A True
"Measure of Excellence"

The JOURNAL has received the First Award for General Excellence from the SOCIETY OF NATIONAL ASSOCIATION PUBLICATIONS in its annual awards competition. The award was for best writing, content, graphic design and overall packaging. JOA was chosen over many other well respected association magazines such as the ABA (Bar) Journal, Real Estate Today and the American Journal of Public Health.

In making the award, the judges commented, "(the JOURNAL) -- Covers a broad range of subjects in-depth and graphic detail is superb; consistent quality of graphics and editorial excellence throughout; clean, easy to read. Shows attention to detail."

This is one of several major awards the JOURNAL has won recently. This year, we won the Communications Concepts General Excellence Award and last year we were cited for being Most Improved. Also in 1990, we won the Magazine Week Award for Publishing Excellence. Last month, the JOURNAL was the only nominee for this award among the 1990 finalists.

AICPA Wins
Challenge
Race

The AICPA Running Team was victorious in competing against the New York State Society of CPAs in the annual AICPA/NYSSCPA challenge race. The AICPA's combined running time was 28:47 minutes versus NYSSCPA's 30:32 minutes. The average running time was based on the race results of the June 6 and 27 Manufacturers Hanover Trust Corporate Challenge Races in Central Park. At a date and place to be determined later, the NYSSCPA will present the trophy to the AICPA.

Congratulations to the members of the AICPA Team for running two excellent races. The team would like to thank everyone for coming out and cheering them.
