of inherent and control risk.
 4. Procedures that allow audit staff members to document their disagreement with a disputed audit conclusion if they believe it necessary, after appropriate consultation, to disassociate themselves from the resolution of the disagreement. (If this occurs, the basis for the final resolution should also be documented.)
- .20 The detailed review of workpapers by an in-charge of an assistant may contain several of these steps:
- a. Briefly review applicable section of last year's working papers.
 - b. Read relevant section of audit program.
 - c. Compare this year's account balances with last year's.
 - d. Scan workpapers and read conclusions.
 - e. Check that each workpaper is properly headed, initialed, and cross-referenced to the working trial balance.
 - f. Assure that amounts agree with the amounts in the working trial balance and have been traced to the general ledger.
 - g. Check the mechanical and arithmetical accuracy of the working paper. Below are some examples:
 1. Cross reference figures appearing in more than one place in the workpapers.
 2. Test important calculations in the working papers, such as:
 - a. Accruals for interest income and expense.
 - b. Accruals and provisions for state and federal income taxes.
 - c. Accruals for pension and profit sharing plans.
 - d. Accrued bonuses.
 - e. Depreciation.
 - f. Inventory price testing.
 - g. Installment sale income.
 - h. Calculations with respect to leases.

- i. Earnings per share.
 - j. Compliance with loan agreement restrictions.
 - k. Figures included in notes.
- h. Assure that the workpaper evidences the performance of the procedures required by the audit program.
- i. Check that all steps in the audit program have been initialed and dated.
- j. If the auditor has determined that an audit adjustment is or may be an irregularity but has also determined that the effect on the financial statements could not be material, the auditor should:
- 1. Determine that the matter has been referred to an appropriate level of management that is at least one level above those involved.
 - 2. Be satisfied that, in view of the organizational position of the likely perpetrator, the irregularity has no implications for other aspects of the audit or that those implications have been adequately considered.
- k. If the auditor has determined that an audit adjustment is, or may be, an irregularity and has determined that the effect could be material or has been unable to evaluate the potential materiality, the auditor should determine that:
- 1. The implications for other aspects of the audit have been considered.
 - 2. Discussions with the appropriate level of management as to the matter and the approach to further investigate the irregularity have been performed.
 - 3. Sufficient competent evidential matter to determine whether, in fact, material irregularities exist and, if so, their effect has been obtained.
 - 4. If appropriate, suggestions that the client consult with legal counsel on matters concerning questions of law have been made.
- l. Assure that all problems and adjustments were properly documented in accordance with firm policy.

.21 The detailed review of audit procedures performed by an in-charge accountant may contain several of these steps:

- a. Determine that the auditor's understanding of the internal control structure has been obtained and appropriately documented (SAS No. 55 [AU section 319]).
- b. Determine that there has been an evaluation of the entity's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time (SAS No. 59 [AU section 341]).
- c. Ascertain that analytical procedures were performed at both the planning and final review stages of the audit (SAS No. 56 [AU section 329]).
- d. Determine that all accounting estimates that could be material to the financial statements have been developed and that the accounting estimates are reasonable in the context of the financial statements taken as a whole (SAS No. 57 [AU section 342]).
- e. Determine that if the auditor becomes aware of information concerning a possible illegal act, the auditor has obtained an understanding of:
 - 1. the nature of the act;
 - 2. the circumstances in which it occurred; and,

3. sufficient other information to evaluate the effect on the financial statements.

(SAS No. 54 [AU section 317])

f. Determine that, if the auditor concludes that an illegal act has or is likely to have occurred, the auditor has considered:

1. the effect on the financial statements;
2. the implications for other aspects of the audit.

(SAS No. 54 [AU section 317])

g. Assure that there is an understanding of the reasons for any variation between time spent and the audit time budget, in particular any variances that would change the firm's assessed level of risk or assessment of risk of material misstatement in the financial statements.

Overall Review Phase

.22 In practice, there are many variations in the overall review phase of the audit. These variations are due to the differences in client size and complexity, the size of the audit team assigned to the audit and their relative qualifications and individual firm requirements.

.23 The timing of the overall review should take place just prior to the conclusion of the fieldwork. This is to enable the reviewer to resolve problems and expand audit procedures which may be necessitated if any problems arise.

.24 In addition to determining that the technical aspects of the audit are properly documented, the overall review should also include the following:

- a. Read the draft financial statements and notes and perform analytical procedures considering:
 1. The adequacy of evidence gathered in response to unusual or unexpected balances identified in planning the audit or in the course of the audit.
 2. Unusual or unexpected balances, conditions, or relationships that were not previously expected.
- b. Review workpapers where the reviewer is aware of particular concerns for the client.
- c. Review possible journal entry schedule along with possible disposition.
- d. Review consultation forms and in-charge memos.
- e. Resolve concerns of the in-charge accountant.
- f. Resolve any professional disagreements among staff relating to the audit.

.25 The reviewer needs to conclude that:

- a. The engagement was performed in accordance with the engagement letter.
- b. The audit plan was adequate and fully executed.
- c. All review points have been cleared.
- d. The engagement has been completed in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, generally accepted accounting principles, and firm policy including quality control policies and procedures.
- e. The reviewer agrees with audit conclusions and the resolution of exceptions.
- f. Resolution of issues were fully documented.
- g. The various reports were properly prepared and justified by the evidence.

AAM Section 9210

Partner's Engagement Review Program

	Yes	No	N/A
I. Functional Areas
A. .010 Independence
1. Was any evidence noted during the audit which may indicate impaired independence (including a lack of objectivity or threatened litigation), and if so, was the matter identified and appropriately resolved?	_____	_____	_____
2. If the firm was not independent, was the lack of independence disclosed in a report limited to a disclaimer of opinion for a public company, or if applicable, to a compilation report for a nonpublic company?	_____	_____	_____
3. Was timely and appropriate assurance of independence of other firms engaged to perform segments of the engagement obtained?	_____	_____	_____
4. For non-SEC clients, were the fees for the prior year's services paid prior to issuance of the report for the current engagement?	_____	_____	_____
5. For SEC clients, if the fees for the prior year's services were not paid prior to the commencement of the current engagement, were the SEC rules for unpaid professional fees adhered to?	_____	_____	_____
B. .020 Assigning Personnel to Engagements
1. Were scheduling and staffing requirements approved by a partner on a timely basis?	_____	_____	_____
2. Is the level of experience of the personnel assigned and/or supervision appropriate for the auditor's assessment of the level of risk for the engagement?	_____	_____	_____
C. .030 Consultation
1. When situations arose in the engagement which, because of firm policy, require consultation, was appropriate consultation made and documented?	_____	_____	_____
2. If the engagement records indicated a difference of opinion between engagement personnel and a specialist or other consultant, was the difference resolved in accordance with firm policy and appropriately documented?	_____	_____	_____
3. Were the considerations involved in the resolution of the differences of opinion mentioned in item 2 above appropriately documented?	_____	_____	_____
D. .040 Supervision
1. Does it appear that audit planning was adequately documented in the working papers, including any changes in the original plan?	_____	_____	_____
2. Were appropriate personnel assigned to the engagement involved in the planning process?	_____	_____	_____
3. Was background information developed or, if information was obtained from prior engagements, was it updated for changed circumstances (e.g., proposed work program, manpower requirements, etc.)?	_____	_____	_____
4. Did the partner (or manager) approve the overall audit plan (including audit program) as the final planning step and convey his approval or modifications to the engagement staff?	_____	_____	_____
5. Does it appear that adequate supervision was provided considering the background and experience of personnel assigned to the engagement?	_____	_____	_____
6. Does it appear that hours charged by the partner and manager were both adequate and appropriately timed to provide for planning and supervision as the job progressed?	_____	_____	_____
7. Were the firm's guidelines complied with regarding the form and content of audit working papers?	_____	_____	_____

	Yes	No	N/A
8. Were all forms, checklists, or questionnaires, if any, required by firm policy for the following areas adequately completed and modified, where appropriate, for the engagement:
a. Consideration of the internal control structure?
b. Audit work programs?
c. Financial statement disclosure?
d. Time budgets and progress reports?
e. Working papers and financial statement reviews?
9. If standardized forms, etc., were not used for any of the above areas, is there other adequate substitute documentation?
10. Was the guidance given by the applicable industry audit and accounting guide considered during the engagement?
11. Were differences of professional opinion resolved in accordance with firm policy?
12. Was an appropriate review made of the working papers, by a person whose position in the firm is commensurate with that responsibility, to determine that work performed is complete and conforms to professional standards and firm policy?
13. Was an appropriate pre-issuance review made of the report on audit engagements where required by firm policy, by a reviewer whose position in the firm is commensurate with that responsibility and who has no other responsibility for the engagement, to determine that the report conforms to professional standards and firm policy?
14. Does it appear that planning and supervision were in compliance with SAS No. 22 (AU section 311)?
E. .050 Professional Development
1. Does it appear that there was adequate on-the-job training (consider such things as pre- and post-audit conferences, tour of client's facilities, monitoring staff progress, etc.)?
F. .060 Acceptance and Continuance of Clients
1. Did the firm comply with its guidelines for acceptance and continuance of clients?
II. General Procedures
A. .070 General
1. In planning the audit engagement, were the following matters properly considered:
a. Matters affecting the environment in which the entity operates, such as accounting practices, economic conditions, government regulations, contractual obligations and technological changes? (SAS No. 22 [AU section 311])
b. Matters affecting the entity's operations, such as legal organization and types of services? (SAS No. 22 [AU section 311])
c. Preliminary judgment about materiality levels for audit purposes? (SAS No. 47 [AU section 312])
d. Consideration of the internal control structure? (SAS No. 55 [AU section 319])
e. Conditions that may require extension or modification of audit tests, such as the possibility of material errors or irregularities and management's ability to override controls? (SAS No. 53 [AU section 316])
f. Other audit risks?
2. If the firm succeeded a predecessor accountant, did the firm:
a. Communicate with the predecessor accountant to ascertain whether there were disagreements between the predecessor accountant and the entity's management on accounting or auditing matters and consider the implications of such matters in accepting the client?

	Yes	No	N/A
b. Make other inquiries of the predecessor accountant on significant matters?	_____	_____	_____
c. Satisfy itself on the fair presentation of opening balances, such as by reviewing the predecessor accountant's working papers?	_____	_____	_____
3. Did the firm obtain an understanding of the internal control structure which consists of the control environment, the accounting system, and control procedures? (SAS No. 55 [AU section 319])	_____	_____	_____
a. Was the understanding of the internal control structure documented? (SAS No. 55 [AU section 319])	_____	_____	_____
b. Did the firm assess the control risk? (SAS No. 55 [AU section 319])	_____	_____	_____
c. If the firm assessed control risk at below maximum level:
(1) Were specific internal control structure policies and procedures relevant to specific assertions that are likely to prevent or detect material misstatements identified? (SAS No. 55 [AU section 319])	_____	_____	_____
(2) Were adequate tests of controls to evaluate the effectiveness of such policies and procedures performed to support the assessed level of control risk? (SAS No. 55 [AU section 319])	_____	_____	_____
d. If the client used computer processing in significant accounting applications, did the assessment of risk in the internal control structure include an evaluation of the extent, as well as the complexity of that processing, including those, if any, of an outside service center? (SAS Nos. 44, 48, and 55 [AU sections 324, 311, and 319])	_____	_____	_____
e. If the firm relied on the internal control structure at a service organization, was a service auditor's report obtained and appropriately considered? (SAS No. 44 [AU section 314])	_____	_____	_____
4. Was audit planning appropriately documented?	_____	_____	_____
5. Was a written audit program prepared? (SAS No. 22 [AU section 311])	_____	_____	_____
a. Was it responsive to the needs of the engagement identified during the planning process and was it developed in light of the internal control structure? (SAS No. 55 [AU section 319])	_____	_____	_____
b. Was consideration given to applicable assertions in developing audit objectives and in designing substantive tests? (SAS No. 31, paragraphs 9 through 13 [AU section 326.09—.13])	_____	_____	_____
c. Were tests considered in light of SAS No. 45 (AU section 334) regarding related party transactions?	_____	_____	_____
d. If conditions changed during the course of the audit, was the audit program modified as appropriate in the circumstances?	_____	_____	_____
6. If statistical or nonstatistical sampling was used in test of controls (SAS No. 39, paragraphs 31 through 42 [AU section 350.31—.42]):
a. In planning the sampling application, was appropriate consideration given to the relationship of the sample to the objective of the test, tolerable rate, allowable risk of assessing control risk too low and likely rate of deviations?	_____	_____	_____
b. Was the sample selected in such a way that it could be expected to be representative of the population?	_____	_____	_____
c. Were the results of the sample evaluated as to their effect on the nature, timing, and extent of planned substantive procedures?	_____	_____	_____
d. In evaluating the sample, was appropriate consideration given to items for which the planned test or appropriate alternative procedure could not be performed, for example, because the documentation was missing?	_____	_____	_____
e. Was the documentation of the foregoing considerations in accordance with firm policy?	_____	_____	_____
7. If statistical or nonstatistical sampling was used for substantive tests of details (SAS No. 39, paragraphs 15 through 30 [AU section 350.15—.30]):

	Yes	No	N/A
a. In planning the sampling application, was appropriate consideration given to the relationship of the sample to the audit objective, preliminary judgments about materiality levels, auditor's allowable risk of incorrect acceptance, and characteristics of the population?	_____	_____	_____
b. Was the sample selected in such a way that it could be expected to be representative of the population?	_____	_____	_____
c. Were the misstatement results of the sample projected to the items from which the sample was selected?	_____	_____	_____
d. In evaluating the sample, was appropriate consideration given to items for which the planned substantive tests or appropriate alternate procedures could not be performed?	_____	_____	_____
e. In the evaluation of whether the financial statements may be materially misstated, was appropriate consideration given, in the aggregate, to projected misstatement results from all audit sampling applications and to all known misstatements from nonsampling applications?	_____	_____	_____
f. Was the documentation of the foregoing considerations in accordance with firm policy?	_____	_____	_____
8. Were the guidelines of SAS No. 56, Analytical Procedures (AU section 329), followed in the performance of analytical procedures for:
a. The planning of the audit?	_____	_____	_____
b. Use as a substantive test?	_____	_____	_____
c. Overall review of the audit?	_____	_____	_____
9. Did the firm obtain timely and appropriate responses from the auditee's attorney concerning litigation, claims, and assessments? (SAS No. 12 [AU section 337])	_____	_____	_____
10. Have all procedures called for in the audit program been signed?	_____	_____	_____
11. Have all questions, exceptions, or notes, if any, posed during the audit been followed up and resolved, including consideration of the views obtained from responsible officials of the organization, program, activity, or function audited concerning the auditor's findings, conclusions, and recommendations?	_____	_____	_____
12. Did the firm obtain a timely appropriate letter of representation from management? (SAS No. 19 [AU section 333])	_____	_____	_____
13. Does it appear that appropriate consideration was given to all past adjustments and to the risk that the current period's financial statements are materially misstated when prior-period likely misstatements are considered with likely misstatements arising in the current period? (SAS No. 47 [AU section 312])	_____	_____	_____
14. Were errors, irregularities, or illegal acts, if any, followed up in accordance with SAS Nos. 53 and 54 (AU sections 316 and 317)?	_____	_____	_____
15. Have reportable conditions, if any, in the internal control structure been communicated to the audit committee or to individuals with a level of authority and responsibility equivalent to an audit committee in organizations that do not have one? (SAS No. 60 [AU section 325])	_____	_____	_____
16. If required by firm policy, was an appropriate engagement letter issued?	_____	_____	_____
17. Were communications of internal control structure related matters issued in accordance with SAS No. 60 (AU section 325)?	_____	_____	_____
18. If consideration was given to the work of internal auditors in determining the scope of the audit, was it done in accordance with SAS No. 9 (AU section 322)?	_____	_____	_____
19. If specialized skills were used (e.g., computer auditing, statistical sampling, etc.), were they properly evaluated by persons with training in these areas? (SAS No. 39 [AU section 350])	_____	_____	_____
20. Did the planning and execution of the engagement include an assessment of the risk of errors and irregularities and management's ability to override control procedures? (SAS No. 53 [AU section 316])	_____	_____	_____
21. Did the audit strategy and expected conduct and scope of the audit reflect the following assessments:	_____	_____	_____

	Yes	No	N/A
a. The risk of material misstatement in the financial statements?	_____	_____	_____
b. The risk of management misrepresentation?	_____	_____	_____
22. Was the audit designed to provide reasonable assurance of detecting material misstatements?	_____	_____	_____
23. If it has been determined that an audit adjustment is, or may be, an irregularity but it has also been determined that the effect on the financial statements could not be material, has the following been performed:
a. Referral of the matter to an appropriate level of management that is at least one level above those involved?	_____	_____	_____
b. Obtain satisfaction that, in view of the organizational position of the likely perpetrator, the irregularity has no implications for other aspects of the audit or that those implications have been adequately considered?	_____	_____	_____
24. If it has been determined that an audit adjustment is, or may be, an irregularity and has either determined that the effect could be material or has been unable to evaluate the potential materiality, has the following been performed:
a. Consideration of the implications for other aspects of the audit?	_____	_____	_____
b. Discussions of the matter and the approach to further investigate the irregularity with an appropriate level of management that is at least one level above those involved?	_____	_____	_____
c. Has sufficient competent evidential matter been obtained to determine whether, in fact, material irregularities exist and, if so, their effect?	_____	_____	_____
d. If appropriate, suggestions that the client consult with legal counsel on matters concerning questions of law?	_____	_____	_____
25. When it has been concluded that an illegal act has or is likely to have occurred, has the following been considered:
a. The effect on the financial statements?	_____	_____	_____
b. The implications for other aspects of the audit?	_____	_____	_____
c. Communication with the audit committee?	_____	_____	_____
d. The effect on the auditor's report?	_____	_____	_____
26. If the engagement included the use of the work (domestic or international) of another office, correspondent, or affiliate:
a. Do the instructions to the other office or firm appear adequate?	_____	_____	_____
b. Does it appear that control exercised over the work of others through supervision and review was adequate?	_____	_____	_____
c. Was there appropriate follow-up of open matters?	_____	_____	_____
d. In those cases where another firm is used, were appropriate inquiries made as to its professional reputation?	_____	_____	_____
27. Does the firm's disclosure checklist document that the audit report is properly prepared and that the financial statements are fairly stated?	_____	_____	_____
28. Were matters related to the conduct of the audit communicated to those who have responsibility for oversight of the financial reporting process? (SAS No. 61 [AU section 380])?	_____	_____	_____

Report Processing

Drafting the Report

.01 The only tangible evidence a client receives of the CPA's work is the written report. Since weeks or months of effort may have been spent in its preparation (for which the client pays a substantial fee), it is only prudent that every effort be made to insure the superior quality of its presentation.

.02 While most financial statements do not offer the opportunity for creativity in writing style, the effectiveness of many special reports is influenced by the quality of the writing. Clarity and propriety in an accountant's report are not achieved through use of long words, technical language or complicated reasoning, but through simple language used to present important thoughts, supported by documentation. Proper grammar and sentence structure improve readability. Effective use of forceful words with smooth transitions between sentences will help hold the reader's interest. If the subject matter is of deep concern to management and if management has respect for the auditor's opinion, it is likely that the recommendations will be followed by action, especially if the author communicates effectively. This is particularly true where the report is to be the basis for a management decision.

Uniformity

.03 Strict uniformity may stifle creative thinking, but a consistent format adds quality to the written report.

1. The client's name should appear at the top of every statement with identical spelling and punctuation. The certificate of incorporation should be inspected to determine the exact name of the corporation. Accuracy in seemingly small matters, such as whether "the" is part of the name, the word "Company" or "Incorporated" is abbreviated or spelled out, or commas are part of the name, is important to the accountant's reputation.
2. Descriptive phraseology should be uniform. If the phrase "cost of goods sold" is used in the income statement, then a schedule of these costs should show "cost of goods sold," not "cost of sales."
3. The manner in which the date or period covered is indicated should also be uniform. If the income statement is headed "for the year ended December 31, 19__," then all supporting schedules should be headed that way, rather than "for the year 19__."
4. Schedule and statement headings should conform to a pattern. For example, if "schedule of cost of goods sold" is used, then all other schedules should begin with "schedule of."
5. Statement and schedule headings should be the same in the letter, table of contents, index, and other references.
6. Each page should be well balanced, paragraphs should break in the right places, tables should be centered and not broken except when a table is longer than a page, page numbers should be in the same place on each sheet, type should be clean and alignment even, and there should be no "strikeovers" or visible erasures.

7. As part of firm policy, the following should be standardized:

Title	Captions
Indexing	Spacing
Salutation	Indentation
Page Numbering	Paragraphing
Closing and Signing	Capitalization
Dating	Underscoring
Whole Dollar Reporting	Punctuation
Headings	Dollar Signs
Double or Single Spacing

Draft of Report

.04 In some cases an exposure draft of the report, clearly identified as a draft, can be used effectively to afford the client an opportunity to comment on the report before it is in final form.

Report Production

.05 A report guide sheet usually accompanies all reports submitted for processing. Included in the report guide sheet is the basic information which relates to the specific client, such as:

1. Client name
2. Audit date
3. Engagement partner and manager
4. Date audit commenced
5. Date audit completed
6. Date report submitted for review
7. Date review completed
8. Date submitted for typing
9. Date submitted for checking
10. Date sent to client
11. Special comments, such as "rush," "date promised to client," and "hold for confirmation."

.06 The purpose of the report guide sheet is to enable the audit team to know the status of the report at all times, and to ascertain if there are any time lags in the processing of the report. The following procedures are used in its preparation.

Engagement information. The in-charge accountant enters the engagement information, delivery instructions, and "hold items" (items to be cleared prior to releasing report). He signs the report guide sheet as initial reviewer.

Review. The report is approved at various levels of review. If there is more than one reviewer (for example, two department reviewers for phases of a large job), the primary reviewer should sign the report guide sheet. If another partner or manager performed the entire review in the absence of the primary reviewer, then such other reviewer should sign the report guide sheet as overall reviewer.

Processing. The various processing levels are signed off. If more than one typist is involved, the head of the typing department or the primary typist may sign the report guide sheet. If more than one person is involved in comparing and proofing, the person primarily responsible should sign the report guide sheet. The review partner or his delegate should sign as final reader.

Final release. The person who signs for final release must ascertain that all other required signatures are on the report guide sheet before releasing the report.

Report production. The reverse side of the report guide sheet is usually completed by the in-charge accountant. A photocopy may be given to the report production department as advance notice of production requirements (for example, where numerous printed covers will be needed).

.07 The report guide sheet is bound with the operating office's file copy of the report. With the busy atmosphere prevailing at most firms, it is of vital importance that all work as it moves through the production process be under tight control independent of the work product and its guide sheet.

.08 A simple schedule can be maintained to control the flow of work from the date an audit engagement is begun to the date the report is finally mailed to the client. The schedule has key items arranged in columnar form and can be maintained by the office manager or another person in charge of staff assignments. Frequent references to the schedule should reveal any unusual delays in completing an engagement or typing a report.

.09 To account for each report from the time it is placed for typing to the time it is mailed or delivered to the client, some firms maintain a record in the typing department, in place of or as a supplement to the foregoing record. (See Report Production Control in AAM section 9500.13.)

.10 If this record indicates any time lags, the matter should be investigated; it may indicate either an abnormal backlog of work or some other problem.

.11 In preparing the report production control form, the following procedures are suggested:

- It should be manually prepared and updated daily by a control clerk.
- It should be retained in a notebook in a readily accessible location so that audit personnel can check report status without interfering with review and production operations.
- When a report and related workpapers are received by the reviewer, the client name, report description, fiscal year end, report-letter date, and due date should be entered.
- The review partner should assign a reviewer and record the date forwarded to the reviewer and the forwarding date for tax review.
- The person's name to whom the report is given for rework (if required) should be entered and the dates forwarded for tax and audit reviews of rework are recorded (if required).
- Other dates should be recorded through final release.

Signing Reports

.14 After the report has been reviewed, typed, proofread, and corrected, it is usually submitted to a partner for final reading and signature.

.15 Some firms do not bind the report until after it is signed. This saves unbinding in case the signing partner orders any revisions. In offices where the reports have been sufficiently and systematically reviewed and referenced before or after typing, they may be submitted to the partner for his signature in final bound form. This saves time and additional handling.

.16 The transmittal letters and addressed envelopes should be submitted to the partner with the reports. This gives him an opportunity to review the mailing directions, so that reports are directed to the proper person.

.17 Report letters are usually signed by a partner using the firm name. Where reproducing equipment is used, a signature on the original is sufficient. There is no complimentary closing. It is important to establish rules applying to report signatures since all reports (and correspondence) issued to clients carry with them the reputation, authority, and responsibility of the firm.

Delivery of Completed Work

.18 Audit reports are rightfully considered by clients to be confidential documents. For this reason, care should be taken to address them to a responsible person, usually the treasurer or principal executive, in an envelope clearly marked "confidential." Where there is some question as to the person or persons to whom the report should be delivered, address it to the specific source of authority authorizing the report. In a majority of cases, especially for recurring engagements, the reports are mailed. However, some firms make it a practice to have a partner deliver the report personally and discuss it with the client.

.19 The report should be mailed in envelopes or boxes sturdy enough to withstand the rough treatment they may receive in transit.

.20 Many firms send separate transmittal letters with their reports. The letter should contain no comments on the report because it might be construed as a modification of the opinion on the report. It is advisable to write a letter requesting that a printer's proof be submitted to the accounting firm for review before any printed reports are released by the client to stockholders or the public.

.21 Reports are generally issued only to the client who engaged the services. The unauthorized distribution of a report represents a violation of the confidential relationship between a firm and its client. Firms are sometimes asked by clients to mail copies of their reports directly to third parties. Clients should be discouraged from making such requests. In rare instances, where a firm assumes this added responsibility, distributions are made only upon specific written instruction from the client, and reference to the client's instructions should be included in the transmittal to the third party. Printed annual reports to shareholders, prospectuses, and other reports that are a matter of public record, such as those filed with certain governmental agencies, are obvious exceptions to this rule.

ACCOUNTANTS' REPORTS

These examples are for illustrative purposes only. They are included as conveniences for users of this manual who may want points of departure when drafting reports to meet their individual needs. This manual is a nonauthoritative kit of practice aids and accordingly, does not include extensive explanation or discussion of authoritative pronouncements. Users of this manual are urged to refer directly to applicable authoritative pronouncements when appropriate.

These examples illustrate the body of various reports. For comment on addressing and dating of the report, see section 10,100.

Examples which are assembled from illustrative reporting language set forth in Statements on Auditing Standards (SAS) and Statements on Standards for Accounting and Review Services (SSARS) include citation of the particular source and its location in AICPA Professional Standards.

Format of Accountants' Reports

Addressing the Report

.01 The accountant or auditor addresses his report to the client which retained his service.

.02 When the client is a corporation, the report may be addressed to the corporation, its board of directors or its stockholders. In practice, reports on financial statements of publicly traded corporations are usually addressed to the board of directors and stockholders.

.03 When the client is not incorporated, the circumstances will dictate how the report should be addressed. For example, the report may be addressed to the partners, to the general partner, or to the proprietor.

.04 Occasionally, an auditor is retained to audit the financial statements of an entity that is not his client. In such instances, the report is addressed to the client and not to the board of directors, stockholders or proprietor of the entity whose financial statements are being audited.

.05 For authoritative guidance on addressing the report, see SAS No. 58, paragraph 9 (AU section 508.09).

Dating the Report

.06 The date on an auditor's report generally indicates when the auditor completed the field work on which the report is based. Likewise, the date of an accountant's compilation report on the financial statements of a nonpublic entity, would be the date of completion of the compilation work. The date of a review report on such financial statements would be the date of completion of the accountant's inquiry and analytical procedures. Report dating involves additional considerations when the auditor becomes aware of events that occurred after completion of field work but before issuance of the report, when the report is on comparative financial statements, or when a report on prior year financial statements is reissued.

.07 When an event which is disclosed in the financial statements occurs after completion of field work but before issuance of the report, the auditor may use "dual dating," for example, "February 15, 19X1, except for Note 10 as to which the date is March 1, 19X1." In this instance, the auditor's responsibility for events occurring after February 15, 19X1 is limited to the specific event referred to in Note 10. The auditor may also date the report as of March 1, 19X1; this, however, would extend the auditor's responsibility for subsequent events to March 1, 19X1.

.08 For an auditor's report which covers financial statements of one or more prior periods (which he audited) presented on a comparative basis with those of the current period, the auditor would ordinarily date the report on the financial statements of all periods presented as of the date of his report on the most recent financial statements.

.09 When an auditor, as a predecessor, reissues a report on prior year financial statements for presentation with the report of a successor auditor on current year financial statements, the predecessor would use the date of his previous report on his reissued report to avoid the implication that he has performed any additional field work. If the predecessor auditor revises his report or if the financial statements are restated, he would dual date his report.

.10 For authoritative guidance on dating reports, see SAS No. 1, section 530; SAS No. 36, paragraph 17; SAS No. 58, paragraphs 74 and 82; and SSARS No. 1, paragraphs 15 and 33 (AU sections 530, 722.17, 508.74 and .82, and AR section 100.15 and .33, respectively).

