Two New AAH Awards

Beginning in 2013, the Academy of Accounting Historians will present two new awards each funded by a separate generous anonymous donor.

The Barbara D. Merino Award for Excellence in Accounting History Publication was established to annually award the author of the best book on an accounting historical topic published in a given year. An annual award in the amount of $1000 shall be made to the author of the best book published.

The Alfred R. Roberts Memorial Research Award was named in honor of Dr. Alfred R. Roberts, second President and long serving Secretary of the Academy, and provides grants for research which seek to support the 35 goals identified by Professor Emeritus Richard Vangermeersch as to accounting history research, as identified in the April 2012 issue of the Accounting Historians Notebook. Grants will be awarded to Academy members for the actualization of ideas to increase the scope of the history of accounting.

The call for nominations appears in this issue and the Academy website.

Academy Website Moves to New Web Platform

After three years with our previous web hosting service the Academy changed web platforms in late 2012. After experience difficulties in navigation and membership renewal for most of the last three years the Academy Executive Committee made the decision to migrate to a new hosting service in order to provide our members with a better user experience.

Our Academy Administrative Coordinator, Tiffany Welch, upon changing platforms promptly redesigned the website and has done an excellent job at it. The Academy hopes that its members will be pleased with the new services. Please send updates, corrections, and announcements for the website to Tiffany at acchistory@case.edu.

TEXTBOOKS: Writing the Doctoral Dissertation, by Davis and Parker.
A History of Accounting in the USA, by Previts & Moreino.

PREREQUISITE: A passion for research.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:
1. To familiarize the student with methods of inquiry and research.
2. To provide the student with a laboratory for developing skills in written and oral communication.
3. To better acquaint the student with the availability of data sources and their evaluation.
4. To provide a broader perspective on contemporary and historical research in accounting.
5. To provide students with a historical foundation which will permit them to understand why accountancy is where it is today.
6. To help students avoid “financial amnesia” and reduce the likelihood of future market panics, crises, and crashes.

GOAL: Achievement of these objectives will result in a student better able to evaluate the literature of accounting and related fields, and to permit the student to contribute to that literature if desired. It is hoped that the doctoral students will be able to get one or more publications out of the papers prepared for this class, and one or more dissertation ideas.

COURSE AGENDA:
First week (August 23):
• Orientation
• Visit Conner Hall libraries.

Second Week (August 30):
• Visit archives in library.
• SERENDIPITOUS DISCOVERY PAPER DUE

Fourteenth Week (November 29): FINAL EXAM

Fifteenth Meeting (By Wednesday, December 5), individually in my office:
- We will go over exams and discuss final papers, which are due by Wednesday, December 5 at 5:00.

WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS: The student has the option of writing either three or four term papers during the course. If three papers are written, they should consist of two long papers (15 pages or more at 12-pitch type) and one short paper (8 pages or more). If four papers are written, they should consist of one long paper (15 pages or more) and three short papers (8 pages or more). Each paper and the final exam count equally toward your final grade for the course.

One-third of the grade on each paper will be based on communication skills such as grammar, spelling, neatness, bibliography, footnotes, etc. The criteria for the remaining two-thirds of the grade will differ depending upon the subject of the paper, but publishability will be a criterion. The topic areas for term papers are listed below. The first is required; the fifth topic is for those individuals electing to write the fourth paper. The second topic is required for doctoral students and an option for masters students.

1. History paper based on primary archival sources.
2. A dissertation proposal, or funding proposal to be submitted to the IMA, IIA, Small Business Administration, or other funding agency.
3. Survey paper, including the possibility of surveying contents of annual reports or other existing documentation.
4. Field Study, Case Study, or Protocol Analysis paper.
5. An in-depth critique or replication of an article which has appeared in the past year in an accounting journal.

One-third of the history paper grade will be based on creativity. Adequacy of materials used and appropriateness of subject matter and conclusions will constitute the remainder of the grade. At least one-third of the empirical or survey paper grades will depend upon research design, as will the grade for any proposals written. Appropriateness of subject matter and adequacy of sources will also be a factor.

HAVE A CLASSMATE REVIEW YOUR PAPER PRIOR TO YOUR TURNING IT IN. TURN IN THE REVIEWED COPY ALONG WITH THE FINAL VERSION. ALSO, USE A GRAMMAR-CHECKER PROGRAM AND SPELL CHECKER.
FIRST TERM PAPER IS DUE OCTOBER 18, 2012.
SECOND TERM PAPER IS DUE NOVEMBER 8, 2012.

SERENDIPITOUS DISCOVERY REPORTS are due weeks two through four. They should be entitled (1) “A Serendipitous Discovery in the McMickle Library: XXX.” (2) “A Serendipitous Discovery in the Deloitte Digital Collection: XXX,” (or SEC Historical Society Virtual Museum and Archive: XXX, at www.sechistorical.org) and (3) “A Serendipitous Discovery in the Accounting Section of the Ole Miss Library: XXX.” These can be any length, but will likely be three to ten pages. An average grade is assumed to be seven points. Anything higher than 7 will be added to your final exam score. Anything lower than 7 will be deducted from your final exam score. Evaluation will be based primarily on creativity and degree of interest, but writing skills will also be assessed. Publishability will also be considered. The primary objectives of this assignment are to become familiar with the various library holdings and to become acquainted with the benefits of serendipity. Some people in the past have gotten publications or conference presentations out of this assignment.

