135 CEDAR STREET, NEW YORK

January 31, 1924.

To the Members of the American Institute of Accountants.

Gentlemen:

You will find attached hereto a form of consent to be executed by you, authorizing the holding of annual or special meetings of the American Institute of Accountants, or of its council or duly created committees, at any place in or out of the District of Columbia which may be selected by the Institute. This consent should be promptly signed by you and returned to the secretary, an addressed envelope for such return being enclosed herewith.

As you well know, it is highly important in the interest of the successful conduct of the affairs of the Institute that its meetings shall from time to time be held in different parts of the United States. It is also extremely important from the viewpoint of advancing the profession of accountancy and bringing it into its proper relation with the varied business of the country.

At the last convention it was the unanimous view of those present that meetings should be held in different places from time to time if possible, and, in order to hold the next meeting of the Institute at St. Louis in September, 1924, it is absolutely necessary that the members explicitly consent in writing to the holding of meetings as above stated at such varying places in the United States as shall be determined from time to time by the Institute or by its council.

Will you kindly, therefore, execute at once the attached form of consent and return as requested?

Sincerely yours,

EDWARD E. GORE, President.

....., 1924.

I hereby consent to the holding of any annual or special meeting of the American Institute of Accountants, or of its council, or any of its duly authorized committees, at any place in or out of the District of Columbia which may be selected by the Institute, or the council, or the appropriate committee, as the case may be.

.....Member.

New York.

Dear Sir:-

The executive committee has instructed me to bring to your attention once more the great importance of obtaining consent to the holding of meetings of the Institute at any place in the United States. The response to the request for such consents has been extremely gratifying, but there are still a few members and associates who have not complied with the president's request.

Will you kindly give this matter your prompt attention so that the formality may be duly observed.

A form of consent is enclosed herewith.

Yours truly,

A. P. RICHARDSON

Secretary.
