

Accounting Historians Notebook

Volume 37
Number 2 October 2014

Article 8

October 2014

Sargiacomo, Servalli, Andrei Win 2014 Thomas J. Burns Biographical Research Award

Follow this and additional works at: https://egrove.olemiss.edu/aah_notebook

Part of the Accounting Commons, and the Taxation Commons

Recommended Citation

(2014) "Sargiacomo, Servalli, Andrei Win 2014 Thomas J. Burns Biographical Research Award,"
Accounting Historians Notebook: Vol. 37 : No. 2 , Article 8.
Available at: https://egrove.olemiss.edu/aah_notebook/vol37/iss2/8

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Archival Digital Accounting Collection at eGrove. It has been accepted for inclusion in Accounting Historians Notebook by an authorized editor of eGrove. For more information, please contact egrove@olemiss.edu.

Sargiacomo, Servalli, Andrei Win 2014 Thomas J. Burns Biographical Research Award

For their biographical paper, “Fabio Besta: accounting thinker and accounting history pioneer”, focused on Fabio Besta, the so-called “unsurpassed Master” of the Italian tradition. The group portrays Fabio Besta as both a brilliant accounting thinker and an accounting history pioneer as revealed in his publication of a monumental milestone in accounting history called “La Ragioneria”.

Massimo Sargiacomo is a Full Professor of Business Economics at the University G.d’Annunzio of Chieti-Pescara (Italy). Massimo has been Vice-Rector to Management and Administration at the University G.d’Annunzio, and Dean of the Faculty of Managerial Sciences, Open University Leonardo da Vinci. He still serves as Vice-President of the University G.d’Annunzio Foundation of Chieti-Pescara and Director of the Master Programme on “Direction and Management of Healthcare Organizations”. Massimo also serves on a number of editorial boards, is President of the Academy of Accounting Historians and is a member of the Board of the Italian Society of Accounting History, delegated to International Relations. Massimo has published various papers and was the winner of the “Best Manuscript Award” in Accounting History 2009. His research topics are Accounting History, Government Accounting and Accounting and Management of Healthcare Organizations.

Stefania Servalli is an associate professor in Business Economics at the University of Bergamo (Italy). Since 2005, she has been a member of the Board of the Italian Society of Accounting History. Since 2001, she has been a member of the Editorial Board of “Contabilità e Cultura Aziendale” (review of Italian Society of Accounting History) and Stefania has been the Editor of the latter since 2014. She has published papers in “Accounting History”, “Accounting History Review” and “Accounting, Auditing and Accountability Journal”. Her research topics are Accounting History, Accounting Theory, International Accounting and Accounting Regulation.

Paolo Andrei is a full professor in Business Economics in the Department of Economics at the University of Parma, Italy, where he is the Coordinator of the “Area di Ricerche Aziendali “Gino Zappa”” (Area for Corporate Research “Gino Zappa”). From January 2011 to July 2012, Paolo served as Head of the Department of Economics at the University of Parma; from December 2003 to December 2010, he was the Vice-Rector for Teaching Affairs at the University of Parma; in the preceding years 2002-2006, he was Vice Dean of the Faculty of Economics, University of Parma. Paolo’s research interests include corporate financial and economic communication (both in Italian and international contexts); Business Administration; Accounting History and Corporate Social Responsibility with particular attention on Social Reporting.