The final exam will be held the week of November 29 (the week prior to exam week). This gives you extra time to write your third paper. We will meet individually during final exam week to discuss the exam and your final paper. The final paper (third and/or fourth) should be turned in by WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 5.

Monday, October 1, 2012, is the last day to withdraw from a course.
The Editor of The Accounting Historians Notebook is looking for article submissions suitable for publication within the Notebook. Articles for consideration should be of broad interest to Academy members. Articles might be considered unlikely to be published in established accounting journals because of topic or short length. Possible topics might include: accounting history research techniques, equipment and software useful to history research, and descriptions of accounting archives and large accounting resource collections. Papers should be sent in electronic form (via e-mail if possible) to Jim McKinney at: jmckinney@rhsmith.umd.edu

About 250 registered accountants and members of the Accounting History Commission attended the Fifth Accounting History Meeting of the Accounting History Commission that was held at the Portuguese National Archives, Torre do Tombo. At the opening session, under the motto “history helps us to construct the future”, Armando Marques, Vice Chairman of the Board of Directors of OTOC, emphasized that “looking into the past makes us understand the present.” The President of the Accounting History Commission, Lúcia Lima Rodrigues, highlighted the importance of the Accounting History Meeting being held at the National Archives. She drew attention to the fact that there were many accounting documents waiting to be discovered at the Archives. Professor Rodrigues paid a tribute to Cunha Guimarães, President of the OTOC Supervisory Board and Board Member of the Accounting History Commission, who died on 1st May. She also expressed appreciation for the generous gesture of the new Board Member of the Accounting History Commission, Professor Hernâni O. Carqueja, who donated to OTOC several (now) antiquated accounting machines. This donation launched the idea of establishing a museum of Accounting in OTOC headquarters. Some of the machines donated were featured in the abstracts book provided to the members attending the meeting.

Professor Carqueja presented the inaugural speech: “Three books on Philosophy, Accounts and Accounting in the first quarter of twentieth century”. The books he reviewed were: The Philosophy of Accounts by Charles Ezra Sprague; Essai de Philosophie Comptable by Jean Bournisien; and La Philosofie de la Comptabilité by Georges Leclercq. The speaker stressed that “the current conceptual framework (which establishes the objectives, the qualitative characteristics of accounting information and the definitions of accounting) has no better foundation than the texts of these authors from the first quarter of the twentieth century.

Rita Cordeiro, Lúcia Lima Rodrigues, Armando Marques, Leonor F. Ferreira, and Hernâni Carqueja

In the second panel session on “Accounting and Taxation Thought”, which was chaired by the president of the Accounting History Commission, Lúcia Lima Rodrigues, Ilídio Lopes presented the paper “Schmalenbach and price adjustment: the accounting fundamentals”. Lopes’ presentation was “a reflection and a tribute to Schmalenbach”. Contextualizing Schmalenbach’s research in the First World War and the post-war German crisis, he concluded that the indexation of prices provided homogeneity, comparability and meaning to financial reporting. The next speaker, Miguel Gonçalves, presented a biography of an eighteenth century business man in Portugal: José Francisco da Cruz. Cruz was a friend of the Portuguese Prime Minister Marquis of Pombal (1699 to 1782) and the General Treasurer of the Royal Treasury. Cruz and his brothers were important merchants and shareholders of the monopolist companies Pombal established in the mid eighteenth century. Then, Carlos Faisca and Bruno Lopes, two early career researchers, talked about the tenth tax (income tax or tithe), with a special focus in the Alto Alentejo (a region of Portugal) in the Old Regime (eighteenth century).
The Fifth Meeting of the Accounting History Commission was also an opportunity to sign a protocol between the Portuguese Association of Economic and Social History (Associação Portuguesa de História Económica e Social- APHES) and OTOC. Armando Marques, Vice Chairman of the Board of Directors of OTOC and Jaime Reis, President of APHES, emphasized the objectives of this agreement: to promote joint research on topics of interest to members of both associations.

Jaime Reis (President of Portuguese Association of Economic and Social History) and Armando Marques (Vice Chairman of the Board of Directors of OTOC)

After lunch, a movie about “The story of National Archives of Torre do Tombo” was presented. Staff from the National Archives (Office of External Relations and Cooperation) also demonstrated several ways of accessing data online by searching the archives website. To reinforce this, Jorge Martins, the next presenter, spoke about the “Real Tobacco Factory”. He made it clear that his paper was largely supported by documents he found in the Torre do Tombo. The Real Tobacco Factory was in production for a long period: approximately 170 years, covering eight reigns, and several accounting models. The after lunch panel titled “Evolution of the accounting profession: professional practices and organization of the profession” was chaired by Leonor Ferreira, a member of the Accounting History Commission, and included two more papers. Armando Marques reviewed the key historical events of the Portuguese Registered Accountants (OTOC). He reported that despite the youngness of the association (17 years), it was not easy to summarize in only 30 minutes all of the association’s historical achievements: regulations, elections, journals, awards, health and social support to members, and much more that he could testify as a great actor of OTOC’s history.

