

2012

XII National Conference of the Italian Society of Accounting History: Call for papers; Ragioneria and accounting between 19th and 20th centuries: A Comparison in trends and theories

Italian Society of Accounting History Accounting History

Follow this and additional works at: https://egrove.olemiss.edu/aah_journal

Part of the Accounting Commons, and the Taxation Commons

Recommended Citation

Accounting History, Italian Society of Accounting History (2012) "XII National Conference of the Italian Society of Accounting History: Call for papers; Ragioneria and accounting between 19th and 20th centuries: A Comparison in trends and theories," Accounting Historians Journal: Vol. 39 : Iss. 2 , Article 10. Available at: https://egrove.olemiss.edu/aah_journal/vol39/iss2/10

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Archival Digital Accounting Collection at eGrove. It has been accepted for inclusion in Accounting Historians Journal by an authorized editor of eGrove. For more information, please contact egrove@olemiss.edu.

UNIVERSITÀ DEGLI STUDI
DI PARMA

Società Italiana di Storia della Ragioneria

XII NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF THE ITALIAN SOCIETY OF ACCOUNTING HISTORY

“RAGIONERIA” AND ACCOUNTING BETWEEN 19TH AND 20TH CENTURIES:
A COMPARISON IN TRENDS AND THEORIES

PARMA, NOVEMBER 2013
DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS - UNIVERSITY OF PARMA

CALL FOR PAPERS

Academic and operational environments, characterized by cultural contexts, differ widely between Italy and the rest of the world. International comparison has become essential in Accounting and Business Economics studies in Italy today. But internationalization should not mean uncritical compliance with methodological and conceptual models from other countries. Extensive knowledge and experience from the Italian and European contexts is available to enrich research and differentiate between southern and northern European / US models.

The XII National Conference of the Italian Society of Accounting History discusses how this breadth of research has contributed to the growth of knowledge. The Conference focuses on the period between 19th and 20th centuries and the contemporary history of Business Economics and Accounting studies. The breadth of the Conference theme is intended to encourage researchers to address new, unexplored topics and to challenge conventional wisdom using rigorous economic analysis. Without intending to limit the scope of the Conference, we offer some examples of topics for which submissions are invited:

- key changes and developments in “Ragioneria” and Accounting;
- points of convergence and divergence in Accounting theories in different cultural contexts;
- the influence of institutional and academic systems on the development of these studies;
- the position of Accounting and Business Economics studies in other countries than Italy;
- main influences of “Ragioneria” and Accounting studies on the Accounting profession;
- impacts of the changes in environment systems, accounting theory and theoretical settings;
- how changes in different national and international economic systems affect theory of accounting and business.

Abstracts (minimum 2,500 words), in Italian or English, must be submitted electronically by January 15, 2013 to the following address: parma2013@sisronline.it. Preliminary acceptance on the basis of the abstract will be notified by February 15, 2013. Abstract must state clearly the aim of the research, methodology, main expected results and references.

The final paper (maximum 50,000 characters, including spaces), should be submitted electronically – in .doc and .pdf format – no later than September 2, 2013 to the following address: parma2013@sisronline.it. Final acceptance of paper will be on the basis of the full text of papers and authors will be notified by October 1, 2013.

Authors are further invited to submit their work for possible publication after process of refereeing to the Italian Journal Contabilità e Cultura Aziendale of the Italian Society of Accounting History (rivista-cca@unisi.it).