.010 Auditor's Standard Report—Comparative Financial Statements

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of X Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of X Company as of [at] December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the balance sheet of ABC Company as of December 31, 19X2, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. The financial statements of ABC Company as of December 31, 19X1, were audited by other auditors whose report dated March 31, 19X2, expressed an unqualified opinion on those statements.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the 19X2 financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of ABC Company as of December 31, 19X2, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.050 Reference to Other Auditors in ReportIndependent Auditor's Report*Addressee:

We have audited the consolidated balance sheets of ABC Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related consolidated statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We did not audit the financial statements of B Company, a wholly-owned subsidiary, which statements reflect total assets of $_____ and $_____ as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, respectively, and total revenues of $_____ and $_____ for the years then ended. Those statements were audited by other auditors whose report has been furnished to us, and our opinion, insofar as it relates to the amounts included for B Company, is based solely on the report of the other auditors.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits and the report of other auditors provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, based on our audits and the report of other auditors, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of ABC Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the balance sheet of ABC Company as of December 31, 19X2, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. The financial statements of ABC Company as of December 31, 19X1, were audited by other auditors whose report dated March 1, 19X2, on those statements included an explanatory paragraph that described the litigation discussed in Note X to the financial statements.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the 19X2 financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of ABC Company as of December 31, 19X2, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.070 Reference to Other Auditors—Successor Auditor’s Report When Prior Year Financial Statements Have Been Restated Following Issuance of the Predecessor’s Report

Independent Auditor’s Report

Addressee:

We have audited the balance sheet of ABC Company as of December 31, 19X2, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. The financial statements of ABC Company as of December 31, 19X1, before the restatement described in Note X, were audited by other auditors whose report dated March 31, 19X2, expressed an unqualified opinion on those statements.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the 19X2 financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of ABC Company as of December 31, 19X2, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

We also reviewed the adjustments described in Note X that were applied to restate the 19X1 financial statements. In our opinion, such adjustments are appropriate and have been properly applied.

.080 Reference to Other Auditors—Prior Year Financial Statements Restated Following a Pooling of Interests

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheet of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19X2, and the related consolidated statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of XYZ Company as of [at] December 31, 19X2, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

We previously audited and reported upon the consolidated statements of income and cash flows of XYZ Company and subsidiaries for the year ended December 31, 19X1, prior to their restatement for the 19X2 pooling of interests. The contribution of XYZ Company and subsidiaries to revenues and net income represented _____ percent and _____ percent of the respective restated totals. Separate financial statements of the other companies included in the 19X1 restated consolidated statements of income and cash flows were audited and reported upon separately by other auditors. We also have applied procedures to the combination of the accompanying consolidated statements of income and cash flows for the year ended December 31, 19X1, after restatement for the 19X2 pooling of interests; in our opinion, such consolidated statements have been properly combined on the basis described in Note A of notes to consolidated financial statements.

.090 Change in Accounting Principles or Method of AccountingIndependent Auditor's Report*Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of X Company as of December 31, 19XX, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of X Company as of [at] December 31, 19XX, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

As discussed in Note X to the financial statements, the Company changed its method of computing depreciation in 19XX.

.100 Uncertainty—LitigationIndependent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of X Company as of December 31, 19XX, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of X Company as of [at] December 31, 19XX, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

As discussed in Note X to the financial statements, the Company is a defendant in a lawsuit alleging infringement of certain patent rights and claiming royalties and punitive damages. The Company has filed a counteraction, and preliminary hearings and discovery proceedings on both actions are in progress. The ultimate outcome of the litigation cannot presently be determined. Accordingly, no provision for any liability that may result upon adjudication has been made in the accompanying financial statements.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note X to the financial statements, the Company has suffered recurring losses from operations and has a net capital deficiency that raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans in regard to these matters are also described in Note X. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

.120 Liquidation Basis Accounting—Uncertainty Regarding Realization of Assets and Settlement of Obligations

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the statement of net assets in liquidation of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19X2, and the related statement of changes in net assets in liquidation for the period from April 26, 19X2 to December 31, 19X2. In addition, we have audited the statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the period from January 1, 19X2 to April 25, 19X2. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the net assets in liquidation as of December 31, 19X2, and the changes in its net assets in liquidation for the period from April 26, 19X2 to December 31, 19X2, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the period from January 1, 19X2 to April 25, 19X2, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on the bases described in the following paragraph.

As described in Note X to the financial statements, the stockholders of XYZ Company approved a plan of liquidation on April 25, 19X2, and the company commenced liquidation shortly thereafter. As a result, the company has changed its basis of accounting for periods subsequent to April 25, 19X2 from the going-concern basis to a liquidation basis. It is not presently determinable whether the amounts realizable from the disposition of the remaining assets or the amounts that creditors agree to accept in settlement of the obligations due them will differ materially from the amounts shown in the accompanying financial statements.

.150 Comparative Financial Statements—Unqualified Opinion on the Current Year's Financial Statements With Disclaimer of Opinion on the Prior Year's Statements of Income, Retained Earnings, and Cash Flows

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of X Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

Except as explained in the following paragraph, we conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform our audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

We did not observe the taking of the physical inventory as of December 31, 19X0, since that date was prior to our appointment as auditors for the Company, and we were unable to satisfy ourselves regarding inventory quantities by means of other auditing procedures. Inventory amounts as of December 31, 19X0, enter into the determination of net income and cash flows for the year ended December 31, 19X1.

Because of the matter discussed in the preceding paragraph, the scope of our work was not sufficient to enable us to express, and we do not express, an opinion on the results of operations and cash flows for the year ended December 31, 19X1.

In our opinion, the balance sheets of X Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year ended December 31, 19X2, present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of X Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year ended December 31, 19X2, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.160 Comparative Financial Statements—Subsequent Restatement of Prior-Period Financial Statements to Conform With Generally Accepted Accounting Principles

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of X Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our report dated March 1, 19X2, we expressed an opinion that the 19X1 financial statements did not fairly present financial position, results of operations, and cash flows in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles because of two departures from such principles: (1) the Company carried its property, plant, and equipment at appraisal values, and provided for depreciation on the basis of such values, and (2) the Company did not provide for deferred income taxes with respect to differences between income for financial reporting purposes and taxable income. As described in Note X, the Company has changed its method of accounting for these items and restated its 19X1 financial statements to conform with generally accepted accounting principles. Accordingly, our present opinion on the 19X1 financial statements, as presented herein, is different from that expressed in our previous report.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of X Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of X Company as of December 31, 19X2, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

The 19X1 financial statements were reviewed by us (other accountants) and our (their) report thereon, dated March 1, 19X2, stated we (they) were not aware of any material modifications that should be made to those statements for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. However, a review is substantially less in scope than an audit and does not provide a basis for the expression of an opinion on the financial statements taken as a whole.

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States (and in [name of country]). .210 Report on Financial Statements Prepared in Conformity With the Accounting Principles Generally Accepted in Another Country That Will have More Than Limited Distribution in the United States

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of the International Company as of December 31, 19XX, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. U.S. standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As more fully described in Note X to the financial statements, the Company has recorded fixed assets in excess of historical cost using appraised value as the basis for adjustment in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in [name of country]. If the fixed assets had been recorded at historical cost, fixed assets and retained earnings would be decreased by $XXX,XXX and $XXX,XXX respectively, as of December 31, 19XX, and net income and earnings per share would be increased by $X,XXX and $X.XX respectively for the year then ended.

In our opinion, except for the effects of recording the fixed assets in excess of historical costs, discussed in the preceding paragraph, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the International Company as of December 31, 19XX, and the results of its operations and the cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States.

(Optional Paragraph)

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly the financial position of the International Company at December 31, 19XX, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in [name of country].

Adverse Opinions

.01 Departures from GAAP

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of X Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As discussed in Note X to the financial statements, the Company carries its property, plant, and equipment accounts at appraisal values, and provides depreciation on the basis of such values. Further, the Company does not provide for income taxes with respect to differences between financial income and taxable income arising because of the use, for income tax purposes, of the installment method of reporting gross profit from certain types of sales. Generally accepted accounting principles require that property, plant and equipment be stated at an amount not in excess of cost, reduced by depreciation based on such amount, and that deferred income taxes be provided.

Because of the departures from generally accepted accounting principles identified above, as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, inventories have been increased $_____ and $_____ by inclusion in manufacturing overhead of depreciation in excess of that based on cost; property, plant, and equipment, less accumulated depreciation, is carried at $_____ and $_____ in excess of an amount based on the cost to the Company; and deferred income taxes of $_____ and $_____ have not been recorded, resulting in an increase of $_____ and $_____ in retained earnings and in appraisal surplus of $_____ and $_____, respectively. For the years ended December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, cost of goods sold has been increased $_____ and $_____, respectively, because of the effects of the depreciation accounting referred to above and deferred income taxes of $_____ and $_____ have not been provided, resulting in an increase in net income of $_____ and $_____, respectively.

In our opinion, because of the effects of the matters discussed in the preceding paragraphs, the financial statements referred to above do not present fairly, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, the financial position of X Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, or the results of its operations or its cash flows for the years then ended.

Disclaimers of Opinion

.01 Beginning Inventory Not Observed (First Examination)

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of X Company as of December 31, 19X2, and were engaged to audit the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

Except as discussed in the following paragraph, we conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Because we were not engaged as auditors until after December 31, 19X1, we were not present to observe the physical inventory taken at that date and we have not satisfied ourselves by means of other procedures concerning inventory quantities. The amount of the inventory at December 31, 19X1, enters materially into the determination of the results of operations and cash flows for the year ended December 31, 19X2. Therefore, we do not express an opinion on the accompanying statements of income, retained earnings and cash flows for the year ended December 31, 19X2.

In our opinion, the balance sheet referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of X Company as of December 31, 19X2, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.02 Inability to Obtain Sufficient Competent Evidential Matter Due to a Scope Limitation

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We were engaged to audit the accompanying balance sheets of X Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management.

The Company did not make a count of its physical inventory in 19X2 or 19X1, stated in the accompanying financial statements at $_____ as of December 31, 19X2, and at $_____ as of December 31, 19X1. Further, evidence supporting the cost of property and equipment acquired prior to December 31, 19X1, is no longer available. The Company's records do not permit the application of other auditing procedures to inventories or property and equipment.

Since the Company did not take physical inventories and we were not able to apply other auditing procedures to satisfy ourselves as to inventory quantities and the cost of property and equipment, the scope of our work was not sufficient to enable us to express, and we do not express, an opinion on these financial statements.

.03 Scope Limitation—Inventory and GAAP Departure—Capitalized Lease Obligations

We were engaged to audit the accompanying balance sheets of X Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management.

The Company has excluded, from property and debt in the accompanying balance sheets, certain lease obligations that, in our opinion, should be capitalized in order to conform with generally accepted accounting principles. If these lease obligations were capitalized, property would be increased by $_____ and $_____, long-term debt by $_____ and $_____, and retained earnings by $_____ and $_____ as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, respectively. Additionally, net income would be increased (decreased) by $_____ and $_____ and earnings per share would be increased (decreased) by $_____ and $_____, respectively, for the years then ended.

The Company did not make a count of its physical inventory in 19X2 or 19X1, stated in the accompanying financial statements at $_____ as of December 31, 19X2, and at $_____ as of December 31, 19X1. Further, evidence supporting the cost of property and equipment acquired prior to December 31, 19X1, is no longer available. The Company's records do not permit the application of other auditing procedures to inventories or property and equipment.

Since the Company did not take physical inventories and we were not able to apply other auditing procedures to satisfy ourselves as to inventory quantities and the cost of property and equipment, the scope of our work was not sufficient to enable us to express, and we do not express, an opinion on these financial statements.

An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

We were unable to obtain audited financial statements supporting the Company's investment in a foreign affiliate stated at $_____ and $_____ at December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, respectively, or its equity in earnings of that affiliate of $_____ and $_____, which is included in net income for the years then ended as described in Note X to the financial statements; nor were we able to satisfy ourselves as to the carrying value of the investment in the foreign affiliate or the equity in its earnings by other auditing procedures.

In our opinion, except for the effects of such adjustments, if any, as might have been determined to be necessary had we been able to examine evidence regarding the foreign affiliate investment and earnings, the financial statements referred to in the first paragraph above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of X Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.020 Departure from GAAP—Leases Not CapitalizedIndependent Auditor's Report*Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of X Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The Company has excluded, from property and debt in the accompanying balance sheets, certain lease obligations that, in our opinion, should be capitalized in order to conform with generally accepted accounting principles. If these lease obligations were capitalized, property would be increased by $_____ and $_____, long-term debt by $_____ and $_____, and retained earnings by $_____ and $_____ as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, respectively. Additionally, net income would be increased (decreased) by $_____ and $_____ and earnings per share would be increased (decreased) by $_____ and $_____, respectively, for the years then ended.

In our opinion, except for the effects of not capitalizing certain lease obligations as discussed in the preceding paragraph, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of X Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.060 Change in Accounting Principle Without Reasonable JustificationIndependent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of X Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As disclosed in Note X to the financial statements, the Company adopted, in 19X2, the first-in, first-out method of accounting for its inventories, whereas it previously used the last-in, first-out method. Although use of the first-in, first-out method is in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, in our opinion the Company has not provided reasonable justification for making this change as required by generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, except for the change in accounting principle discussed in the preceding paragraph, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of X Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

NOTE:

If the change was from an accounting principle that is not generally accepted to one that is generally accepted it would be a correction of an error and would require recognition in the auditor's report as to consistency. However, because the middle paragraph contains all of the information required in an explanatory paragraph (following the opinion paragraph) as required by SAS No. 58, paragraphs 34-36 (AU section 508.34-.36) is not required in this instance.

.070 Change to an Accounting Principle Not in Conformity With Generally Accepted Accounting Principles

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of X Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The company previously recorded its land at cost but adjusted the amounts to appraised values during the year, with a corresponding increase in stockholders' equity in the amount of $_____. In our opinion, the new basis on which land is recorded is not in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, except for the change to recording appraised values as described above, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of X Company as of [at] December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.080 More than One Reason—Qualified Opinion on Prior Year's Financial Statements With the Current Year Qualified for the Same Reason and an Additional Reason

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of X Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

Except as discussed in the following paragraph, we conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

We were unable to obtain audited financial statements supporting the Company's investment in a foreign affiliate stated at $_____ and $_____ at December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, respectively, or its equity in earnings of that affiliate of $_____ and $_____, which is included in net income for the years then ended as described in Note X to the financial statements; nor were we able to satisfy ourselves as to the carrying value of the investment in the foreign affiliate or the equity in its earnings by other auditing procedures.

The Company has excluded, from property and debt in the accompanying 19X2 balance sheet, certain lease obligations that were entered into in 19X2, which in our opinion, should be capitalized in order to conform with generally accepted accounting principles. If these lease obligations were capitalized, property would be increased by $_____, long-term debt by $_____, and retained earnings by $_____, as of December 31, 19X2. Additionally, net income would be increased (decreased) by $_____ and earnings per share would be increased (decreased) by $_____ for the year then ended.

In our opinion, except for the effects on the 19X2 and 19X1 financial statements of such adjustments, if any, as might have been determined to be necessary had we been able to examine evidence regarding the foreign affiliate investment and earnings, and except for the effects on the 19X2 financial statements of not capitalizing certain lease obligations as discussed in the preceding paragraph, the financial statements referred to in the first paragraph above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of X Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of X Company as of [at] December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Our audits were made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The (identify accompanying information) is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

.080 Qualification on Basic Financial Statements and Accompanying Information (Departure From GAAP)

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of X Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The Company has excluded, from property and debt in the accompanying balance sheets, certain lease obligations that, in our opinion, should be capitalized in order to conform with generally accepted accounting principles. If these lease obligations were capitalized, property would be increased by $_____ and $_____, long-term debt by $_____ and $_____, and retained earnings by $_____ and $_____ as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, respectively. Additionally, net income would be increased (decreased) by $_____ and $_____ and earnings per share would be increased (decreased) by $_____ and $_____, respectively, for the years then ended.

In our opinion, except for the effects of not capitalizing certain lease obligations as discussed in the preceding paragraph, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of X Company as of [at] December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Our audits were made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The schedules of property and related depreciation (page X), and long-term debt with related interest (page Y), as of December 31, 19X2, are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the basic financial statements. The information in such schedules has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements; and, in our opinion, except for the effects on the schedule of property of not capitalizing certain lease obligations as explained in the third paragraph of this report, such information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

.100 Consolidating Information Not Separately Examined

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of X Company and subsidiaries as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related consolidated statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of X Company and subsidiaries as of [at] December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Our audits were made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements taken as a whole. The consolidating information is presented for purposes of additional analysis of the consolidated financial statements rather than to present the financial position, results of operations, and cash flows of the individual companies. The consolidating information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the consolidated financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the consolidated financial statements taken as a whole.

NOTES:

The report on the consolidating information may be added to the auditor's standard report on the basic financial statements or may appear separately in the auditor-submitted document.

When the auditor is engaged to express an opinion only on the consolidated financial statements and consolidating information is also included, the auditor should be satisfied that the consolidating information is suitably identified. For example, when the consolidated financial statements include columns of information about the components of the consolidated group, the balance sheets might be titled, "Consolidated Balance Sheet—December 31, 19X1, with Consolidating Information," and the columns including the consolidating information might be marked, "Consolidating Information." When the consolidating information is presented in separate schedules, the schedules presenting balance sheet information of the components might be titled, for example, "Consolidating Schedule, Balance Sheet Information, December 31, 19X1."

.110 Unqualified Opinion on Selected Financial Data in a Client-Prepared Document That Includes Audited Financial Statements

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of X Company and subsidiaries as of December 31, 19X5 and 19X4, and the related consolidated statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 19X5. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of X Company and subsidiaries as of December 31, 19X5 and 19X4, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 19X5 in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

We have also previously audited, in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, the consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 19X3, 19X2, and 19X1, and the related consolidated statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the years ended December 31, 19X2 and 19X1 (none of which are presented herein); and we expressed unqualified opinions on those consolidated financial statements. In our opinion, the information set forth in the selected financial data for each of the five years in the period ended December 31, 19X5, appearing on page XX, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the consolidated financial statements from which it has been derived.

Engagements to Report on Internal Accounting Control

.010 Unqualified Opinion on an Entity's System of Internal Accounting Control

We have made a study and evaluation of the system of internal accounting control of XYZ Company and subsidiaries in effect at (date). Our study and evaluation was conducted in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

The management of XYZ Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining a system of internal accounting control. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of control procedures. The objectives of a system are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

Because of inherent limitations in any system of internal accounting control, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of the system to future periods is subject to the risk that procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion, the system of internal accounting control of XYZ Company and subsidiaries in effect at (date), taken as a whole, was sufficient to meet the objectives stated above insofar as those objectives pertain to the prevention or detection of errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the consolidated financial statements.

[Source: SAS No. 30, paragraph 39 (AU section 642.39).]

* Note: The reports in AAM section 10,250, paragraphs .010—.082 will be changed, in future updates, to conform to changes made to SAS No. 30, Reporting on Internal Accounting Control (AU section 642), Interpretations of SAS No. 30 (AU section 9642), and SAS No. 44, Special-Purpose Reports on Internal Accounting Control at Service Organizations (AU section 324).

.020 Reporting Material Weaknesses

We have made a study and evaluation of the system of internal accounting control of XYZ Company and subsidiaries in effect at (date). Our study and evaluation was conducted in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

The management of XYZ Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining a system of internal accounting control. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of control procedures. The objectives of a system are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

Because of inherent limitations in any system of internal accounting control, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of the system to future periods is subject to the risk that procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

Our study and evaluation disclosed the following conditions in the system of internal accounting control of XYZ Company and subsidiaries in effect at (date), which, in our opinion, result in more than a relatively low risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the consolidated financial statements may occur and not be detected within a timely period.

Comment

The report should describe the material weaknesses, state whether they result from the absence of control procedures or the degree of compliance with them, and describe the general nature of potential errors or irregularities that may occur as a result of the weaknesses.

The accountant may want to report to management other weaknesses even though they are not considered to be material. Comments on such other weaknesses should be clearly distinguished from those relating to material weaknesses. If some weaknesses are reported to one group but not to another (for example, to management but not to regulatory agencies), the more extensive report should distinguish the weaknesses that are excluded from the other report, and the accountant should be prepared to support, if necessary, his judgment in making the distinction.

If management has implemented control procedures to correct the weakness, the accountant should not refer to this corrective action unless he has satisfied himself that the procedures are suitably designed and are being applied as prescribed.

If the opinion on the internal accounting control system is issued in conjunction with an examination of the entity's financial statements, the following sentence should be included in the paragraph that describes the material weakness:

These conditions were considered in determining the nature, timing, and extent of audit tests to be applied in our examination of the 19XX financial statements, and this report does not affect our report on these financial statements dated (date of report).

.030 Communication of Internal Control Structure Matters Noted in an Audit
Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of the ABC Corporation for the year ended December 31, 19XX, we considered its internal control structure in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure. However, we noted certain matters involving the internal control structure and its operations that we consider to be reportable conditions under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Reportable conditions involve matters coming to our attention relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of the internal control structure that, in our judgment, could adversely affect the organization's ability to record, process, summarize, and report financial data consistent with the assertions of management in the financial statements.

[Include paragraphs to describe the reportable conditions noted.]

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the audit committee (board of directors, board of trustees, or owners in owner-managed enterprises), managements and others within the organization (or specified regulatory agency or other specified third party).

THE AUDITOR SHOULD NOT ISSUE A REPORT REPRESENTING THAT NO REPORTABLE CONDITIONS WERE NOTED.

.040 Communication of Internal Control Structure Related Matters Noted in an Audit When One or More Reportable Conditions Were Identified, But None is Deemed to be a Material Weakness

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of the ABC Corporation for the year ended December 31, 19XX, we considered its internal control structure in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure. However, we noted certain matters involving the internal control structure and its operations that we consider to be reportable conditions under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Reportable conditions involve matters coming to our attention relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of the internal control structure that, in our judgment, could adversely affect the organization's ability to record, process, summarize, and report financial data consistent with the assertions of management in the financial statements.

[Include paragraphs to describe the reportable conditions noted.]

A material weakness is a reportable condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be reportable conditions and, accordingly, would not necessarily disclose all reportable conditions that are also considered to be material weaknesses as defined above. However, none of the reportable conditions described above is believed to be a material weakness.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the audit committee (board of directors, board of trustees, or owners in owner-managed enterprises), managements and others within the organization (or specified regulatory agency or other specified third party).

.050 Report Based on Criteria Established by a Regulatory Agency

We understand that (recipient) has been awarded a grant of (amount) from (agency) for the period from (date) through (date) for use in accordance with the (title or description of program). We have made a study of those internal accounting control and administrative control procedures of (recipient) that we considered relevant to the criteria established by (agency), as set forth in (section) of its audit guide, issued (date). Our study included tests of compliance with such procedures during the period from (date) through (date). Our study did not constitute an audit of any financial statements prepared by (recipient).

The management of (recipient) is responsible for establishing and maintaining a system of internal accounting control. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of control procedures. The objectives of a system are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. We understand that the objective of those administrative control procedures comprehended in the (agency's) criteria is to provide similar assurance as to compliance with its related requirements.

Because of inherent limitations in any system of internal accounting control, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of the system to future periods is subject to the risk that procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

We understand that procedures in conformity with the criteria referred to in the first paragraph of this report are considered by the (agency) to be adequate for its purpose in accordance with (name of Act) and related regulations, and that procedures not in conformity with those criteria indicate some inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe (recipient's) procedures were adequate for the agency's purposes, except for the conditions described (reference to appropriate section of report), which we believe are material weaknesses in relation to the grant to which this report refers. In addition to these weaknesses, other conditions that we believe are not in conformity with the criteria referred to above are described (reference to appropriate section of report).

This report is intended for the information of (recipient) and (agency) and should not be used for any other purpose.

[Source: SAS No. 30, paragraphs 39 and 59 (AU section 642.39 and .59).]

.060 Pre-Award Survey—Report Based on Criteria Established by a Regulatory Agency

We understand that (applicant) has applied for a grant of (amount) from (agency) for the period from (date) through (date) for use in accordance with the (title or description of program). We have made a study of the design of those internal accounting control and administrative control procedures of (applicant) that we considered relevant to the criteria established by (agency), as set forth in (section) of its audit guide, issued (date). Since our study related to procedures (applicant) proposes to follow if the grant is awarded, it did not include tests of compliance with such procedures. Our study did not constitute an audit of any financial statements prepared by (applicant).

The management of (applicant) is responsible for establishing and maintaining a system of internal accounting control. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of control procedures. The objectives of a system are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. We understand that the objective of those administrative control procedures comprehended in the (agency's) criteria is to provide similar assurance as to compliance with its related requirements.

Because of inherent limitations in any system of internal accounting control, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of the system to future periods is subject to the risk that procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

We understand that procedures in conformity with the criteria referred to in the first paragraph of this report are considered by the (agency) to be adequate for its purpose in accordance with (name of Act) and related regulations, and that procedures not in conformity with those criteria indicate some inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe (applicant's) procedures would be adequate for the agency's purposes assuming satisfactory compliance, except for the conditions described (reference to appropriate section of report), which we believe would be material weaknesses in relation to the grant to which this report refers. In addition to these weaknesses, other conditions that we believe would not be in conformity with the criteria referred to above are described (reference to appropriate section of report).

This report is intended for the information of (applicant) and (agency) should not be used for any other purpose.

.070 Survey Made in Conjunction With an Audit—Report Based on Criteria Established by a Regulatory Agency

We understand that (recipient) has been awarded a grant of (amount) from (agency) for the period from (date) through (date) for use in accordance with the (title or description of program). We have made a study of those internal accounting control and administrative control procedures of (recipient) that we considered relevant to the criteria established by (agency), as set forth in (section) of its audit guide, issued (date). Our study included tests of compliance with such procedures during the period from (date) through (date). We have examined the financial statements of (recipient) for the year ended (date) and have issued our report therein dated (date).¹

The management of (recipient) is responsible for establishing and maintaining a system of internal accounting control. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of control procedures. The objectives of a system are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. We understand that the objective of those administrative control procedures comprehended in the (agency's) criteria is to provide similar assurance as to compliance with its related requirements.

Because of inherent limitations in any system of internal accounting control, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of the system to future periods is subject to the risk that procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

We understand that procedures in conformity with the criteria referred to in the first paragraph of this report are considered by the (agency) to be adequate for its purpose in accordance with (name of Act) and related regulations, and that procedures not in conformity with those criteria indicate some inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe (recipient's) procedures were adequate for the agency's purposes, except for the conditions described (reference to appropriate section of report), which we believe are material weaknesses in relation to the grant to which this report refers.¹ In addition to these weaknesses, other conditions that we believe are not in conformity with the criteria referred to above are described (reference to appropriate section of report).

These conditions were considered in determining the nature, timing, and extent of the audit tests to be applied in our examination of the 19X1 financial statements, and this report does not affect our report on those financial statements dated (date of report).

This report is intended for the information of (recipient) and (agency) and should not be used for any other purpose.

¹ If the report on an examination of the financial statements is qualified because of a restriction on the scope of the examination, the restriction and its effect on the evaluation of the system of internal accounting control should be indicated in the report. If a portion of the examination has been performed by other auditors, the principal auditor's report should make it clear that it does not cover the entities examined by the other auditors. If the other auditors have issued a report concerning material weaknesses, the principal auditor may wish to, but is not required to, refer to such report of the other auditors.

.080 Report on the Design of the System of Internal Accounting Controls Maintained by a Service Organization*

To the Blank Service Center:

We have reviewed the accompanying description of the operations and control procedures of the Blank Service Center related to its payroll processing system as of (date) and identified specific control objectives and the procedures that achieve those objectives. Our review included procedures we considered necessary in the circumstances to evaluate the design of the control procedures specified in section 2. We did not test compliance with the control procedures and, accordingly, we do not express an opinion on whether those controls were being applied as prescribed for any period of time or on whether the system, taken as a whole, meets the objectives of internal accounting control. A further description of our review and its objections is attached.

Because of inherent limitations in any system of internal accounting control, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of the system to future periods is subject to the risk that procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions.

In our opinion, the control procedures included in the accompanying description of the payroll processing system of the Blank Service Center as of (date) are suitably designed to provide reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that the control objectives specified in section 2 would be achieved if the control procedures were complied with satisfactorily.

This report is intended solely for use by management of Blank Service Center, its customers, and the independent auditors of its customers.

[Source: SAS No. 44, paragraph 35 (AU section 324.35).]

* The report assumes that the description of operations and control procedures is divided into two sections: section 1 is the service organization's description of the system; section 2 lists specific control objectives and describes control procedures that achieve those objectives.

.081 Report on the Design of, and Compliance With, Certain Internal Accounting Control Procedures Maintained by a Service Organization*

To the Blank Service Center:

We have reviewed the accompanying description of the operations and control procedures of the Blank Service Center related to its payroll processing system and identified specific control objectives and the procedures that achieve those objectives. Our review, covering the period from (date) to (date), included such tests as we considered necessary to evaluate whether the procedures described in section 2 and the extent of compliance with them are sufficient to provide reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that the control objectives specified therein were achieved. We tested compliance only with the control procedures listed in section 2. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on whether all of the controls described in section 1 were being applied as prescribed for any period of time or on whether the system, taken as a whole, meets the objectives of internal accounting control. A further description of our review and its objectives is attached.

Because of inherent limitations in any system of internal accounting control, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of the system to future periods is subject to the risk that procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion, the control procedures of the Blank Service Center payroll processing system described in section 2 and the degree of compliance with them were sufficient to provide reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that the control objectives specified therein were achieved for the period from (date) to (date).

This report is intended solely for use by management of Blank Service Center, its customers, and the independent auditors of its customers.

* The report assumes that the description of operations and control procedures is divided into two sections: Section 1 is the service organization's description of the system; section 2 lists specific control objectives and describes control procedures that achieve those objectives.

.082 Report on a System of Internal Accounting Control of a Segment of a Service Organization

To the Blank Bank and Trust Company:

We have made a study and evaluation of the system of internal accounting control of the trust department of Blank Bank and Trust Company that existed during the period from (date) to (date), which department has responsibility for personal, custodial, and corporate trust accounts. Our study and evaluation was conducted in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

The management of Blank Bank and Trust Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining a system of internal accounting control. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of control procedures. The objectives of such a system are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the trust department has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and in conformity with the governing instruments and are recorded properly to permit the preparation of the required financial reports.