Alves da Silva, an honorary member of OTOC spoke about the Congress of Accountants in Munich, in 1977. In response to reported fears that the accounting profession may lose importance in the coming years, Alves da Silva, with his typical sense of humor, was reassuring: "Do not worry since the accounting profession will not end. An (Continued on page 26) entrepreneur has three counselors: the priest, the doctor and the accountant. He never will do anything without the accountant”.

The last speaker was Jorge Tua Pereda, from Spain. He presented a paper titled: “Accounting in the Enlightenment: biographical sources”. He defined the Enlightenment as an “interesting social and economic movement that boosted the main countries in Europe during the eighteenth century.” He summarized several of the great number of accounting history papers that have study this period.

Manuel dos Santos, chairman of the Assembly of OTOC closed the meeting. He argued that accountants should have pride in the job they perform because of the connections accounting has with the fields of culture and research. He took the opportunity to read a poem ("The anarchist banker") from an important Portuguese poet, Fernando Pessoa (1888-1935), who also was a clerk. This poem is very relevant in the present context of the Portuguese financial crisis.

INTERNATIONAL SCIENTIFIC CONFERENCE
SOKOLOV READING
“ACCOUNTING: VIEW FROM THE PAST INTO THE FUTURE”
in commemoration of Professor Yaroslav V. Sokolov 75th anniversary
April 11-12, 2013 • St.-Petersburg, Russia

Dear Colleagues,
we invite you to participate in the International Scientific Conference, dedicated to the memory of Professor Yaroslav V. Sokolov. The whole point of the Conference is to bring scholars together to debate research directions on the history and theory of accounting. Thus we foresee following subjects to be reviewed by this meeting:
- Heritage of Professor Yaroslav Sokolov,
- Evolution of accounting paradigm,
- Mutual influence of national scientific schools of accounting,
- History of core themes: financial accounting, management accounting, analysis and audit,
- History of accounting in various locales, economic sectors and/or organizations,
- The harmonization of accounting and statistics,
- Outstanding scholars of the past and their contribution to the accounting science,
- Past, present and future of accounting profession,
- Interdisciplinary research: the relationship of accounting with other sciences.

Papers on other topics, related to accounting, also will be welcomed.

The Conference is held in St.-Petersburg, called the "Venice of the North", which has significant historical and cultural heritage and is thus a highly attractive tourist destination. Suitable activities will be placed in the conference program. Conference will take place in the University campus, situated in the city centre.

Submission details:
Russian and English are the official languages of the conference, so authors are invited to submit papers in either of these two languages. In all cases a 500 word abstract written in English is required. The presentations should also be translated into English.

The abstract should be emailed to sokolov-reading@econ.pu.ru by 15 November 2012. Authors will be notified if their paper has been accepted by 1 December 2012. Offers of acceptance will be made subject to receipt of a presentation or completed paper. These should be emailed to sokolov-reading@econ.pu.ru by 28 February 2013.

The abstracts will form the basis of acceptance decisions although we reserve the right to request further information where there is uncertainty. The abstracts should cover the key areas of aims, research originality and method, its findings.

A selection of papers presented at the Conference will be published in the thematic collection of readings. Such papers will undergo conference scientific committee reviewing procedures. Since committee engaged the editors of Russian and international accounting journals, some papers may be selected by them for publication.

Introduction of the 8th Annual Conference of Accounting History Committee of the Accounting Society of China (2013)

Background
The history of accounting is so long that it can be dated back to prehistory times. In the modern times, accounting plays a controlling role in society by recording and providing economic information, thus making the research on accounting history of immense significance.

The Chinese market economy system has been established and developed rapidly since China’s opening and reform in 1978. With the development of China’s economy, China’s accounting theory and practice have changed a lot. Under the leadership of elder accounting experts such as Li Baozhen, Yang Shizhan, Lou Erxing and so on, a large group of accounting scholars engaged in accounting history research and generated a series of research achievements, which promoted accounting history research. One of the most outstanding accounting history research experts is Professor Guo Daoyang, who is the Ph.D instructor of Zhongnan University of Economics and Law, associate director of Accounting Society of China, director of Accounting History Committee of Accounting Society of China. Professor Guo’s research achievements are well known in the accounting academic circles all over the world. The research program of “Research on China’s Accounting History” funded by China’s National Social Science Foundation will summarize and comment on accounting development in the past years. This study will promote the development of China’s accounting culture and emphasize the important role of China’s accounting in world accounting development.

The Accounting History Committee of ASC has already held seven seminars on accounting history, which focus on Accounting Reforms Throughout the History, The Pattern of Accounting Development, Development of CPA, Accounting Development in New China, Accounting Development of Shanxi Banking Industry, Accounting History in Jiangsu and Zhejiang, The Development of Accounting Thoughts and Accounting Reforms in China’s Enterprises.

