Dear Jim:

Thanks for sending me your rip-snorting piece from The Economist. I am delighted that they would print such a vigorous article. I was also interested in the reprint from the Pascagoula Chronicle. Apparently you are not alone among your colleagues in courage.

I could not help wondering in connection with Meredith's shilly-shallying last month (one of the few bits from the United States reported in India) whether you were not quietly twisting his arm when he finally announced that he would stay on. Thank goodness for that.

Do give my love to Miss Dutch. It was grand to see both of you at the Southern meeting. Of course I much appreciated your talk as did everyone else.

Sincerely,

Professor James Silver