Because of inherent limitations in any system of internal accounting control, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of the system to future periods is subject to the risk that procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion, the system of internal accounting control of the trust department of Blank Bank and Trust Company that existed during the period from (date) to (date), taken as a whole, was sufficient to meet the objectives stated above insofar as those objectives pertain to the prevention or detection of errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements of Blank Bank and Trust Company.

.090 Reports on Internal Control Required by SEC Rule 17a-5

Board of Directors

Standard Stockbrokerage Co., Inc.

In planning and performing our audit of the consolidated financial statements of Standard Stockbrokerage Co., Inc. for the year ended December 31, 19X1, we considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the consolidated financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission, we have made a study of the practices and procedures (including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures) followed by Standard Stockbrokerage Co., Inc. that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g), (1) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and the reserve required by rule 15c3-3(e); (2) in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13; (3) in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System; and (4) in obtaining and maintaining physical possession or control of all fully paid and excess margin securities of customers as required by rule 15c3-3.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the Commission's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.²

² If conditions believed to be material weaknesses are disclosed, the report should describe the weaknesses that have come to the auditor's attention and may state that these weaknesses do not affect the report on the financial statements. The last sentence of the fifth paragraph of the report should be modified as follows:

However, we noted the following matters involving the [control environment, accounting system, control procedures, or procedures for safeguarding securities] and its [their] operation that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above. These conditions were considered in determining the nature, timing, and extent of the procedures to be performed in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of Standard Stockbrokerage Co., Inc. for the year ended December 31, 19X1, and this report does not affect our report thereon dated February

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 19X1, to meet the Commission's objectives.³

This report is intended solely for the use of management, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the New York Stock Exchange and other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and should not be used for any other purpose.

(Footnote Continued)

15, 19X2. [A description of the material weaknesses that have come to the auditor's attention and corrective action would follow.]

³ Whenever inadequacies are described, the report should include the last sentence of the fifth paragraph as modified in the note above. The report should also describe material inadequacies that the auditor becomes aware of that existed during the period but were corrected prior to the end of the period unless management already has reported them to the SEC.

.091 Report on Internal Control Required by SEC. Rule 17a-5 When Broker or Dealer has Not Made the Required Notification or When the Auditor Does Not Agree With the Statements Therein.

December 10, 19X1

Securities and Exchange Commission
Washington D.C. and Appropriate
Regional Office
Designated Examining Authority

Dear Sirs:

Our most recent audit of the consolidated financial statements of Standard Stockbrokerage Co., Inc. and Subsidiaries was as of December 31, 19X0, and for the year then ended, which we reported on under date of February 15, 19X1. We have not audited any financial statements of the Company as of any date or for any period subsequent to December 31, 19X0. Although we are presently performing certain procedures as part of our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the Company as of December 31, 19X1, and for the year then ended, these procedures do not constitute all the procedures necessary in an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards or all the procedures necessary to (1) consider the Company's internal control structure as required by generally accepted auditing standards or (2) study the Company's practices and procedures relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) of the Securities and Exchange Commission as required by rule 17a-5.

The management of Standard Stockbrokerage Co., Inc. is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures. The objectives of an internal control structure are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure, errors or irregularities may nevertheless occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of the internal control structure to future periods is subject to the risk that procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of the design and operation of policies and procedures may deteriorate.

The purpose of performing certain procedures prior to the date of the financial statements is to facilitate the expression of an opinion on the Company's financial statements. It must be understood that the procedures performed would not necessarily disclose all material weaknesses in the internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities.

However, pursuant to the requirements of rule 17a-5(h)(2), we are to call to the attention of the chief financial officer any weaknesses that we believe to be material and that were disclosed during the course of interim work. We have made such notification to the chief financial officer of Standard Stockbrokerage Co., Inc. and we believe the following additional information is required pursuant to the requirements of rule 17a-11(f).

[List and describe all instances where the independent auditor did not agree with the notification of the broker or dealer or where the required notification was not made.]

Special Reports

.010 Cash Basis Statements

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying statements of assets and liabilities arising from cash transactions of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related statements of revenue collected and expenses paid for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As described in Note X, these financial statements were prepared on the basis of cash receipts and disbursements, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the assets and liabilities arising from cash transactions of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and its revenue collected and expenses paid during the years then ended, on the basis of accounting described in Note X.

.020 Income Tax Basis StatementsIndependent Auditor's Report*Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying statements of assets, liabilities, and capital—income tax basis of ABC Partnership as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related statements of revenue and expenses—income tax basis and of changes in partners' capital accounts—income tax basis for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Partnership's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As described in Note X, these financial statements were prepared on the basis of accounting the partnership uses for income tax purposes, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the assets, liabilities, and capital of ABC Partnership as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and its revenue and expenses and changes in partners' capital accounts for the years then ended, on the basis of accounting described in Note X.

.030 Regulatory (Statutory) Basis StatementsIndependent Auditor's Report*Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying statements of admitted assets, liabilities and surplus—statutory basis of XYZ Insurance Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related statements of income and cash flows—statutory basis and changes in surplus—statutory basis for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As described in Note X, these financial statements were prepared in conformity with the accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the Insurance Department of [State], which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the admitted assets, liabilities and surplus of XYZ Insurance Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the results of operations and its cash flows for the years then ended, on the basis of accounting described in Note X.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the board of directors and management of XYZ Insurance Company and for filing with the [name of regulatory agency] and should not be used for any other purpose.

.040 Report Relating to Amount of Sales for the Purpose of Computing Rental
Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying schedule of gross sales (as defined in the lease agreement dated March 4, 19XX, between ABC Company, as lessor, and XYZ Stores Corporation, as lessee) of XYZ Stores Corporation at its Main Street store, [City], [State], for the year ended December 31, 19X2. This schedule is the responsibility of XYZ Stores Corporation's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on this schedule based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the schedule of gross sales is free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the schedule of gross sales. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by managements, as well as evaluating the overall schedule presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the schedule of gross sales referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the gross sales of XYZ Stores Corporation at its Main Street store, [City], [State], for the year ended December 31, 19X2, as defined in the lease agreement referred to in the first paragraph.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the boards of directors and managements of XYZ Stores Corporation and ABC Company and should not be used for any other purpose.

.050 RoyaltiesIndependent Auditor's Report*Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying schedule of royalties applicable to engine production of the Q Division of XYZ Corporation for the year ended December 31, 19X2, under the terms of a license agreement dated May 14, 19XX, between ABC Company and XYZ Corporation. This schedule is the responsibility of XYZ Corporation's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on this schedule based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the schedule of royalties is free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a tests basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the schedule. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by managements, as well as evaluating the overall schedule presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

We have been informed that, under XYZ Corporation's interpretation of the agreement referred to in the first paragraph, royalties were based on the number of engines produced after giving effect to a reduction for production retirements that were scrapped, but without a reduction for field returns that were scrapped, even though the field returns were replaced with new engines without charge to customers.

In our opinion, the schedule of royalties referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the number of engines produced by the Q Division of XYZ Corporation during the year ended December 31, 19X2, and the amount of royalties applicable thereto, under the license agreement referred to above.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the boards of directors and managements of XYZ Corporation and ABC Company and should not be used for any other purpose.

.060 Profit Participation¹Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited, in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, the financial statements of XYZ Company for the year ended December 31, 19X1, and have issued our report thereon dated March 10, 19X2. We have also audited XYZ Company's schedule of John Smith's profit participation for the year ended December 31, 19X1. This schedule is the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of the schedule in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the schedule of profit participation is free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the schedule. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall schedule presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

We have been informed that the documents that govern the determination of John Smith's profit participation are (a) the employment agreement between John Smith and XYZ Company dated February 1, 19X0, (b) the production and distribution agreement between XYZ Company and Television Network Incorporated dated March 1, 19X0, and (c) the studio facilities agreement between XYZ Company and QRX Studios dated April 1, 19X0, as amended November 1, 19X0.

In our opinion, the schedule of profit participation referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, John Smith's participation in the profits of XYZ Company for the year ended December 31, 19X1, in accordance with the provisions of the agreements referred to above.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the board of directors and management of XYZ Company and John Smith and should not be used for any other purpose.

.070 Report on Federal and State Income Taxes in Financial Statements
Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited, in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, the financial statements of XYZ Company, Inc., for the year ended June 30, 19XX, and have issued our report thereon dated August 15, 19XX. We have also audited the current and deferred provision for the Company's federal and state income taxes for the year ended June 30, 19XX, included in those financial statements, and the related asset and liability tax accounts as of June 30, 19XX. This income tax information is the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on it based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of the income tax information in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the federal and state income tax accounts are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures related to the federal and state income tax accounts. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the federal and state income tax accounts. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the Company has paid or, in all material respects, made adequate provision in the financial statements referred to above for the payment of all federal and state income taxes and for related deferred income taxes that could be reasonably estimated at the time of our audit of the financial statements of XYZ Company, Inc., for the year ended June 30, 19XX.

.080 Proposed Acquisition

Board of Directors

X Company

We have applied certain agreed-upon procedures, as discussed below, to accounting records of Y Company, Inc., as of December 31, 19XX, solely to assist you in connection with the proposed acquisition of Y Company, Inc. It is understood that this report is solely for your information and is not to be referred to or distributed for any purpose to anyone who is not a member of management of X Company. Our procedures and findings are as follows:

- a. We reconciled cash on deposit with the following banks to the balances in the respective general ledger accounts and obtained confirmation of the related balances from the banks.

Bank	Balance Per General Ledger
ABC National Bank	$5,000
DEF State Bank	13,776
XYZ Trust Company—regular account	86,912
XYZ Trust Company—payroll account	5,000

- b. We obtained an aged trial balance of the accounts receivable subsidiary records, traced the age and amounts of approximately 10 percent of the accounts to the accounts receivable ledger, and added the trial balance and compared the total with the balance in the general ledger control account. We mailed requests for positive confirmation of balances to 150 customers. The differences disclosed in confirmation replies were minor in amount and nature, and we reconciled them to our satisfaction. The results are summarized as follows:

	Accounts Receivable Aging and Confirmation
	Account Balance	Confirmation Results Requested	Received
Current	$156,000	$ 76,000	$ 65,000
Past due:
Less than one month	60,000	30,000	19,000
One to three months	36,000	18,000	10,000
Over three months	48,000	48,000	8,000
	$300,000	$172,000	$102,000

Because the above procedures do not constitute an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, we do not express an opinion on any of the accounts or items referred to above. In connection with the procedures referred to above, no matters came to our attention that caused us to believe that the specified accounts or items should be adjusted. Had we performed additional procedures or had we audited the financial statements in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, matters might have come to our attention that would have been reported to you. This report relates only to the accounts and items specified above and does not extend to any financial statements of Y Company, Inc., taken as a whole.

.090 Claims of Creditors

Trustee
XYZ Company

At your request, we have performed the procedures enumerated below with respect to the claims of creditors of XYZ Company as of May 31, 19XX, set forth in the accompanying schedules. Our review was made solely to assist you in evaluating the reasonableness of those claims, and our report is not to be used for any other purpose. The procedures we performed are summarized as follows:

- a. We compared the total of the trial balance of accounts payable at May 31, 19XX, prepared by the company, to the balance in the company's related general ledger account.
- b. We compared the claims received from creditors to the trial balance of accounts payable.
- c. We examined documentation submitted by the creditors in support of their claims and compared it to documentation in the company's files, including invoices, receiving records, and other evidence of receipt of goods or services.

Our findings are presented in the accompanying schedules. Schedule A lists claims that are in agreement with the company's records. Schedule B lists claims that are not in agreement with the company's records and sets forth the differences in amounts.

Because the above procedures do not constitute an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, we do not express an opinion on the accounts payable balance as of May 31, 19XX. In connection with the procedures referred to above, except as set forth in Schedule B, no matters came to our attention that caused us to believe that the accounts payable balance might require adjustment. Had we performed additional procedures or had we audited the financial statements in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, other matters might have come to our attention that would have been reported to you. This report relates only to the accounts and items specified above and does not extend to any financial statements of XYZ Company, taken as a whole.

.100 Compliance With Contractual Provisions (Separate Report)

We have examined the balance sheet of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19X1, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and changes in financial position for the year then ended, and have issued our report thereon dated February 16, 19X2. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and, accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In connection with our examination, nothing came to our attention that caused us to believe that the Company was not in compliance with any of the terms, covenants, provisions, or conditions of sections XX to XX, inclusive, of the Indenture dated July 21, 19X0, with ABC Bank. However, it should be noted that our examination was not directed primarily toward obtaining knowledge of such noncompliance.

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19XX, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19XX, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

In connection with our audit, nothing came to our attention that caused us to believe that the Company failed to comply with the terms, covenants, provisions, or conditions of sections XX to XX, inclusive of the Indenture dated July 21, 19XX, with ABC Bank insofar as they relate to accounting matters. However, our audit was not directed primarily toward obtaining knowledge of such noncompliance.

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited, in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, the balance sheet of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19X2, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended, and have issued our report thereon dated March 5, 19X3, that included an explanatory paragraph that described the litigation discussed in Note X of those statements.

In connection with our audit, nothing came to our attention that caused us to believe that the Company failed to comply with the accounting provisions in sections (1), (2) and (3) of the [name of state regulatory agency]. However, our audit was not directed primarily toward obtaining knowledge of such noncompliance.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors and management of XYZ Company and the [name of the state regulatory agency] and should not be used for any other purpose.

.130 Report on Financial Statements Prepared Pursuant to Loan Agreements That Results in a Presentation Not in Conformity With Generally Accepted Accounting Principles or an Other Comprehensive Basis of Accounting

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose statement of assets and liabilities of ABC Company as of December 31, 19X1, and the related special-purpose statements of revenues and expenses and of cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis to our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of complying with, and on the basis of accounting practices specified in, section 4 of a loan agreement between DEF Bank and the Company dated (date), as described in Note X, and are not intended to be a presentation in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the assets and liabilities of ABC Company as of December 31, 19X1, and the revenues and expenses and cash flows for the year then ended, on the basis of accounting described in Note X.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the boards of directors and managements of ABC Company and DEF Bank and should not be used for any other purpose.

.131 Report on Financial Statements Prepared Pursuant to an Acquisition Agreement That Results in a Presentation Not in Conformity With Generally Accepted Accounting Principles or an Other Comprehensive Basis of Accounting

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the special-purpose statement of assets and liabilities of ABC Company as of December 31, 19X1, and the related special-purpose statements of revenues and expenses and of cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. .140 Report on a Schedule of Gross Income and Certain Expenses to Meet Regulatory Requirements and to be Included in a Document Distributed to the General Public

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying Historical Summaries of Gross Income and Direct Operating Expenses of ABC Apartments, City, State (Historical Summaries), for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 19XX. These Historical Summaries are the responsibility of the Apartments' management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Historical Summaries based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Historical Summaries are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the Historical Summaries. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the Historical Summaries. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying Historical Summaries were prepared for the purpose of complying with the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission (for inclusion in the registration statement on Form S-11 of DEF Company) as described in Note X, and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the Apartments' revenues and expenses.

In our opinion, the Historical Summaries referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the gross income and direct operating expenses described in Note X of ABC Apartments for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 19XX, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.141 Report on a Statement of Assets Sold and Liabilities Transferred to Comply With a Contractual Agreement

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying statement of net assets sold of ABC Company as of June 8, 19XX. This statement of net assets sold is the responsibility of ABC Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the statement of net assets based on our audit.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the statement of net assets sold is free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the statement. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the statement of net assets sold. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying statement was prepared to present the net assets of ABC Company sold to XYZ Corporation pursuant to the purchase agreement described in Note X, and is not intended to be a complete presentation of ABC Company's assets and liabilities.

In our opinion, the accompanying statement of net assets sold presents fairly, in all material respects, the net assets of ABC Company as of June 8, 19XX, sold pursuant to the purchase agreement referred to in Note X, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the boards of directors and managements of ABC Company and XYZ Corporation and should not be used for any other purpose.

.150 Report on the Application of Accounting Principles

Introduction

We have been engaged to report on the appropriate application of generally accepted accounting principles to the specific (hypothetical) transaction described below. This report is being issued to the ABC Company (XYZ Intermediaries) for assistance in evaluating accounting principles for the described specific (hypothetical) transaction. Our engagement has been conducted in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

Description of Transaction

The facts, circumstances, and assumptions relevant to the specific (hypothetical) transaction as provided to us by the management of ABC Company (XYZ Intermediaries) are as follows:

Prior to 19X1, ABC Company used the accelerated cost recovery method (ACRS) to depreciate fixed assets for financial reporting and income tax purposes. The number of years specified by ACRS for recovery deductions of the fixed assets did not fall within a reasonable range of the asset's useful life. ABC Company switched to the straight-line method of depreciating its fixed assets in the current year.

Appropriate Accounting Principles

The change in depreciation methods should be accounted for as a prior period adjustment in the current year's financial statements in accordance with FASB Statement No. 16, Prior Period Adjustments, paragraph 11 [AC A35.103]. Since the number of years specified by ACRS for recovery deductions of the fixed assets did not fall within a reasonable range of the asset's useful life, the ACRS method would not be considered a generally accepted accounting principle. According to APB Opinion 20, Accounting Changes, paragraph 13 [AC A35.104], "A change from an accounting principle that is not generally accepted to one that is generally accepted is a correction of an error for purposes of applying this Opinion."

Concluding Comments

The ultimate responsibility for the decision on the appropriate applications of generally accepted accounting principles for an actual transaction rests with the preparers of financial statements, who should consult with their continuing accountants. Our judgment on the appropriate application of generally accepted accounting principles for the described specific (hypothetical) transaction is based solely on the facts provided to us as described above; should these facts and circumstances differ, our conclusion may change.

Review of Interim Financial Information

.01 Accountant's Report

Addressee:

We have made a review of (describe the information or statements reviewed) of ABC Company and consolidated subsidiaries as of September 30, 19X1 and for the three-month and nine-month periods then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

A review of interim financial information consists principally of obtaining an understanding of the system for the preparation of interim financial information, applying analytical procedures to financial data, and making inquiries of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters. It is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying financial (information or statements) for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.03 Reference to Other Accountants

Addressee:

We have made a review of (describe the information or statements reviewed) of ABC Company and consolidated subsidiaries as of September 30, 19X1, and for the three-month and nine-month periods then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. We were furnished with the report of other accountants on their review of the interim financial information of the ADE subsidiary, whose total assets and revenues constitute 20 percent and 22 percent, respectively, of the related consolidated totals.

A review of interim financial information consists principally of obtaining an understanding of the system for the preparation of interim financial information, applying analytical procedures to financial data, and making inquiries of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters. It is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Based on information furnished us by management, we believe that the Company has excluded from property and debt in the accompanying balance sheet certain lease obligations that should be capitalized in order to conform with generally accepted accounting principles. This information indicates that if these lease obligations were capitalized at September 30, 19X1, property would be increased by $___, and long-term debt by $___, and net income and earnings per share would be increased (decreased) by $___, $___, $___, and $___, respectively, for the three-month and nine-month periods then ended.

Based on our review, with the exception of the matter(s) described in the preceding paragraph(s), we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying financial (information or statements) for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.06 Restricted Scope of Review Stated in an Auditor's ReportIndependent Auditor's Report*Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of X Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of X Company as of [at] December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

The selected quarterly financial data on page XX contain information that we did not audit and, accordingly, we do not express an opinion on that data. We attempted but were unable to review the quarterly data in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants because we believe that the Company's system for preparing interim financial information does not provide an adequate basis to enable us to complete such a review.

.08 Cash Basis Statements—Omission of Substantially All Disclosures, With No Reference to Basis

Addressee:

I (We) have compiled the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities arising from cash transactions of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19XX, and the related statement of revenue collected and expenses paid for the year then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. The financial statements have been prepared on the cash basis of accounting, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

A compilation is limited to presenting in the form of financial statements information that is the representation of management (owners). I (We) have not audited or reviewed the accompanying financial statements and, accordingly, do not express an opinion or any other form of assurance on them.

Management has elected to omit substantially all of the informative disclosures ordinarily included in financial statements. If the omitted disclosures were included in the financial statements, they might influence the user's conclusions about the Company's assets, liabilities, equity, revenue and expenses. Accordingly, these financial statements are not designed for those who are not informed about such matters.

.13 Changed Reference to a Departure From Generally Accepted Accounting Principles²—Comparative Financial Statements

Addressee:

I (We) have compiled the accompanying balance sheets of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the years then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

A compilation is limited to presenting in the form of financial statements information that is the representation of management (owners). I (We) have not audited or reviewed the accompanying financial statements and, accordingly, do not express an opinion or any other form of assurance on them.

In my (our) previous compilation report dated March 1, 19X2, on the 19X1 financial statements, I (we) referred to a departure from generally accepted accounting principles because the company carried its land at appraised values. However, as disclosed in Note X, the company has restated its 19X1 financial statements to reflect its land at cost in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

.19 Financial Statements Included in Certain Prescribed Forms

Addressee:

I (We) have compiled the accompanying balance sheet of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19XX, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended included in the accompanying prescribed form, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

My (Our) compilation was limited to presenting in the form prescribed by ABC Bank information that is the representation of management (owners). I (We) have not audited or reviewed the financial statements referred to above and, accordingly, do not express an opinion or any other form of assurance on them.

These financial statements (including related disclosures) are presented in accordance with the requirements of [name of body], which differ from generally accepted accounting principles. Accordingly, these financial statements are not designed for those who are not informed about such differences.

.20 Financial Statements Included in Certain Prescribed Forms—Departure from GAAP Not Called for by the Prescribed Forms

Addressee:

I (We) have compiled the accompanying balance sheet of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19XX, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended included in the accompanying prescribed form, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

My (Our) compilation was limited to presenting in the form prescribed by ABC Trade Association information that is the representation of management (owners). I (We) have not audited or reviewed the financial statements referred to above and, accordingly, do not express an opinion or any other form of assurance on them. However, I (we) did become aware of a departure from generally accepted accounting principles that is not called for by the prescribed form or related instructions, as described in the following paragraph.

As disclosed in note X to the financial statements, generally accepted accounting principles require that land be stated at cost. Management has informed me (us) that the company has stated its land at appraised value and that, if generally accepted accounting principles had been followed, the land account and stockholders' equity would have been decreased by $500,000.

These financial statements (including related disclosures) are otherwise presented in accordance with the requirements of [name of body], which also differ from generally accepted accounting principles. Accordingly, these financial statements are not designed for those who are not informed about such differences.

.21 Uncertainty With Note Disclosure—Entity's Continued Existence ("Going Concern")

Addressee:

I (We) have compiled the accompanying balance sheet of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19XX, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

A compilation is limited to presenting in the form of financial statements information that is the representation of management (owners). I (We) have not audited or reviewed the accompanying financial statements and, accordingly, do not express an opinion or any other form of assurance on them.

As discussed in Note X, certain conditions indicate that the Company may be unable to continue as a going concern. The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments to the financial statements that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.*

.22 Interim Financial Statements Accompanied by a Financial Forecast Labeled as a "Budget"

Addressee:

I (We) have compiled the accompanying balance sheet of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19XX, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the six months then ending, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

A compilation is limited to presenting in the form of financial statements information that is the representation of management (owners). I (We) have not audited or reviewed the accompanying financial statements and, accordingly, do not express an opinion or any other form of assurance on them.

The accompanying budgeted balance sheet, statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19XX, and for the six months then ending, have not been compiled or examined by us and, accordingly, we do not express an opinion or any other form of assurance on them.

Management (owners) has (have) elected to omit the summaries of significant assumptions and accounting policies required under established guidelines for presentation of prospective financial statements. If the omitted summaries were included in the budgeted information, they might influence the user's conclusions about the company's budgeted information. Accordingly, this budgeted information is not designed for those who are not informed about such matters.

.23 Interim Financial Statements Accompanied by a Financial Forecast Labeled as an "Annual Budget"

Addressee:

I (We) have compiled the accompanying balance sheet of XYZ Company as of June 30, 19XX, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the six month period then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

A compilation is limited to presenting in the form of financial statements information that is the representation of management (owners). I (We) have not audited or reviewed the accompanying financial statements and, accordingly, do not express an opinion or any other form of assurance on them.

The accompanying annual budget of XYZ Company for the year ending December 31, 19XX has not been compiled or examined by us and, accordingly, we do not express an opinion or any other form of assurance on it.

Management (Owners) has (have) elected to omit the summaries of significant assumptions and accounting policies required under established guidelines for presentation of prospective financial statements. Accountant's Report on Review of Financial Statements of a Nonpublic Entity

.01 Accountant's Standard Report

Addressee:

I (We) have reviewed the accompanying balance sheet of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19XX, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. All information included in these financial statements is the representation of the management (owners) of XYZ Company.

A review consists principally of inquiries of company personnel and analytical procedures applied to financial data. It is substantially less in scope than an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, I (we) do not express such an opinion.

Based on my (our) review, I am (we are) not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying financial statements in order for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.02 Departure From GAAP—Accounting Principle Not Generally Accepted

Addressee:

I (We) have reviewed the accompanying balance sheet of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19XX, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. All information included in these financial statements is the representation of the management (owners) of XYZ Company.

A review consists principally of inquiries of company personnel and analytical procedures applied to financial data. It is substantially less in scope than an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, I (we) do not express such an opinion.

Based on my (our) review, with the exception of the matter described in the following paragraph, I am (we are) not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying financial statements in order for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

As disclosed in note X to the financial statements, generally accepted accounting principles require that inventory cost consist of material, labor, and overhead. Management has informed me (us) that the inventory of finished goods and work in process is stated in the accompanying financial statements at material and labor cost only, and that the effects of this departure from generally accepted accounting principles on financial position, results of operations, and cash flows have not been determined.

.03 Departure From GAAP—Change in Accounting Principle Without Reasonable Justification

Addressee:

I (We) have reviewed the accompanying balance sheet of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19XX, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. All information included in these financial statements is the representation of the management (owners) of XYZ Company.

A review consists principally of inquiries of company personnel and analytical procedures applied to financial data. It is substantially less in scope than an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, I (we) do not express such an opinion.

Based on my (our) review, with the exception of the matter described in the following paragraph, I am (we are) not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying financial statements in order for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

As disclosed in note X to the financial statements, the company has adopted (description of newly adopted method), whereas it previously used (description of previous method). Although the (description of newly adopted method) is in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, the company does not appear to have reasonable justification for making a change as required by Opinion No. 20 of the Accounting Principles Board.

.04 Departure From GAAP—Omission of Statement of Cash Flows

Addressee:

I (We) have reviewed the accompanying balance sheet of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19XX, and the related statements of income, and retained earnings, for the year then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. All information included in these financial statements is the representation of the management (owners) of XYZ Company.

A review consists principally of inquiries of company personnel and analytical procedures applied to financial data. It is substantially less in scope than an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, I (we) do not express such an opinion.

Based on my (our) review, with the exception of the matter described in the following paragraph, I am (we are) not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying financial statements in order for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

A statement of cash flows for the year ended December 31, 19XX, has not been presented. Generally accepted accounting principles require that such a statement be presented when financial statements purport to present financial position and results of operations.

.05 Cash Basis Statements—Full Disclosure

Addressee:

I (We) have reviewed the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities arising from cash transactions of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19XX, and the related statement of revenue collected and expenses paid for the year ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. All information included in these financial statements is the representation of the management (owners) of XYZ Company.

A review consists principally of inquiries of company personnel and analytical procedures applied to financial data. It is substantially less in scope than an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, I (we) do not express such an opinion.

.08 Review Report on Current Period and Reference to Compilation Report on Prior Period—Comparative Financial Statements

Addressee:

I (We) have reviewed the accompanying balance sheet of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19X2, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. All information included in these financial statements is the representation of the management (owners) of XYZ Company.

A review consists principally of inquiries of company personnel and analytical procedures applied to financial data. It is substantially less in scope than an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, I (we) do not express such an opinion.

Based on my (our) review, I am (we are) not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the 19X2 financial statements in order for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

The accompanying 19X1 financial statements of XYZ Company were compiled by me (us). A compilation is limited to presenting in the form of financial statements information that is the representation of management (owners). I (We) have not audited or reviewed the 19X1 financial statements and, accordingly, do not express an opinion or any other form of assurance on them.

.09 Changed Reference to a Departure From Generally Accepted Accounting Principles¹—Comparative Financial Statements

Addressee:

I (We) have reviewed the accompanying balance sheet of XYZ Company as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the years then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. All information included in these financial statements is the representation of the management (owners) of XYZ Company.

Accordingly, I (we) do not express such an opinion.

Based on my (our) review, I am (we are) not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying financial statements in order for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

In my (our) previous review report dated March 1, 19X2, on the 19X1 financial statements, I (we) referred to a departure from generally accepted accounting principles because the company carried its land at appraised values. However, as disclosed in Note X, the company has restated its 19X1 financial statements to reflect its land at cost in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

Accountant's Report on Condensed Financial Statements and Selected Financial Data

.01 Unqualified Opinion on Condensed Financial Statements¹

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited, in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, the consolidated balance sheet of X-Company and subsidiaries as of December 31, 19X0, and the related consolidated statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended (not presented herein); and in our report dated February 15, 19X1, we expressed an unqualified opinion on those consolidated financial statements. In our opinion, the information set forth in the accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the consolidated financial statements from which it has been derived.

[Signature]

[Source: SAS No. 42, paragraph 6 (AU section 552.06).]

¹ This report is appropriate when reporting in a client-prepared document on condensed financial statements (either for an annual or an interim period) that are derived from audited financial statements of a public entity that is required to file, at least annually, complete audited financial statements with a regulatory agency (See SAS No. 42, paragraph 1a [AU section 552.019]).