In order to promote the academic exchange between Chinese and foreign accounting scholars, the 8th Annual Conference of Accounting History Committee of ASC will be held by:

Henan University of Economics and Law

July 18-22, 2013

Zhengzhou, Henan Province.

Henan province is the birthplace of Chinese civilization and the cultural center of the Xia and Shang dynasty. Therefore, Henan plays an important role in China’s history, especially the culture development. What’s more important, Henan’s accounting culture is of great significance to the origin of accounting thoughts, accounting behavior. In the historians’ mind, the study of any science must be started from its origin, accounting history research is no exception. Therefore, the conference held in Henan and focus on the study of accounting development and accounting thoughts in Xia, Shang and Zhou dynasty is to trace the origins of accounting historical culture.

Call for Papers
The announce calls for papers to all Chinese and international academics and scholars, and the authors of selected papers will be invited to attend the seminar.

CALL FOR PAPERS

III INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON LUCA PACIOLI IN ACCOUNTING HISTORY
III BALKANS AND MIDDLE EAST COUNTRIES CONFERENCE ON ACCOUNTING AND ACCOUNTING HISTORY (3rd BMAC)

June 19-22, 2013 Istanbul - Turkey

THE GREAT RENDEZVOUS OF ACCOUNTING HISTORY CULTURES

Istanbul is thought of as a meeting point for Middle Eastern and Balkan recording cultures along with the Mediterranean recording culture. Thus we foresee a few of the accounting history subjects evoked by this meeting to be:

• Mutual interaction of Mediterranean and Middle Eastern / Balkan recording cultures;
• Traces of past accounting methods affecting world accounting cultures;
• The development process of the double-entry accounting system throughout the world: 19th and 20th Centuries;
• The course of development by accounting history studies at the beginning of the 21st Century

IN ADDITION TO THESE ACCOUNTING HISTORY SUBJECTS:

• On the fringe of major auditing issues: happenings and expectations for the accounting profession in this respect;
• International accounting standards problems brought about by economic globalization;
• Other suitable accounting and accounting history subjects of similar vein,

The III International Conference on Luca Pacioli in Accounting History will be the third in a series of conferences that were held in El Escorial (Spain) - 2005, and in Sansepolcro, Perugia and Florence (Italy) - 2011;

The III Balkans and Middle East Conference on Accounting and Accounting History (3.BMAC) is also the third in a series of other conferences that were held in Edirne (Turkey, towards the Balkans) - 2007, and in Istanbul (Turkey) - 2010.

These conferences aim to share our accounting history cultures in order to shed light on future progress. Thus, they aim to establish debate and evaluate recent accounting and auditing issues in the 21st Century.

June is one of the best touristic months for Turkey and Istanbul. Suitable activities will be placed in the conference program.

English is the official language of the conferences. The deadline for abstracts is February 18, 2013. In their abstract submissions, participants must mention the name of the conference to which they are applying.

Abstracts must be sent to "oktay_guvenli@yahoo.co.uk". Accepted papers will be announced by March 29, 2013.

The seventh Accounting History International Conference

“Innovation in accounting thought and practice: Lessons from the past”

Seville, Spain
25-27 September, 2013

Sponsored by: Department of Business Administration, Universidad Pablo de Olavide, de Sevilla, Department of Accounting, Universidad de Sevilla and Accounting History Special Interest Group of the Accounting and Finance Association of Australia and New Zealand

Papers will be accepted across the full range of accounting history topics and methodological and theoretical perspectives. The conference will take place in a city whose rich heritage extends from the Phoenicians to the Bourbon Dynasty. Seville was the main European harbour for more than 200 years and the source of significant developments in business and trade which also fostered innovations in accounting practice and accounting thought. Authors are therefore encouraged to address topics on innovation in accounting thought and practice which have had a pivotal or significant impact on industries, firms and academic communities, including:

- Innovations in public sector accounting;
- Innovations within auditing firms;
- Innovations in taxation;
- Innovations in the regulation of the profession and standard setting processes;
- New approaches to studying accounting history;
- Accounting education and innovation;
- The role of academics in the development of innovation;
- Understanding and developing innovations derived from business crises;
- Accounting innovations with an international dimension.

Submission and Review of Papers: Papers written in the English language should be submitted electronically no later than 29 April 2013 to 7ahic@rmit.edu.au. All papers will be subject to a double-blind refereeing process and will be published on the Conference Website, as refereed conference proceedings, unless otherwise advised. A special issue of the journal on the conference theme will be published following the event.

Notification of Acceptance: Notification of papers accepted for inclusion in the conference program will be made by 5 June 2013.

Conference information is available at the Conference Website: www.7ahic-seville2013.com

The fourth Accounting History
International Emerging Scholars’ Colloquium

Seville, Spain, 25 September 2013

This international forum is designed for emerging scholars of all ages and career stages, including doctoral degree students, new faculty and other emerging accounting researchers who have an interest in accounting history, and who seek to obtain feedback from senior faculty members on their historical accounting research projects in an intellectually stimulating environment.

