Checklist Supplement and Illustrative Financial Statements for Real Estate Ventures

Description

.01 Real estate joint ventures are entities organized to accomplish a business purpose for the benefit of the members of the group. They are formed in a variety of legal ways. There are corporate joint ventures, partnerships (general or limited), undivided interests, limited liability companies, and limited liability partnerships.

.02 Real estate joint ventures ordinarily are formed to accomplish various activities, such as to sell homes and homesites, to complete development of commercial or residential real estate, or to operate and maintain those facilities.

.03 An AICPA Issues Paper (Issues Paper), “Joint Venture Accounting,” dated July 17, 1979, describes certain characteristics common to joint ventures: The entities are “(1) owned, operated, and jointly controlled by a small group as a separate and specific business project; (2) operated for the mutual benefit of the ownership group; (3) frequently organized to share risks and rewards in developing a new market, product, or technology by pooling resources and facilities; (4) operated under arrangements by which each venturer may participate in overall management regardless of the percentage of ownership; (5) usually of limited duration; (6) usually operated as an extension of the business or investment of one or more of the venturers; and (7) owned by a small number of venturers.” In addition to real estate activities, joint ventures are used for various purposes including to explore for oil and gas, and construct and operate manufacturing facilities.

Accounting Literature

.04 Historically, the accounting literature has given little attention to the accounting by a joint venture. Most literature in this area deals with the accounting by the investor for an investment in a joint venture. For example, the Issues Paper and its addendum issued on October 8, 1979, SOP 78-9, Accounting for Investments in Real Estate Ventures, and APB 18, The Equity Method of Accounting for Investments in Common Stock, all deal primarily with the accounting and disclosure by an investor in a joint venture or investee. The FASB issued FASB 46(R), Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities, which interprets ARB 51 and addresses the consolidation of variable interest entities.

Financial Accounting and Reporting Standards

.05 Presented below are certain accounting pronouncements which may be of interest to practitioners engaged in the real estate venture industry:

- SFAS 66, Accounting for Sales of Real Estate, as amended by SFAS 98 and SFAS 152, Accounting for Real Estate Time-Sharing Transactions, establishes standards for recognizing profit on real estate transactions and delineates sales into retail and nonretail land sales. Contains detailed flow charts indicating methods of profit recognition.
• SFAS 67, Accounting for Costs and Initial Rental Operations of Real Estate Projects, as amended by SFAS 152, establishes whether costs associated with acquiring, developing, constructing, selling and renting real estate projects should be capitalized. Guidance relative to appropriate methods of allocating capitalized costs to individual components of projects is also provided.

• SFAS 98, Accounting for Leases, amends:
  — SFAS 13, Accounting for Leases
  — SFAS 66, Accounting for Sales of Real Estate
  — SFAS 91, Accounting for Nonrefundable Fees and Costs Associated with Originating or Acquiring Loans and Initial Direct Costs of Leases

and rescinds:
  — SFAS 26, Profit Recognition on Sales-Type Leases of Real Estate
  — FTB 79-11, Effect of a Penalty on the Term of a Lease

In amending SFAS 13 and SFAS 66 it prohibits a lease involving real estate from being classified as a sales type lease unless the lease transfers ownership of the property to the lessee by the end of the lease term.

It amends SFAS 13 to provide that a lessor should account for any sales-type lease of real estate under the provisions of SFAS 66 in the same manner as a seller of the same property.

The FASB corrects amendments of SFAS 13 by SFAS 91 to reflect the Board’s intent when SFAS 91 was issued so that initial direct costs are capitalized separately from gross investment.

• SFAS 153, Exchanges of Nonmonetary Assets, amends APB 29 and addresses the measurement of exchanges of nonmonetary assets.

• FASBI 43, Real Estate Sales. This Interpretation of SFAS 66, Accounting for Sales of Real Estate, clarifies that the phrase “all real estate sales” includes sales of real estate with property improvements or integral equipment that cannot be removed and used separately from the real estate without incurring significant costs.

• FASBI 46(R), Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities.

• SOP 04-2, Accounting for Real Estate Time-Sharing Transactions, provides guidance on a seller’s accounting for real estate time-sharing transactions.

• SFAS 152 amends SFAS 66 and SFAS 67 in association with the issuance of SOP 04-2.

Illustrative Financial Statements

.06 The financial statements accompanying the disclosure checklist illustrate how a joint venture entity would report its financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

.07 Please note that the equity section of those joint venture financial statements presents separately the ownership interest of each venturer based on his equity interest in the joint venture. If the joint venture is a corporation, the equity section would show the equity interest of each corporation. If the joint venture is a partnership, the equity section would be entitled “Partner’s Capital,” and would list the equity interest of each partner and distinguish between class of partners.

Note: This publication was extracted from sections 19,000 through 19,300 of the AICPA Financial Statement Preparation Manual (FSP).