.02 Adverse Opinion on Condensed Financial Statements Due to Inadequate Disclosure²Independent Auditor's Report*Addressee:

We have audited the consolidated balance sheet of X Company and subsidiaries as of December 31, 19X0, and the related consolidated statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended (not presented herein). Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and, accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

The condensed consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 19X0, and the related condensed consolidated statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended, presented on pages XX-XX, are presented as a summary and therefore do not include all of the disclosures required by generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, because of the significance of the omission of the information referred to in the preceding paragraph, the condensed consolidated financial statements referred to above do not present fairly, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, the financial position of X Company and subsidiaries as of December 31, 19X0, or the results of their operations and their cash flows for the year then ended.

[Signature]

[Source: SAS No. 42, paragraph 7, footnote 6 (AU section 552.07).]

² If a statement naming the auditor and stating that condensed financial statements have been derived from audited financial statements is made in a client-prepared document that does not include audited financial statements and the client is not a public entity that is required to file complete audited financial statements with a regulatory agency at least annually, this report is appropriate (See SAS 42, paragraph 7, footnote 6 [AU section 552.07]).

.03 Review Report on Condensed Financial StatementsIndependent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have made a review of the condensed consolidated balance sheet of ABC Company and subsidiaries as of March 31, 19X1, and the related condensed consolidated statements of income and cash flows for the three-month periods ended March 31, 19X1 and 19X0, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

A review of interim financial information consists principally of obtaining an understanding of the system for the preparation of interim financial information, applying analytical procedures to financial data, and making inquiries of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters. It is substantially less in scope than an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the condensed consolidated financial statements referred to above for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

We have previously audited, in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, the consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 19X0, and the related consolidated statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the year then ended (not presented herein); and in our report dated February 15, 19X1, we expressed an unqualified opinion on those consolidated financial statements. In our opinion, the information set forth in the accompanying condensed consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 19X0, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the consolidated balance sheet from which it has been derived.

Reports on Personal Financial Statements

.01 Auditor's Standard Report

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

I (We) have audited the statement of financial condition of James and Jane Person as of [date], and the related statement of changes in net worth for the [period] then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of James and Jane Person. My (our) responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my (our) audit.

I (We) conducted my (our) audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I (we) plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by James and Jane Person, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. I (We) believe that my (our) audit provides a reasonable basis for my (our) opinion.

In my (our) opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial condition of James and Jane Person as of [date] and the changes in their net worth for the [period] then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.03 Audit Report—Departure from GAAP—Inappropriate Valuation Methods—Adverse Opinion

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

I (We) have audited the statement of financial condition of James and Jane Person as of [date], and the related statement of changes in net worth for the [period] then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of James and Jane Person. My (our) responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my (our) audit.

I (We) conducted my (our) audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I (we) plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by James and Jane Person, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. I (We) believe that my (our) audit provides a reasonable basis for my (our) opinion.

As discussed in Note X to the financial statements, assets amounting to $XX,XXX (XX percent of total assets) as of [date] have been valued at estimated current value as determined by James Person. I (We) have reviewed the procedures applied by James Person in valuing the assets and have inspected the underlying documentation. In my (our) opinion, those procedures are not appropriate to determine the estimated current values of the assets in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. The effects on the financial statements of not applying appropriate procedures to determine the estimated current values of the assets are not reasonably determinable.

In my (our) opinion, because of the effects of the matters discussed in the preceding paragraph, the financial statements referred to above do not present fairly, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, the financial condition of James and Jane Person as of [date] and the changes in their net worth for the [period] then ended.

.04 Audit Report—Departure from GAAP—Inappropriate Valuation Methods—Qualified Opinion

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

I (We) have audited the statement of financial condition of James and Jane Person as of [date], and the related statement of changes in net worth for the [period] then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of James and Jane Person. My (our) responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my (our) audit.

I (We) conducted my (our) audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I (we) plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by James and Jane Person, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. I (We) believe that my (our) audit provides a reasonable basis for my (our) opinion.

As discussed in Note X to the financial statements, assets amounting to $XX,XXX (XX percent of total assets) as of [date] have been valued at estimated current value as determined by James Person. I (We) have reviewed the procedures applied by James Person in valuing the assets and have inspected the underlying documentation. In my (our) opinion, those procedures are not appropriate to determine the estimated current values of the assets in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. The effects on the financial statements of not applying appropriate procedures to determine the estimated current values of the assets are not reasonably determinable.

In my (our) opinion, except for the effects on the financial statements of the valuation of assets determined by James Person, as described in the preceding paragraph, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial condition of James and Jane Person as of [date] and the changes in their net worth for the [period] then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.05 Audit Report—Inadequate Records Preclude OpinionIndependent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

I (We) was engaged to audit the statement of financial condition of James and Jane Person as of [date], and the related statement of changes in net worth for the [period] then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of James and Jane Person.

James and Jane Person do not maintain accounting records sufficient to assure that all transactions are recorded. Accordingly, it was not practicable for me (us) to extend my (our) auditing procedures sufficiently to determine that all of their assets and liabilities and the changes in their net worth are recorded in the financial statements referred to above.

Because James and Jane Person do not maintain certain accounting records and supporting documentation, and because I was (we were) unable to apply adequate auditing procedures regarding the recording of transactions as noted in preceding paragraph, the scope of my (our) work was not sufficient to enable me (us) to express, and I (we) do not express, an opinion on the financial statements referred to above.

.06 Audit Report—Scope Limitation—Inadequate RecordsIndependent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

I (We) have audited the statement of financial condition of James and Jane Person as of [date], and the related statement of changes in net worth for the [period] then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of James and Jane Person. My (our) responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my (our) audit.

Except as discussed in the following paragraph, I (we) conducted my (our) audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I (we) plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by James and Jane Person as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. I (We) believe that my (our) audit provides a reasonable basis for my (our) opinion.

James and Jane Person do not maintain accounting records sufficient to assure that all transactions are recorded. Accordingly, it was not practicable for me (us) to extend my (our) auditing procedures sufficiently to determine that all of their assets and liabilities and the changes in their net worth are recorded in the financial statements referred to above.

In my (our) opinion, except for the effects of such adjustments, if any, as might have been determined to be necessary had I (we) been able to determine that all assets and liabilities and changes in net worth were recorded in the financial statements, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial condition of James and Jane Person as of [date], and the changes in their net worth for the [period] then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.07 Audit Report—Income Tax BasisIndependent Auditor's Report*Addressee:

I (We) have audited the statement of assets and liabilities—income tax basis of James and Jane Person as of [date], and the related statement of changes in net assets—income tax basis for the [period] then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of James and Jane Person. My (Our) responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my (our) audit.

I (We) conducted my (our) audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I (we) plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by James and Jane Person, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. I (We) believe that my (our) audit provides a reasonable basis for my (our) opinion.

As described in Note X, these financial statements were prepared on the basis of accounting James and Jane Person use for income tax purposes, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

In my (our) opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the assets and liabilities of James and Jane Person as of [date], and the changes in their net assets for the [period] then ended, on the basis of accounting described in Note X.

.10 Compilation Report—Omission of Substantially All Disclosures

Addressee:

I (We) have compiled the accompanying statement of financial condition of James and Jane Person as of [date], and the related statement of changes in net worth for the [period] then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

A compilation is limited to presenting in the form of financial statements information that is the representation of the individuals whose financial statements are presented. I (We) have not audited or reviewed the accompanying financial statements and, accordingly, do not express an opinion or any other form of assurance on them.

James and Jane Person have elected to omit substantially all of the disclosures required by generally accepted accounting principles. If the omitted disclosures were included in the financial statements, they might influence the user's conclusions about the financial condition of James and Jane Person and changes in their net worth. Accordingly, these financial statements are not designed for those who are not informed about such matters.

NOTE:

When personal financial statements omit substantially all disclosures and do not disclose that the assets are presented at their estimated current values and that the liabilities are presented at their estimated current amounts, the accountant should include the following sentence at the end of the first paragraph of his report:

The financial statements are intended to present the assets of James and Jane Person at estimated current values and their liabilities at estimated current amounts.

.11 Compilation Report—GAAP Departure—Material Assets at Cost

Addressee:

I (We) have compiled the accompanying statement of financial condition of James and Jane Person as of [date], and the related statement of changes in net worth for the [period] then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

A compilation is limited to presenting in the form of financial statements information that is the representation of the individuals whose financial statements are presented. I (We) have not audited or reviewed the accompanying financial statements and, accordingly, do not express an opinion or any other form of assurance on them. However, I (we) did become aware of a departure from generally accepted accounting principles that is described in the following paragraph.

As disclosed in Note X to the financial statements, generally accepted accounting principles require that assets be presented at their estimated current values and that liabilities be presented at their estimated current amounts. James and Jane Person have informed me (us) that their investment in ABC Company is stated in the accompanying financial statements at cost and that the effects of this departure from generally accepted accounting principles on their financial condition and the changes in their net worth have not been determined.

.13 Compilation Report—Financial Statements Included in a Prescribed Form

Addressee:

I (We) have compiled the [identification of financial statements, including period covered and name of individual(s)] included in the accompanying prescribed form, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

My (Our) compilation was limited to presenting in the form prescribed by [name of body] information that is the representation of the individuals whose financial statements are presented. I (We) have not audited or reviewed the financial statements referred to above and, accordingly, do not express an opinion or any other form of assurance on them.

These financial statements (including related disclosures) are presented in accordance with the requirements of [name of body], which differ from generally accepted accounting principles. Accordingly, these financial statements are not designed for those who are not informed about such differences.

.14 Accountant's Standard Review Report

Addressee:

I (We) have reviewed the accompanying statement of financial condition of James and Jane Person as of [date], and the related statement of changes in net worth for the [period] then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. All information included in these financial statements is the representation of James and Jane Person.

A review of personal financial statements consists principally of inquiries of the individuals whose financial statements are presented and analytical procedures applied to financial data. It is substantially less in scope than an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, I (we) do not express such an opinion.

Based on my (our) review, I am (we are) not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying financial statements in order for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.16 Review Report—GAAP Departure—Failure to Include a Provision for Estimated Income Taxes on the Differences Between the Estimated Current Values of Assets and the Estimated Current Amounts of Liabilities and Their Tax Bases

Addressee:

I (We) have reviewed the accompanying statement of financial condition of James Person as of [date], and the related statement of changes in net worth for the [period] then ended, in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. All information included in these financial statements is the representation of James Person.

It is substantially less in scope than an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, I (we) do not express such an opinion.

Based on my (our) review, with the exception of the matter described in the following paragraph, I am (we are) not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying financial statements in order for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Generally accepted accounting principles require that personal financial statements include a provision for estimated income taxes on the differences between the estimated current values of assets and the estimated current amounts of liabilities and their tax bases. The accompanying financial statements do not include such a provision and the effect of this departure from generally accepted accounting principles has not been determined.

Accountants' Reports on Basic or General Purpose Financial Statements for State and Local Governmental Units

.01 Unqualified Opinion on General Purpose or Component Unit Financial Statements Only

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying general purpose* financial statements of City of Example, Any State as of December 31, 19XX, and for the year then ended. These general purpose* financial statements are the responsibility of City of Example, Any State management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the general purpose* financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the general purpose* financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall general purpose* financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the general purpose* financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of City of Example, Any State as of December 31, 19XX, and the results of its operations and changes in financial position of its proprietary and similar trust fund types for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

* If the financial statements are for a component unit, the term "general purpose financial statements" should not be used. In the case of a component unit other than the oversight unit, the term "component unit financial statements" or just "financial statements" should be used. For the component unit financial statements of an oversight unit see AAM section 10,700.04.

 The Governmental Accounting Standards Board plans to issue a final statement that will require proprietary funds and nonexpendable trust funds other than pension funds and public employee retirement systems to issue a statement of cash flows instead of a statement of changes in financial position. That statement will be effective for fiscal periods beginning after December 15, 1989.

.02 Unqualified Opinion on General Purpose or Component Unit Financial Statements Submitted Together With Combining and Individual Fund and Account Group Financial Statements and Supporting Schedules as Supplementary Data¹

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying general purpose^{} financial statements of City of Example, Any State as of December 31, 19XX, and for the year then ended as listed in the table of contents. These general purpose^{} financial statements are the responsibility of City of Example, Any State management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these general purpose^{*} financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the general purpose^{} financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the general purpose^{} financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall general purpose^{*} financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the general purpose^{*} financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of City of Example, Any State as of December 31, 19XX, and the results of its operations and changes in financial position of its proprietary, and similar fund types for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Our audit was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the general purpose^{} financial statements taken as a whole. The combining and individual fund and account group financial statements and schedules listed in the table of contents are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the general purpose^{} financial statements of the City of Example, Any State. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the general purpose^{} financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly presented in all material respects in relation to the general purpose^{} financial statements taken as a whole.

¹ If a schedule of federal financial assistance is reported on as supplementary data, Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, should be referenced in the second paragraph. See AAM section 10,400.17 for guidance on issuing a separate report on a schedule of federal financial assistance.

^{*} If the financial statements are for a component unit, the term "general purpose financial statements" should not be used. In the case of a component unit other than the oversight unit, the term "component unit financial statements" or just "financial statements" should be used. For the component unit financial statements of an oversight unit, the principles of AAM section 10,700.04 should be combined with those of this section.

.03 Unqualified Opinion on General Purpose or Component Unit Financial Statements and Combining and Individual Fund and Account Group Financial Statements Presented Together With Supporting Schedules Reported on as Supplementary Data

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying general purpose* financial statements and the combining and individual fund and account group financial statements of City of Example, Any State, as of December 31, 19XX, and for the year then ended as listed in the table of contents. These financial statements are the responsibility of City of Example, Any State management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the general purpose* financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the City of Example, Any State, as of December 31, 19XX, and the results of its operations and the changes in financial position of its proprietary and similar trust fund types for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Also, in our opinion, the combining and individual fund and account group financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of each of the individual funds and account groups of the City of Example, Any State, as of December 31, 19XX, and the results of operations of such funds and the changes in financial position of individual proprietary and similar trust funds for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Our audit was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the general purpose* financial statements taken as a whole and on the combining and individual fund and account group financial statements. The accompanying financial information listed as supporting schedules in the table of contents is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements of the City of Example, Any State. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the general purpose,* combining and individual fund and account group financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly presented in all material respects in relation to the financial statements of each of the respective individual funds and account groups, taken as a whole.

.04 Unqualified Opinion on Component Unit Financial Statements of an Oversight Unit That Omit the Financial Statements of All Other Component Units

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying component unit financial statements of City of Example, Any State oversight unit, as of December 31, 19XX, and for the year then ended. These component unit financial statements are the responsibility of City of Example, Any State oversight unit management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these component unit financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the component unit financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the component unit financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall component unit financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The financial statements referred to above include only the financial activities of the oversight unit. Financial activities of other component units that form the reporting entity are not included.

In our opinion, the component unit financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of City of Example, Any State oversight unit, as of December 31, 19XX, and the results of its operations and changes in financial position of its proprietary and similar trust fund types for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.05 Qualified Opinion on General Purpose Financial Statements That Omit One or More, but Not All, Component Units of the Reporting Entity

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying general purpose* financial statements of City of Example, Any State as of December 31, 19XX, and for the year then ended. These general purpose* financial statements are the responsibility of City of Example, Any State management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the general purpose* financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the general purpose* financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall general purpose* financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The general purpose* financial statements referred to above do not include financial activities of the [identify the component unit omitted], which should be included in order to conform with generally accepted accounting principles. If the omitted component unit had been included, the assets and revenues of the [identify fund type(s), e.g., special revenue fund type] would have increased by $XXX,XXX and $XXX,XXX, respectively, there would have been an excess of expenditures over revenues in that fund type for the year of $XXX,XXX, and the [identify fund type(s)] fund balance would have been a deficit of $XXX,XXX.

In our opinion, except for the effects on the financial statements of the omission described in the preceding paragraph, the general purpose* financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of City of Example, Any State as of December 31, 19XX, and the results of its operations and changes in financial position of its proprietary and similar trust fund types for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

[Signature]

NOTE:

If the omission was sufficiently material, the auditor should express an adverse opinion on the general purpose financial statements. In such case, a separate explanatory paragraph should state all the substantive reasons for the adverse opinion and the principal effects of those matters. See AAM section 10,700.06 for guidance.

* If the financial statements are for a component unit, the term "general purpose financial statements" should not be used. In the case of a component unit other than the oversight unit, the term "component unit financial statements" or just "financial statements" should be used. For the component unit financial statements of an oversight unit, the principles of AAM section 10,700.04 should be combined with those of this section.

 If the amounts applicable to the omitted component have not been audited, insert the phrase "based on unaudited information."

.06 Adverse Opinion on General Purpose Financial Statements That Omit One or More, But Not All, Component Units of the Reporting Entity
Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying general purpose* financial statements of City of Example, Any State as of December 31, 19XX, and for the year then ended. These general purpose* financial statements are the responsibility of City of Example, Any State management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these general purpose* financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the general purpose* financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the general purpose* financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall general purpose* financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The general purpose* financial statements referred to above do not include financial activities of the [identify the component unit omitted], which should be included in order to conform with generally accepted accounting principles.

Because of the departure from generally accepted accounting principles identified above, as of December 31, 19XX, the assets and revenues of the [identify fund type(s), e.g., special revenue fund type] would have increased by $XXX,XXX and $XXX,XXX, respectively, there would have been an excess of expenditures over revenues in that fund type for the year of $XXX,XXX, and the [identify fund type(s)] fund balance would have been a deficit of $XXX,XXX.

In our opinion, because of the effects of the matters discussed in the preceding paragraphs the general purpose* financial statements referred to above do not present fairly, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, the financial position of City of Example, Any State as of December 31, 19XX, or the results of operations or changes in financial position of its proprietary and similar trust fund types for the year then ended.

We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The general purpose* financial statements referred to above do not include the [identify the fund type (account group) omitted], which should be included to conform with generally accepted accounting principles. The omitted fund type has assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenditures of $XXX,XXX, $XXX,XXX, $XXX,XXX, and $XXX,XXX, respectively. (The amount that should be recorded in the general fixed assets account group is not known.)

In our opinion, except for the effect on the general purpose* financial statements of the omission described in the preceding paragraph, the general purpose* financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of City of Example, Any State as of December 31, 19XX, and the results of its operations and changes in financial position of its proprietary and similar trust fund types for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.11 Unqualified Opinion on General Purpose or Component Unit Financial Statements With an Explanatory Paragraph Added Because of Substantial Doubt About the Ability of a Governmental Unit to Meet Its Debts as They Come Due¹

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying general purpose* financial statements of City of Example, Any State as of December 31, 19XX, and for the year then ended. These general purpose* financial statements are the responsibility of City of Example, Any State management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these general purpose* financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the general purpose* financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the general purpose* financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall general purpose* financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the general purpose* financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of City of Example, Any State as of December 31, 19XX, and the results of its operations and changes in financial position of its proprietary and similar trust fund types for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

As discussed in Note __, [include description of reason that a question has arisen about the ability of the governmental unit to meet its debts as they come due]. The general purpose* financial statements do not include any adjustment relating to the amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary if City of Example, Any State is not able to meet its debts as they come due or if such debts are adjusted under the provisions of Chapter 9 of the Federal Bankruptcy Code.

.12 Qualified Opinion on General Purpose Financial Statements That Include an Unaudited Organization, Function, or Activity

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying general purpose* financial statements of City of Example, Any State as of December 31, 19XX, and for the year then ended. These general purpose* financial statements are the responsibility of City of Example, Any State management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these general purpose* financial statements based on our audit.

Except as discussed in the following paragraph, we conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the general purpose* financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the general purpose* financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall general purpose* financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

.13 Unqualified Opinion on General Purpose Financial Statements With Reference to Audit of Part of a Fund Type by Another Auditor

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying general purpose* financial statements of City of Example, Any State as of December 31, 19XX, and for the year then ended. These general purpose* financial statements are the responsibility of City of Example, Any State management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these general purpose* financial statements based on our audit. We did not audit the financial statements of [identify component unit or fund], which represent XX percent and XX percent, respectively, of the assets and revenues of the [identify fund type]. Those financial statements were audited by other auditors whose report thereon has been furnished to us and our opinion, insofar as it relates to the amounts included for [identify component unit or fund], is based solely upon the report of the other auditors.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the general purpose* financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the general purpose* financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall general purpose* financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit and the report of other auditors provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

.15 Report on Financial Statements Prepared in Accordance With a Comprehensive Basis of Accounting Other Than Generally Accepted Accounting Principles

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the financial statements of City of Example, Any State as of and for the year ended June 30, 19XX, as listed in the table of contents. These financial statements are the responsibility of the City of Example, Any State management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As discussed in Note _____, City of Example, Any State prepares its financial statements on a prescribed basis of accounting that demonstrates compliance with the cash basis and budget laws of Any State, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the cash and unencumbered cash balances of City of Example, Any State at June 30, 19XX, and the revenues it received and expenditures it paid for the year then ended on the basis of accounting described in Note _____.

.16 Unqualified Opinion on a Financial Statement of a Department Constituting Less Than a Fund

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Department of Example, Any State as of June 30, 19XX, and for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of Department of Example, Any State management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As discussed in Note _____, the financial statements of Department of Example, Any State are intended to present the financial position and results of operations and changes in financial position of proprietary fund types of only that portion of the funds and account groups of the State that is attributable to the transactions of the Department.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Department of Example, Any State at June 30, 19XX, and the results of its operations and the changes in financial position for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.18 Compliance Report Based on an Audit of General Purpose or Basic Financial Statements Performed in Accordance With Government Auditing Standards

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the general purpose financial statements of City of Example, Any State as of and for the year ended June 30, 19X1, and have issued our report thereon dated August 15, 19X1.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the general purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement.

Compliance with laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to City of Example, Any State, is the responsibility of City of Example, Any State management. As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the general purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the City's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants. However, our objective was not to provide an opinion on overall compliance with such provisions.

The results of our tests indicate that, with respect to the items tested, City of Example, Any State complied, in all material respects, with the provisions referred to in the preceding paragraph. With respect to items not tested, nothing came to our attention that caused us to believe that the City of Example, Any State had not complied, in all material respects, with those provisions.

This report is intended for the information of the audit committee, management and [specify legislative or regulatory body]. This restriction is not intended to limit the distribution of this report, which is a matter of public record.

.19 Compliance Report Based on an Audit of General Purpose or Basic Financial Statements Performed in Accordance With Government Auditing Standards When, Based on Assessments of Materiality and Audit Risk, the Auditor Concluded it Was Not Necessary to Perform Tests of Compliance With Laws and Regulations

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the general purpose financial statements of City of Example, Any State as of and for the year ended June 30, 19X1, and have issued our report thereon dated August 15, 19X1.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the general purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement.

Compliance with laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to City of Example, Any State is the responsibility of City of Example, Any State management. As part of our audit, we assessed the risk that noncompliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants could cause the financial statements to be materially misstated. We concluded that the risk of such material misstatement was sufficiently low that it was not necessary to perform tests of the City's compliance with such provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

However, in connection with our audit, nothing came to our attention that caused us to believe that City of Example, Any State had not complied, in all material respects, with the laws, regulations, contracts, and grants referred to in the preceding paragraph.

This report is intended for the information of the audit committee, management and [specify legislative or regulatory body]. This restriction is not intended to limit the distribution of this report, which is a matter of public record.

.20 Compliance Report Based on an Audit of General Purpose or Basic Financial Statements Performed in Accordance With Government Auditing Standards When Material Instances of Noncompliance are Identified

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the general purpose financial statements of City of Example, Any State as of and for the year ended June 30, 19X1, and have issued our report thereon dated August 15, 19X1.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the general purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement.

Compliance with laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to City of Example, Any State, is the responsibility of City of Example, Any State management. As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the general purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the City's compliance with certain provisions of laws and regulations, contracts, and grants. However, our objective was not to provide an opinion on overall compliance with such provisions.

Material instances of noncompliance are failures to follow requirements or violations of prohibitions, contained in laws, regulations, contracts or grants, that cause us to conclude that the aggregation of the misstatements resulting from those failures or violations is material to the general purpose financial statements. The results of our tests of compliance disclosed the following material instances of noncompliance, the effects of which have been corrected in the 19X1 general purpose financial statements of City of Example, Any State.

[Include paragraphs describing the material instances of noncompliance noted.]

We considered these material instances of noncompliance in forming our opinion on whether the 19X1 general purpose financial statements are presented fairly, in all material respects, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, and this report does not affect our report dated August 15, 19X1 on those general purpose financial statements.

Except as described above, the results of our tests of compliance indicate that, with respect to the items tested, City of Example, Any State complied, in all material respects, with the provisions referred to in the third paragraph of this report, and with respect to items not tested, nothing came to our attention that caused us to believe that the City had not complied, in all material respects, with those provisions.

This report is intended for the information of the audit committee, management and [specify legislative or regulatory body]. This restriction is not intended to limit the distribution of this report, which is a matter of public record.

.21 Single Audit Opinion on Compliance With Specific Requirements Applicable to Major Federal Financial Assistance Programs

Independent Auditor's Opinion

Addressee:

We have audited City of Example, Any State compliance with the requirements governing types of services allowed or unallowed; eligibility; matching, level of effort, or earmarking; reporting; [describe any special tests and provisions]; claims for advances and reimbursements; and amounts claimed or used for matching that are applicable to each of its major federal financial assistance programs, which are identified in the accompanying schedule of federal financial assistance, for the year ended June 30, 19X1. The management of City of Example, Any State is responsible for City of Example, Any State compliance with those requirements. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on compliance with those requirements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, and Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-128, Audits of State and Local Governments. Those standards and OMB Circular A-128 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether material noncompliance with the requirements referred to above occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about City of Example, Any State compliance with those requirements. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The results of our audit procedures disclosed immaterial instances of noncompliance with the requirements referred to above, which are described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs. We considered these instances of noncompliance in forming our opinion on compliance, which is expressed in the following paragraph.

In our opinion, City of Example, Any State complied, in all material respects, with the requirements governing types of services allowed or unallowed; eligibility; matching, level of effort, or earmarking; reporting; [describe any special tests and provisions]; claims for advances and reimbursements; and amounts claimed or used for matching that are applicable to each of its major federal financial assistance programs for the year ended June 30, 19X1.

We have audited City of Example, Any State compliance with the requirements governing types of services allowed or unallowed; eligibility; matching, level of effort, or earmarking; reporting; [describe any special tests and provisions]; claims for advances and reimbursements; and amounts claimed or used for matching that are applicable to each of its major federal financial assistance programs, which are identified in the accompanying schedule of federal financial assistance, for the year ended June 30, 19X1. The management of the City of Example, Any State is responsible for the City of Example, Any State compliance with those requirements. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on compliance with those requirements based on our audit.

Except as discussed in the following paragraph, we conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, and Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-128, Audits of State and Local Governments. Those standards and OMB Circular A-128 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether material noncompliance with the requirements referred to above occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the City of Example, Any State compliance with those requirements. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

We were unable to obtain sufficient documentation supporting the City of Example, Any State compliance with the requirements of Major Program ABC governing types of services allowed or unallowed; nor were we able to satisfy ourselves as to the City of Example, Any State compliance with those requirements of Major Program ABC by other auditing procedures.

The results of our audit procedures disclosed immaterial instances of noncompliance with the requirements referred to above, which are described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs. We considered these instances of noncompliance in forming our opinion on compliance, which is expressed in the following paragraph.

In our opinion, except for the effects of such noncompliance, if any, as might have been determined had we been able to examine sufficient evidence regarding the City of Example, Any State compliance with the requirements of Major Program ABC governing types of services allowed or unallowed, City of Example, Any State complied, in all material respects, with the requirements governing types of services allowed or unallowed; eligibility; matching, level of effort, or earmarking; reporting; [describe any special tests and provisions]; claims for advances and reimbursements; and amounts claimed or used for matching that are applicable to each of its major federal financial assistance programs for the year ended June 30, 19X1.

We have audited City of Example, Any State compliance with the requirements governing types of services allowed or unallowed; eligibility; matching, level of effort, or earmarking; reporting [describe any special tests and provisions]; claims for advances and reimbursements; and amounts claimed or used for matching that are applicable to each of its major federal financial assistance programs, which are identified in the accompanying schedule of federal financial assistance, for the year ended June 30, 19X1. The management of the City of Example, Any State is responsible for the City of Example, Any State compliance with those requirements. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on compliance with those requirements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, and Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-128, Audits of State and Local Governments. Those standards and OMB Circular A-128 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether material noncompliance with the requirements referred to above occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the City of Example, Any State compliance with those requirements. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The results of our audit procedures for Major Program ABC disclosed that the City of Example, Any State did not comply with the requirements that the City match the funds received from Major Program ABC. In our opinion, the City is matching funds received from Major Program ABC is necessary for the City to comply with the requirements applicable to Major Program ABC.

The results of our audit procedures disclosed immaterial instances of noncompliance with the requirements referred to above, which are described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs. We considered these instances of noncompliance in forming our opinion on compliance, which is expressed in the following paragraph.

In our opinion, except for those instances of noncompliance with the requirements applicable to Major Program ABC referred to in the third paragraph of this report and identified in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs, the City of Example, Any State complied, in all material respects, with the requirements governing types of services allowed or unallowed; eligibility; matching, level of effort, or earmarking; reporting; [describe any special tests and provisions]; claims for advances and reimbursements; and amounts claimed or used for matching that are applicable to each of its major federal financial assistance programs for the year ended June 30, 19X1.

28 Report on the Internal Control Structure in Accordance With Government Auditing Standards

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the general purpose financial statements of City of Example, Any State as of and for the year ended June 30, 19XX, and have issued our report thereon dated August 15, 19XX.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the general purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement.

In planning and performing our audit of the general purpose financial statements of City of Example, Any State for the year ended June 30, 19XX, we considered its internal control structure in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the general purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

The management of City of Example, Any State is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures. The objectives of an internal control structure are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of general purpose financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure, errors or irregularities may nevertheless occur and not be detected. Also projection of any evaluation of the structure to future periods is subject to the risk that procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of the design and operation or policies and procedures may deteriorate.

