2nd Annual
Blood Drive

The need for blood is urgent. Approximately 10 million units of blood are needed to treat patients in the United States each year. Compare this need with the fact that less than three percent of the U.S. population donates blood (7% of the Institute's staff donated blood at our last blood drive) and you can appreciate the importance of efforts to increase the supply of blood donations.

Who needs blood? Approximately one in every ten hospital patients... accident victims, leukemia and cancer patients, burn victims, surgical and cardiac patients, and, perhaps, most touching of all, newborn babies. In fact, a single pint of blood can help as many as ten newborns. A pint of blood can be the difference between life and death for any one of us when we need a transfusion.

Today, shipments of donated blood from Europe are needed in order to supplement our country's blood supply. Throughout the entire year and particularly during the critical periods of holidays and summer vacations, blood banks are in urgent need of donors.

The Institute is holding its second Blood Drive of 1991 on Tuesday, July 9, 1991. This blood drive is being held immediately following the Independence Day celebrations, a critical period for blood banks nationwide.

The "gift of life" cannot be manufactured. The need for blood can only be met through the unselfish contribution of individuals.

More information will follow regarding the July 9th Blood Drive. In the meantime, if you have any questions, please call Chris Miller, Benefits Coordinator, on x8630.