Instructions

General

.01 This publication includes:

- Financial Statements and Notes Checklist—For use by preparers and auditors of real estate joint venture financial statements.

- Illustrative Financial Statements and Auditor’s Reports—Illustrating real estate joint venture financial statements.

.02 The checklist and illustrative financial statements have been developed by the AICPA Accounting and Auditing Publications staff as nonauthoritative practice aids to be used as a memory jogger to aid in the audit of financial statements of real estate joint ventures. The checklist and illustrative financial statements should be used by, or under the supervision of, persons having adequate technical training and proficiency in the application of generally accepted accounting principles and generally accepted auditing standards.

The checklists and illustrative financial statements are to be used in conjunction with the “Checklists and Illustrative Financial Statements for Corporations” (FSP sections 6000-6500) and have been updated to include relevant disclosure guidance in accounting pronouncements issued through:

  - FASB Statement No. 123 (revised 2004), Share-Based Payment
  - FASB Interpretation (FASBI) No. 47, Accounting for Conditional Asset Retirement Obligations—an interpretation of FASB Statement No. 143
  - FASB Emerging Issues Task Force (EITF) consensus positions adopted at meetings of EITF held through September 2005
  - FASB Staff Positions (FSP) issued through October 31, 2005
  - AICPA Statement on Auditing Standards (SAS) No. 101, Auditing Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures

  - AICPA Statement of Position (SOP) 04-2, Accounting for Real Estate Time-Sharing Transactions

Instructions

.03 The checklists consist of a number of questions or statements that are accompanied by references to the applicable authoritative pronouncements. The checklists provide spaces for checking off or initialing each question or point to show that it has been considered. Users should check or initial—

- Yes—If the disclosure is appropriately made.
- No—If the disclosure has not been made.
- N/A (Not Applicable)—If the disclosure is not applicable.

The auditor should consider the effect of a “no” answer on his/her report. A “no” answer that is material to the financial statements may warrant a departure from an unqualified opinion (see paragraphs 20–63 of SAS 58, Reports on Audited Financial Statements, as amended [AICPA, Professional Standards, vol. 1, AU sec. 508.20–.63]). If a “no” answer is checked, the authors recommend that a note be made in the right margin to explain why the disclosure was not made (for example, if the disclosure was not made because it was not material to the financial statements, write “not material” in the right margin). The right margin may be used for other remarks or comments as appropriate, including cross-referencing to applicable workpapers where the support to a disclosure may be found. Use of the checklists requires the exercise of individual professional judgment and may likely require some modification based on the circumstances of individual engagements.

.04 The use of these or any other checklists requires the exercise of individual professional judgment. These checklists are not substitutes for the authoritative pronouncements. Users of the checklists and illustrative financial statements are urged to refer directly to applicable authoritative pronouncements when appropriate. The checklists and illustrative financial statements do not include all disclosures and presentation items promulgated, nor do they represent minimum requirements. Pronouncements deemed remote for real estate ventures are not included in this document. Users of the checklists and illustrative financial statements are encouraged to tailor them as necessary to meet specific circumstances of each particular engagement.

.05 These checklists and illustrative financial statements have been prepared by the AICPA staff. They have not been reviewed, approved, disapproved, or otherwise acted on by any senior technical committee of the AICPA and do not represent official positions or pronouncements of the AICPA.

.03 The accounting and reporting for real estate time-sharing transactions is addressed by SOP 04-2. The “Checklists and Illustrative Financial Statements for Corporations” (FSP sections 6000–6500) include the disclosure and presentation requirements of SOP 04-2. As this checklist is to be used in conjunction with the “Checklists and Illustrative Financial Statements for Corporations,” refer to that checklist for disclosure and presentation requirements related to real estate time-sharing transactions.

.04 Checklist Questionnaire:

This financial statement disclosure checklist is organized into the sections listed below. Carefully review the topics listed and consider whether they represent potential disclosure items for the real estate venture for which you are preparing or auditing financial statements. Place a check mark by the topics or sections that are applicable and complete those sections of the checklist. Other sections may be marked “N/A” or left blank. For example, if the real estate venture had a change in accounting principle, place a check mark by the section “Accounting Changes” and complete that section of the checklist. On the other hand, if the contractor did not have a change in accounting principle, do not place a check mark by “Accounting Changes” and skip that section when completing the checklist.

REAL ESTATE JOINT VENTURE COMPANY

Notes to the Financial Statements

December 31, 20X1 and 20X0

Note 1: The Company

In 20X0, the ABC Company entered into a joint venture agreement with XYZ Company to form the Real Estate Joint Venture Company ("Joint Venture"). The joint venture was formed to acquire land for development, develop said land for residential and commercial uses and to operate and sell individual properties.

Note 2: Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Sales of Property

Gains from sales are recognized when numerous criteria relating to the sale are met. If sales are made that do not meet said criteria, sales are not recognized until criteria are met using the installment or cost recovery methods as appropriate under the circumstances.

