

University of Mississippi

eGrove

Correspondence

Civil War Collection

12-6-1861

May Alford to Matilda Norman, 6 December [?]

May Alford

Follow this and additional works at: https://egrove.olemiss.edu/ciwar_corresp

Recommended Citation

Alford, May, "May Alford to Matilda Norman, 6 December [?]" (1861). Correspondence. 765. https://egrove.olemiss.edu/ciwar_corresp/765

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Civil War Collection at eGrove. It has been accepted for inclusion in Correspondence by an authorized administrator of eGrove. For more information, please contact egrove@olemiss.edu.

Crystal Springs Miss Dec the 9 1847

My ever dear friend

I again sit down to the pleasant task of writing to you and for a little while shall almost imagine my self with you indeed it requires very little stretch of the imagination to carry me amongst you we are all well at this time we have not received a letter from any of the ladies since they left I begin to think they are all composed of miseries I know cousin Carrie could write if Foster and cousin Sandy are taking on so they cannot I suppose they think they will be here soon it would be useless to write nothing of interest is going on up here now times are dull Christmas is almost at hand and there is not much excitement I have heard of only one party to be given that by Mr Estlin but as that is not interesting to neither you nor myself I conclude the least said about that the better the city girls are flourishing finely the two ships Golspies have been added to the number it is a very glorious day to day and I cannot go to church there I cannot think of much interesting I went to hear one new circuit rider preach last Sunday oh he preached such a fine sermon his sermons do me so much good I am so proud of our preacher I am so pleased with him from Mr Greenback he is going

So far as would it not be an addition to our exertions to have him with Mr ~~Sherrington~~ Sherrington I will ever be partial to Mr Greenbush he was to preach to day but the day is so gloomy I suppose he will not I thank you and Mr ~~Starr~~ wile she pleased with Mr Sherrington Mr Bridges is delighted with him we have such good disagreements here is an although our clop leader says he has backslid but he is one of the kind that will stick to the old ship as long as there is a shiver plank he asked us all to pray for him our united prayers will certainly reclaim him I fear that his fine daughter is the cause takes to much of his thoughts if she is growing fine he is not near so bad as when your ma was up here and should wile she done in two or three weeks you must come up soon after can Sir Sandy move and pay us all a visit Mr Bridges family are all well they were up last Sunday Mr Gray has left us ^{the} game to we feel very lonesome you may expect a pinch for what you said about my mother in your letter it is wise in you to hint such impertinence so far of never mind I hope I will not be so far from you always Polly is down there now I feel lonesome because she is so far & I may be her wiled I wish I could share it tell her not to stay so long May will come some time next year with its beautiful flowers and a flower more beautiful than any other to see fresh and blooming from the city of merrilland will that not be joy to her who is such a lover of flowers ask her to keep some of the seeds or write for me to try & please tell her to hasten home there will be joy in May tell your mother that I will come down and stay with her next year and take long rides with her as Mr Gallop will be back in that time I am going to pay you all a long visit next year and I will expect you to do the same tell your mother I will come down and stay with her and we will be all maids together Polly will then be training some beautiful flowers around the white house I can't think of any thing interesting this morning so I will not be scribbling my thoughts on paper when it will be so much greater pleasure to see them and when I see you my love to your mother Mr Pownman and Polly you may answer this soon you cannot imagine how ever I tell you what a pleasure it is to receive a letter from you you may consider the remainder of this page filled with love to you I will write you a long letter still your do not forget me in your prayers ever your friend Mary Alford