The fourth Accounting History International Emerging Scholars’ Colloquium (4AHIESC) will be held as part of the seventh Accounting History International Conference (7AHIC) being held in Seville, Spain during 25-27 September 2013. The 4AHIESC will be conducted on the first day of the 7AHIC, prior to registration and the opening reception, enabling up to ten emerging scholars in accounting history to present their research proposals.

Academic members of a panel comment on the formal presentations made by each participant and offer constructive advice and encouragement to all presenters.

The following senior faculty members have been confirmed for the 4AHIESC panel:
- Marcia Annisette, York University, Canada
- Garry Carnegie, RMIT University, Australia
- Fernando Gutiérrez Hidalgo, Universidad Pablo de Olavide, Spain
- Marta Macías, Universidad Carlos III de Madrid, Spain
- Christopher Napier, Royal Holloway, University of London, UK
- Brian West, University of Ballarat, Australia.

Individuals who wish to express an interest in attending the 4AHIESC are requested to forward their research proposals, brief biographical details and a CV to Brian West no later than 12 July 2013 at the following address: 7ahic@rmit.edu.au

Research proposals of no more than six pages (double spaced) should contain the following information:
1. Project (working) title;
2. Background to the study (or scenario for investigation);
3. Main research objective to be stated in a single, concise sentence;
4. Concise statement of key research question(s);
5. Research methodology;
6. Period selection;
7. Limitations of the study;
8. Expected (original) contribution of the study to the literature;
9. List of no more than 12 key references relating to the proposed study;

Formal invitations to attend the Colloquium will be issued on receipt and review of research proposals. Further details about the 7AHIC are found at the following site: www.7ahic-seville2013.com

Accounting’s Past in Sport

In most countries, sporting organisations are economically and socially important. Sports such as basketball, cricket, football (in its various forms), golf and hockey contribute significantly to shaping the cultures, communities and societies across the globe. While covering a diversity of activities, sport is likewise delivered and managed by means of a plethora of organisational structures from large for-profit corporate bodies to local volunteer-based community clubs. However, one factor common to all sporting organisations, both now and in the past, is the need to account and to be accountable.

A special issue of Accounting History on the above titled theme is scheduled to be published in the first half of 2015.

Topics for this special issue may include, but are not limited to, areas such as:
- Accounting practices in sport and/or sporting organisations
- Accountability and reporting by sporting organisations
- The diverse sources of funding in sport and their consequences for shaping notions of accountability and success
- The role of accounting in shaping the development of sporting organisations, or sports as a whole
- The interplay between sport and accounting and the development of national culture, or community social capital
- The relationship between financial (“off-field”) success and sporting (“on-field”) success
- Accountants’ contribution to sport, or the influence of sports or sporting culture on accountants and accounting practice
- Creative accounting, fraud and accounting scandals in sport

Potential contributors are encouraged to interpret the theme broadly using diverse theoretical and methodological perspectives. Submissions are particularly encouraged which explore the multiple, complex and disconnected factors shaping accounting’s past in sport and which seek to identify the impacts of accounting on organisational and social functioning. Likewise, papers published in this special issue need not be constrained by focusing only on large, national or international sports and organisations. Contributions which focus on accounting and sport in local settings are also welcome.

Submissions must be written in English and forwarded electronically to the guest editors by 30 September 2013. Manuscripts will be subject to the usual double blind review process of Accounting History.

Guest editors: Potential contributors are invited to contact the guest editors to discuss their proposed topics: Brad Potter, University of Melbourne, email: bnpotter@unimelb.edu.au and Margaret Lightbody, University of South Australia, email: margaret.lightbody@unisa.edu.au

Have You Seen?
Oshkosh (population 65,000) is located at the southern end of Wisconsin’s Fox River Valley, about 40 miles from the northern mouth of the river into Lake Michigan at Green Bay. This area of Wisconsin is a Statistical Metropolitan Area of about 750,000 people distributed over some twenty different cities.

Since the explorations of Jean Nicolet in the early 1600’s, The Fox River Valley of Wisconsin has been a busy crossroads of entrepreneurial activity from the fur trade in the 17th century to lumbering and papermaking in the 19th century to becoming the center of sport aviation in the twentieth century. Home to both the John Birch Society and the Henry Houdini Museum, the Fox River Valley stands as a monument to the entrepreneurial spirit.

We are planning a plenary session describing the History of the Academy of Accounting Historians; a visit to the Experimental Aircraft Association Museum (the largest sport aviation organization in the world); perhaps a tour of Kimberly Clark or other Paper Industry sites (if sufficient interest) and an opening reception at the University of Wisconsin Oshkosh’s new College of Business building Sage Hall.

Submissions: Complete papers for presentation should include an abstract and be submitted electronically as an attachment in WORD format to: Joann Noe Cross at crossj@uwosh.edu by June 1, 2013. Papers submitted to the conference for presentation will be blind reviewed.

Travel Information

Oshkosh (Outagamie Regional Airport – ATW) is easily reachable from every major United States of America Hub including Detroit, Minneapolis, Atlanta, Chicago and others. Transportation to and from Oshkosh will be provided if arranged in advance when registering for the Conference.

Interesting historical sites in this area include a multitude of Museums including that of the Experimental Aircraft Association and extensive water-based recreation facilities.

Registration opens July 1, 2013

Histories of Accounting and the Hospital

Hospitals are not only bastions of modern medicine but also major sites of economic activity. Together with other health services, they now account for more than 10 per cent of GDP in many developed countries. Amid increasing concerns about the cost of health services, the hospital has become a major focus of accounting research. Much emphasis has been placed on studying accounting practices in the contemporary hospital setting. The historical development of such practices remains substantially unexplored. A forthcoming special issue of Accounting History Review will focus on the history of hospital accounting to stimulate further research in this emerging field.

The special issue will adopt wide parameters in relation to the period and location studied. To encourage innovative and interdisciplinary research on hospital accounting papers drawing on a range of methodological and theoretical approaches will be considered and a definition of accounting will be adopted which extends beyond the mere recording of financial transactions. Moreover, reflecting historical notions of the hospital as a place offering moral and spiritual support as well as medical treatment, we encourage submissions focusing on institutions concerned with broader social functions such as the care of the poor and needy, both in terms of their physical and spiritual wellbeing.

Topics for the special issue may include, but are not limited to, historical aspects of the following:
- Accounting and the hospital economy
- Accounting for hospital organisation at the regional and/or national level
- Accounting for medical practice and accounting by medical and allied professionals
- Accounting in small or cottage hospitals
- Accounting in the pre-modern hospital
- Hospital accounting in its social and institutional contexts
- The state and hospital accounting
- Performance measurement in the hospital setting
- Issues relating to auditing and accountability in the hospital
- The relationship between financial and medical knowledge in the hospital

The professionalisation of hospital accountants, and organisations of healthcare accounting and finance professionals

The submission deadline is 28 February 2014, but earlier submissions are welcomed. Manuscripts should be sent electronically to the guest editors, Florian Gebreiter (f.gebreiter1@aston.ac.uk) and William Jackson (w.jackson@hw.ac.uk). Submissions should follow the style guidelines of Accounting History Review and will be subject to double-blind review. Potential contributors are encouraged to contact the guest editors at their earliest convenience.

Accounting and the First World War

2014 marks the centenary of the outbreak of World War I, considered by many historians to be the defining event of the twentieth century. Not only was ‘the war to end all wars’ unprecedented in the scale of destruction, it also contributed to the demise of empires, redistributed global economic power, and encouraged revolutions and nationalist movements. The peace settlement established new concepts of collective security but also laid the foundations for the rise of fascism and World War II. Within nation states ‘total war’ necessitated substantial increases in the power of central government, mass mobilisation, and altered relations between capital and labour. The war is credited with accelerating the rate of social and cultural change.

The First World War is established as a significant event in the history of accounting. Accounting historians debate the impact of the war on the advance of cost accounting and whether the conflict hastened cost accountants’ ‘coming into the light’. During the war accounting was implicated in social discord. The war gave impetus to the claims of women to enter the profession, encouraged demands for accounting in higher education and altered the work performed by accounting practitioners. Wartime thrift campaigns stressed the importance of accounting at home. More broadly, researchers of the accounting history of the military have contended that the world wars are deserving of much greater attention.

A special issue of AHR will focus on accounting histories of the First World War. A conference, to be held in September 2014, will be aligned to events commemorating the year in which the conflict began.

In addition to offering new insights to established themes, papers are invited which explore the following in relation to the war and its aftermath. Accounting for: destruction, atrocity, reparations and reconstruction • Accounting and: mobilisation, the organisation and control of production, the rationalisation of slaughter, the regulation of consumption, demobilisation, the demise of empire, remembrance • Taxation and financing the war • The development of accounting concepts and regulation • The audit of war • Impacts on the accountancy profession, firms and accounting labour • Developments in accounting education and training • Accounting, management and strategy in wartime • War, accounting and social and political transformations • Accounting and the post-war settlement.

Papers relating to diverse locations and drawing on a range of methodological and theoretical approaches will be considered. Studies of accounting focused at the organisational, sectoral, national or supranational level are welcome.

Manuscripts should be sent electronically to the editors, Warwick Funnell (w.n.funnell@kent.ac.uk) and Stephen P. Walker (walker.sp@gmail.com), before 28 February 2014 and follow the style guidelines of Accounting History Review. Submissions will be subject to double-blind review.

Accounting and Charities in Historical Perspective

The growth of charitable activities worldwide for hundreds of years is most often seen either as a response to gaps in or as complementary to government-provided services. Different jurisdictions have very specific rules and practices concerning the definition of what constitute charitable purposes, and the extent to which donors are provided with tax incentives. There is also a complex mix of stakeholders interested in the proper functioning of charities, representing both a diverse group of funding agencies and beneficiaries. Financial reporting by charities is most often perceived as discharging a stewardship function. Therefore, a need exists for a strong body of historical research to better appreciate the nature of, and prospect for, effective and efficient charities, and related accounting and auditing issues. Cultural distinctions in the role and range of charitable activities in different countries are also pertinent for investigation.