(b) Depreciation

Is recorded for all operating properties over a forty year term.

(c) Income Taxes

The joint venture pays no income taxes and is taxed as a partnership under provisions of the IRC. Individual participants include their distributive share of profits and losses on their own taxable entities.

(d) Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all short-term investments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Note 3: Loans Payable

Note 4: Commitments

As of December 31, 20X1, the joint venture had remaining commitments of approximately $400,000 on construction contracts and was contingently liable for approximately $75,000 of notes discounted with banks.

Note 5: Contingencies

There are claims and actions pending against the joint venture. In the opinion of management, the amounts, if any, that may be awarded for those claims and actions would not be material to the Company’s financial position.
Independent Auditor’s Report

We have audited the accompanying historical cost-balance sheets of Real Estate Joint Venture Company as of December 31, 20X1 and 20X0 and the related historical-cost statements of income and cash flows for each of the years ended December 31, 20X1 and 20X0. We also have audited the supplemental current-value balance sheets of Real Estate Joint Venture Company as of December 31, 20X1 and 20X0. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the historical-cost financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Real Estate Joint Venture Company as of December 31, 20X1 and 20X0, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

As described in Note 3, the supplemental current-value financial statements have been prepared by management to present relevant financial information that is not provided by the historical-cost financial statements and are not intended to be a presentation in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

1 For audits of public companies, Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (PCAOB) Auditing Standard No. 1, References in Auditors’ Reports to the Standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board, replaces this sentence with the following sentence: “We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States).” In May 2004, the SEC approved PCAOB Auditing Standard No. 1 and also issued an interpretive release to help with the implementation of PCAOB Auditing Standard No. 1. See Release No. 33-8422 for more information. The SEC’s interpretive release is designed to assist the PCAOB, registrants, auditors and investors by, among other things, addressing certain transitional implementation issues and clarifying the impact of Auditing Standard No. 1 on existing references in the SEC rules and regulations to “generally accepted auditing standards.” (See Release No. 33-8422 for more information.) The release specifies that effective May 24, 2004, references in SEC rules and staff guidance and in the federal securities laws to GAAS or to specific standards under GAAS, as they relate to issuers, should be understood to mean the standards of the PCAOB, plus any applicable rules of the SEC. Registered public accounting firms must comply with the Standards of the PCAOB in connection with the preparation or issuance of any audit report on the financial statements of an issuer and in their auditing and related attestation practices. The staff of the PCAOB published a series of questions and answers (Q&As) on PCAOB Auditing Standard No. 1. See the PCAOB Web site at www.pcaobus.org for more information.

In June 2004, the Auditing Standards Board (ASB) issued Auditing Interpretation 18, “Reference to PCAOB Standards in an Audit Report on a Nonissuer,” of SAS 58, Reports on Audited Financial Statements, which provides reporting guidance for audits of nonissuers. Auditing Interpretation 18 provides guidance on the appropriate referencing of PCAOB auditing standards in audit reports when an auditor is engaged to perform the audit in accordance with both GAAS and PCAOB auditing standards.

11 This optional wording may be added in accordance with Auditing Interpretation 17, “Clarification in the Audit Report of the Extent of Testing of Internal Control Over Financial Reporting in Accordance With Generally Accepted Auditing Standards,” of SAS 58, which was issued by the ASB in June 2004 and provides reporting guidance for audits of nonissuers. Auditing Interpretation 17 addresses how auditors may expand their independent audit report to explain that their consideration of internal control was sufficient to provide the auditor sufficient understanding to plan the audit and determine the nature, timing and extent of tests to be performed, but was not sufficient to express an opinion on the effectiveness of the internal control. If this optional language is added then the remainder of the paragraph should read as follows: “An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.”

addition, the supplemental current-value financial statements do not purport to present the net realizable, liquidation, or market value of the Company as a whole. Furthermore, amounts ultimately realized by the Company from the disposal of properties may vary significantly from the current values presented.

In our opinion, the supplemental current-value financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the information set forth in them on the basis of accounting described in Note 3.

The joint venture was formed to acquire land for development, develop said land for residential and commercial uses and to operate and sell individual properties.

Note 2: Significant Accounting Policies

(d) Cash and Cash Equivalents

The company considers all short-term investments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Note 3: Current Value Reporting

Management of the Company believes that properties have appreciated in value and therefore current value substantially exceeds cost basis. In estimating current values of the company's assets and liabilities estimates and judgments have been made, however, they are not subject to precise quantification or verification and may change over time due to economic factors.

Current values of operating properties have been determined by calculating the present value of future net cash flows factoring in an expected vacancy rate.

Current values of operating properties held for sale have been estimated based upon comparable sales, where available, negotiated contracts and other relevant data.

Current values of properties in development and raw land are carried at cost.

Revaluation Equity

The difference between cost and current values of assets is reported in the revaluation section of participant's equity. The components of revaluation are as follows:
