Wolfe and Saunders.

J. Pitts, Printer 6, Great st. Andrew sreet, 7 Dials,

WE'll gang abroad in a King's ship, and lead a soldier's life,
And to Quebec we'll go with the merry drum & fife
And against Quebec we'll go, my boys, where cau-non balls do fly, (die,
And along with Wolfe and Saunders we'll fight until

The 13th of September, the weather being clear, all on the plains of Abraham brave Wolfe he did appear,

At the head of his fine army, so boldly he did cry, Come follow me, my country lads, we'll fight until we die,

Both armies they did meet, the battle for to try,
With drums and trumpets sounding, to drown the dreadful cry,

Some of the French they ran away and some we overtook,

And brought them to old Lewis present to the court

Malcolen and his army, came tripping o'er the plain Thinking brave Wolfe for to have kill'd and his army to have ta'en.

But they was much mistaken as plainly doth appear
And for Malcolen's rashness he paid his life so dear

Brave General Wolfe at Quebec his death wound receiv'd, (griev'd,
His men then hearing of the same it made them sorely They being men of courage bold not daunted in the least, (for to disgrace, They scold to turn their backs my boys brave Wolfe

Now here's a health to Saunders wheresoever he may be, (the French by sea.

We've beat the French by land, my boys, and beat And as for General Wolfe, my boys, his praises we will sing.

He's a credit to his country, boys, and an honour to his King,