For the purpose of this report, we have classified the significant internal control structure policies and procedures in the following categories [identify internal control structure categories].

For all of the internal control structure categories listed above, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operations, and we assessed control risk.*

* This description of the scope of the auditor's consideration of the internal control structure is based on the provisions of SAS No. 55, Consideration of the Internal Control Structure in a Financial Statement Audit [AU section 319]. This description should not be used if the auditor has not implemented SAS No. 55. Rather, the description of the scope of the auditor's work should be based on the provisions of SAS No. 1, section 320, The Auditor's Study and Evaluation of Internal Control [AU section 320]. Following is an example of such a description.

Our consideration of the internal control structure included all of the control categories listed above except that we did not evaluate the internal control structure over (identify any category not evaluated) because (state reasons for excluding any category from the evaluation). The purpose of our consideration of the internal control structure was to determine the nature, timing, and extent of the auditing procedures necessary for expressing an opinion on the entity's financial statements.

If the auditor has not made a study and evaluation of any significant category of the internal control structure beyond the preliminary review phase described in SAS No. 1, section 320.53—.55 [AU section 320.53—.55], a description of the scope of the auditor's work such as the following should be used.

Solely to assist us in planning and performing our audit, we made a study and evaluation of the internal control structure of City of Example, Any State. That study and evaluation was limited to a preliminary review of the structure to obtain an understanding of the control environment and the flow of transactions through the accounting system. Because (state reason), our study and evaluation did not extend beyond this preliminary review phase.

We noted certain matters involving the internal control structure and its operation that we consider to be reportable conditions under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Reportable conditions involve matters coming to our attention relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of the internal control structure that, in our judgment, could adversely affect the entity's ability to record, process, summarize, and report financial data consistent with the assertions of management in the general purpose financial statements.

[Include paragraphs to describe the reportable conditions noted.]

A material weakness is a reportable condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the general purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be reportable conditions and, accordingly, would not necessarily disclose all reportable conditions that are also considered to be material weaknesses as defined above. However, we believe none of the reportable conditions described above is a material weakness.

We also noted other matters involving the internal control structure and its operation that we have reported to the management of City of Example, Any State in a separate letter dated August 15, 19XX.

This report is intended for the information of the audit committee, management, and [specify legislative or regulatory body]. This restriction is not intended to limit the distribution of this report, which is a matter of public record.

 SAS No. 60, Communication of Internal Control Structure Related Matters Noted in an Audit, Paragraph 17 [AU section 325.17], prohibits the auditor from issuing a written report representing that no reportable conditions were noted during an audit. When the auditor notes no reportable conditions during an audit, he may issue a report shown in AAM section 10,700.28 to satisfy the requirements of Government Auditing Standards.

.29 Report on Internal Control Structure When No Reportable Conditions are Noted in Accordance With Government Auditing Standards

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the general purpose financial statements of City of Example, Any State as of and for the year ended June 30, 19XX, and have issued our report thereon dated August 15, 19XX.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the general purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement.

In planning and performing our audit of the general purpose financial statements of City of Example, Any State for the year ended June 30, 19XX, we considered its internal control structure in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the general purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

The management of City of Example, Any State is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures. The objectives of an internal control structure are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of general purpose financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure, errors or irregularities may nevertheless occur and not be detected. Also projection of any evaluation of the structure to future periods is subject to the risk that procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of the design and operation or policies and procedures may deteriorate.

For the purpose of this report, we have classified the significant internal control structure policies and procedures in the following categories [identify internal control structure categories].

For all of the internal control structure categories listed above, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation, and we assessed control risk.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a reportable condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the specific internal control structure elements do not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the general purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control structure and its operations that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

However, we noted certain matters involving the internal control structure and its operation that we have reported to the management of City of Example, Any State in a separate communication dated August 15, 19XX.

This report is intended for the information of the audit committee, management and [specify legislative or regulatory body]. This restriction is not intended to limit the distribution of this report, which is a matter of public record.

.30 Report on Internal Controls (Accounting and Administrative)—Based on a Study and Evaluation Made as a Part of an Audit of the General Purpose or Basic Financial Statements and the Additional Tests Required by the Single Audit Act

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the general purpose financial statements of City of Example, Any State for the year ended June 30, 19XX, and have issued our report thereon dated September 21, 19XX. As part of our audit, we made a study and evaluation of the internal control systems, including applicable internal administrative controls, used in administering federal financial assistance programs to the extent we considered necessary to evaluate the systems as required by generally accepted auditing standards, Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, the Single Audit Act of 1984, and the provisions of Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-128, Audits of State and Local Governments. For the purpose of this report, we have classified the significant internal accounting and administrative controls used in administering federal financial assistance programs in the following categories: [identify control categories].*

Controls Used in Administering Federal Programs

Following are general and specific administrative control categories identified by representatives of the federal government.

Controls used in administering individual federal financial assistance programs (refer to the AICPA Audit and Accounting Guide, Audits of State and Local Governmental Units, chapter 22).

General Requirements

- Political activity
- Davis-Bacon Act
- Civil rights
- Cash management
- Relocation assistance and real property acquisition
- Federal financial reports

Specific Requirements

- Types of services
- Eligibility
- Matching, level of effort
- Reporting
- Cost allocation

The management of the City of Example, Any State is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control systems used in administering federal financial assistance programs. In fulfilling that responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of control procedures. The objectives of internal control systems used in administering federal financial assistance programs are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that, with respect to federal financial assistance programs, resource use is consistent with laws, regulations, and policies; resources are safeguarded against waste, loss, and misuse; and reliable data are obtained, maintained, and fairly disclosed in reports.

Because of inherent limitations in any system of internal accounting and administrative controls used in administering federal financial assistance programs, errors or irregularities may nevertheless occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of the systems to future periods is subject to the risk that procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

Our study included all of the applicable control categories listed above. During the year ended June 30, 19XX, City of Example, Any State, expended X% of its total federal financial assistance under major federal financial assistance programs. With respect to internal control systems used in administering major federal financial assistance programs, our study and evaluation included considering the types of errors and irregularities that could occur, determining the internal control procedures that should prevent or detect such errors and irregularities, determining whether the necessary procedures are prescribed and are being followed satisfactorily, and evaluating any weaknesses.

With respect to the internal control systems used solely in administering the nonmajor federal financial assistance programs of City of Example, Any State, our study and evaluation was limited to a preliminary review of the systems to obtain an understanding of the control environment and the flow of transactions through the accounting system. Our study and evaluation of the internal control systems used solely in administering the nonmajor federal financial assistance programs of City of Example, Any State, did not extend beyond this preliminary review phase.

Our study and evaluation was more limited than would be necessary to express an opinion on the internal control systems used in administering the federal financial assistance programs of City of Example, Any State. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the internal control systems used in administering the federal financial assistance programs of City of Example, Any State. Further, we do not express an opinion on the internal control systems used in administering the major federal financial assistance programs of City of Example, Any State.

Also, our audit, made in accordance with the standards mentioned above, would not necessarily disclose material weaknesses in the internal control systems used solely in administering nonmajor federal financial assistance programs.

However, our study and evaluation and our audit disclosed the following conditions that we believe result in more than a relatively low risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material to a federal financial assistance program may occur and not be detected within a timely period. (A description of the conditions that

 If total assistance expended under major federal financial assistance programs is greater than zero but constitutes less than 50% of total federal assistance expended by the government during the year under audit, the auditor should apply the guidance in the audit and accounting guide, chapter 21 in order to satisfy the objectives of the Single Audit Act. See AAM section 10,700.31 for an example of a report under these circumstances.

If the government had no major federal financial assistance programs during the year under audit, the auditor should apply the guidance in the audit and accounting guide, chapter 21 in order to satisfy the objectives of the Single Audit Act. See AAM section 10,700.32 for an example of a report under these circumstances.

 All material weaknesses that have come to the auditor's attention during the audit should be described. Though only material weaknesses in internal controls need be reported, the auditor may wish to report nonmaterial weaknesses to management. These conditions were considered in determining the nature, timing, and extent of the audit tests to be applied in (1) our audit of the 19XX general purpose financial statements and (2) our audit of City of Example, Any State compliance with the requirements governing types of services allowed or unallowed; eligibility; matching, level of effort, or earmarking; reporting; [describe any special tests and provisions]; claims for advances and reimbursements; and amounts claimed or used for matching that are applicable to each of its major federal financial assistance programs, which are identified in the accompanying schedule of federal financial assistance, for the year ended June 30, 19XX. This report does not affect our reports on the general purpose financial statements and on City of Example, Any State compliance with laws and regulations dated September 21, 19XX.

Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, states that well-developed findings concerning material weaknesses in internal controls generally consist of a statement of condition, the criteria, the effect, and the cause.

It is recognized that the auditor may not be able to fully develop all of these points for each material weakness found, given the scope and purpose of the control study. The auditor should attempt to identify the condition, criteria, effect, and cause to provide sufficient information to federal, state, and local officials to permit timely and proper corrective action. These findings may also serve as a basis for a federal agency's conducting or contracting for additional audit work.

Weaknesses identified relating to controls over nonmajor programs should be reported here or alternatively in a letter to management based on whether they are considered to be material or nonmaterial.

Reports on Employee Benefit Plans

.01 Unqualified Opinion—Defined Benefit Plan Assuming End-of-Year Benefit Information Date

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying statements of net assets available for benefits and of accumulated plan benefits of XYZ Pension Plan as of December 31, 19X2, and the related statements of changes in net assets available for benefits and of changes in accumulated plan benefits for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Plan's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial status of the Plan as of December 31, 19X2, and the changes in its financial status for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying statements of net assets available for benefits of XYZ Pension Plan as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related statements of changes in net assets available for benefits for the years then ended and the statement of accumulated plan benefits as of December 31, 19X1, and the related statement of changes in accumulated plan benefits for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Plan's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying statement of net assets available for plan benefits of XYZ Company Profit-Sharing Plan as of December 31, 19X1, and the related statement of changes in net assets available for plan benefits for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Plan's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the net assets available for plan benefits of the Plan as of December 31, 19X1, and the changes in net assets available for plan benefits for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.06 Unqualified Opinion—Defined Benefit Pension Plan Prepared on a Cash Basis

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying statements of net assets available for plan benefits (modified cash basis) of XYZ Pension Plan as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related statement of changes in net assets available for plan benefits (modified cash basis) for the year ended December 31, 19X2. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Plan's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As described in Note X, the Plan's policy is to prepare its financial statements and supplemental schedules on a modified cash basis of accounting, which differs from generally accepted accounting principles. Accordingly, the accompanying financial statements and schedules are not intended to be presented in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial status of XYZ Pension Plan as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the changes in its financial status for the year ended December 19X2, on the basis of accounting described in Note X.

Our audits were made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements taken as a whole. The supplemental schedules (modified cash basis) of (1) assets held for investment, (2) transactions in excess of X percent of the current value of plan assets, and (3) investments in loans and fixed income obligations in default or classified as uncollectible as of or for the year ended December 31, 19X2, are presented for purposes of complying with the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 and are not a required part of the basic financial statements. The supplemental schedules have been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audits of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, are fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

.07 Limited-Scope Audits Under DOL RegulationsIndependent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We were engaged to audit the financial statements and schedules of XYZ Pension Plan as of December 31, 19X1 and for the year then ended, as listed in the accompanying index. These financial statements and schedules are the responsibility of the Plan's management.

As permitted by Section 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, the plan administrator instructed us not to perform, and we did not perform, any auditing procedures with respect to the information summarized in Note X, which was certified by ABC Bank, the trustee of the Plan, except for comparing the information with the related information included in the 19X1 financial statements and supplemental schedules. We have been informed by the plan administrator that the trustee holds the Plan's investment assets and executes investment transactions. The plan administrator has obtained a certification from the trustee as of and for the year ended December 31, 19X1 that the information provided to the plan administrator by the trustee is complete and accurate.

Because of the significance of the information that we did not audit, we are unable to, and do not, express an opinion on the accompanying financial statements and schedules taken as a whole. The form and content of the information included in the financial statements and schedules, other than that derived from the information certified by the trustee, have been audited by us in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and, in our opinion, are presented in compliance with the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974.

.08 Limited-Scope Audit in Prior YearIndependent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying statements of net assets available for plan benefits of XYZ Pension Plan as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related statement of changes in net assets available for plan benefits for the year ended December 31, 19X2 and the statements of accumulated plan benefits as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1, and the related statement of changes in accumulated plan benefits for the year ended December 31, 19X2. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Plan's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

Except as explained in the following paragraph, we conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As permitted by Section 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, investment assets held by ABC Bank, the trustee of the Plan, and transactions in those assets were excluded from the scope of our audit of the Plan's 19X1 financial statements, except for comparing the information provided by the trustee, which is summarized in Note X, with the related information included in the financial statements.

Because of the significance of the information that we did not audit, we are unable to, and do not, express an opinion on the Plan's financial statements as of December 31, 19X1. The form and content of the information included in the 19X1 financial statements, other than that derived from the information certified by the trustee, have been audited by us and, in our opinion, are presented in compliance with the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974.

In our opinion, the financial statements, referred to above, of XYZ Pension Plan as of December 31, 19X2, and for the year then ended present fairly, in all material respects, the financial status of XYZ Pension Plan as of December 31, 19X2, and changes in its financial status for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Our audit of the Plan's financial statements as of and for the year ended December 31, 19X2, was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements taken as a whole. The supplemental schedules of (1) assets held for investment, (2) transactions in excess of X percent of the current value of plan assets, and (3) investments in loans and fixed income obligations in default or classified as uncollectible as of or for the year ended December 31, 19X2, are presented for purposes of complying with the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 and are not a required part of the basic financial statements. The supplemental schedules have been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements for the year ended December 31, 19X2, and, in our opinion, are fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Addressee:

We were engaged to audit the accompanying statement of net assets available for plan benefits of XYZ Pension Plan as of December 31, 19X2, and the related statement of changes in net assets available for plan benefits for the year then ended and the supplemental schedules of (1) assets held for investment, (2) transactions in excess of X percent of the current value of plan assets, and (3) investments in loans and fixed income obligations in default or classified as uncollectible as of or for the year ended December 31, 19X2. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Plan's management.

As permitted by Section 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, the plan administrator instructed us not to perform, and we did not perform, any auditing procedures with respect to the information summarized in Note X, which was certified by ABC Bank, the trustee of the Plan, except for comparing the information with the related information included in the 19X2 financial statements and supplemental schedules. We have been informed by the plan administrator that the trustee holds the Plan's investment assets and executes investment transactions. The plan administrator has obtained a certification from the trustee as of and for the year ended December 31, 19X2, that the information provided to the plan administrator by the trustee is complete and accurate.

Because of the significance of the information in the Plan's 19X2 financial statements that we did not audit, we are unable to, and do not, express an opinion on the accompanying financial statements and supplemental schedules as of or for the year ended December 31, 19X2. The form and content of the information included in the financial statements and supplemental schedules, other than that derived from the information certified by the trustee, has been audited by us in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and, in our opinion, are presented in compliance with the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974.

We have audited the statement of net assets available for benefits of XYZ Pension Plan as of December 31, 19X1 and, in our report dated May 20, 19X2, we expressed our opinion that such financial statement presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial status of XYZ Pension Plan as of December 31, 19X1, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.10 Multiemployer Pension Plan Assuming Limited-Scope Audit

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We were engaged to audit the statements of (identify) of XYZ Multiemployer Pension Plan as of December 31, 19X2 and 19X1 and for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Plan's management.

The Plan's records and procedures are not adequate to assure the completeness of participants' data on which contributions and benefit payments are determined, and the Board of Trustees did not engage us to perform, and we did not perform, any other auditing procedures with respect to participants' data maintained by the sponsor companies or individual participants.

Because of the significance of the information that we did not audit, the scope of our work was not sufficient to enable us to express, and we do not express, an opinion on these financial statements.

.11 Trust Established Under an Employee Benefit Plan

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying statement of net assets of ABC Pension Trust as of December 31, 19X2, and the related statement of changes in net assets and trust balance for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Trust's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying statements are those of ABC Pension Trust, which is established under XYZ Pension Plan; the statements do not purport to present the financial status of XYZ Pension Plan. The statements do not contain certain information on accumulated plan benefits and other disclosures necessary for a fair presentation of the financial status of XYZ Pension Plan in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Furthermore, these statements do not purport to satisfy the Department of Labor reporting and disclosure requirements relating to the financial statements of employee benefit plans.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the net assets of ABC Pension Trust as of December 31, 19X2, and the changes in its net assets and trust balance for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

.12 Defined Benefit Plan Assuming Inadequate Procedures to Value Investments

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying statements of net assets available for benefits and of accumulated plan benefits of XYZ Pension Plan as of December 31, 19X2, and the related statements of changes in net assets available for benefits and of changes in accumulated plan benefits for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Plan's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As discussed in Note X, investments amounting to $_____ (_____ percent of net assets available for benefits) as of December 31, 19X2, have been valued at estimated fair value as determined by the Board of Trustees. We have reviewed the procedures applied by the trustees in valuing the securities and have inspected the underlying documentation. In our opinion, those procedures are not adequate to determine the fair value of the investments in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. The effect on the financial statements and supplemental schedules of not applying adequate procedures to determine the fair value of the securities is not determinable.

In our opinion, except for the effects of the procedures used by the Board of Trustees to determine the valuation of investments as described in the preceding paragraph, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial status of XYZ Pension Plan as of December 31, 19X2, and the changes in its financial status for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Our audit was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements taken as a whole. The additional information presented in supplemental schedules of (1) assets held for investment, (2) transactions in excess of X percent of the current value of plan assets, and (3) investments in loans and fixed income obligations in default or classified as uncollectible as of or for the year ended December 31, 19X2, is presented for purposes of complying with the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. That additional information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements for the year ended December 31, 19X2; and in our opinion, except for the effects of the valuation of investments, as described above, the additional information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Reports on Financial Statements of Brokers and Dealers in Securities

.01 Unqualified Opinion on Financial Statements and Supplementary Schedules Required by the SEC

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying consolidated statement of financial condition of Standard Stockbrokerage Co., Inc. and Subsidiaries as of December 31, 19X1, and the related consolidated statements of income, changes in stockholders' equity, changes in liabilities subordinated to claims of general creditors, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.¹

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of Standard Stockbrokerage Co., Inc. and Subsidiaries as of December 31, 19X1, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules I, II, III, and IV is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying consolidated statement of financial condition of Standard Stockbrokerage Co., Inc. and Subsidiaries as of December 31, 19X1, and the related consolidated statements of income, changes in stockholders' equity, changes in liabilities subordinated to claims of general creditors, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As discussed in Note X to the financial statements, investment securities not readily marketable amounting to $XX,XXX (XX percent of stockholders' equity) as of December 31, 19X1, have been valued at fair value as determined by the Board of Directors. We have reviewed the procedures applied by the directors in valuing such securities and investments and have inspected underlying documentation. In our opinion, those procedures are not reasonable, and the documentation is not appropriate to determine fair value of securities in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. The effect on the financial statements of not applying adequate valuation procedures is not readily determinable.

In our opinion, except for the effects on the financial statements of the valuation of investment securities determined by the Board of Directors, as described in the preceding paragraph, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of Standard Stockbrokerage Co., Inc. and Subsidiaries as of December 31, 19X1, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules I, II, III, and IV is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in our audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, except for the effects on [identify the schedules affected] of the valuation of investment securities determined by the Board of Directors, as described in the second preceding paragraph, the information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

NOTES:

.03 Unqualified Opinion With an Explanatory Paragraph for Uncertainty of Valuation

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying consolidated statement of financial condition of Standard Stockbrokerage Co., Inc. and Subsidiaries as of December 31, 19X1, and the related consolidated statements of income, changes in stockholders' equity, changes in liabilities subordinated to claims of general creditors, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of Standard Stockbrokerage Co., Inc. and Subsidiaries as of December 31, 19X1, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

As discussed in Note X to the financial statements, investment securities not readily marketable amounting to $XX,XXX (XX percent of stockholders' equity) as of December 31, 19X1, have been valued at fair value as determined by the Board of Directors. We have reviewed the procedures applied by the directors in valuing such securities and investments and have inspected underlying documentation, and in the circumstances, we believe the procedures are reasonable and the documentation appropriate. However, because of the inherent uncertainty of valuation, the Board of Directors' estimate of fair values may differ significantly from the values that would have been used had a ready market existed for the securities, and the differences could be material.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules I, II, III, and IV is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of December 31, 19X4, by correspondence with the custodian and brokers. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and selected per share data and ratios referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of each of the respective portfolios constituting the XYZ Series Investment Company as of December 31, 19X4, the results of their operations and their cash flows* for the year then ended, the changes in their net assets for each of the two years in the period then ended, and the selected per share data and ratios for each of the five years in the period then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities, including the schedule of portfolio investments, of the Convertible Preferred Portfolio (one of the portfolios constituting the XYZ Series Investment Company) as of December 31, 19X4, and the related statements of operations and cash flows* for the year then ended, the statements of changes in net assets for each of the two years in the period then ended, and the selected per share data and ratios for each of the five years in the period then ended. These financial statements and per share data and ratios are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and per share data and ratios based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and per share data and ratios are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of XYZ Investment Company, including the schedule of portfolio investments, as of December 31, 19X4, and the related statements of operations and cash flows* for the year then ended, the statement of changes in net assets for each of the two years in the period then ended, and the selected per share data and ratios for each of the five years in the period then ended. These financial statements and per share data and ratios are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and per share data and ratios based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and per share data and ratios are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of December 31, 19X4, by correspondence with the custodian and brokers. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and selected per share data and ratios referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of XYZ Investment Company as of December 31, 19X4, the results of its operations and its cash flows* for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the two years in the period then ended, and the selected per share data and ratios for each of the five years in the period then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

As explained in Note 2, the financial statements include securities valued at $ ____ (____% of net assets), whose values have been estimated by the Board of Directors in the absence of readily ascertainable market values. We have reviewed the procedures used by the Board of Directors in arriving at its estimate of value of such securities and have inspected underlying documentation, and, in the circumstances, we believe the procedures are reasonable and the documentation appropriate. However, because of the inherent uncertainty of valuation, those estimated values may differ significantly from the values that would have been used had a ready market for the securities existed, and the differences could be material.

.05 Qualified Opinion on the Financial Statements Due to Absence of Ascertainable Market Values (Documentation Does Not Support Valuation)

Independent Auditor's Report

Addressee:

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of XYZ Investment Company, including the schedule of portfolio investments, as of December 31, 19X4, and the related statements of operations and cash flows* for the year then ended, the statement of changes in net assets for each of the two years in the period then ended, and the selected per share data and ratios for each of the five years in the period then ended. These financial statements and per share data and ratios are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and per share data and ratios based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and per share data and ratios are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of December 31, 19X4, by correspondence with the custodian and brokers. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As explained in Note 2, the financial statements include securities valued at $ ____ (____% of net assets), whose values have been estimated by the Board of Directors in the absence of readily ascertainable market values. We have reviewed the procedures used by the Board of Directors in arriving at its estimate of value of such securities and have inspected underlying documentation. In our opinion, those procedures are not reasonable, and the documentation is not appropriate to determine the value of the securities in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. The effect on the financial statements of not applying adequate valuation procedures is not readily determinable.

In our opinion, except for the effects on the financial statements and selected per share data and ratios of the valuation of investment securities determined by the Board of Directors, as described in the preceding paragraph, the financial statements and selected per share data and ratios referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of XYZ Investment Company as of December 31, 19X4, the results of its operations and its cash flows* for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the two years in the period then ended, and the selected per share data and ratios for each of the five years in the period then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Quality Control—General

AICPA Requirements

.01 Article VI—Scope and Nature of Services—of the AICPA’s Principles of Professional Conduct (ET section 57), requires that members in the practice of public accounting “practice in firms that have in place internal quality control procedures to ensure that services are competently delivered and adequately supervised.”

.02 To provide itself with reasonable assurance of meeting its responsibility to provide professional services that conform with professional standards, a firm shall have a system of quality control. Statement on Quality Control Standards, System of Quality Control for a CPA Firm, (the statement) describes the elements of a quality control system that should be applied to all accounting, auditing, and review services for which professional standards have been established. This statement is included in its entirety in QC section 10 of the AICPA Professional Standards and is briefly described below.

Quality Control System

.03 A system of quality control for a firm encompasses the firm’s organization structure and the policies adopted and procedures established to provide the firm with reasonable assurance of conforming with professional standards. The system of quality control should be appropriately comprehensive and suitably designed in relation to the firm’s organizational structure, its policies, and the nature of its practice (QC section 10.03).

.04 The nature and extent of a firm’s quality control policies and procedures depend on a number of factors, such as its size, the nature of its practice, its organization and appropriate cost-benefit considerations (QC section 10.06).

.05 In developing a quality control system, a firm shall consider each of the nine elements of quality control discussed below, to the extent applicable to its practice.

- a. Independence. The firm should be assured that persons at all levels maintain independence to the extent required by the rules of conduct of the AICPA.

- c. Consultation. The firm should be assured personnel will seek assistance, to the extent required, from persons having appropriate levels of knowledge, competence, judgment, and authority.

Forms which may assist you are:

Section	Form Name
11,600.07	Consultation Log
11,600.08	Consultation Worksheet

- d. Supervision. The firm should be assured that work at all organizational levels is supervised to ascertain that the work performed meets the firm's standards of quality.

Forms which may assist you are:

Section	Form Name
11,600.09	Pre-Employment Application
11,600.10	Interview Report

- f. Professional Development. The firm should be assured that personnel will have the knowledge required to enable them to fulfill responsibilities assigned and to comply with applicable (state) Board of Accountancy requirements.

Forms which may assist you are:

Section	Form Name
11,600.11	Record of Professional Development
11,600.12	Professional Development Summary (in hours)

- h. Acceptance and Continuation of Clients. The firm should be assured that the decision to accept or continue a client is in the best interest of the firm as well as the client.

Forms which may assist you are:

Section	Form Name
11,600.18	New Client Acceptance Checklist
11,600.19	Client Evaluation Questionnaire
2200.22	Client Acceptance Form
2200.23	Client Information Form

- i. Inspection. The firm should be assured that the procedures relating to other elements of quality control are being effectively performed.

Forms which may assist you are:

Section	Form Name
11,600.20	Summary Inspection Report
11,600.21	Inspection of Compliance With Policies and Procedures Relating to Elements of Quality Control

The elements are interrelated. For example, a firm's hiring practices affect its policies as to training, training affects policies as to promotion, etc. The system should be designed to function together to maintain a firm's quality. (This section does not specifically cover services for OCBOA, Agreed-Upon Procedures, Prospective Financial Statements, Internal Control Reports or Attest Engagements. A firm may want to develop alternative Quality Control checklists for these engagements.)

.06 Although firms that have a review of their quality control system are not required to have a formal quality control document, many firms find preparation and dissemination to their staff of such a document useful. The sample quality control documents for local CPA firms and sole practitioners presented in the following sections have been prepared using the information contained in Statement on Quality Control Standards, System of Quality Control for a CPA Firm, the interpretations of this statement, and the guide entitled, "Quality Control Policies and Procedures for CPA Firms," which was prepared by the Quality Control Review Committee for use in establishing guidance for the implementation of this statement. The publications are included in the Quality Control section of Professional Standards, volume 2.

AAM Section 11,200

Sample Quality Control Document for a Two-Partner Local CPA Firm

.01 Firm Background Information

Our firm was founded in 19XX by our executive partner after he had gained several years experience with a large regional CPA firm. The administrative partner joined the firm as a staff assistant upon his college graduation. Presently we employ three professional staff members and two clerical staff personnel giving our firm a total of seven people. (Our organization chart is on the next page.)

Our objective of providing quality service to clients and our concern for the general public interest has established our reputation in our community and has enabled us to grow through internal expansion.¹ We do not have, nor do we anticipate accepting, publicly held corporations as clients. It is anticipated that much of our future growth will be through expanded service to present clients and the addition of new clients on a regular basis. We intend to hire and train personnel who will be able to grow professionally with us, as needed.

