The Spanish LADIES.

Charles Pigott, Printer, 52, Compton-street,
Clerkenwell, London.

Farewell and adieu to you Spanish Ladies,
Farewell and adieu to you ladies of Spain,
For I've received orders to sail to old England, in a short time I shall see you again.

We'll range and rove like British Heroes,
We range and rove upon the salt seas,
Until we strike soundings in the channel of old England.
From Ocean to Sealy was thirty seven 'eagues.

The first land that we made was called the dead man,
And so we past Plymouth and while we sail'd by,
Beechey and Dungeness, until we Reached the South forlan line.

Then a signal was made for the grand fleet to anchor
And it was our lot in the Downs for to sleep,
There was stand by your stoppers let go shank painter
Haul up your clew garoets stick out your fore sheets.

Let every man toss off a full bumper,
Let every man toss his full bowl,
To nourish our body and drown melancholy,
And here's a good health to all true hearted souls.
