

University of Mississippi

eGrove

University of Mississippi News

7-16-2013

Alumna joins University Libraries as development officer

University Libraries

Follow this and additional works at: <https://egrove.olemiss.edu/umnews>

Recommended Citation

University Libraries, "Alumna joins University Libraries as development officer" (2013). University of Mississippi News. 7072.

<https://egrove.olemiss.edu/umnews/7072>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by eGrove. It has been accepted for inclusion in University of Mississippi News by an authorized administrator of eGrove. For more information, please contact egrove@olemiss.edu.

Alumna joins University Libraries as development officer

JULY 16, 2013 BY UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES

The University of Mississippi Libraries welcomed alumna Angela Barlow (BBA 09) as its new development officer on June 17.

A native of Texarkana, Texas, Barlow has worked as growth and development coordinator for Security Card Services in Oxford for three years, building relationships with the company's partners across the United States and working to meet their needs through service, support, growth and training.

Barlow said she is excited to work with the University Libraries and its supporters.

"The libraries are truly the center, heart and soul of our campus," Barlow said. "I look forward to working with others who are passionate about advancing the facility, preserving its history, and exposing the many treasures and works it holds within its walls."

In her free time, Barlow is an active volunteer in the community and enjoys the arts. She has trained in ballet since the age of 3 and worked as director of the lower school division and dance instructor for Oxford Ballet School.

She said working for the university has always been a goal.

"I enjoy being active in the Oxford community, and being part of the university community is something I have been interested in since the day I walked across the graduation stage," Barlow said.

Barlow replaces longtime development officer Michael Upton, who joined the UM School of Applied Sciences as director of development Feb. 1. She will also serve as development officer for the Gertrude C. Ford Center for the Performing Arts and the UM Museum.

"I'm so pleased to have Angela join the development team," said Julia Rhoads, dean of University Libraries. "She's very committed to this university and has a strong desire to bring more attention and resources to the library. I also believe that supporters of the library will really enjoy working with Angela."

To contact Barlow, call 662-915-3181 or e-mail ambarlow@olemiss.edu.

FILED UNDER: KEYWORDS, KEYWORDS - SUMMER 2013, LIBRARIES

Follow us on social

Campus Briefs

Civil Engineering Professor Receives Most-Cited Paper Award

OXFORD, Miss. – Peer recognition is a rewarding experience for anyone, but University of Mississippi researcher Amir Mehrara Molan was elated when an article he co-authored recently received the Most Cited Paper Award at the 102nd Transportation Research Board meeting in the nation's capital. The International Journal of Transportation Science and Technology presented the civil engineering

Read the story ...

More Posts from this Category

Thank You To Our Donors

Young Alumna Gives Back to School of Accountancy

OXFORD, Miss. – Stephanie Jennings Teague, of Chicago, sees her commitment of $100,000 to the Patterson School of Accountancy's new building at the University of Mississippi as a means of saying "thank you." "It is a way to show a small token of my appreciation to Ole Miss, the faculty and staff, and the accounting

Read the story ...

More Posts from this Category

Ole Miss In the News

Reuters: Keep an Eye on the Money Supply

U.S. inflation roller coaster prompts fresh look at long-ignored money supply By Michael S. Derby NEW YORK – The amount of money sloshing around the U.S. economy shrank last year for the first time on record, a development that some economists believe bolsters the case for U.S. inflation pressures continuing to abate. The Federal Reserve's

Read the story ...

.....

More Posts from this Category

.....