Our practice breakdown is as follows:

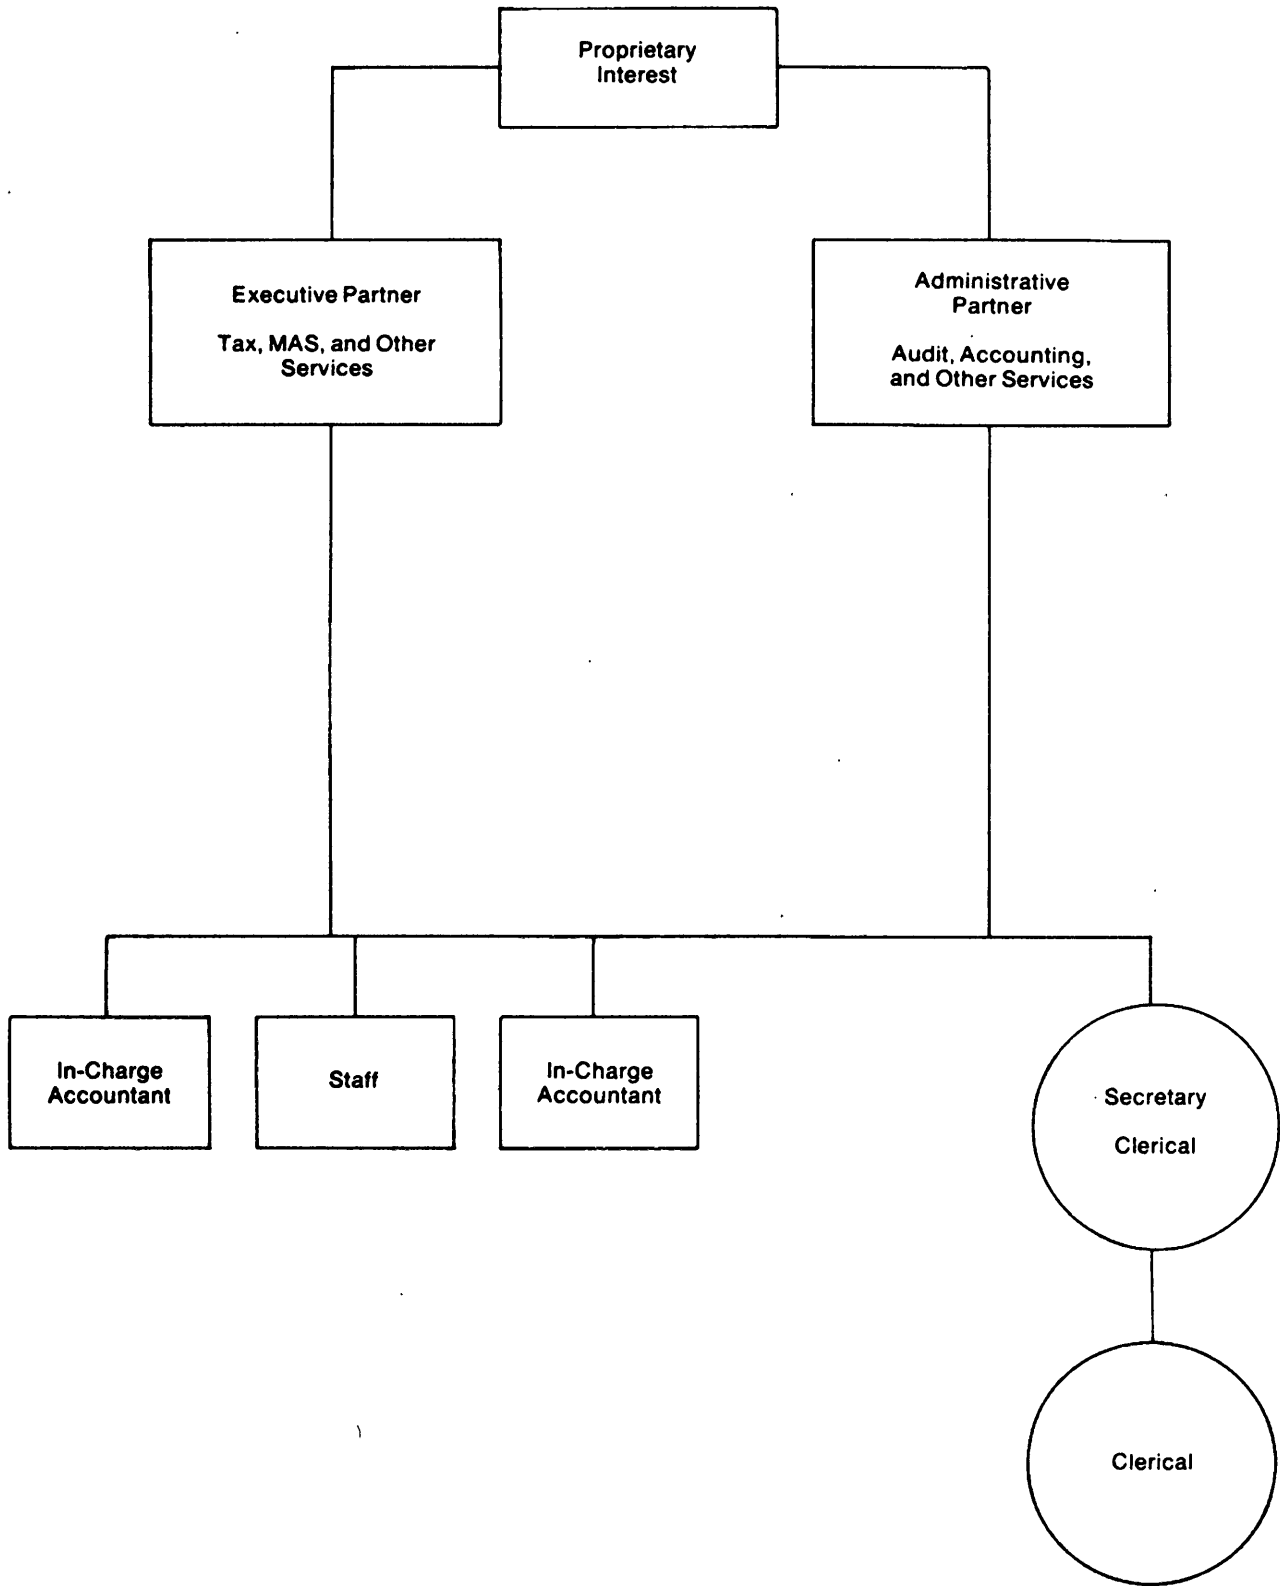

Auditing	30%
Reviews	8
Compilations	14
Taxes	33
Management advisory service	3
Other accounting services	12
	100%

Our practice is conducted from one office, and our audit clientele consists of manufacturing companies, retail establishments, and wholesale distributors.

February 10, 19XX

¹ Additional considerations for establishing the firm's stated objectives are discussed in AAM section 11,200.12.

Organization Chart

.02 Independence

- 1. All personnel are required to adhere to the independence rules, regulations, interpretations, and rulings of the AICPA, (state) CPA Society, (state) Board of Accountancy, and state statutes.
 - a. The executive partner is responsible for resolving questions relating to independence matters and is available to provide guidance when required.
 - b. The executive partner communicates with the AICPA and/or the (state) CPA Society for assistance in resolving independence questions that are not satisfactorily resolved within the firm. (See AAM section 11,600.07 for an example of a log which can be utilized to document all communication with parties outside the firm; see also AAM section 11,600.08 for a Consultation Worksheet which can be used to document the subject matter as well as the response from the consultant.)
 - c. A memorandum documenting the resolution of independence questions is prepared and retained by the executive partner; the other firm personnel involved in the matter review and initial the memorandum.
- 2. Policies and procedures relating to independence are communicated to all personnel.
 - a. Memorandums are used to inform personnel of the firm's independence policies and procedures and advise them that they are expected to be familiar with those policies and procedures. Rulings and interpretations of the AICPA, (state) CPA Society, (state) Board of Accountancy, and state statutes are also made available to personnel.
 - b. Independence of mental attitude is emphasized during the conduct of engagements.
 - c. A current client listing is reviewed with each new employee to ensure that the employee is aware of those entities to which independence policies apply. During the monthly staff meeting, the staff is informed of any changes in the listing.
 - d. Our library contains professional, regulatory, and firm literature relating to independence matters.²
- 3. Independence is confirmed when another firm is engaged to perform a segment of an engagement for which we are the principal auditor.
 - a. The form and content of the independence representation that is to be obtained from a firm that has been engaged to perform segments of an engagement is part of the firm's accounting and auditing manual. (See AAM section 11,600.02.)
 - b. An annual representation of independence should be obtained from an affiliate or associate firm on a repeat engagement.
- 4. Compliance with policies and procedures relating to independence is monitored.
 - a. Semiannually, at the June and December monthly staff meetings, provision is made on the agenda for all personnel to review and complete the Independence Checklist for Employees (AAM section 11,600.01). The purpose of the checklist is to indicate that—
 - (i) They are familiar with the firm's independence policies and procedures.
 - (ii) They are not now nor have been holding prohibited investments.
 - (iii) They are not now nor have been involved in relationships or transactions that are prohibited.

² The appropriate information may be found in AICPA Professional Standards, volume 2, and in rulings and interpretations of the state CPA societies, the state boards of accountancy, and state statutes.

- b. The executive partner is responsible for the resolution of exceptions to the firm's policies and procedures relating to independence.
- c. Accounts receivable that are past due are reviewed monthly by the executive partner to ascertain whether any outstanding amounts take on some of the characteristics of loans and may, therefore, impair the firm's independence.

.03 Assigning Personnel to Engagements

1. Our firm's approach to assigning personnel includes the planning of overall firm needs and the measures employed to achieve a balance of engagement manpower requirements, personnel skills, individual development, and utilization.
 - a. On an annual basis, normally in May of each year, the partners jointly develop a projection containing anticipated manpower requirements for the coming year. This can be achieved by obtaining from each partner a scheduling request (AAM section 11,600.03) which enumerates the staff requirements by client.
 - b. In scheduling assignments the engagement partner strives to achieve a balance of engagement manpower requirements, personnel skills, individual development, and utilization.
2. The administrative partner is responsible for assigning personnel to engagements.
 - a. Before making assignments to engagements, the engagement partner considers the nature of the engagement and personnel availability.
 - b. The partners attempt to achieve a balance between the need for continuity and for periodic rotation of personnel to the extent practicable.
 - c. A scheduling tool which may be useful is the "Scheduling Master Plan" (AAM section 11,600.06). This is usually prepared monthly, but depending upon the circumstances, may be prepared quarterly or yearly. The "Scheduling Master Plan" assists the individual responsible for scheduling to maintain a listing by staff of hours (nonworking, working). It further lists the type of working or nonworking hours (i.e., vacation, CPA exam, tax department, etc.). This tool maintains a record of the total hours assigned and available for each individual, including hours over/under assigned.

.04 Consultation

1. Areas and specialized situations where consultation is required are identified, and personnel are encouraged to consult with or use authoritative sources on complex or unusual matters.
 - a. All personnel are advised of our firm's consultation policies and procedures. These policies and procedures are set forth in a memorandum.
 - b. A listing of certain areas or specialized situations, which because of the nature or complexity of the subject have been identified as requiring consultation, is updated annually by the administrative partner and distributed to all personnel.
 - c. A technical reference library is maintained to assist personnel in resolving practice problems. The administrative partner is charged with the responsibility of periodically reviewing the library contents and making necessary additions.
 - d. Personnel are encouraged to seek advice from a partner or other staff member when confronted with an unusual or complex situation related to that person's particular expertise.
 - e. When expertise is not available within the firm, practice questions and problems are referred by the engagement partner to the Technical Information Division of the AICPA or the (state) CPA Society

- established to handle technical inquiries. (See AAM section 11,600.07—.08 to document use of consultants.)
- f. We maintain a consultation agreement with the local office of (firm name) CPAs to provide us with additional expertise. Inquiries to that firm are channeled through the administrative partner.
 - g. The results of outside consultation are reviewed by the partners before a decision is reached.
2. Specific individuals have been designated as having specialized experience and expertise in certain technical areas. These individuals are available for consultation to all personnel.
- a. A listing of our designated technical specialists has been prepared and circulated. The list is updated and recirculated as necessary.
 - b. The executive partner resolves differences of opinion on practice problems. Any party to the discussion who disagrees with the conclusion has the option of preparing a memorandum and filing it with the working papers.
3. In those areas and specialized situations where firm policy requires consultation with specialists, a summary of the consultation conclusions and the reasons for the conclusions is required.
- a. The memorandum (see item 1(a) above) is used to inform personnel of the consultation procedures, the extent of documentation required, and the responsibility for its preparation.
 - b. Consultation summaries are filed with the engagement working papers.
 - c. An example of a log which can be utilized to maintain a listing of consultations is shown in AAM section 11,600.07. This log can be put in the workpapers to document consultants utilized on the engagement as well as to maintain control for follow-up documentation from the specific consultant used.
 - d. An example of a worksheet which can be used to document the consultation with specialists is shown in AAM section 11,600.08.

.05 Supervision

1. All engagements are adequately planned by persons knowledgeable about the client and/or the type of engagement. (For additional information on Planning, review AAM section 3000.)
- a. On all annual recurring engagements where the anticipated manpower requirement is in excess of ten man-days, the in-charge accountant reviews with the engagement partner the following documents from the prior year's files, as applicable, to determine if modifications are appropriate:
 - (i) Engagement letter
 - (ii) Time budget compared with actual time expended
 - (iii) Evaluation of the internal control structure
 - (iv) Audit or work program
 - (v) Engagement notes and memorandums
 - (vi) Financial statements and accountant's report
 - (vii) Management letters
 - (viii) Planning memorandum

- b. On all engagements in excess of ten man-days, including annual recurring engagements, new engagements, and special engagements, the in-charge accountant submits to the engagement partner the following, where applicable, for his written approval:
 - (i) Engagement letter
 - (ii) Time budget
 - (iii) Preliminary evaluation of the internal control structure
 - (iv) Audit or work program
 - (v) A memorandum stating any special problems that may have an impact on the conduct of the engagement
 - (vi) Planning memorandum
2. Procedures are provided for maintaining the firm's standards of quality for the work performed.
 - a. Depending upon each individual's background in relation to his assignment, varying degrees of supervision are provided. (See AAM section 11,600.04.)
 - b. Copies of forms, checklists, and questionnaires are available for use on engagements.
 - c. Differences of opinion among staff members working on an engagement are brought to the attention of the engagement partner. If the partner agrees with the senior party to the dispute, the matter is considered resolved. If no resolution is made at this time, the partners jointly discuss the matter. Any party to the discussion who disagrees with the conclusion has the option of preparing a memorandum and filing it with the working papers.
3. All engagement working papers and reports are reviewed by appropriate supervisory personnel prior to issuance of the report. (For additional information on supervision, review AAM section 9000.)
 - a. The in-charge accountant reviews and initials all working papers he did not prepare (including those prepared by a partner). The engagement partner reviews the overall engagement (initialing all working papers not reviewed by an in-charge accountant), including financial statements and accountant's report, and discusses with the in-charge accountant any critical audit areas and unusual accounting matters encountered during the course of the engagement. This discussion is documented by a memorandum where appropriate.
 - b. In certain circumstances (as outlined in item 1(d) at paragraph .09) prior to the issuance of the financial statements and the auditor's report on them, another partner or an experienced staff member not otherwise associated with the engagement evaluates the appropriateness of financial statement disclosures and the auditor's report in relation to the material discussed in the engagement partner's memorandum.

.06 Hiring

1. The firm endeavors to obtain qualified personnel by planning for personnel needs and establishing hiring objectives.
 - a. The partners annually plan the firm's long-range personnel objectives. Current clientele, anticipated growth, personnel turnover, individual advancement, and retirement are among the criteria considered.
 - b. The partners make the employment decisions.
2. Our firm has established qualifications and guidelines for evaluating potential hirees. (See AAM section 11,600.09 for an example of a Pre-Employment Application which can be used to determine the individual's qualifications and AAM section 11,600.10 for an example of an Interview Report which can be used to document the interviewer's comments about individuals interviewed for positions within the firm.)

- a. Our firm seeks to employ individuals with high levels of intelligence, integrity, honesty, motivation, and aptitude for the profession.
 - b. Our firm normally employs college and business college graduates with a concentration in accounting as full-time permanent members of our professional and paraprofessional staff.
 - c. Newly employed staff members are from the top half of their college class, unless other factors such as personal achievements, work experience, and personal interests indicate the likelihood of adequate professional development.
 - d. Our firm normally expects that a professional staff applicant have the academic background that will enable him to meet the academic requirements to sit for the CPA examination as administered by the (state) Board of Accountancy.
 - e. The backgrounds of new employees are appropriately investigated to reasonably assure hiring of persons with acceptable qualifications by obtaining completed application forms, college transcripts, and personal references.
- 3. Applicants and new personnel are informed of the firm's policies and procedures relevant to them.
- a. The firm's personnel policies and procedures relevant to applicants are communicated to them before offers of employment are extended.
 - b. The administrative partner maintains and distributes to all personnel memorandums describing the firm's personnel policies and procedures.
 - c. The administrative partner discusses the firm's personnel policies and procedures with any new employee.

.07 Professional Development

- 1. Guidelines and requirements have been established for the firm's professional development program and are communicated to all personnel.
- a. The administrative partner is responsible for the formulation and implementation of guidelines and requirements for professional development.
 - b. As part of their orientation, new employees are informed of professional responsibilities and opportunities by the administrative partner.
 - c. Normally, a newly employed professional staff person with limited experience is sent to introductory-level training sessions of the AICPA or the (state) CPA Society during the first year of employment with our firm.
 - d. Each partner and professional employee is required to complete a minimum of 40 hours of formal continuing professional education each year. (Firms should determine the specific requirements of their State Board of Accountancy.) Personnel complete the record of professional development form and forward it to the administrative partner. (See section AAM 11,600.11.) The administrative partner is responsible for having the personnel files of each partner and professional employee updated to include a current record of hours of professional development completed. The types of programs qualifying for the fulfillment of the 40-hour requirement include—

- (i) Continuing professional education programs of the AICPA and the (state) CPA Society. This includes sessions attended and, with written evidence of completion, cassette/workbook or workbook programs.
 - (ii) College courses related to the profession.
- e. The executive partner annually reviews the firm's professional development program (including personnel participation records) to determine whether it is adequately meeting the firm's needs, providing for the professional growth of individuals, and meeting mandatory continuing education requirements.
 - f. In order for the firm to maintain a summary of hours and dollars utilized, as well as to determine that personnel are obtaining a sufficient amount of continuing professional education hours, there are two tools which are helpful.

The first is a "Professional Development Summary (in hours)" (AAM section 11,600.12) chart. This lists by position, each professional and the courses attended. This chart can be used to review each individual's progress toward obtaining the educational requirements.

The second is a "Professional Development Summary (in dollars)" (AAM section 11,600.13) chart. This lists by position, each professional and the cost of each course attended. This chart can be used to review the cost of each individual's educational requirements. This tool is also useful for determining if the present manner utilized by the firm is the most cost effective.

2. Information about current developments in professional technical standards and materials containing the firm's technical policies and procedures are made available to personnel. Personnel are encouraged to engage in self-development activities.

- a. It is the responsibility of the administrative partner to distribute information relating to current developments in accounting and auditing to all personnel not receiving them directly. This includes statements and interpretations issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board, the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, the AICPA Auditing Standards Board, and other AICPA technical committees.
- b. Pronouncements relating to areas of specific interest are distributed by the appropriate specialist to persons who have need for such information.
- c. The firm does not, at present, conduct formal in-house training programs. However, from time to time personnel participate in the training programs of the AICPA and (firm name) CPAs.
- d. A library of staff training cassette/workbook programs published by the AICPA and the (state) Society of CPAs is maintained by the administrative partner for self-study and reference purposes.

3. The firm recognizes that on-the-job training accounts for a significant part of professional development.

- a. Personnel with in-charge responsibility on engagements—
 - (i) Discuss with assistants the relationship of the work they are performing to the engagement as a whole.
 - (ii) Permit assistants, when practicable, to become involved in areas of the engagement other than those previously assigned.
 - (iii) Explain to assistants the reasons for any additional work requirements discovered through the review process.
- b. Personnel are evaluated in part on their effectiveness in properly training and developing subordinates.

.08 Advancement

1. Our firm has established qualifications deemed necessary for the various levels of responsibility within the firm.
 - a. Our firm has designated the staff classifications of in-charge accountant and staff assistant. Levels of responsibility inherent in the staff classifications are clearly defined.³
 - b. The criteria that are considered in evaluating individual performance and expected proficiency are enumerated in our staff classification guidelines.
2. The performance of our personnel is continuously evaluated, and personnel are periodically advised of their progress. Personnel files are maintained containing documentation of the evaluation process. (See AAM section 11,600.14—.15 for examples of Evaluation Forms which may be used for periodic evaluation of staff members. The differences in the forms relate to the amount of time spent on a particular engagement. For example, if a staff member spends 40 or more hours on an engagement, a more thorough evaluation can usually be performed (AAM section 11,600.14). AAM section 11,600.16 would be utilized to evaluate the management skills of the individual being evaluated and therefore does not include specific duties relating to the assignment of work performed.)
 - a. All professional employees receive an evaluation of their performance at least semiannually. Such counseling interviews are conducted by the partners. These evaluations summarize performance on engagements during the year. The individual's progress, strengths, weaknesses, future objectives, and the firm's future objectives are among the items discussed. (See AAM section 11,600.17.)
 - b. Results of evaluations are documented in the individual's personnel file.
3. The partners make advancement and termination decisions and document the results.

.09 Acceptance and Continuance of Clients

1. Our firm has established procedures for evaluation of prospective clients and for their acceptance as clients. (See AAM section 11,600.18 for a New Client Acceptance Checklist which can be used for prospective clients.)
 - a. Available financial information regarding the prospective client (such as annual reports, interim financial statements, and income tax returns) is obtained and reviewed.
 - b. Inquiries about potential clients are made to bankers, attorneys, credit services, and others having business relationships with the company.
 - c. Predecessor auditors, where applicable, are contacted and inquiries are made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards.
 - d. Consideration is given to circumstances that would cause the firm to regard the engagement as one requiring special attention or presenting unusual risks. These circumstances include the following:
 - (i) Audits where the expected man-hour requirement exceeds 150 hours
 - (ii) Audits of firms operating in high risk industries such as those industries where it is difficult to establish an adequate internal control structure or those industries whose operations are especially sensitive to general economic conditions
 - (iii) Audits of firms in the development stage

³ The description of the firm's professional levels, with the responsibilities for each level and the general length of time required for advancement to the next position, can be found in AAM section 11,200.11.

- (iv) Audits of firms in serious financial difficulty
- (v) Any of the conditions enumerated in 2(a)(iii)
- e. The firm's independence and ability to adequately serve a potential client are evaluated prior to acceptance. In evaluating the firm's ability, consideration is given to the requirements for technical skills, knowledge of the industry, and personnel.
- f. A review is made to ensure that acceptance of the client would not violate applicable regulatory agency requirements and the code of professional conduct of the AICPA and/or the (state) CPA Society.
- g. Procedures for acceptance of a new engagement are as follows:
 - (i) The engagement partner assembles the information and evaluates all matters in the previous paragraphs.
 - (ii) All engagements are approved in writing by the partners.
- 2. Clients are evaluated at the end of specific periods or upon the occurrence of certain events to determine whether the relationship should be continued. (See AAM section 11,600.19 for a Client Evaluation Questionnaire which can be used for evaluating existing clients.)
 - a. Reevaluations of existing clients are made—
 - (i) Annually, if any of the conditions mentioned in 1(d) exist.
 - (ii) Every three years if none of the conditions mentioned in 1(d) exist.
 - (iii) If there is a significant change in one or more of the following:
 - Management or ownership
 - Legal counsel
 - Financial condition
 - Litigation status
 - Nature of client's business
 - Scope of work
 - (iv) Upon the emergence of conditions that would have caused the firm to reject a client had such conditions existed at the time of the initial acceptance.
 - b. Based on the information obtained, both partners make the continuance decision.

.10 Inspection

- 1. The firm conducts an inspection program regarding its quality control policies and procedures. (See AAM section 11,600.20 for a Summary Inspection Report which can be used to document the results of a firm's yearly quality review inspection and AAM section 11,600.21 for an Inspection of Compliance with Policies and Procedures Relating to Elements of Quality Control.)
 - a. Each year the partners evaluate the firm's quality control policies and procedures for compliance with professional standards. This procedure includes a review of administrative and personnel files sufficient to obtain reasonable assurance that quality control policies and procedures are being complied with.
 - b. A sample of engagements is selected annually from each partner's client listing and is given an in-depth review by the other partner or by a staff member not otherwise associated with the engagement. The working papers and reports are reviewed for compliance with professional standards, including generally accepted auditing standards, generally accepted accounting principles, and with the firm's quality control policies and procedures.

- c. Annually, the executive partner selects a representative report to be submitted for review to the practice review committee of the (state) Society or the AICPA.
 - d. Every third year the firm undergoes an AICPA quality control compliance review in accordance with AICPA Quality Control Standards. This takes the place of the firm's annual inspection requirement.
- 2. Provision is made for reporting inspection findings and for monitoring actions taken or planned.
- a. The results of engagement reviews are discussed with the personnel responsible for the engagement.
 - b. Inspection findings and recommendations together with corrective actions taken or planned are discussed by the partners. A memorandum outlining the findings and recommendations is prepared and retained by the executive partner.
 - c. The partners determine that planned corrective actions were taken.

.11 Description of the Firm's Professional Levels

Level	Approximate Time Frame
Staff Assistant
Level 1	First year (0 to 1)
Level 2	Second and third year (2 to 3)
In-Charge Accountant	Fourth through eighth year (4 to 8)
Partner	After the eighth year

Staff Assistant (Level 1). A Level 1 staff assistant is expected to—

- Work on portions of audit and accounting engagements.
- Become familiar with the firm's policies and procedures.
- Know the rules, regulations, and code of conduct of the AICPA and the (state) Society of CPAs.
- Be familiar with pronouncements of the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) and the AICPA, such as the Statements on Auditing Standards (SASs) and Accounting Principles Board Opinions (APBs).
- Progress professionally by working toward passing the CPA examination as soon as possible.

Staff Assistant (Level 2). A Level 2 staff assistant should be able to—

- Assume full responsibility under supervision for small accounting engagements involving unaudited financial statements.
- Work on more involved portions of large audit and accounting engagements.
- Prepare financial statements.

In-Charge Accountant. An in-charge accountant is expected to—

- Assume full responsibility for small and medium-size audit engagements requiring the services of one or two people and large accounting engagements involving unaudited financial statements.
- Work on (and research) assignments involving "theory" and such "conceptual" areas as materiality and interrelationships of accounts.

- Review and analyze the internal control structure.
- Prepare audit programs and time budgets.
- Be responsible for compliance with due dates and adherence to time budgets.
- Prepare management letters.
- Train and supervise the staff members assigned to the engagement.
- Recognize, in advance, the possible problem areas of an engagement.
- Pass the CPA examination, if not already certified.

.12 Stated Objectives of Firm (Philosophy)

A particular firm's stated objectives may include items such as the following:

1. Concern for the general public interest.
 2. Concern for the financial well-being of clients.
 3. Reinvestment of the firm's profits in the training and advancement of the firm's partners and staff.
 4. Growth plans for the firm, including opening of branch offices, annual billings, and staff size.
 5. Development of specialties such as auditing governmental units or concentration in particular fields—banks, agriculture, retail, and so forth.
 6. Development of other services, such as a computer data processing center.
 7. Centralization (or decentralization) of authority for issuance of reports.
 8. Degree of operating autonomy for individual practice offices.
 9. Extent of autonomy for partners.
 10. Pattern for firm growth—internal growth through acquisitions of clients and growing apace with them or growth through mergers with other accounting firms.

Sample Quality Control Document for a Four-Partner Local CPA Firm

.01 Firm Background Information

Our firm has four partners, nine professional staff, and four clerical staff—a total of seventeen people. One partner has been designated as the executive partner and another as administrative partner. (A copy of our organization chart follows on the next page.)

Our executive partner founded the firm in 19XX, and our growth has been derived entirely from internal expansion. All of the other partners joined the firm as staff assistants and were promoted to partner level.

Our objective is to provide quality accounting, auditing, tax, and management advisory services to our clients.¹ To this end we expect to limit our practice to those clients we can properly serve. We intend to further develop expertise that will enable us to increase the number of clients that are municipalities and auto dealerships. Therefore, we plan to hire and train professional personnel who will be able to function to meet these goals.

We expect our growth to continue to be internal and to be limited to our present geographic practice area; a community we have served for nearly 35 years. We hope to retain our local identity and personal relationship with clients that are the foundations of our practice.