Topics for this special issue may include, but are not limited to, areas such as:

- Accounting and accountability in secular or religious charities
- Accounting in the interrelations between charities, local governments and the State
- Social dimensions of accounting in charitable organisations
- Accounting practices in charities dealing with specific situations of misfortune (famine, plague, natural disasters, wars, and so on)
- Charities’ accounting and financial reporting regulation
- Auditing practices/financial fraud in charitable organisations
- Accountants in charitable organisations or prominent contributors to accounting development in charities

Potential contributors are encouraged to interpret these themes broadly, adopting diverse theoretical and methodological perspectives. Submissions are particularly encouraged which investigate such topics in the light of the different social and economic elements shaping accounting, accountability and auditing in charities. In turn, researchers are also encouraged to identify the impacts of accounting, accountability and auditing on charities and communities.

Submissions must be written in English and forwarded electronically to the Guest Editors by 30 September 2014. This special issue is scheduled to be published in the first half of 2016. Manuscripts will be subject to the usual double blind review process of Accounting History.

Potential contributors are invited to contact the Guest Editors to discuss their proposed topics.

ANNOUNCEMENT

14TH WORLD CONGRESS OF ACCOUNTING HISTORIANS

PESCARA, ITALY, SUMMER 2016

Much time has passed since the "Fourth International Congress of the History of Accountancy" was successfully organized in Pisa in 1984 by Tito Antoni. The University Gabriele d'Annunzio (www.unich.it) will be proud to host in 2016 the World Congress of Accounting Historians, which will take place in Pescara, the attractive Italian seaside resort. Connections to many international destinations are available through Abruzzo International Airport (http://www.abruzzoairport.com/). Pescara is also conveniently located for delegates travelling via airports in Rome. The Abruzzo region features many sites of historical interest, boasts a splendid national park, and is renowned for its wine, oil, pasta and other culinary delights.

Supported by the Italian Society of Accounting History (SISR), the 14th WCAH will provide an international platform for scholars from around the world to present and discuss research across the full range of accounting history topics and methodological and theoretical perspectives. Papers in all fields of accounting history research are invited, with general strands and categories to be specified at a later stage.

Submission details:
Full papers are to be submitted in English and will be subject to the refereeing process. Accepted papers will be assigned to parallel sessions. All accepted papers will be published on the conference website, as refereed conference proceedings, unless otherwise advised.

Symposium:
A symposium will be organized during the WCAH, where a panel of editors and delegates representing accounting and accounting history journals will be represented. The symposium will focus on the status of research in the field, and trends in the research agenda.

The Academy of Accounting Historians
Hourglass Award

The Hourglass Award of the Academy of Accounting Historians is presented annually to an individual who has made a demonstrable and significant contribution to knowledge through research and publication in accounting history.

Nominations for this Award are now invited. The judging panel will echo the tradition of openness and flexibility associated with the Award and will emphasize the importance of contribution as the fundamental criterion. To that end there is no restriction as to who may make a nomination, the country in which the nominee is resident, or the paradigms and methodologies employed in the nominee’s work.

Nominator’s are asked to supply a 200 word (maximum) statement summarizing the reasons why the nominee should be considered, full contact details of the nominator and nominee, a list of relevant contributions and any other relevant documentation supplied by the nominee who has agreed to be nominated. Nominations should be received by July 31, 2013. Nominations and accompanying data should be sent to the Academy Administrative Coordinator (acchistory@case.edu).

The Academy of Accounting Historians
Margit F. and Hanns-Martin Schoenfeld Scholarship

The Academy of Accounting Historians annually awards an individual or individual as the recipient or recipients of the Margit F. and Hanns-Martin Schoenfeld Scholarship. The purpose of the scholarship is to encourage and support research on the history of accounting by doctoral students and recently appointed accounting faculty. The scholarship was initiated by the generous gift of Dr. Hanns Martin Schoenfeld and the late Dr. Margit Schoenfeld in recognition of their belief in the importance of historical scholarship to accounting education and research.

A monetary award is available to support research on a doctoral dissertation, or develop publications proceeding therefrom by a recent PhD graduate. Qualifying research topics should address the history of accounting. Projects of an international nature and those pursued by scholars whose first language is not English are particularly invited. Applicants must be currently enrolled for a PhD by research, or have completed a PhD by research within the last five years.

Applicants should submit a full curriculum vitae and a statement (containing a maximum of 1,000 words) which discusses the doctoral research undertaken on the history of accounting, the stage reached and how the award would prove beneficial to the applicant. A short statement from a supervisor should also be submitted in the case of applicants currently enrolled for a PhD.

Applications should be received by July 31, 2013. Applications should be sent to the Academy Administrative Coordinator (acchistory@case.edu).

