Dear Mr. Hubbard,

Your letter of October 18 to Sir William Haley has been forwarded to me because the Editor is now on tour in the United States.

We would certainly be interested in Prof Silver's address, but unfortunately I cannot spare a correspondent to go down to Mississippi at that time. We have some illness in the office, these are busy times in Washington, and Sir William will be in town that particular day.

However, if you could arrange for a copy of the Address to be forwarded to this office we would gladly report it. Our interest in that rather sad state remains undiminished - at some time or the other we have all been exposed to its prejudice and violence on freedom rides and on the campus of the university - and we would willingly help to publicise moderate opinion.

Yours sincerely

Louis Heren

This seems to be the best I can do.
my pitch was that the speaker is more important than the speech. So please bring along with your remarks that I can send