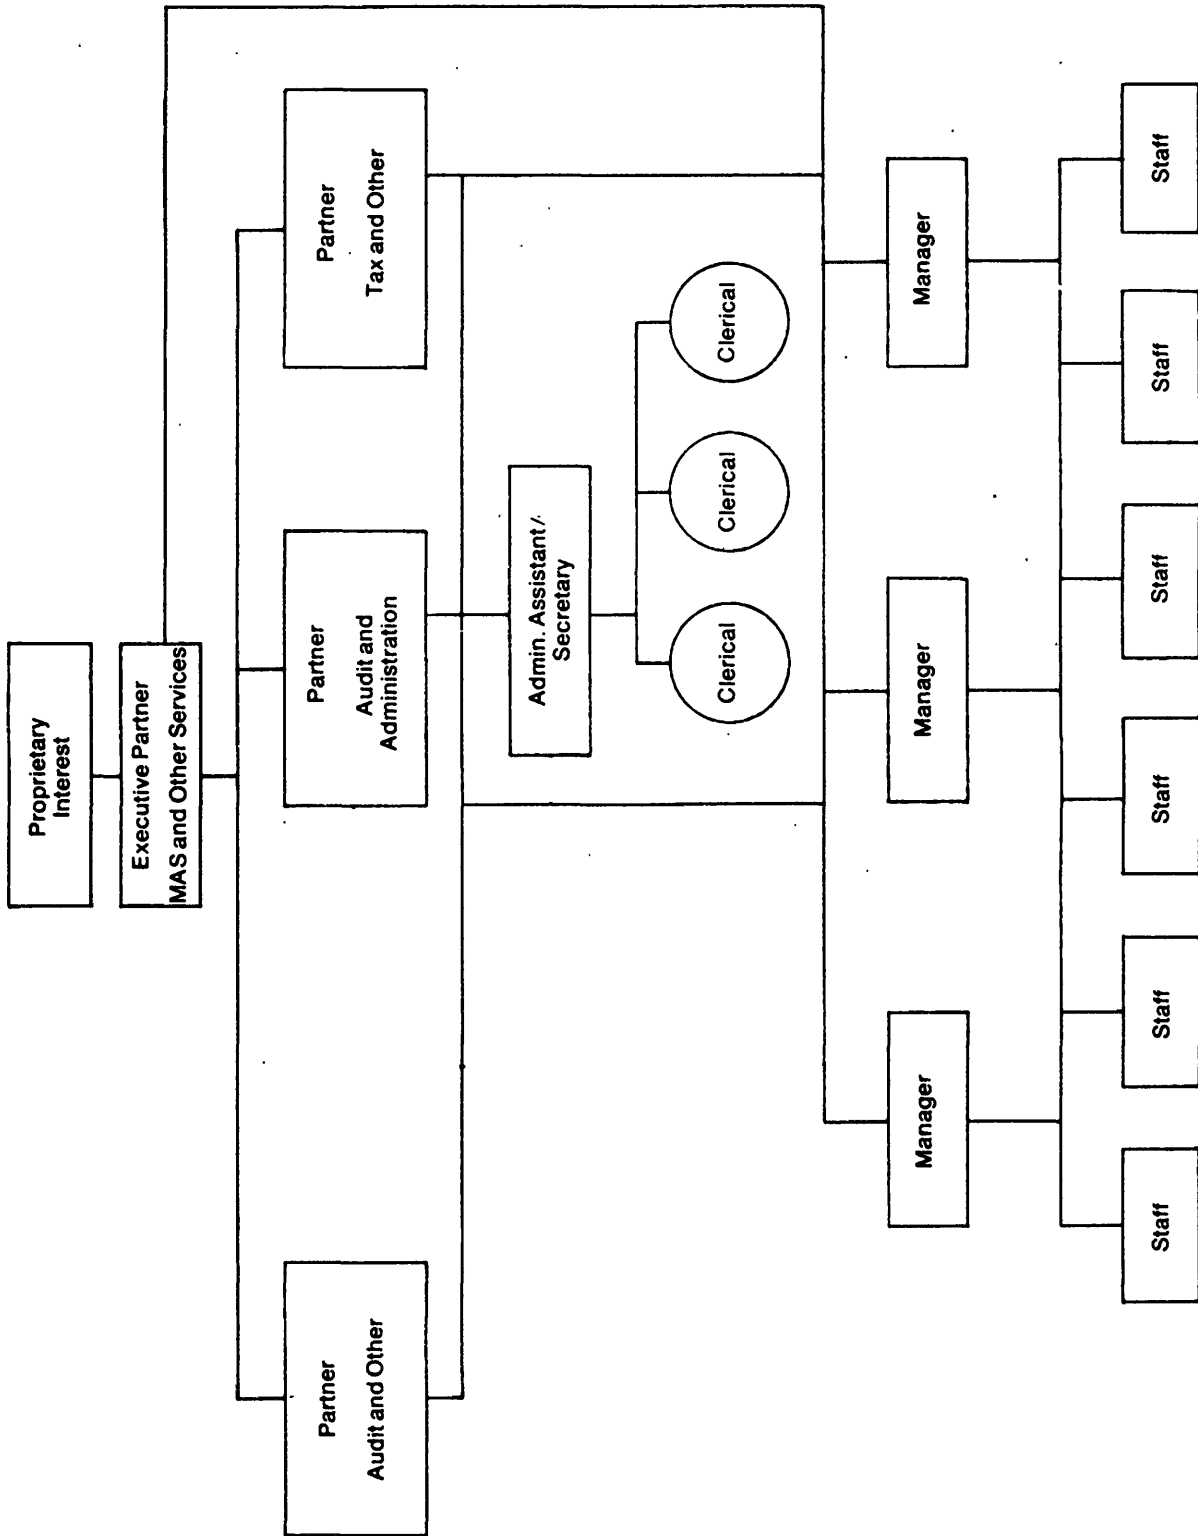

We hope to be a firm that is enjoyable and rewarding to work for. We intend to continue our involvement in and contribution to community and professional activities and organizations.

Our practice breakdown is as follows:

Auditing	33%
Reviews	10
Compilations	15
Taxes	25
Management advisory services	9
Other accounting services	8
	100%

¹ Additional considerations for establishing a firm's stated objectives are discussed in AAM section 11,300.12.

Organization Chart

Our practice is conducted from one office and is basically a general practice composed of the following types of clients:

- Audit engagements
 - Publicly held corporations
 - Manufacturing companies
 - Retail establishments
 - Auto dealerships
 - Municipalities
- Unaudited statement engagements
- Other accounting services

For the benefit of our professional personnel, an accounting and auditing manual and a personnel manual are maintained. Both manuals are referred to in this document and are, in effect, an integral part of our quality control system.

.02 Independence

- 1. All personnel are required to adhere to the independence rules, regulations, interpretations, and rulings of the AICPA, (state) CPA Society, (state) Board of Accountancy, state statutes, and for applicable engagements, the Securities and Exchange Commission and other regulatory agencies under which we practice.
 - a. The executive partner is responsible for resolving questions relating to independence matters and is available to provide guidance when required.
 - b. The executive partner communicates with the AICPA and/or the (state) CPA Society for assistance in resolving independence questions that are not satisfactorily resolved within the firm. (See AAM section 11,600.07 for an example of a log which can be utilized to document all communication with parties outside the firm, also see AAM section 11,600.08 for a Consultation Worksheet, which can be used to document the subject matter as well as the response from the consultant.)
 - c. A memo documenting the resolution of independence questions is prepared and retained by the executive partner. The other firm personnel involved in the questions review and initial the memo.
- 2. Policies and procedures relating to independence are communicated to all personnel.
 - a. The personnel manual is used to inform personnel of the firm's independence policies and procedures and advise them that they are expected to be familiar with these policies and procedures. Rulings and interpretations of the AICPA, (state) CPA Society, (state) Board of Accountancy, state statutes, the Securities and Exchange Commission and other regulatory agencies under which we practice are referred to in the personnel manual.
 - b. Independence of mental attitude is emphasized during training sessions and in the supervision and review of engagements.
 - c. Our client list, which is periodically updated, is reviewed by all partners and professional employees to ensure that they are aware of those entities to which our independence policies apply. The executive partner is responsible for maintenance and distribution of the list.
 - d. The firm's library contains professional, regulatory, and firm literature relating to independence matters.²

² The appropriate information may be found in AICPA Professional Standards, volume 2, in regulation S-X and Accounting Series Releases of the Securities and Exchange Commission, rulings and interpretations of the state CPA societies, the state boards of accountancy, and state statutes.

3. Independence is confirmed when another firm is engaged to perform a segment of an engagement for which we are the principal auditor.
 - a. The form and content of the independence representation that is to be obtained from a firm that has been engaged to perform segments of an engagement is part of the firm's accounting and auditing manual. (See AAM section 11,600.02.)
 - b. An annual representation of independence should be obtained from an affiliate or associate firm on a repeat engagement.
4. Compliance with policies and procedures relating to independence is monitored.
 - a. Confirmations are obtained annually (See AAM section 11,600.01 for an example of an Independence Checklist for Employees.) by the administrative partner from personnel and upon employment from newly hired personnel confirming that—
 - (i) They are familiar with our firm's independence policies and procedures.
 - (ii) Prohibited investments are not held and were not held during the period.
 - (iii) Prohibited relationships do not exist.
 - (iv) Transactions prohibited by the firm have not occurred.
 - b. The executive partner is responsible for the resolution of exceptions to the firm's independence policies and procedures.
 - c. The executive partner designates a partner to perform an annual review each July of the independence compliance files for completeness and the firm's independence policies and procedures for compliance with professional standards. A report of findings is presented to all the partners.
 - d. Accounts receivable that are past due are reviewed monthly by the executive partner to ascertain whether any outstanding amounts take on some of the characteristics of loans and may, therefore, impair the firm's independence.

.03 Assigning Personnel to Engagements

1. Our firm's approach to assigning personnel includes the planning of overall firm needs and the measures employed to achieve a balance of engagement manpower requirements, personnel skills, individual development, and utilization.
 - a. On a quarterly basis all partners submit to the administrative partner a projection containing anticipated manpower requirements for engagements during the coming quarter for which they have client responsibilities. (See AAM section 11,600.03 for an example of a form which may be used for this purpose.) Such projections are detailed as to number and classification of individuals required and are supported by preliminary engagement time estimates. The administrative partner prepares a summary schedule of assignments to be made for approval by the partners.
 - b. For every engagement where the anticipated time exceeds ten man-days, a time budget is normally prepared under the direction of the engagement partner at least a month prior to the scheduled commencement of field work. Time budgets for smaller engagements are prepared as considered necessary by the engagement partners. The budgets provide detail as to appropriate staff level and time required by function such as cash, accounts receivable, inventory, and so forth.
 - c. The engagement partner considers the following factors to achieve a balance of engagement manpower requirements, personnel skills, individual development, and utilization:

- (i) Engagement size and complexity
- (ii) Personnel availability
- (iii) Special expertise required
- (iv) Timing of the work to be performed
- (v) Continuity and periodic rotation of personnel
- (vi) Opportunities for on-the-job training

2. The administrative partner is responsible for assigning personnel to engagements.

- a. Before the assignment of a professional employee to an engagement, the following criteria are considered:
 - (i) Staffing and timing requirements of the specific engagement.
 - (ii) Evaluation of the qualifications of personnel as to experience, position, background, and any special expertise possessed. (See AAM section 11,600.04.)
 - (iii) The planned extent of supervision and involvement by managers and partners.
 - (iv) Projected time availability of individuals assigned.
 - (v) Situations where possible independence problems and conflicts of interest may exist, such as assignment of personnel to engagements for clients who are former employers or employers of certain kin.
- b. The administrative partner attempts to achieve a balance between the need for continuity and for periodic rotation of personnel.

3. The engagement partner approves the scheduling and staffing of the engagement.

- a. The names of personnel assigned to an engagement are submitted to the engagement partner for approval.
- b. The engagement partner considers the experience and training of the assigned personnel in relation to complexity or other engagement requirements, and the extent of supervision to be provided.
- c. Unresolved assignment conflicts between an engagement partner and the administrative partner are resolved by the executive partner.

.04 Consultation

1. Areas and specialized situations where consultation is required are identified, and personnel are encouraged to consult with or use authoritative sources on complex or unusual matters.

- a. All personnel are advised of our firm's consultation policies and procedures. These policies and procedures are incorporated into the firm's accounting and auditing manual.
- b. A listing of certain areas or specialized situations, which because of the nature or complexity of the subject have been identified as requiring consultation, is updated semiannually by the administrative partner for inclusion in the accounting and auditing manual. The following areas and situations receive special consideration in preparing the list:
 - (i) Application of newly issued technical pronouncements.
 - (ii) Industries with special accounting, auditing, or reporting requirements.

- (iii) Emerging practice problems.
 - (iv) Choices among alternative generally accepted accounting principles when an accounting change is to be made.
 - (v) Filing requirements of regulatory agencies.
- c. A technical reference library is maintained to assist personnel in resolving practice problems. The administrative partner is charged with the responsibility of reviewing semiannually the library contents and making necessary additions.
 - d. Supervisory personnel are encouraged to seek advice from partners and managers the firm has designated as specialists in particular areas when confronted with a situation in the specialist's area of expertise.
 - e. When expertise is not available within the firm, a practice question or problem is referred by the engagement partner to the Technical Information Division of the AICPA or the (state) CPA Society established to handle technical inquiries.
 - f. We maintain a consultation agreement with the local office of (firm name) CPAs to provide our firm with additional expertise. Inquiries to that firm are channeled through the administrative partner.
 - g. The results of outside consultation are reviewed by the engagement partner and the executive partner before a decision is reached on the matter in question.
 - h. An example of a log which can be utilized to maintain a listing of consultations is shown in AAM section 11,600.07. This log can be put in the workpapers to document consultants utilized on the engagement as well as to maintain control for follow-up documentation from the specific consultant used.
 - i. An example of a worksheet which can be used to document the consultations with specialists is shown in AAM section 11,600.08.
- 2. Specific individuals are designated as having specialized experience and expertise in certain technical areas. These individuals are available for consultation to all personnel.
- a. A listing of firm designated specialists together with their particular expertise is updated semiannually and included in the accounting and auditing manual.
 - b. The following procedures are used to resolve differences of opinion on practice problems:
 - (i) Differences of opinion between a professional employee and an engagement partner are brought before the appropriate designated specialist.
 - (ii) If the specialist agrees with the engagement partner, the matter is considered resolved.
 - (iii) If the specialist disagrees with the engagement partner and they are unable to agree on an appropriate resolution, the executive partner is consulted.
 - c. The engagement partner is responsible for the preparation of a memorandum documenting the considerations involved in the resolution of differences of opinion. The original of the memorandum is filed with the engagement working papers and a reference copy without identification of the client is placed in the subject file maintained in the library. Any party to the discussion who disagrees with the conclusion has the option of preparing a memorandum and filing it with the working papers.
- 3. In situations where firm policy requires consultation with specialists, a summary of the consultation conclusions and the reasons for the conclusions is required.

- a. The accounting and auditing manual is used to inform personnel of the extent of documentation required and the responsibility for its preparation. (See AAM section 11,600.07)
- b. Consultation worksheets (see AAM section 11,600.08) are filed with the engagement working papers, and a copy is placed in the subject file maintained in the library under the supervision of the administrative partner. The subject file is maintained in the event that similar questions arise in connection with the same topics.

.05 Supervision

1. All engagements are adequately planned by persons knowledgeable about the client and/or the type of engagement. (For additional information on planning, review AAM section 3000.)
 - a. For all annual recurring audit and accounting engagements where the anticipated manpower requirement is in excess of ten man-days, the in-charge accountant or manager reviews with the engagement partner the following documents from the prior year's files (as applicable) to determine if modifications are appropriate:
 - (i) Engagement letter
 - (ii) Time budget compared with actual time expended
 - (iii) Evaluation of the internal control structure
 - (iv) Audit or work program
 - (v) Engagement memorandums
 - (vi) Financial statements and accountant's report
 - (vii) Management letters
 - (viii) Planning memorandum
 - b. On all engagements in excess of ten man-days, including annual recurring engagements, new engagements, and special engagements, the in-charge accountant or manager submits to the engagement partner the following, where applicable, for his written approval:
 - (i) Engagement letter
 - (ii) Time budget
 - (iii) Preliminary evaluation of the internal control structure
 - (iv) Audit or work program
 - (v) A memorandum stating the manpower requirements (including the need for specialized knowledge), current economic conditions affecting the client or its industry, and any other special problems that may have an impact on the conduct of the engagement
 - (vi) Planning memorandum
2. Procedures are provided for maintaining the firm's standards of quality for the work performed.
 - a. Depending upon each individual's background in relationship to his assignment, varying degrees of supervision are provided by proper engagement staffing. (See AAM section 11,600.04.)
 - b. Each staff member receives an accounting and auditing manual upon joining the firm and is responsible for the proper filing of updates as they are issued.

- c. Differences of opinion among staff members working on an engagement are brought to the attention of the engagement partner. If the partner agrees with the senior party in the dispute, the matter is considered resolved. If no resolution is made, the executive partner is consulted. Any party to the discussion who disagrees with the conclusion has the option of preparing a memorandum and filing it with the working papers.
3. All engagement working papers and reports are reviewed by appropriate supervisory personnel prior to issuance of the report. (For additional information on Supervision, review AAM section 9000.)
 - a. The in-charge accountant and/or manager reviews and initials all working papers he did not prepare (including those prepared by a partner). The engagement partner reviews the overall engagement (initialing all working papers not reviewed by a manager and working papers dealing with difficult and complex subjects) including financial statements and accountant's report, and discusses with the in-charge accountant or manager any critical audit areas and unusual accounting matters encountered during the course of the engagement. This discussion is documented by a memorandum when appropriate.
 - b. In certain circumstances (as enumerated at AAM section 11,300.09 item 1(d)) prior to the issuance of the financial statements and the auditor's report thereon, a second partner not otherwise associated with the engagement evaluates the appropriateness of financial statement disclosures and the auditor's report in relation to the material discussed in the engagement partner's memorandum.

.06 Hiring

1. The firm maintains a program designed to obtain qualified personnel by planning for personnel needs, establishing hiring objectives, and setting qualifications for those involved in the hiring function.
 - a. The administrative partner and the executive partner plan (at least annually) the firm's long-range personnel objectives. Current clientele, anticipated growth, personnel turnover, individual advancement, and retirement are among the factors considered. This plan considers the number and qualifications of personnel as well as the sources and methods for obtaining personnel who meet the requirements and guidelines set by the firm.
 - b. The administrative partner is responsible for employment decisions.
2. Our firm has established qualifications and guidelines for evaluating potential hires at each professional level. (See AAM section 11,600.09 for an example of a Pre-Employment Application which can be used to determine the individual's qualifications and AAM section 11,600.10 for an example of an Interview Report which can be used to document the interviewer's comments about individuals interviewed for positions within the firm.)
 - a. Our firm seeks to employ individuals who possess high levels of intelligence, integrity, honesty, motivation, and aptitude for the profession.
 - b. Our firm normally employs college and business college graduates with a concentration in accounting as full-time permanent members of our professional and paraprofessional staff.
 - c. Newly employed staff members are from the top half of their college class, unless other factors such as personal achievements, work experience, and personal interests indicate the likelihood of adequate professional development.
 - d. Our firm requires that a professional staff applicant have the academic background that will enable him to meet the academic requirements to sit for the CPA examination as administered by the (state) Board of Accountancy.

- e. The approval of the executive partner is required before making an employment offer in atypical situations, such as hiring relatives of personnel or clients, rehiring former employees, or hiring clients' employees.
 - f. The background of new employees is appropriately investigated to reasonably assure hiring persons with acceptable qualifications, by obtaining completed application forms, college transcripts, and personal references.
 - g. Applicants for positions above entry level are interviewed and approved by the executive partner in addition to the administrative partner before an employment decision is made.
- 3. Applicants and new personnel are informed of the firm's policies and procedures relevant to them.
- a. The firm's personnel policies and procedures relevant to applicants are communicated to them before offers of employment are extended.
 - b. The administrative partner maintains and distributes to all personnel a personnel manual describing policies and procedures.
 - c. The administrative partner discusses the firm's personnel policies and procedures with new employees.

.07 Professional Development

- 1. Guidelines and requirements have been established for the firm's professional development program and are communicated to all personnel.
- a. The administrative partner is responsible for the formulation and implementation of firm policy regarding the guidelines and requirements for the firm's professional development programs.
 - b. As part of their orientation, newly employed personnel are informed of their professional responsibilities and opportunities by the administrative partner.
 - c. Newly employed personnel with limited experience are sent to introductory level training sessions of the AICPA or the (state) CPA Society during their first year of employment with our firm.
 - d. Each partner and professional employee is required to complete a minimum of 40 hours of continuing professional education each year. (Firms should determine the specific requirements of their State Board of Accountancy.) Personnel complete the record of professional development form and forward it to the administrative partner. (See AAM section 11,600.11.) The administrative partner is responsible for having the personnel files of each partner and professional employee updated to include a current record of hours of professional development completed. (See AAM section 11,600.12—.13.) The types of programs qualifying for the fulfillment of the 40-hour requirement include—
 - (i) Continuing professional education programs of the AICPA and the (state) Society of CPAs. This includes both sessions attended and cassette/workbook or workbook programs, as long as there is written evidence of completion.
 - (ii) College courses related to the profession.
 - e. Personnel are reimbursed for membership dues paid to the AICPA, the (state) Society of CPAs and our local chapter of the state society.
 - f. Personnel are encouraged to serve on state society or AICPA committees, write articles for professional publications, serve as discussion leaders at professional development seminars, give speeches, and so forth.

- g. The executive partner annually reviews the firm's professional development program (including personnel participation records) to determine whether it is adequately meeting the firm's needs, providing for the professional growth of individuals, and meeting mandatory continuing education requirements. An annual report is made to the partners.
- 2. Information about current developments in professional technical standards and materials containing the firm's technical policies and procedures are made available to personnel. Personnel are encouraged to engage in self-development activities.
- a. It is the responsibility of the administrative partner to distribute information about current developments in accounting and auditing to all personnel who do not receive them directly. This distribution includes statements and interpretations issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board, Governmental Accounting Standards Board, the AICPA Auditing Standards Board, and other AICPA technical committees.
- b. Pronouncements relating to areas of specific interest, such as those issued by the Securities and Exchange Commission, Internal Revenue Service, and other regulatory agencies are distributed by the appropriate specialist to persons who have responsibilities in such areas.
- c. The administrative partner, as the firm's lead technician, is responsible for maintaining an accounting and auditing manual containing firm policies and procedures on technical matters. Updates are prepared and issued to the staff as new developments and conditions arise.
- d. The firm does not, at present, conduct formal in-house training programs other than in specialized areas. However, from time to time personnel participate in the training programs of the AICPA and (firm name) CPAs.
- e. A library of staff training cassette/workbook programs published by the AICPA and (state) Society of CPAs is maintained by the administrative partner for self-study and reference purposes and is available to all personnel.
- 3. The firm provides programs to fill its needs for personnel with expertise in specialized areas and industries.
- a. The administrative partner is responsible for arranging in-house programs on SEC matters, cost accounting, and municipal accounting for personnel involved in these areas.
- b. Individuals designated as having specialized experience and expertise are encouraged to maintain their proficiency by joining appropriate professional associations and attending external professional education programs.
- c. The firm will pay for memberships in organizations concerned with specialized areas or industries in which the firm is engaged or intends to become engaged.
- d. The administrative partner is responsible for maintaining technical literature on specialized areas and industries.
- 4. The firm recognizes that on-the-job training accounts for a significant part of professional development.
- a. Personnel with in-charge responsibility on engagements—
- (i) Discuss with assistants the relationship of the work they are performing to the engagement as a whole.
- (ii) Permit assistants, when practicable, to become involved in areas of the engagement other than those previously assigned.

- (iii) Explain to assistants the reasons for any additional work requirements discovered through the review process.
- b. Personnel are evaluated in part on their effectiveness to properly train and develop subordinates.
- c. The administrative partner monitors assignments to determine that personnel are—
 - (i) Fulfilling, where applicable, the experience requirement of the (state) Board of Accountancy.
 - (ii) Gaining experience in various areas of engagements and varied industries.
 - (iii) Working under different supervisory personnel.

.08 Advancement

1. Our firm has established qualifications deemed necessary for the various levels of responsibility within the firm.
 - a. The levels of responsibility that are inherent in the various staff classifications are clearly defined. Our firm has provided for the following staff classifications.³
 - (i) Manager
 - (ii) In-charge accountant
 - (iii) Staff assistant
 - b. The criteria which are considered in evaluating individual performance and expected proficiency are enumerated in our staff classification guidelines contained in the personnel manual.
 - c. Our firm's personnel manual provides the staff with information regarding the firm's advancement policies and procedures. The administrative partner issues updates from time to time to reflect changes made by the partnership in the policies and procedures.
2. The performance of our personnel is continuously evaluated, and personnel are periodically advised of their progress. Personnel files are maintained containing documentation relating to the evaluation process.
 - a. Professional employees assigned to an engagement for a period in excess of five days must be evaluated by their immediate superior on the engagement by use of an evaluation form. (See AAM section 11,600.14—15 for examples of Evaluation Forms, which may be used for periodic evaluation of staff members. The differences in the forms relate to the amount of time spent on a particular engagement. For example, if a staff member spends 40 or more hours on an engagement a more thorough evaluation can usually be performed (AAM section 11,600.14). AAM section 11,600.16 would be utilized to evaluate the management skills of the individual being evaluated and therefore does not include specific duties relating to the assignment of work performed.) These evaluation forms are reviewed with the employee at the end of the engagement and are approved by the engagement partner.
 - b. Personnel are assigned to engagements in a manner that assures they will be reviewed by several people during the course of a year.
 - c. Personnel with the responsibility for the preparation of evaluations are counseled (at least annually) by the administrative partner to ensure that they understand the firm's objectives.

³ The description of the firm's professional levels, with the responsibilities for each level and the general length of time required for advancement to the next position, can be found in AAM section 11,300.11.

- d. All professional employees receive an evaluation of their performance at least once a year. Such counseling interviews are conducted by the administrative partner. These evaluations summarize the evaluations received on engagements during the year. The individual's progress, strengths, weaknesses, future objectives, and the firm's future objectives are among the items discussed. The interviews are documented in each individual's personnel file.
- e. Annually, each partner completes a partner evaluation form evaluating each of the partners, including himself. The completed forms are submitted to the executive partner who summarizes and reviews them with each partner.
- f. The executive partner or his designee reviews (each August) the system of personnel evaluation and counseling to ascertain that—
 - (i) Procedures for evaluation and documentation are being followed on a timely basis.
 - (ii) Requirements established for advancement are being met.
 - (iii) Personnel decisions are consistent with evaluations.
 - (iv) Recognition is given to outstanding performance.

At the completion of the review, a report is made to the partners.

3. Responsibility for making advancement decisions is assigned to specific individuals.

- a. The administrative partner is responsible for making advancement and termination recommendations, conducting the evaluation interviews, documenting the results of the interviews, and maintaining appropriate records.
- b. The partners evaluate the above data and, after giving appropriate recognition to the quality of the work performed, make advancement decisions. The executive partner has the ultimate responsibility for making advancement decisions.
- c. The executive partner studies the firm's advancement experience annually to ascertain whether individuals meeting stated criteria are assigned increased degrees of responsibility. A report is made to the partners. This report includes the executive partner's opinion of the capabilities and progress of the staff.

.09 Acceptance and Continuance of Clients

1. Our firm has established procedures for evaluation of prospective clients and for their acceptance as clients. (See AAM section 11,600.18 for a New Client Acceptance Checklist, which can be used for prospective clients.)

- a. Available financial information regarding the prospective client, such as annual reports, interim financial statements, reports to regulatory agencies, and income tax returns is obtained and reviewed. Registration statements and 10-K forms are obtained for public companies.
- b. Inquiries about potential clients are made to bankers, attorneys, credit services, and others having business relationships with the company.
- c. Predecessor auditors (if applicable) are contacted and inquiries are made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards.
- d. Consideration is given to circumstances that would cause the firm to regard the engagement as one requiring special attention or presenting unusual risks. These circumstances include—
 - (i) Audits of publicly held corporations

- (ii) Audits where the expected man-hour requirement exceeds 300 hours
 - (iii) Audits of firms operating in high-risk industries, such as those industries where it is difficult to establish an adequate internal control structure or those industries whose operations are especially sensitive to general economic conditions
 - (iv) Audits of firms in the development stage
 - (v) Audits of firms in serious financial difficulty
 - (vi) Any of the conditions enumerated in 2(a)(iii)
- e. The firm's independence and ability to adequately serve a potential client are evaluated prior to acceptance. In evaluating the firm's ability, consideration is given to the requirements for technical skills, knowledge of the industry, and availability of qualified personnel.
- f. A review is made to ensure that acceptance of the client would not violate applicable regulatory agency requirements and the code of professional conduct of the AICPA and/or the (state) CPA Society.
- g. Procedures for acceptance of a new engagement are as follows:
- (i) The engagement partner assembles the information and evaluates all matters described in the previous paragraphs.
 - (ii) For all audit engagements, or engagements described in paragraph (d) above, the acceptance is to be approved in writing by the engagement partner and the executive partner.
 - (iii) All other engagements are to be approved in writing by the engagement partner and the administrative partner.
- h. The administrative partner is responsible for administering the procedures for acceptance of clients. The executive partner performs an annual review for compliance with the firm's policies and procedures for acceptance of clients and makes a report to the partners.
- 2. Clients are evaluated at the end of specific periods or upon the occurrence of certain events to determine whether the relationship should be continued. (See AAM section 11,600.19 for a Client Evaluation Questionnaire which can be used for evaluating existing clients.)
- a. Reevaluations are made of existing clients—
- (i) Annually, if any of the conditions mentioned in 1(d) above exist.
 - (ii) Every three years if none of the conditions mentioned in 1(d) above exist.
 - (iii) If there is a significant change in one or more of the following:
 - Management
 - Directors
 - Ownership
 - Legal counsel
 - Financial condition
 - Litigation status
 - Nature of client's business
 - Scope of the auditor's work

- (iv) Upon the emergence of conditions that would have caused the firm to reject a client had such conditions existed at the time of the initial acceptance.
- b. The administrative partner is responsible for evaluating the information obtained, making continuance recommendations, and administering firm procedures for continuance of clients. If the administrative partner recommends discontinuance or if any of the conditions enumerated in 2(a)(iii) above or (iv) above exist, all partners participate in the continuance decision.
- c. The executive partner performs an annual review to test for compliance with the firm's policies and procedures for continuance of clients and makes a report to the partners.

.10 Inspection

1. The firm conducts an inspection program regarding its quality control policies and procedures. (See AAM section 11,600.20 for a Summary Inspection Report, which can be used to document the results of a firm's yearly quality review inspection and AAM section 11,600.21 for an Inspection of Compliance with Policies and Procedures Relating to Elements of Quality Control.)
 - a. Each year a partner and a manager not otherwise directly involved in firm administration are appointed by the executive partner as an inspection team to evaluate the firm's quality control policies and procedures for compliance with professional standards.
 - b. The appointed partner and manager obtain reasonable assurance that quality control policies and procedures are being complied with by—
 - (i) Inquiring of persons responsible for a function or activity.
 - (ii) Reviewing selected administrative and personnel files.
 - (iii) Reviewing selected engagement working paper files and reports (described below).
 - (iv) Reviewing other evidential matter.
 - c. A sample of engagements is selected annually from each partner's and manager's client listing and is given an in-depth review by the inspection team. The administrative partner reviews engagements of the partner and manager involved in the inspection process to ensure that a representative sample of engagements from all partners and managers has been selected. The working papers and reports are reviewed for compliance with professional standards, including generally accepted auditing standards, generally accepted accounting principles, and the firm's quality control policies and procedures.
 - d. The executive partner annually selects a representative report to be submitted for review to the practice review committee of the (state) Society and/or the AICPA.
 - e. Every third year the firm has a quality review. The executive partner is responsible for scheduling this review. This review takes the place of the firm's annual inspection.
2. Provision is made for reporting inspection findings to the appropriate management levels and for monitoring actions taken or planned.
 - a. The results of engagement reviews are discussed with the supervisory personnel responsible for the engagement.
 - b. Inspection findings and recommendations are reported to the partners by the inspection team together with corrective actions taken or planned. A memo outlining the findings and recommendations is prepared by the inspection team and is retained by the executive partner.