Past recipients of the Award:
2008 Sonia Granado Suarez, University of Las Palmas de Gran Canaria
2009 Delfina Gomes, University of Minho
2010 No award presented
2011 Ofélia Maria Machado Pinto, University of Ballarat

The Academy of Accounting Historians
Life Membership Award

The Academy of Accounting Historians requests nominations for Life Membership to the Academy. The awarding of a Life Membership in the Academy of Accounting Historians will be based on the following criteria among others:

- retirement from academia or business;
- an international profile and recognition; the individual should have a global profile and not one simply within his/her country;
- the quality, importance and originality of the individual’s research program;
- the scope of work, publication record in various academic journals and edited volumes;
- active participation in the academy (in the generic sense and not only the Academy of Accounting Historians), including contributions to the field as journal editor, editorial board member, conferences, etc.;
- work and efforts to publicize and promote history and accounting history, including editing and publication of works, and efforts to bring accounting history's past into the present through the publication of old documents or records or the re-publication of forgotten texts; and
- participation in the training of doctoral students, support and mentorship of junior colleagues including those whose mother tongue is not English, or facilitation of such training and mentoring.

Submit nominations the Academy Administrative Coordinator (acchistory@case.edu). Nominations for this award are now being accepted and must be received by July 31, 2013.

The Academy of Accounting Historians
Vangermeersch Manuscript Award

For the attention of prospective and recent post-graduates in accounting history

In 1988, The Academy of Accounting Historians established an annual manuscript award to encourage scholars new to the field to pursue historical research. An historical manuscript on any aspect of the field of accounting, broadly defined, is appropriate for submission.

Eligibility and Guidelines for Submissions
Any accounting faculty member, who holds a full-time appointment and who received his/her masters/doctorate within seven years previous to the date of submission, is eligible to be considered for this award. Coauthored manuscripts will be considered (if at least one coauthor received his/her master/doctorate within the last seven years). Manuscripts must conform to the style requirements of the Accounting Historians Journal. Previously published manuscripts or manuscripts under review are not eligible for consideration. Each manuscript should be submitted by July 31, 2013 in a Word file as an e-mail attachment to the chair Academy Administrative Coordinator (acchistory@case.edu). A cover letter, indicating the author’s mailing address, the date of the award of the masters/doctoral degree, and a statement that the manuscript has not been published or is not currently being considered for publication should be included in the submission packet.

Review Process and Award
The Vangermeersch Manuscript Award Committee will evaluate submitted manuscripts on a blind-review basis and select one recipient each year. The author will receive a $500 (U.S.) stipend and a plaque to recognize his/her outstanding achievement in historical research. In the case of coauthored manuscripts, only the junior faculty member(s) will receive prizes. The winning manuscript will be published in the Accounting Historians Journal after an appropriate review. The award will be given annually unless the Manuscript Award Committee determines that no submission warrants recognition as an outstanding manuscript.

Innovation in Accounting History
Education Award

The Academy of Accounting Historians requests nominations for the award for innovation in accounting history education. The intent of the award is to encourage innovations in accounting history education. The award (a plaque) will be presented to an individual(s) who has developed and implemented an innovative technique/method for incorporating accounting history topics into undergraduate or graduate accounting courses.

Examples of innovative techniques/methods include, but are not limited to:

- Developing a case, video, audio or course syllabus, etc, that can be used to integrate accounting history topics into accounting courses or
- Presenting a seminar or condensed course on an accounting history topic

To be eligible, the innovation must have been used in a course that the applicant has taught or is currently teaching. Electronic submissions only should be made by July 31, 2013 to the Academy Administrative Coordinator (acchistory@case.edu) and should include the following items (as applicable):

- A description of the innovative technique/method
- Submission of the case, video, audio or other innovation, as appropriate, and teaching notes
- Identification and description of the course or seminar in which the innovation was used
- An explanation of how the innovation has enriched the accounting course being taught

Submit nominations to the Academy Administrative Coordinator (acchistory@case.edu).

The Academy of Accounting Historians
Barbara D. Merino Award for Excellence in Accounting History Publication

Award Description

This newly established annual award is to recognize the author of the best book on an accounting historical topic published in a given year. Beginning in 2013, an annual award in the amount of $1000 shall be made to the author of the best book published in the time period 2011-2013. The winning publication will be based upon the selection of an awards committee established by the leadership of the Academy of Accounting Historians.

Submit nominations by July 31, 2013 to the Academy Administrative Coordinator (acchistory@case.edu).

The Academy of Accounting Historians
The Alfred R. Roberts Memorial Research Award

Award Description

This newly established award is named in honor of Dr. Alfred R. Roberts, second President and long serving Secretary of the Academy, and provides grants for research which seek to support the 35 goals identified by Professor Emeritus Richard Vangemeersch as to accounting history research, as identified in the April 2012 issue of the Accounting Historians Notebook. Grants will be awarded to Academy members for the actualization of ideas to increase the scope of the history of accounting. Written proposals including specification of scope, purpose, deliverables and timetable, should be presented to the committee for review and approval.

Submit nominations by July 31, 2013 to the Academy Administrative Coordinator (acchistory@case.edu).
Call for Papers

The Editor of The Accounting Historians Notebook is looking for article submissions suitable for publication within the Notebook. Articles for consideration should be of broad interest to Academy members. Articles might be considered unlikely to be published in established accounting journals because of topic or short length. Possible topics might include: accounting history research techniques, equipment and software useful to history research, and descriptions of accounting archives and large accounting resource collections. Papers should be sent in electronic form (via e-mail if possible) to Jim McKinney at: jmckinney@rhsmith.umd.edu