- c. The executive partner has the responsibility to determine that planned corrective actions were taken and to report the extent of compliance to all the partners.

.11 Description of the Firm's Professional Levels

Level	Approximate Time Frame
Staff Assistant
Level 1	First year (0 to 1)
Level 2	Second year (1 to 2)
In-Charge Accountant	Third, fourth, fifth (3 to 5)
Audit Manager	Sixth through tenth year (6 to 10)
Partner	After the tenth year

Staff Assistant (Level 1). A Level 1 staff assistant is expected to—

- Work on portions of audit and accounting engagements.
- Become familiar with the contents of the firm manuals.
- Know the rules, regulations, and code of conduct of the AICPA and the (state) Society of CPAs.
- Be familiar with the pronouncements of the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) and the AICPA, such as the Statements on Auditing Standards (SASs) and Accounting Principles Board Opinions (APBs).
- Progress professionally by working toward passing the CPA examination as soon as possible.

Staff Assistant (Level 2). A Level 2 staff assistant should be able to—

- Assume full responsibility under supervision for small accounting engagements involving unaudited financial statements.
- Work on more involved portions of large audit and accounting engagements.
- Prepare financial statements.

In-Charge Accountant. An in-charge accountant is expected to—

- Assume full responsibility for small and medium-size audit engagements requiring the services of one or two people and large accounting engagements involving unaudited financial statements.
- Work on (and research) assignments involving "theory" and such "conceptual" areas as materiality and interrelationships of accounts.
- Review and analyze internal control.
- Prepare audit programs and time budgets.
- Prepare management letters.
- Train and supervise the staff assistants assigned to the engagement.
- Recognize, in advance, the possible problem areas of an engagement.
- Pass the CPA examination, if not already certified.

Manager. A manager is a CPA and is expected to—

- Assume full responsibility for large audit assignments falling within his expertise.

- Supervise the assignment of duties to, and the training of, personnel assigned to the engagement.
- Supervise a number of engagements at one time.
- In connection with engagements, be responsible for personnel scheduling, compliance with due dates, and monitoring time budgets.
- Adequately review all working papers and the completed reports to ascertain that both meet firm standards.
- Resolve all problems prior to the submission of the report for final partner review.
- Communicate firm policies and technical information to accounting and auditing personnel through individual or group meetings.
- Motivate and assist staff in their professional development.
- Represent the firm in professional and service organizations.
- Develop the firm's reputation and his own through conducting seminars, making speeches, and the like.
- Assist partners with practice development and practice management.

.12 Stated Objectives of Firm (Philosophy)

A particular firm's stated objectives may include items such as the following:

1. Concern for the general public interest.
 2. Concern for the financial well-being of clients.
 3. Reinvestment of the firm's profits in the training and advancement of the firm's partners and staff.
 4. Growth plans for the firm, including opening of branch offices, annual billings, and staff size.
 5. Development of specialties such as auditing governmental units or concentration in particular fields—agriculture, retail, and so forth.
 6. Development of other services, such as a computer data processing center.
 7. Centralization (or decentralization) of authority for issuance of reports.
 8. Degree of operating autonomy for individual practice offices.
 9. Extent of autonomy for partners.
 10. Pattern for firm growth—internal growth through acquisitions of clients and growing apace with them or growth through mergers with other accounting firms.

Sample Quality Control Document for a Sole Practitioner CPA Firm Without Full-Time Staff

.01 Firm Background Information

My firm was founded in 19XX after I had gained several years' experience with a local CPA firm. A secretary and a student from the local university are employed on a part-time basis during the busy season.

My objective is to provide quality service in accounting, auditing, income tax, and financial advisory capacities to small businesses in my community. I do not serve publicly held companies, nor do I plan to do so. It is anticipated that the firm's future growth will be through expanded service to present clients and the addition of new clients.¹ I intend to hire and train personnel as needed.

My practice is conducted from one office and consists of five audit engagements, for which we are the sole auditors, twelve unaudited financial statement engagements, and fifteen clients for which my firm provides other accounting services.

May 31, 19XX

.02 Independence

Any part-time staff and I are required to adhere to the independence rules, regulations, interpretations, and rulings of the AICPA, (state) CPA Society, (state) Board of Accountancy, and state statutes.

- a. I communicate with the AICPA and/or the (state) CPA Society for assistance, if needed, in resolving independence questions. (See AAM section 11,600.07 for an example of a log which can be utilized to document all communication with parties outside the firm. Also, see AAM section 11,600.08 for a Consultation Worksheet, which can be used to document the subject matter as well as the response from the consultant.
- b. My part-time staff complete an independence checklist for employees when they are hired. The purpose of the checklist is to determine the part-time staff member's independence and to document the same.
- c. A memorandum documenting the resolution of independence questions is prepared and retained. My part-time employee reviews and initials the memorandum if the question relates to his independence.
- d. Accounts receivable that are past due are reviewed monthly to ascertain whether any outstanding amounts take on some of the characteristics of loans and may, therefore, impair the firm's independence.
- e. Our library contains professional, regulatory, and firm literature relating to independence matters.²

.03 Assigning Personnel to Engagements

Assignment of personnel includes the planning of overall firm needs and the measures employed to achieve a balance of engagement manpower requirements, personnel skills, individual development, and utilization.

¹ Additional considerations for establishing a firm's stated objectives are discussed in AAM section 11,400.11.

² The appropriate information may be found in AICPA Professional Standards, volume 2, and in rulings and interpretations of the state CPA societies, the state boards of accountancy, and state statutes.

On an annual basis, normally in October of each year, I develop a projection of anticipated manpower requirements to determine if I will need additional staff during the coming year. This is performed by utilizing a "Client History of Staff Assignments" (AAM section 11,600.05) which lists by client the amount of time expended in prior years. (It should be noted that the form in AAM section 11,600.05 can be adapted to be used for a sole practitioner as well as a large firm.)

.04 Consultation

- 1. Areas and specialized situations where consultation is required are identified, and personnel are encouraged to consult with or use authoritative sources on complex or unusual matters.
 - a. A technical reference library is maintained, and I have made arrangements to use the libraries of other practicing CPAs. The AICPA library is also used on a frequent basis.
 - b. When presented with a practice question or problem that I may lack the particular expertise to resolve, I refer to the Technical Information Division of the AICPA or the (state) CPA Society established to handle technical inquiries, or I may confer with another CPA who has expertise in the area.
- 2. In those areas and specialized situations where firm policy requires consultation with specialists, a summary of the consultation conclusions and the reasons for the conclusions is required. (See AAM section 11,600.08.)

Consultation summaries are filed with the engagement working papers. (See AAM section 11,600.07.)

.05 Supervision

- 1. All engagements are adequately planned, and procedures are provided for maintaining the firm's standards of quality for the work performed. (For additional information on Planning, review AAM section 3000.)
 - a. On all recurring engagements, I annually review the following documents from the prior year's files, as applicable, to determine if modifications are appropriate:
 - (i) Engagement letter
 - (ii) Time budget compared with actual time expended
 - (iii) Evaluation of the internal control structure
 - (iv) Audit or work program
 - (v) Engagement notes and memorandums
 - (vi) Financial statement and accountant's report
 - (vii) Management letters
 - (viii) Planning memorandum

The foregoing items are prepared, where applicable, for new and special engagements, and a memorandum is prepared stating special problems, if any, that may have an impact on the conduct of the engagement.

- b. Copies of forms, checklists, and questionnaires are available for use on engagements.
- 2. All engagement working papers and reports are reviewed prior to issuing the report. (For additional information on Supervision, see AAM section 9000.)

- a. I review and initial the work of my part-time employee.
- b. I review and initial my own work after waiting at least until the following day.
- c. Checklists are utilized for reviewing engagement working papers and reports.

.06 Hiring

- 1. The firm endeavors to obtain qualified personnel and has established qualifications and guidelines for evaluating potential hires. (See AAM section 11,600.09 for an example of a Pre-Employment Application which can be used to determine the individual's qualifications and AAM section 11,600.10 for an example of an Interview Report which can be used to document the interviewer's comments about individuals interviewed for positions within the firm.)
 - a. During my busy season, I normally employ a college senior who has completed substantially all of the accounting curriculum course requirements for graduation.
 - b. I interview potential employees and appropriately investigate their backgrounds to reasonably assure my hiring persons with acceptable qualifications.
- 2. New personnel are informed of the firm's policies and procedures relevant to them.

A copy of this quality control document is presented to newly hired personnel.

.07 Professional Development

- 1. I have an annual professional development requirement.
 - a. I am a member of the AICPA and the (state) CPA Society and participate in professional activities.
 - b. I complete a minimum of 40 hours of formal continuing professional education each year in areas related to my practice. (Firms should determine the specific requirements of their State Board of Accountancy.) A record of professional development hours is maintained, updated, and periodically reviewed. (See AAM section 11,600.11.) The types of programs qualifying for the fulfillment of the forty-hour requirement include—
 - (i) Continuing professional education programs of the AICPA and the (state) CPA Society. These include sessions attended and, with written evidence of completion, cassette/workbook, or workbook programs.
 - (ii) College courses related to the profession.
- 2. Information about current developments in professional technical standards and materials containing the firm's technical policies and procedures are made available to personnel.

I receive and review statements relating to current developments in accounting and auditing including statements and interpretations issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board, the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, the AICPA Auditing Standards Board, and other AICPA technical committees.

- 3. On-the-job training accounts for a significant part of professional development.

I provide for on-the-job training by discussing with my part-time employee the relationship of his work to the engagement as a whole. Also, during my review of working papers prepared by my part-time employee, I explain the need for any additional work requirements discovered through the review process.

.08 Advancement

The element of advancement is inapplicable because the firm uses only part-time staff.

.09 Acceptance and Continuance of Clients

1. Procedures are established for evaluation of prospective clients and for their acceptance as clients. (See AAM section 11,600.18 for a New Client Acceptance Checklist which can be used for prospective clients.)

- a. I obtain and review available financial information regarding the prospective client (such as annual and interim financial statements and income tax returns).
- b. I make inquiries about potential clients to bankers, attorneys, credit services, and others having business relationships with the company.
- c. I contact predecessor auditors, where applicable, and make inquiries in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards.
- d. I consider circumstances that would cause the firm to regard the engagement as one requiring special attention or presenting unusual risks. These circumstances include the following:
 - (i) Audits where the expected man-hour requirement exceeds seventy-five hours
 - (ii) Audits of firms operating in high-risk industries, such as those industries where it is difficult to establish an adequate internal control structure or those industries whose operations are especially sensitive to general economic conditions
 - (iii) Audits of firms in the development stage
 - (iv) Audits of firms in serious financial difficulty
 - (v) Audits of firms experiencing change in any of the following: management or ownership, legal counsel, financial condition, litigation status, nature of business, or scope of engagement
- e. I evaluate the firm's independence and ability to adequately serve a potential client. In evaluating the firm's ability, I give consideration to the requirements for technical skills, knowledge of the industry, and personnel.
- f. A review is made to ensure that acceptance of the client would not violate applicable regulatory agency requirements and the code of professional conduct of the AICPA and/or the (state) CPA Society.
- g. I assemble, evaluate, and document the items listed above before making an acceptance decision.

2. Clients are evaluated at the end of specific periods or upon the occurrence of certain events to determine whether the relationship should be continued. (See AAM section 11,600.19 for a Client Evaluation Questionnaire, which can be used for evaluating existing clients.)

- a. Reevaluations of existing clients are made—
 - (i) Annually, if any of the conditions mentioned in 1(d) above exist.
 - (ii) Every three years if none of the conditions mentioned in 1(d) above exist.
 - (iii) Upon the emergence of conditions that would have caused me to reject a client had such conditions existed at the time of the initial acceptance.
- b. I prepare an annual memorandum documenting the evaluations.

.10 Inspection

- 1. The firm conducts an inspection program regarding its quality control policies and procedures. (See AAM section 11,600.20 for a Summary Inspection Report, which can be used to document the results of a firm's yearly quality review inspection, and AAM section 11,600.21 for an Inspection of Compliance With Policies and Procedures Relating to Elements of Quality Control.)

Each year, I evaluate the firm's quality control policies and procedures for compliance with professional standards by use of AICPA and/or (state) Society checklists. This procedure includes a review of administrative, personnel, and engagement files sufficient to obtain reasonable assurance that quality control policies and procedures are being complied with. An inspection program is not conducted during the year in which the firm has a quality review.

- 2. The firm adheres to the quality control standards that have been established by the AICPA.

Every three years there is a quality review of the firm's accounting and auditing practice. This review is performed by either a peer firm qualified to perform the review or a team assembled by the AICPA or state society of CPAs.

- 3. Provision is made for reporting inspection findings and for monitoring actions taken or planned.

I evaluate inspection findings and recommendations together with suggested corrective actions and prepare and retain a memorandum documenting that the inspection has been performed. Appropriate corrective actions, if any, are taken.

.11 Stated Objectives of Firm (Philosophy)

A particular firm's stated objectives may include items such as the following:

- 1. Concern for the general public interest.
- 2. Concern for the financial well-being of clients.
- 3. Reinvestment of the firm's profits in the training and advancement of personnel.
- 4. Growth plans including opening of branch offices, annual billings, and staff size.
- 5. Development of specialties such as auditing governmental units or concentration in particular fields—agriculture, retail, and so forth.
- 6. Development of other services such as a computer data processing center.
- 7. Pattern for firm growth—internal growth through acquisitions of clients and growing apace with them or growth through mergers with other accounting firms.

Sample Quality Control Document for a Sole Practitioner CPA Firm With Full-Time Staff

.01 Firm Background Information

The firm was founded in 19XX after the proprietor gained several years' experience with a local CPA firm. Presently, our full-time staff consists of two professional employees and a secretary. One per diem accountant is hired during the busy season. An accounting student and a secretary are available on a part-time basis, as needed.

The firm's objectives are to—

- Provide high-quality accounting, auditing, tax, and management advisory services to growth-oriented companies in our geographic area.
- Serve clients with outstanding business potential and to help each company reach its maximum potential through sound and efficient accounting, financial, and management advice.
- Be actively involved in professional, business, community, and civic affairs.
- Offer close, personalized service on a timely basis.

In order to achieve these goals and objectives, the firm seeks to grow through a combination of expanded service to present clients and the addition of new clients on a regular basis.¹

Our practice is conducted from one office, and our audit clientele, consists of retail establishments, manufacturing companies, service companies, and nonprofit organizations.

May 31, 19XX

.02 Independence

1. All personnel are required to adhere to the independence rules, regulations, interpretations, and rulings of the AICPA, (state) CPA Society, (state) Board of Accountancy, and state statutes.
 - a. Mr. (practitioner) is responsible for resolving questions relating to independence matters and is available to provide guidance when required.
 - b. Mr. (practitioner) communicates with the AICPA and/or the (state) CPA Society for assistance in resolving independence questions that are not satisfactorily resolved within the firm. (See AAM section 11,600.07 for an example of a log, which can be utilized to document all communication with parties outside the firm. Also see AAM section 11,600.08 for a Consultation Worksheet, which can be used to document the subject matter, as well as the response from the consultant.)
 - c. A memorandum documenting the resolution of independence questions is prepared and retained by Mr. (practitioner); the other firm personnel review and initial the memorandum if the question relates to their independence.

2. Policies and procedures relating to independence are communicated to all personnel.

¹ Additional considerations for establishing a firm's stated objectives are discussed in AAM section 11,500.11.

- a. Memorandums are used to inform personnel of the firm's independence policies and procedures and advise them that they are expected to be familiar with those policies and procedures. Rulings and interpretations of the AICPA, (state) CPA Society, (state) Board of Accountancy, and state statutes are also made available to personnel.
- b. An independent mental attitude is emphasized during the conduct of engagements.
- c. I review the current client listing with each new employee to ensure that the employee is aware of those entities to which independence policies apply. During the monthly staff meeting, the staff is informed of any changes in the listing.
- d. Our library contains professional, regulatory, and firm literature relating to independence matters.²

3. Compliance with policies and procedures relating to independence is monitored.

- a. Annually, all staff members are required to complete a questionnaire (see AAM section 11,600.01), indicating that—
 - (i) They are familiar with the firm's independence policies and procedures.
 - (ii) They are not now nor have been holding prohibited investments.
 - (iii) They are not now nor have been involved in relationships or transactions that are prohibited.
- b. Mr. (practitioner) is responsible for the resolution of exceptions to the firm's policies and procedures relating to independence.
- c. Accounts receivable that are past due are reviewed monthly by Mr. (practitioner) to ascertain whether any outstanding amounts take on some of the characteristics of loans and may, therefore, impair the firm's independence.

.03 Assigning Personnel to Engagements

- 1. Our firm's approach to assigning personnel includes the planning of overall firm needs and the measures employed to achieve a balance of engagement manpower requirements, personnel skills, individual development, and utilization.
 - a. On an annual basis, normally in September of each year, Mr. (practitioner) develops a projection containing anticipated manpower requirements for the next year. (See AAM section 11,600.06.)
 - b. In scheduling assignments, Mr. (practitioner) strives to achieve a balance of engagement manpower requirements, personnel skills, individual development, and utilization, taking into consideration—
 - (i) Engagement size and complexity
 - (ii) Personnel availability
 - (iii) Special expertise required
 - (iv) Timing of the work to be performed
- 2. Mr. (practitioner) is responsible for assigning personnel to engagements. (See AAM section 11,600.04—.05 for examples of forms which can be used to facilitate assigning personnel to specific engagements.)

² The appropriate information may be found in AICPA Professional Standards, volume 2, and in rulings and interpretations of the state CPA societies, the state boards of accountancy, and state statutes.

- a. Before the assignment of a professional employee to an engagement, Mr. (practitioner) considers the nature of the engagement, personnel availability, extent of supervision required, and possible independence problems or conflicts of interest.
- b. To the extent practicable, Mr. (practitioner) attempts to achieve a balance between the need for continuity and for periodic rotation of staff.

.04 Consultation

1. Areas and specialized situations where consultation is required are identified, and personnel are encouraged to consult with or use authoritative sources on complex or unusual matters.
 - a. All personnel are advised of our firm's consultation policies and procedures. These policies and procedures are set forth in a memorandum.
 - b. Certain areas or specialized situations have been identified as requiring consultation because of their nature or complexity. They include the following:
 - (i) Application of newly issued technical pronouncements.
 - (ii) Industries with special accounting, auditing, or reporting requirements.
 - (iii) Emerging practice problems.
 - (iv) Choices among alternative generally accepted accounting principles when an accounting change is to be made.
 - c. A technical reference library is maintained, and arrangements have been made to use the libraries of other practicing CPAs. The resources of the AICPA library are drawn upon when needed.
 - d. When expertise is not available within the firm, practice questions and problems are referred by Mr. (practitioner) to the Technical Information Division of the AICPA or the (state) CPA Society established to handle technical inquiries.
 - e. We maintain a consultation agreement with the local office of (firm name) CPAs, to provide us with additional expertise. Inquiries to that firm are channeled through Mr. (practitioner).
2. In those areas and specialized situations where firm policy requires consultation with specialists, a summary of the consultation conclusions and the reasons for the conclusions are required.
 - a. The consultation policy memorandum is used to inform personnel of the consultation procedures, the extent of documentation required, and the responsibility for its preparation.
 - b. Consultation worksheets (see AAM section 11,600.08) are filed with the engagement working papers.

.05 Supervision

1. All engagements are adequately planned. (For additional information on Planning, review AAM section 3000.)
 - a. On all annual recurring engagements, the staff accountant reviews with Mr. (practitioner) (or Mr. (practitioner) reviews alone) the following documents from the prior year's files, as applicable, to determine if modifications are appropriate:
 - (i) Engagement letter
 - (ii) Time budget compared with actual time expended

- (iii) Evaluation of the internal control structure
 - (iv) Audit or work program
 - (v) Engagement notes and memorandums
 - (vi) Financial statements and accountant's report
 - (vii) Management letters
 - (viii) Planning memorandum
- b. For all engagements (including annual recurring engagements, new engagements, and special engagements), the staff accountant submits to Mr. (practitioner) the following, where applicable, for his written approval, or Mr. (practitioner) prepares, where applicable, the following:
- (i) Engagement letter
 - (ii) Time budget
 - (iii) Preliminary evaluation of the internal control structure
 - (iv) Audit or work program
 - (v) A memorandum stating the special problems, if any, that may have an impact on the conduct of the engagement
 - (vi) Planning memorandum
- 2. Procedures are provided for maintaining the firm's standards of quality for the work performed.
- a. Depending upon each individual's background in relation to his assignment, varying degrees of supervision are provided.
 - b. Copies of forms, checklists, and questionnaires are available for use on engagements.
 - c. Differences of opinion among staff members working on an engagement are resolved by Mr. (practitioner). Any party to the discussion who disagrees with the conclusion has the option of preparing a memorandum and filing it with the working papers.
- 3. All engagement working papers and reports are reviewed prior to issuance of the report. (For additional information on Supervision, review AAM section 9000.)
- a. The staff accountant reviews and initials all working papers he did not prepare (excluding those prepared by Mr. (practitioner)).
 - b. Mr. (practitioner) reviews the overall engagement (including his own working papers after waiting at least one day following their preparation) by completing a review checklist.

.06 Hiring

- 1. The firm endeavors to obtain qualified personnel by planning for personnel needs and establishing hiring objectives.
- a. Mr. (practitioner) annually plans the firm's long-range personnel objectives. Current clientele, anticipated growth, personnel turnover, individual advancement, and retirement are among the criteria considered.
 - b. Mr. (practitioner) makes the employment decisions.

2. Our firm has established qualifications and guidelines for evaluating potential hirees. (See AAM section 11,600.09 for an example of a Pre-Employment Application which can be used to determine the individual's qualifications and AAM section 11,600.10 for an example of an Interview Report which can be used to document the interviewer's comments about individuals interviewed for positions within the firm.)
 - a. Our firm seeks to employ individuals with high levels of intelligence, integrity, honesty, motivation, and aptitude for the profession.
 - b. Our firm normally employs college and business college graduates with a concentration in accounting as full-time permanent members of its professional and paraprofessional staff. The following general criteria are considered in hiring decisions:
 - (i) Academic background
 - (ii) Personal achievements
 - (iii) Work experience
 - (iv) Personal interests
 - c. Our firm normally expects that a professional staff applicant have the academic background that will enable him to meet the academic requirements to sit for the CPA examination as administered by the (state) Board of Accountancy.
 - d. The backgrounds of potential employees are appropriately investigated to reasonably assure our hiring persons with acceptable qualifications by obtaining completed application forms, college transcripts, personal references, and employment references.
 - e. Potential employees are interviewed by Mr. (practitioner) who informs them about the firm.
3. New personnel are informed of the firm's policies and procedures relevant to them.
 - a. Mr. (practitioner) discusses the firm's personnel policies and procedures with new employees.
 - b. A copy of this quality control document is presented to newly hired personnel.

.07 Professional Development

1. Guidelines and requirements have been established for the firm's professional development program and are communicated to all personnel.
 - a. Mr. (practitioner) and any eligible staff are members of the AICPA and the (state) CPA Society; they also participate in professional activities.
 - b. Mr. (practitioner) is responsible for the formulation and implementation of guidelines and requirements for professional development.
 - c. As part of their orientation, new employees are informed of professional responsibilities and opportunities by Mr. (practitioner).
 - d. Mr. (practitioner) and the full-time professional employees are required to complete a minimum of 40 hours of formal continuing professional education each year. (Firms should determine the specific requirements of their State Board of Accountancy.) Personnel complete the record-of-professional-development form (see AAM section 11,600.11) and forward it to Mr. (practitioner). He reviews the form and has it filed in the individual's personnel file. The types of programs qualifying for the fulfillment of the 40-hour requirement include—

(i) Continuing professional education programs of the AICPA and the (state) CPA Society. This includes sessions attended and, with written evidence of completion, cassette/workbook or workbook programs.

(ii) College courses related to the profession.

e. Mr. (practitioner) annually reviews and approves the firm's professional development program (including personnel participation records) to determine whether it is adequately meeting the firm's needs, providing for the professional growth of individuals, and meeting mandatory continuing education requirements. (See AAM section 11,600.12—.13.)

2. Information about current developments in professional technical standards and materials containing the firm's technical policies and procedures are made available to personnel. Personnel are encouraged to engage in self-development activities.

It is the responsibility of Mr. (practitioner) to distribute statements relating to current developments in accounting and auditing to all personnel not receiving them directly. This includes statements and interpretations issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board, the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, the AICPA Auditing Standards Board, and other AICPA technical committees.

3. The firm recognizes that on-the-job training accounts for a significant part of professional development.

a. Mr. (practitioner) provides for on-the-job training by discussing with the engagement staff the relationship of the work they are performing to the engagement as a whole. Also, during the review of working papers prepared by staff members, the proprietor explains the need for any additional work requirements discovered through the review process.

b. When practicable, professional employees are assigned to varying engagement areas.

c. Assignments are monitored to determine that personnel are fulfilling, where applicable, the experience requirements of the (state) Board of Accountancy.

.08 Advancement

1. The performance of our personnel is continuously evaluated, and personnel are periodically advised of their progress. Personnel files are maintained containing documentation of the evaluation process.

a. At least annually, all professional employees receive an evaluation of their performance. (See AAM section 11,600.14—.15 for examples of Evaluation Forms which may be used for periodic evaluation of staff members. The differences in the forms relate to the amount of time spent on a particular engagement. For example, if a staff member spends 40 or more hours on an engagement a more thorough evaluation can usually be performed (AAM section 11,600.14). AAM section 11,600.16 would be utilized to evaluate the management skills of the individual being evaluated and therefore does not include specific duties relating to the assignment of work performed.) Such counseling interviews are conducted by Mr. (practitioner). These evaluations summarize performance on engagements during the year. The individual's progress, strengths, weaknesses, future objectives, and the firm's future objectives are among the items discussed.

b. Results of evaluations are documented in the individual's personnel file.

2. Mr. (practitioner) makes advancement and termination decisions and documents the results.

.09 Acceptance and Continuance of Clients

- 1. Our firm has established procedures for evaluation of prospective clients and for their acceptance as clients. (See AAM section 11,600.18 for a New Client Acceptance Checklist which can be used for prospective clients.)
 - a. Available financial information regarding the prospective client (such as annual and interim financial statements and income tax returns) is obtained and reviewed.
 - b. Inquiries about potential clients are made to bankers, attorneys, credit services, and others having business relationships with the company.
 - c. Where applicable, predecessor auditors are contacted, and inquiries are made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards.
 - d. Consideration is given to circumstances that would cause the firm to regard the engagement as one requiring special attention or presenting unusual risks. These circumstances include the following:
 - (i) Audits where the expected man-hour requirement exceeds ninety hours
 - (ii) Audits of firms operating in high-risk industries, such as those industries where it is difficult to establish an adequate internal control structure or those industries whose operations are especially sensitive to general economic conditions
 - (iii) Audits of firms in the development stage
 - (iv) Audits of firms in serious financial difficulty
 - (v) Audits of firms experiencing change in any of the following: management or ownership, legal counsel, financial condition, litigation status, nature of business, or scope of engagement
 - e. The firm's independence and ability to adequately serve a potential client are evaluated prior to its acceptance. In evaluating the firm's ability, consideration is given to the requirements for technical skills, knowledge of the industry, and personnel.
 - f. A review is made to ensure that acceptance of the client would not violate applicable regulatory agency requirements and the codes of professional conduct of the AICPA and/or the (state) CPA Society.
 - g. Mr. (practitioner) assembles, evaluates, and documents the applicable foregoing considerations before making an acceptance decision.
- 2. Clients are evaluated at the end of specific periods or upon the occurrence of certain events to determine whether the relationship should be continued. (See AAM section 11,600.19 for a Client Evaluation Questionnaire which can be used for evaluating existing clients.)
 - a. Reevaluations of existing clients are made—
 - (i) Annually, if any of the conditions mentioned in 1(d) above exist.
 - (ii) Every three years if none of the conditions mentioned in 1(d) above exist.
 - (iii) Upon the emergence of conditions that would have caused the firm to reject a client had such conditions existed at the time of the initial acceptance.
 - b. Based on the information obtained, Mr. (practitioner) makes the continuance decision and documents it with a memorandum.

.10 Inspection

1. The firm conducts an inspection program regarding its quality control policies and procedures. (See AAM section 11,600.20 for a Summary Inspection Report, which can be used to document the results of a firm's yearly quality review inspection, and AAM section 11,600.21 for an Inspection of Compliance With Policies and Procedures Relating to Elements of Quality Control.)

Using AICPA and/or (state) Society checklists, Mr. (practitioner) annually evaluates the firm's quality control policies and procedures for compliance with professional standards. This procedure includes a review of administrative, personnel, and engagement files sufficient to obtain reasonable assurance that quality control policies and procedures are being complied with. An inspection program is not conducted during the year in which the firm has a quality review.

2. The firm adheres to the quality control standards that have been established by the AICPA.

Every three years there is a quality review of the firm's accounting and auditing practice. This review is performed by either a peer firm qualified to perform the review or a team assembled for the review purpose.

3. Provision is made for reporting inspection findings and for monitoring actions taken or planned.

Mr. (practitioner) evaluates the inspection findings and recommendations together with suggested corrective actions and prepares and retains a memorandum documenting that the inspection has been performed. Appropriate corrective actions, if any, are taken.

.11 Stated Objectives of Firm (Philosophy)

A particular firm's stated objectives may include items such as the following:

1. Concern for the general public interest.
2. Concern for the financial well-being of clients.
3. Reinvestment of the firm's profits in the training and advancement of personnel.
4. Growth plans including opening of branch offices, annual billings, and staff size.
5. Development of specialties such as auditing governmental units or concentration in particular fields—agriculture, retail, and so forth.
6. Development of other services such as a computer data processing center.
7. Pattern for firm growth—internal growth through acquisitions of clients and growing apace with them or growth through mergers with other accounting firms.
